

Former Dept. Head And City Official Succumbs to Cancer

by Tom Cooke

The University of Puget Sound, students everywhere, and our city lost a noble friend Monday when Dr. Charles T. Battin succumbed to a long illness at his home in Tacoma.

DR. CHARLES T. BATTIN, former UPS Business Department chairman and leader in local and national government, dies at 76.

Dr. Battin, 76, joined the UPS faculty in 1926 and held a chair of the Department of Business Administration and Economics for more than 30 years. In 1932 he became the school's director of forensics and in 1934 began an annual high school debate tournament which was to become the largest in the west. In 1957 his forensics team won a national award for excellence. Last year, he was one of 50 persons from throughout the nation honored with a special award from Pi Kappa Delta, a forensics honorary which he helped found.

Dr. Battin was elected a member of the freeholders commission of 1952 which proposed the council-manager form of city government later adopted by the people. He served as one of the first council members under the new charter and was elected to the position of deputy mayor by his fellow councilmen. He helped write the state law on urban renewal and headed the statewide committee which campaigned successfully for its passage. He served his country overseas in World War I, and as Director of Wage Stabilization for Alaska during World War II. Dr. Battin fought for the highest ideals in government, as he did in every endeavor of which he was a part.

Dr. Battin was educated at Ottawa University and did graduate work at the University of Kansas, Rochester University, and Rochester Theological Seminary in New York, the University of Montpellier in France, and took his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago in 1936. He was the author of many articles which appeared in professional journals and co-author of the textbook, Introduction to Modern Economics. He has been listed in Who's Who in America and American Scholars.

Dr. Battin was a pioneer in the integration of departments of business administration with those of economics, an excellent example of which is found on our campus today. He was instrumental in the establishment in 1959 of a UPS chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, a professional commerce fraternity, which subscribes to the same high ideals he set for his own life.

Dr. Battin also was the chief founder of the Zeta Alpha chapter of Sigma Nu at UPS.

Dr. Battin was loved by all who knew him; a love he gladly returned. He was an administrator, a scholar, a wonderful professor, and a true friend. His career will be noted as a great milestone in the history of the University of Puget Sound. His passing will be felt deeply by his former students, the University, and our community.

No educator could have been more dedicated to his students than was Dr. Battin. He was available and sought for advice on problems scholastic and personal regardless of time of day or pressure of other matters.

Dr. Thompson said of him that thousands of people scattered now throughout the world owe their success to the inspiration Dr. Battin gave them while students.

Frosh Slate Five Plays

An outstanding evening is planned for Friday, Feb. 21 when the Frosh One-Act plays will be presented under the direction of the Campus Playcrafters.

Thirty-six freshmen actors and actresses are putting finishing touches to a bill of five plays. Included will be Eugene Ionesco's far-out The Future is in Eggs. Ionesco's play, representing the contemporary theatre-of-the-absurd movement should provide a departure from the ordinary. Also being offered is an adaptation of Shirley Jackson's short story The Lottery.

Written in 1947, The Lottery has become known as one of the most weird stories in contemporary American anthologies. Romance of the Willow Pattern, a lyric Chinese piece, and the farcical Ladies of the Mop will be light touches during the evening. Highness, a drama based on the lives of a royal Russian family after the revolution adds a note of seriousness to insure a well-rounded program.

This marks the 24th annual presentation of one-act plays designed to give an opportunity for acting to members of the freshman class and lab experience in directing and producing to advanced drama students.

Curtain time for the complimentary show is 8 pm in Jones Auditorium.

'Cellar 10' Opens to Full House

"Fantastic!" "Tremendous!" "This is the SUB?" These, and many other comments greeted the opening of "Cellar 10." This is the new student coffee shop in the basement of the Student Center which officially opened with a special Friday-at-Four program.

Entertainment was provided by Teddy Ross and the Subtle-Tones. They were enjoyed by the standing room only crowd. The students also enjoyed free loggerburgers and coffee.

"Cellar 10," with its typically "collegiate" and sophisticated atmosphere, will provide a place where students may relax between classes and in the evenings. Half of the new lounge is carpeted, with booths along the walls and small tables in the center. The other half has a tiled floor with tables and booths for card playing.

There is a snack bar, where cold sandwiches, pastry and soft drinks may be purchased. (Picture on page 8)

PHILIP HANSON, renowned Shakespearian actor and storyteller, stages his one-man show, "Kings and Clowns", tonight at 8 p.m. in Jones Hall.

Hanson Will Present Shakespeare Tonight

This year marks the 200th anniversary of William Shakespeare and UPS students will be offered a special treat in commemoration of this special occasion. Artists and Lectures will present tonight at 8 pm Philip Hanson, one of America's greatest actors and story tellers. Hanson will perform a one-man show entitled "Kings and Clowns" which will feature some of Shakespeare's greatest selections. Admission will be .50 for students and 1.00 for adults.

The Hanson program will be the last of the semester for Artist and Lectures and will be one of the biggest shows of the year. Philip Hanson is one of America's foremost solo performers. He possesses the flexible talent of a story-teller, the ease of the minstrel troubadour, and the skill of the accomplished actor.

AWS Convention Set This Weekend

Two hundred and fifty Associated Women Student cabinet members representing 26 Washington colleges will invade the UPS campus this weekend for the yearly state convention.

Delegates will arrive on Friday night for the Frosh One Acts and Sophomore Mixer and will begin discussion group meetings Saturday morning. The convention theme "Today's Potential, Tomorrow's Achievement" will be carried out with discussions on Frosh orientation, and the role of AWS in campus life.

Featured speaker for the convocation will be Doctor Hester Turner, Dean of Students at Lewis and Clark College in Oregon.

Convention general chairman is Maggie Gibbs.

Alone on a bare stage without costume or make-up he assumes the total identities of more than 100 characters in his One Man Shows. The amazing speed with which he changes from character to character makes his performance unique events in the theatre.

To appreciate this great artist's talent one only has to look at his reviews.

"The audience sat there in silence almost stunned by the avalanche of Melville's poetic phrases and mesmerized by the eloquence of the actor."—New York Journal American.

"He had the audience (which included William Saroyan's proud uncle Aram) in a state of uninhibited laughter through most of the performance."—San Francisco Examiner.

Tonight's Artist and Lectures presentation will cap off a very successful year for co-chairmen Sandy Seyler and Dave Brubaker. Tickets for the show are presently on sale in the UPS Bookstore and will also be on sale at the door tonight.

Hanson presents five shows all together, but the Shakespeare program is one of the tops. It will offer the UPS student a special opportunity to see a master perform some of Shakespeare's most interesting selections.

Editorial Comment . . . .

Last week, one day after Abraham Lincoln's birthday, the people of Tacoma legalized segregation in this city. They turned down by a three to one margin an ordinance which would have lifted restrictions on the sale of property. It was a blow not only to liberal thinking people but a shock to the backers of local government. What were the reasons behind this crucial vote?

In Tom Crum's column, From the Corner, several UPS faculty members attempt to answer this question. Dr. Earl Kruschke, instructor of political science and expert on political behavior, feels that the electorate in the city did not have sufficient information about the issue. Confusion resulted in its downfall.

The realtors put on a big money campaign to defeat the measure. Was this the main reason for its defeat? The attitudes of the populace before the election suggest that this was not, indeed, the real reason for its downfall. It did, however, offer the voter a chance to plead moral innocence. A moral innocence that covered up the usual feelings of distrust toward anyone who is of a minority.

Tacoma Approves Segregation: From The Corner

by CRUM

Eight days ago, Tacoma voters defeated by a 3:- margin the controversial open housing ordinance. A genuine tour de force for Tacoma politics, the measure has been widely discussed and debated. As students, it is assumed that we are aware of Mr. Tanner's, Mayor Tollefson's and the Tacoma Board of Realtors' respective stands concerning this bill. What is the stand of our faculty and student body?

"It would, I think, be grossly inaccurate," stated Dr. Earl Kruschke, "to assert that the results of the open housing referendum indicate the existence of widespread bigotry in the Tacoma area." Dr. Kruschke believes that "the results do indicate that people did not have sufficient information regarding exactly what the issue involved, and that they did not really understand what it was they were voting for."

Indeed, there exists a great deal of confusion concerning just what the issue was all about. Undoubtedly, many voters outwardly view the ordinance as a moral question. However, the voting booth recorded the inward and deeper convictions of Tacoma voters. As Dr. Nathan Gross said, the Tacoma electorate "voted on an economic and political issue and not a moral one." Dr. Peterson feels that a "citizens rights question was turned around into a question of property rights." Students too believe that great confusion shrouded the open housing vote.

The dissemination of information concerning the ordinance lacked clarity. Dr. Kruschke stated that "the open housing ordinance lacked . . . sufficient organized support, while the opposition to the ordinance was well-organized." Granted, the clergy and numerous educators spoke for this bill, but all too often in either academic or general terms. The hard-hitting and complete campaign of the ordinance's opponents provides a marked contrast to the bill's nebulous champions. It is also interesting to note that the local newspaper failed to take an editorial stand on this issue. Yet, the realtors received the choicest locations in the paper for their "vote no" arguments.

One of the strongest "vote no" arguments was centered around property values. Even a somnolent recipient of this negative line could not fail to catch the "property values will decline if . . . message. Dr. Kruschke stated that "no empirical evidence exists that property values drop when Negroes move" outside of their traditional neighborhoods. The 3:1 defeat of the housing ordinance graphically demonstrates that many people respond to certain myths. Will this myth continue to dominate the open housing question?

Dr. Kruschke is of the opinion that people "will tend to react irrationally unless they possess sufficient information which demonstrates the basic inaccuracy of their position." This is an obligation which the proponents of open housing and the newspaper have failed to meet.

Dr. Frank Peterson believes that the realtors are now charged with the task of producing a positive program. All of the faculty members interviewed felt that illiberality must be attacked, not merely in the voting booth, but in the home and in the schools.

Many people, including this reporter, have criticized Mr. Tanner's "no vote" stand on the housing ordinance. However, as several people have pointed out: why should the Negro vote for a right which already exists? This is referring to the 14th Amendment of the Federal Constitution, which grants equal rights to all citizens. In effect, Tacoma voters have denied the existence of the 14th Amendment. Moreover, segregation has received the stamp of approval. De facto segregation has become de jure segregation. As Dr. Gross stated: "man is now free to be prejudiced."

Ski Team Heads Big UPS Bend Delegation

By John J. Ullis

The University varsity ski team will head a delegation of over 100 UPS Students to Portland State College's Eighth Annual Intercollegiate Winter Carnival at Bend, Oregon, Feb. 21, 22, 23, the biggest Winter Carnival in the United States. Last year over 4,000 students representing 32 colleges and universities attended the Carnival. This year over 5,000 students from 50 colleges and universities will participate in the many activities at Bend.

Ski team coach Tom Ernst stated that Bob Sprenger, Dick Peterson, Alex Davis, Al Howe and Lanny Vander Hoek will ski for the UPS varsity ski team in the competitive events at the Winter Carnival. The UPS skiers will be competing in all ski events except the jump because jumper Bob Roarck has not yet recovered from his broken leg he suffered at Banff. After participating in the 18th Annual Northwest Intercollegiate Ski Association championship last weekend at Crystal, Coach Ernst feels that the Logger skiers have an excellent chance to place high in the final standings in the competitive ski events at the Winter Ski Carnival.

Bend activities begin Friday, Feb. 21, with skiing on Mt. Bachelor. The tows will run Friday through Sunday from 9 am to 4 pm. On Friday a talent show will precede the Queens Ball at 7:30 in the Bend High School auditorium. The Winter Carnival princesses representing the various colleges will be judged Friday night and one of them will be crowned as Miss Winter Carnival of 1964. The Queens Ball will begin in the Bend High School cafeteria at 10 pm. The Coachmen will be providing the music at another dance held the same night in the Bend Armory.

For the non-skiers there are many activities to partake in. A between-school tug of war is scheduled for Saturday on Mt. Bachelor. Other events that will take place during the day on Mt. Bachelor are snow sculpturing, inner tube races, snow shoe races and a non-classified slalom. The non-skiers can also watch the ski competition between the varsity ski teams.

A spaghetti dinner at the Bend High School Cafeteria Saturday at 5 pm will initiate the activities for the night. The Wayfarers, a folk-singing group will highlight Saturday nights events by performing in a concert at the Bend High School auditorium. A dance featuring the Imperials will follow the Wayfarers concert.

Competition in ski events between the ski teams starting Friday will come to an end Sunday afternoon. Ski team individual awards will be presented at 3 pm Sunday and thus bring the 1964 Intercollegiate Winter Carnival to a close.

Linn Johnson Chosen As Exchange Student To Sister University

By Cheryl Hulk

Linn Johnson, UPS junior, will be this university's first exchange student to its sister university in Japan, Kita Kyushu University.

The blonde junior will sail by Jananese freighter to Japan in March and will remain there until August when Kita Kyushu's semester ends.

Linn Johnson

Nobuyuki Fuqimoto, (Nobe), the exchange student from Japan will return to his country at this same time.

Johnson, a French major, will study Japanese history and English literature at the college. According to Johnson, English is the second language of the Japanese people, being taught from junior high on. Thus, many of his classes will be taught in English. Although Johnson knows little Japanese now, Nobe is instructing him in the fundamentals.

While attending Kita Kyushu, Johnson will live with a Japanese family. He will associate closely with the Sister University Committee at the school as the exchange will be cultural as well as academic.

Johnson, a graduate of Mt. Rainier High School was selected by a student-faculty committee on the basis of interest in adapting oneself to a foreign culture, interest in foreign language, and willingness to speak to groups both here and in Japan. He has traveled extensively in the United States but until now has never been outside its borders.

Future plans for UPS's first exchange student include finishing college, a hoped for Peace Corps assignment, and work on a commercial airlines. He is already taking flying lessons.

Says Johnson on his selection as exchange student, "This exchange is for the benefit of the whole student body. The student selected has a responsibility to the whole university, not just to himself."

To this end Johnson will correspond frequently with UPS faculty and students on the life and structure of Kita Kyushu University.

The Sister University Committee has existed on the UPS campus for three years but has just recently become active, according to Johnson. In Japan, he went on, the Committee is one of the biggest activities on campus.

"IS THERE ANY WAY TO MAKE UP THIS-S-S — OH, NEVER MIND."

Spring Show Will Change, Says Pierce

Spring Weekend, the biggest event on the UPS campus during spring semester will be changed this year, according to John Pierce, ASB second vice-president.

No seniors will be officially invited for Spring Weekend this year. This change, according to Pierce, is being made because the university is losing money in bringing students to campus. The deadline for choosing a college has passed by this time, and besides this, the high school students do not see the university as it really is. Pierce said, however, that living groups may extend invitations to high school students.

Another possible change will be to hold a Songfest and the Carnival on the same night. This change would be made to enable students to study the rest of the weekend as Spring Weekend falls within three weeks of finals.

These recommendations will be made to Sigma Alpha Iota music honorary which sponsors Songfest.

Cadet Bradley Accepts Command Of 900th Squadron

At ceremonies conducted in the University of Puget Sound Fieldhouse on Tuesday, Feb. 11, 1964, Cadet Major Gary M. Bradley accepted command of the 900th AFROTC Cadet Squadron from Cadet Colonel Gary L. Fulton, the previous commander. He will command the Cadet Corps for the rest of this semester.

Bradley was selected on the basis of his demonstrated leadership abilities. He was a member of the Cadet Drill Team during his first two years in the Corps and rose to the rank of Cadet Master Sergeant, the highest rank attainable while in the basic cadet program. Last semester, after entering the advanced cadet program, Bradley was a Cadet Lieutenant and commanded a flight of cadets, teaching them the fundamentals of military drill. During his training he has received the Basic Cadet Academic Award, the Chicago Tribune Air Science 2 Silver Medal, and the Drill Competition Ribbon with one Bronze Star.

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS

BY O. E. SCHOEFFLER, ESQUIRE'S Fashion Director

By now you're back at the salt mines after the holidays—and quite likely in the mid-season doldrums! Your wardrobe's probably in the doldrums, too—standing in the need of replenishment. Here are some suggestions for putting a little new life and color into that closet!

BREATHES THERE A MAN—with soul so dead he really thinks he's got enough sweaters? Well, if you're among the sweated souls who are very much alive to the need, you might consider a camel hair (or camel color) cardigan—guaranteed to go-with-everything! Or you might like to turn turtle, in one of the new flat-knit (jersey-textured) sweaters with the popular oversize turtle neck. Or perhaps you'd prefer a bulky ski-type pullover patterned with Norwegian designs — great even if you never get nearer the slopes than the Student Union! Any one of these would give you a lift!

THE VEST'S THE BEST—way to revitalize a suit or sport-jacket-and-slacks you've grown tired of. Color is your cue here, with a wide range of bright flannel vests that will blend or contrast—vivid reds, brilliant yellow or gold, rich mossy green and—stop me if you've heard this!—the ever-present camel! A colorful Tattersall check vest is an even more versatile addition to the weary wardrobe, as it combines well with a variety of colors and fabrics for a smart, sporting look.

MUFFLED UP TO THE EYES—is a good way to be this season—if it's one of those 5-foot knitted mufflers! New they're not—we cribbed them from the inmates of English colleges and "public schools," where they've been worn since the days of Dickens. Ribbed or flat-knit in soft Shetland wool, these mufflers are often wide-striped—usually in school colors—though they're available in solids as well. Worn without a topcoat—weather permitting—is the British way, with the long end thrown carelessly over the left shoulder. For more conservative occasions, think about a soft cashmere muffler in muted tones, or an authentic tartan to go with your topcoat.

YOU'LL GET A BELT—maybe two—out of the latest! Because the latest is the reversible fabric belt, solid-color twill on one side, striped on the other. Or you can add color to your mid-section with a bright tartan belt, leather-backed to wear well. And bold, blazer stripes will be running rings around your waist, too, in combinations like scarlet and white on an olive twill background.

AND SO TO BED—or to bull session. Whatever your after-hours activities, you've probably already discovered that those drafty dormitory corridors can be quite a shock when you're unprepared! But you can beat the draft if you've got a warm flannel robe. Standard, conservative styling is best—perhaps with contrasting piping—in practical, dark shades or bright tartan plaids. Barefoot in the halls—cold and uncarpeted as they are—will lead only to amputation! Slippers are a better idea, preferably plain, moccasin-style slip-ons. And if you're really in the northern latitudes, consider slippers lined with shearling to fight the frostbite!

Next month we'll keep you in style for active sports—North and South, from ski to shining sea—and intermediate stops. See you then!

Logger Hoopsters Race Past Eastern, Whitworth

By Pete Buechel

Two relatively easy victories over the past weekend left the University of Puget Sound basketballers with a third place tie in the final standings of the Evergreen Conference hoop race.

The Eastern Washington Savages fell victims to the Loggers Friday night 80-56 in a contest that was not a contest after the early going. UPS jumped to an early lead and was never headed.

Coach Russ Wilkerson substituted freely throughout, as the

After a slow start the Loggers moved to an 11 point lead only to see it dwindle to a 45-37 half-time advantage. Whitworth scored the first basket of the second half but were never able to threaten again.

Moving to an 18 point lead, Coach Wilkerson was once again able to substitute freely as his charges remained out of danger.

Only Logger to hit the double figure bracket besides Sprague was Peyton making his second start of the season. He managed to pull down 19 counters.

JOE PEYTON is seen driving across the key and putting up two of his 19 points against Whitworth. UPS won the game 85-70.

outcome was never in doubt. Bill Tipton, diminutive guard for the towering Loggers, made his return to the lineup. It was his first game since fracturing his nose in an early season game with Pacific Lutheran University.

Joe Peyton made his debut as a starter against the Savages a successful one. Bob Sprague and Mike Haevnaer led the Loggers with 20 and 18 points, respectively.

With Sprague dumping in a career high of 35 counters, UPS coasted to a 85-70 win over the Pirates from Whitworth. The win avenged an earlier loss to the Pirates at Spokane.

Despite the ease of the two triumphs the UPS hoopsters were anything but invincible. With amazing rapidity the opponents were able to slip through a leaky Logger defense for easy buckets. Not only the defense but the offense failed to measure up to the standards of previous games. Against Eastern, UPS blistered the hoop at a rate of 33%, or about 9% behind their season average.

Despite the lack-luster performances the two victories moved the Loggers up as a serious threat for the upcoming Evergreen Conference Tournament at Bellingham.

BOB SPRAGUE outclassed his opponent and hooked the ball into the basket. BOB ABELSETT (40) is underneath waiting for a possible rebound.

EDITOR'S NOTE: With the realization that slightly over half of the UPS student body is composed of the fairer sex four prominent campus coeds were asked to give their "impressions" of the current UPS basketball season. Their comments and opinions appear below.

LISETTE SHAW—Understanding that the current Logger basketball team is a relatively young ball club, I would say that at times, teamwork did not seem to be one of their best assets and fouls were in style. Our game with Seattle University proved to UPS fans what the team could really do. However, the current basketball season has not been an encouraging one; we always seem to bring up the rear in the league.

SANDY SEYLER—Our improving Loggers have been stamped by the T.N.T., in view of the team's two impressive successes last week end, as the "dark horse" entry in the upcoming Evergreen Conference Tournament. To emerge as victors in the tourney is an obvious challenge; however, our "dark horse" has every possibility of victory. Our starting line-up has new depth with Joe Peyton and Bill Tipton; and the four members of our starting line-up with whom I spoke have expressed that the team has beat every team in the League once, and there is no reason why they can't do it again (depending on circumstances, of course.) Talking with these boys makes it obvious that one of the most important parts of those circumstances is student support. Our boys have proved their determination and ability on our home court, against outstanding teams, when their fans have been present in full force, in such impressive performances as those against Seattle University and Pacific Lutheran, losing by only a point in the latter game. Anyone, no matter in which activity he is participating, does better if he knows there is someone who cares enough to back him up. Attend these important games if possible and, if not, take the time on campus to tell these boys what a fine game they have proved capable of playing. Talking with them and with interested fans gives me every reason to believe our "dark horse" is capable of "coming through" in the tournament.

LESLEY TASH—The internal harmony and cooperation between the Loggers shows up in their incentive to win. Coach Russ Wilkerson is well liked by all the players and instills in them this desire to play good ball. However, the lack of student support is apparent. Inspiration for the team, rally squad and students could be enhanced by the support of a dependable pep band.

CAROLYN IBBOTSON—While opposing schools field a team, UPS feels content to field five individual ball players. It is not necessarily true that the UPS team members try only to do what is best for themselves, but it is apparent that they do not seem to recognize the four other ball players on the court. From the stands it is obvious that the team does not click as a team. There is too much standing around and not enough movement as a unit. The team members seem to look for individual honors; some even appear gloatingly arrogant and cognizant only of their individual "stats."

- (1) BOB SPRAGUE: Most guilty of the above criticism. His scoring has improved enormously but he rebounds like a 5' 4" guard.
- (2) BOB ABELSETT: From the stands he seems like a combination baby and prima donna.
- (3) JOE PEYTON: A 6' 3" jumping jack who made his way by his hustle to a starting position.
- (4) RICH BRINES: He is steady and dependable. He is the Loggers best "team" man.
- (5) DICK DAHLSTROM: A very sporadic player. Dick is great at times.
- (6) MIKE HAVNAER, A 6' 4" guard whose hustle at the beginning of the season has been replaced by a "Hungry Ele."

The above criticisms do not detract from the teams potential. A potential which could be fully realized by the backing or the Student Body this weekend at the Conference Tournament in Bellingham.

I recognize that these criticisms are being leveled after the team has lost six games. Doubtless, the tune would be different if this had been written after the first nine wins.

The team does have exceptional potential as witnessed at the Seattle U-UPS game. Let's hope that the team concentrates its efforts to finish the season as it began. Next year looks marvelous.

The Evergreen Conference has been a highly successful athletic league for a good many years. It is composed of Western, Central, and Eastern Washington State Colleges, the University of Puget Sound, Whitworth, and Pacific Lutheran University. These six institutions have agreed to compete athletically for the total development and benefit of their students. Schools, and particularly Seattle Pacific College, have been refused admittance to this conference because they could not, or would not, field teams in all the sports provided. Based on this information this column would like to ask if Pacific Lutheran should be allowed to continue their failure to enter a swimming team in the conference?

It must be noted that a swimming pool is necessary for practice and that at the present time PLU does not have a pool. However Whitworth also does not have a pool and yet they enter a swimming team. The Pirates from the Paloose do have many interested in swimming, including several faculty members. They have been practicing in Spokane's Shadle Park Pool and are improving every year.

Swimmers Down Central, Whitworth To Extend Victory String to 38

By Ron Mann

The Loggers from UPS stretched their string of consecutive conference swimming victories to 38 last Saturday afternoon at the Hugh Wallace Memorial pool as they defeated Central Washington State 55-40 and the Whitworth Pirates 79-7.

Although the Pirates were in the pool they were hardly even noticed as the main attraction was being focused on the Central-UPS side of the double dual meet. The Loggers jumped in front 7-0 by winning the medley relay but spent most of the rest of the afternoon fighting off the stubborn Wildcats. Time and again the Loggers would build up a eight or nine point lead only to have Central reduce the margin to a meager six points.

When the Wildcat mermen, a greatly improved team who could give the Loggers all kinds of trouble in the conference meet in two weeks, took both the first and second places in the 500 meter freestyle the home forces lead was cut to a single point at 40-39 with just two events left on the meet schedule. However from this point on the Loggers picked up the remainder of their possible points by taking both a first and a second in the 200 meter breaststroke and handily winning the 400 meter freestyle.

During the course of the afternoon's action four Logger varsity records were broken. John Jewell changed his own varsity meter record by swimming the 200 freestyle in 2:13.7. His old record had been 2:14 flat.

Dipping his hand into the record book for the first time this year was the blonded favorite of Logger swimming enthusiasts, Byron Stauffer. Breaking his year old record by a tenth of a second Stauffer completed the 100 meter freestyle in :57.2 amidst the cheering approval of the good sized weekend crowd gathered at the Loggers' pool.

Also creating new standards were freshman Doug Hanna and the 400 freestyle relay team. Although Hanna was nosed out in the 200 meter Individual Medley by Central's swimming sensation Gerry Malella, he finished the course in 2:28.8 to set his varsity record. This was only three tenths of a second behind the speedy Malella.

The freestyle relay team, composed of Joe Lanza, Jewell, and Stauffer completed the meet by winning the race in 3:57.7 for their varsity record. This erased the year old mark of 3:58.2 set by John Seremeta, Rick Perkins, Jewell, and Stauffer.

With this all important win safely tucked away the Lumberjacks will take on Western Washington State this Friday afternoon at the UPS pool before traveling to Ellensburg in quest of their fifth consecutive conference swimming championship the following weekend.

DOUG HANNA, outstanding freshman swimmer, finished the 200 individual medley in 2:28.8 for varsity record.

MIKE HAVNAER scores two points to help the Loggers defeat Whitworth last Saturday night.

UPS plays Eastern Thursday night in the first round of the EvCo tournament in Bellingham. BUS SERVICE WILL BE PROVIDED TO BELLINGHAM. THE COST TO BE $1.50 ROUND TRIP. Plan to attend. The Loggers must win the tournament to go to K.C.

Phi Deltas Lead In Hoop Race

After a week and a half of play, this year's intramural basketball race appears to be one that will not be decided until the final days of play. Up to now the Phi Deltas lead with a two-win no-loss record. Close behind is New Hall and Sigma Nu, both with two wins and one less.

After two games John Pierce (Phi Deltas) and Gary Hoppes (Theta Chi) are leading the point parade with averages of 28 and 24 points per game, respectively.

Standings as of Monday, Feb. 17:

	Won	Lost
1. Phi Delta Theta	2	0
2. New Hall	2	1
3. Sigma Nu	2	1
4. Beta Theta Pi	2	2
5. Theta Chi	1	1
6. Sigma Chi	1	1
7. Kappa Sigma	1	1
8. Sigma Alpha Epsilon	0	2
9. Todd Hall	0	2

Track Team Begins Workouts

The UPS track team began formal turnouts yesterday in preparation for its first meet two months hence. The Loggers will have three scheduled meets before traveling to Whitworth on May 15 for the Conference Championships. All meets will be away meets: UPS and PLU at Western (May 9). Anyone wishing to turn out for track who has not yet contacted Coach Duncan, should do so immediately.

Within a few miles from the PLU campus is the beautiful, new, Mt. Tahoma High School swimming pool that they could use for practice if they so desired. In addition PLU has been assessing their students for the past three years for the purpose of building a pool which is supposed to be ready by next fall. In short, the fact that they do not have a place to practice within walking distance of the dormitories is no excuse for failing to compete in the varsity sport of swimming.

Another fact that may be holding the Lutes off from entering the aqua sport is the fact that a new team rarely wins the championship in its first outing. It took the Loggers, who have been the leagues swimming powerhouse for the past four years, almost a third of a decade to build to the point of serious contention. Are the Lutherans afraid of literally getting clobbered a few times until they can build a contender? If this is their problem they are only complicating their situation. Whitworth has been swimming competitively for several years now and will be a serious threat before the Knights even get their feet wet.

It is sincerely hoped that the Parkland school will comply with the rest of the league next winter and enter a swimming team. They will then have the facilities, the money, and we hope, the interest to be a real member of the Evergreen Conference.
