ALUMNI TO VOTE ON NEW TRUSTEES

Senate Will Present Student-to-Europe Plan For Vote Soon

PROJECT TO BE EXPLAINED BY SPEAKERS

Is Sponsored Upon Unanimous Support of Student Senate

Backed by the unanimous support of the Student Senate, the Student-to-Europe will be presented to the students in convocation at an early date. This decision was reached at a senate meeting Tuesday night.

At the time of the presentation of the project to the students, the entire project will be explained in detail by speakers to be secured by Emogene Perschbacher, '33, who was appointed at the Tuesday meeting to arrange for the chapel talks.

The decision to sponsor the plan for another year, a plan which has been successfully for three years, was arrived at only after careful consideration on the part of the senate.

The opinion was expressed at the meeting that this is one project which is undertaken by the student body as a whole and a plan which is an affair directly involving student initiative. The project received its original sponsorship through the student body.

In view of the fact that the project does vitally concern every student and is a display of cooperation on the part of the student body, it was deemed worthy to consider the plan this year in spite of the current economic conditions.

Make Changes In Vocational Week

Conferences On Commercial Art, Journalism, Teaching Are Revised

Four changes have been made in the program for women's vocational week, according to Miss Florence Nicholson, dean of women, who has innovated the project.

The conference on journalism led by Miss Olga Achtenhagen will be held in Ormsby hall from 2:00 to 3:00 p.m. Saturday instead of Monday afternoon as previously announced.

The conference on commercial art will be held at Hamar house, Monday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:00. This conference will be led by Ray L. Paekard of the Appleton Engraving company.

Miss Frances Radford, principal of the Menominee high school, Menominee, Mich., will lead a conference on teaching and the problems of the vocation at the Little Theatre from 4:00 to 5:00, Sunday afternoon.

The conference on the social service work will be held at the Little Theatre from 7:00 to 8:00 Tuesday afternoon. Aubrey Williams, executive secretary of the Wisconsin conference of social work, will talk to those present.

All Lawrence women are invited to attend as many of these conferences as they wish. They may be excused from Schola Cantorum or from a physical education class if it conflicts with the time of a conference, provided they see the teacher in charge of the class in advance.

The committee in charge of vocational week is as follows: Christine Flower, '33, chairman; Betty Meyer, '34; Christine Nibbe, '32; Elizabeth Gosnell, '34; Harriet Brittain, '32; Althea Stupecky, '35; Ellen Balliet, '35, and Edith Kozelka, '34.

Vocational Books To Be Shown At Library Next Week

The library will display a collection of books and pamphlets dealing with various phases of vocational guidance, in conjunction with the vocational guidance week for Lawrence college women. The exhibit will be ready next week.

There is on display now at the library a Shakespearean collection of books, pamphlets, and papers. The exhibit includes books from the series on the "Works of Shakespeare" edited by Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch and Sir John Dover Wilson.

The series is considered to be the last authentic word on Shakespeare and his works. Published by the Cambridge University Press, it first began to appear two years ago. There are 14 volumes in print now. Each volume contains one Shakespearean play with a thorough set of notes.

Close Debate Season Today

Conference of High School Teams At Wausau Will Hear Exhibition

Closing of the 1931-32 men's debate season, during which various state league, out of state, and local debates were held, takes place today with an exhibition debate at Wausau high school before a conference of high school debate teams of that vicinity. Prof. A. L. Franzke will give a critical review at the close of the debate.

During the season, members of the team participated in state league debates with Beloit college at Janesville and Edgerton and with Ripon at Wausau. They also met Carroll at Cudahy, Jefferson, Elkhorn, Oconto, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, and Eagle River.

On trips out of the state, the affirmative team met Albion at Jackson, Mich., Shurtleff at Alton, Ill., Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington, Ill., and North Central at Naperville.

The negative team debated St. Olaf at Northfield, St. Thomas at St. Paul, Cornell at Mt. Vernon, and Kent college of Law at Chicago in trips out of the state.

Various other debates were held in Appleton and neighboring cities during the season.

Water Pageant To Have Many Colorful Effects

Costumes varying from light pastel hues to the deepest shades will be exhibited in the forthcoming water pageant to be presented May 5 and 6.

Each group dance number, the individual dance interpretation by Polly Neenan, '34, and the character parts will all be costumed in original creations designed by Miss McGurk, director of the pageant.

The Wooden soldiers, appearing in truly military costumes of red and white, wearing military hats—with visors—and carrying swords, are a spectacle to view, but the atmosphere which they create is soon changed as the shadows appear, clothed in filmy black and purple costumes.

The descendants of the sun radiating the warmth of the sun will be attired in red, white, yellow, and gold, while Frankzelka, '34.

ALL COLLEGE DANCE PLANS ARE FINISHED

Balloons To Form False Ceiling For Gymnasium At Party Tomorrow Night

Final arrangements for the all-college dance to be held tomorrow have been made by the committee in charge, according to Betty Plowright, '32, general chairman of the affair.

Seven hundred balloons will be used as decorations, forming a false ceiling for the New Alexander gymnasium where the dance will be held. Two hundred of these balloons will be used to form a giant cone in the center of the room. These will be showered on the dancers at the end of the evening.

Admission to the dance is one dollar a couple. Tom Temple's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing. Chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Treize.

The programs for the dance have been especially designed by Alice Bradford, '33.

Committees for the affair are: decoration, John Reeve, '34, and Wilbur Jackson, '33; music, Joseph Kexel, '33; tickets, Robert Law, '34; programs, Alice Bradford, '33; chaperons and reception, Carol Anderson, '33.

Professor Franzke Returns from Recruiting Project

Prof. A. L. Franzke returned yesterday from a two weeks' recruiting trip on which he visited high schools in Milwaukee, Chicago, and Racine.

Robert Beggs, student secretary, expects to do recruiting work in Green Bay high schools on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Professor Franzke will leave again next week to continue the recruiting work sponsored as a part of the college program each year. He will probably work in the vicinity of Milwaukee.

Dr. Lewis Speaks On Equipment of Paper Chemistry Institute Over Air

"The Physical Equipment of the Institute of Paper Chemistry," was the subject of the third lecture over station WHBY given by Dr. H. F. Lewis, dean of students at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Wednesday.

Dr. Lewis stated briefly the actual process of making pulp and paper. The types of raw material used for pulp, which Dr. Lewis discussed were rag, wood, and straw.

Dr. Lewis pointed out that effective study of making pulp and paper was made possible by complete equipment which consists of: digesters, screens, wet machines, beaters, etc. He emphasized the fact that the students at the Institute do all work in connection with the process of making pulp.

"The equipment installed in the Institute," Dr. Lewis said, "is of the latest type, and has been erected as it would be for actual mill operation. Over two hundred firms which carry supplies for paper mills, have donated the entire machinery and accessories to the Institute.

Laboratories Important

After discussing some of the machines and their part in the manufacturing of pulp, Dr. Lewis said, "Equal important and necessary are the laboratories and equipment used in studying the sciences underlying the

Student Senate Selects Tentative All College Day

All College day has tentatively been set for Wednesday of the first full week of school, according to action taken at a meeting of the student senate Tuesday night, after the first motion, "that All College day be on the Saturday of the third week of school," was rejected by the faculty.

Wednesday was the day chosen by the senate because fewer conflicts will arise on that day, since rushing and pledging will have been completed by that date. It was recommended by the faculty that the date be set for some time during the second week of school.

It was further recommended to the senate that the matter was one to be decided by the senate and the faculty, and not one that called for the approval of various campus groups. The senate had asked campus groups for their approval on the first motion.

Charles Watkins, '33, has charge of the stage lighting. Reserved tickets can be purchased at Belling's Drug store.

DIRECTORSHIP POSITIONS ARE ALSO VACANT

Four Candidates To Be Chosen On Trustee Ballot; Three For Directorship

Candidates for the directorship and three positions as trustees of Lawrence college will be voted on by alumni through the mail.

Ballots are sent to alumni in accordance with the amendment of the constitution put into effect last June, concerning the election of directors and trustees by mail.

One of the ballots contains the possible candidates for the three vacancies occurring among the directors this year. The alumni are expected to vote for three people to serve for a period of three years and return the ballots.

Four candidates are to be selected on the trustee ballot. From the four that are nominated the acting board elects two to fill the vacancies. All ballots, to be counted, must be in the office of Miss Tarr on or before Friday, June 10, 1932, at 12 o'clock noon. The ballot must also be signed by a person holding a bachelor degree granted by Lawrence college with the year of his graduation appended.

Neale-Silva Is Chapel Speaker

Gives Address On Relations Of Latin America With U. S. Wednesday

Political and economic aspects of the relations between the United States and Spanish America was the subject of the chapel speaker in convocation Wednesday morning, Eduardo Neale-Silva, of the Spanish and Portuguese department at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Neale-Silva discussed the Monroe Doctrine and Pan-Americanism. It is his opinion that the Monroe Doctrine is unfair, unilateral, too elastic, and outworn, as in the cases of Argentine, Brazil, and Chile for example. He also commented upon the interpretation and the transformation that the Doctrine has undergone.

In discussing Pan-Americanism the speaker stressed the need of sympathetic understanding, the futility of formalistic Pan-Americanism, and the need of a better knowledge of the people themselves.

Reduces to Bureaucratic Meetings "Pan-Americanism that reduces itself to mere bureaucratic meetings or political gestures of a romantic nature," the speaker said, "will not achieve any definite results."

He went on to point out that he believes that essential to Pan-Americanism is the frank discussion of frictions that have existed and after the two countries have dispelled fears, they can build on it otherwise it will be on unsound grounds.

In regard to the economic relations, Mr. Neale-Silva admitted that on the whole, the economic relations with the United States have revived Latin America, but, he contended, also brought along political interference that is deeply resented.

About ten different cases of this interference were cited and the speaker attempted to prove that many of the moves were not intended for any good as many people believe, but have ulterior objectives other than purely humanitarian motives.

The Lawrentian Platform

1. Reform the rushing system.
2. Student government.
3. Increase of student interest in world affairs.

AGAINST LAWRENTIANISM

Seldom has the student body of Lawrence college had the opportunity of wholeheartedly supporting a project of more potential worth to Lawrence college than Lawrence Day, a project being sponsored by the Student Senate with the backing of the entire student body, and one which is expected to attract to the Lawrence campus high school pupils from Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, and Minnesota.

When the plan was first presented to the student body it was impressed upon the students that this will mean that every individual affiliated with the college will be selling Lawrence to prospective students. It was further stressed that this is a project of so great importance that it behoves every organization, including fraternities and sororities, to forget their relatively insignificant positions in the structure of the college and work for LAWRENCE.

One is tempted to question the sincerity of those students who appear 100 per cent Lawrentians to the exclusion for the time being of their own groups when confronted, as the Lawrentian was, with the hard statement of fact contained in a fraternity chapter letter received a short time ago.

We quote from the letter as follows:

"College authorities have recently announced an innovation in recruiting programs which is to be entirely under student direction. Bro. X has been appointed as general chairman of the project. The program is set for the weekend of May 7 at which time over 100 prospective Lawrentians are to be invited to the Lawrence campus to be entertained by the entire student body, especially at the fraternity houses. It looks like a great opportunity for advanced rushing contacts, so if you have any Z prospects in mind, the active chapter would appreciate a notification so that we can give these boys special attention."

While the Lawrentian fully appreciates the interest this fraternity is taking in the project, an interest strong enough to prompt the writer of this letter to devote an entire paragraph to the subject of Lawrence Day, yet we cannot dodge the fact that this very strongly points to something apart from an interest in the college.

Long and lustily has the cry persisted on the Lawrence campus that we must get away from our own individual groups occasionally and realize that we are only a small part in a great and powerful organism purporting to be functioning as a unit. Just so long as one fibre in this great network operates contrary to the main unit, that long will 100 per cent Lawrentianism be something not yet a reality.

♦ SO THEY SAY ♦

Dear Editor:

In a recent chapel announcement, Mike Gochbauer urged that the students make "Lawrence Day" a success. With apparent earnestness he suggested that the student body rush for Lawrence and not for the petty group to which he or she belonged. In Senate meetings the same warnings have been offered by the Chairman. Gochbauer has continually cautioned the committee for the day that the interests of the college and not those of fraternities or sororities, should be the only element in "Lawrence Day."

I ask, Mr. Editor, is it not a bit ironical that Gochbauer should urge every group but Beta to heed his suggestions? Note the information Mike and his fraternity are sending to their alumnae:

"College authorities have recently announced an innovation in recruiting programs which is to be entirely under student direction. Bro. Gochbauer has been appointed as general chairman of the project. The program is set for the weekend of May 7 at which time over 100 prospective Lawrentians are to be invited to the Lawrence campus to be entertained by the entire student body, ESPECIALLY at the fraternity houses. It looks like a GREAT OPPORTUNITY for ADVANCED RUSHING contacts, so if you have any Beta prospects in mind, the active chapter would appreciate a notification so that we can give these boys ESPECIAL ATTENTION."

(Direct quotation, paragraph six, Capitals mine.)

Another Iggle Eye.

P. S. This is probably an example of student selfish government.

These representatives will hold office for the rest of the school year, and will have full power on the committee. New appointments are to be made by each successive student senate.

Sore muscles, scarred arms and legs, disgruntled dash men, broken poles, and a few smiles here and there are all that remain of the first interfraternity indoor track meet. Perhaps, ensuing generations of students will see the meet run outdoors, but we're inclined to doubt it. Goaded on by their brethren, several men slashed their way around those short turns Wednesday night and did what may be unrepairable damage to their legs. A few good men wisely refused to run at all, and they join with us in extending heartfelt sympathy to those who were forced to gallop around the turns of the indoor track. After a few weeks outside, to lengthen their stride for the coming season, the boys are suddenly given a night of intense competition on a 75-yard oval. Great fun!

At last a penalty that we have pleaded for has been established—a year's dismissal from the tennis courts for any unenlightened soul who is foolish enough to rip up the courts with high heels. And don't get the idea that there will be any leniency displayed in the matter of who gets called on that breach of court etiquette. If you want an enforced vacation without tennis here at Lawrence, just let yourself be seen with high heels on yonder courts. Now that one type of animal has been eliminated from the tennis playgrounds, perhaps the college will offer a bounty on squirrels in the Fall and we can eliminate the other menace to Viking tennis.

May we be so bold as to insert a few gems gleaned from listening closely to professors; in our humble estimation a liberal education can be secured by studying the professors, their side comments on religion, politics, policies, and pertinent points in general. Here's one:

"There are no women in heaven because the Bible tells us that there was silence in heaven for half an hour." Now, isn't that something? Have another: "Some professors forget they were once students." There's a human being for you. Another: "A wise-cracker is never wise; he uses his wise cracks to shield a lack of brains." Pardon us while we flunk out, along with one hundred thousand other American students who are foolish enough to try and write for college newspapers. And there are others, some dandies, but why get all enthused over this sort of thing?

Hank.

Betas Take Greek Track Contest Wednesday

SIG EPS WIN 2nd PLACE IN CLOSE MEET

Footo, Fahres, Vander Bloemen Are High Point Men; Delta Sigs Take Third

Taking first and second places in the mile run immediately, and other wins during the meet, the Betas won the first indoor interfraternity track meet Wednesday evening by totaling 35.5 points over 23 for their nearest competitors, the Sig Eps, and 19.5 for the third place Delta Sigs.

Upsets were frequent during the meet and many of the varsity stars were nearly beaten or in some cases excelled by the frosh or Greek stars. No records were broken and the distances and times were much lower than in previous indoor meets. Lemke, D. I. broad jumper, came the nearest to setting a record when he leaped 19 feet 5 1/2 inches to win. This lacked half an inch of tying the indoor record. A record was set in the 12 lap relay, a new indoor event for fraternity trackmen, by the Delta Sigs' team which weaved around the dizzy track for a half mile in 2:10. Seven-tenths of a second behind them were the Beta sprinters and one-tenth of a second later the Sig Eps crossed the finish.

With a fair chance to equal these times, Corrigan, anchor man for the Psi Chi, slipped and fell on the last lap of the relay. Since dropping the baton meant disqualification, the Psi Chi not only lost the relay, but also a chance to be runner-up in the meet. The only remaining team, the Phi Tau's, were not forced to run to take fourth place.

Lead in Individual Scores

Footo, Beta; Fahres, Psi Chi; and Vander Bloemen, Delta Sig, led the individual scorers with 12, 11, and 10 points respectively. Running true to early predictions, most of the Greek teams were strong in some events and pitifully weak in others.

The Betas won the meet with their victories in both distance runs, the pole vault, and high jump. The Sig Ep team was the most versatile, scoring in all but two events. While they got no first places, their men accounted for five seconds, Wiese, Sigma hurdler and high point man, furnished some of the evening's surprises by taking second only to Vander Bloemen in both hurdle events.

Sixteen Freshmen Organize Baseball Club; Gram is Leader of Veteran Group

Lawrence college freshmen, who are contributing a great deal to college athletics this year, took another forward step last week when 16 of them were herded together by Oscar Gram, '35, and organized into a ball club which looks like a real outfit on paper.

Just what they can do in competition will be revealed, for there are 30 good amateur teams within a ten-mile radius of Appleton, and all of them have signified a willingness to hold open dates for the frosh stars.

Augmented by the long pitching arm of one Sid Felts, '33, the frosh present a fiery bunch of diamond artists who are taking the great national sport seriously. Rumors are rife that an upperclass team is in the making to challenge the sudden frosh show of power, and a little world series looms inevitable if the latter plans mature as expected.

All of the boys on the frosh roster have

The Delta Sigs annexed third place with their victories in the hurdles and the relay after their sprinters and distance men upset most of the dope bucket when they failed to come through with the expected points in their events. Just as the Psi Chi picked up practically all their points in the dashes, the D. I.'s showed their strength in the field events by winning the shotput and broad jump.

The standings and results:

Betas	35 1/2
Sig Eps	23
Delta Sigs	19 1/2
Psi Chi	18 1/2
D. I.'s	16
Theta Phi	8 1/2
Phi Taus	8

two or more years of steady summer baseball behind them, and with a few practice sessions to round them into a working unit they should be able to hold their own in any man's ball league. Felts pitched and won eight games for the runners-up in the strong Shawano county league last year, while Gram is a twirler of no mean ability himself.

Roerber and Walters have signified their willingness to take care of handling the smoke behind the plate, and both boys are capable catchers. Pfeifer, West, Jones, and Stan Chmiel will do battle for the first base job, with Ollie Williams at second, Dave Jones at the keystone sack, and Voegl and Raasch as shortstop candidates. In the outfield, Schmidt, Krohn, Raby, and Jeffrey have been signed, with the possibility of several holdouts putting their names on the dotted line soon.

The frosh management issues a challenge to any Lawrence college aggregation for a game or series of games to be played at a time arranged by Coach A. C. Denney, director of athletics.

Frosh In Track Meet With West High Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 2:00 p.m., Lawrence frosh play host to West Division High School of Milwaukee in a dual track meet. The West Siders, coached by Bill Smith, a former Viking athletic star, will display an especially well-balanced team having outstanding distance men and jumpers.

Kellner, who high jumped 6 feet 1/4 inch and who won the high and low hurdles in an interscholastic dual meet last Saturday, will be one of the star performers of tomorrow's meet.

Mueller of the Frosh will compete with him in the high jump, and Hammond in the hurdles. West, Polkinghorn, and Sheldon will have a tough opponent in Feichtinger who ran the 220 and 440 yard dashes in 23.5 and 54.2 seconds respectively.

In the half mile, DeYoung and Kellogg will probably represent the Frosh

Forty Nations To Take Part in Olympic Games

During the last days of July and the first 14 days of August, the United States plays host to the world and the games of the tenth Olympiad. To date, the record number of 40 nations have announced their intention to participate. Southern California, the "Playground of America," and the scene of the events, is preparing a rip-roaring welcome. "People think of the Olympic games as a type of glorified track meet."

against Horn of West. The mile should be a great race since Tsuru and Bradley of the Frosh and Franks and Givoe of West all run it well under five minutes.

The two squads are almost equal in weights, with Vogel, Nagel, and Pfefferle tossing for the Frosh and Kresl, Fuchs, and Barksdale for West.

The meet is the first invasion of a Milwaukee school on Viking soil for several years, and gives track enthusiasts a splendid opportunity of seeing the class of competition in the southern city scholastic circles.

No, indeed! For these are really "wide-awake" Freshies... already initiated into the deep mysteries of economics.
