NORTHWESTERN . . .

... in its younger days

In Dedication

THIS CENTENNIAL YEARBOOK IS DEDICATED TO RALPH MOUW, TEACHER OF THE YEAR. IN GRATITUDE FOR HIS FAITHFUL SERVICE TO NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE.

The first annual teacher of the year award, which was presented during the convocation services on Wednesday, April 27 ironically went to the faculty member who has served Northwestern the longest - Dr. Ralph Mouw. Mouw, who has taught mathematics at the college for 36 years, says he has seen Northwestern "become a very strong liberal arts college, one that is concerned with the total individual."

Since being at Northwestern, Mouw has served as professor of mathematics, dean of men, and acting chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences. "I see Northwestern moving more as a distinctively Christian College," Mouw states, explaining that he feels it is the impetus of the college to see that every teaching member of the faculty is a Christian. "Academic quality and Christianity are side by side goals when looking for teachers," he said.

Mouw, who graduated from the Northwestern Academy in 1936 and the Northwestern Junior College in 1938, sees his 36 years of teaching here as a "response to God." In 1944, Mouw was selected to participate in the invasion on the Normandy beaches. "I was totally sure that would be my last day," he recalls. "But it wasn't. The Lord's protecting hand was over me and he's given me many days since then, so, each day I just give over to him." When he returned from the war, Mouw knew he wanted to teach in Christian higher education, so he went to graduate school and in 1947 was added to Northwestern's faculty.

Mouw has since contributed much to the growth of the school, having served on the steering committee establishing institutional goals and purposes (1972-74), the academic affairs committee, and the committees to install Presidents Grandberg, Rowenhorst, and Radandt.

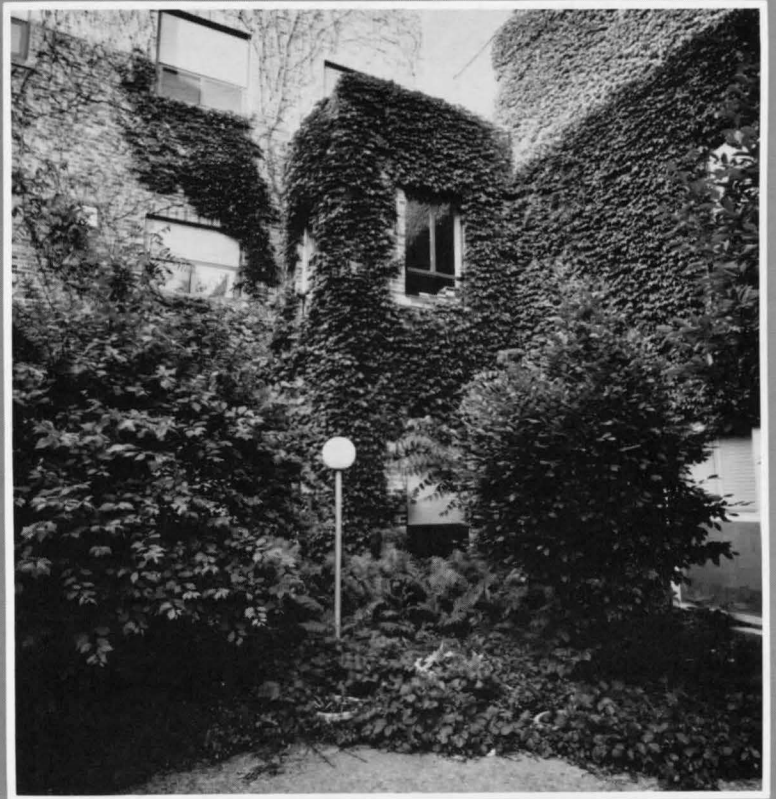

Mouw does not look at the ways he has helped Northwestern, though; rather, he says he will remember all that this institution has given him. "While I may have contributed something to Northwestern, I feel Northwestern has done much more for my life," he says. "I know of no other place where my life could have been enriched that much."

During his retirement, Mouw hopes to catch up on all his hobbies - gardening, fishing, reading, camping, hiking, and travelling. He and his wife plan to spend the winter months from now on in Florida, and are also planning a European trip.

Mouw is also making plans to keep in touch with Northwestern, claiming that he will really miss the students. "I hope I'll be able to get back and talk to them and visit with them," he says with a smile. "I want to stay young with them!"

The Centennial Year commemoration brought many guests to campus, some who lectured or performed, and many, particularly many alumni, who helped us celebrate. Memories of bygone days were recalled and interest in Northwestern's future was kindled. A history of the college, written by alumnus/historian Gerald De Jong, was published. Its title From Strength to Strength captures well the developments of the first hundred years and the dreams for the next century of service as an institution of higher learning committed to Christ as Lord over all Knowledge.

The year 1982-83 saw enjoyable celebrations which involved students - past and present, faculty, and the community at large - starting out with a special service of praise by the General Synod of the Reformed Church in America, held on our campus in June, 1982.

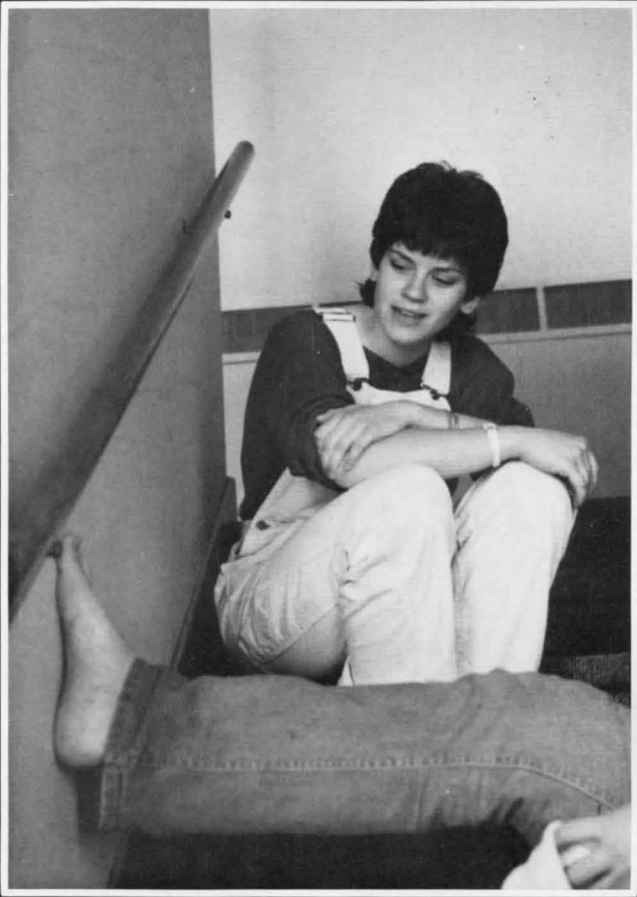

What came to the fore and what will remain as a lasting impression is the "Spirit of Northwestern". It's the remarkable ability of an institution and its representatives to celebrate one hundred years of existence, yet to be dedicated to only one tradition, namely not to be bound by tradition, rather to offer a quality program of Christian higher education that is true to its biblical foundations and timely in its applications. The many expressions of congratulations that have come our way urge us on to greater achievements in the future and to greater faithfulness in living up to our mission as a Christian college.

King candidates: Jim Svoboda, David Rozeboom

Homecoming festivities were extra special this year, with the theme being "One Hundred Years Of Raider Celebration."

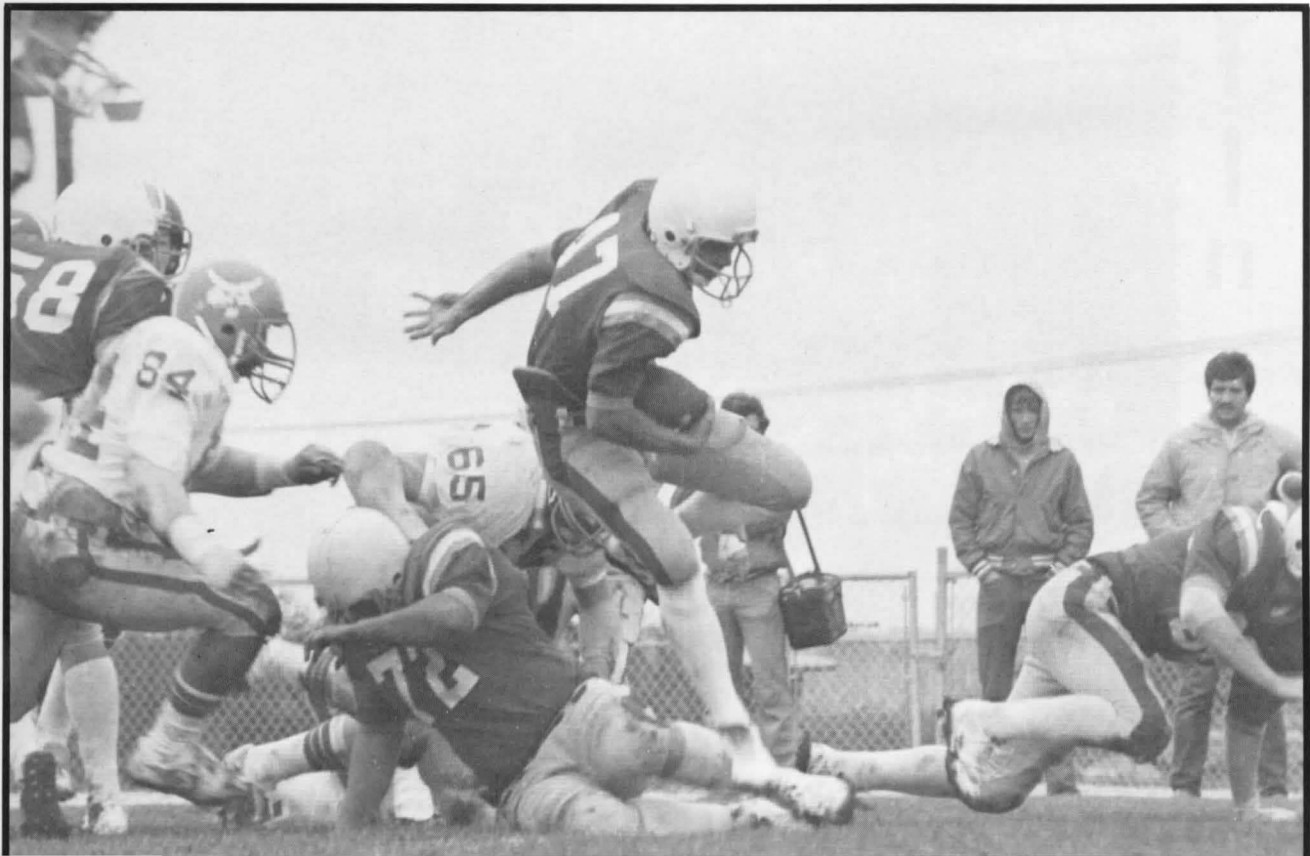

Chairpersons Dale Honken and Karen Scherb, along with assistant chairpersons Steve Locker and Jacque Rypkma, planned many activities for the three day event.

Opening activities began on Thursday night with the coronation of King Charlie Contreras and Queen Lisa Waite. The fun of a moonlight hayride and bonfire was dampened by rain on Friday night.

Saturday's activities opened with the alumni barbeque and variety show in the mini-gym, and later, judging of the indoor hall decorating contest took place. Then, Raider support supporters gathered for a spirit pep rally just before Red Raiders clashed helmets with Peru State. NW rolled over Peru with a 62-17 victory. After the game, a banquet was served, and to bring the festivities to a close, students attended a victory dance in the auditorium.

As a Christian Liberal Arts College, it is important to hear the viewpoints of many Christian speakers and musicians. During the 1982-83 school year, we were fortunate enough to have many performers from many different areas. The guests that joined us throughout the year included:

First Semester

Rev. Dr. Hinerman
Carman
Dr. Bruce Leafblad
Rev. Walter Hendrichsen
Regan Courtney
Cynthia Clawson
Leighton Ford
Dr. Ralph Winter

Second Semester

Rev. Dr. Arie Brouwer
Tina English
Dr. William Vander Bilt
Ms. Kimberly Bobo
Mr. C.W. Pollard
Dr. Magnolia Jackson
Dr. Bruce Fifer
Rev. Brown
John and Vicki Jo Witty
Dr. Paul Scotchmer
Dr. Richard Mouw

50's Night

The 50's night was one of many special evening meals given by the cafeteria. Every Wednesday night at the end of second semester, the usual everyday meals were transformed into different cultures or times. Different foods associated with the cultures were served in order to expand our understanding of other lifestyles as well as adding variety to our meals. Other nights included Dutch Night, Mexican Night and many others. Special thanks should go to the cafeteria staff for their enthusiasm and creative imagination.

Spring Fest

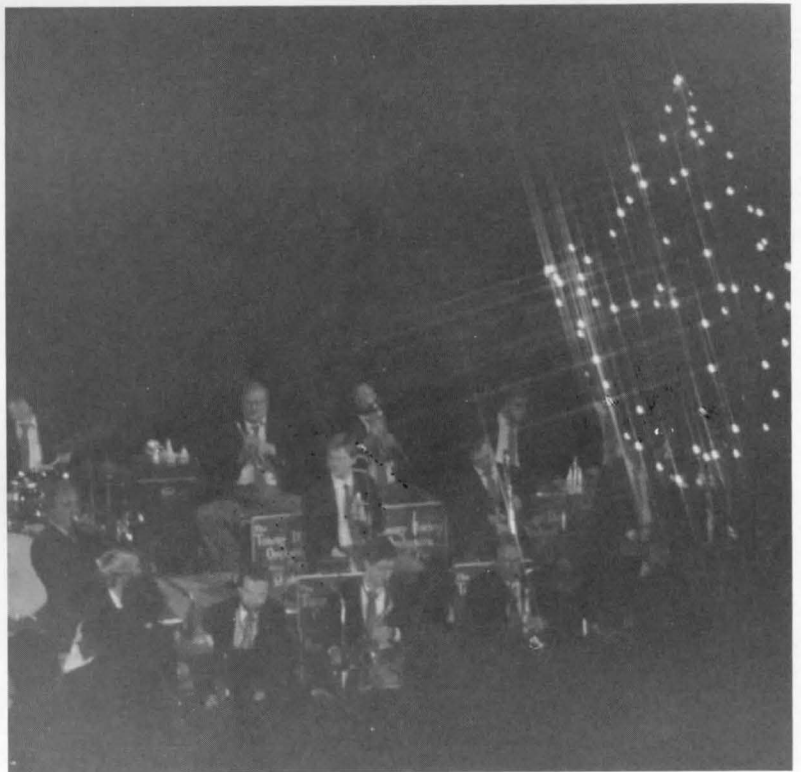

This year's Spring Fest was held commemorating the centennial celebration. This "gala event in honor of Northwestern's 100th year", was held not only for the students, but also for the faculty and community. The Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, the most popular "Big Band" of the Jazz Age, was featured at the ball, on April 8. The orchestra, under renowned trombonist Buddy Morrow, performed a four hour dance. Because it was the centennial celebration, the Spring Fest Committee felt that the dance should be a special affair. A formal banquet preceded the ball. The banquet began with punch and hors d'oeuvres. Then students were seated and served by faculty members. The meal was followed by a program.

On Saturday, April 9, the Spring Retreat followed the Friday night dance. It was entitled, "Kick off your dancing shoes and head for the hills." It was a perfect way to end an exciting weekend.

Capture The Freddie

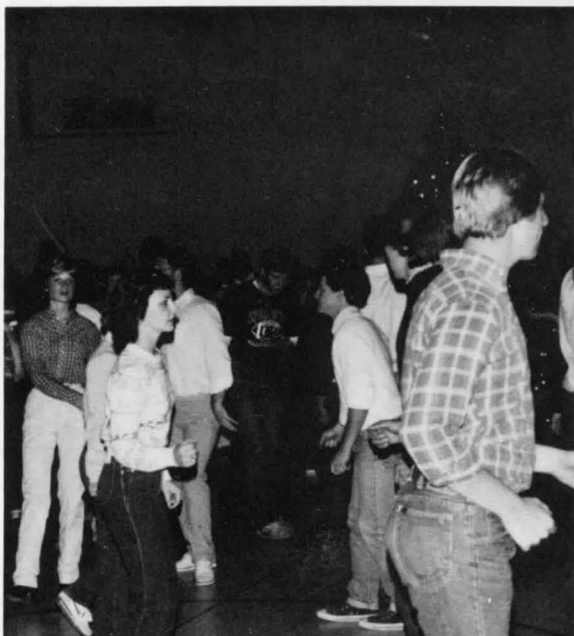

Each year although there is always plenty of campus wide organized groups and meetings, there is a need for a relief of tensions by just having a time for fun. Many activities such as campus water fights or dances are ever present. But this year the game of Capture the Freddie was introduced. The goal of this game was to capture the statue resembling our own President Friendhelm Radandt. The image was created by John Vander Stelt. For months Freddie floated around the campus popping up everywhere from football games to Bible studies. Each wing surveyed the clues revealed each week in the newspaper, hoping that they would be the wing to possess Freddie. Freddie was able to draw a unity among wing members as they would come up with plots for the capturing of it. But as the year came to an end, so did the game as Freddie was laid to rest.

The Student Government Association, under the leadership of Phil Towne first semester and Kevin Woodward second semester, strove throughout the year to make its voice heard on campus. This was their major goal - to become more involved in activities and to make their efforts more visible. They succeeded in doing just that by getting involved in such activities as the danceathon and Spring Fest.

A major project they tackled was writing up a new constitution for the SGA. They initiated the new annual Teacher of the Year Award, which was awarded to Professor Ralph Mow at the Honors Convocation. They wrapped up the year by installing the new officers elected by the student body. Vice-President Tracy Taylor left Northwestern second semester, so her position was filled by David Tilstra.

Phi Beta Lambda is a part of a national Organization of business students. The local chapter at NW had 40 members this year. The group's activities include monthly meetings featuring community business persons speaking on pertinent subjects. The group also participates in state, regional, and national conferences sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda. A Spring Trip is taken annually by the local Phi Beta Lambda chapter. This trip is one of the highlights of the year's activities. Denver, CO was the location for the '82-'83 Spring Trip. Other activities of P.B.L. include fund raisers, an investment game, and viewing various motivational film series presenting the ideas of influential business persons and economists. Phi Beta Lambda provides students with an excellent opportunity to broaden their familiarity with the business world.

1982-83 was the first year for the French and Spanish clubs. The two clubs shared many activities throughout the year, including a money tape, sponsoring two World Vision children first semester, Christmas caroling at the Heritage House, and selling hot nachos.

Independently, the French Club had a weekly French table during dinner. Jane Stevenson shared her mission experience in Belgium, and Sue Brinkhuis and Charlotte Sikkema spoke on their year of study in France. Several members attended the Governor's Task Force on Foreign Language and International Studies in Sioux City on February 24.

The Spanish Club held weekly tertullias during the evening meal. A foreign exchange student at MOC from Costa Rica was a guest speaker. Several club members attended Westmar's Copacabana in the spring.

Alpha Mu Gamma is the foreign language honor fraternity. The fraternity's major goals are to honor those who excel in foreign language and to help students realize their language can be used to the glory of God. It sponsored three representatives from Wycliffe Bible Translators on March 7 and 8. The Spring Initiation Banquet was held on April 19. Nine new members were initiated. Dr. Mike and Carolyn Yoder became honorary members.

The Community Service Club at NWC, a part of the student ministry Board, had an active year in serving those in need around the area. Student volunteers assisted in various situations, with a wide variety of people. Such opportunities that existed are working with the elderly, with the mentally or physically retarded, with a younger under-privileged child, or with assorted community needs. These services were much appreciated and not only a service to the people involved, but to our Lord as well.

"Lord, when did we see thee hungry and feed thee?, or thirsty and give thee drink? Truly I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brethren, you did it to me."

On March 26, 27 students piled into 3 vans to make the 24 hour trip to Vicksburg, Mississippi. While in Vicksburg, students worked with We Care Community Services, an outreach to poor blacks of the area.

Perhaps the 10 days could best be described by saying that cultural barriers were crossed. Days were spent repairing the homes of the poor and elderly while evenings provided time for getting to know host families and getting involved in other ministries of We Care, such as family Bible study. There was time each morning for group feedback on the people they had met and the things they had seen. Those who went came away with a better understanding of poverty, empathy for those who find themselves trapped in the cycle of poverty, and a larger vision of what it means to be a "world Christian". The group gave a lot to the people they came in contact with, but also learned so much from those same people. The project was sponsored by the World Missions Board of NWC.

Summer Service

The sites where these 27 students served include Mississippi, American Indian Reservations, New York City, Mexico, Kenya, Cameroon, Columbia, Ecuador, The Netherlands, England, India, and New Guinea. The students accepted the challenge of the mission field in response to Jesus' command to "go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations." Their summer service experiences provided opportunities to serve Christ, to grow spiritually, and to expand their cultural awareness.

The Red Raiders made the trip to the NAIA National Playoffs for the fifth time in the school's history to highlight the 1982 football season. Even a bigger highlight was the No. 1 ranking the Red Raiders received at the season's end. NW finished the regular season with an 11-0 record and 12-1 overall. Coach Larry Korver's football team also had one of the most productive seasons in his 16 years of coaching the Red Raiders. They carted off 18 new school records plus 3 NAIA National records. Those included:

The 1982 Red Raider Volleyball team finished their season with a 12-15 overall match record and a sixth place finish in the laKota Conference.

Highlights of the season included a close second place finish in the ten team Augustana Invitational Tournament. The co-captains of the squad were senior Peg Christiansen and junior Pat Achterhoff. Pat Achterhoff was named to the first team All-Conference, to the NAIA District 15 second team, and was selected as Most Valuable Player.

Junior Carolyn Blair was a member of the second team All-Conference and was chosen Most Inspirational Player. Freshman Brenda Corlett was chosen by her teammates as the Most Improved Player.

Though finishing 4-5 this season, the Northwestern women's tennis team still produced some rather impressive statistics. Finishing 4-5 overall may not have been the best in recent years, but their 4-3 finish during the conference season was quite impressive.

The season was highlighted by 2 shutouts against Morningside and Westmar as Northwestern blitzed the two by 9-0 scores. The Red Raider women finished second in the Io-Kota Conference tournament behind winner Buena Vista.

The Red Raider women also broke 3 school records this season all coming in singles. Laura Haverdink, who was voted the team's MVP, set a new record at No. 2 singles with a record of 6-6 while Jane Persinger had the best record with a mark of 11-1. Sandy TeSlaa set the other new record at No. 6 singles with a mark of 8-2.

ROW 1: Jeff VanderBerg, Tom Schultz, Donley Hooegeveen, Steve Harms, John Crouse. ROW 2: Jeff Engelhardt, Kevin Mackie, Carl Mol, Glenn Rozeboom, John Merrihew, Russ Morfitt.

The NW Cross Country team battled injuries all season long but still were able to paste together a fairly impressive season in 1982. The Red Raiders were unable to defend their 1981 District 15 Cross Country title but did finish second behind Loras. The Red Raiders totaled 44 points to finish runner-up behind winner Loras. Dordt was third with 47 points.

Donley Hooegeveen was the top individual runner averaging 26:12 per five miles. Tom Schultz, who misses two meets because of nagging injuries, still managed to average 26:29 for five miles. Carl Mol was third best as he averaged 26:58. Hooegeveen also had the best effort this season with a 25:52 clocking at the District 15 meet. That earned him a second place finish.

The MVP award went to senior Tom Schultz and the most improved went to Donley Hooegeveen. Hooegeveen and Schultz finished in the top five for the Red Raiders and went on to Nationals in Wisconsin.

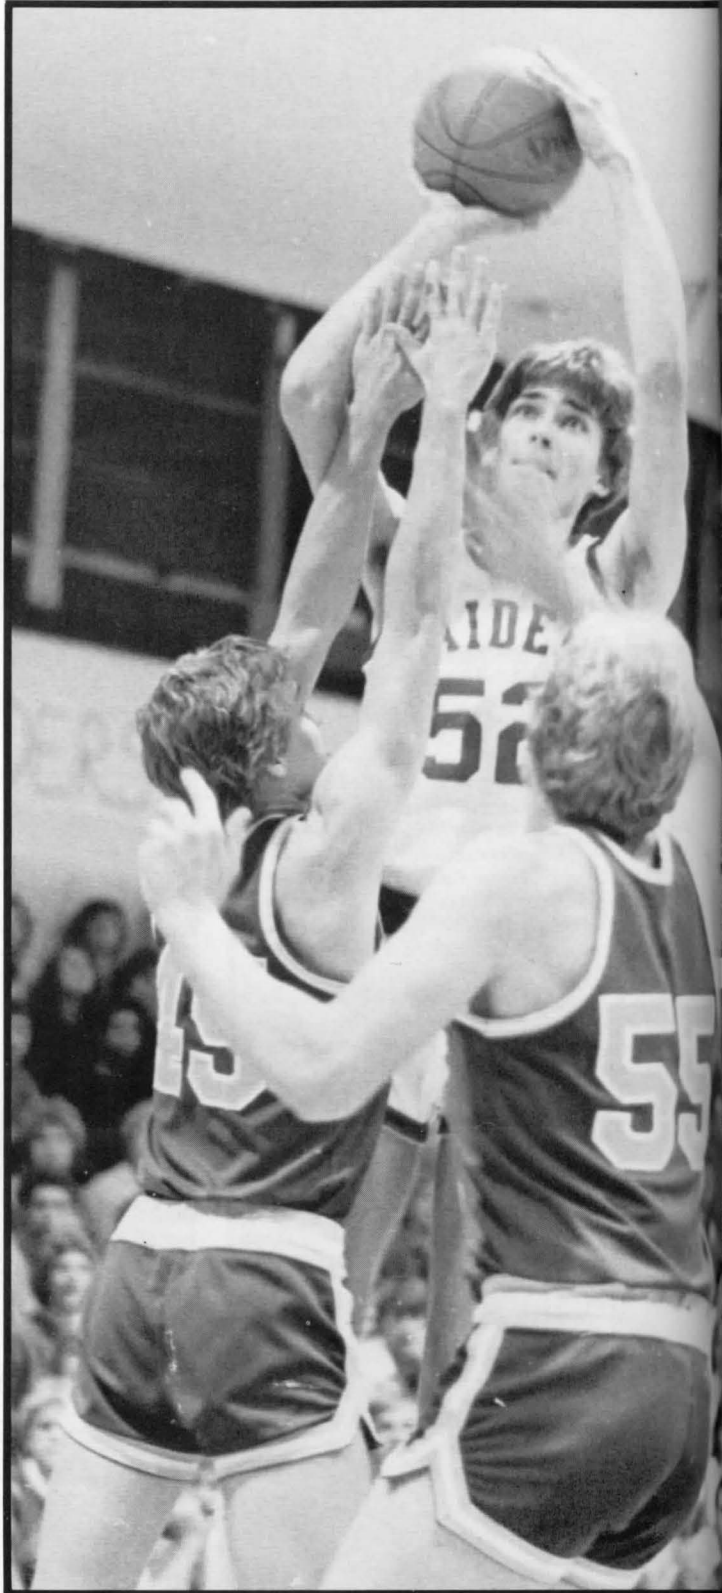

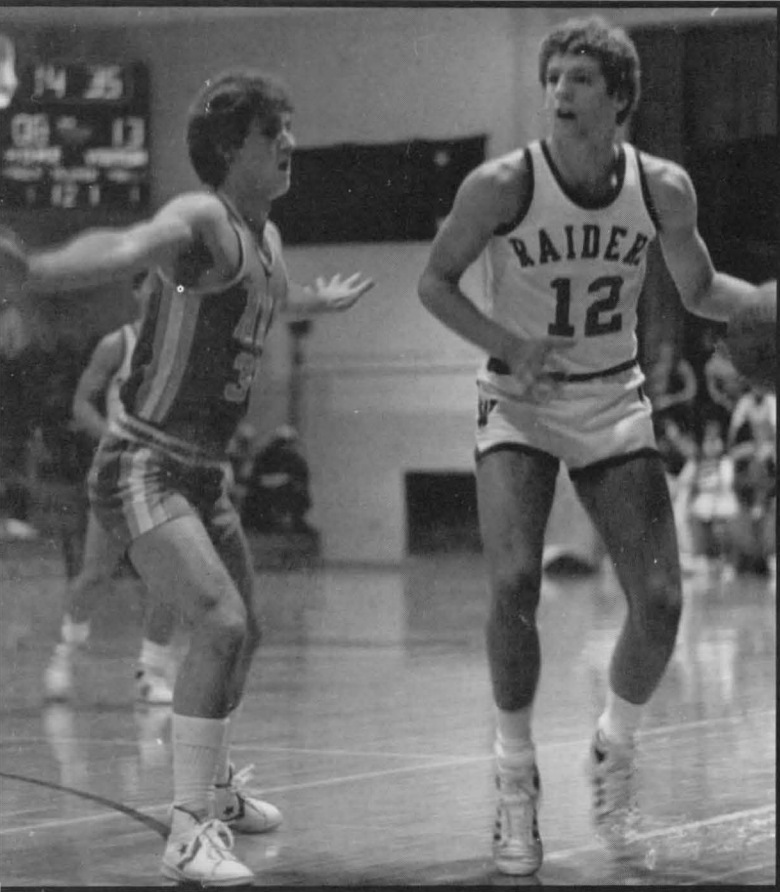

Golf Team Shoots Below Par

The Red Raider Golf Team played rather successful golf this season, winning five meets and placing fifth at the District 15 Tournament. NW captured victories in 2 duals over Dordt and USD and victories in triangulars against Westmar and Dordt and Westmar and Morningside. The other victory was in a five team meet.

The highlights for the season were medalist performances by Eric Boone and Randy Smith. Boone captured victories at the Alton course, NW's home course, with 18 hole rounds of 74. Smith was medalist at the Sioux Center course with a medalist round of 75. Gary Flannigan and Boone had low rounds of the year with 73's.

Team leaders were Flannigan for fairways in regulation (11.2); Doug Stubbe for total puts for 18 holes (28.3); and Steve Tucker for greens in regulation (9.2).

Surprising Basketball Season Ends With 19 Victories

The NW men's basketball team finished the year with a 19-12 record which is the most wins by a Red Raider team since the 1976-77 team, which finished 19-7. Highlighting the year for Coach Les Douma and his Red Raiders was a trip to the District 15 Playoffs. It was Douma's first trip as a college coach. NW downed Briar Cliff in the first round before losing to Westmar in the semi-finals.

NW finished an impressive 13-3 in home games this season, and finished second in the Holiday Tournament they hosted during Christmas break.

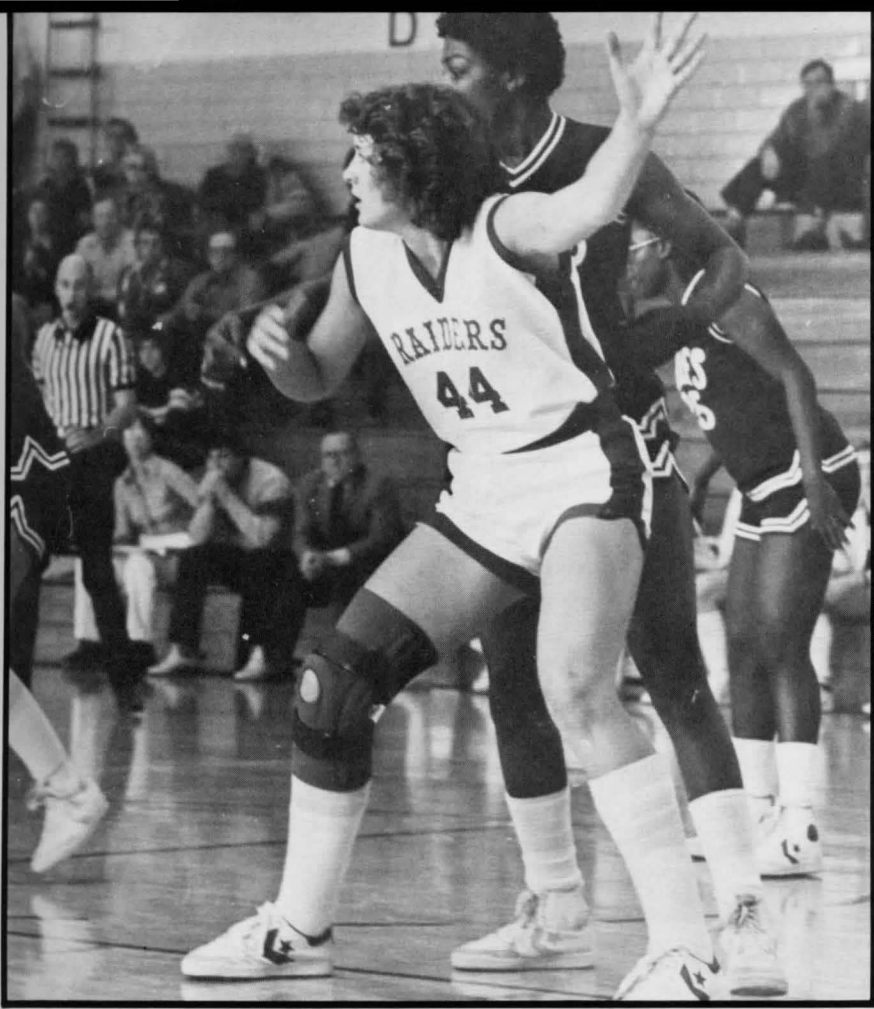

The Red Raiders played with a junior dominated squad this season. By season's end only one senior graduated from the '82-'83 club. Heading the individual performances this season were Kent McDonough and Dave Dunkelberger. McDonough moved into the 1,000 point club this year with 1,056 points which ranks him 12th on the all-time list. McDonough also was named to the Academic All-American team. Dave Dunkelberger led the team in scoring this season with 623 points and rebounding with 9.3 rebounds a game. He averaged 20.1 points per game. He came just shy of the school mark for best free throw percentage in a season with an 83.8 percent effort. The school mark is 84.6.

The Red Raiders did get one school mark however. The Red Raiders broke the record for best free throw percentage in one game when they made 29 of 30 free tosses against Briar Cliff in an 89-71 blitz.

Kent McDonough, a junior from Humboldt, was named to the NAIA Academic All-American Team. McDonough, who majors in business, maintained a grade point of 3.64 while being a standout for the Red Raiders this season. McDonough moved into the 1,000 point club this season and with an outstanding effort again next season could become the school's second all-time scorer.

Four of Vance's season records also rank in the top 15. His 1982-83 mark of 32-5 is third; his 1979-80 mark of 30-8 is fourth; his 1980-81 mark of 25-4-1 is tenth and his 1981-82 mark fo 23-6lis twelfth. Vance is also a four time national qualifier and an eight time conference champion, winning four in high school and four while in college. Vance has also been team captain for the last two seasons.

It was the fourth year in a row that one of his wrestlers has come home with national honors. Thayer's wrestlers also captured the NAIC-Tri-State Conference wrestling title for the third time in four years.

Besides winning the conference tournament, the Raider grapplers also captured fourth place finishes at the Simpson Tournament and the Area Tournament.

The top individual performance came from Jeff Vance who placed fifth at the NAIA National meet which earned him All-American honors. Vance finished the season with the best record of 32-5 and a four year record of 110-23-2. Ken Carlisle finished the year with a 27-7 record and qualified for the national meet.

Several records were also broken this year including most dual victories by Jeff Vance (58) and most takedowns by Vance (81).

Netmen Fight Area Balance For Wins

The NW men's tennis team had to fight off the wind, rain, and snow through much of the spring before they finally got seven dual matches and one tournament in. Unfortunately the NW men managed only a 2-5 record this season.

Highlighting the season was a third place finish in the Northwest Iowa Tournament at Westmar. The NW men finished third with 15 points in one of the closest tournaments in a number of years. Dordt won the tournament with 25 points, followed by Buena Vista with 20 point. Briar Cliff and Westmar tied for fourth with 13 points each.

Steve Beals, one of two seniors and MVP of the year, and Dennis Weerheim carried the Red Raiders in the tournament this year. Beals won the No. 3 singles title while Weerheim finished second at No. 4 singles. The two seniors combined to win the No. 2 doubles title. Doug Creger boasted a second place finish as No. 6 singles.

The best records this season went to Mark Moss at No. 2 singles who posted a 7-3 mark and the No. 2 doubles team of Beals and Weerheim who posted the same mark.

The Red Raider baseball team started five, and in some cases six freshmen on their varsity ball club this season and managed to finish with only an 8-15 record. Graduation losses was the obvious difference from the year before when NW won the District 15 crown.

The Red Raiders failed to defend their title after losing to Grand View and Dordt in the opening two rounds. Jason Horstman was the highlight this season, picking up All-District honors as a center fielder. Mike Van Berkum made honorable mention as a third baseman.

The NW Men's Track Team put together another successful indoor and outdoor track season despite the unseasonable weather. Highlighting the 1983 indoor season were victories in both the NW Invitational and the District 15 meet both held in the De Witt Fitness Center. The Red Raiders captured their own meet at the Knight Relays and finished second at the Dordt Invitational in the outdoor season. But the major highlight of the outdoor season was impressive performances by the sprint and distance medley teams. The distance medley finished sixth out of 40 teams in 9:59.37 and the sprint medley ran exceptionally well but failed to qualify, missing the cutoff by one place.

The Red Raiders broke nine indoor records and tied two others and also broke one outdoor record. Jeff Vander Berg, Donley Hoogeveen, and Murry Hulstein qualified for nationals. Vander Berg qualified in the 1500 while Hoogeveen and Hulstein both qualified in the 800.

The Red Raider women finished second behind Dordt in both the indoor and outdoor meets this season. The highlight of the indoor season was their second place finish to Dordt. Despite only eight members and Dordt's large numbers, Northwestern finished runner-up by only 10 points in the District 15 indoor meet. The Red Raiders couldn't keep pace with Dordt's depth in the lo-Kota Outdoor Conference meet. Nevertheless, the Red Raider women still managed a second place finish.

Junior Pat Achterhoff was the bright spot in the Red Raider season breaking two outdoor and four indoor records. She also helped on relay to another school record. Achterhoff was the only national qualifier as she qualified in both the 200 and 400 dashes.

Their performances include those at the local Lion's Club and at the Heritage Club meeting on Heritage Day, as well as appearances with the A Cappella Choir on their Spring tour. The Home Concert marked the culmination of a semester of hard work. The Heritage Singers are under the direction of Kimberly Utke Schouten.

The Choral Readers presented the word of God in words, song, and dance several times this year. They appeared at Parents' Day in the fall and went on two tours of their own. The first tour, during Thanksgiving, took them through South Dakota and Minnesota, where they presented combined Thanksgiving and Christmas concerts. The second tour, in the spring, took them through Wisconsin, Iowa, and Illinois. The group is under the direction of Dr. Keith Allen.

"The Choral Readers seek to extend the graciousness of God's love to all who hear.

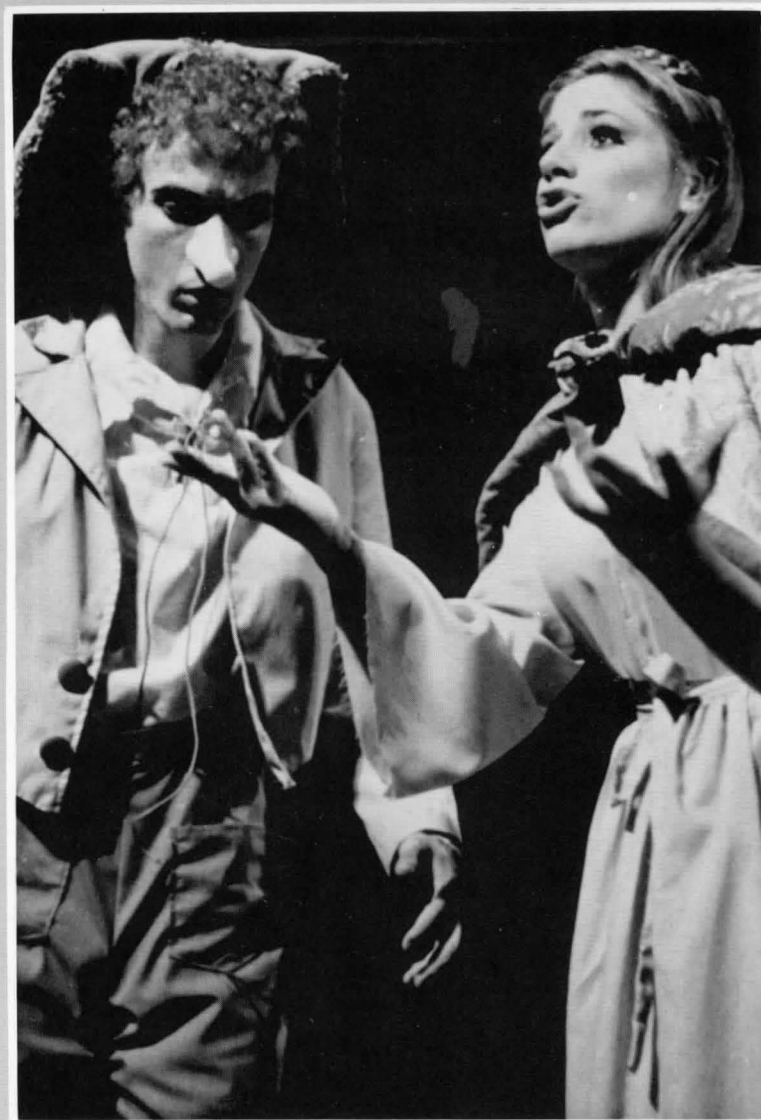

We speak forth the drama of life lived in His presence. For us, there is the joy of sharing the good, rich truth with those who hear. There is the privilege of meeting new people, of being touched by new lives. There is the challenge to live out in speech and action the meaning of life restored-restored to knowledge of God and to love every neighbor.

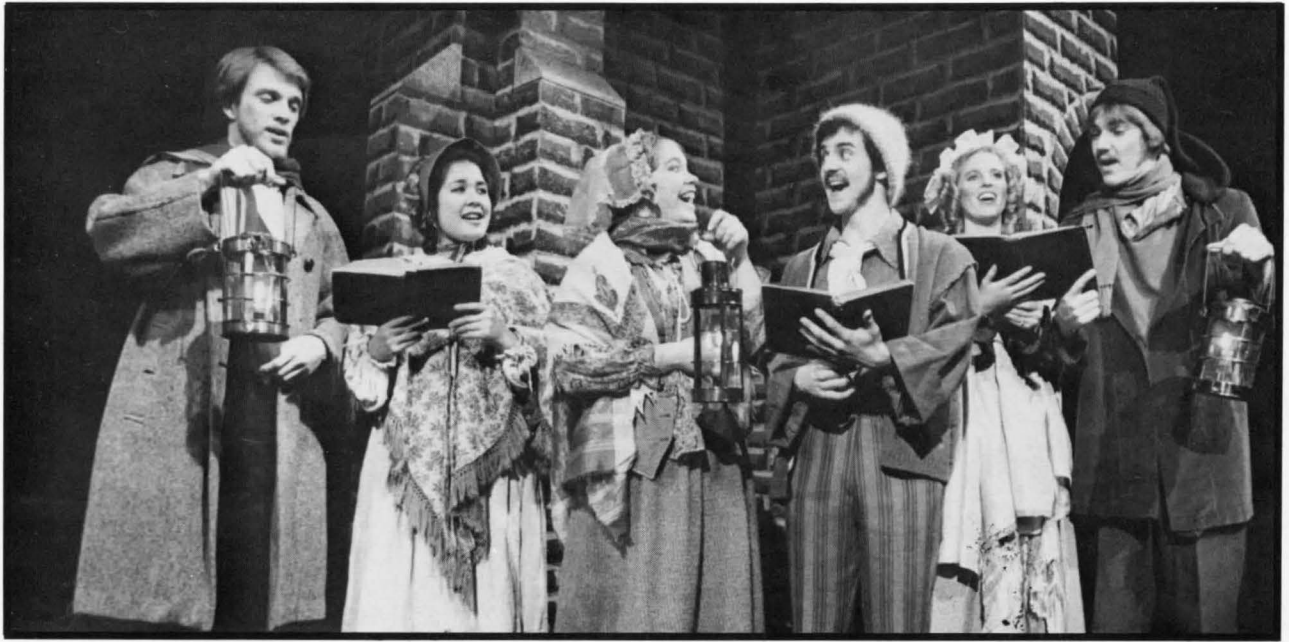

We come with prayers that the vision of this truth be bodied forth in the service that we give."

Pinocchio!

The Northwestern College Theater opened its season with Pinocchio, the annual children's play, on October 8, 9, 11, and 12. This magical tale of Geppetto and his puppet friend Pinocchio delighted children and adults alike. Through his mischievous adventures, Pinocchio learned what makes good boys good and bad boys bad. Upon discovering courage and deciding to stop lying, Pinocchio is changed into a real live boy!

A Christmas Carol

Charles Dicken's immortal classic came to life in one of Northwestern's most lavish productions ever on December 3, 4, 5, 9, 10, and 11. A Christmas Carol was found entraining by audiences of all ages. Ebenezer Scrooge was confronted by three ghosts on Christmas eve, and they set out to teach him that Christmas is more than just "Bah, humbug". After jounies into the past, present, and future, Scrooge woke up on Christmas morning, a changed man.

Student

P r o d u c t i o n s

Three student-directed on-act comedies were presented February 18 and 19. "The Ugly Duckling", directed by Michelle LeVigne, is a fairy tale in which a king and queen try to marry off their "ugly" daughter to an unknowing prince.

"Patio", directed by Angela Anderson, is a story of two sisters who prepare for a party. During their preparation, they reflect upon their feelings in a humorous, yet poignant, way.

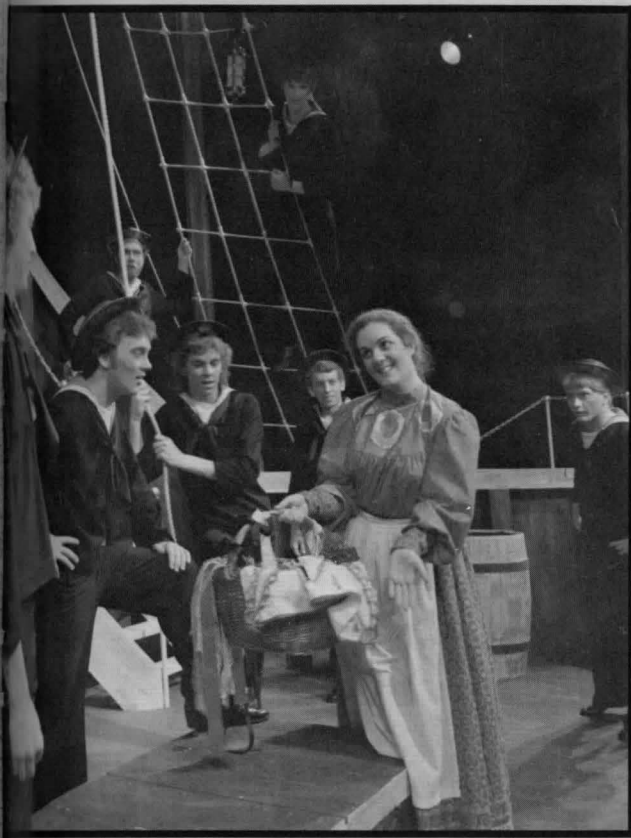

"The Visitor from Forest Hills", directed by Sue Gorman, depicted a bride who frustrates her parents when she locks herself in the bathroom because she fears taking the big step. These three productions, presented by the Theatre and Speech Department, were given in order to give theatre majors practical use of directing skills, as well as to provide lively entertainment for all types of audiences.

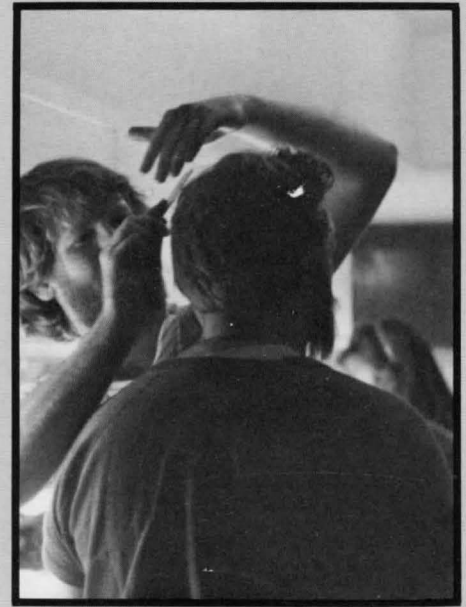

H.M.S. Pinafore

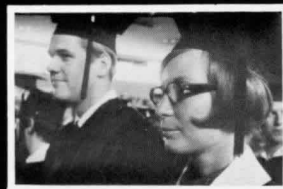

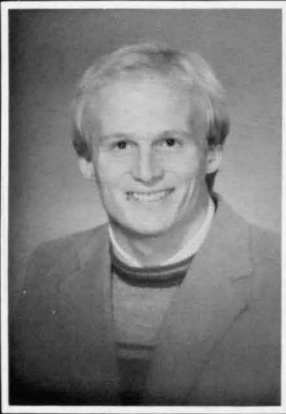

On April 15, 16, 21, 22, and 23, Northwestern's Playhouse came alive with Gilbert and Sullivan's production H.M.S. Pinafore. This comic operetta, with its distinct English flavor, is set aboard a British ship. Its plot revolves around a common sailor's love for the captain's daughter, and the production is filled with humor and satire aimed at 19th century British society. H.M.S. Pinafore was a smashing success as a result of the combined efforts of the Departments of Theatre and Music. This college/alumni centennial production also served as this spring's Tulip Time production in May.

100th Commencement Exercises

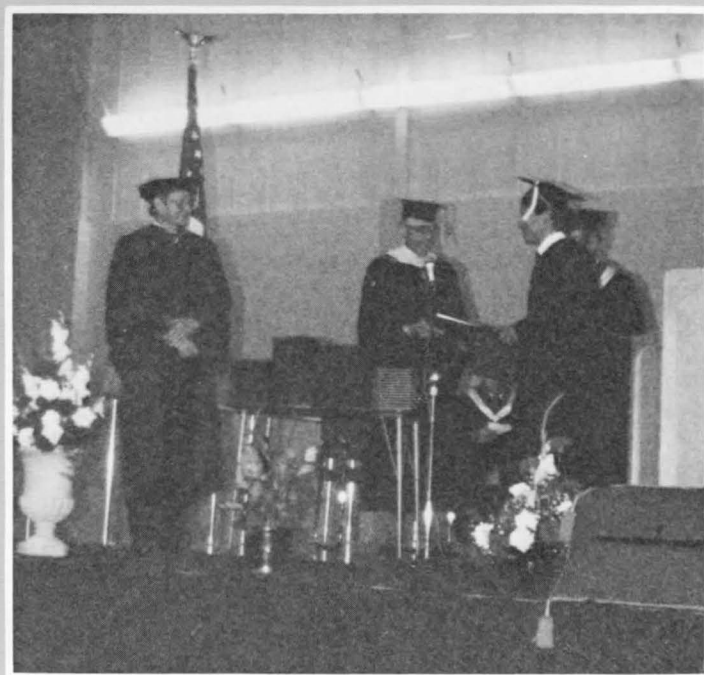

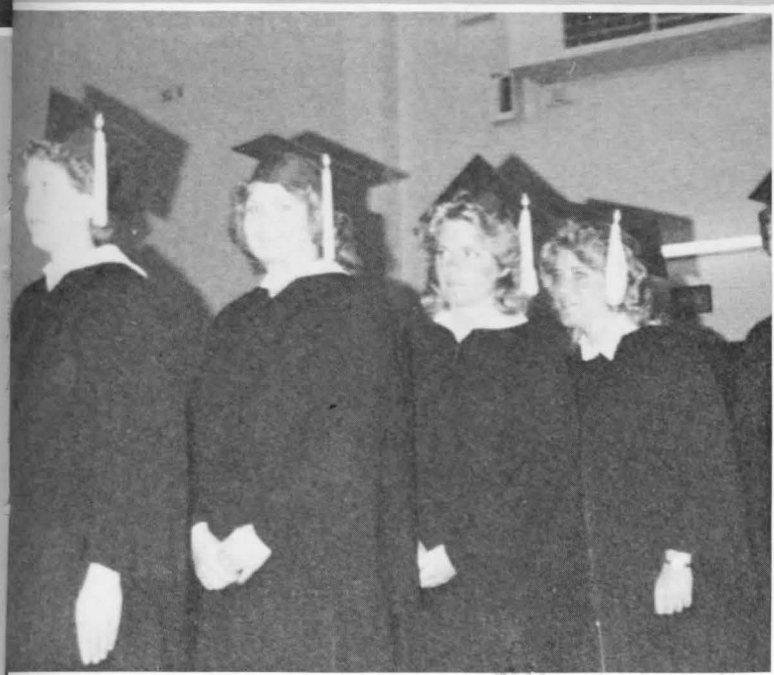

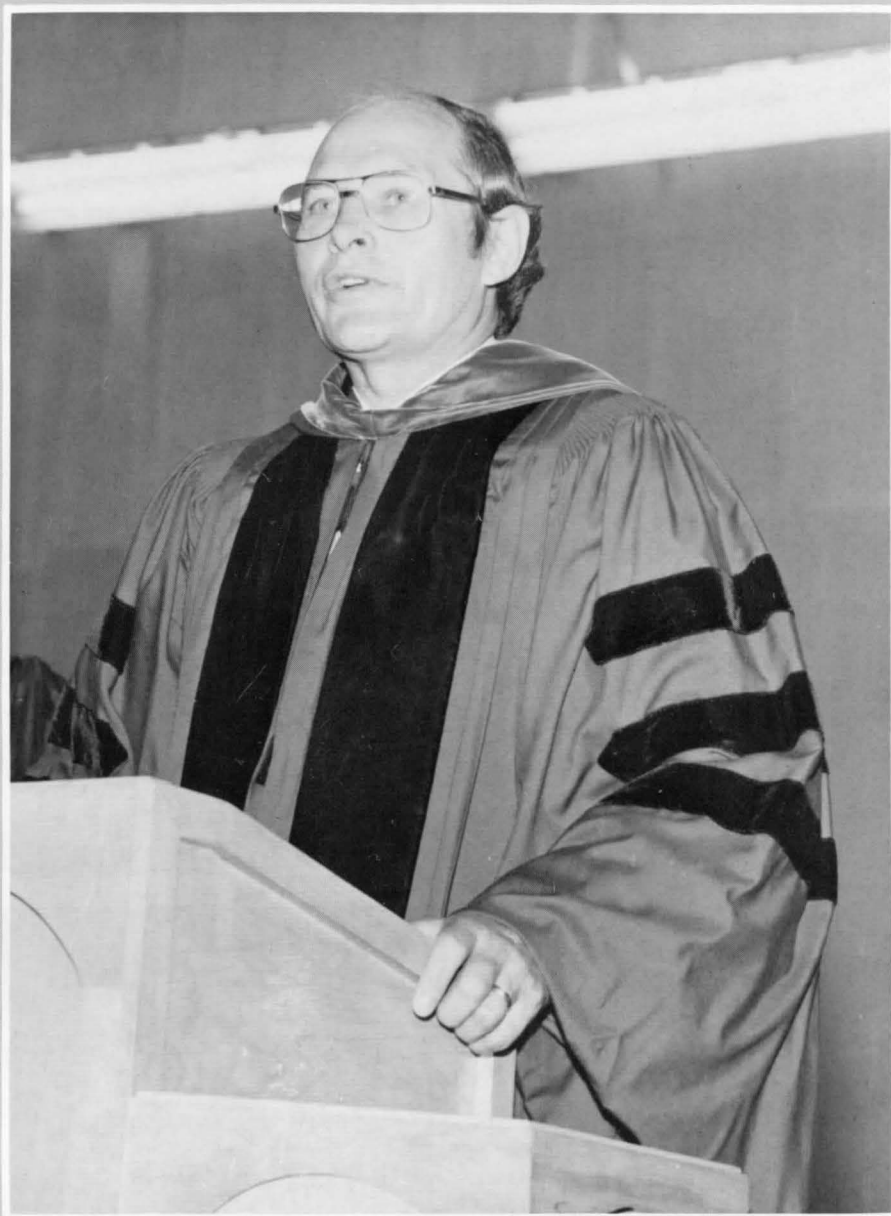

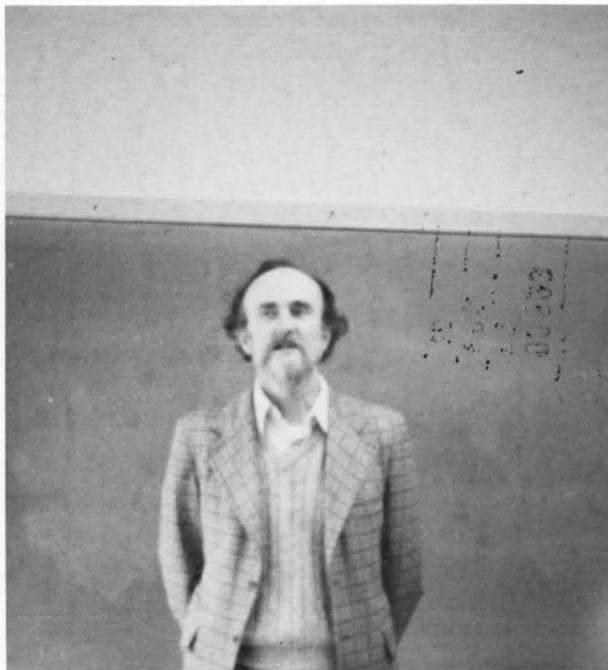

Dr. Jerome DeJong was the guest speaker at the Centennial Year Commencement Exercises at Northwestern College. His speech was entitled "What Do These Stones Mean?"

The A Cappella Choir and Concert Band performed the Centennial Hymn written by Dr. Herb Ritsema of Northwestern. The Choir performed another number by Ritsema especially written for the Centennial graduation.

Nine Northwestern Alumni were also honored with the 1983 graduates in this year's graduation.

Faculty Honors were presented to Ryna Achterhoff, Shari Brink and Jane George. Paul Wissink received honors for the highest grade point of a graduating Theology major.

As the 1982-83 yearbook staff, we would like to thank the administration for the opportunity to put this book together. We would like to apologize to any group we may have overlooked or slighted in any way. As a result of the controversy concerning whether or not to publish a yearbook at the beginning of the year, we were able to do very little work during the first semester. Also, because of this delay, pictures of some activities were not taken. The fact that there was no money available for the yearbook because the college removed it from the budget, complicated matters even more. Considering this lack of time and lack of interest, we feel we've done the best job humanly possible. We would greatly appreciate your support and participation next year as we try to make the 1984 yearbook the best yet!

Sincerely,
The 1983 DeKlompfen Staff

Centennial Hymn

BY DR. HERBERT RITSEMA

O GOD OF SPACE AND TIME, ETERNAL IS YOUR NAME
IN YOU NO HERE NOR THERE, FROM AGE TO AGE THE SAME.
RECEIVE OUR HEARTFELT PRAISE FOR SHOWING US YOUR LOVE,
AS THROUGH THE YEARS YOU GAVE PROTECTION FROM ABOVE.

O GOD OF LOVE AND GRACE, REVEAL'D IN CHRIST YOUR SON,
WHO DIED THAT WE MIGHT LIVE, IN WHOM YOUR WILL WAS DONE:
GRANT US THE ZEAL TO LOVE BEYOND MERE HUMAN WAYS,
THAT SWEET AND SELFLESS TOIL MAY MARK OUR EARTHLY DAYS.

O GOD OF TRUTH AND LIGHT, WHO LIGHTS EACH HUMAN HEART:
WE WOULD REFLECT YOUR BEAUTY THROUGH CREATIVE ART.
IN SCIENCE WE OBSERVE THE ORDER OF YOUR WAYS,
IN SPEECH AND MUSIC JOIN'D WE OFFER YOU OUR PRAISE.

KEEP NOW OUR SPIRITS PURE, OUR MINDS ON THINGS ABOVE:
HELP US TO WALK WITHIN THE FREEDOM OF YOUR LOVE.
GRANT US A VISION CLEAR, YOUR WISDOM TO REVEAL;
INSPIRE US TO GO ON, TO LOVE AND TEACH AND HEAL. AMEN
