Ficklin, Hubbard, Dugger, Will Edit Virginian, Rotunda and Magazine

F. Bress, N. Gray And J. Lybrook Are Managers

Nora Jones Is Presiding Officer At Meeting

Miriam Ficklin of Richmond, LeNoir Hubbard of Crewe and Ann Dugger of Farmville were chosen by a committee as editors of "The Virginian", "The Rotunda" and "The Farmville Quarterly Review" respectively. Nancy Gray of Roanoke, Florence Bress of Norfolk and Johnnie Lybrook of Fincastle were elected business managers of the same publications.

The committee was composed of the retiring editors, Ruth Montgomery of "The Virginian", Mary Harrison Vaughan of "The Rotunda" and Norvell Montague of "The Farmville Quarterly Review", and the faculty members of the publications Messrs. T. A. McCorkle, S. M. Holton, Jr., and J. M. Granger. Nora Jones was appointed by the student council and approved by the student body in chapel last Thursday as the disinterested party to preside at the committee meeting.

Miriam Ficklin was business manager of "The Virginian" this year. She was assistant photographic editor her sophomore year. Miriam has been on the chapel committee two years, and was recognized as a school leader by Alpha Kappa Gamma in February.

LeNoir Hubbard has made an excellent scholastic record in her three years here. She was on "The Rotunda" staff her sophomore year and was Feature Editor this year. She is a member of Beorc Eh Thorn and the House Council. Ann Dugger was first honor graduate of the certificate class in 1937. She has been on the magazine staff since her freshman year. This year she was Book Review Editor. She was sent as a delegate to the Kappa Delta Pi convention in Atlantic City recently.

Nancy Gray has served on "The Virginian" staff for a year. She was Assistant Business Manager this year. She has also been active in the Y. W. C. A. She was chairman of the Freshman Commission in 1935 and is on the Service Committee of the Y. W. now.

Florence Bress has been active in debating and other forensic activities. She is a member of the Debate Club and Pi Kappa Delta. She was assistant to Elizabeth Roberts, Business Manager of "The Rotunda" this year. She is also a member of Pi Gamma Mu.

Johnnie Lybrook is serving her second term as Business Manager of "The Farmville Quarterly Review". She is active in her class and is also on "The Rotunda" staff. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma.

S. T. C. Choir Appears In Portsmouth

The Farmville State Teachers College Choir, A Cappella and Junior A Cappella, appeared in the Monumental M. E. church, Portsmouth Sunday evening, before a congregation of over 900. Every seat in the large church was occupied with many people standing. Although lacking several of the outstanding singers, due to sickness, the concert was considered one of the finest ever given in the local church.

Publications heads (l. to r.): Miriam Ficklin, The Virginian; LeNoir Hubbard, The Rotunda, and Ann Dugger, The Farmville Quarterly Review.

President Receives Large Donation to Student Building

$2,102.27 in all was contributed to Dr. Jarman for the school on Founders' Day by organizations and individuals. Of this amount $1842.27 was given to the Student Building Fund and $260 for loans to students.

After taking in the money contributed Saturday, the Student Building debt is now estimated at $2,607.73. The debt will probably be entirely erased in two more founders days.

Organizations contributing to Student Building were Faculty and Administration, Alumnae and Alumnae Chapters, Farmville Women's Club, Farmville Herald, Dramatic Club, Senior Class, Freshman Class, Sophomore Class, Alpha Sigma Tau, Junior Class, Y. W. C. A., Cotillion Club, Pan-Hellenic, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Athletic Association, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Student Government, Pi Gamma Mu, Rotunda, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Kappa Sigma, Chi, College Choir, Freshman Commission, Pi Kappa Delta and Debate Club, Beorc Eh Thorn, Alpha Phi Sigma, Association of Childhood Education, Gamma Psi, Granddaughters Club, Virginian, The Problem Club, Phi Zeta Sigma, Choral Club, Home Ec Club, Sigma Phi Rho, Orchestras, Monogram Club, H2O Club and Orchestra.

Loan funds added to the ones already had are $35 to the Tabb Memorial Fund, Alpha Sigma Alpha $100, Junior Woman's Club $25 and Mu Omega $100, totaling $260.

At the business meeting of the alumnae on Saturday, March 5, reports from the several memorial funds were given.

Cunningham Memorial Fund which was established in order to give students aid now has a balance on hand of $5.19, ready to aid some needy student. Students have been loaned $158 this year, and the amount that has been returned to the Fund is $218.

Jennie Masters Tabb Fund which is also a student loan fund has a balance on hand of $79.79. Loans amounting to $832 have been made to students from this fund.

Morrison Memorial Fund, used for Library books, was reported to have a balance on hand of $79.08. Many new books have been added to the Morrison Memorial shelf this year.

Ann Dugger, Kitty Jamison Describe Meeting Ecstatically

By Helen Reiff

"Oh, it was wonderful," exclaimed Ann Dugger as she gave the pillow an ecstatic little plump and started talking about the Kappa Delta Pi convention at Atlantic City, last week.

She talked most rapidly for fifteen minutes, describing the four day convention, in which she jumped from the speakers, meetings, and mention of outstanding educators which were "so interesting" to the recreation and social life which included hearing a Metropolitan opera star, a reception at the Ritz-Carlton, Club Nemo, a "hamburger place with a nickelodian," and sight-seeing tours with a gentleman from Kentucky.

"One of the nicest things about the whole convention," Ann explained, "was the fact that there were delegates (200, to be exact) from so many states including California, Maine, Montana, Idaho, and Arizona. You learn so much about other colleges from talking to people. I mean about their rules and regulations, extra-curricular activities, etc. I learned just as much that way as I did at the meetings."

Ann thought that they were all so easy to entertain, since, "every time we opened our mouths, they'd sit up and look at us, so we listened to them, and they listened to us."

Her opinion of Atlantic City was revealed in vivid snatches of, "As soon as you opened your eyes, you'd see the ocean—it was just as windy as out west they said—and I lost my hat about six times. We wanted to go in swimming, but didn't have the nerve, and we all walked up the boardwalk singing college songs."

Mrs. Blanton and Mr. Atkinson Are Recovering of Illness

Mrs. Emma Blanton, member of the Home Office staff, has been absent for the past two weeks recovering from a fall. Mrs. Emma Paulett has been on night duty in her place.

Mr. W. T. Atkinson (Cousin Tommy), formerly night watchman and at present day watchman, was at Baltimore last week where he underwent a facial operation. Mr. Atkinson is back on duty at present.

Annette Roberts is substituting in the Home Office for Mrs. Laing who recently went to New York to meet her daughter.

Her eyes grown as wide and sparkling as possible, by this time, Ann took a deep breath, and concluded with, "Well, I guess I've told you everything, but, oh, it was all so grand."

When Kitty Jamison started telling about the I. R. C. Convention at Nashville, she vied with Ann for honors when it came to enthusiasm.

"We had the biggest time. It was like a set of college dances, and it was all certainly a true example of Southern hospitality," was Kitty's reaction to the social part of the convention. As for the educational side, she stated that the work was done in group meetings, and therefore, the resultant interchange of opinions was extremely informative.

Kitty enjoyed the fact that they ate in the Vanderbilt cafeteria, since, "It was there that we met some precious girls, and equally nice boys, Romeos from Georgia and Juliettes from Alabama." These same Romeos—and each of our girls seem to have found one (if we can take Kitty's word for it) "showed us", to quote Kitty, "all the sights, and took us to the high-spots." At one of the dances, the orchestra played songs of the states represented, which made quite a contribution to the collegiate atmosphere.

"Politics entered the convention," Kitty continued, "when Florida and Virginia began to quarrel as to which should have the convention next year. There was a lot of state pride involved in this, but we still contend that Virginia is the best state in the Union, even if the "big shot" of the convention did get up and say

Movie Cameraman Takes Pictures of Campus Founders Day

A photographer with his assistant was here all day Saturday taking pictures of the campus, students, faculty and alumnae for a movie to be shown at the Eaco soon.

Among the scenes taken was the Mardi Gras scene reproduced on the program in the auditorium Saturday morning by the sophomore class. Scenes were also taken in Shannon's and all around town and campus.

The date of the showing of the film will be announced at a future date.

Program Reveals All Phases of Life In Farmville S. T. C.

A cross section of life at Farmville was the theme of the program presented by the students in the auditorium Saturday morning, March 5.

Miss Mary Nichols, alumnae president, welcomed the alumnae back. Representatives of alumnae chapters greeted Dr. Jarman and the student body, and presented him with their gifts for the student building fund.

The senior skit presented scholastic life, with Dr. Wynne's classroom an example of one that is typical. The juniors showed the extra curricular activities. Their scene was laid in the Rotunda, and as girls passed to and fro the audience saw and heard of the many activities the girls engage in outside of the classrooms. The sophomores and the Mardi Gras court used Mardi Gras as a phase of social life, and showed in their skit the crowning of the queen and the entertainment that will follow it. Dormitory life was the subject of the freshman skit. They showed the life of the students, as they live it day by day in their rooms.

After the skits, Elizabeth Morris presented the gifts from the student body in the form of a book, the chapters of which were written by different organizations, each student contributing something.

Dr. Jarman received the gift, and thanked the student body, and the program closed as everyone sang the Alma Mater.

College Orchestra played before the program and between scenes.

Jamison, Sears and Bailey Attend Relations Club

Kathryn Jamison, Ruth Sears, and Martha Bailey attended the International Relations Club conference at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tennessee, on March 4 and 5.

The conference was divided into five large discussion groups, instead of meeting in one body as has been the practice in the past. The groups discussed (1) "Far Eastern Question"; (2) "Problems in Germany—Hitlerism"; (3) "The Have-Not Nations"; (4) "Isolation, Neutrality or Cooperation as a National Policy"; (5) "Problems of the Western Hemisphere".

Farmville's three delegates from Pi Gamma Mu, the national honor society for social sciences, attended the meetings of group three. The first of these discussions was held Friday afternoon. After dinner on Friday night, Dr. Fenwick of Brenan College in Georgia spoke on the subject "The Have-Not Nations."

Saturday morning there was the second group meeting, followed by a business meeting. At this time there was a discussion on the service and type of materials to be used in the college groups next year. The Carnegie endowment was brought up before the group as a possible source. Miss Amy Jones, president of the Carnegie Endowment Fund, spoke at this meeting.

Following the third group discussion after lunch, the entire conference met and the secretaries of the several groups told of the conclusion reached by their respective bodies. Kitty Jamison, of Farmville, was secretary of group three.

After a heated argument at the business meeting, a vote was taken to determine where the conference would convene next year. The College of William and Mary won over Tallahassee, Florida.

Dr. Price spoke on "The Far Eastern Question" Saturday night after the formal banquet. The conference ended with a dance.

Three Hundred Alumnae Return For Founders Day At Alma Mater

Mrs. M. G. Guthrie Is Oldest Member Of Reunion Class

Three hundred alumnae returned to their Alma Mater Friday and Saturday for the annual Founders' Day program. It was reunion day for the classes of 1888, 1898, 1908, 1918 and 1928.

Mrs. M. G. Bland, formerly Matilda Guthrie, was the oldest member of the reunion class' alumnae present at the Founders' Day program on March fifth. Mrs. Bland completed her course from Farmville Female Institution in 1898; however, this was the first program she has attended since that date. She was accompanied by her daughter Mrs. John Weis and two grandchildren Mary Salome and Daniel Weis. Mrs. Bland's daughter, Beatrice, is a junior of Farmville State Teachers College this year.

Mrs. Bland mentioned that so many changes had taken place since she was a student here that it was hard for her to recognize the place, but it was a happy pleasure to be in the school again.

The earliest class represented was that of 1892 with Mrs. Louise Hamlett.

Among the other reunion class alumnae present were Mrs. Mattie Bowles Black, Mrs. Eleanor Jamison Folk, Jr., Mrs. Nora Garrat Lancaster, and Mrs. Georgiana Newby Page.

From the class of 1918 were Mrs. Marian Beale Darden, Mrs. Jessie Brett Kennedy and Mrs. Katherine Anderson Maddox.

1928 had the largest reunion class representations. The following 1928 class members returned: Miss Annie Beulah Carter, Miss Bertha Chappell, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Miss Elizabeth Hutt, Miss Aileen McClenny, Miss Phyllis Burnett Martin, Miss Marnetta Sander, Miss Eliza Story, Mrs. Nellie Conner Tolley, Miss Evelyn West, Mrs. Mary Clements Winston, Miss Audrey White and Miss Pauline White.

Among the alumnae who returned were: Mrs. Louise Hyde Ale, Miss Hattie Ashe, Miss Lillian Beach, Mrs. Fannie Owen Bradshaw, Mrs. Matilda Guthrie Black, Mrs. Mattie Bowles Black, Mrs. Ruby Overton Brooks, Miss Jean-allan Bowles, Miss Louise Brewer, Mrs. Molly Moore Bondurant, Miss Kathryn Bully.

Miss Vivian Clarke, Mrs. Anne Wilkinson Cox, Miss Annie Carter, Mrs. Hazel Thompson Clark, Miss Carmen Clark, Miss Louise Chandler, Mrs. Sarah Beck Crinkley, Miss Bertha Chappell, Mrs. Lillian Obenshain Cocks, Miss Carolyn Cogbill, Mrs. Lillie Canody Denning, Mrs. Marion Beale Darden, Mrs. Lucy Moore Drewry, Mrs. Lucy Moseley Davidson.

Miss Alice Elder, Miss Elsie Freeman, Mrs. Eleanor Jamison Folk, Jr., Mrs. Carey Jeter Gist, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Miss Fay Fuller, Miss Martha Gunter, Mrs. Mary Wiatt Gray, Miss Amanda (Chubby) Gray, Miss Anne Ganaway, Mrs. Grace Elcan Garnett, Miss Katherine Hoyle, Miss Winnie V. Hiner, Miss Mary Clay Hiner.

Miss Dorothy Hudson, Miss Edith Hines, Miss Frances Horton, Miss Martha Harrison, Mrs. Josephine Hughes House, Miss Kathleen Hundley, Mrs. Louise Twelvetees Hamlett, Mrs. Hilda Baldwin Hix, Miss Bessie Hix, Miss Elizabeth Hutt, Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Lila Jacob, Miss Lucy Jeffries, Miss Judith Jeffries, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers.

Let Us Never For a Moment Forget Farmville

Founders Day brought many former students to this campus, and we were glad. Their presence here made us who are still here proud because they are yet treasuring the traditions that are the very breath we breathe while here. If it were not so, they would not have returned to us.

This is a place of old loves, loves that have been passed on from one class to another through the years. We have to live up to traditions founded by old girls when they themselves keep in touch with us so carefully. We felt lumps in our throats when we saw the enthusiasm of all the returning girls.

We, who are Seniors, feel particularly close to the alumnae, among whose ranks we will soon be. We know the feelings of the girls who are still here, and, we feel deeply a new feeling that we will remain a part of the place even after we have graduated from here. We understand how you feel. We comprehend the love you feel for Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, former teachers, former haunts and all the things that endear Farmville, our Alma Mater, to the hearts of girls who choose her as a college.

Let us go on loving and returning. Let us never forget days of work and play in Farmville. Let us carry on the torch, send our friends and relatives back to our school home to keep that torch ever brightly lighted.

SENIOR PERSONALITY

VIRGINIA L. AGEE

"All the world's a stage—" and we can usually find Ginny taking her share of the limelight on the stage of which she is a part. Vivacious, light-hearted and gay, with always a friendly greeting for everyone Agee, has shown her diverse talent and capability in many fields. Dramatics have been her main interest here and we have all known and loved her on the stage as she portrayed, first, Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew" and then "Mary of Scotland" this year.

Having a love for music and a good voice, she has been able to direct our class in two successive prize-winning circus stunts, and in choruses for sings and productions. She has followed her interest along this line by being a member of the College Choir, the a cappella choir and the college quartet. She has written for the Rotunda staff the four years she has been in school, being a columnist for the paper this year.

Her leadership has been recognized by Alpha Kappa Gamma, and her class spirit by her office as vice-president her junior and senior years. She has been elected to May Court two years, is a member of Cotillion Club and Mu Omega sorority.

TO OUR ALUMNAE:

We look forward to Founders Day or Home Coming Day with a great deal of pleasure, for it means the coming home of Alma Mater's daughters. We are proud of you and take delight in claiming you as our own and have done what we could to build an Institution worthy in every way of you. We appreciate your loyalty which you show in many ways. You send your daughters to us—we have had a Granddaughters Club for many years. You are active in sending your friends. Through your alumnae chapters and as individuals you have helped to build our beautiful Student Building. You have established local funds and helped with other loan funds. In fact you have always stood ready to cooperate with your Alma Mater in her various undertakings. We appreciate this whole-hearted loyalty and cooperation and send greetings and our best wishes and assurances of a cordial welcome whenever you can find the time to come to see us.

Affectionately your friend,
J. L. JARMAN, President

Poem Read at Funeral of Miss Estelle Smithey

You are not dead—Life has but set you free!
Your years of life were like a lovely song.
The last sweet poignant notes of which, held long
Passed into silence while we listened, we
Who loved you, listened still expectantly!
And we about you whom you moved among
Would feel that grief for you were surely wrong—
You have put passed beyond where we can see.

For us who knew you, dread of age is past!
It never lost for you its lovely look;
You kept your interest in its thrilling book;
To you, Death came, no conqueror, in the end—
You merely smiled to greet another friend!

Edith Estep Gray Of Class of 1920 Wins Prize

Edith Estep Gray, an outstanding graduate of the class of 1920, has gained merit for herself and this school by her ability to write beautiful poetry. For her poem, "The Lesson," she was awarded the 1938 poetry prize offered by the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Lesson
April is a lady
Possessed of every mood
From tears to sudden laughter
By every season wooed.
Now a hint of summer:
The sun and breeze are soft;
We open up our windows;
Our spirits soar aloft.

Then in just a twinkling
The breeze is cold and chill.
We hate to close our windows;
'Tis Autumn on the hill.
April is a lady;
Her moods will soon depart;
We know she's just coquetting
That summer has her heart.

May's a sweet young matron,
All tenderness and bloom.
Her hands are filled with flowers;
She banishes all gloom.
Through her we feel life's essence:
It is of her a part.
She is both wife and mother,
And summer's own sweetheart.

June's a fair young maiden.
Her mother is sweet May;
Summer is her father;
They guide her joyous way.
Thus we have a cycle;
'Tis nature at her best.
Oh, let us heed the lesson.
We shall be truly blest.

Jeanne d'Arc—Maid of France

The name of Joan of Arc has come down to us through the ages, and her name has always meant glory and pride and victory. It isn't until one goes deep into the life of this wonderful girl that one understands that mixed with the triumph and beauty of her life-span were hardships, discouragements, and the bitterness born of ingratitude and cowardice.

To try to embody the entire life of our patron saint in this one small column would be attempted murder. It can't be done, for her life, in spite of its shortness, was so rich, so glorious, so full of mysteries and faith that it is an impossibility for anyone, no matter how large the volume. Everyone knows that she was born of peasant parents early in the thirteenth century, and that her early life was spent in the simple, country atmosphere of France. Everyone knows equally well how she saved her beloved France from English tyranny, now she crowned her king, how she was captured and tortured by her captors, and how her native France deserted her when she needed aid. These are facts everyone knows.

There are several things — individual things—that are not always known, however. Joan of Arc was a splendid woman; she was not beautiful; she was striking looking; she possessed a wonderful bearing that was emphasized by the suit of white armor that she always wore. She held unquestionable political and military genius, and for this reason she was loved and respected by the soldiers in her armies and held in wonder by the learned men of France. Her human qualities make her so lovable; when she was first wounded on the battlefield, she wept as any woman would have done instead of gritting her teeth and bearing the pain as men would have done. When her orders and commands were disobeyed, she, like any woman, flew into fits of angry passion which usually ended in stormy tears.

Her devoutness has never been questioned. Today there are people who call her a religious fanatic; their judgment is harsh. She was a staunch Catholic and not once was her faith daunted. Her firm belief was that through the voices of God's saints her amazing mission was unfolded—and through the entirety of her life, she lived by God's commands and His guidance.

This holy faith clung to her until her death, through the tortures of the dungeon, through the strain of confinement and horrible illness, and it was this faith that mystified her captors and made them wonder.

Joan of Arc died by fire—she was dressed in a plain white gown and around her neck was a rough wooden cross, fashioned at her request by a pitying English soldier. On her lips were the words, "Jesus, Jesus"; on her head was a great fool's cap on which was written:

* * * *

"Heretic, Relapsed, Apostate, Idolater."

* * * *

They followed her to victory; they praised her name; they left her in the hands of the English and saw her burned at the stake; they made her a saint and her name is hallowed.

For these reasons and many others, Joan of Arc has become a heroine—a leader of women—a model. Because there is probably none in history with the exception of Jesus Christ whose life story offers so complete a picture of the heights and depths of human sacrifice and staunch character as Jeanne d'Arc, Maid of France.

Carter Belle Munt, of Petersburg, who will represent this college at the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester.

Carter Belle Munt Is Selected Blossom Princess

Carter Belle Munt of Petersburg has been chosen by Dr. Jarman to represent Farmville as a princess in the court of Queen Shenandoah of the Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester in April. Carter Belle is secretary of the Senior class, a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, president of Beorc Eh Thorn and leader of the Cotillion Club. She has been active in the Y. W. C. A. and is secretary of that organization this year. For two years Carter Belle was a member of Mardi Gras court and last year she was in May Court.

During her stay in Winchester, Carter Belle will be entertained widely. She and princesses from other colleges will be present when the queen, whose identity is yet unknown, will be crowned. The princesses will ride on floats in the parade.

Nelson, Debaters Win Honors In Tournament

Caralie Nelson, a freshman from South Boston, Virginia, won first place in impromptu and second place in extemporaneous speeches and the Farmville debate teams won one round at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held at High Point, North Carolina on March 3, 4, and 5. The following girls represented Farmville at the tournament:

Marie Allen, Frances Hollaway, Caralie Nelson, Mary Rice and Marguerite Snell.

Each team participated in five rounds of debate. The affirmative team won over Fredericksburg S. T. C. while the Farmville negative team won over the team from Appalachia. The question for discussion was: "Resolved that the National Labor Relations Board be empowered to settle all industrial disputes." Frances Hollaway and Mary Rice upheld the affirmative and Marie Allen and Marguerite Snell upheld the negative for Farmville. These girls met the following girl colleges: Winthrop, Appalachian, Lenoir Rhyne, Fredericksburg and Maryville.

Other colleges represented were: Carson-Newman, Emory and Henry, University of Florida, Mississippi State, N. C. State, Elon, Wake Forest, and Gilford.

Mrs. S. M. Holton took the Farmville representatives to High Point and served as their coach. On Thursday she took them to Winston-Salem where they enjoyed all points of interest.

Granddaughters Club Gives Tea For Alumnae

The Granddaughters Club on Friday night, March 4, at nine o'clock gave a tea for the alumnae who returned to S. T. C. for Founders' Day.

The tea was given after the basketball game between Harrisonburg and Farmville Colleges. Members of the club served the refreshments and several members performed in a program for amusement during the tea.

On the program were a skit by Army and Betty Butterworth, and songs by Sarah Keese, Mary Elizabeth Pettierew and Sidney Yonce.

Each year a contribution of money is given for the Jennie Masters Tabb Memorial Fund by the Granddaughters' Club. This year five dollars was given.

This club was organized to keep the alumnae in touch with the work of the school, and the daughters of alumnae of S. T. C. automatically become members.

Formal Dinner Is Held in Dining Room Saturday Night

A formal banquet was held in the dining room Saturday evening, at 6 o'clock for the students and alumnae. Mrs. Shelton, Mrs. Turnbull and student waitresses were in charge of the elaborate dinner.

The alumnae were seated at tables near the door. All the guests were dressed formally, and pink tulips decorated each table.

Five Faculty Members Attend Education Meet

Atlantic City Is Convention Place

Five members of the faculty attended the National Educational Convention, which was held from February 28 to March 2 in Atlantic City. Among those who attended were Dr. Wynne, Misses Camper, Cogbill, Jennings, and Hiner.

While there they attended various educational meetings and lectures, each attending those in which she or he was interested.

Miss Hiner was especially interested in the topics of the National Conference on Research in English and Reading, and English in the Elementary Schools.

All seemed to be impressed by John Dewey's address and especially his statement that a book was like an accordion spread out and talk was like an accordion pulled together but all the music was there.

Miss Jennings enjoyed the various points of view of the different philosophers of education. She was also impressed by Helen Keller's vocabulary and how she could tell what a person was saying in spite of the fact that she was deaf, by placing her fingers, one on the side of the person's nose and the other on his lower lip. Helen Keller said that she liked philosophy because it gave her a sense of freedom from all limitation. She was presented life membership to the National Educational Association and said when presented with her key, "I am too bewildered with emotion and appreciation to find my words. This chain around my neck I shall cherish but the key in my hand I take as a symbol not of my power but of my teacher, Ann Sullivan. It shall be to me a challenge to live life more abundantly. I thank you."

Miss Jennings in humor said, "The wind was certainly the keenest thing I met and perhaps the most surprising was when I heard a school teacher bid $1100 for a diamond ring at the auction sale."

Miss Cogbill attended the John Dewey Society Sunday night, and heard the discussion of Educational Freedom and Democracy. Monday morning she attended the Kappa Delta Pi meeting. At 1:30 P. M. on the same day she saw a remarkable motion picture entitled "The River", which was shown in the ball room of the hotel auditorium. The film was prepared by the U. S. government. It dramatized the loss of natural resources in the great Mississippi Valley, the disaster of timber stripping, soil erosion and overcultivation of corn and cotton.

On Tuesday morning Miss Cogbill attended the Virginia breakfast at the Claridge Hotel with the delegates and visitors from Virginia, after which she heard a discussion on the Elementary School—the organization of the kind of school needed.

To Miss Cogbill the vesper service, address by William Lyon Phelps, and the Westminster Choir Harp Quintette were outstanding features on the program.

Froebel's Pictures Are On Exhibit On Rec Walls

Fifteen paintings known as "Froebel's Pictures" were exhibited in the "rec" by the Association of Childhood Education during March 3-6. These pictures depicted the development of the kindergarten and its methods as set forth by its founder, Diredrich Froebel, the great German educator.

The pictures may be divided into three groups: the inspiration and development of Froebel's idea; the founding of the first kindergarten and the first few steps of development; the discoveries of science and its use in the modern kindergarten.

The first group of pictures shows Froebel getting his inspiration when he remembered his own neglected childhood. He thought about this and observed nature to see how she developed her children slowly and with great care. Why could not parents care for their children in this way, guiding them to higher education? This whole group is done in rather dark colors, symbolic of the ignorance of parents in training the pre-school child.

The second group pictures show the founding of the first kindergarten in 1837. The pictures are in lighter colors, somehow suggesting that knowledge was conquering ignorance in the education and training of small children.

Beginning with the nineteenth century science was taking its place in the development of educational methods. All of the findings were eagerly used by educators in the modern nursery school. The last picture in this group stands for all that educators are trying to do. It shows a man holding a child to the sun which stands for knowledge and under it is the inscription, "He Who Elevates the Child Elevates the Race." This was done for the most part in tints of the lighter colors, symbolic of the knowledge that we have of educating children.

Those of us who saw these pictures were fortunate in being able to learn more about the profession into which we are going. May we have more such exhibits to inspire us to be really great teachers.

Freshmen Go "Swing" for First Class Production

Characters Are Humorous Ones

"Swing" is the key note of the Freshman Production, which will be given on the night of March 10th. The plot is full of zest and fast moving action. Since the class has talented musicians, music will be emphasized.

"Sausages and Sweepstakes" is the title for the production, and will carry the theme of the three pigs a la modern. The three pigs, who are the heroines in the story are Marion Heard, Frances Steger, and Jean Scott. Opposite them as the heroes in the roles of the city silken wolves are Jamie Lee Peake, Betty Fahr, and Mary Sue Edmundson. Teresa Brinkley, Caralie Nelson, Dorothy Menefee, Nancy Pierpont, Nancy Hopkins, Mary Elizabeth Pettierew, Norma Pamplin, Porter Shepard, Ruth Carney and many others will give modern interpretations of such characters as "Boy Blue", "Red Riding Hood", "the Old Woman in the Shoe" and "the Mad Hatter".

The entire Freshman Class has entered into some phase of the production and nearly every girl is assisting in some group—Staging, Business, Music, Publicity, Properties, or Acting. Emily Hoskins is the director, the authors of the production are Marion Heard, Esther Atkinson, Liggie Ellett, Jean Scott, Marion Worsham, and Martha Whelchel.

A special feature on the program for the night will be the guest artist, Mr. French. Mr. French, who is classman of the Freshman Class, has consented to play the piano between acts.

For the past two weeks rehearsals have been held daily and much of the hidden talent has been discovered. Although the production has been put off several times the Freshmen have not been in the least discouraged, and the production will be up to the usual standard of excellency.

Alumnae Thrilled as Team Trounces Harrisonburg 24-18

Team Closes Third Undefeated Year on Court

Blackstone Game Is Real Fight

Ending a third year as an undefeated team, the basketball varsity of this school closed its season by defeating Harrisonburg 24-18 Saturday night on home territory.

The hardest fought game of the season and the closest was the one played with Blackstone there. It was not until the last few minutes of the game that Farmville scored the determining goal to a narrow victory of 19-18.

The Farmville cagers were coached by Miss Olive T. Iler. Coach Iler is considered in the top rank among coaches throughout the state. Her principles for the production of real teams are outstanding. Miss Iler has no stars on her teams. "The girls work together sacrificing self-glory for the good of the whole team," Miss Iler says. The coach believes in regular practices and earnestness in the playing. The team is held under no pledge or training regulations.

The speed of the team, the good pass work, and the teamwork, backed by long hours of practice and the able instructions of the coach enabled the Farmville team to come through with an undefeated slate.

Ellen Gilliam has been captain of the team this year.

Farmville's 24-18 victory over Harrisonburg S. T. C. Friday night brought to a close her third successive undefeated basketball season.

The season was opened on the home court when Farmville met Roanoke National Business College. It was a fast game—Farmville took the lead in the early part of the night and held it throughout the game. The final score was 19-16.

Then came the big Northern trip! Again the display of splendid teamwork and Farmville emerged victorious over Notre Dame Woman's College of Baltimore and Panzer School of Physical Education in East Orange, New Jersey. The scores being, respectively, 34-11, and 24-13. The trip north was the first out-of-state trip to be taken by the team. It is hoped that the team will be able to take a similar trip next year.

The able passwork and spirited play of the Farmville team overcame the disadvantage of playing a two-court game and brought the team out with the greatest margin of a victory during the entire season when the team trounced William and Mary on the home court for a victory of 29-17.

Girls Are in Excellent Shape

First Quarter Ends In Score of 4 to 4

With approximately twelve hundred alumnae student body and friends cheering madly, Farmville's varsity basketball team began its Founders Day celebration and ended its basketball season in a 24-18 victory over Harrisonburg State Teachers College here on Friday, March 4. The game, marked by expert teamwork for the evenly-matched competitors, proved to be the most spectacular and hardest game for the undefeated blue and whites of Farmville.

Farmville scored up two fouls and one goal in the first quarter to the two goals of her opponent to tie the score at 4-4. She roused to greater action in the second quarter, however, when Jarman pulled two goals within a moment and after a rest from time out, when Carroll captured two more baskets. Harrisonburg gained but one additional point. At the conclusion of the quarter Carroll failed in her free shot but Jarman recovered the ball for the basket and two more points. The half placed the score at a 16-5 margin for the home team.

The second half was marked by rapid passwork, the ball travelling from one goal line to the other. In spite of its hard work during the third quarter, Farmville gained but one goal to Harrisonburg's three; the score rising to 18-11. The fourth quarter was a desperate attempt for victory on both sides, both teams gaining and bring the score to a final 24-18 triumph for Farmville.

Athletic Banquet Is Held in Tea Room

Annual athletic banquet will be a formal affair in the tea room tonight at 6:00 P. M.

Varsity basketball squad, the varsity hockey squad and the Athletic Council will be guests of honor at this banquet.

Other invited guests include Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, Miss Barlow, Mr. Holton, Mr. French, Mr. Coyner, Mr. McCorkle, Miss Moran and Mrs. Warren.

Joiner Exhibit Portrays Exciting Movements of the Dance In All Forms of Art

Slightly whimsical yet full of exciting movement, the Betty Joiner pictures exhibited in the little sitting room last week indicate a definite new trend in modern art. Sketches, block prints, water colors, and cloth appliques make up the group of colorful pictures of which the dance is the predominating subject. It was because of this combination of dancing and art that Orchesis joined Gamma Psi in sponsoring the exhibit at a time when the returning alumnae could enjoy it.

Though primarily an artist, Miss Joiner is a versatile person, and has magazine articles and a book to her credit. She has spent several summers studying at Bennington School of the Dance where she gleaned ideas for her pictures from the classes of famous teachers there. Two pictures in the exhibit showed this. One was "Parade", a very expressive study of

Freshmen End Season of Unusual Success

With a victorious record for every game this season, Farmville freshman basketball team has a record like unto that of its varsity team.

Freshman class is the only class with an actively organized team which competes with other schools. This season they have met and defeated four Virginia high schools. In view of their ability seven of the nine Freshmen who comprise the team were selected for varsity within a few weeks after they organized.

All of the six games played have been "walk-away" victories for the class of '41. In their first game on January 20, they defeated Rice High School 36-2, thereafter winning by a large majority over two meets with Farmville High School, a return game with Rice, one each with high schools of Amelia and Hampton.

In class games the Freshmen became school champions when they trounced first the Sophomores by a score of 34-8 and in the final round were triumphant over Seniors by 24-10.

Hilda Hubbard is captain of the team, Mary Sue Edmonson and Elizabeth Hillsman are at forward positions; centers are Rosa Courter and Virginia Crute; Mary Grainger and Louise Ewell, Juanita Smith and Alsita Altomere play guard.

Varsity Squad Is Reviewed After Thrilling Victories

Speaking of school spirit—a basketball game really succeeds in bringing it out. After the Harrisonburg game the excited spectator, 'tis said, was even more exhausted than the players.

Seven girls are for the most part Farmville's undefeated basketball record. They have given their time and ability to the Varsity Team and have brought praise and victory for their college.

Ellen Gilliam, having played on Varsity for four years, has proved to be an able captain of the team. She guards with tenacity of purpose and a level head.

Virginia Whitehead Smith, the star guard, is a junior and has played on the team for three years. With this combination, Farmville has a stone wall of defense.

Ellen Conyers and Sue Eastham are a pair of fast, competent centers who keep the ball traveling toward the goal. Sue has been playing varsity basketball for four years and Ellen for three.

Virginia Carroll, Chlotilde Jar-

man and Ruth Emma Chambers at forward position run up those pretty little numbers called points. Their accurate shooting runs scores far ahead of the opposing teams. Jennie's freakish (backed by good aim) shots are the wonder of the spectators. Jennie has been a member of varsity for three years and Ruth Emma and Chlotilde for two years.

With a perfect record for three years our Varsity team ends another successful season. Three cheers for "Varsity" and their coach, Miss Iler!

Several of the Freshmen girls play also on Varsity. The entire Varsity Squad includes twenty girls, namely Ruby Adams, Elizabeth Berryman, Jennie Carroll, Ruth Emma Chambers, Ellen Conyers, Rosa Courter, Virginia Crute, Sue Eastham, Ellen Gilliam, Jennie Belle Gilliam, Lavalette Glenn, Mary Grainger, Elizabeth Hillsman, Hilda Hubbard, Chlotilde Jarman, Jean McConnaughey, Ruth Phelps, Juanita Smith, Virginia Whitehead Smith.

Miss Nichols Begins Second Official Term

Miss Susie Floyd Is Vice Head

Miss Mary Nichols began her second term as president of the alumnae association, Saturday, March 5, 1938, and Miss Susie Floyd was made second most important officer. Last year Miss Nichols was elected for a term of two years.

After the roll call and reports of chapters, a financial statement of each memorial fund was made by the various chairmen.

Miss Florence Stubbs reported upon the work being done through the association in securing Farmville plates.

Officers of the association are president, Miss Mary Nichols; first vice-president, Miss Susie Floyd; second vice-president, Miss Sammy Scott; directors, Miss Mabel Spratley, Mrs. Olive Smith Bowman, secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner.

The new nominating committee is composed of Miss Olive Iler, Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers, and Mrs. Eva H. Warren.

Mr. J. M. Grainger honorary member of the association closed the meeting with a tribute to Miss Estelle Smithey.

Committee Works To Bring Symphony Here

A committee representing several communities in Southside Virginia has recently been formed to aid in bringing the Virginia Symphony Orchestra to Farmville for two concerts in the State Teachers College Auditorium on Friday, April 1, 1938. Mr. T. J. McIlwaine is chairman of the committee and Mr. J. M. Grainger, secretary.

This orchestra consists of sixty well trained musicians, and it plays a large repertoire of symphony music. The concerts at Farmville will enable the people of this vicinity to enjoy the product of the Federal Music Project, by which the Orchestra is financed, at only a nominal charge. It is hoped also that a Southside Philharmonic Society may be formed which will aid in making the Virginia Symphony Orchestra a permanent feature of the cultural life of the State.

The idea was initiated by Mr. John Powell, the great Virginia pianist and composer, and the movement is carried into all parts of Virginia by Mr. Wilfred Pyle, of Richmond, who is the State Director of the Federal Music Project. At present there are representatives of the Committee from Farmville, Hampden - Sydney, Keyesville, Arvon, Appomattox, and Charlotte; and others will be added.

Since the purpose is educational as well as artistic, one of the concerts here will be for children and will be given in school hours, at 11 o'clock. The children will be transported to and from the concert in school busses. The musicians will show them the various instruments of the orchestra and the special contribution of each to the music.

Farmville Chapter Entertains for All Old Girls

Farmville Alumnae Chapter was hostess at a tea for the alumnae who returned for Founder's Day celebration. This afternoon social event was held in the recreation hall from four-thirty to six o'clock.

Senior members of the home economics department did the serving as well as most of the planning for the tea. They were assisted in the preparation of the food by underclassmen.

Violets and jonquils placed on the plates gave a very spring-like touch to the setting. Jonquils and other kinds of bright flowers were used in the general decorations.

Mr. Grainger Pays Tribute to Miss Estelle Smithey

Praising Miss Estelle Smithey for her excellent ability as a veteran teacher of language and as a warm, friendly Christian, Mr. Grainger established her memory among alumnae at the business meeting Saturday morning by reading his tribute to her.

Because she traveled in foreign lands, because she kept her subject vividly alive she was able to bring a rare gift of culture and knowledge to the countless girls she taught. Mr. Grainger declared that she was the perfect product of a family well known in educational centers. He spoke of her as a teacher using the "direct method" of presenting subject matter.

Mr. Grainger ended his paper by saying "Miss Smithey is not dead because she lives on by the sweetness and light of her soul that she impressed on girls she taught. Always gentle and kindly, ready with clever pleasantries, unassuming, self-effacing, she brought her ends to pass by her own faith in the good in people—by her quiet devotion to goodness, truth and spiritual beauty."

Longwood Luncheon Is Given For School Guests

The Alumnae luncheon was served at Longwood on Founders' Day, March 5. Many of the former S. T. C. girls attended this mid-day feature in the home-coming program.

The house at Longwood was brightened by decorations of spring flowers, including red bud, pussy willows and jonquils. Guests were served as they sat in informal groups in the parlor, the music room, and the sun porch.

Students from the college assisted in the serving. The menu consisted of a gelatine mold with fruit and almonds, sliced ham, plain potato with cream sauce, hot rolls, and coffee. On each dessert plate there was a jonquill adding to the colorful scheme made by ice cream covered with fresh strawberries, angel cake, yellow and white mints, and salted nuts.

Brilliant Masquerade Dance Honors Susan Lane as Queen

Under a canopy of bright colored paper and balloons Susan Lane was crowned Queen of a fancy dress ball last night for the second successive time. Ed Whitehead of Washington and Lee University placed the crown amid a clamor of shouts and applause.

The court was composed of Jennie Belle Gilliam with Gratten Lindsey from Hampden-Sydney; Frances Bryan with Kelly Davis from Hampden-Sydney; Elizabeth Butler with Joe Lawson from Hampden-Sydney; Nan Seward with Claude Whitley from Richmond; Gay Stieffen with Clinton Hadder from Newport News; Charlotte Minton with Robert Simpson from William and Mary; Kitty Roberts with Charles Nottingham from Hampden-Sydney; and Elsie Dodd with Wesley Warren from Richmond.

Perry Smith and Katherine Reed heralded the queen's approach and Jean Scott was crown bearer.

For the benefit of the queen Sara Keese sang "Thanks for the Memory", and Margaret Britton and Army Butterworth danced in their own inimitable way, winning the applause of the evening.

First prize for the prettiest costume went to Louise Morgan, who was dressed in a gay nineties costume as was Martha Anne Saunders, the winner of second prize. Brownie Johnson won first prize for the most original in a dress made of college penants. Ada Sanford representing any week's Rotunda was awarded second prize. Scotch Highlanders Johnnie Lybrook and Bob Buyers took honors for the most attractive couple on the floor.

Roland Leveque and his orchestra furnished the music and dedicated their last song, "Good-night Sweetheart" to S. T. C. and Pi Gamma Mu, the sponsor of the dance.

Zimmer Harp Trio Climaxes Day's Program

To climax the events of Founders Day the Zimmer Harp Trio presented a program in the auditorium on March 4.

Miss Nellie Zimmer was solo harpist and Misses Louise Harris and Gladys Crockford made up the rest of the trio. Mr. Philip Dundon, baritone rendered several selections with harp accompaniment.

In the first part of the program the trio played Largo, Bourree, Impromptu Caprice, after which Miss Harris and Miss Crockford played Moorings, The Gartner Mothers Lullaby, A Traditional Pyrenean Song, Little Barteesse, and Mr. Dundon sang.

Miss Zimmer's solos were comprised of: Garden in the Rain, Music Box and March Triomphale and the trio rendered Petite Suite. The last two parts included numbers by the trio and Mr. Dundon and one selection, Allegro Moderato, A due mein Holder Abernster and The Lord is my Light, the latter made familiar to the audience through the S. T. C. Choir.

The Zimmer Harp Trio has been acclaimed by New York, Chicago and other metropolitan centers.

Miss Wheeler Picks Characters To Play Parts In "First Lady"

Virginia Agee, Jim Johnston Have Leads

"First Lady", the first spring play to be given jointly by the Dramatic Club and Hampden-Sydney's "Jongleurs" will be presented on Friday, April 30, it is believed.

Miss Wheeler, director, has announced the characters. Virginia Agee will play the part of "First Lady"—Mrs. Lucy Chase Wayne, with Jim Johnston playing her husband, Stephen Wayne, Secretary of State. The others of the cast are:

Sophy Prescott, Mary Mahone; Charles, the butler, William Chewing; Emmy Paige, Martha Welch; Belle Hardwick, Alpha Lee Garnett; Mrs. Ives, Marion Worsham; Ann Forrester, Virginia Howell; A Congressman's Wife, Frances Alvis; The Baroness, Lula Windham; Mrs. Creevy, Elizabeth Carroll.

The Congressman's Wife's Friend, Evelyn Thorington; Mrs. Davenport, Elizabeth Garret; The General, Charles Joyce; Senator Keance, Bob Engle, Tom Hardwick, Marshall Suther; Irene Hibbard, Chlotilde Jarman; Carter Hibbard, Fred Reid; George Mason, James Price; Elsworth T. Ganning, Lawrence Wood; Jason Flemming, Charles Joyce; Ortega, Lawrence Wood.

The play will be given as a Lyceum number, which entitles each school girl to a ticket.

"First Lady" was written by Katherine Dayton and George S. Kaufman and was produced at the Music Box Theatre in New York by Sam H. Harris on November 26, 1935 with Jane Cowl as "First Lady". It has recently been produced in movies with Kay Francis and Anita Louise.

Comments from New York papers prove its worth in the world of dramatics. Walter Winchell says it is "Public Entertainment No. One". Brooks Atkinson of New York "Times" says: "A brilliant comedy" . . . George S. Kaufman, the Moliere of Broadway . . . "First Lady" is one of the best comedies stamped with the Kaufman hallmark . . . gay, mischievous and capably written." Robert Garland of the New York "World Telegram" says of "First Lady": "A Juvenalian satire on governmental Washington . . . stirs up a hornets nest of hilarity . . . A rich and riotous razzberry; 'First Lady' is more goofy than the government, more satiric than a senator, more comic than a Congressman."

Alumnae Daughters Attract Attention

Mary Schofield Watkins' daughter, Virginia, graduated in Landscape Architecture at Penn-State College in 1937.

Alice Johnson Eagles ('24) of Erie, Pennsylvania, whose mother was Emma Mayhew Higgins of the class of 1924, writes that her daughter Anne Mayhew Eagles, born in April 1937, is already enrolled in S. T. C.

Edith Estep Gray's small daughter of Gloucester County was a guest of the college for Founder's Day. She and her sister are pledged to Farmville.

Elections

that the union belonged to Texas." Virginia, however, won out, and next year's convention will be held at William and Mary.

Kitty summed it all up with "From Friday noon to Saturday night in the wee hours after the dance—well, I just had such a wonderful time!"
