Strategic Priorities
.....

Information Literacy

Develop information literacy programs that contribute to academic success and lifelong learning.

Collections

Expand collections, particularly in electronic formats, to meet the needs of students and faculty.

Research Services & the QEP

Support the university's QEP, R.E.A.L. Inquiry, which uses the development of research skills and the practice of research as a vehicle for improving students' critical thinking, information literacy, and communication skills.

Space

Enhance physical and virtual spaces to ensure a range of environments that are conducive to learning, teaching, collaboration, and solitary work.

Technology

Offer the most up-to-date technology hardware and software to meet user needs.

Digital Commons

Promote and make accessible faculty and student research/creative work in the university's digital repository.
