The first system of the musical score consists of a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written in a single treble clef with a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The lyrics are: "told hope, De - cem - ber is fol - lowed by May. And trou - bles will soon pass a - way." The piano accompaniment is written in two staves (treble and bass clefs) and features a steady, rhythmic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

The second system of the musical score continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The lyrics are: "- I try not to mind When fate seems un - This life may seem wrong, The jour - ney too". The piano accompaniment continues with a consistent rhythmic pattern, providing harmonic support for the vocal melody.

The third system of the musical score continues the vocal line and piano accompaniment. The lyrics are: "- kind, I know that to - mor - row is near, long, Don't think you are search - ing in vain;". The piano accompaniment includes a change in chord structure, with a prominent bass line in the lower register.
