Miss Dorothy Dot, in her little red chair,
Put her thimble on with a matronly air,

And said: "From this piece of cloth,
I guess,
I'll make baby brother a lovely dress."

She pulled her needle in and out,
And over and under and round about,

And through and through, till the snowy lawn
Was bunched and crumpled and gathered and drawn.

She sewed and sewed to the end of her thread;
Then holding her work to view she said:

"This is n't a baby-dress, after all;
It's a bonnet for my littlest doll!"
