WALTZ BALLAD

Big city ways and its splendor
Somehow are starting to pall,
And I have a feeling
That often comes stealing,
To just get away from it all.

Let's ride away, let's hide away,
And leave the world behind us;
Let's find a vale 'way off the trail,
Where only God can find us.
Somewhere out there, where we can share
Our love 'neath skies of blue,
I'll build a shrine for me and mine,
Out there in the sunshine with you!

Out of the rush and the rabble,
Out when the day's work is done,
We'll both go a-finding
A pathway that's winding
It's way to a place in the sun.

Some - where out there, where we can share Our love 'neath skies of blue, — I'll build a shrine for me and mine Out there in the sun-shine with you!

DUSK—and the lights of home
Smile through the rain:
A thousand smiles for those that come
Homeward again.

What though the night be drear
With gloom and cold,
So that there be one voice to hear,
One hand to hold?

Here, by the winter fire,
Life is our own,
Here, out of murk and mire,
Here is our throne.

Then let the wild world throng
To pomp and pow'r;
And let us fill with love and song
The lamplit hour.
