Valse Lento

con espress.

The first line of the vocal melody is marked con espress. (con espressione). The lyrics are: "Your let - ter is ly - ing be - fore me, The car - ri - er brought it to - day, And Last night when you kissed me at part - ing, You whispered a hon - eyed good - bye, And". The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment, marked p.

The second line of the vocal melody continues the lyrics: "as you are anxious - ly wait - ing, My answer, I will not de - lay, You said you would love me for - ev - er, You knew that you ut - ter'd a lie, Yes". The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment, marked p.

The third line of the vocal melody continues the lyrics: "say you've grown tired of loves bur - den, You write that you long to be free, And take back your worthless af - fec - tion, You need have no pi - ty for me, Go". The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment, marked p.

The fourth line of the vocal melody concludes the lyrics: "I'm to for - get, that we ev - er met, Then you of - fer your sym - pa - thy. on with your play, but re - mem - ber the pay, When we meet in e - ter - ni - ty.". The piano accompaniment continues with a steady accompaniment, marked p.

CHORUS

How man - y hearts have you bro - ken, _____ How man - y lips have you pressed, _____ How man - y lies have you spok - en, _____

How man - y oth - ers ca - ressed, _____ How man - y lives have you shattered, _____ When you grew tired of the play, _____ Don't an - swer to me, for now you are free, But re - mem - ber there'll come a day. _____
