The

street cars that they used to have, when grand-ma was a girl, Are dif-fer-ent from those we have in this town's bu- sy whirl, Po- lite con-duc-tors on our street cars would be some thing new; Con-duc-tors in the old-en days were too good to be true. When grandma was a girl it is a fact ——— That this is how con-duc-tors used to act. ———

SPOKEN: (Gently) The next stop in Chatham Square, Change cars for City Hall, Be careful, dont soil your skirt on that dirty step; Ah, here's a lovely seat, are you quite comfortable? Will you have a transfer? Have I your permission to start the car? Thank you! Ding Ding.

But what a diff' - rence now - a - days You real - ly can't de - ny, The fact that things have quite a change From days that have gone by. For now - a - days. when - ev - er you de - sire to catch a car, This kind of treat - ment you will get. No mat - ter who you are.

SPOKEN: (Gruffly) The next stop is four hundred and umpty-ump strit! No! no transfers! Hurry up! Step lively! Look out, Do you want to break your fool neck! Ding! Ding!

But things like that could not oc - cur When grand - ma was a girl.
