SOMETHING SEEKS TINGLE-INGLEING

FROM

HIGH JINKS

A MUSICAL FARCE BY
HAUERBACH AND FRIML
SONG PIANO SOLO
60 CENTS EACH

The illustration depicts three women in elaborate, Art Nouveau-style costumes. They are seated on a long, low sofa with a rich, dark fabric featuring a detailed floral or foliate pattern. Each woman has a unique, highly stylized headdress and wears large, decorative earrings. The woman on the left wears a light-colored dress with dark, intricate patterns. The woman in the center wears a light orange or peach-colored dress with a long, dark sash. The woman on the right wears a dark, patterned dress. To the left of the sofa stands a tall, slender lamp with a dark base and a light-colored shade decorated with a floral vine. To the right stands another similar lamp. The background is a textured gray.

Is This Love at Last?

Words by
Otto Hauberbach

From the Musical Farce
"High Jinks" by
Rudolf Friml

Musical score for 'Is This Love at Last?' featuring two staves of music with lyrics. The lyrics are:

Tempo di Valse
 1-2. Some-thing I can't ex-plain, Mystic-al-want or pain Blending of smiles and tears Pitts me with hopes and fears, Breath of a new blown rose, Breath of a fire that glows, Caught from a-bove, Ardent and vast, Ah, is this event.
