Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Stow:

Herewith my sixth annual report of the progress, condition and needs of the schools of the Town of Stow.

Schools opened September 10, 1928 with the following teachers in charge.

Union Hill, Robert J. Snell, Madison, Maine

Village, Josephine J. Leso, Denmark.

For information as to salaries, enrollment etc., you are referred to the appended tabulations.

Miss Leso, graduate of the Western Maine Normal School at Gorham is continuing her good work for us. Although her school is small, yet it is one of the best schools in this school union. The question of discipline does not enter here. No need appears to make it necessary to refer to the matter of behavior among the pupils. The school is fairly well equipped with material for instruction. A new set of maps is needed.

This year Miss Leso is offering instruction in Sewing and Music. She does this of her own accord. No time is taken from the assigned school work for this purpose. The prescribed course of study is being followed and all pupils appear to be making satisfactory progress. Three pupils are taking advantage of studies in the ninth grade which opportunity has been offered for the last three years. Ninth grade pupils will not receive another diploma but in all other respects they are under exactly the same regulations as are other pupils. We believe we do well in offering this extra work and we believe that the pupils can profit by the time and effort expended.

The Union Hill school is now the larger of the two schools. On account of the distance from a boarding place it has been necessary to secure a man for this school. This policy has been followed for the last three years. The school is progressing well, is well equipped and the building is in good condition. Mr. Snell is a careful and interesting instructor and seems to have the good-will and interest of his pupils. No instance of misbehavior is ever heard of in this school. The curriculum is being closely followed. Pupils who have attended this school have been and are doing satisfactory work at Fryeburg Academy.

Both schools, like many others of late have been disturbed and suspended for a time on account of the prevailing sickness. This lost time will be made up.

Last June the village school presented an excellent closing day exercise and graduation. The parts were well given and well received, the decorations were beautiful and the audience large and appreciative. Diplomas were granted and the Tinker prizes were awarded as they were also in the Union Hill school. These prizes, referred to in my last report are offered again this year.

TEXT BOOKS

I understand that information is asked about expenses for text books, we gladly offer it. The Text Book Account is the account from which we purchase not only text books but all supplies of paper, chalk, erasers, maps, etc. In fact all supply expenditures for equipment other than expenditures for repairs are taken from this account. Thus it will be seen, that although we call it the text book account for convenience, it actually covers much more than text books.

It has been mentioned that we have many books on hand which are not in use. Some of the books at the village building are books which were used by those taking secondary school work a few years ago. The greater part of them however are elementary text books and nearly all are used at intervals during the year or on different years. We are now able to read through several readers in a school year. This is contrary to the old custom of reading the same book over and over again by the same grade. This necessitates several sets of readers for the several grades. The work in geography covers four years in four grades. Therefore four sets of properly graded geographies are necessary. We study history for four years, arithmetic for eight or nine years, English for five or six years, and so on. It may be seen that at any one time there will be books not in use at the instant but which will be needed as the grades progress.

The average life of a text book, when we consider the elementary course of eight years, is about four years. Books in the hands of small children will not last four years. Generally speaking we need to expect to renew one fourth of our text books each year in order to replace those worn out beyond profitable use.

REPAIRS

This year we took the stove from the Emerson school building and set it up in the Union Hill building. By the expenditure of about $28.00 we fixed up the stable on the Union Hill lot and made it into a camp for the benefit of Mr. Snell who lived in it during the fall term and will probably return to it during the spring term. The furnishings were loaned by his friends in the neighborhood. This expense was slight and was necessary. To such lengths does the rural school teacher sometimes have to go for accommodations.

The bushes on each side of the Union Hill school yard were cut away in order to give a better view of the highway in both directions. This was done so that in some measure, the danger from automobile accidents in connection with pupils might be made less.

New blackboards were installed in the Union Hill building and the building was painted outside and inside.

The village building should be painted outside. New seats and desks would be a great improvement in both buildings. However, I advise that these matters be allowed to stand for a year at least. I should hope that during the summer of 1930 we might be able to paint the exterior of the village building.

We shall need some money for upkeep repairs but I advise that the balance in the repair account be used for the purpose and that no appropriation for repairs be made this year.

During the present year we have expended $504.00 for conveyance and tuition for the pupils at Shell Pond. Part of this amount was outstanding at the close of the last fiscal year. These pupils have now removed from town and consequently the expense has ceased. The bills have been paid and an overdraft as expected stands before us. At the present time there are no conveyance routes in operation and none are in prospect. No aid from the State for conveyance at Shell Pond was received for the fiscal year just closing. The pupils had ceased to be considered as temporary residents.

It is my great hope that this year we may not be called upon for unusual and unexpected expenses to the end that we may recoup to some extent and that the burden of taxation may be lightened and controlled. The schools should be the last to suffer from the lack of funds but Education is willing and ready to take its share of curtailment for the benefit of the people. The School Department looks with favor upon the effort of the town to establish a fair budget and stands ready to cooperate.

Retrenchment this year will be made wherever possible, bearing in mind that this retrenchment should not operate to reduce the salaries of competent and faithful teachers.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. A. SNOW, Supt. of Schools.
