Football Hero

A little kid has lots of heroes. That mighty halfback. The cop at the corner. And the top hero of all — Dad.

Yet kids don't know some of the most important things their Dads do for them. Like the way a father makes sure his family will always be secure . . . able to stay in their own home, have a regular income, and money for education . . . even if he should not be there to provide for them.

Helping fathers make these plans is the job of the Massachusetts Mutual man. Thoroughly trained and experienced, he is at your service . . . to help you map out the security plan that's right for your family.

Why not call your Massachusetts Mutual man today . . . or our General Agent, listed under Massachusetts Mutual in your phone book.

N EITHER THE COST of beefsteak nor the cost of higher education is likely to decline again to the level of prices enjoyed in the earlier part of this century.

We noted only recently an article in the March 1924 Alumnus saying the University of Maine received and disbursed $646,000 in the prior year. There were 1,270 students registered in the fall of 1923. Last year the annual budget totalled approximately $10,000,000 at the University.

This fall an estimated 1,400 students are in the freshman class alone and 3,100 more are in the other 3 classes. Registration has increased 3½ times and expense has increased by 15 times. Inflation has done the rest.

Where has the added money come from to meet the higher cost? Once upon a time the State of Maine appropriated 40 per cent of the total budget, including room and board figures. For 1960-61 the State's contribution made up about 35 per cent of the total.

Student tuition has increased to almost three times the 1923 charges but the proportion of expense met from student tuition, fees, board, etc., has also increased from 47 per cent to more than 50 per cent of the total. The remainder comes from all sources, including the federal government and from gifts, grants, research and miscellaneous.

And when one assumes that inflation requires 3 to 4 times the number of dollars to buy goods and services now similar to those in 1923—the cost of education has increased surprisingly little, but it does take $10 to $15 dollars for the larger university where $1 would serve before.

The alumni, to help fill in their part of the 15 per cent of costs from gifts, grants, research and federal government, have increased also. There were about 7,000 living alumni in 1923 and there are almost 25,000 now.

Then 1,400 of our former students paid dues (or about 20 per cent) and this year we sincerely believe that 8,000 (over 32 per cent) may contribute to the Annual Alumni Fund. Less than $6,000 was secured in payments back then, so if our goal, being set at $60,000 this year, is tested by the 10 for 1 ratio—it must be attainable.

We have a proud and capable alumni body. It should succeed.

Annual Alumni Fund: A New Conce

THE TALK IN MAINE alumni circles these days is about "The Fund."

Its full-dress, Sunday-go-to-meeting name is "The Annual Alumni Fund of the University of Maine," and the reason behind all the talk is that it represents one of the most significant and far-reaching changes to occur in the General Alumni Association in recent years.

Here's why: The Fund replaces alumni dues.

That assertion generally comes as an eyebrow-raiser to the many alumni who aren't familiar with the action taken at the annual meeting last June.

Alumni who have been raising a lot of eyebrows with the gambit lately are George A. Potter '20, first vice president of the GAA and chairman of the Fund committee, and his 10 committee members.

They've been spending a lot of time talking with other alumni about The Fund, explaining what it's all about and why the Alumni Association took the step. They are forthright and candid about it, too.

Dues Old-fashioned

"Dues are old-fashioned," says Mr. Potter. He elaborates by explaining that since 1956 the General Alumni Association has been considered a tax exempt organization, therefore any gifts to the organization are deductible items on the donor's income tax.

Dues, on the other hand, are not considered as deductible.

Furthermore, he points out, some firms match gifts of this type made by employees, so it is possible for an alumnus to double the size of his gift.

Thus, under the new plan, alumni dues have been replaced by The Fund and each alumnus is being asked to make an annual monetary gift to the association, according to his financial means.

"It is hoped that 8,000 University graduates will contribute to The Fund during its first year," Mr. Potter says. "This represents better than half of the living graduates of the University and nearly this number have been paying dues annually until now."

He adds: "By making a gift each year, an alumnus will assure himself of preserving the same rights of membership in the GAA as he had under the former plan."

Wanted: More Money

But the main reason for making the change is plain and simple: To get more money.

The Fund was established "to meet increased needs with an increased amount of money for the supporting work and the amount of direct aid the Alumni office gives to the University," says Mr. Potter.

How will the new plan realize more money than the former dues system?

In two ways, committee members explain. First, it means an alumnus can now more earnestly determine how much his own individual contribution should be, knowing that the rights of membership in the association are unchanged so long as each year he makes a contribution as generously as he is able.

Many already have demonstrated that they feel they are able to afford to give more than they previously paid in dues.

Secondly, it is hoped to enlist the financial support of those alumni who honestly felt they couldn't afford to pay dues, but are able, under the new system, to contribute something.

It is not important how much one gives, so much as the fact that he does give that helps to show the worth of an institution.

Alumni Status Up

On the aspect of "worth of an institution," the committee has cited this philosophy: "If an alumnus gives, others have cause to give. Therefore, service to the University is a vote of confidence for the school. Business firms—and even the U. S. government—are thus impressed by alumni loyalty and prompted to assist financially."

In this manner, the alumni are given a more significant status in the picture of private support which, though not tremendously large at the University of Maine, is important.

And private support, even in so-called public institutions as the University, is playing a larger and larger part in the financial picture of these institutions.

That is another factor considered by the Alumni Association in making its decision to institute The Fund.

In fact, the increasing need for private support by institutions of higher learning throughout the nation in the past decade and a half has been the reason behind the growing popularity of the idea of annual giving.

Annual funds have been springing up particularly at public institutions, where, because of rising costs, governments and students are finding more and more of a need for private support.

Interestingly, while state support has increased in total dollars, the percentage of the total cost has shrunk, placing more and more of a burden on students and other sources.

At the University of Maine, for instance, two-thirds of the revenue is provided from private sources, while only one-third comes from public support through state appropriation.

The Annual Alumni Fund is one of the methods of attempting to obtain more assistance for already hard-pressed students.

The Fund has been under active consideration by the Alumni Association almost from the time the Internal Revenue ruling made it possible.

Under Study Since '56

Committees have been actively studying the proposal since 1956. At that time, and even earlier, the Alumni Council has been considering the wisdom of establishing an annual fund.

During the period of the active campaign for the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund, it had been considered prudent to withhold instituting the annual fund because of the danger of creating confusion among alumni.

But this year, with the Hauck Fund nearing completion, it was felt that no confusion would arise between a fund existing on an annual basis and a capital fund spanning a limited number of years.

Were there any misgivings about instituting the annual fund? The Alumni Association's executive director is almost disarmingly candid in answering this question.

"Yes, there were some misgivings," he declares. "Alumni perhaps would dislike setting a goal and then not be able to meet it. It was feared, too, that some alumni might believe their association and the privileges it holds would disappear if its basis through dues were disestablished.

"Consideration also was given to the prosperity of the times. It was felt the fund should be instituted at such a time as it would not likely fail because of a bad business year.

"Yet these misgivings and general fears have been dissipated in the face of a certainty that our service to the University was needed in this greater financial way. It was felt the alumni would rally to the cause."

Alumni Already Rally

Alumni have already begun rallying to the cause, and the rolls of two new "clubs"—the "Maine Stay Club" consisting of alumni who have given at least $25, and the "Century Club" consisting of alumni whose gifts have totaled at least $100—are beginning to grow.

Working with Mr. Potter on the Fund committee are: Leland F. Carter '42, Maxwell B. Carter, Jr. '44, Malcolm E. C. Devine '31, Parker F. Leonard '50, Helen M. Philbrook '39, Helen W. Pierce '41, Edward C. Sherry '38, Bette K. Taverner '43, Leon S. Trenholm '52, and Carl A. Whitman '35.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

"What of the future? A mode of thinking . . . allied with the ability to be receptive to changes; A vital need for the flexible mind . . . that is susceptible to sensible and progressive changes."

By DAVID M. HODSON

PROPERLY, THE VALEDICTORY address as defined in Webster's unabridged dictionary is a speech suitable for or befitting an occasion of leave taking. As such it should include an appreciative look backward at previous experiences and at the same time a look forward to the future.

The past four years have brought about a great change in all of us. I am sure that each one of us can easily bring to mind one professor who has had a profound effect upon our attitudes. Yet, it is to all of the professors and instructors that we owe a debt of gratitude, for they have provided a basis upon which many of our decisions in the future years will be made. In addition, whatever success that we shall achieve will be in large measure due to the help and guidance that they have given us during the past four years. Our heartfelt thanks go out to them for the infinite patience and tolerance which they have shown.

And now what of the future? It is here that the greatest question mark lies. The ensuing years can bring a large success, a small success, or in a few instances, failure. It all depends upon the individual. Each of us must be prepared to meet, and I hesitate to use the term, the demands of the "space age." Each of us is aware of the delicate nature of the cold war with Russia. We all know about the missile race.

I could stand here and expound upon the theme that the ablest men are required for government service. Or I could tell you that each one of us, in looking toward the future, has a moral obligation to use his talents for the betterment of society. But these ideas are not new. Plato wrote about them. The Dark Ages were not without crises. And the first use of gunpowder in

When David M. Hodson, valedictorian of the Class of 1961, delivered his valedictory address in June, it won immediate acclaim from classmates and University officials. He spoke of the need for change in this modern world, and the need for minds flexible enough to accept progressive changes. His address, the significance of which reaches all of us in these days of modern stress, appears below. Mr. Hodson presently holds a fellowship at Stanford University while working with Howard Hughes Aircraft Corp. in Los Angeles.

Europe was looked upon with as much fear in the 14th century as missiles are feared in the 20th century.

A Mode of Thinking

WHAT I WOULD LIKE to leave with you for the future is a mode of thinking, because it is the way in which a man thinks that largely determines his success or failure. This mode of thinking is closely allied with the ability to be receptive to changes. In this constantly changing world there is a vital need for the flexible mind. The mind that is susceptible to sensible and progressive changes is the one that will be the most valuable.

Each one of you as you sit here can easily think of many changes you would like to see in the curriculum or in administrative policies. Yet, ten years from now, when you return as alumni, if the pattern has changed, you will say the University has "gone to the dogs." It is the present interest in change which should be preserved.

In this ever changing world the art of communication is so highly refined that every advance, whether it be social, technical or political, is immediately available to any who are interested. If we are not sensitive to new ways of doing things, others will advance and take our places.

Remember, also, that the basis for the solution of a problem is often contained in the idea of a change. In world politics the disarmament question remains unsolved because diplomats are unwilling to make a change. On the state level the Negro problem remains unsolved because people are unable to make a change. And on the intellectual level, the tricky calculus problem, or the intricate physics problem remains unsolved by the student because he lacks flexibility in his thinking. Often times it is the novel as opposed to the "way-we-did-it-before" approach which solves the difficult problem.

We Must Be Adaptive

SO, TO PROGRESS in our thinking we must be adaptive in different ways. We must be ready to accept new modes of doing things and at the same time we must be ready to find new methods of approaching a problem. Above all we must have a mind open to changes. Then whether we accept or reject them will be of secondary importance.

For those of us who are aware of a change, the last four years are just a beginning. It is the future which holds the greatest promise.

In conclusion let me leave you with this simple thought: "To stand still is the surest way to be left behind."

Calder Foundation Gift of $30,000

In 1960 the Louis Calder Foundation of New York made a gift of $30,000 to the University of Maine for scholarship purposes.

Twenty thousand dollars of this gift is used for a scholarship program over a period of eight years, and the balance of the gift is devoted to the support of the teaching of chemical engineering, particularly pulp and paper technology.

Under the plan of the donor, and with the agreement of the University, twenty $1,000 scholarships are to be awarded each year for eight years beginning in 1961.

Income derived from the unexpended balance of the $20,000 grant will be used to support teaching.

First preference in the awards from this splendid fund are given to students from towns along or near the Kennebec River, with preference also being given to students whose major interest is pulp and paper technology or chemical engineering.

Through this gift, the Calder Foundation has made it possible for a qualified freshman entering in 1961 to receive aid through all of his four college years. Additional scholarships will be awarded to incoming freshmen each year until 1966-67, when funds will be available only for those already enrolled and who are completing their college training.

The University wishes to pay tribute to the Calder Foundation for its far-reaching generosity in assisting worthy students at Maine.

'A Mecca Of Culture'

THE LAST STRAGGLING spring semester students had barely left campus when the University began humming again with a varied—and sometimes hectic—schedule of summer events.

The variety was impressive. Boys State . . . Summer Arts Festival . . . Pulp and Paper Institute . . . national convention of women extension workers . . . a children's theatre program . . . and school as usual—an extended and accelerated Summer Session, spanning nine weeks instead of the former six.

Absent was any notion that an institution of higher learning languishes during the summer months. The hustle and bustle to be found at Maine caused a casual visitor, expecting to find his state university in a fit of dormancy, to comment: "I didn't realize what a Mecca of culture we have at Orono."

His Mecca of culture, indeed, was bringing such well known men as Erwin Canham and Max Lerner to campus as speakers. It was bringing such musical performers as Richard Dyer-Bennet, noted tenor and guitarist, and the Kroll Quartet, internationally known string group, to the area as part of the Summer Arts Festival.

It was bringing more than 400 high school juniors from all over the state to a lesson in practical democracy, climaxed by the visit of Gov. John H. Reed '42.

Maine Men Elected

It was bringing 67 men from 15 different states and Canada to the second Pulp and Paper Institute that saw J. Larcom Ober '13 elected chairman of the board and Frederic A. Soderberg '25 elected president of the University of Maine Pulp and Paper Foundation. Other Maine alumni named to offices were Ralph A. Wilkins '19, treasurer, and Henry W. Fales '35, secretary.

It was bringing performances of three plays by the Children's Theatre program, directed by Prof. Herschel L. Bricker—Alan White's A Guest Uninvited, a scene from John Galsworthy's Escape and an original play by Prof. and Mrs. Bricker entitled Mixy Bowl and Spicy Dish.

It was bringing about 3,000 Women in Extension from all states to their national convention. The homemakers mixed shop-talk and business sessions with thorough enjoyment of Maine's Vacationland attractions, highlighted by a lobster feed.

But perhaps most significantly, for an institution of higher learning, it was bringing the longest and largest summer session in University history. With a record 2,593 students enrolled, the session was broken down into an early three-week period followed by the traditional six-week period.

Climaxing the session were graduation exercises in which 87 received bachelors' degrees, 160 masters' degrees and five post masters' certificates.

Mr. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, addressed the graduates, then he and Franklin S. Cunningham, principal of Presque Isle High School, were presented honorary degrees by Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott.

Intertwined with the summer's cultural and scholastic activity was the sound of mortar, brick and steel being molded into the changing face of the University. The new education building was nearing completion, two new dormitories—one for men and one for women—were made ready for occupancy and another new woman's dormitory quickly started taking shape.

The Exodus Begins

Married students began an exodus from the venerably "temporary" South Apartments to University Park, the new student housing complex on the north end of campus. The equally venerable and equally "temporary" North Dorms also continued to come down as more modern housing became available for men students.

Then, in late August and early September, as if a lull before the storm, the campus quieted. Faculty and facilities seemed to be resting and gathering strength for the onslaught of September students, and all the activities that go with another academic year.

34 On Faculty Promoted

During the summer Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott, president of the University, announced the promotions of 34 faculty members.

Eleven were promoted from the rank of associate professor to full professor, 14 from assistant professor to associate professor, seven from instructor to assistant professor and two from lecturer to assistant professor.

Promoted from associate professor to full professor were: Cecil Brown, argonomy; Robert D. Dunlap, chemistry; Richard C. Hill, mechanical engineering; Marie C.

Mengers, French; Cecil J. Reynolds, English; Robert B. Rhoads, agricultural engineering; John M. Romanyshyn, sociology; Robert K. Sherk, classics and German; George K. Wadlin, Jr., civil engineering; Walter R. Whitney, English; and Harold E. Young, forestry.

New associate professors are: Alan Baron, psychology; Martin Dorff, mathematics; David R. Fink, Jr., education; J. Duff Gillespie, speech; John F. Gorham, chemical engineering; Edward F. Johnston, agricultural economics; Arthur V. Olson, education; James C. MacCampbell, education; George R. Pettit, chemistry; Arnold H. Raphaelson, business and economics; Robert N. Rjoux, romance languages; Otis J. Sproul, civil engineering; Dean F. Tuthill, agricultural economics; and George M. Woodwell, botany.

Promoted to assistant professor from the rank of instructor were: Gordon Cram, chemistry, Agricultural Experiment Station; Donald A. Grant, mechanical engineering;

These buses were used to transport the more than 3,000 Women in Extension around Maine during their national convention on campus this summer.

C. Robert Groth, Jr., music; John E. Hakola, history; Wayne A. Hamilton, civil engineering; Lloyd J. Jewett, agricultural economics; Richard L. Zusi, zoology; Philip A. Cole, history and government.

Lecturer John F. Harper, Jr., was promoted to the rank of assistant professor of astronomy and mathematics, and lecturer Tadeusz Z. Wojcik was promoted to the rank of assistant professor of business and economics.

Dr. Sanborn Appointed UMP Dean Of Women

A former high school teacher of physically handicapped children has been named dean of women and instructor in psychology at the University's Portland campus.

Dr. Jane O. Sanborn began her duties at Portland this fall. She was serving as guidance director at Windham High School when chosen for the University post.

Prior to her work at Windham, she was a teacher of physically handicapped children in California.

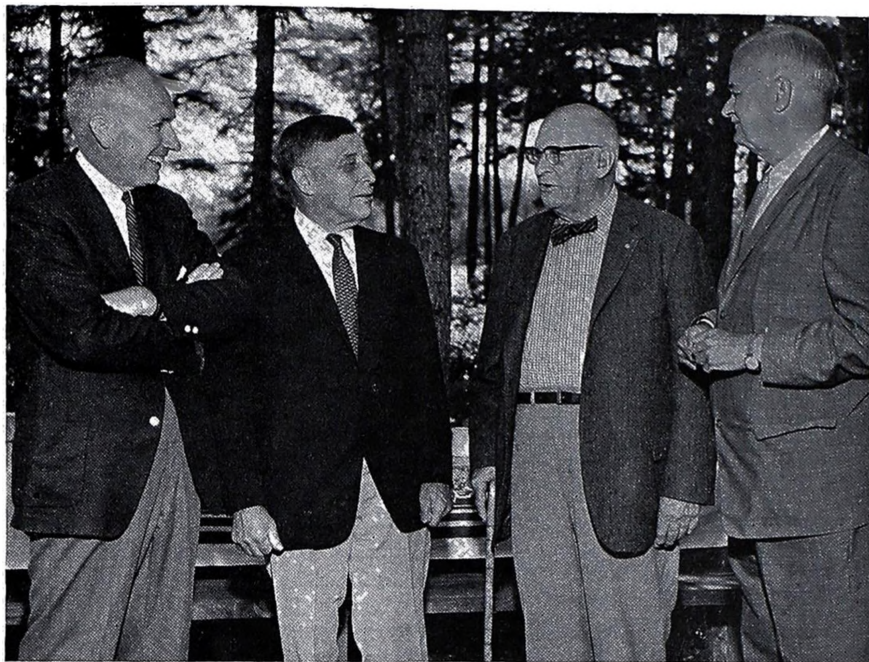

She is a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of Wilson College in 1942. She received her doctor's degree from the University of California at Los Angeles last June.

During World War II she served as a communications officer with the U. S. Navy.

She is married and the mother of four children.

Dr. Whitehill is married and has four children.

Maine Man Heads Clinical Services

Dr. Deane L. Hutchins, M.D. '50, of Boothbay Harbor, has been appointed director of clinical services at the University's Health Service.

The Kingfield native, after his graduation from the University, attended the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry.

He is married to the former Virginia Bradstreet, a graduate of the Eastern Maine General Hospital School of Nursing. They have four daughters.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS

Duncan M. Cameron '54 has been appointed an instructor in botany. During the past year he has served as a research assistant in the department of botany and plant pathology.

He has done graduate work at the University of New Hampshire, Ohio State University and the University of Maine. He received his master's degree from Maine this year.

He has taught at the Garland Street Junior High School in Bangor and in the public schools of South Berwick and Carroll, Ohio.

He is married and the father of two children.

Rebecca B. Herrick '45 is a new instructor in modern society. After her graduation from Maine, the Blue Hill native attended Andover-Newton Theological School. She Dorothy M. Sidwell has been named assistant professor of home management. The 1951 graduate of Ohio State University has taught at the Universities of California, Nevada and Hawaii, and in Barranquilla, Colombia, and Columbus, Ohio. She received her master's degree from the University of California in 1953.

Isabel MacPherson is a new instructor in education. She is a 1948 graduate of Boston University and has also studied at the University of Munich, Germany. She has taught in Quincy, Mass., and Munich. She received her master's degree from B.U. in 1958.

Dr. John M. Hogan has been appointed associate professor of food science in the Agricultural Experiment Station. He was graduated from Rutgers University in 1941 and received his Ph.D. degree from that institution in 1949. He has been employed for the past ten years as a research biochemist for Swift and Company and previously was a research assistant in physiological chemistry at Iowa State University.

Masque To Tour

The Maine Masque goes on the road next year.

Next February and March the University dramatic group will make a two-month tour of India and Pakistan, where it will present five well-known plays—Sunrise at Campobello; Ah, Wilderness; The Happy Journey; Saturday Night; and My Heart's in the Highlands.

Prof. Herschel L. Bricker, University theatre director, says students are now being selected to fill the tour cast.

BACCALAUREATE ADDRESSES AVAILABLE
 "On Meaning God" and "On Being Human," the baccalaureate addresses for 1961 and 1960, are available in printed form for those wishing copies. Both are included in a publication of the Office of Religious Affairs entitled Speak to the Heart. The booklet also contains a sermon entitled "Rebellion, Romance and Religion," delivered at Maine Christian Association services in 1960, and a seminar paper called "Depth in Education." Six prayers which have been used for various occasions at the University complete the publication. Requests for copies should be addressed to The Rev. Harvey Bates, Director, Office of Religious Affairs, Memorial Union, University of Maine.

If it's fed right, Maine's new computer gives instant answers

QUICK—If the Indians had invested the $24 they were paid for Manhattan Island in a savings account paying four per cent interest compounded semi-annually, how much would the account be worth today, more than 300 years later?

Chances are you wouldn't be able to come up with an answer to the question very quickly, because it would involve some 700 computations, each dependent on the one preceding it.

But if you had access to the desk-sized machine recently acquired by the University, and if you knew how to operate the machine, you could have your answer in less than the time it takes to press the "start" button and step over to the typewriter that automatically prints the result.

The machine is an International Business Machines electronic computer known as the 1620. It has been made available to the University through a gift of the D. S. and R. H. Gottesman Foundation of New York, which also provided funds for the Gottes-man Computation and Analysis Laboratory housed in Aubert Hall.

Incidentally, the Gottesman Foundation also was responsible for the first computer available on campus, an analog type which the University owns. The 1620, on the other hand, is not owned by the University, but is leased on an annual basis from IBM.

The 1620, first such computer installed by any organization in Maine and the third such installation in any New England university, has more than 2,700 transistors. It operates under the direction of an internally stored program consisting of a series of instructions which are placed in part of the 20,000 positions of memory.

Dr. Franklin P. Eggert, professor and head of the department of horticulture, is chairman of a committee which made the computer center a reality.

Prof. Russell Altenberger is director of the center.

By the way, the Indians' bank account would be worth $15,021,962 today if they had banked their money and left it to collect interest.

Here's a scene from the summer session cookout planned and conducted by the Teachers' Alumni Association.

100th LEGISLATURE: HOW WE FARED

IN REVIEWING the past legislative session it seems to me that we at the University failed to convey either the urgency or the magnitude of the problems facing public education in the state."

Thus Dr. Lloyd H. Elliott, University president, summed up the way the state Legislature acted on the five-point program sought by the University.

Then he added:

"It should be noted that legislators, in their struggle with revenues and expenditures, provided the means for some improvements. This is important.

"The breakthrough, however, which will enhance the University's competitive position, bring more Maine youth to college and provide educational and research services to business and industry remains before us.

"These matters are so important to the economic, social and cultural growth of the state that I hope the 101st Legislature may give them top priority."

Here, in summary, is the University's five-point program and what the Legislature did with it:

—Operating Funds. Request: Increase of $3,180,925 over the previous biennium. Received: Increase of $1,941,078. While this means a comparatively substantial increase in terms of dollars, it still leaves the University behind in its battle to "catch up."

—Capital Funds. Request: Eighteen capital projects with a total dollar value of $9,056,000. Received: $2,321,700 for five projects. Turned down were requests for a wing on North Stevens Hall, a Forestry building, Building No. 2 in Portland, a University press building and needed renovations to several major buildings.

—Educational Television. Although approved by large majority in both houses, the bond issue bill was "smothered" by a Senate attempt to load it with other unrelated items. A strong movement among many legislators and citizens for a special legislative session to correct the ETV situation is currently active.

—Merger. A merger of Portland University and the University of Maine was approved with an initial appropriation of $125,000 made for operations.

—Exemption. A bill for exemption of the University from the Bureau of Public Improvements Act of 1955 died in committee.

Dr. David R. Fink, Jr., has been appointed director of the team teaching project at the University which is being financed by a $500,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, fund for the advancement of education. An assistant professor in the College of Education, Dr. Fink has been teaching in the field of educational testing and statistics on campus for four years.

Dr. Alan Baron, Dr. Joseph Antonitis and undergraduate student-psychologist Robert H. Beale have published a paper entitled "Effects of Activity Deprivation upon Bar Pressing" in a recent issue of the Journal of Comparative and Physiological Psychology. Their paper reports a study of the effects of confinement on activity. They conducted the study on mice and drew parallels between the activities of mice and children.

Dr. Clarence E. Bennett, head of the physics department, participated in a national conference at the University of Denver on "Curricula for Undergraduate Majors in Physics" in August. He presented information about the University's program in engineering physics, first in the nation to be accredited by the Engineering Council for Professional Development.

Prof. Harry D. Watson, head of the mechanical engineering department, has been elected national chairman of the Committee on National Bureau of Engineering Registration. His election came at a meeting of the National Council of State Boards of Engineering Examiners in Biloxi, Miss.

Dr. Robert D. Dunlap, an associate professor in the chemistry department, presented a paper at a University of California symposium of physical chemists in September. He reported on his research concerning behavior of gaseous mixtures under various conditions of temperature and pressure.

Dr. Jerry Braunstein, on leave of absence from the chemistry department, has returned to his research at Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory after delivering a paper before the 18th International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry at Ottawa, Canada.

Nine University faculty members will be on leave during the current college year, working on various research projects or involved in graduate study.

Dr. George Billias of the department of history and government will be in the Boston area working on a biography of Elbridge Gerry, a colonial governor of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Jean Hart of the mathematics department has received a National Science Foundation fellowship and will be working on her Ph.D. degree at Brown University. Assoc. Prof. James MacCampbell of the College of Education will be studying library science at Simmons College while Asst. Prof. Edgar McKay will be in Nova Scotia working on a research project for Cornell University.

Asst. Prof. William Ruckstuhl of the School of Business Administration will be working on his Ph.D. degree at the University of Pennsylvania and Assoc. Prof. George Woodwell of the department of botany and plant pathology will be at the Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island directing a research project on the effects of radiation on plants for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Miss Constance Cooper, a home demonstration agent leader, will be working on her Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Two staff members will be on leave for one semester only. Prof. Howard Eves of the mathematics department will be absent during the fall semester while writing a high-level college textbook on geometry, and Asst. Prof. Marion Minot of the School of Home Economics will be on leave for the spring semester while studying for her Ph.D. degree at Cornell University. Miss Minot will also be on leave during the fall semester of the 1962-63 college year.

Maine Goes To Haiti

A University team, under a phase of the International Cooperation Administration's educational program, has been studying agricultural and home economics educational programs in Haiti.

Dean Winthrop C. Libby of the College of Agriculture and head of the team was accompanied to Haiti by A. D. Nutting, director of the School of Forestry; George F. Dow, director of the Maine Experiment Station and Mrs. Ruth DeCoteau, home demonstration agent of Oxford County.

They visited the University of Haiti at Port-au-Prince and the Haiti College of Agriculture at Damien as well as agricultural areas of the island. Haitian educators have asked that a U. S. university teaching program be established as a cooperative venture in Haiti. The Maine team has been exploring such a possibility.

Should such a University program be established with the Haiti government through ICA, Dean Libby anticipates that the University might send a team of two or three staff members to carry out the program.

CARLETON "SPEED" MERRITT '24, PRESIDENT, SAYS:

"Your annual Homecoming meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening, October 20, in the Memorial Union Building.

"The varsity coaches will meet with us, so plan to attend and hear the 'latest' on University athletics. Come early and sit in on part of the student rally at the Memorial Gym. It's colorful.

"After our graduate 'M' Club meeting, we join the 'open house' in the main lounge of the Union for cider and doughnuts!

"Maine needs your active interest in the fine athletic program.

"I'll see you there!"

COME ON UP FOR HOMECOMING!

Coming up: Homecoming.
Coming back?

How about getting your reservations in the mail today for the 62nd celebration of one of Maine's best loved traditions . . . on Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21.

Here's a rundown of the major highlights:

Things get started with a rally and bonfire Friday evening, followed by an Alumni Open House at the Memorial Union.

On Saturday before the game a Colleges Coffee is scheduled at the Union Building to give alumni a chance to visit with faculty friends.

Then at noon on Saturday the Annual Homecoming Luncheon will be held at the Memorial Gym.

Of course, the highlight of the weekend will be the game between Maine's Black Bears and the U-Conn. Huskies.

For evening entertainment, the Maine Masque plans presentations of George Bernard Shaw's Androcles and the Lion both on Friday and Saturday nights.

Record Breakers

*1911 Class Sets A New All-Time
High In Class Giving; Class Of 1936 Passes
Old Mark For Quarter-Century Gift*

NINETEEN THOUSAND, one hundred nineteen dollars and eleven cents. By no coincidence, this figure, written in its arabic form, spells out the Class of 1911 twice.

This year's 50th reunion class shattered all previous class gifts records last June when it brought its fund up to the grand total of $19,119.11.

But it was not the only class to establish a record with its gift. The 25th reunion class, the Class of 1936, also distinguished itself by presenting the University the largest gift for any 25-year class. Its grand total: $4,523.45.

The year the Class of 1936 was graduating, the Class of 1911 established its fund with a gift of $1,000. Subsequent additions to this fund were made over the years and the income was earmarked for scholarship purposes.

In the last five years, even though not reunion years, it has made sizeable additions to its fund—another first, since no other class had ever before added to its gift in the years between reunions.

By 1960, the class fund was worth $15,355.

It was then that class officers decided to strike for the $19,000 mark.

Under the guiding hand of class secretary-treasurer Avery Hammond of Bangor, a drive was launched and the class met its ultimate goal with a presentation at ceremonies last June.

Besides bringing the class gift total up beyond the $19,000 mark, the class also reminded the University of a decision made 10 years ago.

At its 1951 reunion, the class voted that "after June 1961 the directors of the University of Maine Foundation may at their discretion either continue the fund for scholarship purposes or use either income or principal or both for such purposes as they may deem in the best interest of the University."

In appreciation for his work toward attaining the goal, Mr. Hammond was presented an inscribed plaque by his class.

Heading up the drive for Class of 1936 Student Loan Fund was Actor T. Abbott, Jr. In his final report to the class, he reported that 98 class members participated in the drive, contributing a total of $3,370.20. The General Electric Company matched a class member contribution of $50. Added to this total was $1,130.59 in proceeds from a matured life insurance policy purchased at graduation. Savings account interest amounted to $103.86. Expenses incurred in the fund drive totaled $131.20.

A. S. McNeilly '44 Is Elected GAA President

Among the major items of business at the annual meeting of the General Alumni Association in June was election of a slate of officers headed by Alvin S. McNeilly '44 as president.

Serving with him for the year are George A. Potter '20, first vice president; Mrs. Winona C. Sawyer '43, second vice president; James A. Harmon '40, clerk; Harry T. Treworgy '49, treasurer.

New members of the Alumni Council, also elected at the June meeting, are: Maxwell B. Carter, Jr. '44, Marion Cooper '27, Frank W. Linnell '29, Michael Pilot '31 and Norma J. Smaha '54.

The Alumni office has announced that Mildred (Brown '25) Schrupf and Ronald K. Devine '55 have joined the staff of The Alumnus.

Mr. Devine, telegraph editor of The Bangor Daily News, succeeds Arthur W. Reynolds '48 as associate editor. Mrs. Schrupf is serving as assistant class notes editor. Both positions on the publication are part-time.

Members of the Class of 1911 are shown at a celebration of the 50th anniversary of their class last June. Looking over a picture of the class taken 50 years ago are, from left, Avery Hammond of Bangor, secretary-treasurer of the class; Arthur B. The Year Of The Search

As AUGUST gave way to September, head football coach Hal Westerman was greeting 55 padded and helmeted candidates for Maine's varsity football team and pondering ways of plugging gaping holes at center, right halfback and tackle.

He told members of the press, radio and TV at the annual football luncheon: "It will be a searching pre-season where we will have to find replacements to fill these many holes."

Graduation-riddled Squad

The holes were left by graduation of right halfback Wayne Champeon, tackles Dick Leadbetter, Haddon Libby and Joe Dumont, and centers Ron Caselden and Tom Vassar.

Of the 55 hopefuls, 16 were returning as last year's lettermen. It was this group of lettermen that Westy was surveying most closely for talent to fill out the graduation-riddled squad.

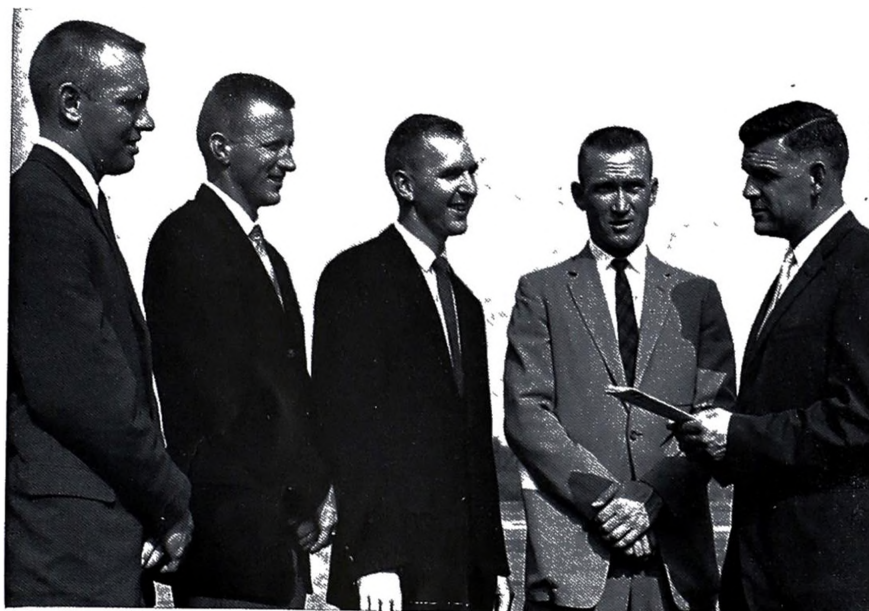

The squad he finally hammers out will have tough going, and Westy has no illusions otherwise. "Every team in the Yankee Conference and the State Series will be stronger than a year ago," he told the press. "I don't know whether we will be or not. We'll have to wait and see."

Impressive Record

But Westy enters his eleventh year as Maine's head football coach with an impressive record. Never in the previous decade has he failed to produce a winning team.

In fact, this year marks the 10th anniversary of his own fabulous "freshman" year at Maine, when his team turned in a perfect record, first in the University's history.

Two members of that team, Jack Butterfield '53 and Woody Carville '53, are presently serving as assistant coaches with Westy.

Memorial (Field House-Gymnasium) Fund

Contributors to the Field House, Armory and Gymnasium

(A complete listing to be published in book form as promised earlier to all donors)

THE SPECIAL INSERT in this issue is to honor those who gave to the gymnasium fund drive (concluded in 1933) which made possible the building of the present field house, armory and gymnasium. There is a second and equally important reason for printing the names of the donors, and that is to determine if the names are correct, spelled correctly and if any names have been omitted. If any of our readers know of omissions or observe errors, we would appreciate having such errors called to our attention. If no errors are called to our attention, we shall have to assume the list is correct in all aspects.

Local Associations

Eastern Penna. Alumni

Arthur R. Chapman, '21, President

The annual picnic was held Saturday, June 24, at Erdenheim Farms. Stanley R. Gates '40 assisted in the preparations for a grand affair. Rain in the morning cleared in time for an afternoon feast of bean-hole beans. Ice cream, coffee and drinks for the children were also supplied, but folks brought the rest of their lunches.

Alumni Teachers Association

Mrs. Mary Jo (Orr '39) Devitt,
President

The ninth summer session teachers gathering was held on July 13 in the grandstand on Alumni Field. Bill Wells '31 masterminded the "cook out" to serve cafeteria lines, which proceeded into the bleachers and stands to sit down and eat. A classmate, Ermo Scott '31, President of Farmington State Teachers College, led group singing. Brief announcements constituted the business session, at this large meeting. (See picture on Page 12.)

1961 Graduates

Earning More

June graduates were earning slightly more money than members of the Class of 1960 did when they graduated, according to Philip Brockway '31, director of the University's placement bureau.

The median monthly salary was $530 for technology graduates and $412 for non-technology graduates, Mr. Brockway said. He said the figures represent an increase of about $10 a month over last year.

Three hundred and six members of the Class of 1961 have been placed in teaching positions, Mr. Brockway's office also reported.

Of these, 220 were hired by Maine communities and 86 by out-of-state school districts. Salaries for the new teachers will average about $4,200 in Maine and about $4,600 elsewhere, the office reported.

Notes from the Classes

If Your Class Column Is Missing . . .

. . . It's because your editors have decided to alternate class news. Your class column will appear in every other issue of the six 1961-62 issues. The 1962 June Reunion classes, however, will have a news column in print every issue.

NECROLOGY

GEORGE PENDLETON GOULD. George P. Gould, 93, of Bangor, died July 27, 1961, in Bangor. A native of Stillwater, Mr. Gould was a member of the first class to graduate from Orono High School. Following his graduation from the University, Mr. Gould served as superintendent of schools at Old Town. Later he entered the railway mail service. Still later he was employed as a real estate agent and insurance agent. In 1912 he was elected to Bangor City Council, and in 1926 he was elected to the position of Clerk of Court. At his retirement in 1958, after 32 years as Clerk of Courts, he was the oldest elected officer in the county. Mr. Gould attended Class Day, in June, one of the five surviving members of his class, of which he had been secretary since 1937. A friendly man, Mr. Gould was probably the only living person to have enjoyed the personal acquaintance of every president of the University. Survivors include two daughters Mrs. Antoinette Torrey '23, and Mrs. Madeline MacIver '19. Mr. Gould was a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity. Members of the family and friends have established the George Pendleton Gould Scholarship at the University in his memory.

A. Jarvis Patten lives at Harbor Beach, Mich. He retired in 1954.

Stanwood H. Cosmey, Omaha, Neb., writes that he retired in 1941. He says that the visits in Maine with classmate John Chase, also retired, who lives at North Edgcomb with his wife and sister.

Charles Bryer's new address is 4525 Third St., La Mesa, Calif.

1898 Ray Parker Stevens who resided in New York is now at Hobe Sound, Box 8, Fla. Mr. Stevens retired in 1958 as president of Stevens and Wood, Inc., of N. Y. C.

A. D. T. Libby lives with his daughter at 11 Fern Ave., Falmouth. At the annual John Libby reunion in August, Mr. Libby, at 86, was the oldest descendant present; the youngest was seven years old.

Frederick W. Hopkins resides at 401 Montana Ave., Helena, Mont.

1900 Leon Nason has retired as a carpenter and builder and lives at 153 Terrytown Rd., Manchester, N. H.

G. W. Stickney is at 215 So. Washington St., Wheaton, Ill.

Dr. Harry E. Page may be addressed at 13505 S. E. River Rd., Portland, Ore.

Three of Maine's Law College graduates have come into the news because of their fine service to the Massachusetts Bar. Ernest E. Hobson, Justice of the District Court of Eastern Hampden and Palmer, Mass., is observing the 61st anniversary of his admittance to the bar. Mr. Hobson began his law practice in Palmer in 1900. He was appointed special justice of the Palmer court in 1922 and became permanent judge in July 1926. Judge Hobson is a director of the Palmer National Bank, and president of the Palmer Savings Bank. He may be addressed at 430 Main St., Palmer, Mass.

Edward Hutchings has retired from active practice of over 60 years at Springfield, Mass. He was next in bar association longevity to Judge Hobson.

Mr. Hutchings lives at 4 Larkspur St., Springfield, Mass.

John D. Mackay is still practicing Law at Quincy, Mass. He passed the bar with Judge Hobson. Following an operation last January, Mr. Mackay expected to be back to his practice. Mr. Mackay served as city solicitor for two years, and was a member of the school committee for seven years. He retired voluntarily as a state senator after 21 years in that capacity. He is at 75 Greenleaf St., Quincy, 69, Mass.

Philip Dorticos, 247 No. Arlington Ave., 3 D, East Orange, N. J., writes that he spends summers in Maine at Chebeague Is.

1906 Mr. Henry W. Bearce
Hebron

Raphael S. Sherman has changed his address from Cape Elizabeth to 162 Willow St., Garden City, N. Y.

Dr. D. J. Edwards now lives at 1325 Oxford Place, Charlottesville, Va.

1907 Mr. Karl MacDonald
27 Nelson Ave., Wellsville, N. Y.
55th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

Frank W. Twombly, 602 Lexington Ave., Terrace Park, Ohio, has sold his home. He made a final trip to Belfast before moving to Southern California.

Last January, Elmer J. Wilson, 17 Maple St., Lynn, Mass., was held up one afternoon by two young thugs who beat him and rubbed a powder in his eyes. Six months later he was just getting over the effects of the beating and getting some of his eyesight back. He sure has our sympathy, and we would like to be of help if we can.

Frank P. Holbrook is now living at 10 Lenox Court, Ashville, N. C. He and his wife hated to move from Chattanooga, Tenn., as their four grandchildren were there, but the lure of the better climate, and the fact that his wife's three sisters lived in Ashville, finally caused them to move.

Myles W. Illingworth, Concord Hall, 3 Concord Ave., Cambridge, Mass., retired July 1 from his position as General Manager of the Massachusetts Furniture and Piano Movers Assn. Perhaps now he can come to our 55th reunion.

Herman E. McKenzie, Big Bay, Mich., spent the winter with his daughter at 3515 S. W. Marquans Hill Rd., Portland, Ore. He returned to Big Bay the middle of April.

Joseph F. Merrill, 318 N. 16 St., Manhattan, Kans., writes Aug. 6: "I think it high time I sent you a check to pay postage, etc."

This reminds me that Joe is one of 27 classmates who has sent me the two dollars class dues I asked for in my 1961 letter. Have you, or have you forgotten it?

Caleb E. S. Burns and wife, box 751, Lihue, Kauai, Hawaii, last May thought they were equal to one more fishing trip to British Columbia, Canada, and were planning one. As this is their last fishing trip, why don't they consider flying east next June to our 55th Reunion?

Jerome B. Clark, 1401 S. Woods Ave., Los Angeles 22, Calif., in sending in his class dues, writes: "This bears evidence I am still living, with some qualifications, such as a bit of failing eyesight and a tendency to take things easy."

At the time of the "Little Reunion," Horton W. Kierstead, 47 Violette Ave., Waterville, was again in the hospital. We trust he has been able to return home.

On July 1, Wilbury O. Hutchins, 157 High St., Portland, retired from the business he started 30 years ago. He will continue working for six months to wind up unfinished business. His partner, William W. Thompson, '33, will continue the business of Building Specialties with a new partner.

1908 Mr. James A. Gannett
166 Main St., Orono

A letter from Dr. Thomas W. Fessenden, Clearwater, Fla., dated June 16th informed us of the death of Mrs. Fessenden. He wrote "after three and a half years of suffering from an incurable heart condition Gretchen passed away on Monday, June 5. Had she lived just twelve more days we would have come to our 63rd Anniversary. She tried to make it but it was not to be. We are of course in great sorrow and heartbreak; but we could not wish her to endure it another hour." We extend to Tom, one of our most loyal members, our deepest sympathy. I have known Tom and Gretchen Fessenden for many years and hold them in great esteem and affection.

Clarence and Nestlin Weston of Atlanta, Ga., were in Orono late in July and, accompanied by Miss Susan Weston of Madison, visited Prof. Charles P. Weston, Miss Weston's brother and Clarence's cousin. It was a pleasure to see Clarence and Nestlin after several years and Miss Weston, a frequent visitor to the campus.

Phil and Rebecca Emery and their daughter Elizabeth, Will and Bell Cobb, and Jim and Marian Gannett held a miniature class dinner at the Down Easter, Stockton Springs on August 4. Alice Phillips expected to be at the dinner but unfortunately was kept on the sidelines that day. The Emerys were spending their vacation at the Glenn Lawrence cottage in Belfast.

Leslie and Christine Sargent, Phil and Rebecca Emery, and Claude and Ruth Meserve are observing their 50th Wedding Anniversaries this month; the Sargents on October 3, the Emerys on the 10th, and the Meserves on the 14th. Congratulations. Claude and Ruth have a new address; 18 Wayside Ave., Bridgton.

Walter L. Sturtevant has changed his address to 85 Standish Way, West Yarmouth, Mass. Walter writes; "Not very well—spend most of my time in bed." We are sorry to hear that, Walter.

Leslie Sargent reports "Just celebrated my 76th birthday and was presented with two birthday cakes, one from my wife and one made by my granddaughter."

Dan Chase was at Hebron during the month of August. He wrote "Marty" McHale '11 gave me a 'blow by blow' account of the 1961 Commencement. (It was 'Marty's' 50th) Will battle Henry Bearce '06 for the Golf Belt. Glad to see the Senior Alumni Association so active."

1910 Mr. George P. Goodrich
14 Lawn Ave., Portland

Several of the 1910ers thoroughly enjoyed the Reunion at Orono in June. We were all together at the Alumni luncheon and the Alumni banquet and were all in the same dormitory. The names of all the members present were listed in the June Alumnus. Orwell Logan, of Berkely, Calif., had intended to come, but jury duty prevented it.

Charles F. Smith and wife, of Orono, recently returned from an extended trip to western New York where they visited with their sons and families in Snyder and Rochester. This trip included Lake Canandaigua, Niagara Falls Prospect Point, N. Y., and historical sites at Hillsboro, N. H., and Bennington, Vt. Charles is relaxing by remodeling his home.

We recently learned that James Booth, of 2512 Lakeview Ave., South, St. Petersburg, Fla., was presented a 50 year certificate by the St. Petersburg Bar Assn., acknowledging fifty years spent in active practice in that city. He is a past president of the Florida Bar Assn. and of the local bar association.

William C. Olsen of 94 Warwick Rd., Bronxville, N. Y., wishes to report his impending marriage to a young lady 35 years his junior. In behalf of the Class of 1910, "May your remaining years be the happiest of your life."

The new address of A. B. Chandler is Grey Neck Rd., West Harwich, Mass.

Your secretary and wife, Edrie, were among several retired Boy Scout executives who were welcomed back to the Region One (New England) Scout Executives Conference at Wentworth-by-the-Sea, Portsmouth, N. H.

A note from Roby Littlefield reads, "Patched with plasters and full of pills, to keep me moving and ease my ills."

Our next column will be in the January Alumnus. If you can possibly dig up some news of yourself, or other members of the class, and send it to me, I shall be most grateful.

Can't you find your class column?
There's a reason for it—see Page 35.

BY CLASSES

1912 Mr. William E. Schrumpt
84 College Ave., Orono
"We'll Be Seeing You in '62"
50th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

Ernest W. Brundin, after leaving the University, worked in construction engineering and irrigation for about nine years. He graduated from the University of California in 1919, married a classmate, and has two sons and a daughter. He was instrumental in starting the first commercial hydroponic plant at Montebello, Calif., in 1935, and continued operating it until his retirement in 1957. He and his wife are now living beside the ocean at 940 West Cliff Dr., Santa Cruz, Calif.

Arthur Deering in his capacity as Dean Emeritus of Agriculture has been invited to take part in a four-day program at Strafford, Vermont. The program is in honor of the Justin Smith Morrill, who, as United States Senator from Vermont, introduced the Morrill Act which provided funds for the establishment of our Land Grant Colleges, and was signed into law by President Lincoln in 1862.

Frank B. Kelley is listed as chairman of the board of The Pacific Lumber Co. He has two sons, Frank B. Jr., and Forbes in the business. Frank's address is 31 Dix St., Winchester, Mass.

Rollins Seabury, in a letter to Herbert Bruce '09, writes that since his University of Maine days, he has pursued a musical career, mostly in the instrumental field. He got a B.A. in music from the University of North Dakota in 1920, and an M.A. from Northwestern University in 1938. Rollins retired in 1955 after 35 years of teaching, the last 26 in Roosevelt High School, Chicago, Ill. He is married, has one daughter, and two wonderful grandchildren. His present address: 1785 Sherwood Rd., Des Plaines, Ill.

About nine months now to our 50th Reunion in June, 1962. Many of us are already devising ways and means of being present.

1914 Mr. Harold P. Adams
42 Boston Rock Rd., Melrose 76, Mass.

Frank A. Morris is now retired after an eventful career in education and insurance. Frank writes that after two years as a high school principal, and 20 years as superintendent of schools, he thought that a change of pace was in order, and so entered the insurance business. When he retired in 1957 he was general agent for the United Life and Accident Insurance Company in Concord, N. H. Shortly after retirement, he suffered a coronary attack which laid him up for a time. Frank is now acting as a golf "pro" at the New Hampshire State Hospital, where he is donating his time for the welfare of patients and to advance their therapy.

Elmer True of Hope, Maine, where he has spent his life in canning fruits and vegetables, has now retired from the canning business. Elmer and Mrs. True have four children, all four are graduates of the University of Maine.

Edward I. Glezer of Bangor, who graduated from the University Law School in 1914 was recently elected President of the Maine Federation of Humane Societies.

1916 Mrs. Evelyn W. Harmon
(Evelyn Winship)
Livermore Falls

Altho it seems a long time ago now, I would like to tell of the delightful time we had at our Reunion at the Penobscot Valley Country Club last June during Commencement. Everyone seemed to have a very pleasant evening. We owe many thanks to our President, "Lew" (Lewis O.) Barrows, for our good time. He seemed to have done all the planning, and made all the preparations. We were glad to welcome William R. Nugent of Jackson Heights, N. Y., who was back for the first time since he graduated. He is retired, has one son and one granddaughter.

We were most proud that our President, "Lew" (Lewis O.) Barrows, was presented the Alumni Service Emblem at the Alumni Banquet, in recognition of his outstanding service to the University. He is the fourth member of our class to receive this award. The other recipients are Thomas Mangin, Myron Peabody, and Thomas Weeks.

I want to thank Maynard Dodge of Boothbay for his contribution to my class expense account. Maynard has been retired since 1945, except for six years as agent for two local shipyards, building mine sweepers for the U.S. Navy. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and gardening, also cabinet work.

These are a few of the news items which I gathered at Commencement. Robert G. Blanchard of Trenton, N. J., is retired, and enjoying it. He spends long summer seasons at Cousins Island, Yarmouth.

Norman Small was working for N. J. Public Service, but expected to retire in August.

Jack Leacock, Sr., of Holyoke, Mass., has a son and daughter, and seven grandchildren.

Marlborough Packard of Bonita Springs, Fla., and Sebec Lake retired Jan. 1959. His hobbies are gardening, fishing, bee hunting, and painting.

On Aug. 24, there was a small, but very enjoyable and interesting reunion of '16ers at my daughter's home here in Livermore Falls. Helen Norris (Mrs. Harold) Bidwell of Bloomfield, Conn., who has a cottage at Androscoggin Lake in Wayne, came and brought with her Florence Greenleaf of Auburn. Marion Plummer (Mrs. Louis B.) Cook with her husband and 10 year old grandson, Steven, drove up from Newport where they were vacationing. Their home is in Rockland. We had such a lovely afternoon and evening, talking all the time, and asking all kinds of questions about old friends and classmates.

I was very sorry to learn of the recent death of Roy H. Genthner of Waldoboro. I am sure that the members of the class extend their sympathy to his family.

1917 Mrs. William F. West
(Helen L. Danforth)
191A Broadway, Bangor
45th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

Greetings to you all! I am still buried in gardening, and have had a very busy summer. Visits from fourteen grandchildren and all the meetings at the garden of nearby Garden Clubs, keep me from having many idle minutes. I have a few items for you, but mostly they are changes in addresses. I know that many of you are doing interesting things, and I so wish that you would write me about them.

Abraham M. Rudman has been nominated by Governor Reed for a second 7-year term as a justice of the Superior Court.

Alton M. Porter, South Paris, has been elected Treasurer of the Maine State Society of Washington.

Parkman A. Collins, who for many years has been New England District Manager of Warren Pumps, Inc., has recently retired.

Dick McKown has come back to Bar Harbor as a Vice President for new business, at the Bar Harbor Banking and Trust Company. Dick left there in 1944 to become Executive Vice President of the Wellesley (Mass.) National Bank. I have no home address for him, as yet.

Charles Crossland, who retired in June from his position as Vice President of Administration at the University, was honored by many campus organizations. Among them were the reception for faculty and staff members who were retiring, and the annual Memorial Union Recognition Banquet.

Here are several new addresses:

Edmund J. Dempsey, 703 West Shore Trail, Sparta, New Jersey.

William A. Simpson, Harrisville Road, Woodstock, R.F.D. 2, Putnam, Conn.

Mabel Murray Dixon, c/o Ohio Trailer Park, Sarasota, Florida.

1918 Mr. Francis Head
208 Essex St., Bangor

This is a Retiring Class. At the Alumni Luncheon in June, these members of the faculty stood up to be "counted out": Harold C. Swift, Asst. Prof. Ag. Eng. Walter J. Creamer, head of Elect. Eng. Fred L. Webster, County Agent, Belfast. Harry D. Watson, head of Mech. Eng. who deserted to '20. And not present, but retiring, also, was O'Dillion Charles Turner, Asst. to Faculty Housing.

Dean of Tech. Wes Evans isn't retiring yet, but was presented an honorary membership in the U. of M. chapter of American Soc. of C.E., for his years as faculty adviser. We met in June and regretted the lack of notices for a class meeting.

Moves—maybe retired?

Donald M. Libby from Portland to Box 33, Limerick.

Leigh P. Gardner, from Togus to 36 Bangor St., Augusta.

Harvard C. Townsend from Towson, Md. to 7924 Springway Road, P.O. Box 161, Riderwood, Md.

Our treasurer (don't forget $2 class dues) Ray Atherton, 20 N. Main, Orono, is Veep of the Maine Cooperative Council, representing Blueberries.

Satevepost July 29 has an article "Maine's Sweetest Crop" which refers to extension agent Ralph C. Wentworth '18 who wants to develop a strain of bees that's not so lazy.

Here are 10 more lost souls: Russell B. Kennett, Frank S. Kerr, Balshazzar Kurkjian, Hazel M. Lawlis (Mrs. Hazel Amadon), Lester H. Leighton, John M. McGrath, Lewis E. Libby, Columbus Ellis Lord, Joseph A. Marquis, Mary E. McCann (Mrs. Walter S. Higgins), Raymond J. McCarthy, Miss Helen McGinnis. Send me any information you have on their whereabouts.

1920 Miss M. Eleanor Jackson, C.L.U.
202 Samuel Appleton Building
110 Milk Street
Boston 9, Massachusetts

Our ever clever and original Zeke Deering sent out announcements. The front of the folder has "Extra, Extra, New Tax Deduction." Inside, "We two Deerings want you to meet Zeke who arrived at 65, and are we happy!"

Verne Beverly, now living in Patten, writes, "I am fully retired now and we (Amy and I) are spending the summer at our cottage at Shin Pond. Our plans are not complete for the winter, but for the past four years we have spent much of the winter on Long Boat Key, Sarasota, Fla. Last fall S. R. (Rex) and Helen Buzzell spent a week end with us at camp and we surely swapped memories. I saw Rex last week when he, as "Potentate" of Anah Temple, was guest at the Northern Maine Fair. I spent the afternoon and evening with him. We've had a couple of side trips, one to Nova Scotia. I attended the New England County Agent Meeting at Boothbay Harbor in June. I still try to keep up my Extension and U. of M. contacts. Will see you at Homecoming if all goes well."

Gerald Atwood of Perry, writes, "Dick Howell left here this morning after a week end visit. He teaches Math at Hampden Academy. Gerard Nickerson is Security officer at Cutler. V.L.F. U.S.N. Very low frequency. As to myself I am an Accountant and Tax consultant, semi retired. Keep busy in order to keep from going nuts. My wife (Margaret) has a yarn and gift shop in Perry. It is located on the wide place on route one in Washington County. We have been here a little over eight years. Am a grandfather five times, four girls, one boy."

Frank Barton's secretary telephoned that Frank was on vacation until after Labor Day, so could not send us news. Frank's efficient secretary is doing an excellent and gracious job in handling Frank's public relations. Last spring Portland and Boston papers had stories with picture. Dr. Frank was named outstanding medical alumnus of the year by the Boston University School of Medicine Alumni Association. Frank is a trustee of B.U., assistant professor of Clinical Surgery at their medical school, and former president of the general alumni association of B.U.

Minerva French Anderson writes, "I am still 'humping around' at the same old pace but with no thought of retiring; somehow I feel that I would age very fast if I broke connection with the young people; they fascinate me. Poor things. What do you suppose the future holds for them in this confusing world? Are they going to fight the fourth war of our lifetime? Have we messed things up for them? Guess we're happier if we do not know the answers." Minerva is a teacher of science at Stephens High, Rumford.

40th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

We have a 40 year graduation period next June and you will be hearing more about it in this column. It seems to be so often the case that news comes from our Alumni office, and I am sure that is as it should be. However, this is my fondest hope that many of you will feel the urge to aid your secretary in making our column of interest as we approach our reporting year. It might be of interest to know that the Alumni office reports 194 active members of our class, and 77 lost, or whereabouts unknown. Some of them were at Orono for one year, only. However, if you know of any person who has attended our University and is not on our lists, please send a note to Miss Mollison, or myself.

Frederick F. and Catherine (Sargent) Marston are now living at Sargentville. Fred has retired as vice president of Indiana Bell Telephone. They are happy to be back in Maine.

Several Maine newspapers gave excellent publicity to our classmate, Charles L. Eastman, of Auburn, after the award he received in May—the United States Department of Agriculture's Superior Service Award. The award was received from Secretary Orville Freeman, and the news article indicates that no one in Maine ever has matched Eastman's 36 years of service as a county agent. To congratulate Charles for doing such a splendid job seems to me most inadequate. However, Charles, please accept it from your classmates. Best wishes for your future years. And, we will be expecting to hear some details about that proposed trailer tour over the U. S.

George K. Cobb, teacher and well known coach, has resigned his position as Principal of Potter Academy, Sebago.

Theodore Shirley Currier is chairman of the History Dept. at Fisk University, Nashville 8, Tenn. Herbert S. Brasseur has been promoted to executive assistant at the Haverhill division of the Merrimack-Essex Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. L. Caulfield's daughter Celeste, received a degree at the Trinity College, Wash., D. C., Commencement last June.

The most interesting news from the Little family is that they participated in a reunion of four of Maine's University presidents on August first at the Haucks' camp. Presidents Elliott, Hauck, Boardman, and Little were there with their ladies. It was a delightful occasion and a rare case of fellowship which included a span of forty years of university administration. We wondered how many such meetings could have taken place anywhere else in the world. All ages from 86 to 40 were in fine fettle.

May I urge you class members to send in more news during this coming year? Please do.

1926 Mrs. Trygve Heistad
(Shirley Roberts)
503 Riverside Dr., Augusta

By now you have received the report of our 35th Class Reunion. We hope to see you all back for the 40th. Here are a few items gleaned from those who were present and from some who were unable to come but sent notes.

Jessie (Wood) Hussey: Employed at Ludlow Corporation, Needham Heights, as Lab. Technician. She has two sons, Stewart and Harold, and five grandchildren.

Edith (Beale) Bailey, New Sharon, Maine: does occasional substitute teaching.

Emery W. Tapley "Tap": Works for Consolidated Vacuum Corp. in Rochester, N. Y.

Edgar C. Coffin: Was there with his daughter, who graduated that weekend from U. of M. and his son, who was back for his tenth reunion, and his wife, Edna Brown Coffin, Class of '25.

Margaret (Fraser) Feeny "Peg": Lives in Exeter, N. H., with her husband, Bill, who is town Manager. Peg teaches English in Seabrook Jr. High School.

Murray Hamilton: Was there with his wife and two daughters, one of whom graduated this year from the University.

Kenneth Barker: I regret to state lost his wife in 1960 after a long illness. Ken was present at the dinner but had to leave as his son Daniel, was to receive his Ph.D. from Princeton that weekend. "Ken" is serving his 20th year as superintendent at Jefferson Camp.

Christine Beckett: Unable to come to the Reunion. She runs a tourist business in Calais, Maine.

Wallis M. Barrows "Bump" unable to attend as his daughter, Mary Ellen, graduated from Penn. State at that time.

Edgar Cyr: Unable to attend as Ralph, his youngest son, was getting married that weekend.

George and Esther (Thompson) Thompson: Unable to come—both are teaching at Asbury Park High School, N. J. They have a son, George Jr., an electronics engineer and a daughter, Anna Jane Sullivan, who lives in San Francisco. The Thompsons have one grandchild.

Of course there were many others there too many to mention them all in this column; such old faithfuls as Ginger and Mabel Fraser, I. B. Kelley, and his wife, "Brick Little," Louis Lebet, "Hap" Crozier, Freddie Newhall, Oscar Wyman, and Wally Elliot—to name a few.

Oscar Wyman reports that the following have already sent Class Donations: Laforest Saulsbury, Edward F. Stanton, Elizabeth Wadsworth, Guilbert Little, Wilhelmina F. Dunning, John Donald Babb, and Ernest B. Scott.

As for the Heistads we have added one more grandchild with the birth of David Eron Flory to our daughter Anna Marie, in Boston. This makes our fourth grandchild.

Have a nice '61-62 season and keep those news items coming in, please.

1927 Mrs. Edgar Bogan

35th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

I was delighted to receive a note from Dorothy Q. (Taylor) Garvin—just too late for the June issue. She was looking forward to the graduation of their younger son from Bates in June. Their older son was Maine '56. Since 1954 Dorothy has been Librarian at the Springvale Public Library. Nice to hear from you, Dorothy, and if I had not been so busy moving across town this summer you would have heard from me sooner.

Leon Sanborn received a nice writeup in the Portland Telegram for May 14th. Leon is executive vice president and secretary of the York Mutual Insurance Co. of Maine in West Buxton. He has served as principal of Abbot High School in New Gloucester and for twelve years traveled the New England area as a salesman. He enjoyed three terms in the state legislature and served on the governor's council during the administrations of both Gov. Cross and Gov. Muskie. He was recently reelected grand master of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Maine. In addition he has served in various capacities as a citizen of the town of Gorham. We can well be proud of him.

H. Russell Beatty, President of Wentworth Institute, was the recipient in June of the James H. McGraw Award in Technical Institute Education at Lexington, Ky. This should come as no surprise to you as I have brought you up to date on his activities previously. However national recognition is always a source of pride. Congratulations, Russ. I have a few changes of address:

Carleton H. Lewis is now at 35 Roxbury Place, Glen Rock, New Jersey. No details.

Joseph H. Loble's present address is 5023 Lilac Lane, Dallas 9, Texas. How about getting back to that June reunion?

John R. Anderson, 63 Gloria St., Windsor, Conn., is an Investigator, Dept. of Justice, I. and N. Service.

Michael Lawrence Lavorgna, 4782 North Cumberland Blvd., Whitefish Bay, Milwaukee, Wis. How about some news, Mike?

Mrs. Ralph H. Allee (Ruth Hitchings) Box 2270, Djakarta, Indonesia. Ruth doesn't seem to get closer to us but we would love to hear from her.

And now our best wishes to Hazel (Wood) Snow who has recently married Capt. O. R. Rugh and is now residing at 214A Jupiter Street, Sheppard A.F.B., Texas.

I am happy to report that Dick Dolloff is making an excellent recovery from a serious illness this summer.

And now shall I say that it is nice to be back with you after the summer layoff? And plan NOW for Reunion in June.

1928 Mrs. William B. Ledger
(Emma Thompson)

75 Woodmont St., Portland 4
Waldo Hill, City Engineer for Augusta, will receive the American Public Works Assn. Samuel A. Greeley Service Award in September at the Public Works Congress in Minneapolis, Minn. This award is for more than 30 years of service.

Dave Stevens, chairman of Maine State Highway Commission, was prominent in a photo of Gov. Reed signing a bill that bans billboards along most of the interstate highway in Maine. What a wonderful bill!

Prof. Russell M. Bailey departed a little from genetic studies to speak on strawberry varieties and cultural systems at the University's annual Farm and Home Week. It was a very popular program.

Lillian (Rudman) Unobsky's son is engaged to Nancy R. Goldstein, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Goldstein, Rochester, N. Y. The word is, "If the boy is anything like his father he will be heard from in the future."

Attorney Gerald Wass '54, occupies an office suite on the second floor of Hancock County's newest banking office, The Blue Hill Branch of Bar Harbor Banking and Trust Co. Gerry is Lester Wass' son. My most heartfelt thanks to Dave Fuller for the clipping.

Fred and Jeanette Thompson have gone to Claremont, Calif. This is the start of a six month sabbatical for Fred at the University of Southern California School of Theology, "Meg" Thompson, '61, will be taking graduate work at the University of Southern California at Los Angeles in telecommunications. Son William is studying at the University of the Witwatersrand, in Johannesburg, South Africa, where he is working for his master's degree in the field of African Studies.

1930 Mrs. Ernest J. Pero
(Jeanette Roney)

11 West End Ave., Westboro, Mass.
Just back from a vacation in Maine, and I'm late with the news. The summer has been brief—too short to accomplish all the things I wanted to do. I hate to think I must face the angry mob on Tues.

Frank and Ruth (Shurtleff) '35 Goodwin have just returned from a pleasant trip through the West with their two daughters. They visited Yellowstone, Glacier, Rocky Mt., and Mesa Verde parks. They enjoyed the Grand Tetons and Black Hills as well as other points of interest. Their older daughter Penny is a senior at Nasson College, and the younger daughter Pam is a freshman at Maine.

Hector Hebert was chairman of publicity and tickets at the May dance of Dexter High School. Hector has taught in Dexter for many years and his daughter Marcia is a sophomore at Maine. He now has moved to Yarmouth where he teaches at Yarmouth High School.

One of the corporate members of the newly organized Alonzo J. Harriman Associates, Inc., second largest architectural firm in N. E., is Stephen Drottar of Lisbon Falls. The firm is currently doing work for the U. of M. and Limestone AFB, school studies including team teaching units in conjunction with the University. They recently completed a starch factory in Houlton.

Elected officers at the annual meeting of the Maine Hereford Assn. included Paul Wadsworth of Hiram as president.

Horace Pratt of Orono, representing the Maine Assn. of Engineers, was one of those who planned the N. E. District meeting of the American Society of Testing Materials.

Don Caverly has been appointed Director of Engineering at the General Time Corp. He will be responsible for over-all engineering and research. He is author of several books on basic electronics. Formerly a resident of Darien, he and his family now reside at Ferry Point, Old Saybrook, Conn.

The Superintendent of Public Works in the town of Wellesley, Mass., is Horace Estey. He took over the newly organized department in 1955 after many years in public utilities and management in Maine.

The Bangor and Aroostook R. R. received an award from the Newspaper Advertising Executives Assn., Inc. Kenneth Ludden accepted the citation for the B & A.

The eastern section of the state attended an all day conference of librarians and library trustees at the Orono Public Library in May. In charge was Vera Hill, librarian at Orono for many years.

At my 35th reunion of Deering High School Alumni this summer, I chatted briefly with Kathryn Hutchinson Curtis. She has a seven year old son and looks wonderful, but I didn't find out what she is doing at present. Her address is West Buxton, R.F.D.

Removed from the lost list is Philip Cann, Capt. U. S. N. ret. His address is 458 W. 10St., Erie, Pa. He is Field Engineer of Zern Ind. in Erie.

We have also found Emerson Stymiest, USACAG, APO 757 US Army, N. Y., N. Y. He is a civil engineer in Civil Service and has been in Germany since 1946.

Can't you find your class column?
There's a reason for it—see Page 35.

When the June column went to press, time and space permitted only the fact that Homer "Pat" Huddleston was married in April to Mrs. George Long. The wedding took place April 8, in the Chapel of St. Cecelia in Reading, Pa. The bride, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William A. Heizmann of Wyomissing, Pa., was graduated from Rosemont College and is a member of the Berkshire Country Club and the Junior League of Reading. "Pat" attended Harvard School of Business and is a member of the Berkshire Country Club and the Harvard Club of New York City. Many good wishes go to you, Anne and Pat.

Walter "Sunny" Sundstrom of North Berwick was recently elected Junior High School Math teacher at Berwick. After doing graduate study at the University of New Hampshire, he taught math at Farmington (N. H.) High School four years and during the past year taught in Wells High.

John P. Jasonis is now living at 1125 Windsor Way, Menlo Park, Calif. He is working for General Electric (Microwave Tube Lab) in Palo Alto.

J. Weldon Russell as Supt. of Schools in Lewiston must have had an interesting experience as when the May deadline for returning signed contracts for the coming school year arrived, none of the 157 teachers signed them, holding firm for requested $200-300 pay hikes. I'm not current on the situation there but I hope that it all turned out well.

Mrs. Jack Grenfell (Clarine Coffin) is still very much in demand as a speaker. At the May 9 meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church of Collinsville, Conn., she was the guest speaker, her topic being: "What the Church and Home Should do that the School Can't Do." In addition to her many civic duties, she has served as state chairman of Phi Mu Alumnae Assoc.

Since we are a Reunion class, we will be permitted space in every one of the six issues of the Maine Alumnus this year, so please send me news of you and yours. It's not too early to be making plans to attend our 30th in June '62. Hope you all had a wonderful summer!

1934 Mrs. Donald P. Corbett
("Frankie" Dean)
Waterville, Rt. 3

Greetings!! Hope all have had a wonderful summer.

Isadore L. Alpert of 266 French St., Bangor, has a son Stephen M. who is one of 40 freshmen "so eminently well qualified that they don't have to start as beginners." They have been selected to enter Boston University's new unified six-year program of medical education. Our classmate's son graduated from Bangor High where he was active in Band and Orchestra. He is an Eagle Honor Society of the Boy Scouts. Stephen is the only Maine student named for the course at Boston U. We're proud with you, Alpert.

Dr. John E. Smith is chief of the research division of the Bureau of Aviation Medicine, Federal Aviation Agency. After graduating from Maine John graduated from the Univ. of Vermont Medical School. He interned at Methodist Hospital, N.Y.C., and took a one year residency at Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y. He practiced in Bangor for five years before joining the Army. He became base surgeon in London for the Air Transport Command. Since 1948 Dr. John has been with the Civil Aeronautics Admin., now the Federal Aviation Agency. He has been deputy chief of its medical division since 1955.

Bradford Junior College students honored our friend and classmate, Dr. Harold A. Davis of Calais, last spring by dedicating their yearbook, the 1961 Annals to him. Dr. Davis received his Ph.D. at Columbia University and has been a member of the Bradford faculty since 1944.

In his Class Gift Fund letter of June 8, 1960, and again at Reunion last June, Actor Abbott promised the members of 1936 a final report on the class of 1936 Student Loan Fund as of the time of its presentation to the University. Accordingly, Actor has asked that the following fund statistics be published for your information:

Class members contributing	98
Total contributed by Class members	$3370.20
General Electric participation, matching Class member contribution	50.00
Proceeds of matured life insurance policy purchased at graduation	1130.59
Interest on savings account	103.86
Total receipts	$4654.65
Expense for preparing and mailing five Class letters, and preparing personal-contact campaign material	131.20

Net amount of fund at presentation to the University on June 10, 1961 $4523.45

In his letter, Actor also says "—and please convey my thanks, once more, to every one who participated in the Fund effort. It should be recognized by all concerned that we presented the largest twenty-five-year Class gift in the history of the University, by a substantial margin. Obviously, our purpose could not have been achieved without the wonderful support and help of all the loyal classmates who were involved. Now that we have established a memorial of which we can be proud, I trust everyone will forgive me for the constant pleading and badgering of the past five years! Also, I hope the Class will support Darrel Currie, the new Fund Chairman, in his efforts to augment the Fund at our thirtieth Reunion."

1937 Edwin H. Bates

25th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

I'm sure we all appreciated Alice Stewart's interesting news columns during the past year. With your kind help in supplying items, we hope to do as well in this—our 25th reunion year.

On the academic side we learn that Carroll Jones received his Doctor of Education degree from Cornell in September, 1960 and is now Assistant Professor of Agricultural Education at the University of Massachusetts. Carroll's home address is 155 State Street, Amherst, Mass.

Les Smith completed his residence requirements for his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin last year and has now returned to his position as Extension Agronomist at Purdue University. Les and his family live at 800 Hitt Street, Lafayette, Ind.

While at Wisconsin working on my Master's degree we enjoyed a day in Milwaukee with Jerry Stoughton and his family who live at 3430 West Pelican Lane. Jerry is with an electronics component manufacturing concern there.

We had hoped to see Shirley Parsons and his family who live at 1610 Riverwood Ave., Wisconsin Rapids, but graduate school activity had a way of restricting our extracurriculars.

Between the end of my year of study and returning to the University of Maine, I was privileged to serve as one of a three-man team of consultants for ICA in Jamaica. We worked with administrators and supervisors of the eight agencies and organizations that carry on extension programs in agriculture, home economics, and youth in that country.

Address changes which have come to our attention include the following:

Phil Mealey from Dexter to 8 Gilmore Street, Brewer. Phil is Principal of Brewer High School.

Mrs. Lawrence (Josie Snare) Dwyer from So. Hamilton, Mass. to 286 Church Street, Berlin, N. H.

Mrs. Axel (Barbara Young) Magnuson who with her husband Axel, and daughter Julie now live at 17977 Buckingham, Birmingham, Michigan. Mr. Magnuson is owner of Birmingham Flowers and Julie is a junior at the University of Michigan.

Plan now: (1) to send along news items, and (2) to attend our 25th in June.

1938 Mr. Robert L. Fuller
31 Andrews Ave., Falmouth Foreside

I can tell that school has started by the column I have to write—wow—what a fast summer, or is it our age?

I can see that Fort Benning is in good hands. Col. Dick Healy has recently been appointed Director of Instruction of the Infantry School there. Dick and his wife have three boys and one of the other—the oldest is a 2nd Lt.

Al Hamm has changed his address to 4236 Campus Ave., San Diego, Calif.

Did attend the Boston Alumni dance last June and had a most stimulating evening with the Buzz Sherrys and the Rod Elliotts. Buzz has since moved to Manhasset, Long Island, N. Y. (350 Nassau Ave.) and Rod has (or expects to shortly) moved to Hamilton, N. Y. What a saintly pair they must have made while rooming together in New York City last spring!

Spent a most pleasant evening recently (August) in Camden and Rockland with Dwight & Betty Lord (vacationing from Washington, D. C.), Charley Lowe and Wilma, and John and Eleanor Haggett. Charley has really gone head over mane into horse shows or show horses—they have more ribbons than the well known Gibson girl.

Also spent a most enlightening evening at Gowell's tent at the Sebago Lake Tenting Grounds in August. Guess he's really gone in for this "back to nature bit"—alho he and Nina did seem to enjoy our more modern bathroom and bed the next night. I guess sleeping bags and four in a tent does have its drawbacks.

Barbara (Ware) Orr has moved back to Wilton after a year at So. Portland.

Also, it was rumored that Bob Schoppe was seen late this summer splashing around the Allagash region—must be part Indian!

Dick Ireland was back in Maine this summer but our paths never crossed.

Vincent D. Strout, Fairfield, Conn., has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel within the U. S. Air Force Reserve. Col. Strout who resides at 142 Oldfield Rd., Fairfield, is assistant headmaster and director of guidance at Andrew Warde High School, in Fairfield. He is a native of Jay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. (Edith Thomas) Sanborn have moved to 125 First Parish Rd., Scituate, Mass. Ralph '39 is a mechanical engineer.

By the way, we have less than two years to go to our 25th. How about some contributions to Dunc Cotting for our 25th Reunion Fund—we've got to really dig to top the class of 1936 with their $4523.45—and it isn't going to get any easier by waiting.

"Live dangerously—
Give generously—
In '63."

1940 Mrs. Edward K. Brann
(Anne Perry)
Hampden Highlands, Box 78

Seems as if I haven't done too well by '40 of late. Teaching at Bangor High (third year now—mathematics), plus keeping up with the multifarious activities of six children (two in high school) doesn't leave much time even to think about much of anything else!

Had a wonderful letter from Althea Warner last spring. Remember what a fine musician she was? She spent a pleasant day with Edwin and Phyllis (Smart) Young and their family while she was at the U. of Wisconsin for a regional meeting of Nursery School people. Althea herself has done teaching in a cooperative nursery school, and helped train college students in the field. She is now director of the day nursery at Karamu House, an international center for Greater Cleveland, and has been studying for her doctorate at Penn. State. She says she sometimes catches the Maine meeting in Cleveland, and had fun canvassing for the Arthur Hauck Building Fund. Guess she was responsible for at least a part of '40's total! How about it classmates—can't we swell the numbers and the total sum? Althea's address: 15900 Invermere Rd., Cleveland 28, Ohio.

William Dimick has been appointed associate director of the co-operative program of New Haven College, and will be responsible for the "on-the-job" training NHC students receive during college in local business and industry. Bill was formerly a teacher of science and mathematics at Old Lyme High School, Conn., and had a National Science Foundation grant for advanced work in chemistry and physics last summer.

James Finnigan, assistant vice president of the Merchants National Bank of Bangor, in the Time Sales Dept., attended the School of Banking at Williams College this summer. Jay has done a study of credit cases and a written analysis of automobile financing.

Margaret Mollison passed on to me a letter from Alice Ann (Donovan) Poeppelmeier, with the exciting news that they are to be the host family for the German exchange high school student (AFS) this school year. Alice Ann's "new daughter" is Marian Mappes, 16, from Osnabruk, Germany, and a senior—a classmate for Anne, who was herself one of three finalists at Glastonbury H. S. Alice Ann has heard that Lucille (Fogg, '39) Baldwin's son, Robert, 16, was in Europe this summer, also under AFS. Alice Ann's comment: "There is increasing interest in this program, and when you see these teen-agers together, you can't help but feel this is the solution to world peace and unity." To that, I say, "Amen!" having seen it working at Bangor High—we had a wonderful boy here last year, from Costa Rica. Alice Ann's address: Mrs. Vincent E. Poeppelmeier, 9 Coleman Rd., Glastonbury, Conn.

More next time, friends, and please write to me—it's pretty discouraging to write a column from a few newspaper clippings!

1942 Mrs. Gilbert Y. Taverner
(Betty Barker Kilpatrick)
80 Vernon St., Brookline 46, Mass.
20th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

Although the following news is now several months old, it will be of interest to you, I'm sure. It came to us by way of a Sports Editorial from the Portland Evening Express—a two column spread and a real tribute to Cliff Blake. Cliff "hung up his arbirer's spikes" last spring following a twelve year stint as one of the top umpires on the state's school boy and collegiate baseball scene. Cliff, who is the popular director of Youth Activities at the Portland YMCA, says giving up this umpiring was one of the hardest things he's ever had to do, for he loved every minute of it; unfortunately a back ailment is the reason behind his decision. The source of our information also reveals, "many who watched his college play have said had his career not been interrupted by World War II he might have made the grade in the major leagues; following the war he did engage in semi-pro ball and capped his playing career with the Portland Pilots and a New England League batting crown in 1947."

Ken Field's activity in the town of Wellsville, N. Y., where he makes his home and works for Worthington Pump, is really a continuing thing! His latest is that he is currently serving as Acting Mayor. He has been a Director of the Allegany County Consultation Center since 1958, a coach in the Little League since 1955; he is a past president of the United Fund, member of the local Chamber of Commerce and Greater Wellsville Industry, and a Past Pres. and Director of the Lions Club. His job with Worthington is Manager of Employee and Community Relations.

Bill Hepburn, Timber Unit Mgr. of the Diamond National Corporation of Oakland, was recently elected president of the Maine Truck Owners Association.

Rae (Hurd) Smith and her family have moved from Forest Ave. in Orono to 124 Main St., so it's easier than ever to stop and say hello to them whenever you go through Orono!

Robert Kelley's latest address is 2132 Roswood Dr., San Jose 24, Calif. He is with Lockheed, Missiles and Space Div., Head Analysis Section.

Don Griffice is now with the Great Northern Paper Co. and the family has moved from Orono to 423 Aroostook Ave., Millinocket.

George Murphy is at 1265 Kenmore Ave., Kenmore 23, N. Y.

As you look up the hill toward next vacation time, remember we have a 20th Reunion coming up early next June!! Why not try to plan some time off to take that in—with the whole family!

1944 Mrs. E. Palmer Ingalls, Jr.
(Joyce R. Iveney)
271 Main St., Calais

This is a new address for us, but, if you forget the street, Calais is all you need, and I enjoy hearing from all of you.

"Mac" Libbey had a good response from the dues letters, and here is some of the news.

Albert Crockett, 153 15th St., New Cumberland, Pa., works at the capitol in Harrisburg as an accountant, and sees Will Johns now and again.

Priscilla Hopkins Parsons was to have moved to Washington in July and promised to send her new address.

L. Bradley Bunker, 210 Chatterton Pkwy., White Plains, N. Y., was planning to be at the University this summer to study mathematics.

Albert Ehrenfried, Oxbow Rd., Concord, Mass., reported a son, James Russell, 7 months old. "Al" is president of his own company, Technical Marketing Associates, Inc.

Carrie H. Rowe, 500 French St., Bangor, expected to retire from teaching in June.

Lawrence W. Soule, 29 Second Ave., Augusta, teaches and coaches at Cony High.

Thanks to "Box Car" Jones (Fred), 131 Kaha St., Kailua, Oahu, Hawaii, for being so kind to Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls, Sr., when they were in Hawaii last winter.

As far as I know Mrs. Sumner (Mary Fogler) Claverie, R.F.D. No. Hampton, N. H., has the record for children in our class. They are Ann, 17, Dorothy, 15, Jim, 13, Link, 12, Charley, 11, Martha, 4, Margery, 16 months. My hat is off to you, Mary.

Mary Esther (Treat) Clark, 3332 No. Bentley Ave., Tucson, Arizona, wrote an interesting account of their life there. "Don" is director of business development for Tucson Savings and Loan Assn., and Mary Esther does part time research work in radio and T. V. Their children are Ann, 8 and Chip, 4½.

Ted Phillips, 215 Tuttle Pkwy., Westfield, N. J., reported a fourth daughter born Oct. 31, 1960.

Charles C. Rowley III, 171 Carlos Grana Elizalde, San Isidro, Lima, Peru, S.A., is Gen. Mgr. Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co. He visits Chili, Bolivia, and Ecuador, and was in the U. S. last year.

Bob Brundage, 34 Franklin St., Ext. Danbury, Conn., is an underwriter for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. George and Helen (Clifford) Millay, R.F.D. 2, Richmond, write that their oldest son, Dave, has been chosen to go to Germany as an exchange student this fall.

Ruth (Bunker) Ellis, York Beach, has teen-agers now. Tim, 16½, Kate, 14½, and Marcia, 12½.

Everett Franklin Whitney's address is 2950 Holiday Lane, Shreveport, La.

Donald Bean has been made loss manager for Vermont Mutual Fire Ins. Co., and will supervise claims for all states where the company does business.

"Midi" (Wooster) Roberts writes that her husband is now Director of Sports Information, Dartmouth College. A third child, and second son, was born in June, 1960. Her address is 7 Valley Rd., Hanover, N. H.

1946 Mrs. Charles D. Stebbins
(Betty Perkins)
29 Oxford St., Winchester, Mass.

Here we are in a brand new fall season and here I am with a brand new job. I will try my best to keep you posted as to what our classmates are doing these days. Will you please help me by sending along any news you might have? Thank you very much.

Wish you could all have been at Reunion. We missed those of you who couldn't make it. It was such fun for those of us who were there.

Jean Ross Nelson and Joanne Potter Robart drove to Reunion together, Jean coming from Darien, Conn. and Joanne from Needham, Mass. They stopped in Westbrook on the way and had lunch with Virginia Merchant Hoy. She and Joe were all ready to load their trailer to start a six weeks trip across the country with their handsome family of six children.

Shirley Hathaway Sibley is at home at 9 School St., Veazie. Aside from keeping busy taking care of a husband and three children, Shirley is active in the Orono Choral Society, Eastern Ass'n of University Women, PTA and church work. Shirley was on the program committee for Reunion.

Constance Cooper writes that she plans to be at the University of Chicago beginning in Sept., working on Ph.D. program in Social Sciences and Adult Education.

Charles (Hal) Jack and wife Doris Vollmer '49 came to Reunion from Elmhurst, Ill. Hal is active in politics in Elmhurst. Hal and Doris live at 290 Geneva Ave.

Virginia (Tufts) and Joe Chaplin announce that Sarah Gwynne Chaplin came to join their family July 5, 1961. They are most happy to see her even though her expected arrival kept them from Reunion. Ginny and Joe have three other children—James 12, William 10, and Anne 5. Their home is a lovely house on a hill in Auburn with a beautiful view of the lake. The address is Oak Hill Rd., East Auburn.

Marion Crocker Kennedy (Mrs. William B.) was back for reunion. Marion has four children, Bradford 11, Barbara 10, Jonathan 6, and David 4. The Kennedys live at 27 Baker St., Foxboro, Mass.

Barbara (Powers) Davis and husband Grant '43 made it to Orono from Festus, Mo. and claimed the prize for coming the longest distance to attend reunion. Barbie and Grant live at 1215 N. 5th St., Festus, Mo. Their children are Roy 16, and Nancy 12.

George Chalmers made a fine program chairman for reunion. He and his committee made the Bangor House dinner a huge success. George and his wife, Rita, live at 233 Clyde Rd., Bangor. Their children are Dale 9, and Susan 11. George is manager of a wholesale hardware business.

Patricia Stickney Davis and husband Donald '50 are living in Guilford. Pat brought her oldest daughter to Orono during reunion and we were happy to meet her, and have her meet our big girl, Martha.

Evelyn Shaw Moulton and husband Arthur '41 were a happy sight to see. The years really rolled away as Evie and I talked about the days we were at Balentine Hall. Evie and Art live at 819 Hillcrest Rd., Orange, Conn. with son David who is 10.

Judith Fielder Harris (Mrs. Edward) spent 22 hours getting from her home in Fayetteville, N. Y. to Orono for reunion. Plane cancellations, low ceilings and tardy buses couldn't keep her away, tho, and she finally arrived in Orono Saturday morning after riding on a bus all night.

Probably for the only time in my career as sec., I have to say so long before I have run out of news. This is wonderful. Until next time.....

15th Reunion, June 8-9-10, 1962

This summer has gone by so fast I hardly had time to figure out some way of hearing from some of the classmates. From those I have heard this summer, I do appreciate their news. Next June is our 15th Reunion—let's make some plans soon to make it a memorable one.

A nice long letter from Capt. and Mrs. B. Roland Babcock (Jeanne Heartz) telling us that they had moved from Colorado Springs, Colo., to 6402 W. Sells Dr., Phoenix 33, Ariz. this summer. Roland has gone off active duty (but is still a Capt. in the Air Force Reserve) and is working for General Electric in the Computer Hdqs. at Phoenix.

A new address for Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Hathorn, Jr., is 5 Purnell Ave., Cinnimin Hill, Palmyra, New Jersey.

Robert Grumley's present address is 510 San Juan Drive, Coral Gables, Florida, and that his occupation now is with the U. S. Army.

A most interesting article on Joanne Funger was sent to me recently. Joanne attended the Univ. of Me. for one year, then went on to Fordham. She worked as a legal secretary in New York City before moving to Time magazine. One of her latest assignments was collecting the facts on Russian cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin whose picture was on the cover of Time last spring. Another important assignment was the Andrea Doria sinking. "I was there by myself for Time. Life had several people covering it," Joanne explains. "Then I covered the trial afterward"... Officials at Loyola Univ. of Chicago are thinking seriously of giving Joanne an honorary master's degree. They estimate that work done on the average Time cover story is almost the equivalent of a master's thesis.

Another glorious summer is almost at an end as I sit to write this column. It is such a pleasant time of year, we hate to see it go.

Two graduates from Maine's public management course have made the news since I last wrote. John P. Bibber, who has been Old Town's city manager since 1956, accepted the position of town manager of Brunswick in June.

A spring article in the Wethersfield (Conn.) newspaper told of the many accomplishments of Albert Gray, Jr., in his service to that town as its first town manager. Address: 406 Griswold Rd., Wethersfield.

Fred McDonald, currently employed by the Travelers Insurance Co. as assistant manager of the public information and advertising dept., was the featured speaker of the Manchester (Conn.) Board of Realtors luncheon recently. Fred has a long list of civic enterprises to which he has given his talents, the most recent of which is Hartford's down town 12 acre $35 million Constitution Plaza, Inc., for which he is serving as public relations advisor. At last report, Fred and his wife were the proud parents of 6 children and lived at 12 Burnham Dr., West Hartford, Conn.

A wedding to report: Grace Ladd was married to Wayne J. Dillon of Leipsic, Ohio, in June in Washington, D. C. Since we've had no news of Grace in recent years, let me review the facts. She was music supervisor in the Greenville and Madison schools as well as at Cottage City, Md. She then graduated from the Secretarial School of speed writing at Washington, D. C., and has been employed as administrative secretary in the Central Intelligence Agency for the past 9 years. The groom is a graduate of Mexico City College, majoring in anthropology. He also attended the University of Hawaii and is now employed by the government as a maintenance engineer, having just returned from a 5 months assignment in Europe and South America. The couple will reside in Seattle, Washington, but the only mailing address we have is South Brooksville, Me., c/o Crosby Ladd.

Last note for this month—John Grant has a new directorship—for the Northern Chemicals Industries, Inc. Did you know he is now president of the Merrill Trust Co. in Bangor?

See you next time—guess we skip a month on the new system!

EDITOR'S NOTE: For the past eight years your secretary has been involved in organizing a public kindergarten in the East Longmeadow school system on a co-operative, non-profit, non-sectarian basis. She was also co-chairman of a fund drive for $10,000 toward a functional, pre-fabricated metal building which is under construction and will open in mid-October. They hire trained teachers and run the school at a cost of $13.00 a month per child. If you are interested, correspond with Jean at her address.

Can't you find your class column?
There's a reason for it—see Page 35.

1950

Mrs. George R. Brockway
(Ellie Hansen)
R.F.D. 3, Auburn

Hello again! How about letting me hear from you so that your name can be put into this column this year. Don't forget that Ed Libby in Orono is receiving dues for our class.

Joan (Byron) Collins is now living at 66 Laurier St., Lewiston. Her husband is a sales representative for U. S. Rubber Co. The Collinses have three children age 7, 5, and 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Colby Davis (June Gammon) are living in Hartford, Me.

Neal Martin is now associated with the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco where he is a member of the trust dept.

Al Dumais was the director of the play, "Bedtime Story," which was the winner of the N. J. Theater League's 1961 tournament. Al's wife, Mary Dean, had the leading feminine role in the play.

Anne B. Gould received her Ph.D. in Biology from Brown University. Anne wrote a thesis on "Fat metabolism in mice with hereditary muscular dystrophy."

Another member of our class who recently received a degree is Dick Packard. Dick holds four degrees in engineering the latest of which was his Doctor of Engineering and Science at N.Y.U. Dick is project leader in the device engineering section at Cleveite Transistor in Waltham, Mass.

A second son, Steven Mitchell, was born in June to Dr. and Mrs. Howard Berg of Bangor.

Clayton E. Goodell is an electrical engineer for North American Aircraft and lives at 723 Indiana Ct., Apt. 3, El Segundo, Calif.

Stephen S. Clark is a sales rep for Acme Wholesalers, Inc., and lives in Bangor.

Back to New England from Virginia are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Webber (Shirley Hughes). Ike '49 is asst. director, Bureau of Govt. Research, Univ. of R. I. in Kingston.

Willard Nisbet is with New England Telephone Co. in So. Natick, Mass.

Dick Saunders has moved from Orono to Sunrise Rd., Boxford, Mass.

Another new address is: Capt. Edward E. Shapleigh, Qtrs. 3385 52nd St., Sandia AF Base, Albuquerque, N. M.

The new treasurer of the Bangor Chapter of AIB is Dick Spencer.

Ernie Lowell has taken over the operation of the Lakeside Recreation Hall in Lincoln.

On June 26 Dorothy Krackenberger of Auburn was married to Raymond Woodman, Jr. Dot is a teacher in the Auburn School System.

Dr. Gerald Cohen and Rosalyn Goldstein were married this past summer. Mrs. Cohen was graduated from Beth Israel Hospital School of Nursing. Gerald graduated from Vermont Medical School, received a master's degree from B. U., and did cardiac research at Albany Medical School. He is now a Lt. at Whidbey Naval Air Station.

Dr. Raymond M. Shaffer of Bucksport was elected vice pres. of the Maine Optometric Assoc.

Frank J. Smith, Jr., has been named sales and service department manager for the Fitchburg, Mass. district of New England Tel. and Tel. Co.

Norman Shaw was renominated by Gov. Reed as an associate judge of the Bar Harbor Municipal Court.

Major Harry Woodhead of Brewer was elected president of the Penobscot Valley Reserve Officers Assoc.

A daughter, Trista Jane, was born June 23 to Bob and Jean (Brewer) Lowell. Bob is now with the engineering dept. of Chemstrand Corp. and their address is Rt. 3, Box 90-C, Apt. 4-B, Pensacola, Fla.

In June Bryce Perkins received his Doctor of Education Degree from N. Y. U. This summer Bryce has been a visiting professor of education at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu. The Perkinses reside in Norwalk, Conn.

Dr. Donald F. Tweedie has completed the book, "Logotherapy and the Christian Faith." The book, completed while Dr. Tweedie was on sabbatical leave last year in Vienna, will be published late this year. Dr. Tweedie is a professor of psychology at Gordon College, Beverly Farms, Mass. He earned his Ph.D. degree from B.U. "Logotherapy and the Christian Faith" is the author's analysis and evaluation of Dr. Viktor E. Frankl's book, "Existential Approach to Psychotherapy," and is the only exhaustive analysis of Dr. Frankl's works in either English or German. It is a new study in the field of mental health and will make available to the American public many of Frankl's books that are not yet published in English.

Mrs. Charles Begley
(Jeanne Frye)

A happy welcome to Fall and a return to a routine of sorts. Many changes took place this summer—the most numerous being the many weddings. In our family we welcomed our third child, Lorraine, last May 8—so, needless to say, my summer has been busy.

Wedding bells pealed for:

Nancy Carmichael and Dr. David Dineen on August 26. Nancy is on the faculty of the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing. Dave is now practicing at the Pine Tree Veterinary Hospital in Augusta.

Mary Jane Pitman and Mark Cohen on July 30. They will be residing at 15 West 84 St., New York 24 N. Y.

Mary Lee Wood and William T. Rogers, Jr. Mary Lee is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and William is with the Equitable Assurance Society of America.

Recent engagements are:

Amy Brown to Henry F. Hicks. Amy is a teacher of physical education at Needham senior high school and Mr. Hicks, a graduate of Bridgewater State College and Harvard University is head of the history department at Needham High.

Mary Jane Chapin of Hartford, Conn., to John Mastrobattista. Miss Chapin is on the teaching staff at the Henry C. Dwight School. John has completed the requirements for his M.B.A. degree at the University of Conn. and is employed as a field engineer by the Chandler Evans Corp., West Hartford.

Norma Kay Heath to Donald Lavoie. Miss Heath is a sophomore at Farmington State Teachers College. Donald is production manager at Farmington Shoe Co.

Little Karen Carville joined the four other Carville children on August 15. Mother—Barbara (Wigger), and Father Larry holding up well.

Evans Crafts can be found at 804X YMCA (Central), 1421 Arch St., Philadelphia 2, Pa., where he is working for the Social Security Administration.

Austin G. Thompson, Jr., is residing at 3591 California St., Eureka, Calif., where he is employed with the U. S. Forest Service as an engineer—forest manager.

A recent speaker for the Sigma Pi Sigma initiation banquet at the University was Dr. Sidney Butler of the University of New Hampshire's physics department. Sidney received both his Master's and Doctor's degrees at Pennsylvania State University.

Donald Duplessis of Old Town, after three years teaching at West Paris, is now on the staff of Andover High School, Andover, Mass.

Mrs. David Fox (Jan Bishop) is president of the Bangor Alumna Chapter of Delta Delta Delta for the coming year.

Merle Adams of RD 2, Washington Valley Dr., Somerville, N. J., received his Ph.D. degree from Rutgers University in June of this year. His major field of study was farm crops.

1956 Miss Judith A. MacPherson
Willowcrest School
Anchorage, Alaska

Welcome back, folks. It's time to bring the four corners of the globe back into focus again. Let's see who's in the news this month!

George A. Quirk has joined Royal McBee Corp. as a data processing sales representative at the company's Portland office. He lives with his family at 14 Riverview Drive, Brunswick.

A note from Arlanne (MacDonald) Snodgrass tells us that their new address is Schucht Memorial Village, University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida. Dr. Dick Snodgrass is to be chief resident at the J. Hillis Health Center at the University. Arlanne and Dick have two children—Lori Arlanne and Richard Norman.

Oliver W. Holden, wife Nancy, and Billy and little Nancy have been living in Yarmouth, on Bayview Street. Oliver is with Esso Standard, working from their district office in Portland.

Nancy (McGouldrick) and Peter Guthy with children Carol Jane and Peter Jay live at 119 Brighton Way, Merrick, N. Y.

Henry O. Hooper received his Ph.D. degree in physics from Brown University in June. Congratulations, Henry!

Jessie (Sargent) Boivin, who is teaching at Brownville Junction High School, sends her address as 65 Heald Street, Old Town.

Fred B. Otto, studying at the University of Connecticut, has been initiated into the Sigma Xi honor society at U-Conn. Fred is working on his Ph.D.

News is done for this month, folks. Get busy with those pens and send us some of your doin's.

Bowen is stationed at Camp Drum, David and Mary (Beckwith) Downing of 84 Highland Street, Bangor, Donald and Veronica (Lutz) Robinson living in Carmel, Calif., and Clifford and Nancy (Pennell) Card of Meadow Rd., Bowdoin.

Teaching English and French in Carmel is Nancy Lou Small. Maury Dore has been named head football coach of the newly consolidated Paris-Norway High School. Teaching in Andover, Mass., at the high school are Donald J. Duplessis, a guidance counsellor and Frank Antonucci who is teaching mathematics. In Lexington where they are teaching, and living at 205 Mt. Auburn Street, Cambridge, Mass., are Priscilla Anderson, Joan Philbrook, and Janet Grover. Dick and Barbara Sturgeon are living in Augusta where Dick is coaching and teaching at Cony High School. Also in that area are Mark and myself. Mark is teaching World History at Gardiner High School, and I am teaching the first grade in Litchfield.

The engagement of Joanne Donnelly to David Davis '58 of Bridgton has been announced as well as the engagement of Julie Hanson to Robert Burns of Milltown, N. B. Robert is presently employed with the Development Engineering Corporation of Leesburg, Va.

Lt. Norm Thurston is in Washington working in the Military Personnel Branch of the Office of the Chief Signal Officer, and his address is 1310 So. Taylor St., Arlington 4, Va.

Two new arrivals into the world are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Littlefield (Tracy Ann), and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baum (Amy Elizabeth).

1961 Miss Judith Fowler
Black Point Road,
Scarborough, Maine

At last we are here, the Class of '61, as Alumni! It's hard to believe, isn't it? I hope you will all remember to drop me a line so that we may be kept up to date on marriages, change of address, and the like. As I write this column, Joanne Good, who has just returned from a summer in Florida, and I are planning to attend the wedding of Eleanor Fay and Peter Dingman '63, on Aug. 26. Ellie has just finished summer school and will teach in Old Town next year while Pete continues at Maine.

I just received word that our class prexy, Will Spencer, is teaching at Traip Academy in Kittery, Me. Also, Jane Goode is in Hartford, Conn., where she has taken a position as a computer programmer for United Aircraft Corp. Research Laboratories in East Hartford. Don Sturgeon will soon be starting in his new role as a basketball and track coach at Madison High School. Don will also be teaching mathematics.

Weddings seem to be the main attraction for many classmates this summer. Here are a few! Brenda Barlow and Philip Hassler were married in June. They will reside in Hartford, Conn., where he is employed by the Travelers Insurance Co. John and Nancy (Ruhlin) Plummer will be in Old Town this fall; John will do graduate work at Maine.

Two other classmates in Hartford are Matthew and Carolyn (Sleeper) Williams who were married in June. He is employed at Pratt-Whitney Co., as an experimental-testing engineer. Anne Adams is now Mrs. Richard Collins '59, and they are making their home in Norwalk, Conn., where Anne will teach and Dick is employed by the Travelers Insurance Co., in Yonkers, N. Y.

On June 26 I was in Orono for Jan Lancaster's and Peter Bastow's wedding. They both have accepted teaching positions in East Lyme, Conn. On the same day, Ellie Shibles became Mrs. Blaine Moores '59, and they will live in Augusta where Blaine teaches at Cony High, and Ellie at Farrington School. Their address is 112 Eastern Ave., Apt. 4A, Augusta.

Joseph '60 and Jane (Judy) Carrol are at home at 364 Fiddlewood Rd., Vera Beach, Fla., where Joe is employed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Shirlene Heath and William Koch '56 were married in July, as were Margo Clark and Jack Simmons of Allston, Mass. Jack will enter New York University Law School in the fall.

Dave Robinson is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., with his wife Roberta Small, formerly of Pepperell, Mass.

Barry and Jeannie (Blodgett) Walden live in Massachusetts where Barry is employed as an engineer by Sylvania in Needham.

Also married were Sally Kyle '59 and Hugh Rooney from Ohio. Sally and Hugh were in Boothbay Harbor this summer.

Don '60 and Mary (Gentile) Lewis spent their summer in Syracuse, N. Y., but will return to Bangor this fall where Mary has a teaching position.

Gail (McLain) Berry writes that she and Pete are at 19 Central St., Millinocket, where they both will be teaching this fall.

These are only a few of many which is all space permits, and there are still many late summer weddings which are yet to be!

Why a successful man gave up a career

I

SELL INSURANCE — AND LIKE IT!

With new uses developing for life insurance, both business and personal, an agent's career can be a creative and satisfying one for HBS alumni.

Norman M. Wallack '48, New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston

STANDARD EQUIPMENT for a B School alumnus is a built-in image of the ideal HBS man, keen, tough-minded, analytical, imaginative, farsighted and resourceful. At the same time, most of us have a mental picture of a life insurance agent: unimaginative, plodding, high-pressure, ill-informed, persistent and annoying.

Given the clash between these two pictures, my Business School friends really raise an eyebrow when they find out that I am one of those "people with endurance—a man who sells insurance." There are very few graduate business school alumni in my end of the business, much less HBS types, though of course we have many alumni among the managerial personnel in the industry. So they immediately want to know how I ever ended up in such an occupation, and—sadly expecting some horror story of a misspent youth and wasted opportunities.

Actually, the facts bear no resemblance to their assumptions. I am in this business because I like it, because I chose it after trying several other types of work, because it offers all kinds of opportunities for ingenuity in developing special insurance programs for particular companies and individuals. In so doing, I have come to the conclusion that businessmen are so in industry to start one in life insurance

Norman Wallack had good reasons.
Here's the first-hand account he gave us after his article had appeared in the Harvard Business School Bulletin —

"After graduation from Harvard Business School, I did well during the next nine years in two different areas of business. First, as merchandise manager for a large Midwest manufacturer. Next, as developer and owner of a camping-equipment company. But after five years of having my own company, I sold out at a substantial profit. Six months later I had decided to sell life insurance for New England Life.

"I had plenty of confidence by this time in my business ability. Now I wanted to find an area where it would pay off on its own and require little reliance on others. I wanted a field that offered increasing income as I grew older without suddenly dropping off when I reached 65 . . . that held fewer of the frustrations encountered in industry . . . that could put to best use my training at the School, experience and capabilities.

"Life insurance seemed to come closest to this ideal. So I picked out the company with one of the finest reputations and cost pictures in the industry and sought out one of the most outstanding training agencies in the business.

"It adds up to this: I'm in this business because I like it. Because I chose it after trying other types of work. Because it offers all kinds of opportunities for developing special insurance programs for companies and individuals. It's the unusual combination of freedom and variety that appeals to me. Perhaps it will appeal to you."

Beneath a field like this...

is a complex communications center

In minutes, an enemy attack could level some of our sprawling cities.

Because of this, the Bell System is now supplementing its great reaches of buried cable with a network of underground communications stations.

Under the protection of a thick earth and concrete cover, and away from major target areas, several Bell System communications centers are already in operation. Many more are to come.

The walls for these installations are huge, reinforced concrete slabs. Ventilation systems filter air so fine that even radioactive fallout cannot enter. Food and water are stockpiled. Living quarters are provided for all operating personnel.

These buildings are costly. Tough to build.

Yet, the Bell System recognizes that communications are the lifelines of our defense systems. And so we took the lead in establishing these underground centers with our own money.

There are many other ingenious projects in our "Survivability" program for America's communications. Many cannot be mentioned here.

Because of them, ambitious command, control and defense systems are feasible. And our vast existing communications network is one of America's most ready defense weapons.

What if something happens to Mr. Mac?

Mr. Mac is any of those key men who are so important in most businesses. His loss would mean serious and immediate problems for management. Many of these problems can be solved by key man life insurance with the following benefits:

- Provides cash to attract and train replacements, and to indemnify for temporary loss of company earning power.
- Provides cash to protect credit and endorsers of company's paper.
- Provides cash to guarantee continuance of dividends, to guarantee continuance of business and avoid dissolution, merger or forced sale.
- Provides cash to retire any stock held by the deceased, and to continue his salary to his family.
- This cash is free from federal income tax.

Ask a Connecticut Mutual Life man to talk to you about how key man life insurance can fit your situation. He'll recommend a plan with guaranteed flexibility... one that can be changed as your business picture changes. Talk with him soon, while your Mr. Mac is on the job.

The Art of Cookery

Uppermost in the minds of the early settlers of Portland was the securing of sufficient food. Though at seasons fish and game were plentiful in the area (Parson Smith notes on March 18, 1726: "... the best gunning here ... for some years past.") periods of near-famine were all too frequent.

As early as 1659 George Cleeves, Portland's first settler, had a garden, for in the notice of the sale of his homestead to John Phillips we find mention of "cornfield and gardens."

Until cessation of the Indian Wars, food for most of the settlers was simple. Stews were the main dish at meals, with game and birds as their base. At the beginning of the settlement baking was done in Dutch ovens brought over from England. These were set on the hearth on short legs, with a depression in the cover where hot coals could be placed to brown the top of the bread. Later, ovens were built in the great fireplace chimneys.

But with the coming, in the late eighteenth century, of a growing business with the outside world, manners and dress and foods became more sophisticated. Fine imported wines appeared regularly on the tables of the "gentry"; baking became an art which proud housewives strived to perfect.

Instead of huge loaves of cake — really bread dough sweetened and flavored with wines and spices, eggs and fruits added — intended to last a month or more, housewives became expert in turning out delicious little cakes with all manner of exotic flavorings. One "simple" cake of the mid-1700's contained "4 pounds of finest flour; 3 pounds of double refined sugar; 4 pounds of butter and 35 eggs — this all to be beaten together with the hand TWO HOURS before adding remaining ingredients." Not quite aptly named "Nun's Cake", the directions for making end with this warning: "Observe always to beat the butter with a COOL HAND and one way only, in a deep earthen dish."
