Bill Lowery—talent agent, music publisher and operator of a recording studio—discusses his new insurance program with New England Life representative Robert Evensen.

“How I sold $1,017,000 of Life Insurance in my first year with New England Life.”

Bob Evensen was 40 when he applied for a job with us in 1963. Although he had 20 years of sales experience, he had never sold life insurance before. One year after he was hired, Bob had sold $1,017,000 of life insurance, and had become a member of New England Life's Hall of Fame. We asked Bob to explain in a paragraph how he did it.

“As soon as I finished my basic training at New England Life (which was excellent), I set my own quota of $100,000 a month. I tried to have a minimum of 15 interviews a week with at least 2 applications,” Bob says. “Direct mail has proven a very good source of leads. Selling life insurance is the greatest business in the world, and coming with New England Life was one of the best decisions I've ever made”.

If you would like to investigate a career with New England Life, there's an easy first step to take. Send for our free Personality-Aptitude Analyzer. It's a simple exercise you can take in about ten minutes. Then return it to us and we'll mail you the results. (This is a bona fide analysis and many men find they cannot qualify.) It could be well worth ten minutes of your time.

Write: Vice President John Barker, Jr., Dept. AL2, 501 Boylston St., Boston, Mass. 02117. We'd like to hear from you.

Time for Change

Some important changes have been made in the Maine Alumnus in the past few issues and other changes will be made in the future. For example, the masthead, which has often contained too much information in too little space, has been expanded to two pages. This column, usually buried between several inches of type, has been moved to a more prominent part of the magazine. The change, we believe, will result in increased readability in a part of the magazine which has often been overlooked because of layout.

We have added more photographs on the inside pages. One good photograph can say more in a few inches of space than most of us can hope to say in many pages. Photographs will play an increasingly important part in the magazine.

We also hope to have some color photographs in the future. Color, of course, is expensive. However, it adds considerably to the attractiveness of any publication and will be part of the Alumnus when the budget allows.

The Alumnus has been in business for 55 years. Subscriptions have increased from a few thousand to nearly 14,000. However, there are many alumni who do not receive the Alumnus. In an attempt to reach all alumni at least twice a year, we have decided to mail two issues of the Alumnus to all alumni.

We firmly believe that the more widely the Alumnus is circulated, the more it will be demanded. The change in distribution means that Alumnus circulation will jump from around 14,000 to 20,000 a year. The increased circulation also means increased expense.

To keep expenses within realistic bounds, and at the same time produce a high quality magazine that people will read, is no easy task. One way to do so is to cut down on the number of issues produced. That is what we have decided to do.

The Alumnus has been published seven times a year for the last three years. Starting this year, we will publish only five issues, two in the fall, one in the winter, and two in the spring.

The change in frequency was not made simply because of a limited budget. We also were motivated by a desire to produce a significant product. Lesser frequency will give us extra time and an opportunity to produce a higher quality magazine.

Why have we bothered to change the Alumnus? We believe a good magazine, like an outstanding university, should be a living, changing unit that adjusts as events require adjustments. We believe that the magazine should deal with news of the campus and with the University as a whole. We believe that alumni are interested in what is happening to their University; what students are doing, thinking and saying. In short, we hope to capture the spirit of the University and report that spirit to you.

If we are successful, and we believe we shall be, the Alumnus more than ever will be an essential part of the University. A better magazine means more subscriptions. Increased circulation can only result in a better magazine.

We welcome your suggestions, criticisms, and, we hope, praise and support in the months ahead. Russ Woolley

"M" AWARDS

Five more outstanding University of Maine alumni have won Alumni Activity Awards for their work during the past year.

Gordon R. Staff '44, received the "M" award last March. New awards went to Raymond R. Couture '51, Waldo M. Libbey '44, Barbara H. McKay '49, Mary-Hale Sutton Furman, '38, and Leland F. Carter '42.

The award was established three years ago to recognize alumni who promote goodwill for the University of Maine.

The Alumni Council sponsors the awards and judges individuals on their overall contributions to the University. The Council considers many activities in selecting recipients. Among the most important are: strengthening local associations, individual class participation and support of class activities, development of the University image, obtaining support of others for the University and support of the Annual Giving Fund Activity.

ADMINISTRATOR

President Lloyd H. Elliott has submitted his resignation. He will become President of George Washington University in Washington, D. C., on or before January 1, 1966.

Dr. Elliott, president of U-M since July, 1958, announced his plans to resign before the annual banquet of the General Alumni Association. More than 500 people at the alumni weekend affair were stunned into complete silence by the President's dramatic and unexpected announcement.

Dr. Elliott said he decided to make the announcement because he wanted the alumni group to hear the news from him rather than in the morning newspapers. The story was released simultaneously in Washington.

Dr. Elliott, who has guided U-M through seven years of rapid growth and expansion, is a native of West Virginia. He finished his undergraduate days in three and one-half years and was graduated at 18, the age most people start college.

Elliott's career in education started when he became a teacher in the elementary and high schools of Widen, W. Va., in 1937. He later became principal of the Widen school system where he stayed from 1939 to 1942.

His teaching career came to a sudden halt with the beginning of World War II. He joined the Navy and soon became skipper of one of the Navy's most dangerous craft—the landing craft.

While taking part in the invasion of Sicily, Elliott's craft got caught in a storm and sank. He swam to shore and quickly became acquainted with a group of Arabs who provided him with food in exchange for what little the shipwrecked sailor had to trade.

In 1946 Elliott returned to civilian life and once again turned to education. He accepted a teaching assistantship at the University of Colorado and one year later became assistant superintendent of schools in Boulder, Colo.

Elliott earned his doctorate in education from the University of Colorado and a M.A. in the same subject for West Virginia University.

He travelled to Cornell University in 1948 as an assistant professor. Quickly moving up the ladder, he was named associate professor in 1950, director of the summer session in 1953, and a year later was appointed professor of educational administration.

EDUCATOR

In 1955 Elliott was appointed assistant to the provost at Cornell and also acting director of the School of Education. He was named executive assistant to the president of Cornell in 1956 and held that position until he came to the University of Maine in 1958.

Elliott has not been inactive since assuming the top job at U-M. He is a member of the New England Board of Higher Education and the Joint Council on Educational Broadcasting. In 1963 he became Chairman of the Governor's Advisory Committee on ETV.

One of Elliott's biggest problems since becoming head man at U-M has been money. He has been involved almost constantly in delicate and involved negotiations with the state legislature. His efforts brought dramatic results when the 102nd Legislature recently approved the University's "Crash Program" of expansion.

Under Elliott's administration, six new classroom buildings, six dormitories, two dining halls, and the Hauck Auditorium have been built. Hancock Hall and the new arts and science building will bring the total of new buildings constructed in the past six years to 14. In addition, the old South Apartments which formerly housed student and faculty families, have been replaced by modern University Park.

President Elliott's student philosophy has made him very popular with students. "A University exists because of students and for no other reason," Elliott has said. "Administration and faculty are working on a university campus to render service to students."

Dr. Lawrence M. Cutler, president of the board of trustees, announced that a search for a new president will get underway immediately.

Cutler noted that candidates from within and without the State of Maine would be considered.

The Campus newspaper recently summed up the attitude of most Maine people when it called Elliott an "outstanding friend, administrator and educator."

Graduation Attracts 7,000

More than 1,100 seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of the University of Maine, were awarded bachelor degrees in ceremonies at the Bangor Municipal Auditorium.

Colby College President Robert E. L. Strider was the principal speaker.

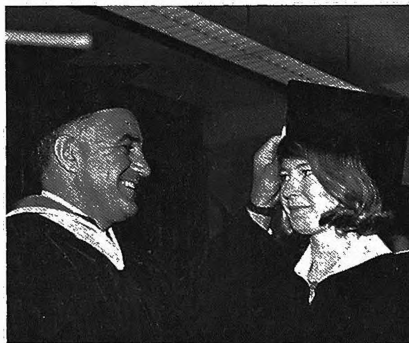

Forty-seven seniors were graduated from the University of Maine's Portland campus and the University of Maine School of Law.

The Orono Commencement Exercises, the University's 124th, attracted more than 7,000 people. The ceremony marked the end of the University's 100th academic year.

Three men also received honorary doctorates for "outstanding" records in various endeavors.

Professor Fay Hyland, retiring botany professor, received an honorary doctor of science degree; Massachusetts paper firm executive and U-M alumnus Ralph A. Wilkins, '19, an honorary doctor of engineering degree; and Philadelphia publisher and Maine alumnus Dr. Maurice Jacobs, '17, an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Professor Hyland, a member of U-M faculty since 1926, has an unusual knowledge and skill in the histology of plant tissues which is recognized by botanists on an international level.

PRETTY GRADUATE—James V. Sullivan, director, physical education and athletics, UMP, adjusts the cap of a pretty coed during Commencement in Portland June 3.

Author or co-author of 39 scientific publications, he holds earned degrees from Michigan State University and the University of Maine. He has also participated in advanced programs at the Brookhaven National Laboratory, Syracuse University and the University of Massachusetts.

Mr. Wilkins was employed by the Eastern Corporation in Brewer and by the University before joining Bird & Son, Inc., in 1923. He rose over the years to the position of president in 1960 and was named chairman of the board in 1964.

Dr. Jacobs founded and is president of a world-famed Philadelphia publishing firm which bears his name and which publishes books and magazines for scholars, universities, churches and synagogues in 165 languages. Dr. Jacobs' staff possesses the greatest concentration of linguistic wealth in this country, outside the United Nations.

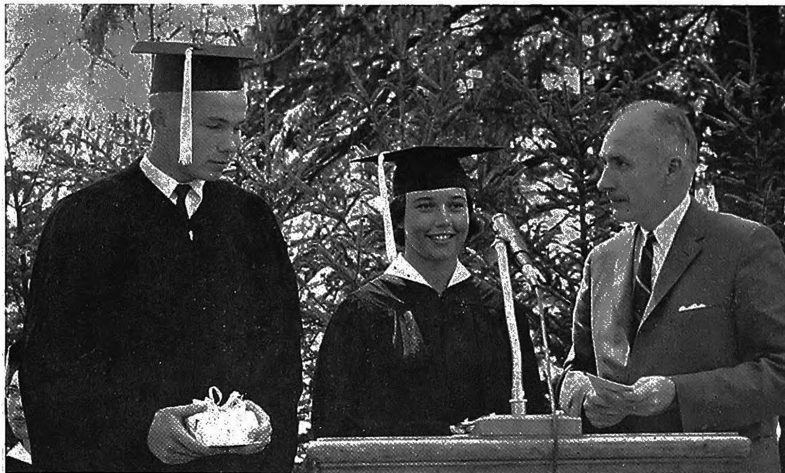

Dr. Lawrence M. Cutler of Bangor, president of the board of trustees, presented the honorary degrees.

Graduation

Carleton G. Lane, president of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, was principal speaker at the Portland Commencement. He was presented an honorary doctor of laws degree following his address.

Dr. Strider told the large audience in Bangor that it is "important for us to recognize the dimensions of our freedom."

"One is the cosmos itself," he declared. "There is no way in which human beings can have control over the place they occupy in the universe. Rather than tilt at this particular windmill, it is at least possible for human beings to ponder these cosmic limitations and learn to live with them. The order of the universe that higher education makes apparent to any student will make this limitation rationally ascertainable."

McNeilly Gets Alumni's Top Award

TOP AWARD—Alvin S. McNeilly '44 is presented the Alumni Service Emblem during Alumni Weekend. Making the presentation is outgoing General Alumni Association President Edward C. Sherry '38. Former U-M President Arthur A. Hauck looks on.

Alvin S. McNeilly, '44, was awarded the General Alumni Association's Alumni Service Emblem during Alumni Weekend here in June.

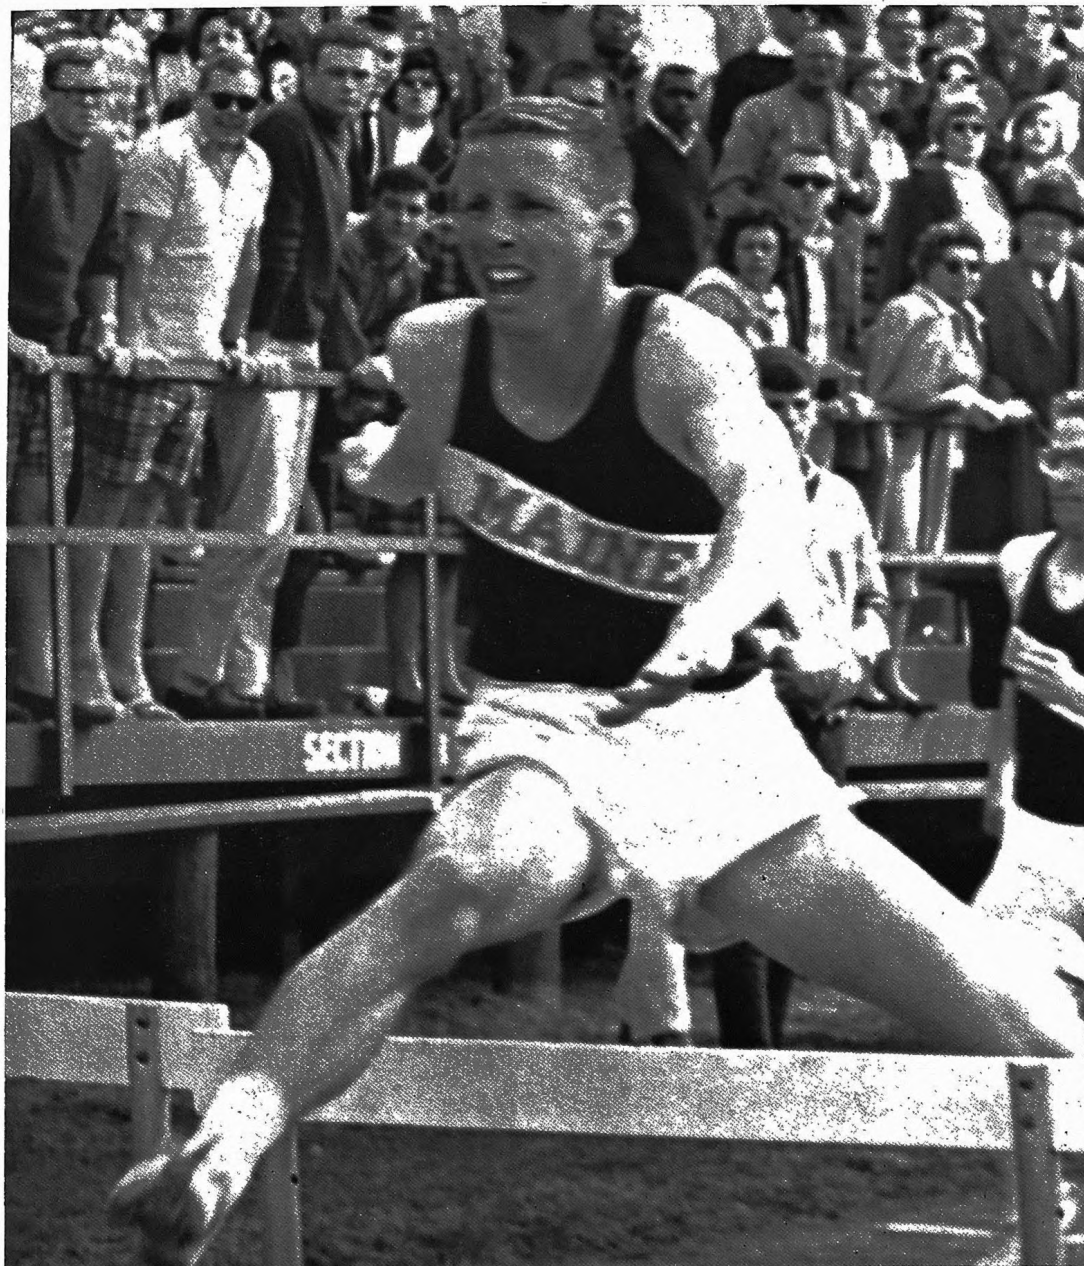

The award is the top award presented by the General Alumni Association. It has been given every year since 1930 to an individual closely associated with the University of Maine.

McNeilly, the 36th recipient of the award, is a native of New York. He was born in Brookline, Mass., but has spent many years in Maine.

He received his degree in 1947 after spending World War II in the Air Force. He was captain of the baseball team his senior year at Maine; a member of the Scabbard and Blade, the Pale Blue Key, the Men's Senate and the General Student Senate. He was Secretary of the Sophomore Owls, a member of the M-Club, of the football team in his junior year, President of Kappa Sigma, vice president of the class of 1947 and President of the Senior Skulls.

His degree was Bachelor of Science in Chemistry (Pulp and Paper) and after graduation he chose affiliation with his original class of 1944.

In 1951 he was elected to the Alumni Council and to a second term in 1954. He became vice president in 1959 and was reelected in 1960. In 1961 he was elected President of the General Alumni Association and after two terms rejoined the Council June 1963.

Spring Sports

The exciting 1964 Maine baseball team proved to be just as exciting in 1965 but not quite as successful.

The Bears lost both the Yankee Conference and the State Series with basically the same team that placed third in the college world series of baseball last year.

The Bears were rated eighth in the nation at the beginning of the season, but that didn't seem to bother Maine's opponents.

More than 15,000 Maine fans watched the seven games the Bears played at home. Many still aren't sure what happened to their "Cinderella" team. Most fans agree that the team was the best Maine had fielded in years.

The Bears again had a tremendous defensive team. Spectacular fielding plays were the rule rather than the exception. Maine's pitching was also outstanding, with veterans Joe Ferris and Tom Murphy providing the one-two punch that had met with such great success last year.

Maine split their two games with Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont and New Hampshire. The Bears swept two games from Rhode Island.

In the State Series, Maine lost to Colby twice while defeating Bates and Bowdoin twice.

Many fans noted that Maine didn't get the breaks in 1965. "Even the weather was against them," a fan observed.

Cold, windy, rainy weather probably had something to do with Maine's disappointing season, but the lack of consistent hitting with men on base was probably more to blame. Maine frequently left men on base in important ball games.

"Wait until next year," was the plea of most fans. And Maine should have a great team next year. Many veterans will return, including Joe Ferris, catcher Del Merrill and shortstop Dick DeVarney.

The recently-completed spring sports season was an unusually successful one for the University of Maine's golf, tennis, and track teams.

Coach Brian McCall's golf squad, which included only three returning players from the '64 squad at the beginning of the season, chalked up nine wins in 14 matches and just barely missed out on winning the State Series crown in a close race with Bowdoin and Bates. The Bears chalked up 65 points in competition within the state while Bowdoin finished on top with 68 and Bates had 64. Colby was a distant last with 17.

In dual matches, the Bears defeated Colby four times, Bowdoin four times, and Bates once while losing three matches to Bates, one to Rhode Island and one to Connecticut.

Top men on the team were Captain Tom Lahaise of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Bob McGown of Bangor, Norm Viger of Pittsfield, Len Ladd of Norway, Bill Blum of Newton, Mass., Jack Tole of Stoneham, Mass., and Peter Martin of Belmont, Mass.

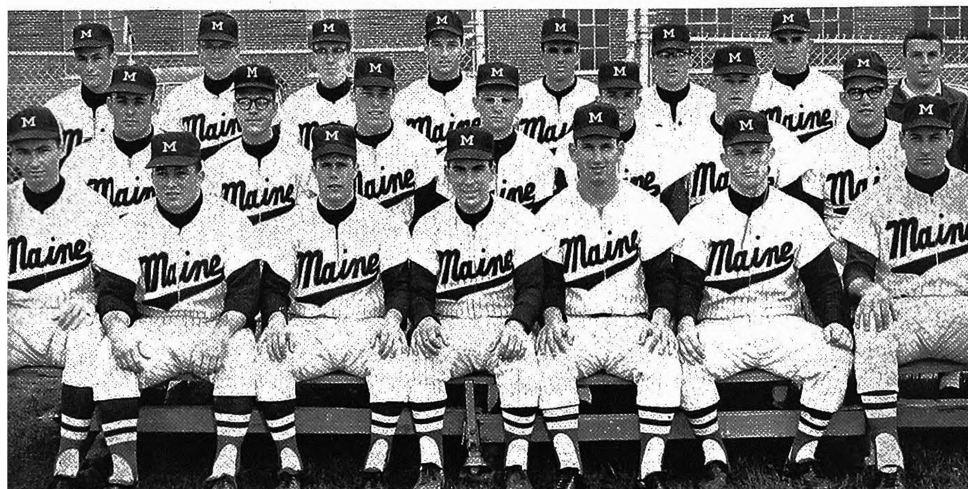

The freshman golf team compiled a record of four wins and four losses.

Coach Ed Styrna's track team must be referred to as the "miracle team" among Maine's sports teams for the 1964-65 college year. The team suffered the loss of a number of key men due to injuries and other factors during the winter season and finished a distant second to Rhode Island in the Yankee Conference indoor championships.

Blessed with unexpected strong performances from several men, however, the Bears roared back to win the Yankee Conference outdoor crown for the fifth straight year.

Winning individual titles in the Yankee Conference meet were sophomore John Buteau of Vinalhaven, who won the 100 and 220 yard dashes; senior Murray Spruce of Falmouth in the 440 yard dash; sophomore Jon Kirkland of Needham, Mass., in the 880; junior Jim Ballinger of Woodbury, N. J., in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles; junior Mike Zubko of Brunswick in the hop, step, and jump; senior Arnie Delaite of Brunswick in the shot put; and sophomore Jim Webber of Florham Park, N. J., in the javelin.

The Bears also won the State Meet for the fifth straight year and won dual meets with Boston University and New Hampshire. Maine was seventh in the New England Meet.

In tennis, Maine had one of the greatest seasons in its history. The Bears, coached by Si Dunklee who recently resigned to take a similar job at Colby beginning next fall, rolled up an 8-1 record in dual matches and won the Maine State Series championship. The Bears finished third in the Yankee Conference behind Vermont and Massachusetts.

Pacing the Bears were Bill Deering of Orono and Bruce Hauck of Cumberland Foreside.

Deering won the state singles championship and teamed with Bruce Hauck to win the doubles crown.

Deering and Tom Hauck co-captained the team. Other top players were Dean Alley of South Portland, Jim Lancaster of South Portland, Kevan Pickens of Montreal, P. Q., Joe Siegel of Bangor, Mark Stern of Portland, Emil Swift of Lancaster, Pa., and Ted Waldron of Sharon, Mass.

The Bears defeated Colby twice, Bates twice, and Bowdoin, New Hampshire, Connecticut, and Rhode Island once each while losing only a single contest to Bowdoin in dual matches.

Dunklee's freshman team also posted a terrific record, winning all six of its matches. The addition of the strong freshman material to the sophomores and juniors on the varsity should mean another fine season in tennis for Maine in 1966.

In the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament held at Colgate College, Hamilton, N. Y., Bill Deering and Judd Lancaster teamed to win the doubles crown.

The Maine duo finished second in the team standing.

Deering and Lancaster defeated William and Mary's Scott Hershey and Guy Temple, 6-2, 6-2, 5-7, and 6-2 in the doubles final.

Clifford Patch

Clifford Patch, chairman of the University's Athletic Board since 1927, died unexpectedly in his Bangor home April 28.

Patch, '11, probably had been associated with the University, in one form or another, longer than any other person.

He was born in Calais, Maine in 1889. He became a member of the Athletic Board in 1917 and took the helm of that group in 1927. Until his death he played an extremely important role in determining the University's athletic policies.

But Patch did not restrict himself to one phase of University life. He received the coveted Black Bear Award in 1951 and the Honor Award with the Pulp and Paper Foundation in 1955 in recognition of his University activities.

He belonged to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the Chemists Club of New York City, the Technical Association of Pulp and Paper (TAPPI), the Paper Industry Management Association and the Newcomen Society of England, and the Pulp and Paper Alumni Association.

Patch was proud of the fact that he had attended more than 1,000 athletic events at Maine.

The baseball, tennis, track teams and fans paused in their games on a Saturday afternoon in a minute of silent homage to Patch.

Survivors include a daughter, and three grandchildren.

John J. Nolde

New Deans

Dr. John J. Nolde was named the new Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences when the Board of Trustees met here in June. Dr. Nolde will assume his new duties July 1, 1966.

The trustees also named Dr. William S. Devino as the Dean of the University's new College of Business Administration. His appointment is effective in July.

Dr. Nolde will succeed Dean Joseph M. Murray who has served the University for about 32 years. Dean Murray will retire next summer.

Dr. Devino has been a member of the University faculty since 1960. He is a graduate of the University of Vermont and received his master's degree from the University of Connecticut and his doctorate from Michigan State University.

He served as consultant to the Michigan State Senate Labor Committee in 1955 and as a member of the Governor's Task Force on Labor in 1959.

Dr. Devino was a member of the National Labor Panel of the American Arbitration Association in 1964.

He became director of the University's School of Business Administration in 1963. He also taught and headed the department of business and economics.

Dr. Nolde, a member of the University's department of history and government, was graduated from Cornell University in 1941. He earned his master's degree at Cornell after studying Chinese and Russian history and international relations. He received his doctorate from Cornell in 1950.

Dr. Nolde, a native of Reading, Pa., has received numerous Fulbright grants for research study in Hong Kong and will have a leave of absence next year to continue his study there.

William S. Devino

Dean Deering: A warm and friendly person

"The University and the people of Maine will always be grateful to Dean Deering for his long and faithful service. . . ."

Arthur L. Deering, 77, collapsed and died last month while working on the front lawn of his Bangor home. Death was apparently caused by a heart attack.

Dean Deering's contributions to the University of Maine were varied and brought him the respect of educators throughout the world.

He was dean emeritus of the college of agriculture where he had served for 45 years before retiring in 1957.

He was born in Denmark, Maine, January 13, 1888. He was graduated from Bridgton Academy and then the University of Maine College of Agriculture in 1912. He received his doctor of agricultural science in 1934.

In 1933, Dean Deering was named Dean of the College of Agriculture and in 1943 was appointed administrative head for all of the agricultural teaching, research, and extension responsibilities of the University.

Highlights of his career include appointment as a United States representative to the Food and Agriculture Organization conference in Quebec in 1945; consultant to the Portuguese government in 1951 which resulted in his being decorated as a Commander of the Military Order of Christ of Portugal; director for the Farm Credit Administration, first district; president of the University of Maine General Alumni Association for 1931 through 1934; and member of the Board of Trustees for the International College of Izmir, Turkey, 1931 through 1933.

In 1954, he received the Superior Service Award of the Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

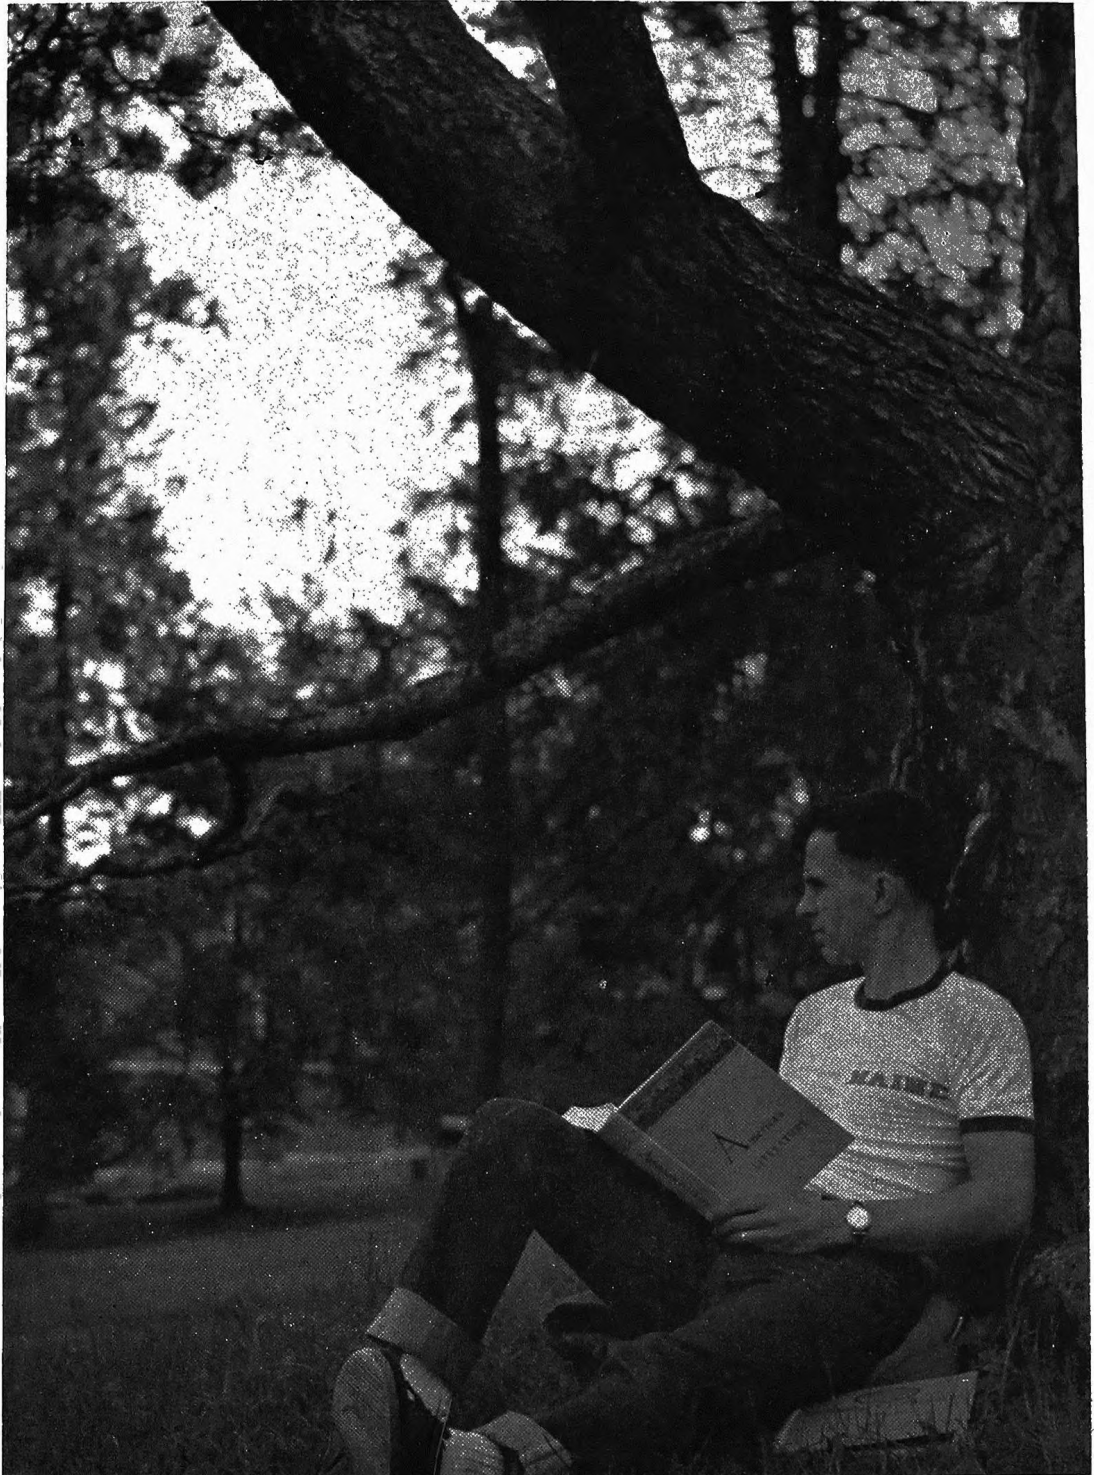

Retired President Arthur A. Hauck once said that Dean Deering "...has devoted 45 years of his life to the service of Maine agriculture. During these years he has tirelessly and effectively promoted the welfare and the betterment of Maine agriculture. . . The University and the people of Maine will always be grateful to Dean Deering for his long and faithful service. . . ."

President Lloyd H. Elliott said that he was "...shocked to learn of the passing of Dean Deering. . . It was under his inspiring leadership that the College of Agriculture was developed as an effective instrument of education, research and service. . . ."

"Dean Deering, as a person, was warm and friendly and was loved by all who knew him."

Winthrop C. Libby, present dean of agriculture, said that "The Cooperative Extension Service, which successfully serves farmers, homemakers, and the youth of Maine, was in large measure due to the creative efforts of Dean Deering. . . The accomplishment of Dean Deering has had a major impact on all phases of the economy of rural Maine. In addition, he ably assumed many responsibilities of regional, national, and international leadership.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Robert B. '42, Goleta, Calif.; three daughters, Mary (Mrs. Roland) Wirths '38, Falmouth; Marjorie (Mrs. Malcolm) Roberts '40, Alfred; Helen (Mrs. Edward) Piper '43, Orono; a brother; a sister; 11 grandchildren, two of whom are Crystal Piper '68, Orono, and Arthur Roberts, '63, of Alfred; one great granddaughter; several nieces and nephews; two of whom are Lois Deering '49 (Mrs. Albert Starbird), Nashua, N. H., and Joseph M. Johnson '40, Blacksburg, Va.

Alpha Tau Omega (ATO), U-M's third oldest fraternity, has been closed on orders of its alumni sponsors.

L. Barkley Goodrich, vice president of the Beta Upsilon Building Association which owns the ATO chapter house here and rents the building to ATO fraternity members, ordered the closing.

Goodrich said the alumni groups decided to take the action only after careful study of the situation at ATO. He said that the Orono house members had failed to provide positive leadership, had disregarded their financial obligations, had repeatedly violated fraternity and University social regulations and had made consistently poor academic records.

Goodrich said the fraternity house would remain closed as a housing unit for fraternity members until at least September, 1966.

An alumni committee of the fraternity has already been formed to reorganize the Maine chapter on a sound financial and academic basis during the next academic year, Goodrich noted.

Alpha Tau Omega was established at the University of Maine in 1891. The closing marks the first time the social fraternity has not been in operation since it came into existence.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon (SAE) fraternity was suspended a year ago by the University but has been recognized and will be back in business this fall.

The new college will start operating officially July 1, 1965.

The change was made because the old school of business administration had grown to the point where a separate, degree-granting unit was necessary.

The new college will be available on both Orono and Portland campuses and "administrative autonomy" should aid coordination of curricula at both schools.

The gift of land, a summer estate of Ira C. Darling, will be used as a site for a marine biology laboratory and other University activities.

The University's Board of Trustees established a new college of business administration and accepted a gift of 136 acres of land during its April meeting.

The Summer Arts Festival program at the University is bigger than ever this year.

Lois Edinger, president of the National Education Association, will lecture on Friday, July 16 at 9 a.m.

Edinger will be followed by Paul Niven, well-known CBS news commentator, on Tuesday, July 27, at 10 a.m.

A varied program of 8 p.m. concerts is planned. Nina Dova, folk singer, will appear on Thursday, July 15.

Duncan and Rehl, the famous piano duo team, will play Thursday, July 22.

Aristid von Wurtzler, harpist, and Joy Kim, lyric soprano, will appear on Thursday, July 29.

The Iowa String Quartet will round out the concert program Sunday, August 8 and Thursday, August 12.

The lectures and concerts will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium and are free.

The 102nd Maine State Legislature has given the University of Maine the go ahead sign for the 1965 "Crash Program." Under that program as many as 2,700 new students may be added to the University in the next two years. An increase of 1,130 was planned originally.

Campus News

Colonel Robert B. Cobb, who headed the ROTC program at the University of Maine from 1962 through 1964, will return here August 1 as Director of Student Services.

Cobb has served in Viet Nam as senior adviser for the largest basic training center in that country since leaving U-M.

Cobb will supervise the Office of Financial Aid, Student Health Service, Placement Office, Memorial Union, Offices of the Dean of Men and Women, and the Office of Student Religious Affairs.

George H. Crosby has served in the combined posts of Registrar and Director of Student Services for the past four years.

University of Maine students will have an area on campus next year where they can hold impromptu speeches at any time they wish.

The University, upon the recommendation of the executive committee of the General Student Senate, set aside the quadrangle housing the Maine Bear statue as a "free speech" area.

Campaign speeches, informal sports or student political rallies, and other student addresses may be given at the site.

It has been suggested the area be called "Elijah Perish Lovejoy" in honor of the Albion, Maine native long known as a strong advocate of freedom of the press and speech.

Musical theatre will come to the University of Maine this summer when a professional Broadway cast stages eight musical favorites.

The Down East Music Theatre, as the group is called, will do Song of Norway, June 18 through 26; Show Boat, June 28 through July 3; High Spirits, July 5 through 10; Pajama Game, July 12 through 17; South Pacific, July 19 through 31; Unsinkable Molly Brown, August 2 through 7; Camelot, August 9 through 21 and 110 in the Shade, August 23 through 28.

Victoria Crandall will produce the musicals which will be staged in the Arthur A. Hauck Auditorium.

Lloyd J. Jewett '56, an assistant director of the University's Continuing Education Division, will direct the University's new Augusta branch.

President Lloyd H. Elliott announced Jewett's appointment shortly after Governor John H. Reed signed the bill which officially gave Maine's capital city a branch college.

Jewett is a native of Bucksport. He earned his master's degree at U-M in agricultural business and economics in 1959. Since joining the faculty in 1958, he has taught agricultural economics, coordinated a two-year technical program in business management and has been active as adviser to several student groups.

Freshman and sophomore courses in degree programs in the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Life Sciences and Agriculture and C.E.D. courses will be offered at Augusta.

It is anticipated that during the first year about 50 recent high school graduates and 100 adults will enroll at Augusta. Applications are already being received.

After satisfactory completion of one or two years of work at the Augusta branch, students will be eligible for transfer to the Orono campus.

University President Lloyd H. Elliott has thanked the legislators, the governor, and the citizens of Maine for support given the University by the 102nd Legislature.

Dr. Elliott, speaking before the opening of the traditional Alumni Weekend program, said, "... Today your alma mater enjoys its strongest position in history."

"It has the services of the strongest faculty, the best qualified student body, the highest level of support from the State, and the most active and generous group of alumni and friends," the President added.

Dr. Elliott noted that the State of Maine has made it possible for the University to take a major step forward in the next two years.

"All concerned with the University's future have reason to face the future with renewed confidence," he added.

PLAY TIME—A scene from the Maine Masque's last production of the 1964-65 season, The Rose Tattoo by Tennessee Williams.

The Maine Masque will provide a variety of plays next year, ranging from Shakespeare's MacBeth to an early American play set at the Jed Prouty Inn in Bucksport.

Old Jed Prouty, written by Richard Golden while he was staying in Bucksport in the 1800's, will be the first offering of the Masque.

Other plays will be Moliere's Tartuffe, one of the outstanding classical comedies in Western dramatic literature; Shakespeare's MacBeth, an Elizabethan tragedy of greed, ambition and murder; and Joes' and Schmidt's The Fantasticks, a contemporary musical fantasy about young love.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY—The Class of 1915 and their families. The 50th reunion of the class was one of the highlights of the weekend. Check the next issue of the Alumnus for the story of class reunions.

Weekend Of Memories

Twelve University of Maine classes helped to celebrate the University's 100th birthday by holding formal class reunions here June 4 and 5.

The classes of 1910, 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930, 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950, 1955, 1960, and 1963 held their reunions. The Senior Alumni Association, composed of persons who graduated from the University prior to 1915, also held its annual meeting.

Five other classes (1907, 1918, 1919, 1922 and 1946) held special meetings.

The 1965 Alumni Weekend program included a variety of new and traditional events, beginning on Friday morning, June 4, and continuing through the evening of the following day.

The story of the reunions will be carried in the next issue of The Maine Alumnus.

NEW OFFICERS—New officers of the General Alumni Association are (from left) T. Russell Woolley '41, executive director; Carl A. Whitman '35, 1st vice president; M. Eleanor Jackson '20, 2nd vice president; Robert P. Schoppe '38, president, and Edward H. Piper '43, treasurer. Waldo M. Libbey '44, new clerk, was not present when the photograph was taken.

RETURN VISIT—Retired President Arthur A. Hauck addresses alumni during the Alumni Weekend program. A highlight of the weekend activities was the presentation to the University of a large portrait of Dr. Hauck by the Class of 1938. The portrait will hang in the lobby of the Hauck Auditorium.

Alumni Trustee Reports Amazing Progress

Frank C. Brown '30 Presents Dramatic Slide Series

For many years the Alumni Trustee has presented a narrative report during Commencement Week. This year Frank C. Brown, '30, of New York City, showed a series of colored slides which depicted some of the University's major achievements.

Since this is the Centennial Year for the institution, Mr. Brown included some quick glimpses of the tremendous growth and development which have taken place at the University during its first 100 years in addition to covering the past year's highlights.

Copies of this slide presentation (complete with a taped commentary) are available through the Alumni Office for use by local alumni groups.

IS OBSERVING ITS CENTENNIAL DURING 1965

Alumni may well take...

"PRIDE IN THE PAST, FAITH IN THE FUTURE"

...AS THEY LOOK TO THEIR ALMA MATER ON THE OCCASION OF her 100th Birthday.

1. Created by the Maine Legislature in 1865, the University of Maine has made an enviable reputation during its first 100 years.

100 YEARS AFTER ITS FOUNDING THE UNIVERSITY SERVES THE ENTIRE STATE

COLLEGES	Life Sciences and Agriculture	Arts and Sciences
	Education	Technology Business Administration
SCHOOLS	Nursing	Home Economics
	Forestry	Law
OTHER UNITS	The Graduate School
	Portland Campus	Cooperative Extension Service
	Me. Agricultural Experiment Station	Me. Technology Experiment Station
	Continuing Education Division	Department of Industrial Cooperation
	Summer Session

2. The University now has five colleges, four schools, and several other units. The institution is the only university in the state.

The University HAS 3 MAJOR FUNCTIONS

- TEACHING: REGULAR STUDENTS-SUMMER SESSION STUDENTS CONTINUING EDUCATION STUDENTS
- EXTENSION: BRINGING INFORMATION TO CITIZENS THROUGH COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE
- RESEARCH: Some 200 projects now underway. About $1,500,000 is being spent on these projects. Funds provided by State and Federal Government and private sources including Foundations.

3. Next fall the University will enroll at least 6,500 full-time students; CED and Summer Session students will bring this to 15,000.

THE UNIVERSITY AWARDS THESE DEGREES

- The Bachelor's Degree: 49 PROGRAMS (Ranging from Art to Zoology)
- The Master's Degree: 45 PROGRAMS
- The Doctor's Degree: AMERICAN HISTORY

ZOOLOGY · CHEMISTRY · PLANT SCIENCE
GENERAL-EXPERIMENTAL PSYCHOLOGY · ... OTHERS PLANNED

4. When the University was founded its course offerings were limited. Students may now enroll in many fields.

THE PHYSICAL PLANT IS EXPANDING RAPIDLY

SINCE WORLD WAR 2 THE FOLLOWING BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTED..

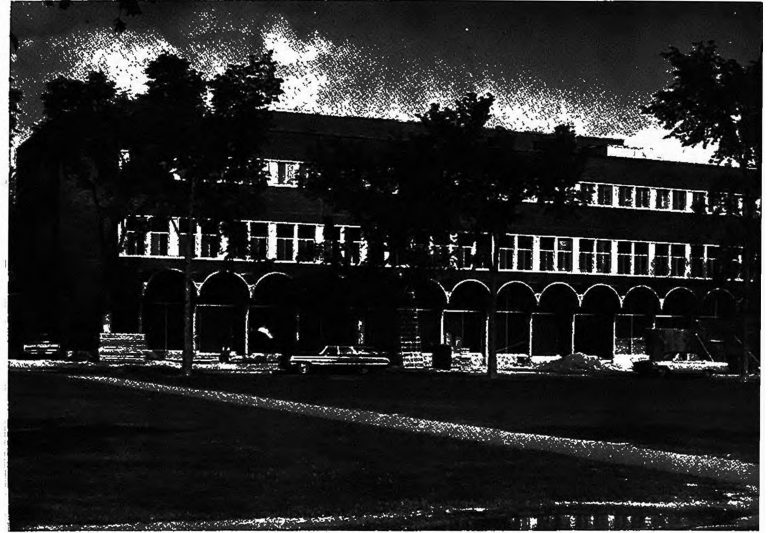

CLASSROOM-TYPE BUILDINGS	12
DORMITORIES	15
DINING HALLS	2
OTHER BUILDINGS	3
TOTAL major buildings available	80
TOTAL all buildings	135
VALUE OF PHYSICAL PLANT	$55,000,000

5. The greatest expansion in the physical plant has taken place since World War II. New facilities have also been established in Portland.

Campuses Are Growing Rapidly

6. One-hundred years after its founding the Maine campus is often hailed as one of the most beautiful in the nation.

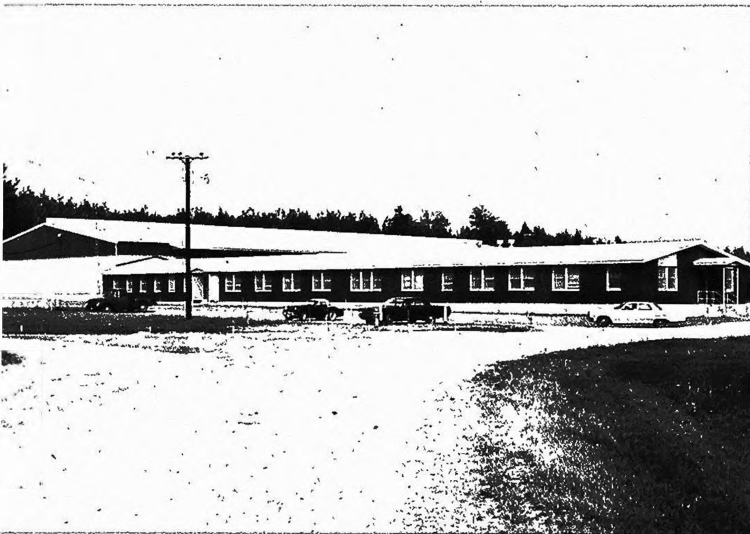

7. This new classroom on the Orono campus will be ready for use in the fall of 1965 by the Psychology and Languages Departments.

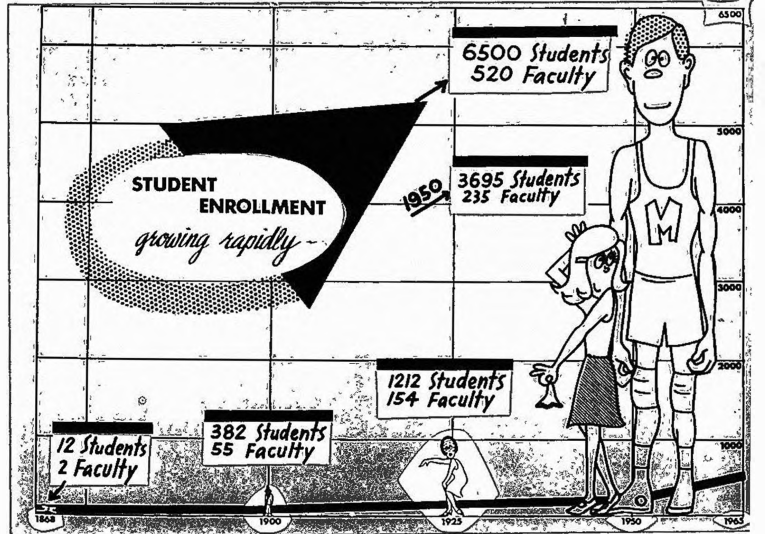

8. The Portland campus of the University is expanding rapidly. This new multi-purpose building will be ready in the fall of 1965.

9. The University at Orono is largely a residential institution. Hancock Hall will be used by students for the first time this fall.

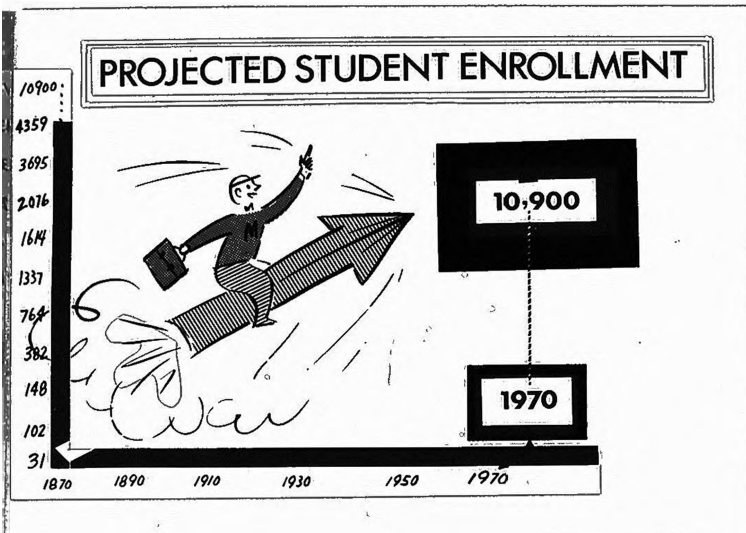

10. A university is in some ways like a small city. This new Service Building accommodates maintenance personnel and others.

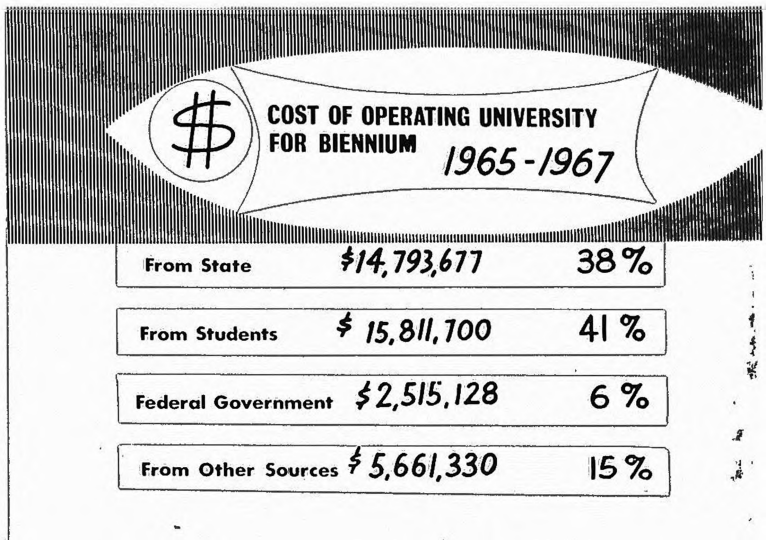

11. During its first 100 years the University has endeavored to maintain a good faculty-student ratio.

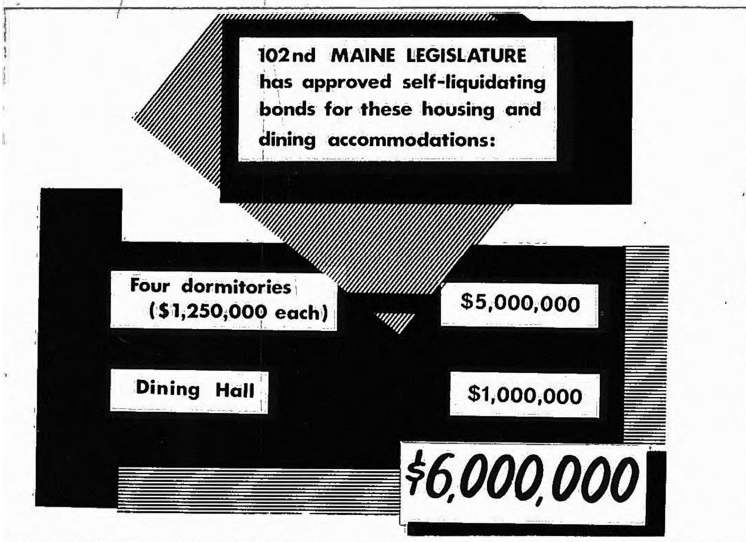

Quality In Education Is Goal

12. Studies indicate the University can expect an ever-increasing number of students in the years ahead.

13. Where does the money come from to operate the University? This chart shows that the students and the state are the major sources of funds.

14. In order to accommodate the growing student body, new accommodations are necessary. Student fees will pay for the buildings listed above.

15. Classrooms, laboratories, utilities, and renovations are essential to an expanding university. The state will pay for these facilities.

THE "CRASH" PROGRAM

This program will provide:

- * Opportunity for 2,000 additional students to study at University by Sept. 1967
- * Centers for commuting students in Lewiston-Auburn, Rockland, York County
- * Joint programs with Aroostook and Gorham State Teachers Colleges.
- * Possible acquisition of Dow Field facilities to accommodate 1600 students.
- * Possible merger with Gould Academy by Sept. 1967

Cost for Biennium $880,000

16. The 102nd Maine Legislature asked the University to submit a "crash program" to care for more students. The highlights are given here.

DISTINGUISHED MAINE PROFESSORSHIPS

Through the generosity of individuals & groups, including the General Alumni Association, 6 Chairs have been established at the University:

1. LOUIS GALDER PROFESSOR OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING
2. D.S. GOTTESMAN RESEARCH PROFESSOR
3. JOHN HOMER HUDDILSTON PROFESSOR OF ARTS
4. ADELBERT W. SPRAGUE PROFESSOR OF MUSIC
5. INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS MACHINES LECTURER
6. ARTHUR O. WILLEY PROFESSORSHIP IN MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

17. A notable achievement at the University in the last few years has been the establishment of named professorships. More are planned.

"Alumni May Well Be Proud"

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE CENTENNIAL FUND

Trustees Approved a CENTENNIAL FUND CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $1,000,000 TO PROVIDE:

- $100,000 LIBRARY RESOURCES
- $500,000 NAMED PROFESSORSHIPS

18. As part of the observance of the Centennial, a fund-raising campaign has been arranged. The money will be used for the purposes listed above.

20. This beautiful estate on the Damariscotta River has been presented to the University by Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Darling for an oceanographic center.

ATHLETIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Maine's athletes brought national recognition to the University during the past year.

The Highlight MAINE'S THIRD PLACE IN THE NATIONAL BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIPS IN OMAHA. MAINE'S BASEBALL COACH, JACK BUTTERFIELD, NAMED "Coach of the Year."

State Titles in: Football, Basketball, Skiing, Tennis

YANKEE CONFERENCE CROWNS IN: TRACK, BASEBALL, RIFLE

Note: Maine is perhaps the only State University in the nation that does not offer athletic scholarships.

19. Students have made remarkable records in many extracurricular activities. Maine's athletic teams have gained regional and national fame.

21. The Trustees of Gould Academy offered this $5,000,000 campus to the University of Maine as a branch of the State University.

MARGARET ANN MILLER HALL. Mrs. Robert W. Hall, 24, of Caribou (Loring Air Force Base), on Jan. 19, 1965, when she was struck by a truck and killed instantly. She was a native of Ada, Oklahoma. She had taught school at Milford and at Biloxi, Mississippi. Survivors include her husband, Robert W. '64, now at Dow Air Force Base, Bangor, a baby daughter, two brothers, one of whom is Robert T. Miller '64, of Bangor, and her parents, Major and Mrs. Melvin R. Miller, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Mrs. Miller also received a degree from the University in August of 1962, with Margaret Ann.

LT. (J.G.) STEPHEN HOLWAY MORRISON. Lt. (j.g.) Stephen H. Morrison, 25, of South Portland, on May 23, 1965, the victim of a hit and run accident in that city. He was a native of Portland. Lt. Morrison, a U.S. Navy fighter, had just come home on leave, after flying 18 missions from the aircraft carrier Ranger, at South Viet Nam. He had been in that area for 9 months, and had been awarded the Armed Services Expeditionary Medal. Survivors include his parents and two sisters.

WILLIAM HENRY O'DONNELL. William H. O'Donnell, 50, of Portland, on April 4, 1965, at a Portland hospital, after a brief illness. He was a native of Portland. He held an associate degree in accounting from Bently College, Boston, and received a degree in Business Administration from the University of Maine in Portland. Survivors include his wife, four daughters, four brothers, six grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

LT. NELSON EDDIE BILODEAU. Lt. Nelson

E. Bilodeau, 24, of Auburn, was killed in a motor accident in Thailand, on Apr. 4, 1965. He was a native of Auburn. He was serving in Thailand with a U.S. Army Engineering unit. He received his Army commission on completion of the R.O.T.C. program at the University. While in R.O.T.C. he received the Distinguished Military Student Award. He also completed the Army Engineer Officer School at Ft Belvoir, Va., and the Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga. Survivors include his parents, a brother, and his maternal grandmother.

BRUCE PETER MUGNAI. Bruce P. Mugnai, 18, of Machias, on Aug. 19, 1960, in a fall in an isolated mountain area in Sitka, Alaska. He was a native of Machias. Dr. Frank L. Bailey, retired Plymouth, Mass. optometrist has been notified that his name will appear in a volume listing Maine poets. In 1961 he published a book "Home Folks of Harpswell," and his poems have appeared in the Poetry Digest for 1942, and other publications. In 1952, Dr. Bailey copyrighted a second book "Venture in Verse" which he dedicated to his son and daughter. After graduating from Maine in pharmacy and chemistry, Dr. Bailey graduated from Klein School of Optometry, Boston.

Mrs. Roy Whipple, St. Petersburg, Fla., writes that Roy is about the same in regard to his health but does not seem to exert himself quite as much.

Roy Hamlin, Gorham, N.H., was in Seattle for five weeks in Jan. and Feb., visiting his daughter. He has sold his insurance agency and retired on May 1st. He hoped to see us all in June at Commencement.

Arnold Totman, Winnetka, Ill., says "Old Father Time" has lowered his tempo considerably in the past two years. He had no news but thought it wonderful the generous gift of Arthur Lord to our Alma Mater.

During the last four or five months of last year, Robie Mitchell, New York, spent most of his time, including Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays on a bond issue for the Mass. Port Authority. In January, he and wife drove to Miami and while there took a 12 day Caribbean cruise. On April 21, they were planning to leave on the Queen Elizabeth for an American Express tour of Europe.

Herbert Green, Spencer, Mass., says he is in good health and enjoys helping out his son in rush times in the florist business by delivering in surrounding towns.

A postal from Mrs. Garland, Malden, Mass., says that Carl is in very good health but is slightly confused at times. He reads, enjoys television and has even shoveled a slight amount of snow. He will be 92 on June 1st.

Gladys (Beale) Ellingson, Fairfield, Montana, says she is still around and keeps up her home. She does not take as many driving trips around as she used to. If you will look in the alphabetical list of the Alumni Directory you will see where Gladys (Florence G. Beale) is deceased. She is very much alive.

Jerome Clark, Los Angeles, Calif., one of our two surviving Law classmates, thought he might be the oldest in our class. Carl Garland tops him by nearly five years. He still writes a fine legible hand on his return postals.

Mrs. Walter Rodgers, Roslindale, Mass., writes that her husband finds it hard to concentrate, so she wrote the postal. Says Walter feels pretty good and tries to get out every day. He drives around Roslindale but never at nite. He enjoys going to the Masons.

Lucius Barrows, retired state chief highway engineer, was elected to his 26th consecutive one-year term as secretary of Maine's Good Roads Assoc.

Your secretary had a very nice trip to Savannah altho it rained two mornings, going and coming, we had fine weather while there. Our address after June 1, will be R. D. 2, Lincolnville, Me., until after Labor Day. This is our Pitcher Pond address which is on Rt. 52. After that we will probably be at the Bradbury Memorial Nursing Home, Inc., 32 High Street, Belfast, Maine.

Dr. Thomas W. Fessenden was the principal speaker at the unveiling, on Sunday April 25, of a plaque mounted on a boulder to mark the site of the first Methodist Church in the cities of Bangor and Brewer. The Church was erected in 1828 at the corner of Union and Independent Streets in Bangor.

Dr. Mervin M. Deems, who represented the Bangor Theological Seminary at the unveiling, said of Dr. Fessenden's remarks: "The Reverend Mr. Fessenden preached a powerful sermon at the site of the first Methodist Church in Bangor and Brewer before a large crowd of Methodists and friends from both cities. Mr. Fessenden sat down (he is 88 years of age) while delivering the sermon but this did not interfere with his ability to get his message across to the congregation. He touched on the sort of world we have today and of the challenge to the Church. He appealed to ministers and laity to be genuine missionaries of the gospel. When the service ended a fellow clergyman said to me: 'That was terrific! How he can preach,— imagine that at his age!' And we agreed that in what was said and the way it was said, there was no question of age. It was ageless."

Dr. Fessenden was the pastor of Grace Methodist Church in Bangor, 1905-1908.

Elizabeth Emery with Phil and Rebecca and her Aunt Marion were honored in April as the Family of the Month by the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., of which Elizabeth is a long time employee. A story of the affair, with four delightful photographs: Betty, tray-painting, one of her hobbies; a group, Betty, Phil, Rebecca and Marion before the Emery fireplace; Betty typing the Clarke School Alumni Bulletin and Phil, baking bread, his new pastime, appears in the monthly publication of the Company. Quoting from the publication: "All good things come in three's!" Betty Emery celebrated her 20th anniversary with Amlico, she was selected to be featured on this page and she took part in a big family reunion to observe her father's 80th birthday all within a matter of weeks.

"Betty is a member of the Home Office Personnel Records staff and is the gal behind the scenes in the American Mutual Annuity Assn. As for hobbies, her interests are many and varied. Betty loves to travel . . . her cameras have snapped some mighty good views . . . painting . . . knitting, stenciling, ceramics and gardening."

The affair ended with a family dinner as guests of American Mutual at the Pier Four Restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf in South Boston.

Club. Will has a perfect record of attendance at Rotary meetings over the past 40 years, from 1925 to 1965. Congratulations.

Word of the death of Harriet Brown, Elon's wife, last January has just reached the University. We knew her affectionately through our reunions and extend to Elon the sympathy of the class. Last summer we called on Elon and Harriet while on a trip through Oxford County with the Arthur Deerings.

Cora Shaw Gunn surprised us pleasantly by a phone call in late March. She was at the Bradley Field Airport waiting for her bus to Springfield. Cora had been away from her Pittsfield home ten months and seemed happy to be back in New England.

Putt Bruce expects to be back in Orono in June and is actively trying to sell the same idea to a number of his classmates. Putt is a persistent salesman so I look for good results.

A note from Helen Steward Bradstreet informs that she and Randolph have sold their home in Laguna Beach, California, and are building a new and very modern home in Laguna Hills, a few miles from their former location. It is a spandy new development with hospital, clubs and every recreational facility, designed especially for retirees. Their friends in the East wish for both of them many years of contentment in their new home. They will move in August.

Nick Carter recently sent me some Maine news, but unfortunately not much about himself. I would infer that he is well and getting about as usual.

A recent letter from Harold Miller, now living in South Berwick, indicates that he has a lively interest in both engineering and political affairs. I recall well his sharp intellect in our college days, and it is good to know he is still using it.

Charlie Kinghorn writes that he is due to receive from the State Medical Convention in June his Fifty-year medal. Most of these years have been spent in Kittery, Giant Pray's home town, where Dr. Charlie achieved a notable record. Charlie says he is taking vitamin pills so he can be in good condition for our 60th, four years from now. This might be a good professional tip for all of us.

The Providence Journal of April 11th gave lengthy space to "The Kimball Wildlife Sanctuary" and to its curator Everett F. Southwick '09. Everett has been curator since 1929 and has, indeed, made it a sanctuary for all forms of animal and bird life. There are at least 140 species of birds known to inhabit the area at various times of year. Many of his birds and animals are personal friends—almost pets—including skunks and foxes. Everett has lived alone in a spacious house in the Sanctuary since his wife died in 1942. I have visited him there and can affirm that he is an excellent housekeeper and cook.

MR. GEORGE P. GOODRICH

By the time you receive this report in the June-July issue of the Alumnus, the 55th reunion of our class will have become history. At the present writing your secretary has no definite knowledge of how many are planning to come back, but from what information he does have, we think we will have a good representation. We are sure President "Ernie" will have a good program for those who are there.

At the present writing, news is very scarce and any report for this issue is very limited. In my April-May report in the "Alumnus" the address of Rupert Jellison should have been 342 West Ave., and not 340.

It may be interesting to those who did not attend the 55th reunion to know how widely scattered the class is. In California there are 5, Connecticut 1, Florida 5, Georgia 1, Illinois 3, Iowa 1, Maine 20, Massachusetts 13, Missouri 1, New Hampshire 1, New Jersey 3, New York 3, Oregon 1, Rhode Island 1, Virginia 1, Washington 2, Washington D. C. 1, Ontario, Canada 1, and Sea Point, Cape Providence, South Africa 1. This makes a total of 64.

In addition I have 10 names whose addresses are unknown and who may or may not be living.

I was asked to act as secretary of the class by President Richardson, since we lost our Cliff Patch, much to our sorrow. (See special article.)

Pres. "Rick" and Ann Richardson are on a trip to Europe for some weeks. They expect to visit former associates and friends there.

The class was well represented at the March Alumni dinner at St. Petersburg, Fla. Clay Maxwell, Al Conley, "Nemo" Smith, Sid Winchester, and George "Bruce" Bearce attended. Albert Conley and his new bride, Madelyn (Dyer '36), spent the winter at their home in Sarasota. "Bruce" Bearce and his wife, Jeraldine, were touring Florida, and spent a few days with the "Nemo" Smiths in Sarasota.

Arthur Deering, our beloved class president has left us. He will be missed more than we can say. A tribute and an account of some of his many accomplishments are recorded elsewhere in this issue of the Alumnus.

Arthur, in his capacity as class president, was promoting the idea of a 1912 get-together somewhere in Maine some time this summer, probably in August. He and vice president June Kelley had some correspondence along that line. Now that Arthur is gone, and we no longer have his leadership, plans for such a meeting are uncertain. Those in favor who would be likely to attend, please get in touch with either vice president June Kelley, 27 Florence Ave., Norwood, Mass., or your secretary, Bill Schrumf, in Orono.

The 1912 attendance at the Senior Alumni breakfast on June 5, included besides your secretary, Frank Lancaster, Warren and Mrs. McDonald, Oscar Mountfort, and Fred Stewart. We also talked with Arthur Sturtevant who was registered.

Walter Hanson is back home after a sojourn at the EMGH Hospital in Bangor. He is reported to be recovering very nicely.

MR. CLIFTON E. CHANDLER

Classmates:—

I just got a letter from "Flicky" Richards, the only letter received since the last issue of the Alumnus so that took me off the "hook" and I can give you a bit of news. I guess the most of you who are radio fans have heard this Spring a "ketchy" little tune with words about "the Birds and the Bees and the Flowers and the Trees, and a Thing called love." Well, "Flicker", I mean "Flicky" writes that he has been humming that song ever since he read the column in March about the birds in my back yard but he reminds me that although he is a bird lover he could not make "heads or tails" out of their names—well, neither can I but thought at least some one person in the class could enlighten me.

The contents of "Flicky's" letter concerns his home and the surrounding property, all of which abounds in wildlife. He tells me he takes a daily walk through the woods feeding his wildlife friends—he says a little Warbler greets him every morning from a nearby tree with a song that is a little off pitch so guess he must be a drop-out from the Canary School of Music. Occasionally he will run across a Rabbit with his powder-puff missing, going so fast that "Flicky" says he must have changed from standard gas to quick starting get-up-and-go brand to avoid further harm from the dogs and cats.

About 300 yards from "Flicky's" home is a big white house which is now used as a museum and was the former home of General Daniel R. Bissell which was built around 1812. General Bissell was in command of Fort Belle Fontaine, about 18 miles north of this house on the Missouri River.

"Flicky" it was nice to get your letter and your Classmates are sure glad that you have such a lovely home in such a historic setting. Greetings to you and the family.

"Larc" Ober is back from his sojourn in Georgia and one morning last week gave me a call from his home in Beverly, inviting Helen and me to spend the weekend in Farmington at his camp but unfortunately we could not make it this time. Larcom is planning to be at Commencement.

I hope that many of you are planning to come back to Orono this year to help celebrate the 100th anniversary of the University and try to make some contribution to the 100th Anniversary Fund if you can see your way clear. See you in June.

MR. EVERETT G. HAM

Wellesley, Mass. 02181

Jack Leacock's Holyoke, Mass. address has been changed to 11 Calumet Road.

Lew Barrows writes from his new in-town Newport home that the coziness is enjoyable. As we get older we all seem to better enjoy a less-to-do type of domicile. Lew attended the March "Welcome Back Day" for old friends of other legislatures in Augusta. I guess most of us have forgotten that our class president and Maine's former governor was Senate Page as early as 1907.

Roger L. Gowell wrote me a good letter which explains his infrequent use of my address. Since his retirement from commercial life in 1959 Roger has been very busy with local civic duties in which he feels a person gains much satisfaction. The town of Poland has benefited by his help in school direction, the establishment and operation of a community health center, and of a public library. The town looked to Roger to be its Town Meeting moderator for 25 years. Both Mrs. Gowell and he have been active church workers. They anticipate our 50th Reunion with pleasure.

Burke Bradbury informs us of a new grandson, their 22nd grandchild. He believes that they have about "had it" on becoming grandparents and that now the Bradburys will concentrate on great-grandchildren. They are to soon visit their children in Connecticut and New Jersey.

(Helen L. Danforth)

Several news items reached me just too late for my last column, so I include them now.

Dick McKown is Hancock County chairman for the Red Cross fund drive.

A very great honor has come to our classmate Abraham Rudman. On April 1st, in a ceremony in the council chamber, Governor John Reed administered the oath to him as a Supreme Court Justice.

I was also delighted to be sent a letter which Francis Head, class reporter for 1918, had received from Sime Wardwell, of our class. Sime was with Abbott Laboratories, for many years a pharmaceutical company, but is now partially retired. He is doing research work at the State Hospital in New Hampshire on causes of insanity, trying to correlate chemical toxic material to insane conditions. Sime has one son, a geologist, living in Texas. How nice to have news from another 17er!

Mabel Murray Dixon has been visiting her sister, Agnes Murray Petty, '18, in Sarasota, Florida. They will be back to Westport Island, in Maine, for the summer.

Dr. Maurice Jacobs, President of the National Interfraternity Conference in 1946 and recipient of the Conference Gold Medal in 1954, was honored and recognized in the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin Magazine for November 22, 1964. The Bulletin carried a feature article, with pictures concerning the unique priority establishment which Maury operates at 1010 Arch Street in Philadelphia which is equipped with type and language specialists capable of handling 165 languages. The languages range from Afghan to Zulu and the article states that the employees "represent the greatest concentration of linguistic wealth this side of the United Nations' interpreters lounge."

William and I will be looking for some of you in Orrington, this summer. Happy Holidays!

MR. FRANCIS HEAD
131 Brown St., Pittsfield, Mass.

Tom Borgesson has been Town Clerk of Richmond for seven terms, unopposed. He reads biography and history, farms, and attends all public suppers, plays cribbage daily with his wife, and expects to retire when the voters say so. They both taught school at Beals, and they have lived in or near Richmond since 1947. He's only 73.

He is a Mason, Shriner, and Sec.-Treas. of the Boosters Club.

Walter Creamer's little boy, Dustin Walter, has registered his intention of marriage. He is U of M 1965.

There are too many of us in this month's necrology.

Albany, N. Y. 12203

Class of 1919 50th Reunion—June 1969!

Kenneth S. MacQuarrie has been re-elected to the Board of Directors of the Middlesex County National Bank. Ken graduated in the Class of 1920 after serving in World War I with the Navy. He obtained his law degree from Northeastern University in 1925 and practiced law in Boston with the firm of MacQuarrie and Perry until his retirement last year. Ken resides at 24 Larchmont Road, Melrose, Mass. where he is a former member of the city's Planning Board.

Judge Clayton E. Eames of Skowhegan was recently nominated by Gov. Reed as associate judge of the Western Somerset Municipal Court.

Many of you nineteen-niners who lost a year during World War I and returned to graduate with the class of 1920 will recall that we petitioned Prexy Aley for the right to have our sheep skins inscribed "as of the Class of 1919." Yours truly recalls serving as a member of the committee that called on Prexy at that time. Our request was approved and our diplomas were so inscribed. The point of this story is this: I trust that others in this group will recall this fact and will not fail to consider themselves loyal nineteen-niners in spite of the fact they spent their senior year and graduated with 1920.

No offense to 1920 is intended—it was a fine class thoroughly disciplined in their freshman year by 1919!

P.S. I wish some of you fellows would dig out from your long hibernation and write me about yourselves—or about other classmates. We're hungry for news. Plan now for our 50th Reunion—June 1969!

Class President, Dwight Demeritt hopes to see a good delegation at Commencement this year to start planning for our 50th—four years hence. Try and make it.

M. ELEANOR JACKSON, C.L.U.
140 Federal Street, Boston, Mass.

May 6 issue of Portland Press Herald carries a picture of Minerva French Anderson and a write-up. Minerva was one of three teachers retiring this year. The Rumford Teachers Association honored the three at a dinner on May 5. Minerva graduated from Stevens High and returned there in 1925 to teach physics and mathematics until three years ago when she began her duties as librarian. Minerva is planning to do substitute teaching. She has taken advance courses at Simmons and Boston University.

Linwood Chase and his wife had planned to be with us for our 45th but Linwood made a trip to hospital instead. Linwood will be on campus teaching summer school.

Henry Butler wrote March 30, that "I am struggling through my mail after returning from a seven month trip around the country and Canada." Henry and Grace have three children all graduates of Maine and seven grandchildren. Henry is assistant Laboratory Director of the Avionics Laboratory for International T & T Corp. He has eight patents issued and five applied for. He received his M.S. in E.E. in 1929 from Union College, Schenectady, New York. Henry belongs to Institute of Radio Engineers, Senior Member; I.R.E. Committee 15—Radio Transmitters, member RETMA Committee TR6-Long Distance Radio Communication, Member IRE Committee 27-Radio Frequency Interference; Tau Beta Pi; Phi Kappa Phi; Lambda Chi Alpha; Montclair Society of Engineers.

Les Bannister wrote March 27, from Florida "I am sorry to say that I will not be able to attend our 45th Reunion. All being well we sail on May 6 for a tour of the Mediterranean, 42 days 18 ports 12000 miles; when the cruise is ended we have 12 days in London before returning to New York. We return to New York the first week in April to get ready for our trip. Best regards to all."

Leona Gilman Bowyer wrote March 18 "we are retiring at the end of the school year and expect to be living in Rhode Island next fall. Our house is on the market now and with the possibility of being involved in passing papers, moving from here and winding up the school year, we decided to pass up reunion. Best wishes for a most successful 45th."

From Bangor News—"On May 5 the A.O.P.'s alumni and friends joined together in the sorority room, Penobscot Hall to honor Barbara Dunn Hitchner. The student president announced "the formation of Barbara Dunn Hitchner Girl of Gamma Award to be given in the years to come and serve as a reminder of Mrs. Hitchner's high ideals." A truly wonderful tribute to Barbara. We her classmates are delighted she has been so honored.

MRS. STORMONT JOSSELYN
(Emilie Kritter)
229 Kenzoa Ave.
Haverhill, Mass. 01830

From Roger Castle: "Let's start off with Hep Pratt, Laton Jackson, and myself. Last August we went on a salmon fishing trip on Salmon River. Everything was ideal but the fish didn't cooperate! Hep was general manager of the party, Jackson, dishwasher, and I cook. Hep was the only one who hooked a fish, a 40 lb. beauty, hooked "fowl" so it was returned to the water. Score, no fish; but lots of fun! So much for fishing! We three have been officiating at all the Bowdoin track meets, we did the A.A.U. Meet in Orono in March, and the State meet at Bates in May.

Bob Owen, who still lives in Schenectady, was at his brother's (near me in Damariscotta) to help celebrate their father's 90th birthday. Bob has 8 children, 16 grandchildren. Looking forward to our 45th Reunion, June '66.

News from our president, George Ginsberg: "Had a card from Leah Ramsdell Fuller. She and her husband have just returned from a round the world tour and will be in Rockland for the summer. Saw Don Coody and his wife at their home, 159 Graham St., Biddeford. Don, who carries a torch for Maine would be pleased to hear from his classmates.

Through this 1921 column, George wishes to thank the class for the fine response to his letter requesting contributions to the class Centennial gift.

MRS. FREDERICK MARSTON
(Kay Sargent)
Sargentville

I have an interesting article from the paper about classmate Frank L.S. (Lee) Morse who has led an interesting and active life in the field of education. Those of you who knew him no doubt remember that he came to our class after previously finishing two years at Maine followed by newspaper work, and service as a rural free delivery carrier for Rockland and Thomaston. Returning to college after 20 years he earned the B.A. and later received his master's degree in education.

Lee served as an educator in Knox County schools at Owl's Head, South Thomaston, St. George, Cushing and Friendship. Upon retirement 16 years ago he was superintendent of School Union 72.

Perhaps one reason F.L.S. stays so young at age 82 is because he has numerous hobbies including growing dahlias, writing verses for all occasions, reading Spanish as well as English for relaxation, and publishing 2 to 5 stories a month under the title of "Thomaston Scrapbook" for the local newspaper. He has done a weekly radio talk on Maine History and Tradition. Each year at Christmas time he is Santa Claus at a local department store as well as at children's parties.

Lee is an Odd Fellow, past patriarch of Rockland Encampment, a Granger, past master of Pleasant Valley and Knox Pomona. He lives at Morses Corner where his ancestors settled in 1769 and where he receives letters and visitors from all the United States. No doubt many of the visitors are grateful men and women whom he helped when they were working for a degree or toward entering college.

The next two items are from letters to Foster Blake which he passed on to me.

Les Boothby lives at Livermore Falls where he operates the family farm with his brother and one of his two sons, who studied Agriculture and settled on the farm after a tour of duty in Germany for Uncle Sam. The other son is an engineer and has been working for G.E. since 1951.

There are also two daughters and the four families have blessed Les and his wife with 20 grandchildren, the oldest ones are just reaching college age.

Les has served in the State legislature for two sessions where he was particularly interested in those problems having to do with the improvement of educational facilities in our state. His mother and father at age 87 are no longer active in the business.

The other item you will see elsewhere in the "Alumnus"; Horace B. Atkinson's death on Oct. 24, 1964. The information came from his widow from their home at 64 Ford Ave., Oneonta, N.Y. I know you will all join me in extending to her our deepest sympathy.

MRS. CARL T. STEVENS
("Bee" Cleaves)
123 Frances St., Portland

A few of you have done pretty well, but keep the news coming or you will hear about my aches and pains and creaking joints.

Fernald Stickney took his family to Williamsburg during their February vacation. Recently, they stopped here on their way to Lamaine. Mrs. Stickney and their three children live there during the summer and Fernald flies his own plane and commutes from New Jersey. Arthur has been accepted at U of M; enters in the fall.

Lionel St. Pierre has been elected president of the Hallowell Loan and Savings Association.

Dr. Paul Budge received his D.M.D. from Tufts School of Dentistry after his graduation from U of M. He was in private practice for ten years in Vermont and Mass. until he joined the staff of the Westboro State Hospital. In 1942 he left to serve in the U.S. Army Dental Corps spending most of his time in the Arctic. After ten years, he returned to the State Hospital until his retirement in 1961. He now lives with his only relative, a brother, in North Grafton, Mass. and summers at his home in Maine. (Where?) Wonder how he escaped all the co-eds at Maine?

Harriet Weatherbee True and her husband, Sterling, will be leaving Florida for Maine soon. Sterling tends the orange groves and Harriet teaches Math. (Modern Algebra, Trig, Analytic Geometry, and Calculus) in Winter Haven. Sounds as if she has a busy summer planned.

Frankie Webster lives in Rockland since her retirement from teaching in New York state. She has kept active working on the Legislative committee of the A.A.U.W. After visiting Harriet in Florida, she hopes to spend next winter in St. Pete.

I am about to take off for ten weeks of traveling. If nothing more is heard from me, you'll know they kept me in Russia and I probably am scrubbing the fabulous murals in the Moscow subway.

up a newly created administrative division. Prior to joining the Barnett staff in 1958 as an auditor, he was associated with Greyhound Lines and predecessor organizations for 33 years.

Edith (Hannington) Moberg resigned from the faculty of Watertown (Conn.) High School after 38 years of teaching English in that school. Edith also held an MA from Middlebury (Vt.) College, and had studied at Cambridge University in England and Harvard University.

Sally I. Duncan, of Presque Isle, Class of 1965, was the recipient of the Class of 1925 Scholarship for the spring semester.

Hope (Norwood) Bannister and Roxie (Dunton) Clark missed reunion in June as they were touring Europe with the Telephone Pioneers. Hope's son, Bob, has bought a general store in Blue Hill.

Phil Carroll, of Southwest Harbor spent two months in Florida and Jamaica this winter.

Dorothy Mossler has retired from the faculty of Cony High School, Augusta, after 40 years of teaching at that school. She was feted by her fellow teachers on the occasion.

Aura Coburn has retired to Maine—lives in Bowerbank, near Dover-Foxcroft.

MRS. TRYGVE HEISTAD
(Shirley Roberts)
503 Riverside Drive, Augusta

Granville Bond—Granville, a native of Bangor attended the U. of M. and later went to Harvard where he studied Advanced Management at Harvard Business School. He entered the feed business in 1926 as Salesman with the Eastern Grain Company which several years later became part of Wirthmore Feeds Inc. In this concern he has participated as Vice Pres. for Purchasing and was elected as Vice Pres. & Treas. in 1952, becoming Executive Vice Pres. four years later. For the past five years he has served as President of the Board of Directors and is now Chairman of the Directors.

Diong Diek Uong—Diek recently retired as Senior Vice President of the Fitchburg Paper Company after 39 years of service with them. Diek was born in Foo Chow, China and came to the U. of M. after attending the Philippine School of Arts and Trades and Foo Chow College. He has been active in many local affairs such as Pres. of the Civitan Club, a Director of Rotary, Chairman of the Cabinet of Pilgrim Congregational Churches and is Director of the United Fund and Chairman of the American Red Cross in Leominster. He has served as Director of U. of M. Pulp and Paper Foundation and is currently a member of the American Chemical Society, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, American Association for Advancement of Science, Technical Assistant of Pulp and Paper Industry and the Paper Industry Management Association. Diek is being retained by Fitchburg Paper Company in part-time consulting capacity. He is married and the father of five daughters.

Before we say au revoir for the summer, a gentle reminder. At our 35th Reunion in 1961 we voted to ask each member of the class to contribute annually (a sum of $10 was suggested) towards a really substantial gift to be presented to the University upon the occasion of our 50th anniversary. Upon last checking with Oscar Wyman, 15 of you had sent contributions and many thanks to you. As to the others I know it has just slipped your mind. Please send checks to your Treasurer, Oscar Wyman, 32 Peters Street, Orono.

Dr. H. Russell Beatty was the featured speaker at the thirty-third annual "9.29er's" breakfast in April at Wakefield, Mass. His subject was "Educational Innovations." He is a member of the special Massachusetts Education Committee as well as president of Wentworth Institute of Boston.

Gov. Reed of Maine appointed Vernon P. McFadden of Jonesport a member of the Washington County Development Authority.

John Snell, chief of Maine Bureau of Vocational Education spoke at the Augusta Rotary Club recently. His subject being "Vocational Education in Maine."

Margaret Boothby Freeman is now (May) on a trip to Tripoli, Libya, North Africa visiting her daughter Brenda (U. of M. '62) who is teaching in an oil company school there. She planned to visit Spain and Portugal en route and have a week in Switzerland also.

I don't suppose they will run into each other, but Dr. Wm. Purington, M.D. of Bangor and his family are on an extended tour of Spain and nearby countries now.

Bob and I and Earl and Peggy Webster had the pleasure of Calvin Hutchinson's company at dinner one eve while Cal was on Campus doing a ten-day photo coverage of the University. As I mentioned in February, he is a topnotch commercial photographer with headquarters in Chicago.

Gerry Engel writes that she is busy doing substitute teaching in Chelmsford, Mass. where she and Ed and their youngest son reside.

MR. RICHARD W. HOLMES
17 Harris Road, Orono 04473

Dr. W. Grafton Neally, known by us at Phi Mu Delta as Jim, was the University representative at the inauguration of Dr. Clifford Lee Lord as Pres. of Hofstra University on the 28th of April. Drop us a line, Jim, and tell us about yourself and your academic world.

Curtis Hutchins, Chr. Board Dead River Co. has been appointed one of a seven man committee to study the reuse of Dow Field.

The St. Regis Paper Company has paid a tribute to the late Byron McPheters, by naming a new campsite the Byron McPheters Campsite. This is located on Rt. 9 where the route crosses the Machias. Byron was a district woodlands superintendent for the St. Regis.

Harold L. Arey is moving from Cleveland to 6 Crescent St., Greenfield, Mass. where he has been appointed assistant sales manager of the special accounts division at Millers Falls Co. He has had twenty years experience in the tool industry.

Reginald Merrill Jr. who is at the University, plans on Divinity school after graduation. He is doing guest preaching while at the University and he recently spoke at the Dexter Methodist Church.

Roger C. Wilkins, V. Pres. of the Travelers Insurance Co., has been appointed Chr. of the Committee for Hartford, the citizens advisory group on urban renewal.

MRS. ERNEST J. PERO
(Jeanette Roney)
11 West End Ave., Westboro, Mass.

By the time this reaches you our 35th reunion will be over. In our next column I will try to include any news that I gather then, for, I hope, I shall be able to talk with many of you personally and catch up on all your doings.

I was happy to see a picture of our president, Bill Daley, in the Portland Sunday Telegram of May 16th and see that he had recovered from his recent illness. Bill was pictured with wife, Myrilla, daughter Susan, and son Michael displaying a plaque he received after 25 years with State Mutual Assurance Company. He is president of the Southern Maine General Agents and Managers Assn., a former president of Western Maine Football Officials Assn. and past president of Southern Maine Life Underwriters Assn.

Vera Hill, Librarian at Orono Public Library, recently discussed children's literature at a meeting of the Webster School Parent-Teacher Unit.

George Barnes, president of the Maine Potato Council, reports that Aroostook County has just ended its finest year. Potato prices began strong last September and held throughout the season. The total estimated value of the Maine potato crop is $130 million. This is a real economic boom and badly needed.

Harold (Baldy) Inman is division manager for Union Mutual Life Ins. Co. of Portland. He serves Aroostook County and New Brunswick, Can. He is also acting district governor of Rotary International, Dist. 781. He was governor in 1962-63, and Councillor 1963-64. His son David has recently been elected president of the Class of 1966. He has been elected class president four times. Baldy will be at reunion and I look forward to seeing him.

The Cooperative Extension Services potato specialist, Lewis P. Roberts, will work this summer with farmers who will undertake test plantings for Maine Sugar Industries Inc. which plans a $10 million refinery in Easton. Roberts was one of the first five county agents in the country to win the Distinguished National Service Award. He will be on leave of absence as county agent while working on the sugar beet program.

MRS. SAMUEL SEZAK
(Ethel Thomas)
4 Gilbert St., Orono 04473

It was a pleasant surprise to have a newsy letter from Helen Beasley Ernst (Mrs. William) recently. Helen lives in Toms River, N. J. She is finishing her tenth year as kindergarten teacher in Lakewood, N. J. Public School. A son, Jonathan, is in the Air Force and is stationed in Moses Lake, Washington. This has given Helen and her husband an opportunity to take trips across the continent by way of the Trans-Canada Highway for the past two summers to visit with an 18 months old granddaughter. Helen promises to see us all at our reunion next June.

Stanley Painter, Jr., is completing his medical course at Kirksville Medical College, Kirksville, Mo. in 1966. This will be followed by a year of internship. Patty Barton Painter is Admittance Officer at the Augusta General Hospital.

The impending retirement of Col. George M. Hargreaves, commandant of the 1049th Army Reserve School in Springfield, Mass. since 1961 has been announced by the U.S. Army. His career spans 42 years in the Reserve Officers Training Corps and Reserve Officers Corps. George has been a teacher at Classical High School in Springfield since 1955. Called to active duty in 1940, he served at Fort Knox as company commander.

Following a tour of duty as assistant chief of staff, intelligence, with the 99th Infantry Division, he was assigned to Supreme Headquarters in London as a member of the Anglo-American Planning Group. He later served as intelligence chief at Anglo-American Headquarters in Brussels. After coming to Springfield in 1955, he was named by the Army as mobilization assignee to the Intelligence Division, General Staff Corps. He was an aide to former Gov. Foster Furcolo and served as vice-chairman of the Springfield 1st Army Council.

Harry R. Sullivan has joined the Engineering Staff at Forster Manufacturing Company in Wilton. He is Power Engineer and will have charge of all power generating and electrical systems for the company, which operates plants in Wilton, East Wilton, Stratton, Strong, and Mattawamkeag.

In a family picture of the Daleys recently seen in the Sunday Telegram, Myrilla is shown holding the plaque presented to Bill ('30) for his 25 years with State Mutual Assurance Co. Pictured also are Susan Daley and E. Michael Daley, daughter and son, joining their congratulations to Dad. The Daleys have one married daughter living out of the state.

The May issue of The Maine Teacher features an article about the growth of Farmington State Teachers College under the guidance of President Ermo H. Scott.

MISS ANGELA MINIUTTI
55 Ashmont St., Portland 04103

John T. Barry, Jr., of Bangor, has been appointed manager of the Bijou Theatre. He has a well qualified background in the motion picture industry, as well as in radio and television. In 1938 he went to Hollywood where he appeared in the Lux Radio Theatre, he has worked in summer stock, and he was one of the first to work in the field of television. He is best known, in recent years, for his record of serving 15 years on the City Council.

Mrs. Albert Gerry (Mary Bean) of Brewer recently presented a book review at a meeting of the Norumbega Club.

New officers of the Women's Legislative Council of Maine include Mrs. John M. Ness (Edith Talbot) of Augusta as historian.

The Theodore Nuttings of Oxford report that their daughter, Dorcas, class of 1964, is a dietetic intern at Staten Island (U. S. Public Health Service Hospital) where she will be until September, 1965.

J. Weldon Russell, superintendent of schools in Lewiston, has been elected president of the Maine Teachers Association.

These five men were new to the life insurance business . . .

See how far they've gone with Mass Mutual in just 12 months!

Not all businesses measure success in terms of years served. Take these 5 men as a case in point. Two years ago, not one of them had any experience in the Life Insurance field.

Now they've become the most successful first-year men in their company! Each is his own boss, chooses his own customers, and enjoys earning a living helping people. And the amount of money each earns is in direct proportion to his achievements. No income ceilings. No ladder to climb. A career with Mass Mutual can start anytime; and it can progress as fast as you want it to.

Mass Mutual men work for themselves, but not by themselves! Behind them is a strong company, both at the local agency level and in the home office. For Mass Mutual has over $3 billion in assets and over a century of experience.

If you're interested in a career like this, write a letter about yourself to: Charles H. Schaaff, President, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, Springfield, Mass. He's always interested in good men!

MRS. ROBERT PENDLETON
(Betty Barrows)
Island Falls

William "Bill" Atkinson is now in Scottsdale, Arizona. His address is all the news of him that I have. He may read this brief account and have the inspiration to write and bring us up to date. William "Bill" '32 and Marjorie (Moulton) Murphy entertained Grace Quarrington Corey and me for dinner one evening in April. Marge is a member of the South Portland Park Commission and also has been doing Extension Service work. In spite of a busy schedule, she served a wonderful dinner. Bill is in the administration office at Maine Medical Center. Son John is studying for his Master's degree at Wisconsin. Tom and Sharon (Taylor '64) and infant daughter Kelley Ann live in a University apartment. Tom is a senior. He is a pitcher on the Varsity baseball team.

Grace has a daughter, Barbara, who is a freshman at U. of M. Her son James will graduate from Bowdoin this June. Grace teaches Latin at South Portland High School.

Miss Natalie Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brock of South Waterboro, was married to Everett A. Senter Jr. of Scarborough in February.

Miss Virginia Gay Keesling of San Francisco became the bride of John Robert Feeley Jr. on March 22 in San Francisco.

Stephanie Barry (Stephen and Marvia) and Alan Sawyer (Ralph (deceased) and Etta Grange '35) were elected to Phi Beta Kappa this year. Marjorie Libby (Dean Winthrop '32 and Elizabeth (Betty Tryon)) has been elected to Phi Kappa Phi.

Barbara Lester (Donald '32 and Marion Dickson) was elected as a Junior representative for the Judicial Board of Associated Women Students.

Robert Randall (Coleman), a major in engineering physics, was one of twelve students to receive a $400 scholarship from the Maine Teachers' Association.

Anyone going afar this summer?

A note from Peg (Avery) Lawrence says that she and Roy can't get up for reunion because their daughter Barbi ('64) is being married that very week-end to Anthony Yuodenakis, Jr. ('65). Barbi has been doing social work in N. Y. and will be working on her Masters at Columbia for the next two years while her husband works for Great Northern in their N. Y. office. Peg's and Roy's other twin daughter, Debbie, got her B.S. in Nursing from the U. of Rochester in '64 and was married to David Malone last summer. David, a '64 graduate of the U. of Rochester, is now studying at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School and Debbie has been on the staff of a Rochester hospital. Nice to hear from you, Peg!

Ruth Harding Brookes has been named Augusta's mother of the year. Ruth and her husband (Rev. Kenneth Brookes '38) have four children ranging in age from 15 to 24, and one grandchild. Ruth does guidance work at the Buker School in Augusta and at Cony High. She'll be at Cony full time in the fall. We're proud of you, Ruth!

Harry F. Shea, Bedford, is one of a Corps of Engineers group which went to Turkey in February to examine field conditions and review criteria at the site of the proposed Keban Dam on the Euphrates River. After Maine, Harry completed courses in soils engineering at No. Carolina State. He is chief of Foundations and Materials branch of the Corps of Engineers in Waltham. He has been with the Army since '42, with 3 years active duty in WW II.

Max Rapaport, Bangor, has been named to the Equitable Life Assurance Society's Hall of Fame. Max is one of 62 living members—the only one in Maine. The award was presented at a luncheon at the Bangor House in April.

Class President George Cobb has recently become Vice President of the Corporate Development Division of the American National Bank of St. Paul, Minn.

Carl Whitman, Needham, has been appointed Vice Pres., Administration, of Food Enterprises, Inc., Canton. Carl joined Food Enterprises as assistant to the president in '58. As we know, he is National Chairman of the U. of M. alumni fund drive, also active in civic affairs in Needham, and on the board of directors of the Boston Food Brokers Assoc. He was a PT boat commander in WW II, and spent several years in the insurance business before entering the food field.

At a Maine Forest Products Council Meeting at Waterville April 1st, Clayton O. Totman of Waldoboro was reelected president.

Charles Dwinall, Jr., was a candidate for the Northfield representative on the Tilton-Northfield School Board this spring. After graduating from Maine in Pulp & Paper Tech, Charlie was with Johns-Manville for 25 years, as a Research Engineer at Manville, N. J., for 8 years, and Quality Control Supervisor at the Tilton Plant for 17. He has been on the school board before and has served as its chairman; is a member and past president of Rotary; a member of the Lakes Region Industrial Management Club; and on the Executive Board of Assumption Parish. Charlie is married and has three sons.

A letter from Stuart Mosher tells of drastic changes in his family's situation this year. He and Dot have sold their Buck's County, Penna., home, have bought and remodeled a summer place at Pushaw Lake, near Bangor, and are living the balance of the year in Guadalajara, Mexico, "a beautiful city with a climate of eternal springtime," as Stu describes it. Stu is an Industrial Training Consultant with the Jim Handy Organization of Detroit, working mainly on national accounts with various divisions of General Motors. They have three boys, Bill 15, Rick 13, and Howard 12, all attending school in Mexico. They can be found in Maine, Michigan or Mexico and we hope their itinerary brings them to Maine in time for reunion.

Gridley Tarbell, Mayor of Belfast, exchanged greetings with the Mayor of Belfast, Ireland, via Early Bird satellite on May 24th. The telecast was suggested by Irish TV officials and arranged by WABI-TV, Bangor. Early Bird was made available for such broadcasts free of charge during May and was the only one made locally.

George and Betty Carlisle's son Davis was married May 22nd to Miss Susan Aldrich of Newcastle.

It is so nice to be able to start the column with a personal letter (usually have to rely on the faithful Alumni office for clippings) from Ed McKenney. Ed started with us, but graduated from Georgetown University in '38, went to New York City to work, served in the Army during World War II then returned to New York City working as a buyer for Rockwood Chocolate. He joined Ovaltine Food Products in 1959 and is presently Purchasing Agent. Ed is married, lives in Lombard, Ill. and has a daughter, Rosemary, who will graduate from St. Mary's School of Nursing, Rochester, Minn. in June; and son Edward, Jr., is a Junior in High School. Ed wishes to be remembered to Al Crowder and Betty and Fred Parsons and extends an invitation to any '36ers touring the mid-west to call.

Carolyn Currier Lombardi, State President of the Maine Federation of Women's Clubs, addressed the group at their March meeting on U. of M. Campus. She also presided at the State Session at the Pilot's Grill on April 12th at the Community Improvement Meeting.

Noticed we were well represented in the Pulp & Paper Industry in the Bangor Daily News U. of M. Centennial Edition: James Boardman with Keyes Fibre, Waterville; Richard Estabrook with St. Regis, Bucksport. With S. D. Warren Co., Cumberland Mills, we find Charles Robie, John C. Stinchfield, Albert Verrill, Jr., and David P. Wellman.

Wendall Hadlock, director of Rockland's Farnsworth Museum spoke at the Warren Historical Society in January, and in May spoke at the Paten Free Library, Bath.

In February, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Conley (Madelyn Dyer) of Freeport were in Washington where Mrs. Conley was a guest of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson at a meeting at the White House with a group invited to hear Sargent Shriver introduce a new program "Project Headstart".

Roland M. Gleszer, formerly of Bangor, has been promoted to Brigadier General. Roland graduated from West Point in 1940, served in Europe during World War II, then in Saudi Arabia, next attended Army War College, graduating in 1958, then took command of an Army regiment in Hawaii until 1961. He is now at the Pentagon. He is married, lives in Virginia and has two children, 2nd Lt. Peter E., a 1964 graduate of West Point now stationed in Germany, and Susan, who is attending Marymount School in Tarrytown, N. Y.

In January, Nancy Dole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Dole, was married to Dr. Richard Curtin. Her sister, Judy '64, was honor attendant. Nancy graduated from Children's Hospital School of Nursing, Boston, and has been a pediatric nurse at Greenwich (Conn.) Hospital.

Boston Sunday Herald of March 28 pictured a summer home of "Prof. and Mrs. David Brown of Alexandria, Va., formerly of Marlboro, Me." Can this be David Brown of '36?

Have a nice vacation—and I do hope you will all use your pens and postage stamps next fall and help to keep the column varied and interesting. It's YOUR column!

The Penobscot County Farm Bureau held a spring meeting for members and business associates at the Oronoka to discuss the purposes and objectives of the Farm Bureau. One of the leaders of the discussion was Jerome A. Emerson of Corinna who is president of the Maine Farm Bureau Association. We are happy to recognize any classmates who are leaders in their fields. Keep up the fine work, Jerome.

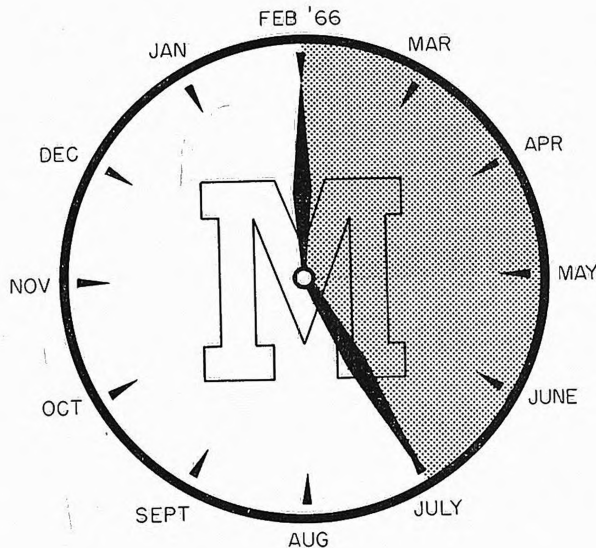

Our best wishes to Dick Berry of Cape Elizabeth who is representing Cumberland County at the 102nd Legislature. We appreciate having such an able person represent us, Dick.

Oliver Eldridge, president of the Canaan (Conn.) Savings Bank, has just received a graduation Certificate after completing a two year course in a school sponsored by the Educational Committee of the Connecticut Savings Bank Assoc. Because of his experience as a teacher and educator Oliver has brought valuable contributions to the Education Committee in helping to set up the school. Our heartiest congratulations to you, Oliver, for aiding progress both in the field of Education and Banking.

We are justly proud of Lloyd Hatfield, Supt. of Schools of York, who has been awarded a John Hay Summer Fellowship in the Humanities. He is one of 87 administrators throughout the nation to be chosen to attend the Institutes at Bennington College, Colorado College, Univ. of Oregon, and Williams College. During his seven years at York some of the special programs he has instituted are: Unified writing programs, special class for mentally retarded, ungraded reading program, a speech therapist one day per week, language laboratory, team teaching for intermediate grades, classes in advanced chemistry and mathematics, a three year program in German, and a summer school for pupils in grade 8 through 12. Our best wishes to you Lloyd, at the Institutes and for continuing such fine contributions in the field of Education.

Next we must congratulate another distinguished classmate, George Grange, who is Deputy Administrator for Marketing Services, Consumer and Marketing Service, Washington, D. C. In May, Sec'y Orville Freeman presented to George the Distinguished Service Award, the highest citation Going, going . . .

GONE! In no time at all the Centennial Fund will be closing. Deadline is February 24, 1966, just a few months away. Between now and then you probably will have had a vacation, sent the kids (or grandchildren) back to school, and celebrated Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Years . . . maybe a birthday or two as well. Each of these seasonal events plus the normal business of living is enough to let you forget that UM is celebrating its Centennial Year, that Maine hopes to raise $1 million through the Centennial Fund. So . . . while you're reading this why not reach for your checkbook and lend a hand to Maine? Others have helped with over $650,000 to date. The Centennial Fund is depending on you—for student aid, cultural activities, library resources, endowed chairs, and teaching and research equipment. Neither state funds nor (rising) student fees can pay for these necessities. Only you can help.

to employees of the U.S.D.A., given to only seven employees. This is a wonderful honor, George, for your continued progress in your field of endeavor.

Among the ten outstanding seniors of Tippencanoe High School in Indiana who were honored as top citizen-scholars was John T. Hutchings, youngest son of Pat Hutchings. I am sure Pat would have been as proud of his son as we are. (Thank you just heaps, Les Smith, for sending the item about Pat's son and the fine letter with news about your family, too.)

Les and Betty's son, Warren is now a freshman at Purdue after having been in the service for four years. His last tour of duty was in De Nang.

In June, Les is to be the speaker at Dean Paul R. Miller's retirement dinner in Burlington, Vt. Then he and Betty are off to Columbia, Tenn. to attend the second National Grassland Field Day and celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Good luck Les with the exciting and busy spring.

Since February I have been teaching girls' physical education and intramurals at Lincoln Junior High School. Saturday mornings have been consumed by taking a course in the administration of Phys. Ed. from Mr. Sullivan at U.M.P. Gordon, the boys and I did take a week's respite for a trip to So. Carolina during the school vacation.

Have a most enjoyable summer season, everyone!

MRS. DUNCAN COTTING

(Midge Lynds)

352 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. 02116

Mary Deering Wirths, who is a second grade teacher in the Falmouth Elementary School, has been a test teacher in Maine for a scientific study sponsored by Educational Services, Inc., a non-profit research organization. Mary's 25 youngsters studied growing seeds and observed the growing process of plants and reported such progress by graphs.

Mary Wright Domini has been elected president of the National Association of Extension Home Economists. Her duties will begin in the fall and Good Luck to you, Mary.

Bruce Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor of Bridgton Highlands is a winner of the first prize in "Voice of Democracy" essay contest. This contest was sponsored by the Bridgton Memorial Chapter, Veterans of Foreign Wars. His prize was a trip by plane to Washington and a chance to compete in the national contest for a scholarship award.

I think that most of our 38's know that Norm Thompson is an owner and partner in the Salad Bowl Firm in Kittery, Maine. They now have outlets in Dennisport and Orleans on Cape Cod and Searsport. We have been buying these beautiful salad bowls to give as gifts for many years and hope others in our class in going by these shops will stop and see our classmate. Early in May the Portsmouth, New Hampshire Herald featured a full-page story on the Salad Bowl Firm and its interesting operation.

Donna Felt, daughter of Lester of Corinth, Maine is a senior English major at Atlantic Union College in South Lancaster, Massachusetts. She has been named to represent her school in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Students recognized for this honor are chosen from over 700 colleges and universities and this recognition is based on scholarship, participation, leadership and promise of future usefulness as a citizen.

Response at last. A nice letter from Meredith Bramhall that started off the news items. Their son Ben will be graduated from the University this June and will be married the following Saturday to a classmate, Sharon Mount from Hallowell. Their other son Bill will be graduated from high school in Concord, Mass. Meredith also wrote news of Dick Quigley which was followed by a letter from Dick himself. He has happily retired from the Marine Corps as a Colonel and has bought a home in Salinas, Calif., which he describes as the salad bowl growing center and the golf center of the world—to which he adds—his wife, Edmee's, son has a 6 handicap. Dick is in municipal government as the Senior Planner and Zoning Administrator. His daughter Anne is a junior at the Univ. of Maryland. So glad to hear from you!

Edward Cyr is the manager of the newly organized United Potato Producers who function to inform the farmers of the latest price quotations on the potato market. Ed lives in Madawaska.

Lt. Col. Granville B. MacMillan, communications officer for the Maine Air National Guard, retired after 22 years service. He lives in Old Town.

I was so interested to read that Ted Ladd has been elected president of the Rockland District Chapter of the American Field Services and thus to learn foreign students will have an opportunity to live in that lovely Maine community. I am sure that Ted and Peggy's fine community spirit has contributed to this and many other efforts one reads about Rockland. Our daughter's first job was with AFS so I know something of its rewarding results.

Artemus Weatherbee

The National Civil Service League presented 10 Career Service Awards to outstanding Federal Government employees this May and Art Weatherbee, assistant secretary of the Treasury Dept. was among them. Also Art really made the news in the Washington Post when the column "The Federal Diary" wrote exclusively of his visit by the President of the U.S. It seems Art decided to send to the White House a copy of a report he had compiled which showed the Treasury Dept. had saved $66 million through various economies during the past four years, and half of it during the last year. Well as we know President Johnson has been pounding away at this issue, so much to Art's astonishment the President appeared right at his office the next day to meet this great economizer. Of course Art gave the credit to the agency but it was a singular tribute.

Lucille (Bell) Grange was having lunch with a group recently and was surprised that seated next to her was Marion (Kiszonak) Owens, known as Kissi at Maine. Actually they live very close to one another. Marion's address is 6315 Highland St., Alexandria, Va.

Have a fun summer and write me about your vacations and who you saw and what you did and I'll be with you in the fall.

MRS. EDWARD R. LADD

(Peggy Hauck)

Juniper Hill, Rockland

Mrs. Harold Gaynor (Lorna Robbins) is a piano teacher and lives at Valley Drive West RD#2, Shenarock, Yorktown Heights, N. Y.

Earle D. Bessey, Jr. was re-elected treasurer at a recent Maine Forest Products Council meeting in Waterville.

Hope A. Jackman of New Jersey State Teachers College in Trenton, New Jersey, represented the University of Maine at the inauguration of Albert Louis Kerr as Headmaster of the Peddie School in Hightstown, New Jersey.

Ted and I are having another busy spring! We have just moved into our new house and are delighted with our view of Penobscot Bay. And in June our high school daughter, Allison, leaves for two months in Japan as an American Field Service American Abroad student, and college daughter Anne leaves for the summer in Spain with the Experiment in International Living!

Have a happy summer, everyone.

MRS. DONALD G. GRIFFEE

(Mary Louise White)

423 Aroostook Ave., Millinocket

The Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Taverner (Bette Barker), Milton, Mass. have announced the engagement of Bette's daughter, Nancy Kilpatrick, also the daughter of the late Donald Kilpatrick, Jr., to Clifford Adelman of Brookline, Mass. Nancy is a senior at Pembroke College, Providence, R.I. Mr. Adelman is a doctoral candidate at the U. of Chicago.

Lt. Col. Loren Stewart is currently the Chief of the Records Evaluation Branch, G-3 section, Army Air Defense Command. He and his wife, Goldie, live in El Paso, Texas where she is a professional artist—best known for her Oriental water colors and bronze sculpture. Their daughter Pat, married to an airman, has two sons. Son, Raymond is in the Navy. Daughter, Mary is a high school junior and son Scotty is in the sixth grade. I believe that Loren is our first grandfather.

Wendell Butler has been appointed assistant director of product management for Allied Chemical Corp. Solvay Process Division. Wendell, who resides in Syracuse, N.Y. with his wife and three children, joined Solvay in 1959.

Radford Luther of Simsbury, Conn. has been appointed patent attorney for the Chandler Evans Control Systems division of Colt Industries. Radford holds engineering and law degrees from the U. of Maine, U. of Conn. Law School and the U. of Hartford. He is a member of the county and state bar associations, Conn. and American Patent Law Associations and is registered to practice before the U.S. Patent Office.

At the Penobscot Company, Great Works, Laurencé Leavitt of Orono has been promoted to Laboratory Superintendent.

Dr. Edward Geary of Cornell U. will join the Bowdoin faculty in the fall as professor of romance languages and chairman of the department. Ed, who is married to the former Eleanor Wood of Augusta, was awarded an Honorary A. M. degree by Harvard in 1960.

Arthur, son of Florence (Cousins) and Art Worster, Painted Post, N. Y., is at the U. of Buffalo. Son, Larry has been accepted at St. Lawrence for next fall. Daughter, Mary Lou is in the eighth grade. They are hoping to be at reunion in 1967.

Virginia (May) Mansfield, Framingham, Mass., after working on publicity, Boston Herald-Traveler; publicity, Director, Colby Jr. College; Recreation worker, American Red Cross, New Guinea and the Philippines and Photo-editor Science Illustrated Magazine is now busy raising Jeffrey, 14, Benjamin, 12, Eliza, 10 and Nina, 5. She is also a Framingham Library Trustee.

Virginia (Weston) Bradford, mother of Margaret, 18, Elizabeth, 16, and Robert, 13, has been teaching language arts in grade 7, Dover-Foxcroft since 1959.

Are you going on an interesting trip this summer? Europe? Asia? Africa? The Moon? Please send me a card!!

MRS. CLIFFORD H. SINNETT

(Charlotte Gifford)

64 Vannah Ave., Portland 04103

Carlton E. Crossland has recently been promoted to Trust Officer of the Security First National Bank of Los Angeles, Cal. This is the eighth largest bank in the country so Carlton surely deserves our most sincere congratulations!

Harold J. LaCroix, Jr. is the regional manager of the General Adjustment Bureau, Inc. Lafayette, La.

Harold E. Mongovan, Jr. was one of 38 Cyanamid salesmen to receive the Golden Oval Award for his outstanding 1964 sales record! He has been with American Cyanamid Co. for 19 years and sells dyes to the paper and plastic trade in the Hudson and Connecticut River valleys. "Dit", his wife, and five children live at 53 Adelaide Ave., Pittsfield, Mass.

Harold E. Mongovan

James E. Haggett, with the Norton Co. of Worcester, Mass. since 1951, has been appointed assistant to the director of research and development, abrasive division.

Cliff and I saw Lewis and Grace (Burnell) Hutchinson "walking on air" at a supermarket recently, and little wonder! Their oldest son, Lloyd, had just won a 12 day trip to Spain and Portugal. The Portland Press Herald, Evening Express, and Sunday Telegram sponsor a Young Columbus IX contest annually in cooperation with the syndicated Parade Magazine section. Lloyd came in 2nd in 1963 and 1964 and had fairly given up hope, but this year as a result of "year-round route management, good citizenship, and scholastic achievement," he was the grand winner for Maine! He hopes to become an animal laboratory technician starting his studies at the Orono campus this fall! With his participation in church activities, sports, music, rifle club, Lions Club, and as Senior adviser of the American Field Service Club, Scouts, AND maintaining a commendable scholastic record, he should get a great deal out of college! He has 3 younger brothers—Brian, 14; Ralph, 11; and Glenn, 7.

Robert L. Newdick will continue living in Gardiner even though he has been promoted to superintendent of the three Maine factories of the Commonwealth Shoe and Leather Co. Inc. in Gardiner, Lewiston, and Freeport.

Francis L. Murphy is now director of public relations for United Aircraft Corp. in E. Hartford, Conn.

Francis R. L'Herault is up for re-election to the Board of Selectmen of Wrentham, Mass. He and his wife, Eleanor, have on son, David, an ensign in the Navy.

George A. Watson, sales manager for Fenwal, Inc. is a candidate for the Topsfield, Mass. school committee. He and his wife have children 14, 10, and 8.

This is my last report for the Alumnus. Marcia (McCarthy) Brown (Mrs. Bremner H.) of 305 Salem St., Bradford, Mass. will be with you next year. I'm sure she would be grateful for anything you would wish to send her this summer to give her a running start! I have most thoroughly enjoyed meeting some new names and renewing some old acquaintances. Quite a class!

MRS. CHARLES COOK

(Margaret McCurdy)

Old Dover Rd., Rochester, N.H.

Danny West is the new assistant Campaign Chairman of Bangor's United Fund Drive.

Earland Sleight has been promoted to position of general superintendent of production at the Penobscot Co., Great Works. The position will encompass responsibility in both Penobscot's Kraft and Sulfite Mills.

Dayson D. DeCourcy is one of the candidates for the West Hartford Board of Education. He has had 12 years teaching experience—college, high school and adult education. Dayson has also been very active in PTA work, coached and umpired in Little League Baseball, advancement director for a Boy Scout Troop and active in the Hartford Chamber of Commerce.

Lawrence McGary is Director of Extension Service in Alliance for Progress program with his headquarters at Assumption, Paraguay, and is responsible for 15 field offices. Larry was formerly in Djakarta, Indonesia. The McGary's have three children, the youngest, six years, and all speak Spanish fluently.

Russell Bodwell

Russell S. Bodwell of Florham Park, N.J., has joined the staff of Levitt and Sons, Inc., the nation's leading homebuilder, as Deputy Chief Engineer. Russ is immediate past president of the New Jersey Alumni Association of the U. of Me. He and his wife Barbara (Higgins '45) are the first couple to receive the Univ. of Me.'s alumni activities award, presented to them in 1963.

Jane Callaghan, daughter of John '51 and Florence (Boyle) Callaghan of Bangor has a recipe, Almond Crisscross, included in the Pillsbury 16th Grand National Cookbook, which is available at grocery stores throughout the state and nation. Jane represented the State of Maine at the Pillsbury Bake-Off in 1964. The sweet roll is "yummy" (Page 22)—the inspiration for the filling came from that old Maine recipe for potato candy.

"Mother" Callaghan also has her claim to fame: she had an article published under her by-line in the January issue of Contest Magazine and another article sold to "Guide Posts," both articles are about Jane at the Bake-Off. Florence, herself, has won a second trip to compete in a chicken cooking contest in Maryland.

Have a wonderful summer!

MR. RICHARD H. DANFORTH

7 Elm St., Winthrop

Donald Robinson, science coordinator in Fal-mouth Schools for the past four years has recently been named to succeed Dr. Emery S. Dunfee as supervisor of science for the Maine Education Department under the National Defense Act. Donald, who holds Master's degrees from the University and from Syracuse University has done advanced work at American University, research in heart diseases at the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md. and in agronomy at Cornell University.

Good old Bob Emerson, still climbing the ladder of success, has recently been promoted to quality control superintendent at the Penobscot Fibre Company at Great Works. Great work, Bob!

Word has just been received that George H. Lotker has joined the Saxon Paper Corporation as Vice President and Director of Marketing. He was formerly associated with Majestic Paper Corporation for 16 years in an executive Sales Capacity. He and his wife and three children live in Port Washington, Long Island. Many congratulations, and best wishes, George.

Our own beloved Class Prexy, Bob Nelson, has been selected by Gov. Volpe to receive the appointment as a new trustee for the Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute. This job, along with being a member of the Attleboro School committee and his full time job as manager of the American Sisalkraft Co. Plant in Attleboro, a division of St. Regis Paper Co. makes Bob a busy, but not dull boy. This is a fine honor, Bob, and best wishes for a fine term of office.

Well, this is my swan song, as this will be published after we have our Class Reunion, and "somebody else is taking my place," as the old song goes, at least they had better . . . Don't think this hasn't been a lark, because it has, but I feel you should switch, not fight. Thanks so much for your help.

'46

MRS. CHARLES D. STEBBINS

(Betty Perkins)

29 Oxford St., Winchester, Mass.

Mrs. Fern Witham is head of the home economics department at Algonquin Regional High School, Northboro, Mass. The Withams live in Sudbury. MRS. FRANK W. HAINES, JR.

(Alice Fonseca)

15 Bradway Ave.
Trenton, N. J. 08618

The class of '48 appears to have dropped out of sight! I'm sure many of you, while not making the headlines, are doing interesting things in business and community life. And please remember to gather notes for the class sec'y as you travel around this vacation season.

Leonard Pearson

Leonard Pearson, 2463 Martin Rd., Akron, Ohio, has been named manager of a new industrial equipment section in the marketing dept. of Babcock & Wilcox Co.'s boiler division. He joined B & W in 1948 and has been with the Barberton, Ohio, division since 1958.

The Portland agency of Nat'l Life of Vermont, led by Tom Talbot, was honored for its high ranking in the firm's 3rd annual sales campaign.

Our family is once again involved in Little League with Frankie playing and the rest of us rooting. Frank has had an extremely busy spring. In April he attended a 3-day tax conference in Washington and a similar conference at West Point in June. He has been elected president of the local chapter of the American Society for Public Administration and continues to serve on the board of the Torch Club. I have dropped out of most activities in anticipation of doing substitute teaching next year in our school system.

We enjoyed hearing the University singers who performed for the N.J. alumni following their appearance at the Fair. Harriete (Watson) Litchfield was there and reported that she had performed in "Kiss Me, Kate!" with the Chatham Players earlier in the spring.

Send along your news of summer activities and let's have a long and interesting class column to start off the fall!

John F. Grant, Merrill Trust president, is a member of a 7-man advisory committee on the reuse of Dow Air Force Base.

Fred McDonald, West Hartford, has been named president of the Greater Hartford Association of Retarded Children. He has long had an active interest in this organization and numerous other civic groups in the area. Fred is manager of the Public Information and Advertising Dept. of Travelers.

Dr. Richard Cutts, associate professor of English at Norwich Univ. at Northfield, Vt., has been named to a committee of the Nat'l Council of Teachers of English.

Say, how's this for an attention getter? I received a letter recently from a fellow who used to sleep beside me! His name is Robert (Bob)

Rich and because of the alphabet he slumbered next to me for a whole semester in bacteriology classes. Used to make me mad, too, to have him snoozing so peacefully at my elbow while I took notes furiously. The only time he was awake, I swear, was for exams and (you guessed it) he got the A's and I got the C's and D's. (Forgive me, Bob, I couldn't resist.) Bob's now in Findley, Ohio, with his family which includes spouse Suzanne (Tasker), youngsters Jonathan (9), Mark (5), and Roxanne (6 mos), plus five-year old Romeo, a 150-pound Newfoundland "puppy". Since graduation, Bob spent two years each in farm managing and the U.S. Army, then has since been employed by American Cyanamid Company's Agricultural Division selling pharmaceuticals for use in livestock feeds. He recently moved from consumer sales to industrial selling and now covers parts of Ohio and Michigan.

And Joan (Russell) Mogilevsky writes from Florida that Mike is now an engineering writer for NASA. He has done engineering writing for contract companies in the past. Joan keeps busy with their three youngsters, aged 9, 5 and 3.

John Bragoli, president-elect of the Maine Science Teachers presented a paper at the group's spring meeting. His topic was "Chromatography, Its Uses In Biology. John is a teacher at Gardiner Area High School.

Donald LaRochelle was named a director at the first annual meeting of the Consulting Engineers of Maine in April. He is a civil engineer in Lewiston.

Norman R. Prolman, who went to Clark University in Worcester, Mass., after a stint with us, has been life underwriter with Framingham Life Underwriters Association since 1958 . . . Robert A. Hanson is an engineer with Aerojet in Sacramento, Calif.

The L. J. Davis Co., authorized distributor for General Dynamics Corp., Liquor Carbonic Division, recently moved to a new location on Stillwater Ave. in Bangor. The company, which furnishes medical and industrial gases to hospitals and industries in Maine, is owned by Leo Davis. He was on the administrative staff of the Commander Min Forces of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet for two years during the Korean War. He is married to the former Carolyn O'Connor of Bangor and they have three daughters.

Lawrence R. Bailey has been named senior associate with the firm of Monroe Engineering of Stroudsburg, Pa., and will represent the firm as a consultant to the Republic of Panama. He will aid in the establishment of a real estate taxing program to include mass appraisals and tax maps. He is married to the former Cynthia Fellencer of Old Town and is the father of three children.

Margaret (Thomas) Ward and her husband, the Rev. Graham L. Ward were recently honored at a reception at the First Congregational Church of Amherst, Mass., where Rev. Ward has assumed his duties as a member of the church staff.

NOW THEN, WHAT'S NEW at your house??? We have excellent postal service here in Brunswick. Why not try it out??

We missed you around the campus on June 4 and 5 and were sorry that you could not join us for the festivities. The next issue of the alumni magazine will carry a summary of the big weekend so, at least, you will be able to read about it and to learn of our plans for the next five years.

'Twas great fun to see the Corwin family—Bruce, Carol (Langlois), Nancy, 9, Johnny, 7, and Barby, 6—during its recent visit to N.Y.C. and the World's Fair. They spent a few days with Fred '56 and Ellen (Simpson) Griffee, and on April 22, we (Joe Rigo and I were included) gathered at the Griffee home for a "little" Maine reunion. Can't you imagine the chatter?!

Bill '56 and Mary (Atkinson) Johnson are settled at 415 North Bend Drive, Manchester, N.H. 03104, where he is area manager for the Mobil Oil Company. Mary adds, "Our boys, David, 7, and Dale, 4, church and community activities are my mainstay."

Anna Stetson writes that she and Norman have added another branch to their family tree. Jennifer has joined Annemarie and Katherine. Norman, a captain in the U. S. Air Force, is a Navigator with the 'Starboard' section at Rescue Headquarters, Orlando, Florida. Their address is 1822 Barker Drive, Winter Park, Florida 32789.

James F. Butler 111, a June graduate of the University of Vermont Medical School, joined the Maine Medical Center staff on June 26 to begin his one-year internship.

The first department heads to be appointed for Oxford Hills High School, South Paris, were named at a meeting of the SAD 17 board of directors on March 15. Myron Pierce will head the business education department.

Frank Fenno has been appointed district sales manager (Baltimore, Maryland) for the Corning Glass Works. He joined the company the year that he received a M.B.A. degree from Harvard Business School (1959) and most recently was sales planning manager for the sale of housewares to supermarkets. He, Joan (Whyte), Karen Lee (June 1956), Frank IV (April 1958), Stephanie Lynn (January 1960) and Michael Clifton (September 1963) live at 2403 Girdwood Road, Timonium, Maryland.

Sally (Allen) Baker is studying for a master's degree in education which will prepare her for guidance work.

Dave Dexter was guest editor for the February-March issue of The Maine Alumnus.

Notes

Fred Anderson has been named assistant manager of the Rate Department of the Central Maine Power Company. He had been rate engineer in that department of the general office since January 21, 1963. He previously served as an electrical engineer in the Engineering Department and had been engaged in digital computer studies and system planning.

Robert H. Smith is a sanitary engineer with the Pine Tree State's Water Improvement Commission.

Clare E. Griffith will conclude 50 years of service to the teaching profession on her retirement from the Rumford School System. She came to Rumford in 1923 as principal and fifth grade teacher at Chisholm School, a position she held for 30 years.

The president of Penobscot Poultry Company, Belfast, has announced the appointment of Everett S. Bryant to the newly created position of head of the department of veterinary pathology. Everett received his doctor of veterinary medicine degree from Cornell University and has been an extension poultry specialist for the University of Massachusetts, head of the broiler service department for the New England Grain Company, Portland, and most recently Director of Poultry Health for the Hillcrest Poultry Company, Lewiston. He and his wife, the former Lucille Harriman, have three children, Sanford, 13, Kerry, 11, and Janet, 6.

Martin H. Arsenault, assistant principal of Hampden Academy for nine years, has been named principal of East Corinth Academy. He is presently enrolled at the U. of M. as a candidate for a master's degree in Secondary Administration and has been active in Hampden politics, its recreation program, and several education organizations. He and his wife have four children, Martin, 11, Michael, 9, Timothy, 7, and Melanie, 5.

MRS. MARK R. SHIBLES, JR.
(Betty Colley)
33 College Heights, Orono

Reunion time! Here's hoping as many of you as possible return for the big event and that a wonderful time is had by all. And those who don't get back—well let's hope you make it for the tenth. I've received quite a few more letters from those who plan to attend—Glen and Sherry (Webster) Walkup, who are living in Berkeley Heights, N. J. They have two children, Nancy 3 and John 1. Also, Gerry and Barbara Dubois from Westerly, R. I. Bud Ochmanski wrote saying he would be on hand—also Dick and Barbie (York) Sturgeon and Bill and Gail (Carter) Harvey. Some who write saying they would like to get back but wouldn't be able to are Dave and Ann (Hastings) Morton, Sandy Page, Dick and Jane (Small) Lord, and Paul and Nona Rae (Higgins) Franson. Dave and Ann are in South Berwick where Dave is teaching. They have a little girl, Pam 2½, and a boy, Tommy 16 mos. Sandy has been teaching in Kassel, Germany this year and will be teaching in Boeblingen, Germany, this coming year. From her letter it sounds as though she is having a fabulous time plus doing a lot of traveling. She mentioned that Gail Mallett was also teaching in Heidelberg. Dick and Jane (Small) Lord have a new baby girl, Janet Louise, now about 7 mos. old. Dick graduates from U. of M Law School in June and Jane writes that she has no idea where they will be another year—so let us know when you get located. A long letter from Nona Rae Franson revealed that they are in the Army at Tobyhanna Army Depot, Tobyhanna, Pa., but in August they will be returning to Wayland, Mass. where Paul will be teaching. They have two children, Peter, 2½ and Page Ellen, 4 mos. Nona wrote that a girl, Deborah Lynn was born March 9, 1965 to Summer and Carolyn (Rothwell) Atkins and that Bob and Laurel (Hoyt) Blaney, also have a little girl, Martha Elizabeth.

Mark and I are once again on the move. Another year Mark is returning to Cornell for his Ph.D. in Educational Administration. During the summer months any and all news can reach me at the above Orono address. Our new Ithaca address will be in the first Fall issue of the Alumnus. Do let us hear from you—especially anyone in the Ithaca area.

Wishing you a good summer. See you next Fall.

Warm summer greeting to you all. If the column seems more disorganized than usual this month, please forgive me. I've just returned from a three week vacation in Great Britain and am still wandering about in a London fog. Many of you have taken time to write of your activities—my thanks for keeping me up-to-date. Charlie and Jeannine (Macomber) Chapman are in Virginia Beach, Va. Charlie was recently sent to Sicily on business for G. E. Martha (Webster) Libby writes that she and John '57 are in Bedford, Mass. They welcomed Laura Jo to their family in February, 1964. Mert and Tammy (Cole '63) Lombard are in Redding, Calif. Tammy reports they have developed an enthusiasm for scuba diving. John and Nancy (Ruhlin) Plummer are in New York where John is teaching math at the State Univ. in Albany. Milton Wright is currently doing a tour of duty in Korea. After his discharge in early 1966 he hopes to return to teaching in Long Island, N. Y. Dr. Uwe Fink was recently awarded a research fellowship to study in Belgium by the Nat'l Academy of Sciences and National Research Council. Uwe will study at the Belgian Institute for Space Aeronomy. Mike and Jo (Shaw '63) Dolley are in Bangor where Mike is studio-director at WABI-TV. The Dolloys have two children, Steven, 3 and Elizabeth, 1. Pat (Norton) Griffin writes that she and husband, Dion, are in Dedham, Mass. Alan and Sandra (Young) Ellingwood are in East Winthrop, Maine. Alan just returned from a 2-year tour of duty in Germany. Engagements: G. William Allen to Patricia Prenguber! Dewey A. Christmas, Jr. to Dorothy L. John; Lt. Deane E. Jones to Patricia Rollins; Raymond C. Houlden to Cornelis Ann Keyes. Marriages: Beatrice E. Drake to Jon R. Doyle; Anna Louise Currier to Kenneth Dean Beach. Births: Tracy, born May 31 to Bob and Ann (Corbett) Lucas.

A newsy letter from Rosemary (Rich) Leonard tells us that husband, Dick, will receive his Army discharge this summer and hopes to teach at the junior high level "somewhere in New England." Dick and Rosemary have enjoyed their residence at Fort Eustis, Va., and have done much traveling in the area. She writes "Blake and Alethe (Flint '61) Donaldson and daughter, Ruth Ann, left Fort Eustis in March for Connecticut and civilian life. They are building a new home in East Hampton. Saw Larry and Lois (Murdock '63) Libby who are in Williamsburg where they will be until October. Stan and Meredith (Osgood '63) Walker are at Fort Bragg, N. C., and have a son almost two. David and Dorothy (Dicky) Sellick are in Yarmouth and have three children, David, Stephen and Diane. Judy Pratt is working for the Agricultural Extension Service, and Vivian (Burgess) Walls is a full-time housewife and mother after two years of teaching in Bangor."

The Don Harnums are in Columbus, Ga., where Don is stationed with the Army at Fort Benning. He received a masters from the University of Delaware last June. Wife, Jinny, says "Don has helped coach the post football team to a Missile Bowl victory after a terrific season. He made the post basketball team which won the Third Army Tournament. This spring he is director of the Little League Basketball team, which involves over 40 teams." Their two children are Lisa, 2½ and Donnie, 1½. Dick '60 and Vicki (Waite) Mainville will be in Portland come September where Dick has been appointed assistant professor of math at UMP, after doing graduate work this year at Bowling Green, Ohio, University.

Barbara Spiller was married July 25, 1964 to Roland H. Luckett, Jackson, Miss., a graduate of Tougaloo Southern Christian College. Hingham, Mass.

The leaves have finally decided to come out in Orono and the campus is green and beautiful. Even the sunburned faces look the same, despite all those final exams.

News from overseas has been coming in lately. Myrna Stanley, on a Fulbright Scholarship, is studying at the Universitat Saarbrücken and taking advantage of a two-month semester break to visit all over Europe. News from the Peace Corps. Eric Stowe is in Tunisia at the U.N. Tunisian Aeronautical School. It must be fascinating teaching four different nationality groups to speak English under the roar of jets taking off. Thanks for the letters. Walter Seaha has entered the Peace Corps and Jane Frizzell is now in Ethiopia teaching after training at the U. of Calif. Other travelers are in the service. Second Lt. Richard Stephen has been assigned to the 44th Artillery in Korea. Second Lt. Duane Cropley is assigned to the 77th Military Police Detachment in Germany after completing a police administration course at the U. S. Army School, Europe. Other news from the Armed Forces—Pvt. Harry Bowden has recently completed a finance procedures course at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana and Second Lt. Peter Thompson has completed a nine-week signal officer orientation course at Fort Gordon, Ga. John Wilkinson and Larry Woodworth have recently been commissioned Ensigns during graduation from OCS school. Larry is stationed at Sauley Field, Pensacola, Fla. Second Lt. William O'Connell has been assigned to an Air Force Command Unit at James Connally AFB, Texas for training as a navigator.

GOOD NEIGHBOR

Community leader. Independent merchant. This General Motors dealer is both.

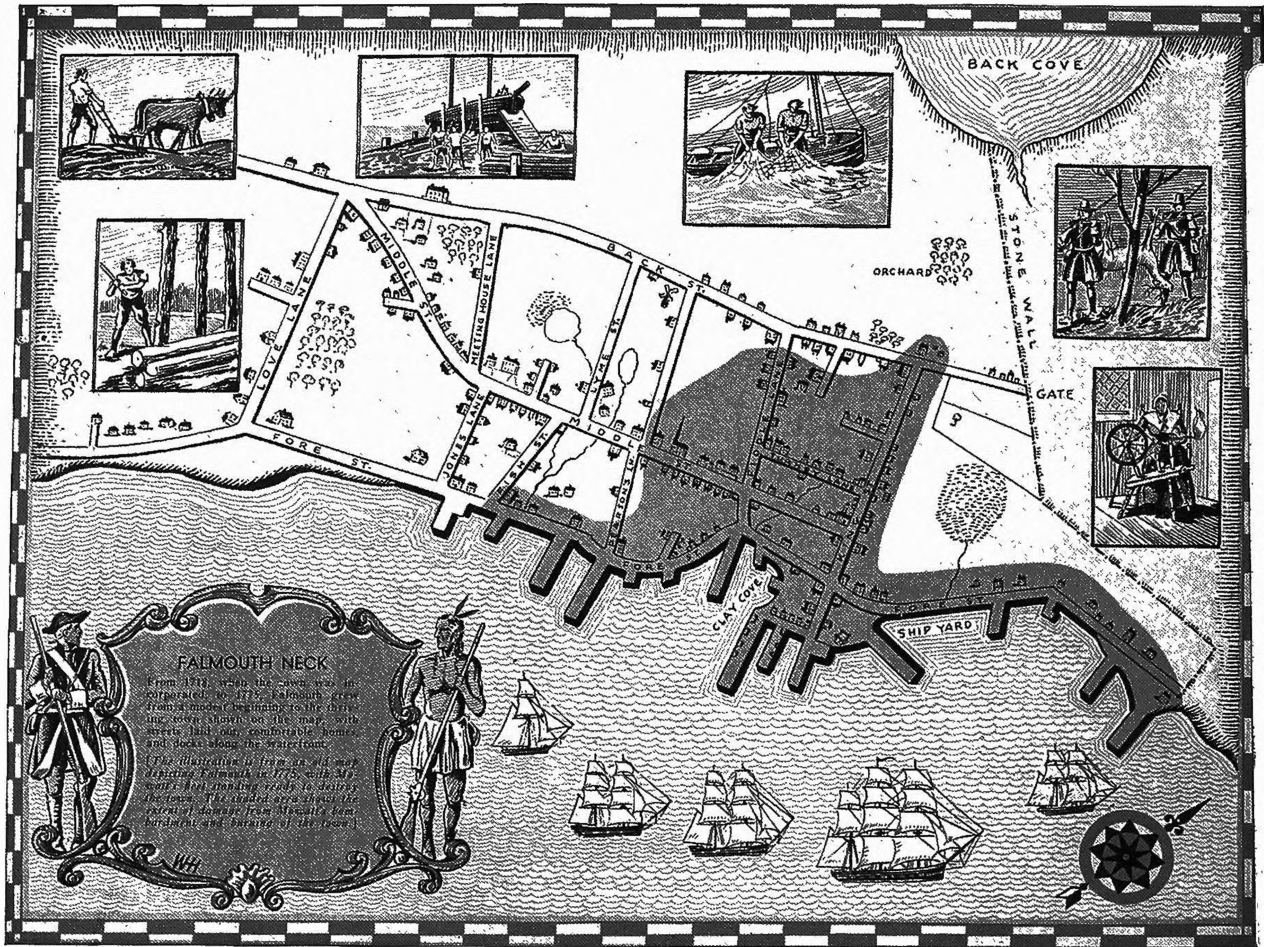

He's a good neighbor in many ways. Such as providing automobiles for driver training classes or making his facilities available for civic meetings. He's active in community affairs, youth activities and other worthwhile projects. More than likely, he's a church member, club member, participator—the kind of man you'd like to have living next door.

His business is service . . . and he knows his business. He wins customers by selling good products. He keeps customers by servicing those products. Customer good will is his primary asset. He earns it by his continuing efforts to make owning a General Motors car a truly satisfying experience.

He's a good man to know.

Despite its complete destruction within a period of two short decades; despite being claimed, sometimes simultaneously, by both the English and the French; despite the skirmishes and unrest attendant upon claim and counter-claim of the constantly warring factions—somehow, after each setback, Portland managed to revive, each time a little stronger than before.

After the devastation of the French-Indian war in 1690, the former settlers who had escaped that dreadful time gradually straggled back. The land held promise of riches for a man who would work and the pioneer spirit was foremost in these people. The tremendous natural advantages of the "Neck," located so snugly on the Bay, drew many hardy souls to try their fortune. In 1691 a new charter from the English King gave the Massachusetts Bay Colony control over the entire region between the Piscataqua and St. Croix Rivers.

Among those who felt the pull of the land was Major Samuel Moody. He petitioned the General Court for permission to settle on the Neck, promising that he would furnish arms and ammunition for its defense at his own expense, to hold the area for the glory of England. His request was granted on July 28, 1716.

Moody built his house at the present corner of Fore and Hancock Streets. Benjamin Larrabee located at what is now Middle and Pearl Streets; Richard Wilmot chose a site where the street that now bears his name joins Congress.

A committee was appointed by the General Court to "lay out the town platt in a regular defensible manner," and after a delay of two years the boundaries of the town were redefined. On July 16, 1718, the town was officially incorporated as Falmouth.

A town meeting was held the following March. Joshua Moody was elected town clerk; Dominicus Jordan, John Pritchard, William Scales and Benjamin Skillings were chosen selectmen; Thomas Thomes was constable; Jacob Collings and Samuel Proctor were fence surveyors.

By 1725, Parson Smith writes: "... there are forty-five families in the whole town; twenty-seven on the Neck; one at New Casco; seventeen at Purpoedock and Spurwink."

It was the beginning of a new era for the town. The cornerstone of permanence was laid in that first town meeting, March, 1719.
