Someone told me I could never achieve this research project, but I did. I cannot over-estimate the patience and assistance of Dr. Doug Bock, my adviser, and Dr. Floyd E. Merritt, for their unrelenting contributions.

A sincere thank you also is extended to Dave Kidwell and Ron Yoakum of Sports Information Department for their advice and help. Also, Jim Erdmann, of the E. I. Letterman's Club for helping me find boxes of old programs and scorebooks which had been stashed away years ago.

And to the proofreader who caught errors I don't remember making. Moms always come in handy.

ABSTRACT

Communication Through Athletic History at Eastern Illinois University: 1899-1988

by

Michael H. Chron

Eastern Illinois University, 1988

Major Professor: Dr. Douglas G. Bock
Department: Speech Communication

This study is divided into 14 chapters, with an introduction, the 12 different sports categories and the year-by-year results, and a conclusion. The sports are arranged into chapters in accordance with the scheduling of the academic year.

The method of research involved collecting and classifying source materials, and interpreting and presenting these facts and findings. This method is critical in synthesizing the development and history of intercollegiate athletics at Eastern Illinois University.

This documented data will serve as a public relations project for the athletic department as a recruiting tool for prospective athletes and coaches who contemplate coming to Eastern Illinois University.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

It is through the communication of our history that we learn our true heritage. Through knowledge of the past, we can adapt and understand our present environment. Intense research into Eastern Illinois University athletic history illustrates the many individual achievements and respective accomplishments which enhance the credibility of the institution.

Because of the record-breaking performances, the tradition of excellence is attained. These many honors and winning traditions will communicate to prospective athletes the greatness which awaits them at Eastern.

Through an appreciation for athletic excellence, today's students, faculty and alumni can better appreciate the quality and caliber of athletics. Through outstanding performances in competition, the athletes will also excel in other endeavors.

The collection of data into one source can serve as a recruiting tool for future athletes or coaches who may come to Eastern Illinois University.

Additionally, this study is a public relations project of the Speech Communication Department and is intended to inform individuals interested in joining the Panther Club of the high-caliber program which is offered. Also, this documented data will serve as undisputed authority in determining future nominees selected for Hall of Fame membership.

This study is composed of 14 chapters; an introduction, 12 chapters of men's sports since 1899, and a conclusion. Men's athletics were selected because in the 90-years of competition, the results have never been compiled into one paper. It is hoped this endeavor will encourage a future student to undertake the researching of the women's program.

In undertaking a research project of this magnitude, one factor is evident: the availability of old and accurate documents were often hard to find. Also, results of events in recent history have a way of disappearing, and efforts must be made to save these documents.

Sources include the Eastern Illinois Normal School Classbook; the Eastern Illinois Normal School W'apper; the Eastern Illinois University Warbler; the Normal School News; the Teachers' College News; the Charleston Courier-News; the Coles County Daily Times, the Charleston (IL) Times-Courier; sports brochures, varsity scorebooks, physical education handbooks; personal files and papers of former Eastern Illinois University coaches, and personal interviews with present and former persons associated with the University.

The information contained in this paper will also be helpful in future broadcasts of the mass media. These statistics will provide detailed accounts of occurrences within the University community from another era. The importance of preserving future records of competition can not be stressed enough. When this is achieved, future researchers will have an easier task of compiling data for communication purposes.

The chapters of this paper are organized as follows: Chapter I, Introduction; Chapter II, Football; Chapter III, Soccer; Chapter IV, Cross Country; Chapter V, Basketball; Chapter VI, Wrestling; Chapter VII, Gymnastics; Chapter VIII, Swimming; Chapter IX, Indoor Track; Chapter X, Baseball; Chapter XI, Outdoor Track; Chapter XII, Tennis, Chapter XIII, Golf, and Chapter XIV, Conclusion.

CHAPTER II

The history of football at Eastern Illinois University dates back to 1899, but the first organized intercollegiate program under the sponsorship of the athletic department did not occur until 1911 when Charles "Pop" Lantz (Warbler, 1912) was hired as the first coach. In the 12 years prior to 1911, Eastern's opponents were mainly teams from nearby towns and were exhibition matches.

These events are reflected in the following pages as only the coach and won-lost records are listed. Because of the lack of available data, only the coaches and records were available. The early years, from 1899 until 1917, (Teachers' College News, 1922), were somewhat successful, but this is the origin of football at the State Normal School at Charleston.

When future references are made to this happening, this paper will be cited as communicative evidence of the public relations process. It is vital the public know of the present-day program as well as the history of the sport.

An early report of a football game played between Eastern and Sullivan High School found the locals winning 6-0. However, the report said the Charleston players barely escaped town with their lives intact. It seems that the Sullivan team used several players from area towns. When the officials were notified of the unusual occurrence, they threatened to cancel the game. However, the game continued when the Eastern players were threatened with bodily harm if they did not finish the game.

The next week, Sullivan was scheduled to play Mattoon High School and several of the Eastern players volunteered to suit up for the neighboring high school. However, when Normal School President Livingston C. Lord heard about the incident, he flatly put an end to the shenanigans, (Warbler, 1968, [recounting the history of football at Eastern], p. 252).

There are four phases in particular which deserve recognition in the football history of the school; the "uncrossed goalline season" of 1930, the only "bowl" appearance in 1948 in Eastern's history, the NCAA Division II champion team of 1978, and the appearances in NCAA competition during the early 1980's which have brought national acclaim to the campus.

In 1930, Coach Lantz guided his men to a 6-1-1 record, but the Panther gridgers did not allow an opponent to score. Eastern and Southern played to a scoreless tie, before the Salukis fell on a loose ball in the end-zone late in the fourth quarter for a 2-0 victory. In the other six contests, Eastern pounded the opposition , 134-0.

In 1948, Coach Maynard O'Brien's crew won the IIAC championship (Warbler, 1949, p. 118), and accepted a post-season bid to meet Illinois Wesleyan in the second annual Corn Bowl football classic at Bloomington, IL. Eastern dropped a 6-0 decision to Wesleyan.

In 1978, Darrell Mudra's Cinderella Panthers captured the attention of the football world by winning the Division II national championship, 10-9 over Delaware. The preceding year, Eastern completed a lowly 1-10 season amid speculation the football program was going to be dropped, (Mudra, 1988). A new coach was selected to guide the Panthers, and enroute to a 12-2 season, Eastern completed its first winning season in 17-years.

In 1980, Mudra's Panthers notched a 11-3 record, and was runnerup to National Champion Cal-Poly/San Luis Obispo after a 21-13 defeat. Eastern again was in the national spotlight in 1982, finishing the campaign with a 11-1-1 record, falling to Tennessee State, 20-19, in the NCAA quarterfinal playoffs. Before moving to Northern Iowa as head football coach in 1982, Mudra again guided the Panthers to a NCAA quarterfinal berth. Al Molde succeeded Mudra and spearheaded the Eastern team to a 11-2 season including a post-season berth in the NCAA II playoffs. Bob Spoo was named to coach the Panthers in 1987, and his first EIU team posted a 5-6 record, (Warbler, 1988, p. 169).

Eastern is currently a member of the Gateway Football Conference which includes schools within the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio. Once considered the doormat of football in the Midwest, Eastern is now recognized as one of the perennial powers in the Midwest and the Gateway Conference.

CHAPTER III

While Eastern Illinois University has excelled on the football field, the Soccer Panthers have made several appearances in national tournaments too. Often thought as a minor fall sport, Eastern's soccer program plays the caliber of competition found at the major university level.

Soccer competition began in 1967, when Coach Fritz Teller was named coach of the fledgling program. After mediocre 5-4 and 5-5 seasons, the EIU booters won the NAIA national championship in 1969 while posting a 12-1-1 record. Entering Area III playoff action, Teller's squad slipped past Lake Forest College, 2-1, and Quincy College, 1-0, before soundly beating Drew University, 6-0.

In the championship game, Eastern nudged Davis & Elkins, 1-0, for the crown. The soccer team has constantly been ranked among the top 10 teams in the nation, and annually competes with soccer powerhouses St. Louis University, Southern Methodist, and Big Ten teams Wisconsin and Indiana.

In addition to the 1969 championship, the Panthers climaxed a 19-2-2 season under the coaching of Schellas Hyndman in 1981, advanced to the NCAA finals before losing to Connecticut, 2-1, in the semifinals. In the third-place game, Eastern dumped Philadelphia Textile 4-2. Hyndman's kickers finished the 1977 campaign with a 10-4-1 slate which included a runnerup finish in the NCAA Division II playoffs, (Warbler, 1982).

Other top finishes in national competition included appearances in 1979, 1980, a third-place finish in the 1981 national tournament, and entries in playoff matches in 1982, 1983, and 1984. The team also participates annually in the prestigious Governor's Cup Tournament against other state universities, (Mosnia, 1988, June 30).

The Panthers can boast of 13 former players signing with professional teams that represent Eastern throughout the United States and Canada. These players frequently serve as recruiting tool for Eastern, by explaining the benefits and personal attention an athlete receives at a smaller by equally competitive institution.

CHAPTER IV

CROSS COUNTRY

Cross country had its beginning at Eastern Illinois University in 1933, when the Panthers and Indiana State raced during halftime of the Homecoming football game against the Sycamores, (Warbler, 1974 [Diamond Jubilee Edition], p. 252). Angus Winfield was the newly-appointed coach, and guided his harriers to an 18-37 win. Indiana State, however, won the battle on the gridiron, 19-6.

Cross country is highly-respected at Eastern, and the Panther runners have received much national acclaim during the fall season. The 1954 and 1955 teams, which were coached by Clifton C. White, (Warbler, 1956), won back-to-back state titles, and the NCAA championships in 1968 and 1969. The 1973 team, coached by Maynard "Pat" O'Brien in his final year at EIU, finished dual competition with a perfect 9-0 record, (Warbler, 1974 [Diamond Jubilee Edition], p. 252).

In 1973, Eastern finished third in NCAA competition, a feat it repeated in 1974, 1975 and 1976. O'Brien's final team placed sixth in the prestigious Notre Dame invitational, while runners Mike Larson and Ron Lancaster earned All-America recognition. In the race at Wheaton College, Larson established a new NCAA course record to pace the Panthers to a third-place finish behind South Dakota State and Southwest Missouri, (Warbler, 1974 [Diamond Jubilee Edition], p. 252).

Joe Sheeran, 1973-76, earned All-American honors in each of his four seasons of competition, a feat few schools can boast. The Panther harriers became the first team to have six All-Americans in one year and recorded the second-lowest point total in NCAA history. Tom Woodall guided the Eastern cross country team in 1973. During their reign as a Division II competitor, the Panthers won 84% of dual meets and finished second in state meet races six straight years.

CHAPTER V

BASKETBALL

In the beginning there was an infant basketball program at the State Normal School in Charleston which played their games on the third floor of the main administration building (Old Main). The basketball program was originated in 1902, but apparently no one thought this sport would ever amount to much, because won-lost records were not kept for the first five years of competition, (Warbler, 1964 [Diamond Jubilee Edition], p. 263.

In 1908, Coach J. C. Brown and his cagers moved into their first home, the Pemberton Hall gymnasium which was commonly called the "cracker box," (the textbook library).

In 1912, Eastern was admitted to the Little 19 Conference, later modified to the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (IIAC). Lantz not only coached basketball, but guided the football and baseball teams also.

In 1938, the Health Education Building was named for Charles P. Lantz, and this gymnasium was the site of some of the greatest accomplishments of the hardwood Panthers. Fans will argue which was the "greatest team ever to play at Eastern," but Coach William Healey's 1951-52 squad romped to an unblemished 22-0 season record which included the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball Invitation Tournament, and finished the season with a 24-2 record, losing to Southeast Oklahoma in the finals of the NAIA Tournament at Kansas City. This team was perhaps the smallest in NAIB history, as no starter was over 6-2, and the team had an average height of 5-10. Healey's cagers led the nation in free throw percentage, committed the fewest personal fouls and ranked third in the nation in scoring.

Coach Bob Carey's unit placed fourth in the NAIA finals in the 1956-57 season, and Rex Darling, better known for his tennis coaching, took over the basketball duties for the 1961-62 season as the Panthers posted a mediocre 11-12 record. However, what made this season so memorable was the 63-60 victory over arch-rival Southern Illinois. Darling had promised if Eastern beat the Salukis, he would perform with the hula-hoop at mid-court after the game. He kept his promise, (Darling, 1988, June 23).

Don Eddy took over the coaching reigns in 1966, the same year the Charles P. Lantz Physical Education and Recreation Building was completed. During the Eddy era, crowds of 5,000 became a commonsight in the spacious new gymnasium. In 1969, his cagers placed third in NCAA Division II playoffs, (Warbler, 1968, p. 60).

Rick Samuels assumed the head coaching duties in 1980, and his 1984-85 team surprised just about everyone, winning the AMCU tournament, 75-64, over Southwest Missouri. In 1986, Eastern again advanced to the tournament finals before losing, 70-66, to Cleveland State.

CHAPTER VI

WRESTLING

When Eastern began its wrestling program in 1948, Coach Maynard "Pat" O'Brien had one thing in common with many other coaches...his team lacked the necessary depth to effectively compete with other teams, and finished last in the four-team conference tournament at Illinois Normal, (Warbler, 1949, p. 130). The wrestlers didn't fare much better the next season, winning only one meet while losing five and again placing fourth in IIAC competition.

Harold Pinther became wrestling coach in 1954, a position he would hold until the conclusion of the 1974 season. During his 19-year coaching stint, Pinther's matmen won 151 meets, lost 103 and tied 11. In the 1967-68 season, Eastern finished first in the IIAC, as six grapplers won their weight divisions. During the late 1960's, the Panthers began competing against teams from throughout the midwest and their schedule included several Big Ten wrestling powerhouses.

Ron Clinton coached the Eastern wrestlers for nine years beginning in 1975, and his matmen won 64 meets while losing 28 and tying one. His teams appeared in nine consecutive NCAA meets, capturing second place in 1979 and 1981, while finishing third in 1978 and 1980.

Upon his retirement, present coach Ralph McCausland, a former EIU wrestling standout, became coach and led his teams to a 34-22-1 record in five years at the helm.

Eastern is a yearly participant in the rugged Michigan State Spartan Invitational, and the Panthers have consistently placed among the top five teams. Recent history finds the EIU matmen placing 8th in the NCAA Western Regionals in 1984; 6th in 1985; 5th in 1986; 6th in 1987, and 3rd in 1988.

In considering Eastern's "best-ever" wrestling team, Harold Pinther's 1972-73 wrestlers must be considered because of their 15-5 record against opponents and a 13th-place finish in NCAA competition. Wrestlers Duayne Nyckel and Steve Farrel won individual championships in the 134-pound and 190-pound divisions respectively. Additionally, Nyckel set a school record for the most victories in his four-year career, (Warbler, 1973, p. 70).

CHAPTER VII

GYMNASTICS

Prior to the official start of competition in 1958, Eastern's gymnasts operated as a club sport and gave several exhibition matches at area high schools each spring. William Groves was the first coach of the Panther tumblers who finished their first two years of organized competition winless.

In 1960, the EIU gymnasts won four meets while losing five under the leadership of Robert Hussey. In addition to nine dual meets his team finished second in the Western Illinois Invitational and placed third in IIAC post-season action, (Warbler, 1960, p. 133). Eastern's gymnasts continued to improve with each meet, and in 1964, Hussey's men finished the season with a 7-7 record, placed second in the IIAC tournament. In 1967, the gymnasts again placed second in the IIAC, only 2.79-points behind champion Western Illinois.

John Schaeffer became head coach in 1971, which found Keith Fuerst and Tom Beusch winning national championships on the still rings and vaulting trampoline respectively. Fuerst and Beusch repeated their feats in 1972, while the team posted a 11-4 record, and placed third in the Mid-East Tournament.

In May of 1975, EIU Athletic Director Mike Mullally requested the University drop funding of gymnastics, along with golf and tennis. In 18-years of existence, the Eastern gymnasts placed 7th in the NCAA Division II Championships. During the final season of competition, Bruce Spikerman earned All-American honors in the floor exercise. Also, nine other EIU gymnasts earned All-American honors, including Fuerst and Beusch who later captured national titles, (Warbler, 1975, p. 75). In the 18-years gymnastics was offered at Eastern, the teams recorded 97 wins, while losing 121 contests. The gymnasts recorded their finest year in 1962 with an 8-3 record, and enjoyed their best season in 1972.

CHAPTER VIII

SWIMMING

When swimming was introduced as an intercollegiate sport in 1959, 20 athletes answered the call, (Warbler, 1959, p. 125). A former assistant football coach and head gymnastics coach, William Groves' tankers were winless during the 1959 season, and won only one meet during the 1960 and 1961 seasons. In 1962, Groves saw his coaching efforts pay off when Eastern completed a 9-3 season. The following year, the Panther tankers posted a 12-1 record enroute to a 6th place finish in NAIA competition.

In 1968, Coach Ray Padovan's swimmers won the IIAC title, after completing a 9-4 dual record. In 1970, Eastern's Dan Furlan finished first in the 100-yard and 200-yard breatstroke in the NAIA finals, (Warbler, 1968, p. 304). That was the beginning of individual excellence, as Bob Thomas established six new school records in a single month during the 1971 season. Two years later, Thomas broke two national records, the 440-yard individual medley, and the 200-yard backstroke. In 1973, Panther swimmers Jon Mayfield and Thomas earned All-American honors, (Warbler, 1973, p. 120).

Padovan saw 12 of his swimmers qualify for NCAA Division II national competition in 1976, including All-Americans Tim Sullivan and Brian Forsberg, Scott Bolin, Dale Tolen and Charlie Dunn.

In the late 1970's and early 1980's, Eastern's swimming teams won national acclaim by placing first in the Illinois Intercollegiate meets in 1977 and 1978, while finishing second in 1979. In 1980 and 1981, Eastern again won the Illinois Intercollegiate title, and placed second in the State Intercollegiate meet in 1982. However, in 1983, Eastern Athletic Director R. C. Johnson proposed cutting funds for the swimming program.

Since the 1984 season, Padovan's tankers have a comined record of 13 wins against 32 defeats. After the 1987-88 season, Padovan's 21-year record at the helm stood at 117-91 for a 56.2 won-loss percentage.

CHAPTER IX

INDOOR TRACK

Indoor track is the latest sport to be added to the Eastern Illinois University athletic program. In writing about the history of indoor track, Johnnie H. Meisner, relates that the $3.4 million Charles P. Lantz Physical Educational and Recreation Building was completed in the fall of 1966, (Meisner, 1976). Indoor track was available at larger universities with indoor facilities, but until the construction of the Lantz plant, such facilities did not exist at Eastern.

There have only been two coaches in the history of indoor track. Maynard "Pat" O'Brien was the first coach in 1967, and compiled a 30-9 won-loss record for a 76.9 percentage upon retirement in 1974. Neil Moore, also the head track coach at Eastern, has guided his indoor track teams to 47 victories against 23 defeats in 12-years at the helm.

While won-loss records do reflect the talent and coaching ability, the exception is found in track, indoor and outdoor. Prior to 1980, indoor competition consisted of dual and triangular meets. However, with the onset of invitational and relay events, team scores were not kept, but individual performances were. Obviously, it is the coaching expertise which is responsible for the individual's performance, but a quick look at the won-loss record will not reveal this.

In addition to holding meets for other colleges and universities, the Lantz Building also plays host to several high school functions during the winter months. Not only does the facility benefit the university community, but creates a positive image among area high schools.

Indoor track competition also benefits the outdoor track athlete by conditioning and enhancing their physical stamina. Also, coaches have the opportunity to examine their personnel, and weather is not a factor, (Meisner, 1976).

CHAPTER X

BASEBALL

Possibly no other sport at Eastern Illinois University has made more contributions to the ranks of professional sports than baseball. At the conclusion of the 1988 season, which also marked the retirement of skipper Tom McDevitt, the Panther signees into the professional baseball ranks reads like a who's who in sports. And in a sense, it is exactly that - a testament to the caliber of athletes who compete in intercollegiate baseball at EIU.

Baseball was first offered in 1904, with A.B. Crowe serving as the first coach. Scores from that initial season do not exist, but through the diligent efforts of former EIU student, Virgil M. Jacobs, records from that era are documented in his writings, (Jacobs, 1959).

Charles Lantz assumed coaching duties in 1912, along with the head job as football and basketball coach. Lantz coached baseball at Eastern for 39-years, and led his teams to 171 wins while losing 216, (Jacobs, 1959). Seven men served as coach of the Panther diamondmen until 1977, with McDevitt assuming the duties in 1978. In 11-years as coach, his teams compiled a mark of 299-victories, 187-defeats, and three ties for 61.1%.

It is impossible in this short space to give an accurate account of former EIU players' contributions in the professional leagues but in 1987, Kevin Seitzer, playing third base for the Kansas City Royals after an injury sidelined regular George Brett, was runner-up for American League Rookie-of-the-Year honors. Seitzer was also named to the 1987 American League All-Star roster, and went 0-1 in the annual classic. Eastern Illinois pitcher Marty Pattin widely traveled the American League circuit before enjoying the best years of his career with the Milwaukee Brewers and the Kansas City Royals. Pattin retired from baseball, and served as head baseball coach at the University of Kansas until the spring of 1988. Another Panther standout, Jeff Gossett originally signed with the New York Mets in 1978, and also played professional football for Cleveland until the Houston Oilers obtained his kicking services in December of 1987. Gossett was also a member of the 1978 Eastern Division II championship football team.

The Panthers annually begin their season in the south during spring break, and the schedule features many of the top teams in the Midwest. An additional feature EIU can boast of is the "school where walk-ons succeed," (Eastern sports brochure, 1985). Five players who have signed professional contracts since 1978 have been walk-ons. The brochure states that baseball scholarships are limited, but talented players are encouraged to attend Eastern where top-notch facilities are offered for the athlete, and college scouts have the opportunity to visit the school anytime of the year to view pro prospects.

CHAPTER XI

TRACK AND FIELD

Track and field is the third oldest sport at Eastern Illinois University, having been established in 1912. Football is the oldest sport, having its origin in the fall of 1899. Basketball was established in 1902, and beginning in 1912, Charles Lantz was the coach of all three sports. The records show a variety of men serving as track coach before 1927, when Frank Beu coached the track and field teams for 6-years, from 1927 until 1933.

The spring sport first appeared on the Charleston campus in 1912 and the first meet ever conducted was against Charleston High School, (Justis, 1967). The Panthers won their first-ever track meet, and defeated Rose Polytechnic in the only other meet recorded that spring. The 10-man team was captained by James Grove Butler and included the editor in chief of the 1913 W'apper, Arthur Frazier, and Paul George Ewald, president of the athletic association, (Justis, 1967).

Through the years, Eastern has made numerous contributions to the All-American track teams, and in 1972, the team won seven All-American awards, three were awarded to sprinter-hurdler Rod Jackson. From only a brief sketch of the early history of track and field, one can recognize that leaders of the student body were also contributors on the athletic field in track, (Warbler, 1974, p. 242).

In 1987, Jim Maton established a record in the 800 meters, and also set records earlier that year during indoor track in the 880 yards and the 1000 yards. A native of Shelbyville, Maton won five individual Association of Mid-Continent Universities (AMCU) track titles in the spring of 1987, bringing his total to 10, (1988 Track and field sports brochure).

The Panthers conduct their meets on a newly-refurbished Dura-Sport artificial surface, and O'Brien Stadium was the site of the 1974 NCAA Division II and II National Championships. The Illinois High School Association annually conducts its boy's and girl's state meets at Eastern Illinois University, (1976 Track and field sports brochure).

CHAPTER XII

TENNIS

When tennis came to the Eastern Illinois University campus in 1931, fans always knew they could count on a sure winner on the tennis court, (Warbler, 1974, p. 246). George Ivans' inaugural team was warmly received by sports fans, and in its first year of competition, the team won the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Association (IIAC) doubles crown.

Men's tennis was dropped from the sports program during the World War II years, but was revived when men returned home in 1946, (Warbler, 1947, p. 119). When Rex Darling took over the tennis coaching duties in 1946, it was the beginning of a 28-year love affair in which Panther netters excelled in conference championship tournaments and NAIA competition.

The 1967 tennis team is called Eastern's best ever, (Warbler, 1968, p. 314), posting an 11-2 dual meet record and went on to claim the IIAC championship for the third straight year and then proceeded to place fourth in NAIA national competition, (Warbler, 1968, p. 314). Darling's tennis teams were noted for individual achievement outside of the classroom, as well as inside.

An interesting incident occurred in 1948, when Eastern's netmen were called the "orphans," (Warbler, 1949, p. 90). The name came about when the Panther team had to travel to Mattoon two or three times a week to practice. Facilities at Eastern had given way to the newly-erected barracks which served as living quarters for World War II veterans and their families. Tennis took a back seat to living quarters, and the team had to travel 11-miles west to practice.

In 27-years of coaching, Darling'g teams won 157 meets (not including national championships), while losing 130 and tying one for a 54.7 winning percentage. Only two other coaches coached five years or less; Glenn Seymour from 1935-1939, and Carl Sexton from 1980-1984.

GOLF

In the spring of 1935, a new sport was added to the athletic program at Eastern Illinois University. Frank Beu had advocated the adoption of golf at Eastern, because he felt it would reach a different type of athlete, (Warbler, 1936, p. 135). Many of the schools in the Little 19 Conference did not offer the new sport. Members of the first team at Eastern were Don Newell, Edwards Gates, Clarence Carlson, Carl Worland, Bob Fairchild, Ward Weiland, and Alexander Summers.

After the first season of competition, it was clear the Panther golf team could use a little more instruction. Coach Charles Lantz announced that he would personally offer instruction to the players on the golf team prior to the next season of competition.

Unlike other sports at Eastern, outstanding golfing achievements have been few and far between. The 1972 golf team was perhaps the best in the school's history, even though the team finished the season with a 6-6-1 record, (Warbler, 1973, p. 24).

Gay Burrows had the best team record, and was also co-medalist in IIAC competition, and finished sixth in the nation in NCAA action. He carded a 68 which broke an all-time Eastern record. As a team, Eastern finished eighth in the NAIA, (Warbler, 1973, p. 24).

CHAPTER 14

CONCLUSION

In researching the athletic history of Eastern Illinois University, one is aware of the numerous national champions or All-Americans which have given prominence to the sports program. This realization is shared with readers of the paper, and through communication is a public relations project.

In spending many hours tracking down results in a hot attic, or researching previous studies now housed in Booth Library, a greater appreciation for historical sports documents has been attained. All too often at the conclusion of a sporting event, records have not been carefully preserved. It is not until 15 or 20 years later when researching athletic history for communication purposes, that the importance of the documents is realized.

The main conclusion of this paper is that programs, scorebooks and historical documents must be saved for future endeavors.

The history of sports at Eastern Illinois University truly reflects the outstanding athlete and his many contributions. This undoubtedly will also be true of the women's program which must be undertaken as a research project in the near future. When the task is completed, it will also be realized that the women's program has made identical contributions of greatness.

A weakness in this thesis is caused by the lack of old and accurate records in the early years of sports. Many of the original records are no longer available. It is unfortunate that some of the early accounts list only the teams played and do not list Eastern's scoring and that of the opponent. It is because of contradictions found in early summaries, that a mistake could result. When this has occurred, consultation has taken place with the Eastern Sports Information Department, and their statistics have been used in the final analysis.
