Evaluations Falter Through Misunderstanding

by William Arnold
Editor-in-Chief

There has apparently been some mix-up among University Administrators and Department chairmen concerning mandatory course evaluations to have been conducted at the end of the fall semester.

The University Senate two years ago passed a resolution, later approved by the Rev. Robert W. Mulligan, S.J., President of Xavier University, calling for mandatory course evaluations at the end of the Spring Semester. The Senate a year later called for extension of those evaluations to the fall semester as well. This proposal was also approved by Fr. Mulligan.

However, the evaluations did not occur on a university wide basis last January. In fact, a study released by Thomas E. Zeno, Student Body President, shows that of approximately 350 student contacted in the Student Government Poll, less than 10% received the opportunity to evaluate all of their courses at the end of the fall semester.

All Student Senate members were requested by Zeno to contact students concerning the number of evaluations they received from teachers as opposed to the number of courses they enrolled in for the fall semester. As of press time, Sunday evening Zeno stated that he had received survey reports from eleven of sixteen student Senators: John Blaha, Marty Dybicz, Market Fette, Barb Howard, Jim Linsenmeyer, Rob McBride, Mike McCaffrey, Doug McGrath, Mike Quinn, Don Theis, and Karla Thompson.

The results of their contacts with 352 students reveal that of the 1,904 courses these students took they received evaluations on only 896 of them. This means that in the Student Government survey, only 47% of courses were subject to student reaction in the semester ending January 18.

At this time it is not clear why the evaluation of all courses did not take place. It has been suggested that the vacancy in the office of Academic Vice-President may be responsible for the lack of enforcement in the evaluation program. The evaluation program established by the University Senate set the Academic Vice-President over the course evaluation project.

During the past week, the Xavier News contacted fourteen Department Chairmen to determine whether or not they instructed their faculties to conduct course evaluations. The results of the News survey show that only six chairmen instructed their department members to carry out evaluations: Dr. Bieliauskus of Psychology, Dr. Cusick of Biology, Dr. Johnson of Chemistry, Dr. Mastrianna of Economics, Dr. Vega of Modern Languages, and Dr. Larkin of Mathematics. Although not contacted by the News, Fr. Robert Schmidt of Philosophy is known to have instructed his department members to conduct evaluations.

The News survey of Department Chairmen also indicated that most of them were not aware of the mandatory nature of evaluations for this semester.

In reaction to the Student Government Poll, Zeno told the News "It is difficult for me to believe that such poor communications exist in the administration concerning the important issue of teacher evaluations. The long discussion of this issue before the University Senate, the pressing need for proper criteria in the tenuring process, and the student's right to evaluate the quality of the courses he is required to take, should have been reasons enough to guarantee that this evaluation process be effectively enacted."

Continuing Enrollment Decline Prompts Recruitment Analysis

by William Arnold
Editor-in-Chief

The Executive Committee of the University Senate, chaired by Mr. John Rothwell, Professor of Economics and Finance, has received a recommendation to analyze the recruiting program of Xavier University.

The request for the new study was submitted by Mr. Kenneth F. Scheurer, a member of the Education Department. In a letter to Mr. Rothwell, Scheurer said that "we must start showing information that is objective and accurate rather than the emotional (mis)conceptions which currently abound "concerning the University's annual recruiting efforts.

According to the News sources, however, the Scheurer proposal may only be the first in a long series of moves by various University groups to examine Xavier University's recruiting program. The Faculty Committee and the Xavier chapter of the American Association of University Professors reportedly have been holding discussions on the same topic.

The recruiting program, headed by the

Kenneth F. Scheurer

Reverend Edward J. O'Brien, S.J. Assistant to the President, was the subject of discussions by the University Senate last spring. At that time, however, no ad-hoc committee was set up and no further action was taken by the Senate.

The latest developments apparently have been spurred by reports that applications for Freshmen enrollment in the class of '78 were down by as much as 30% from one year ago as of December of 1973. On that date, the Xavier University Board of Trustees voted to and the University's participation in Intercollegiate Football. Since that time many University officials have been predicting a decline in undergraduate enrollment because the school will no longer conduct a fall grid campaign.

Mr. Scheurer, in his letter to the Executive Committee stated his reasons for requesting the study. He said that "the full-time undergraduate is the life-blood of this institution. The reciprocal and cooperative arrangements between the undergraduate day school colleges and the Graduate School and the College of Continuing Education are of such magnitude that all are truly interdependent." Scheurer concludes that the interest for this study is universal.

The impetus for Scheurer's request, however, is that "the facts must be examined and shared with all interested parties." He goes on to state that "it appears that the most popular "grape vine" topic is concerned with dropping enrollments and the attendant perception of the recruiting effort."

An ad-hoc committee study by the University Senate, Scheurer believes, "may well demonstrate that our recruiting program is quite superior, i.e., cost per student who enrolls in terms of the recruiting effort or other possible criteria."

Increased Funds Possible For Work-Study Program

by Mary Henkel
News Reporter

William Helmeccamp, Director of Placement and Student Aid, urged all students interested in job provided by the College Work-Study Program to submit financial aid applications now to be considered for jobs next year. Eligibility for such jobs depends on financial need as determined by the Parents' Confidential Statement and a financial aid application.

Helmeccamp hopes for an expansion of Work-Study with increased government money. College Work-Study is one of four federally-funded programs providing assistance to college students. It is not new to Xavier, but a tentatively approved application for increased government funds may provide from $12,000 to $100,000 for the programs in the coming year.

President Nixon recommended a $900 million increase in federal student aid to Congress in his January 30 State of the Union message. Xavier's tentatively approved application for Work-Study funds depends on Congressional approval and allocation to the State of Ohio of enough money to cover the application.

Colleges throughout the nation, both public and private, apply for federal aid. They apply and are approved, or approved for reduced amounts, on the basis of enrollment and income brackets of students' families. The regional Health, Education and Welfare Office in Chicago approved Xavier's application. State allotment of funds appropriated by Congress, on the basis of population and number of colleges in each state, will be the final determinant of the amount received by Xavier.

Students employed in College Work-Study do work that the University might be unable to afford without the federal subsidy of their salaries. Current University employees will not be displaced by the program, but new jobs will be opened and existing ones expanded. The Placement and Student Aid Office is already circulating requests for new job descriptions on campus.

Jobs need not be on-campus. If eligible students exceed on-campus job openings, they may be paid for working at non-profit agencies like Red Cross or Hamilton County Parks.

Federal law restricts the jobs that may be opened through College Work-Study. Political activity and religiously-connected work are prohibited.

74-75 Hall Staff Positions Open

Dave Tom, Assistant Dean For Student Development, announces that applications are now being accepted for Residence Hall Staff positions for the 1974-75 Academic Year. Application packets may be picked up at the information desk in the University Center. Next year several positions will have vacancies. Resident Assistant positions will number about 10 while there is a possibility that Hall Director positions also will be open. All applications including references must be returned by Campus or Regular Mail, to Mr. David Tom no later than Friday, February 22nd, 1974. Questions about the responsibilities of the jobs, remuneration, etc., should be directed to a present staff member. Other information will be available by phoning 745-3201.

His intended presentation, "Reciprocal Roles and Responsibilities", will be centered around this idea.

* A TERRIBLE BEAUTY: On March 22, Fr. James Carroll, a Paulist priest serving at Boston University, will speak on the latest of his many published books of poetry concerning his own personal search for God within the hectic pace of urban university life.

KID DAYS

Campus Ministry will open a February Forum series today, Wednesday, at 1:30 in the Cash Room with a presentation of the reactions of the kids who came to Xavier for Kid Day. Many Xavier students who participated in the program might be interested in what the companionship of college students mean to their kid. The speakers from St. Mark's and Burton will discuss why Kid Day is such a special event for kids in this area.

The program also promises to be of interest to those Xavier students who were unable to participate in the December Kid Day, but might like to have weekly "kid days" this spring at these two schools. Opportunities to play baseball, lead games, etc. will be described.

NEW TRACK TEAM OPENS SEASON

On March 1 the Xavier Track Club will open its indoor season by competing against Ohio State's Junior Varsity in the first match of a nine-meet season. The season schedule comprises three indoor and six outdoor meets, all of which are away due to the lack of facilities at Xavier.

The organizational efforts of Pat Williams and Jim Tobin established the programs and Mr. James McCafferty, Head of the Xavier Athletic Board, actively supports it. He is presently seeking a coach for the team, a graduate student or professor with some knowledge of the sport.

Organized practice began on Monday. Anyone still interested in participating should contact Pat Williams, 17 Brockman, 745-3577 or Jim Tobin, 204 Husman, 745-3757.

by William Madges
Contributing Editor

On February 14 the Queen City Balladeers, a group of folk singers whose purpose is to preserve the quality and popularity of folk music, will present a Valentine's Day concert in the Xavier University Armory at 8:00 P.M. This organization, founded in 1963 by seven students, is continuing to grow more each year in both size and prestige in Cincinnati music circles and promises to offer Xavier students an evening of excellent folk music.

Most of the members of the Balladeers are local people. Some have made names for themselves, such as Rob Reider, who is a regular on the Bob Braun Show, and Eric Sylvester, who has recorded a guitar Mass. As honorary members the Balladeers claim such notables as Joan Baez, Peter, Paul and Mary, the New Christy Minstrels, Arlo Guthrie, and John Denver.

Xavier University Band Begins Its 51st Year

by Carol Jacober
News Reporter

Xavier's band will be celebrating its 50th anniversary this Fall. Aside from its contribution to the athletic program over the years, the band has involved itself in many other programs. The band's calendar of programs is continuous. In the summer members of Xavier's band comprising the "clown band" perform at Kings Island. At the end of the summer there is a band camp sponsored in order to initiate freshmen and to practice and plan the fall program. In past years this time was spent organizing a marching band and preparing for the football season. Aside from appearances on Cochran field, Xavier has appeared at Riverfront Stadium at Bengal games. Such will not be the case this year. Instead, plans will be made for new Fall programs.

After athletic commitments, the band prepares for a concert tour. For this May, planned concert performance stops include Chicago, Sandusky, Tiffin, Independence, and Rocky River. Concerts will also be given at Moeller and Norwood high schools in Cincinnati, where concerts last year received excellent response. The Xavier band also sponsors the annual O.K.I. Drill Team Competition and will perform at Family Day and in the St. Patrick's Day parade. Xavier is the only Catholic school to be a member of Kappa Kappa Psi, the band fraternity. The list of activities and commitments is endless.

For most Xavier students the band appears on the field at the half-time during football games, and is heard from the side-line during basketball games. Mr. Soriano and the band members view the afore-mentioned activities as an "athletic service" gladly performed for the university but only "the tip of the iceberg". For them the band presents a year-round commitment, a rigorous schedule of concerts, both out-of-town and at local high schools (where the response has been gratifying).

Mr. Soriano admits that the decision to drop football came as a shock to him and that the decision necessitates a re-adjustment in the scheduling of activities for next fall. There will be a shift in focus away from the marching band and toward the concert band which is less concerned with producing volume and consequently more concerned with serious, quality concert performances.

Despite the fact that the band's participation at athletic events comprised only a small part of its overall program, it has been, perhaps, the most visible part as far as Xavier's student body is concerned. In order to remedy this situation, plans are being made to offer the campus more performances by the stage band. No definite plans have been finalized, but under consideration are concerts on campus, dances (Mr. Soriano has come upon some music from the "big band era" and an old-timer dance is a possibility), and theatrical programs put on in conjunction with Otto Kvapil and the theater department. All in all, the band plans to turn what could have been their loss into an opportunity for more creativity and freedom in programming, with stress on art and entertainment, a trend Xavier's campus should appreciate.

The band's director, Constantine Soriano, is responsible for many of the band's undertakings. He came to Xavier in 1962. He has been directing bands since 1957 giving him many years of teaching experience, and is currently teaching a course in Music History at Xavier. He recently spent a summer in Paris, France studying under Nadia Boulanger.

The Marching Muskies descend in full regalia in one of their final appearances at Corcoran Field.

Another aspect of the Xavier University Bands is the Stage Band, which displays its versatility in playing anything from the classics to contemporary selections.

Utter concentration is the key to beautiful music, as these young Bandsmen would testify.

An added attraction to the Marching Musketeer Band, the Marching Co-eds were formerly incorporated into Band functions.

Constantine F. Soriano, known affectionately as "Coach" by the Bandsmen, has been directing bands since 1957.

A Crime-Free Xavier, A More Subtle Censorship

On Wednesday, December 12, 1973, the Xavier News printed a "Crime Report" which listed the crimes on the Xavier campus of the previous month. This Report was meant to serve as a reminder to all the Xavier community that Xavier does indeed exist in the real world. The presence of crime on campus is surely not something which should surprise anyone. In fact, an ignorance of such crime would tend to arouse suspicions of one's grip on reality.

Why then would the Xavier hierarchy put a clamp on information regarding crime on campus? The Xavier News has learned that the Crime Report information will no longer be available. It might be taken as a bit presumptuous, but it seems that SOMEBODY should have contacted the News. To act in a rational manner, a person must have a grip on the pertinent facts. The News believes that the Crime Report is pertinent and it seems that the Administration believes it is not.

As always, the situation must be examined from both sides. It is possible that the actual effects of such a Crime Report, an addition to alerting students, would be to alarm parents and to drive down enrollment. But it is fact that Xavier's crime rate is lower than most universities and hospitals in the Cincinnati area. Why doesn't the Administration emphasize our actual low crime rate, rather than pretend that Xavier is crime-free? The News believes that the University's first responsibility is to the present student body, not to alumni and certainly not to potential recruits.

But this is only another example of the lack of communication between the Administration and the students. In the past there have been a number of such incidents in which blame could be pinned on either "side". But hopefully the time for pinning blame on "sides" is behind us. It isn't as if Xavier students couldn't understand the complex problems of high-level administrative decision-making. It is even credible that the Xavier News would concede that more harm than good was done by the Crime Report and that its publication should be postponed or eliminated. But when certain people are advised not to do certain things, and no names are rendered, objectivity becomes difficult. This is censorship of a more subtle nature. There is a difference between tearing down posters and withholding information, but not much. It's the difference between running a person over with a bus or with a Volkswagen.

The bare fact is that somebody in the Xavier hierarchy is making these decisions without consulting the average Muskie. Without a re-definition of the Xavier News or a conference with the News' Editor, such actions can only be construed as censorship.

Won't somebody up there please talk to us?

—S.K.

On The Academic VP

The committee which will select the new Academic Vice-President will soon be formed. Father Mulligan is expected to announce soon the composition of the committee as well as instructions to the new committee on what type of man the University needs and Fr. Mulligan feels he can work with.

It goes without saying that it is imperative that the committee be properly constituted, allowing more than just token membership for faculty and students to voice their opinions on the vigorous and dynamic man needed to fill this position. In addition, it is necessary that this committee be free from any bureaucratic pressure to select a run-of-the-mill administrator, who, although nicely adaptable to a bureaucratic structure, primarily believes a maze of committee to be his eyes and ears to the University.

Any possibility for academic excellence depends upon selecting a far-sighted administrator because everything in the academic realm depends on the Vice-President. The Faculty Committee's insistence for an Academic Vice-President was a demand for leadership which must be heeded. The study of the Core Curriculum has been delayed pending the choice of a new

Vice-President, who more than likely will have a few ideas of his own concerning new directions for the Core Curriculum. It is also apparent that even academic evaluation cannot be issued without the direction of an Academic Vice-President.

Fr. Mulligan is encouraged to select a committee representative of those who are keenly interested in the future of the academe at Xavier University. The committee, in turn, is encouraged to select an individual who stands committed to the high academic standards which Xavier University aspires to maintain.

Freak Defends "Dead" Album

Dear Editor:

Re: Gene Gryniwicz's review of the Grateful Dead's "Wake of the Flood" LP; Xavier News, 12/19/73.

I am writing to protest the ravings of the Xavier News staff member who is currently passing himself as the "Arts Editor".

The writer's self-acknowledged ignorance of the history and music of the Grateful Dead has led him to offer a "review" of that band's current LP which is

"cute" in the worst way, and leads me to suspect that he is totally incapable of credible comment on any subject. Gene Gryniwicz's remarks are all too typical of the self-indulgent drivel one gets from collegiate-newspaper music critics, and showcase his contempt for his readers; they are downright embarrassing to read.

To dismiss the new LP as "...the image of (a)...high school band performing for the local PTA" not only performs as immense disservice to the Dead, but to their audience as well. Contrary to what Gryniwicz says, "Wake of the Flood" is a fine album, especially to those who have tired of the heavy-metal antics of the glam/glitter rock n' roll scene. While "Wake of the Flood" will not shake the rafters, it will find its own niche in the musical, commercial, and social history of the Grateful Dead.

Really, Gryniwicz, get yer head together.

Advanced Army ROTC

ARMY ROTC TWO-YEAR PROGRAM

Male junior college and community college graduates and Xavier University male students completing their sophomore year can become eligible for the advanced Army ROTC course by attending a special six-week program at Fort Knox, Ky., it was announced this week by Colonel Whistler, Professor of Military Science, Xavier University.

Colonel Whistler explained that under current law, junior college students and others who have not taken the basic ROTC course in their freshman and sophomore years may qualify for advanced ROTC by attending the six-week course commencing June 14 or 21, 1974. Those who complete the Advanced Course are commissioned as second lieutenants.

"The ROTC basic camp emphasizes leadership development and is designed to bring the student to a level of military training and education which will qualify him for enrollment in the advanced course senior ROTC program," Col. Whistler said. "Only students who have successfully completed either the basic course or the basic camp or certain students who have sufficient Junior ROTC (JROTC) credit from high school, and certain armed forces veterans, are eligible for the advanced course."

Col. Whistler went on to say that while female students are not yet eligible for attendance at the basic camp, certain females with prior military service or JROTC credit may be eligible for the two year program. It is anticipated that ROTC Basic Camp for females will be scheduled sometime after 1974.

Local Victory War Continues

by William Madges
Contributing Editor

According to a January news release, the United Farm Workers of America have won a local victory in their struggle for justice and dignity for California migrant workers. Due to their letter-writing campaign, phone calls, rallies, long hours of leafleting Liberal shoppers, and the cooperation of shoppers who honored the boycott, the UFW supporters succeeded in pressuring Liberal Markets to remove all table grapes from their shelves and to purchase only UFW-harvested iceberg head lettuce. In addition, Liberal Markets agree not to advertise Gallo wines and will try to de-emphasize Gallo sales.

Falcon Cage Squad Skunked; Muskies Upset Golden Guffers

XAVIER NEWS SPORTS

by Thomas Stevens
Sports Editor

The radio announcers from the Air Force Academy were informed a half an hour before air time that due to technical failures, courses of the phone company, they were to be grounded Saturday night at about to happen to the Air Force Falcon cage squad. The Falcons ran into heavy artillery in the Xavier defense, and Xavier's Musketeers shot down the Falcons 58 to 55, to up their season mark to 6 and 11. Jerry Foley led the attack with 12 points, eight coming from the foul line, and 10 rebounds.

twenty-five points under their season total, choked off Air Force to just 55 points, ten under their average. But the Muskie De-fense, as Bill Russell says it wasn't always this sticky. After an exhausting road trip, the Muskies came home on Jan. 28 to entertain Brown, led by former Elder star Jim Busam who netted 32, was just too quick for XU, and the Bruins won it going away 91-73.

Then the Muskies regrouped and upset the Golden Guffers from Canisius 70-67. In that rough contest, Larry Fogle, the nation's top scorer dropped in 35, one above his average. Fogle, 6'5" forward who once scored 73 points in a high school game in Detroit, showed his skill by hitting everything from a bunny to a bomb from the press box. Fortunately, his teammates were completely baffled by the XU man-to-man defense, as they were all held way below their normal average. "Pistol Pete" Acetta, who drew the Fogle assignment, battled a host of passes away from Fogle when he wasn't being bothered with helping him off the boards. This coupled with Mike Plunkett's 23 points led the Musketeers to their big upset. With Plunkett and Acetta both penetrating well offensively, to go with a molasses like defense, Wheeling looks as delectable as a turkey at Thanksgiving.

The Musketeers' tight defense failed to contain the nation's top scorer, Larry Fogle, as he poured in 35 points.

Gohman Quits Directorship Wiesler — Husman Director

by Steve Bedell
News Editor

With the start of the new semester, Senior Greg Wiesler assumed his duties as the Husman Dorm Director in the wake of the mid-year resignation of Mr. John Gohman, the former assistant complex supervisor. Mr. Gohman, a 1974 graduate of Xavier University, quit his job following the death of his mother. His free time will also allow him to complete his master's thesis in psychology.

Greg Wiesler was chosen for the job by Mr. David Tom, the Housing Director, upon the recommendation of Mr. Gohman. During the first semester, Greg had worked closely with Mr. Gohman in supervising the operations of the Husman complex. During several forced absences in which Mr. Gohman was visiting his sick mother, Wiesler had directed the dorm operations himself.

At the moment, Greg is still living on the dorm floor as an RA because no adequate replacement could be found. Greg finds it difficult to maintain a balance between his job as an RA and his duties as Dorm Director: "It's not easy to work all day as the Dorm Director and still be accessible to the guys on my floor. It's also a problem because, while I'm living here in the environment myself, I have to maintain a certain amount of freedom in order to carry out my duties as Dorm Director fairly and efficiently."

Wiesler's main objective is to make the Husman dorm a more comfortable and inviting place to live. As Greg stated it: "We'd like to destroy the idea of the dorm being a bunch of cells, and encourage more of an apartment style of living. Of course, this will take money, so we're talking over some ideas on how to raise revenue for dorm improvements."

The beginning of a new year is the time for resolutions and predictions. My only resolution is that I vow to graduate from Xavier (on time) — in one way or another. My predictions are many, especially when sports is involved...

JANUARY — Penn State, Nebraska, and Ohio State roll to New Year's Day bowl victories. (How do you like that for a good start?) ... Xavier gets annihilated by Notre Dame in basketball. Tay Baker gets violently ill in the locker room at halftime due to his team's 30-point deficit, and Ray Baldwin guides the Muskies in the second half ... Miami wins Super Bowl VIII 24-17 as Larry Csonka rushes for 100 yards and two touchdowns ... Muhammad Ali proves that the shuffle is quicker than the smash, and beats Smokin' Joe Frazier on a decision. John Phillips goes in the 9th round of the professional football draft. Tim Dydo makes it in the last round.

FEBRUARY — UC's Head Football Coach, Tony Mason, announces the signing of a new Asstant Football Coach — Tom Cecchini. Cecchini gets stuck with a ridiculously low salary, but an unlimited supply of Rueben sandwiches ... George Foreman creams Jerry Quarry ... Xavier stuns UC in basketball, 68-65.

MARCH — UCLA plays Notre Dame in the NCAA final. Care to lay odds on who wins? ... The Ky. Colonels make national sports headlines when they draw 4,500 fans at Armory Fieldhouse at UC. Will wonders never cease? ... Bill Walton, John Wooden, and Keith Wilkes are all signed by the San Diego Conquistadors. Wilt Chamberlain is converted into the tallest guard in basketball history ... Xavier finished its basketball season with an 11-15 record.

APRIL — The Kentucky Colonels win the ABA championship. Anticipating a tremendous crowd, league officials scheduled the championship finale at Riverfront Stadium on a portable hardwood floor. 453 fans show up ... Hank Aaron breaks Babe Ruth's home run record by slamming a circuit clout off Cincinnati's Clay Carroll. Carroll retires on the spot to launch a career of making guest appearances on variety and talk shows.

MAY — The Xavier Board of Trustees votes to discontinue the basketball program, due to financial considerations. Instead of pouring good money into the round ball program, they decide to initiate several new intramural programs, including men's shuffleboard, women's croquet, and men's and women's tiddly-winks ... The Celtics win the NBA championship by beating Milwaukee in 7 games.

JUNE — Tay Baker is signed to replace John Wooden at UCLA ... Charlie Finley signs himself as a free agent, and declares he will pitch the first inning of an Oakland-Detroit baseball game. He strikes out Al Kaline, Bill Freehan, and Norm Cash with his newest innovation — an invisible ball.

JULY — The entire Cincinnati Reds infield, plus Pete Rose and Johnny Bench, start for the National League in the All-Star game ... Xavier puts in its bid to host the 1976 Summer Olympics. The request is ultimately turned down because the Russians refuse to eat in the XU cafeteria.

AUGUST — Reggie Jackson drops a fly ball. Charlie Finley sends him down to AAA ball ... Muhammed Ali wonders why George Foreman will not fight him.

SEPTEMBER — College football arrives. Woody Hayes says his team is no. 1. Bill Mallory says his team is no. 1. Tony Mason says his team is no. 1. Everybody laughs at the last prediction, except Tom Cecchini, who is too busy eating a reuben on rye ... 3,000 Xavier students spend a Saturday night watching Hughes and Withrow High Schools play to a 0-0 tie at Corcoran Field.

OCTOBER — The Reds win the National League pennant by defeating the Montreal Expos in 4 games. Oakland rolls over Boston in the AL championship series. The Reds then end a drought of three decades when they sweep Oakland in the World Series. Sparky Anderson drinks champagne. Charlie Finley eats crow ... The Ky. Colonels trade Artis Gilmore to San Diego to help Wilt out in the backcourt. The Colonels get Coach Wooden in return ... Muhammed Ali is getting restless.

NOVEMBER — Ohio State goes undefeated. Miami goes undefeated. UC loses its first 7 games all by one point. Mason is fired, and Tom Cecchini takes over to guide the Bearcats to wins in their final 4 games. His entire starting lineup is composed of former Xavier players ... Muhammed Ali finally gets his chance. He wins a split decision over Foreman, and then retires.

DECEMBER — The Bengals end up winning the AFC championship. It's Los Angeles in the National Football Conference ... Tony Mason is hired by Jim McCafferty to coach Xavier's javelin-catching team. And that's enough of this foolishness.

Editor's Note: Sport's Editor Tom Stevens turned these predictions in to be published before the News' January issue. Due to a printer's error, the predictions couldn't be published on time, but since Stevens batting is nearly 1,000, we had to give all of his predictions a chance. The News regrets the delay.

Pictures talk. Some little boys don't.

Some inner-city ghettos have special schools. For little boys who don't talk.

Not mute little boys. But children so withdrawn, so afraid of failure, they cannot make the slightest attempt to do anything at which they might fail.

Some don't talk. Some don't listen. Most don't behave. And all of them don't learn.

One day someone asked us to help.

Through Kodak, cameras and film were distributed to teachers. The teachers gave the cameras to the kids and told them to take pictures.

And then the miracle. Little boys who had never said anything, looked at the pictures and began to talk. They said "This is my house." "This is my dog." "This is where I like to hide." They began to explain, to describe, to communicate. And once the channels of communication had been opened, they began to learn.

We're helping the children of the inner-city. And we're also helping the adults. We're involved in inner-city job programs. To train unskilled people in useful jobs.

What does Kodak stand to gain from this? Well, we're showing how our products can help a teacher—and maybe creating a whole new market. And we're also cultivating young customers who will someday buy their own cameras and film. But more than that, we're cultivating alert, educated citizens. Who will someday be responsible for our society.

After all, our business depends on our society. So we care what happens to it.

Kodak
More than a business.
