ARMISTICE RIOTS IN PARIS

(The New York Times,
Nov. 12, 1934)

Amid the turbulent cries of "Hang Herriot" and "Vive Doumergue," the Armistice Day services at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Paris were brought to a close. Riotous disturbances attended by an anti-Government exhibition that was participated in both by the Royalists and the Nationalists' parties engulfed the already half-submerged French Republic. There was also trouble at a pacifist meeting held by Socialists and Communists at the Bastille. How different indeed from that quiet, tranquil ceremony held in the time hallowed fields of Arlington Cemetery wherein a modest wreath was placed upon the tomb of our Unknown Soldier by President Roosevelt as a national tribute to our war dead.

COMMUNISM AIMS AT CUBA

(The New York Journal of Commerce and Commercial, Nov. 13, 1934)

Crafty Communism seems to be playing a "waiting game" in her attempts to secure the revolution torn state of Cuba for her very own. Victory, though it may not be immediate, is not far away in the belief, however exaggerated, of the Red Party. Recently Felipe Gonzalez, party spokesman announced to the United Press in Havana that the conversion of Cuba into a Communist state only "awaits a propitious moment." He further intimated that the seizure of the Government was soon to come.

The results of such an acquisition, he stated, would include (1) Confiscation of all sugar and tobacco plantations, sugar mills, factories and banks without compensation. (2) Repudiation of all foreign and domestic national loans. (3) Denunciation of treaties. What a sad fate in store for a country that fought so tirelessly to sever her connections from her kindly Uncle Sam.

PERSECUTION FLARE IN MEXICO

(The Chicago Daily Tribune
Nov. 10, 1934)

Once again the gore soaked strings of Nero's fiddle sound the polluted strains of religious persecution, with the scenes laid in the ever desecrated yet immaculate portals of the Roman Catholic Church in Mexico. With the closing of the churches and the expulsion of the clerics in five of Mexico's twenty-eight states, the universal belief was that it would not be long ere the remaining states would act likewise. This belief was arrived at largely by the publication of the letter of Pres. Abelardo Rodriguez which informed Attorney General Emilio Portes Gil that "churchman, outraged by the Governments proposal to make all education anti-religious and socialistic, were inciting followers to re-

Gala Celebration Dance At Cincinnati Club

Homecoming Dance High Spot In Day's Events

Bob Rainier Will Furnish The Music For Occasion; Admission Will Be $1.50

Xavier students past and present and their friends will convene in the Gold Room of the Cincinnati Club Saturday night to climax the two days of Homecoming celebration. The event will be the annual Homecoming Dance under the auspices of the undergraduate "X" Club. The dance committee was very fortunate this year in securing the Cincinnati Club as it will be more exclusively a purely Xavier affair.

James Coleman

In other years the dance, held in hotel ballrooms, was frequented by many people not connected with Xavier either as alumni members, students, or friends of the university.

Bob Rainier and his popular orchestra will furnish the music for the Homecoming. Besides furnishing the music for the Homecoming, Rainier will have the dual personality of an entertainer and a "Home-comer" alike. A former Xavier student, Rainier has gained great popularity since his departure from Xavier not only in Ohio but also throughout the South where he has had many engagements.

According to the committee, this year's dance will be the most elaborate ever held at Xavier. The Cincinnati Club is beautifully decorated and there is need for only a small amount of extra decorating. The hall is of sufficient size to accommodate a large assembly.

The committee which carried out arrangements in behalf of the "X" Club consists of James Coleman, chairman, Thomas Schmidt, Ferd Clemens, Carl Jonke, and Anthony Schmiegl.

Father Welfle Tells Of Socialists' Work In Mexico

Father Welfle, moderator of the Senior Sodality, gave a full report of the Central Committee meeting at last Friday's assembly of the Sodality. After he had given a detailed report of the functions of the committee, he spoke briefly upon the condition of the Church in Mexico and of the work being accomplished by some of our socialists there.

Father Welfle explained the nature of the government of Mexico, how it is an inferno of power-crazed bandits, and why the church suffers so much at their hands. At present the Mexican government allows one priest to every 250,000 people. He quoted from letters of socialists in Mexico who ask us for prayers. He emphasized the value of prayer to these poor people.

The Sodality will meet again in the chapel today at 11:30 A. M.

PRESIDENTS TO FACE XAVIER IN ANNUAL HOMECOMING GAME

All Indications Point To One Of The Most Spectacular And Closely Fought Encounters Of Year

By Tom McDonough

Sports Editor

Washington and Jefferson's victory-starved football horde, hampered all season by injuries, will be at full strength when pitted against the cleared warriors of Xavier University in the Homecoming Day game at Corcoran Field, Saturday afternoon.

All indications point to one of the most spectacular and closely contested encounters of the year. The Musketeers will carry speed, deception and a pass attack that must connect if they expect to win, opposing the sheer power and weight packed by the Presidents. Xavier will have to uncover everything in its offensive assortment if the two-year domination held by W. & J. elevens over the Musketeers is to be ended.

Coaches Joe Meyer and Clem Crowe have had two weeks to put their charges on razor-blade edge for the contest. Captain Tom Schmidt, fully rested and ready to play, will be back at his right end position. With Russ Sweeney holding down the other wing, the Meyermen will be assured of two capable pass-receivers. Both should be able to stop the tricky end sweeps of the Prexies.

Other changes in the Xavier line-up will find Stan Haffey starting at left halfback in place of Tony Schmiegl. The former has displayed plenty of drive in the practice sessions, and if he is able to speed up his actions, will develop into a great ball totter. John Koprowski will run at right half.

W. & J. has the best set of backs to show here this year. Coach Hank Day has two sets of leather luggers who are adept also in passing and kicking. Tony Rosso, Joe Hardy, Doug Malcolm, and Bill King are almost certain to start against Xavier. In reserve, however, Coach Day has Dan Croft and "Mayor" MacBurney, sophomores, who are rated as the best back to enter the Pennsylvania school in many years.

The Presidents have a comparatively inexperienced line which was unable to function early in the season. Against Bucknell last week the Prexy forward brigade showed well and Xavier scouts were greatly impressed with its work. At ends are two brilliant performers, Red Rittersbaugh and Al Ericus, both heavy but fast. Captain Fred Burkhardt, tackle, is the other veteran who steadies the "green" W. & J. line.

To date the Presidents have played seven games, winning three and losing four. They opened the season by dropping a 26-6 verdict to the Pittsburgh Panthers, then defeating Wooster, 20-0; Geneva, 6-0; and Waynesburg, 9-0. Detroit won (Continued on Page 4)

Alumni Election Will Start Two-Day Celebration

General Reunion Held In Fieldhouse Immediately Following Football Game

Hundreds of local and out-of-town Alumni, including graduates from '88 to '34, will assemble on the campus tomorrow and Saturday for the annual Homecoming celebration of Xavier University.

Walter A. Ryan, Jr., '27, and J. H. "Pat" Geerin, '25, Co-chairmen of the Homecoming Committee, have announced that final preparations are nearing completion and that advance notices point to a capacity attendance at both the Friday and Saturday events. Edward P. Vonderhaar, Alumni Secretary, confirmed their belief when he cited letters from out-of-town Alumni Clubs, in which it was said that these units will return to the campus in solid delegations.

Headlining the Friday events is an election meeting which is scheduled for the Union House at 8 p. m. Coach Joe Meyer will be a featured speaker at this meeting, and he will introduce several luminaries from the Musketeer eleven. Then from a slate of ten candidates, five new members will be selected for the Alumni Board of Governors. The nominating committees have announced that Nicholas J. Hoban, Jr., '07; Dr. Edward J. McGrath, '28; Lawrence A. Poetker, '18; Joseph F. Cloud, '16; and Dr. Harry R. Carroll, '08, will comprise the "blue" election ticket; while John J. Ryan, '08; Anthony C. Elsaesser, '13; Joseph B. Gigandet, '28; Edwin G. Schmidt, '11; and Robert A. Ryan, '34, will make up the "white" roster. Since the Alumni Constitution provides for a Board of fifteen members with five retiring each year, the men who are elected this year will serve for three years. The Board will meet soon after its reorganization to choose a President and other Alumni officers.

New Song May Be Accepted By Xavier

"Xavier Days" Composed By Joseph McKeon, Submitted To 'X' Officials Last Week

Another song may be added in the near future to the collection of beautiful pieces dedicated to Xavier University.

Joseph McKeon, former Xavier student, composed both the music and the lyric of the song which is entitled "Xavier Days." He has submitted the work to Xavier officials during the past week, but their judgment is being withheld for the time being.

"Xavier Days" is written in waltz tempo and can be easily adapted either for dancing or for glee club use. If the lyric is adopted by the university, both the glee club and the Xavier orchestra will be given copies.

When interviewed by a NEWS reporter, Mr. McKeon said: "I have offered 'Xavier Days' to the authorities during Homecoming Week because it is a song which expresses the feeling of the Xavier man who has been graduated. Unlike most university songs, it is written in waltz tempo which I considered most appropriate since it is the tempo most closely connected with the finer feelings of life. The arrangement which was done by Mr. George T. Bird, Xavier band master, is excellent."

Xavier Honorary Fraternity May Be Recognized

Student Council To Act On Application Of Epsilon Xi Lambda Members

Epsilon Xi Lambda, the honorary activity fraternity of Xavier University, may become recognized as an active Alumni chapter of the university.

The application, signed by seven of the sixteen members of this fraternity, has been submitted to the Student Council for consideration at the next meeting. The proposal asks for recognition of an active Alumni chapter of this fraternity with the improvement of Xavier University as the prime object.

Since its foundation by the Student Council in 1933, Epsilon Xi Lambda has been an inactive honorary fraternity. Should the proposal be accepted by the Student Council, it would become an active organization with a constitution and a faculty moderator. No change would be made in the requirements for membership and anyone with the necessary requisites would automatically become a member.

Those sponsoring this plan do not desire to take the power over this fraternity from the Student Council but would like permission to take care of the duties of compiling points for membership and to change the society from an inactive organization into a working unit. The constitution and other movements (Continued on Page 3)

Dr. Nellans Addresses Science Club Meeting On Interesting Subject

By Charles Blase

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, 1934, the Xavier Science Club met for its third gathering of the year. The speaker of the evening was Dr. B. Nellans, dean of the Cincinnati Eclectic Medical School. The talk centered upon the importance and advantage of a good pre-medical course as a preparation for medical school. The meeting was held in the temporary chemistry lecture club room where the scientists will gather until their new home, on the second floor of the Biology Building, is ready.

Dr. Nellans, having been introduced by Richard Wagner, stated that he was a graduate of the old school, that is, the medical course that did not require pre-medical work. However, times have changed with the progressive spirit of advance and as a result, high school is not enough for medical work. In fact, says Dr. Nellans, it has been discovered that a complete college course, contained in four years of pre-med work, is almost necessary today before a student may be accepted into the field of medicine.

According to Dr. Nellans there are seventy-seven recognized medical schools in the country, and, about twenty of these are soon to be dropped from the list. This means that the field for acceptance will be limited considerably. Thus we see all the more that a thorough college education is necessary.

Taking his subject a little more in detail, the medical dean explained what description an ideal pre-med student should fit. He should be between the ages of 21 and 24 at time of entrance. He must have common sense. He must have good grades in all sciences at least. His ambition should not be fame and wealth, but rather he should strive to be an ordinary country doctor.

Dr. Nellans stressed the necessity of physics and chemistry in college work with biology running a close second in importance. Every pre-med student should be fairly proficient in mathematics. Mathematics, says the physician, is an important mind trainer for medical school. Also laboratory technique is an essential training in college. A student should be able to handle himself in laboratory without much help from the instructors.

Dr. Nellans then read the application list in order that the members of the Science Club might acquire some idea of what they are going to meet in the way of requirements when they enter medical school. All your physical, mental and moral qualities are taken into consideration before an entrance is granted. Also in scientific aptitude your accuracy, quickness, resourcefulness, and persistence, among many other qualities, are all taken account of in the estimation of your ability as a student.

To close his talk, Dr. Nellans stated, "If I were personally characterizing a medical student, I would qualify him with 'brains,' 'common sense,' and 'character,' that is, what you stand for, and whom you stand with."

Daniel A. Flynn Elected To Head Junior Sodality

Vincent E. Smith, Albert Stephen, To Act As First And Second Assistants

Daniel A. Flynn will be First Prefect of the Junior Sodality this year, with Vincent E. Smith and Albert A. Stephen as assistants. These men were elected to their offices at the annual meeting of the Freshman Spiritual Committee last week. Other officers elected were Joseph F. Downey, secretary, and Charles L. McEvoy, treasurer.

The Rev. C. J. Steiner, S. J., Sodality Moderator, who presided at the meeting, tentatively outlined his plans for the coming year. He expressed a hope that the customary triduum of Masses and Holy Communions would again be offered by the members this year sometime before December 8. The intentions are prescribed by the Central Office at St. Louis, he said, and almost every branch of the Sodality makes this offering each year. He stressed the fact that the triduum need not take place on successive days, emphasizing the value of such a service to the freshman class.

In the near future, a special meeting of the Committee is scheduled to formulate plans for a religious play. This will be enacted in Cincinnati charitable institutions shortly before Christmas. Actors will be chosen from the general membership of the Sodality.

It is also expected that the organization will conduct a concerted drive for old clothes. These will be distributed to needy families at Christmas time. Last year, more than ten families were provided for by the Sodality.

Fr. Steiner expressed much confidence in the men who were elected to office. He cited an increase in membership as evidence that this year's work ought to surpass that of other years. All officers will begin work immediately, he said.

The Spiritual Committee which elected the officers is composed of thirteen men, elected from the general membership of the Sodality. They will form the consulting body in all spiritual matters affecting the freshman class.

FRESHMAN ELECTION

The Freshman Class will hold its election of officers on next Tuesday morning during the orientation period, it was announced by the Student Council which will supervise the election.

VERKAMP DEBATE TRY-OUTS TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

Twenty-eight students will try-out Monday afternoon in the Poland Philopedian Society for the annual Verkamp Debate to be held early in December.

The Verkamp Debate is one of the feature forensic attractions of the university. The winning speaker of the evening will receive the Verkamp Medal to be awarded at the Commencement Exercises.

This year, the unusually large number of twenty-eight students have signed up for the preliminary speeches in preparation for this event. The Junior and Freshman classes predominate this list with twenty-two of the signers being members of these groups.

Brockman, Helmich, Kearney, and Riesenbergh of the Senior Class; Barrett, Blase, Debbeler, Dreidame, Fitzgerald, Koch, Post, Schaefer, Schmeig, Shaw, and Volck, Juniors; Holden and Walsh, Sophomores; and Freshmen: Benson, Dalton, Haase, Flamm, Gleason, McEvoy, Salem, Smith, Stephan, Theisen, and Wachs are the men who will try-out.

The speeches will be given during the regular period of the Poland Philopedian Society, Monday at 1:20.

SENIOR PICTURES TO BE TAKEN THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS

Plans for the taking of Senior pictures for the Musketeer yearbook were discussed at a meeting of the senior class, Friday. Pictures this year will be taken on the campus, thereby eliminating the troublesome process evident in former years. All sittings for individual pictures will be taken Thursday and Friday of this week. Caps and gowns will be furnished by the photographer.

Prices quoted the Seniors this year on individual pictures were as follows: 3 for $5; 6 for $8; and 12 for $8. Each student will be allowed three different poses, out of which he will choose the best for the final picture.

No individual setting will be allowed unless the student makes an initial down payment.

The seniors were also reminded of the Annual Homecoming celebration next Saturday which is to be climaxed by the "X Club's" Homecoming Dance at the Cincinnati Club. All were asked to aid in making the event a success.

Commerce Students Enter Upon Second Semester Of Work

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Commerce Club was held Thursday evening, October 25. Representatives from each class attended and a committee was appointed to draw up a paper of the objections and questions which have come up at each meeting, pertaining to the standing of the Club among campus organizations to be presented to some one in authority for settlement.

Old business was discussed. Included in this were the plans for the dance, which the entertainment committee has been working on for quite some time.

The intra-semester exams were given last week to the students in the co-operative division of the College of Commerce and Finance. These students are now in the second half of their initial twelve-week semester.

The price of admission will be $1.50 a couple.

Saturday's dance will be the first held under the auspices of the newly founded Social Committee. All the plans have been submitted by the "X" Club committee and approved by the Social Committee.

The Board of Governors of the Alumnae Association is in reality an electoral college with legislative powers. The members select all officers of the association and discuss all matters for the good of Xavier University.

The oldest living graduate of Xavier is Dr. W. H. Wenning, '68. He is a Cincinnati resident and took an active interest in Xavier when age permitted.

The idea of an honorary activity fraternity was first submitted to the Student Council by Elmer Glassmeier in 1930. It was rejected and dropped for two years when it was again proposed, this time by Robert Ryan and Leo Koester. It was accepted and for two years members have been selected from the graduating classes.

The charter members of Epsilon Xi Lambda were the following students of the class of 1933: Francis Brearton, James Dewan, Charles Donovan, Louis Ginocchio, Harry Landenwith, Edward Nurte, Maynard Reuter, Henry Schoo, Ervin Stadler, and Frank Waldron. John Brink, Edward Doring, John Hughes, Kenneth Jordan, Leo Koester, and Robert Ryan were added to the roster last June.

SPORTS-EYE VIEWS

By Tom McDonough, Sports Editor

Within the last few years a popular post-season diversion for football addicts has been the listing of various college coaches who are slated to be released because their teams failed to win all or the majority of their games. In practically every case the coach gets the wrong end of the deal.

It usually starts with over-enthusiastic alumni and students who feel that their school should have been represented by a better eleven due to the available material. Sometimes a newspaper reporter, having nothing interesting with which to fill his columns during the off season, will raise the cry for a certain mentor's scalp just to give his readers a lively topic for discussion.

Collegiate football is a sport—not a business. These athletic revolutions do not reflect credit to the game. If playing football moulds a youth for his battles in life, it should teach him to take defeats as well as victories. The man who "can't take it" has little chance in any enterprise these days.

Let it be understood that the writer is not trying to discourage a team from being a winner. We will also admit that there are instances where a change of coaches would be advisable. The fact remains, however, that there is too much emphasis on remaining unbeaten. The average football player benefits greatly by tasting the bitter with the sweet.

Coach Joe Meyer gave each of his Musketeers a necktie last week. Just as he was about to receive a pretty brown tie, Nick Sigillo's "Irish" got the best of him and he said:

"Please, Joe, give me a green one."

Just as the shrill November winds pluck the red and brown colored leaves from the trees, comparatively weaker elevens rise up each week to smite terror into the ranks of the nation's grid mighty. Upsets are not as common, however, as the season draws to a close, and the forecasters find help in basing their views on comparative scores.

Here are a few of the games to be played Saturday and the results as they appear to the writer:

Colgate-Syracuse: The Red Raiders are one of the most powerful aggregations in the country. They should topple Syracuse from the unbeaten.

Navy-Pittsburgh: Too much power in that Panther machine. The Middies are due to get their first defeat.

Ohio-Michigan: The Bucks should win but it may be close.

Princeton-Yale: The Tiger should claw Old Eli.

Vanderbilt-Tennessee: The odds favor the Vols.

Purdue-Fordham: Easy to go wrong here, but it looks like Purdue.

Minnesota-Chicago: The Swedes thunder along.

Duquesne-Carnegie: The Dukes have a fine team. They should trample over Tech.

Notre Dame-Northwestern: Two sub-normal teams. The Irish have a slight edge.

When the time comes to pick the All-Ohio football team, there will be a mighty howl from this sector if the name of Carl Jonke is not placed at guard. The Cleveland Crasher is easily the most outstanding player on the Musketeer eleven, turning in brilliant performances in every contest.

Jonke can block, tackle, diagnose plays and do everything with the best of them. He has a fine competitive spirit and that inner fire which carries a player to stardom. A place on the mythical all-state team would only be a just and deserving reward for Carl's fine work this year.

Off the field he is one of the best-liked and most amiable fellows on the Xavier campus. Jonke has a smile and a good word for everybody and has never been touched with a "high-hat" attitude. The best tribute we can extend to Carl is to say that he is a true Musketeer.

Watch him tear into the Presidents of W. & J.!

Randy Dixon of Vanderbilt is the classiest back we have seen this year. . . He plays quarterback and handles himself like an All-American. . . The basketball floor will be put down next week. . . Tony Comello, genial, tape-tossing trainer, believes that Xavier will be well represented on the court in spite of the gloomy outlook. . . Have you heard about the Riesenberg-Comello feud? . . . Liable to be blood shed any day!

the day. The picture will be under the direction of Edgar Sedgwick.

Alumni Directory—FERA Project
One of the FERA projects now under way at Xavier University is the compilation of a complete Alumni Directory to contain the names of every alumnus and former student since the founding of the Athenaeum. Such a work will be an important addition to the archives of the University and will probably require at least a year for completion. It has been impossible to locate some of the early catalogues of the old school. Those having copies are urged to communicate with the Alumni Office.

Senior Football Team Challenges All Underclasses

The Senior class football team, captained this year by Walter Moellering, coached by Jerome Bressler, and managed by Joseph Link, has announced its challenge to meet any one of the Freshmen, Sophomore, or Junior class teams.

Being the undefeated champions of last year, gaining a spectacular victory over the Sophomores with a 7-6 score, the Seniors are proud of the fact that they have at present the finest class team on the campus. This is undoubtedly also believed by the other class teams, who have failed to challenge the mighty Seniors.

The following line-up has been announced:

- Walter Moellering (C.) L. E. Melvin Gosink
- Robert Herbers L. G. Ernest Reed
- Joseph Nordman R. G. Jules Fern
- William Dodd R. E. Joseph Scanlon
- Paul Riesenber R. H. B. Robert Moseman
- Louis Riesbeck F. B. Substitutes: Martin Dumler, James Coleman, Edward Vondohre, Chas. Riley, James Weis, Daniel Ledwin, Ferd Clemen, Eugene Ryan.

Officials: Referee Frosh Coach, John Wiethe.

GERMAN CLUB HEARS SPEECHES ON LIFE OF FREDERICK THE GREAT

"Frederick The Great" was the subject of an interesting dissertation at the Heidelberg German Club, last Wednesday night. Frank Mezur, treasurer of the society, described the youth of the great Prussian king, placing emphasis upon the severe treatment he received from his vicious but almost ludicrous father, Frederick I.

J. B. Nieman gave a brief outline of Frederick's participation in the Seven Years War against Maria Theresa of Austria. Charles Koch rounded out Frederick's life with a discourse upon his political career.

Following this, Mr. Graber, the moderator of the society, complimented the speakers on their preparation and said he believed the members of the club get considerable benefit out of these talks and hoped that there would be more of them in the near future.

Martin Dumler, President of the society, proposed that only a few members be initiated into the club this year because a large membership is unwieldy and is less informal than a small, closely knit organization.

Jack Linfert, '34 attended the meeting and gave a special invitation to the members to join the Kolping House, a German Club of Cincinnati. President Martin Dumler thanked Mr. Linfert in behalf of the organization and told him the invitation would be discussed at the next meeting.

It was decided by a unanimous vote that beginning with the next meeting the assembly will be enlivened by the members singing German songs.

ALUMNAE OF SACRED HEART TO SPONSOR ANNUAL TEA DANCE

The annual Tea Dance sponsored by the Alumnae of Sacred Heart College, Clifton, will be held Sunday, November 18, from 5:00 until 8:00 P. M., in the Hotel Sinton St. Nicholas. Bob Rainier and his orchestra will be featured.

Due to the great success of the dance last year it was decided to make this an annual affair. Mrs. William J. Reardon, Chairman of the Committee in charge of arrangements, is confident that the dance Sunday, will excel the one given last season. Great pains have been taken to make this affair an outstanding social success.

In securing the services of Bob Rainier and his orchestra, the committee feels sure that they have engaged one of the most popular bands in the city. Rainier has appeared with his men at many social functions in and about Cincinnati. He is especially noted for his novel musical arrangements presented at College dances.

The Tea Dance will begin at 5:00 P. M. and cease at 8 o'clock. During this time a buffet luncheon will be served. Tickets can be purchased for $1.00 per person at the College of the Sacred Heart in Clifton.

Juniors Victorious Over Sophomores In Football Game

Last Friday afternoon, the Juniors were victorious over their Sophomore opponents in the annual grid contest between these two rivals.

Due to the misinterpretation of a technicality on the part of the officials, the game was won by the Juniors, 7-6. If it were not for this error, the score would have been tie, 6-6.

The first half witnessed the Juniors running roughshod over the Sophs, being held from scoring only by consistent penalties. A beautifully executed pass, Homan to McMahon, put the ball in scoring position. On the next play, McMahon took the ball over on a vicious slash through center for the Junior's only score.

In the second half, the Sophomores displayed more offensive power, featuring McKenna and Geiser. They put over four first downs in succession. In the closing minutes of play, Geiser intercepted a Junior pass and ran for a touchdown. The Sophomores failed to convert the point.

The point after touchdown which decided the game in favor of the Juniors was awarded to the upperclassmen by the officials because the Sophomores line was offside. Instead of following the 1934 rule on this play, which states that the team offside should be penalized and the play taken over, the referee declared the point good.

Next Monday, the Freshmen will meet the Sophomores at 3:00 at Corcoran Field.

If Robert A. Ryan, '34 is elected to the Board of Governors, he will be the youngest member ever to be chosen for that body. "Bob" who was graduated last year was active in extra-curricular affairs on the campus. His interest in Xavier is still at a high pitch.

BITS ABOUT THE BOYS

By Rantland Grice, Jr.

As the Musketeers near the close of a successful season and the time draws near to stow away the grid-iron armor, we like to gaze into the future while reviving the perennial custom of forecasting about "next year."

It is rumored that Coach Meyer has succeeded in rounding out a schedule for next season, on which are represented quite a few of the "big" teams of the country. With this list of news tingling in my ears I cannot help but wax enthusiastic about the 1935 prospects.

One of the big reasons for such a rosy outlook is the yearling team of this year. John Wiethe, '34, one of Xavier's greatest Legion of Honor stars, was appointed Freshman coach and has shown uncanny ability in moulding the first-year men into a smart, hard-driving squad. Its roster boasts the names of Berning, Geers, Kelly, Russ, Hoff, McGuiness, Robers, Stroehoefer, McGowan, Legaly and Schaefer of Cincinnati, Cummins, Nevel, Spehn and Hofner of Chicago; Wagner of Portsmouth; Moroghan, Kucia and Domonski of Cleveland; Schuhmann of Louisville and Farrel, Sills and Fahrubel of Prairie du Chien, Pittsburgh, and Dayton respectively.

Of this list, seven boys were captains of their high school teams.

Vergil Legaly, besides earning letters in basketball, football and baseball, was co-captain of Elder's football team last year, along with George Schafer who was a four letter man in track and a leader in dramatic circles at that institution.

Another pair of co-captains was Jack Berning, and "Ramrod" Kelly of St. X. High. These two boys look like good Musketeer timber and are determined to go places under the Blue and White.

McGuiness and Robers were three letter men in football while at Purcell. Robers, a giant tackle, is a skilled pastimer at basketball and baseball also. Dale Snyder, another Purcell athlete, earned three letters in football, track and swimming.

Fenwick, of Chicago, sent three hustlers in the persons of George Spehn, Fred Nevel, and Bob Cummins. Mahoney of Ignatius and Hofner of Loyola Academy are others claiming a Chicago background.

Roger Bacon's lone representative is little Jimmy Hoff, shifty mite of a field general. Built along the lines of Leo Sack, he gives promise of being a real speedster.

Outstanding performers at the guard posts have been Capt. McGowan, Farrell, and Stroehoefer.

Dick Domonski and Bob Wagner, beefy tackles, and Frank Kucia, a tall end, are three boys with varsity characteristics. Domonski and Wagner performed for three years in high school while Kucia earned letters in three major sports.

Kentucky contributed Schuhmann and Fahrubel, both powerful fullbacks. Schuhmann hails from St. Xavier High in Louisville, where he starred in football, basketball, and track. Fahrubel was a three-sport performer at Dayton High, before coming to Xavier.

Russ, Geers, and Moraghan are three other boys who are determined to make the grade on Coach Meyer's team next season.

With such an array of talent eligible for varsity competition in 1935, it does not take a lot of courage to predict one of Xavier's most successful seasons at this early date.

The big obstacle to be overcome however, is the task of streamlining Russ Sweeney's ears. If this can be accomplished, there is no telling just to what heights the team will rise.

Even though these men are far from Xavier they receive a copy of the Xaverian News each week, which proves that they are not forgetting their Alma Mater.

Good If True

We are told that a certain prominent Junior has devised a very ingenious method of keeping up on his notes, and at the same time catching up on his sleep. He simply carries a sheet of carbon paper with him and slips it together with a sheet of note paper under his friends paper. His friend takes notes; he takes a nap. After class, he retrieves the notepaper and the carbon from said friend and there you are! Clever?

East Is East And West Is West

Bob Helmick tells us that the other day when walking along Reading Road he chanced upon two young lads, arms around each other's shoulders, looking as though they were boon companions and comrades in arms. The one lad was a much-begrimed Yankee—the other was a Japanese. Bob opined that perhaps Kipling was wrong,— "For East is East and West is West, And never the twain shall meet."

The A B C Of I. Q.

A few days ago we heard someone talking about the intelligence tests given to freshmen and we decided to make a contribution to said tests.

Question No. 764b-218.

What is wrong with the following sentences:

1. The Annual will be out early this year.
 2. The Class of '36 rings will be available before Christmas.
 3. All philosophy courses are cinchea.
 4. A play will be chosen by the Masque Society and a cast assembled before the first of the year.
- If there are any freshmen who cannot answer this question, all we can say is that they will be able long before they graduate.

To The Bitter End

We hate to admit it but we found ourselves a little short on copy this week and so we asked that intrepid chess player, Eugene Ryan, if he knew anything funny to add to the column. "Surely," said he, "it's funny that I should have to read two hundred and fifty pages for a French book review, while you and Kearney get off with less than a hundred."

You can't fool us, Gene. We know that French is a breeze for an Irishman!

DO YOU ever get up too late in the morning to have time for breakfast? The way to get around that difficulty is to eat your breakfast the night before just before hitting the hay.

BUT YOU will say that this practice will keep you awake and you refuse to count sheep because you never could stand mutton. No, you don't catch us with that. We have the solution.

WHAT YOU must do is to close your eyes tightly and imagine that it is morning and time for you to get up to make that 8:30 class and that you are as sleepy as you would have been if you hadn't eaten anything before going to bed. By the way, do you

CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF SENIOR SODALITY MAKE FUTURE PLANS

At a special meeting of the central committee of the Senior Sodality Friday afternoon, Tom Schmidt, First Prefect of the sodalists, and Father Welfle, sodality moderator, outlined the duties of each of the sodality committees. Plans for future activity of the organization were discussed; and dates were set for meetings of the central committee.

Members of the central committee, all of whom attended the meeting, Friday, are: Tom Schmidt, First Prefect; James Shaw, Second Prefect; Robert Helmick, Secretary; Donald Barman, Treasurer; Harold Link, Chairman of the Mission Committee; Eugene Ryan, Chairman of the Publicity Committee; Joseph Nolan, Chairman of the Eucharistic Committee; Rawlings Young, Supervisor of the Sodality Bulletin Board and Father Welfle, faculty moderator.

So They Won't Talk, Eh?

Late last week we received through the mail from we know not what kind soul a copy of The Ohio Highway News, in which two items were plainly marked in red pencil. One was a joke above the name of Dominic Sigillo. As we recall, it went like this:

Girl's father: "It's eleven o'clock. Does that young man think he can stay all night?"

Student: "Just a moment until I phone home and find out."

Our unknown informant had crossed out the "home" and substituted "dorm." Elsewhere in the paper was an article terming Phil Bucklew a coming football star. What do they mean, coming?

When questioned, friend Sigillo denied all knowledge of the matter. He further intimated, however, that Phil had submitted the article about himself. Well, these gridmen will cut up!

In Conclusion—

'Tis said the Freshman football team has some new ideas about team play which they will put into practice in their clash with the Sophomores. But who ever heard of a freshman getting an idea?

Charles Blase and Nelson Post spent two hours the other day arguing about which was the better, a Kentucky stallion or a Latin pony. Just horsing around, boys?

A Scotchman wrote me a letter last week and said that if I don't quit writing stories about Shaw, he'll stop borrowing the NEWS.

SUPPORTING THE TEAM

Xavier University seems to be an exception to the oft-repeated saying that the crowd follows a winner. Despite the fact that the Musketeers have suffered but one defeat, and that by a one-point margin, the Stadium turnstiles show that attendance fails to come up to expectations.

Many Xavier fans hung their heads gloomily when several of last year's stars who were considered the backbone of the team were graduated. They predicted that the squad of this season would be a poor one because the gaps left could not be filled. Now comes a squad, light, young, smart, outwitting heavier opponents, showing signs of equaling, if not bettering the enviable record made by their team-mates the preceding year.

Yet there are rows upon rows of vacant seats in the stands. The boys deserve better treatment by fandom. They have worked hard to produce a team that wins; they are justifiably proud of their performance. They should have greater attendance to cheer them on to victorious contests against their two final opponents so that this season may rank in brilliance with any of the past.

"STATE AID FOR OUR SCHOOLS"

One of the most important and vital questions of the recent election throughout the state of Ohio was that of "State Financial Aid to Parochial Schools."

It was only a few years ago that the Supreme Court of the United States decided upon the constitutionality and legality of Private and Parochial schools. Parents, the Court stated, have a perfect right by law to educate their children as they wish, whether it be privately, religiously, or publicly.

In the state of Ohio a large percentage of all taxes collected and distributed for public education is derived from Catholic individual taxpayers, either directly or indirectly; statistics show us the large number of Catholics in the state. Why should the Catholics be made to pay for their own schools, and yet pay for the education of the public school child?

A fool is he who forgets his soul! The cost of the Parochial School is negligent compared to the excellent spiritual training the child receives, and yet the ignoramus cries out with terror when he hears of state aid for Parochial schools. Unless the spiritual life of the child is perfected as much as, if not more than, his mental life, then education has failed.

We aren't asking for anyone's money but our own! Give us only our share of the taxes that we pay for education . . . we aren't using it. Consider the enormous sum the Parochial schools are saving the state year after year. Should these schools be forced to close by lack of funds, the state would be bound to educate our children. Consequently there would be more public school teachers to be employed, new school buildings and finally, to pay for this, a great increase in everyone's taxes. Then the cry will be heard, when the state in general must pay for the education of the Catholic child, yet we Catholics are and have been doing precisely this for the many past years.

We ask for nothing that isn't ours. May God give the grace to our new Governor Davey, so that he may be instrumental in rendering aid to such a noble cause as Catholic Education.

Alumni Election

although the polls will be kept open until game time for the out of town men who attend the Saturday functions only, those who arrive Friday are invited to cast their ballots then. This arrangement will facilitate the counting so that the results may be announced during the half of the Washington & Jefferson-Xavier football game.

At this game, which is one of the most important on the Musketeer schedule, the grads will occupy a special section of the stadium. The importance of the outcome of both teams is expected to attract many of them to the game. A victory for either the Presidents or the Musketeers would insure a successful season for that team.

After the game, a general reunion for Alumni will be held in the fieldhouse, and the opportunity will be offered to renew old friendships. Registration for this get-together will take place at the Friday meeting and behind the stands until 2:30 Saturday afternoon. A nominal fee will be asked of each couple to cover the price of smokes and other refreshments.

This will last until almost 7 o'clock when class dinners will be held at various hotels and dining rooms throughout greater Cincinnati. Class Secretaries have been placed in charge of these banquets, and members of the various classes will contact them for reservations. Here another opportunity will be offered for the renewal of school day friendships, and this fact is expected to increase both the local and out-of-town attendance.

Dance At Cincinnati Club

From nine to one, an informal Homecoming Dance will be held at the Cincinnati Club, 8th & Race Streets. The dance, open to alumni, faculty, students, and friends of Xavier, is sponsored by the undergraduate "X" Club, and James J. Coleman, president of that group, said that Bob Rainier and his orchestra will provide the music. An extensive drive for ticket sales has been conducted among the students during the past week, Coleman said.

Homecoming at Xavier is given a new impetus this year because of the founding of the four out-of-town Alumni Clubs. James W. O'Hara, president of the Chicago Club; William H. Frank, president of the Columbus Club; Thompson A. L. Willett, president of the Louisville Club; and Charles O. Bridwell, president of the New York Club, have endeavored to arouse enthusiasm for the Homecoming among their members. Special distinction will be paid to these out-of-town groups at the celebration.

The Athletic Department of Xavier has also lent itself to the task of bringing grads back to the campus. It has offered a special admission price to Alumni for the Washington & Jefferson-Xavier game.

Luke J. Leonard, J. P. Geoghagen, Louis A. Ginocchio, G. Edward Fern, Jack J. Dreyer, Andrew L. McGrath, and Richard D. Downing are assisting Ryan and Geerin on the Homecoming Committee. Active work on the campus will be carried on under the supervision of Secretary VonderHaar.

WE tell you that Chesterfield Cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobaccos. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor.

We have said that Chesterfields are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and

These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.
