General Information

Education and the War

Those responsible for prosecuting the American war effort have given us abundant assurance that the contribution of the colleges and universities is invaluable. It is reiterated that the nation needs men of intelligence, judgment, and character for many services—in the armed forces, in civilian life, for the post-war period. On December 29, 1941, President Roosevelt said: "We have one great task before us. That is to win the war. At the same time it is perfectly clear that it will be futile to win the war unless during the winning we lay the foundation for the kind of peace and readjustment that will guarantee the preservation of those aspects of American life for which the war is fought . . . I am anxious that this national crisis shall not result in the destruction or impairment of those institutions which have contributed so largely to the development of the American culture." Col. C. W. Venable, United States Army, speaking as official representative of the War Department, on January 3, 1942, said: "The Army needs and is prepared to teach specialists in its peculiar technical fields. However, it needs well-prepared, pre-trained men from the colleges and universities as candidates for this specialized training."

High School Graduates and the War

Young men at present in college and those about to be graduated from the high schools must realize that they are not necessarily making their greatest contribution to their country by immediate enlistment in the armed forces or by engaging in war production work. In August, 1940, and again in December, 1941, President Roosevelt stated: "Young people should be advised that it is their patriotic duty to continue the normal course of their education, unless and until they are called, so that they will be well-prepared for greatest usefulness to their country. They will be promptly notified if they are needed for other patriotic services." The National Conference of College and University Presidents on Higher Education and the War, made this recommendation on January 4, 1942: "The experience of the United States in the last war, and of England in the early months of the present conflict offer abundant evidence that volunteer enlistment for military service is a threat to the total allocation of man-power for its most effective utilization. In their eagerness to serve the nation many of our most capable youth enter the armed forces despite the fact that they may now be serving or preparing to serve the nation in ways more vital to total war and more in keeping with their training and ability. The general application of the principle of selective service is the most democratic way and promises the most effective means for the placement of the individual in accordance with his capacity to serve national needs and with the least disturbance of basic social institutions."

It is significant that the present draft laws, enacted through democratic processes, exempt young men from military services under 20 years of age. This exemption gives the young man an opportunity to complete his college education according to an accelerated program now adopted by most colleges and universities.

Xavier University and the War

Xavier University recognizes her patriotic duty and pledges her Faculty, her students, her administrative organization, her physical facilities, and her positive effort that this nation may prosecute the war to the victory and establish the peace for freedom, for equality, and for justice. Xavier University faces the future with full confidence that she is co-operating in a special way with this nation's war effort. Specifically, Xavier is serving the national needs in three ways:

(1) Through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps Unit, which has been established at Xavier for a number of years, all freshman and sophomore students receive basic military training and discipline, and a selected number of junior and senior students receive the opportunity to qualify for commissions as Reserve Officers in the United States Army.

(2) Through courses in a variety of fields Xavier is preparing young men for specialized services of many kinds—as chemists, physicists, biologists, technicians, doctors, dentists, economists—so vitally needed by the armed forces and industry.

(3) Precisely because Xavier is a liberal arts college, and a Catholic liberal arts college, the basic training that is offered every student is an outstanding contribution to the war effort as well as to the peace effort. A liberal arts college trains for leadership. A Catholic liberal arts college trains leaders of character. The primary end of Christian education in Catholic colleges and universities is the formation of men whose lives are dominated by principles instead of impulses from within and circumstances from without—in a word men of character.

Xavier University, through a definite philosophical system and religious training, emphasizes the dignity of man created by God and endowed with inalienable rights which have priority over those of the state. This doctrine is diametrically opposed to the philosophy of the totalitarian state in which the individual is nothing and the state everything.

Xavier University and Acceleration

By the introduction of a third session, the summer session, the University has made it possible for a student to reduce a degree program to approximately two and one-half years. Though the prospective college student is urged to prosecute his studies continuously through the three sessions, summer, fall, and spring, any student may, if necessary, plan his college studies on the basis of two sessions, fall and spring.

The College Year

The college year consists of three sessions: a summer session, beginning with the second week of June and ending with the last week in August; a fall session, beginning with the third week in September and ending with the last week of January; and a spring session, beginning with the first week in February and ending with the first week of June. There is a Christmas and an Easter recess.

The R. O. T. C.

Every student, who is a citizen of the United States, under twenty-six years of age and physically fit, is obliged to take military science for the first two years of attendance. Students entering as sophomores are required to take one year of military science. Students entering in the spring session will have their military science course deferred until the next session. Students entering as juniors or seniors are not required to take military science. Students who have had active service with the armed forces of the United States and have been honorably discharged therefrom may apply for exemption from military science courses. This exemption will be granted, if in the opinion of the Professor of Military Science and Tactics the service has been equivalent to the basic course. Students claiming exemption because of physical disability will be required to present evidence thereof to the Registrar.

The complete program of instruction comprises four sessions of lower division or basic courses and four sessions of upper division or advanced courses. The technique of Motorized Field Artillery is the principal content of all courses.

The basic courses are designed to acquaint the student with the fundamentals of the arm; to develop initiative, confidence, and ability; to prepare for the instruction of untrained citizens in the duties of privates, corporals, and sergeants, and to train squads and sections for, and lead them in, combat.

The advanced courses qualify a limited number of selected students for commissions in the Officers' Reserve Corps. Admission to MS 101 will depend on the fulfillment of the following conditions:

a. The applicant shall have filed a request with the Director within the dates annually announced.

b. The applicant shall have completed MS 1, 2, 31, and 32. Equivalence of basic courses completed in some other arm will be determined by the Director.

c. The applicant shall have demonstrated exceptional qualities of leadership and scholarship.

d. The applicant must have a working knowledge of trigonometry and the use of logarithms.

Further information regarding all courses will be found in the Corps Regulations issued by the Department.

Admission

Application for admission is made in form. A form for this purpose can be had on request.

Applicants must arrange to have an official transcript of credits sent to the Registrar from the high school from which they graduated or from the colleges attended. The arrangement must be made at such a time as to have the transcript on file with the Registrar not later than one month prior to registration. All credentials which are accepted for admission become the property of the University and are kept permanently on file. All communications regarding admission and registration should be made to the Registrar.

Registration

Fixed dates in each session are reserved for registration and are to be found in the academic calendar in this catalogue. A late registration fee of five dollars ($5.00) will be charged if applicants or students do not register on the prescribed dates. After the beginning of classes any change in schedule of courses can be made only with the consent of the Dean or the adviser. No change in schedule may be made later than one week after the inception of classes. A fee of one dollar ($1.00) will be charged for each change unless the change be made upon recommendation of the Dean or the adviser. A student's program of studies may be restricted in the number and choice of courses or total number of credit hours if for any reason the Dean or the adviser shall consider such restriction necessary.

Student Housing

The student residence (Elet Hall) is under the supervision of the Jesuit Fathers and can accommodate students in single and double rooms. It is required that out-of-town students reside in Elet Hall. Any exception to the rule is made only by the President with the consent of the parent or guardian.

Academic Expenses

All communications concerning expenses should be addressed to the Registrar.

Tuition and fees must be paid in advance and on the day designated as registration day. Attendance at classes is prohibited until all financial obligations have been completed. In special cases payment by instalments will be permitted. A refund of tuition may be claimed in the case of withdrawal or dismissal. The amount refunded, however, will be diminished by twenty per cent of the total initial amount for each week (summer) or each two weeks (fall and spring) of attendance. Fees will not be refunded. Application for refund must be made in writing. The amount of refund will be calculated from the date of application.

Regular Expenses

All fees are subject to change as conditions necessitate. Such changes take effect at once and apply to all students unless otherwise exempted. The expenses listed here are for the year 1942-1943.

Residential Expenses

A room in Elet Hall may be rented for one or two students. The rental charge of a room includes heat, light, water, furnishings (with the exception of blankets and towels), and care. A deferred payment plan is available in meeting the charge for board and room. A deposit of ten dollars ($10.00), not included in the rental charge, must accompany the verbal or written application of each prospective resident. This deposit will be kept as a damage fee and is, therefore, returnable when the student withdraws or is graduated. It will not be returned if notice of cancellation of reservation is received later than two weeks prior to occupancy. Reservation is made for one session only, so that residence in a preceding session will not operate as a reservation for the following session. In case of withdrawal or dismissal any refund will be made strictly on the basis of a proportionate number of weeks of residence.

The residential expenses are as follows:

Reservation deposit (returnable) . . . . .	$10.00
Summer session (board and room) . . . . .	144.00
Single room (fall or spring session) . . . . .	100.00

Curricular Administration

Grading System and Reports

At the end of each session the parent or guardian receives by mail an estimate of the quality of the student's work in each of the courses which he has pursued. This estimate is based upon the combined results of examinations and class work and is expressed by the following symbols:

A—Exceptional	E—Grade withheld pending re-examination
B—Above Average	F—Failure
C—Average	X—Absent from examination
D—Inferior (but passing)	I—Grade withheld pending fulfillment of assignments
WP—Withdrew passing	WF—Withdrew failing
W—Withdrew

Quality Points

A candidate for a bachelor's degree must earn not only the number of credit hours (128) required for the bachelor's degree, but his work must possess a certain excellence which is measured by quality points.

The number of quality points is determined partly by the grade received and partly by the number of credit hours attached to the course. The grade points are as follows:

A—Four points per credit hour	C—Two points per credit hour
B—Three points per credit hour	D—One point per credit hour

The number of quality points which will be received for any course is the number of points attached to the grade received multiplied by the number of credit hours attached to the course. The scholastic standing of the student at the end of any session is the ratio of the total number of quality points received to the total number of credit hours carried in that session.

Student Classification

Students are classified as Sophomores who have at least twenty-four credit hours and forty-eight quality points; Juniors, who have a minimum of sixty-four credit hours and one hundred and twenty-eight quality points and have completed all lower division requirements; Seniors, who have ninety-six credit hours and one hundred and ninety-two quality points. The Freshman and Sophomore years are grouped as lower division years, Junior and Senior as upper division years.

Students are also classified as Part-time who carry less than twelve credit hours of work in any session; as Unclassified, if they have not declared themselves as candidates for a degree; as Auditors, if their courses are not taken for college credit.

Courses

Courses are grouped according to their basic or advanced content. Basic courses, which are ordinarily open to freshmen and sophomore students, are regarded as lower division courses. Upper division courses are open to junior and senior students.

Departments of Instruction

For the purposes of faculty administration and of classification of courses according to the nature of their subject matter, all courses are grouped in departments. In the college of Liberal Arts there are fourteen departments: Biology, Chemistry, Economics, English, History, Classical Languages, Modern Languages, Mathematics, Military Science, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology, Religion, Sociology.

Curricular Divisions

There is a larger grouping of departments into three curricular divisions. These divisions are made to facilitate inter-departmental administration and to integrate fields of study. The divisions are as follows:

Languages	Social Sciences	Natural Sciences
English and Speech	Economics	Biology
Classical Languages	History	Chemistry
Greek        Latin	Philosophy	Geophysics
Modern Languages	Psychology	Mathematics
French    German	Religion	Military Science
Portuguese  Spanish	Sociology	Physics

Lower Division Objectives

Before admission to upper division classification a student shall have completed a minimum of sixty-four hours with a C average. Excess quality points earned in this division may not be applied to remove a quality point deficiency in the upper division. Moreover, the student shall have attained:

- a. A mastery of English expression, both written and oral, and an adequate acquaintance with the masterpieces or types of English literature,
- b. A religious knowledge and religious orientation adequate for personal and apostolic Catholic living,
- c. A reading knowledge of at least one modern language,
- d. An acquaintance with scientific and mathematical thinking,
- e. An acquaintance with the history and principles of social institutions.

Upper Division Objectives

At the close of his sophomore year and with the approval of the adviser, the candidate for a degree will select a field of study in which he will complete approximately half of his upper division courses. This field of study will be referred to as the field of concentration. The purpose of the field of concentration is to give the student a comprehensive grasp of some field of knowledge, to grant a wider scope to his particular interests and talents, and to lay an adequate undergraduate foundation for graduate or professional study. The student will come under the scholastic supervision of the director of the department in which the concentration emphasis or major is placed.

The content of upper division courses is suited to the mature student. As a consequence, the student's approach and methods of study shall be such as to display in all fields self-activity and sanely independent work and thought, and in the field of concentration a penetration and organization which will obtain for the student an undergraduate but thorough grasp of the field. After the completion of his lower division work, to obtain the upper division objectives, a student is required to carry a minimum of sixty-four credit hours with a C average. No credit will be granted toward a degree for more than forty hours in any one department.

Field of Concentration

This term is used to signify an upper division student's specialized study. Taken in its entirety and in terms of credit hours it constitutes approximately half of the student's upper division work; therefore, from thirty to forty credit hours. The field of concentration is so organized under the direction of the student's adviser that about two-thirds of these credit hours (not less than eighteen) are in the upper division courses of some one department. The remaining courses of the field of concentration are in the nature of supporting courses, that is, directly or indirectly contributing to the scope and breadth of the field, and may be taken in one or more departments.

Concentration Major

The term concentration major is used to signify the particular emphasis in a field of concentration, and is understood to embrace those upper division courses which constitute the student's principal study and are found in one department. The minimum quantity of work required for a concentration major in any department is eighteen credit hours of upper division courses, approved by the director of the department and completed with an average of C. The concentration major will suppose the completion of at least six credit hours (C average) of lower division work in the department in which the student is concentrating. In the Department of Modern Languages this six credit hour requirement, however, is not satisfied by beginning courses or their equivalent.

Major and Minors

The term major is sometimes used synonymously with concentration major. It is also applied to the student himself who has selected a particular department of instruction from which to choose the major portion of his concentration courses. The term is also used to designate a selected group of courses representing a student's specialization, which group, taken in relation to two other groups, constitutes the "major and minors system" for distributing and restricting a student's academic interests within a particular curriculum.

According to the system of major and minors, the major represents four years of work in some one department, amounting in quantity to not less than twenty-four credit hours of work, and possessing the quality of a C average or better. The minors are two other groups of courses; one called the first or related minor, the other, the second or unrelated minor. The related minor requires three years of work (not less than eighteen credit hours, C average) in a department which is in the same curricular division as the department from which the student has selected his major.

The unrelated minor is also a sequence of courses pursued over the space of three years to the amount of at least eighteen credit hours, C average. The unrelated minor, however, is ordinarily selected from a department which is not in the same curricular division as the major.

Students who anticipate a teaching career will be required to plan their programs of studies according to the major and minors system. Their choice of major and minors, however, must be made with the approval of the Dean.

General Graduation Requirements

In addition to the requisites of a particular program, a candidate for the bachelor's degree must fulfill the following requirements:

The candidate shall have completed an accepted program of studies in which the quantity of academic work, measured in credit hours, is not less than one hundred and twenty-eight credit hours, and in which the quality of academic work, measured in quality points, has a minimum value of two hundred and fifty-six quality points, or an average of C in the hours earned.

The candidate shall have completed all lower division objectives.

The candidate shall have fulfilled the lower division and upper division objectives in the matter of distribution of courses.

The candidate shall have successfully completed not less than eighteen credit hours in philosophy and psychology courses, except for the degree of Bachelor of Literature.

The candidate, if a Catholic, shall have successfully completed eight credit hours in formal Religion courses and eight credit hours in Christian Culture courses.

The candidate shall have completed the last thirty-two credit hours (C average) in the University and in courses accepted by the College of Liberal Arts.

The candidate shall have submitted, on or prior to March 8, a written thesis. The topic shall have been approved or assigned on or before October 19. The thesis shall fulfill all general and particular prescriptions of the adviser and shall be accepted or rejected on or before April 1.

Application for degrees shall be filed in form with the Registrar not later than April 15.

No student will be considered a candidate for a degree who has any deficiency at the beginning of the last session of his senior year, and who has less than one hundred and twelve credit hours or less than the number of quality points equivalent to a C average in the hours earned.

The University reserves the right to modify its graduation and other academic requirements as may seem necessary from time to time. It will be obligated only during the academic year of the student's registration by requirements published in the catalogue for that year.

Pre-Legal Curriculum

Students applying for admission to law schools must have completed a minimum of two years of collegiate work, i.e., sixty-four hours at Xavier University. Many law schools now demand a minimum of three years of collegiate preparation before beginning law. The following outline of curriculum will meet the three year requirement and may be accelerated.

Pre-Medical Curriculum

The minimum requirement for admission to standard schools of medicine is two years of collegiate preparation in an approved college, i.e., sixty-four credit hours at Xavier University. This preparation which presupposes the regular high school units, prescribes a year of English, biology, physics, and inorganic chemistry; a semester of organic chemistry; and electives to make up the sixty-four hours of academic studies. An average of C is required in all prescribed subjects.

Many medical schools now require a minimum of three years of collegiate preparation; others require a Bachelor's degree before beginning medicine; still others have special entrance requirements. Hence, each prospective medical student is advised to acquaint himself with the requirements of the medical school by corresponding with the registrar of the school he intends to enter, and to plan his pre-medical work accordingly. The program may be accelerated.

Pre-Dental Curriculum

Since dental schools frequently have certain special entrance requirements in accordance with State Board regulations, the student should acquaint himself with these by corresponding with the registrar of the school he intends to enter.

The minimum requirement for entrance to standard schools of dentistry is two years of collegiate preparation. The college work must include a year of biology, English, inorganic chemistry, physics, and a semester of organic chemistry. An average of C is required in these courses. The following curriculum will meet the minimum requirements for entrance to standard schools of dentistry.

Pre-Engineering Curriculum

Strictly speaking there is no collegiate preparation demanded by colleges of engineering. However, many of the engineering colleges have basic preparation before the engineering students take up the work of their specialized fields. The following curriculum will meet the two-year requirements of such engineering colleges as that of the University of Detroit.

Departments and Courses

Introductory Notes

The courses of instruction are numbered in accord with a unified plan. Lower division courses are numbered 1 to 99. Within the lower division numbers, the numbers 30 to 99 generally indicate that the course is open to sophomores. Upper division courses are numbered from 100 to 199. Courses given in the first semester are usually designated by an odd number; second semester courses by an even number. Double numbers, when used, indicate that the first semester course is prerequisite for the second semester course and that both must be satisfactorily completed to obtain credit for either course. In most departments the courses are grouped in decades according to sequence, content, or some other plan of sub-division. In computing minimum requirements for a major, the Senior Tutorial Course 199 may not be counted.
