XAVIER UNIVERSITY
179TH COMMENCEMENT
MAY 13, 2017

“This composition of our time and place embraces 6 billion people with their faces young and old, some being born and others dying, some white and many brown and yellow and black. Each one is a unique individual, they all aspire to live life, to use their talents, to support their families and care for their children and elders, to enjoy peace and security and to make tomorrow better.

“Thanks to science and technology, human society is able to solve problems such as feeding the hungry, sheltering the homeless or developing more just conditions of life, but stubbornly fails to accomplish this. How can a booming economy, the most prosperous and global ever, still leave over half of humanity in poverty?

“Injustice is rooted in a spiritual problem, and its solution requires a spiritual conversion of each one’s heart and a cultural conversion of our global society so that humankind, with all the powerful means at its disposal, might exercise the will to change the sinful structures afflicting our world.”

Rev. Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, S.J.
Superior General Emeritus of the Society of Jesus
Santa Clara University, Oct. 6, 2000

John C. Schley

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records for all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry should be supported by a valid receipt or invoice to ensure transparency and accountability.

2. The second section outlines the procedures for handling discrepancies between the recorded amounts and the actual cash received. It states that any such variance must be investigated immediately and reported to the appropriate authority.

3. The third part of the document details the process for reconciling the accounts at the end of each month. It requires that the total amount recorded in the books must match the total amount shown on the bank statements.

4. The fourth section discusses the role of the auditor in verifying the accuracy of the financial records. It notes that the auditor has the right to request any supporting documents and to conduct interviews with the staff involved in the transactions.

5. The fifth part of the document addresses the consequences of failing to comply with these procedures. It states that any employee found to be deliberately misreporting transactions will face disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

6. The sixth section provides information on the internal controls that are in place to prevent fraud and errors. It includes details on the segregation of duties, the use of imprest accounts, and the regular rotation of staff to different positions.

7. The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of confidentiality in handling financial information. It requires that all records and reports be stored securely and that access be restricted to authorized personnel only.

8. The eighth section outlines the process for the annual financial review. It involves a comprehensive check of all records, a comparison with the bank statements, and a final reconciliation of the accounts.

9. The ninth part of the document discusses the role of the management in ensuring that the financial records are accurate and complete. It states that the management is responsible for providing the necessary resources and support for the accounting department.

10. The tenth and final section of the document provides a summary of the key points and reiterates the importance of maintaining accurate financial records for the success of the organization.

UNIVERSITY AWARDS

MAGIS AWARD

Megan E. Zarnitz

Megan Zarnitz's passion for working with immigrants began when she was at Xavier studying for her degree in Social Work. She went on the University's first service-learning trip to Ghana, where she lived with a host family and worked as a volunteer at a local non-profit while studying the history and culture of the region.

The trip was transformational, giving her the opportunity to get to know people from another country and culture and setting her on a path she is still traveling. Now as Director of Refugee Resettlement for Catholic Charities, Zarnitz leads a 12-person team serving more than 350 refugees who have come to Cincinnati seeking a better life.

"These experiences changed the way I look at the world," she says of her Ghana trip. "They taught me a lot of compassion and empathy for people's experiences different from my own. 'Men and women for others' has stuck with me and how I do the work I do."

Since graduating from Xavier in 2007, Zarnitz, a native of Sidney, Ohio, has earned a master's degree in International Social Work from Boston College. She has had a mix of diverse experiences serving local and global clients, beginning her career as a case manager for the homeless with AIDS Volunteers of Cincinnati. She has also worked as a transitional housing manager and medical case manager for Caracole serving HIV-positive clients, and with Habitat for Humanity in Dhaka, Bangladesh, on advocacy development.

Zarnitz is also active in the community, serving on the board of the Greater Cincinnati Homeless Coalition and the Young Non-Profit Professionals Network. Previously, she served as an International Peer Mentor at Xavier and as a refugee tutor in Cincinnati. She joined Catholic Charities in 2015.

In the spirit of the Magis Award, which recognizes a young alumnus who has achieved a high degree of excellence and embodies Jesuit morals and ethical values, Xavier is proud to present this year's Magis award to Megan Zarnitz.

CHARLES P. GALLAGHER LEADERSHIP MEDALLION AWARD

John C. Lechleiter

He has called himself "The Accidental CEO." But here at Xavier, we have known him as a student, a mentor, an alumnus and a member of the Board of Trustees. But we knew him first as a scientist.

"When he began his career as a senior organic chemist in 1979, John Lechleiter had a passion for science—chemistry was his first love—and a desire to work in the lab for the rest of his life," the Fox Business website reported in 2013. "But a chance opportunity at a management position turned the Eli Lilly chief's plans on their head."

"I like to say one thing led to another," Lechleiter said. "I'd really only been with Lilly for a few years and I liked what I was doing in the lab and liked working with my colleagues, but I had an opportunity to move into what was research management. It was a tough decision."

It changed the Xavier graduate's life. "I had a couple of good high school science teachers and professors at Xavier who inspired me," he said. "But what turned things was a summer internship in college doing lab-based chemistry research. I got really excited about that work."

After graduating from Xavier in 1975 with a chemistry degree, Lechleiter attended Harvard and began working at Eli Lilly and Company immediately after defending his PhD thesis. Along his career path, he served as director of pharmaceutical product development for the Lilly Research Centre Limited in Windlesham, England, and later held roles in project management, regulatory affairs, product development and pharma operations.

In 2005, he was named Lilly's president and chief operating officer and joined the board of directors. He was named CEO in 2008 and became chairman of the board of the global pharmaceutical company in early 2009. "When I joined here, I had no aspirations to do anything other than science. And I joined as a scientist. I'm the accidental CEO—this is where I landed through opportunities once I came to Lilly," he said.

Lechleiter retired as Lilly's president and chief executive officer in 2016 after 37 years. He has received honorary doctorates from Marian University, the University of Indianapolis, the National University of Ireland, Indiana University, Franklin College and Purdue University. Lechleiter was recently appointed by the governor to the Indiana Economic Development Corporation Board of Directors. He is a member of the American Chemical Society, chairman of the board of United Way Worldwide and vice chair of the board of the Chemical Heritage Foundation. He is a member emeritus of the board of the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership. Lechleiter also serves on the boards of Nike, Inc., and Ford Motor Company.

Xavier is proud to present the Gallagher Leadership Medallion Award in recognition of John Lechleiter's scientific and public service, and for exemplifying the values and mission of Xavier University.

PAUL O'CONNOR, S.J., LEADERSHIP AWARD

Alexandra S. Korros

For Alexandra Korros, researching history concerns understanding complexities of the past by looking at how great events shaped the times, as well as how those who participated understood themselves and their motivations. "My job as a teacher of history is to allow my students to understand not only what happened, but how these events have been interpreted by various groups and various scholars," she says.

For over three decades, Korros has taught European history, focusing on Late Imperial Russian history and the Cold War. Korros joined the Department of History in 1986 after completing her PhD in Russian history at Columbia University in New York and holding teaching and research positions at Miami University of Ohio and Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati.

She was the first woman at Xavier to become a professor of history—and the first to be hired full time in the department. She was directly involved in the University Scholars program, including as director, for 27 years and has participated in a wide range of committees over the years including the Faculty Committee, the Board of Undergraduate Studies, the Financial Aid and Scholarship Committee, the Admission Committee, Rank and Tenure Committee, and provost searches.

Together with Paul Colella, PhD, of the Department of Philosophy, Korros developed a block teaching course for honors students combining University core courses in European history with those in philosophy. As a specialist in Late Imperial Russia, Korros' primary research interests lie in Russian political and social history through the 1917 revolutions. She is fluent in Russian.

She cherishes the opportunity Xavier allows her to know her students, and was pleased to receive Alpha Sigma Nu's Bishop Fenwick teaching award in 1996. After serving as chair of the Graduate Studies Committee, she continued its functions by serving as faculty representative to the Truman, Marshall National Scholarship committees and helped several students win national scholarship awards including Xavier's first Fulbright research fellowship. She regularly assists students in their preparation for graduate school.

As a professional historian, Korros is the author or editor/translator of four books, numerous contributions to collections and several scholarly articles and regularly participates in scholarly conferences.

In his letter to Korros, President Michael J. Graham wrote, "You have indeed exemplified the spirituality of Ignatius as lived by President Paul O'Connor. ... Your leadership in many different roles and unreserved commitment to the University's ideas are exemplary."

Xavier is proud to present the Paul O'Connor, S.J., Leadership Award to Alexandra Korros.

UNDERGRADUATE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

David C. Phillips and L. Liane Phillips

David and Liane Phillips have shared their passions and pursuits, creating a remarkable life together in a marriage that has flourished for 57 years.

Individually, their achievements are impressive. David's 32-year association with Arthur Andersen culminated in his appointment as a firm-wide Managing Partner, followed by a five-year tenure as the first Chief Executive Officer of Downtown Cincinnati Inc., responsible for facilitating the economic revitalization of downtown Cincinnati.

Liane is a published author and retired reading specialist whose career includes teaching in three school districts.

But it is what they are accomplishing together as co-founders of Cincinnati Works that is changing lives for thousands of people living in poverty.

David and Liane began with an ambitious mission—to eliminate poverty in the community. They approach their dream with a business-like resolve, touring workforce development programs across the nation, commissioning studies and applying university-conducted research.

The result is a program model that goes far beyond just "finding a job" for people who need help. It also focuses on job retention and advancement.

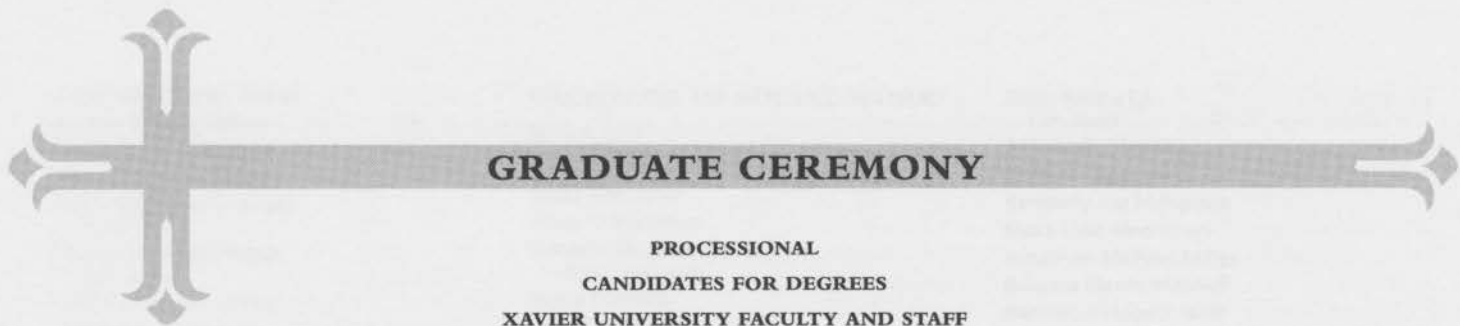

Cincinnati Works opened its doors in 1996. After 20 years, guided by the passion and resolve of David and Liane Phillips, thousands of job seekers below the federal poverty guidelines have found employment and worked toward economic self-sufficiency. Among the comprehensive support services included are one-on-one employment coaching, legal advocacy, counseling and guidance in financial literacy.

Over the years, the Phillips have acquired an impressive array of awards and accolades. Liane even wrote a book, Why Don't They Just Get a Job?, about their program in 2010. But perhaps even more significant is what these honors represent—a mutual willingness to help, act and work for the greater good. Together, David and Liane embody the best characteristics of community leaders with a quiet, selfless determination, making them role models for others.

Among their favorite pastimes is spending time with their three sons and nine grandchildren, as well as traveling and finding new hiking trails to explore.

In recognition of their contributions, Xavier is pleased to award David and Liane Phillips the Doctor of Humanities, honoris causa.

YOUNG JOURNALISTS

For Young Journalists, there are many ways to get started. You can start by writing for your school newspaper or by joining a journalism club. You can also try to get a job at a newspaper or magazine. The most important thing is to be interested in what you are doing and to keep practicing your writing skills.

HOW TO GET STARTED

The first step is to find a place to write. This could be your school newspaper, a local newspaper, or a magazine. You can also try to start your own publication. Once you have found a place to write, you should start by writing short pieces, such as news stories or feature articles.

WHAT TO WRITE

There are many different types of writing that you can do. You can write news stories, feature articles, editorials, and columns. You can also write for the entertainment section, such as movie reviews or book reviews. The most important thing is to write about something that interests you and that you know something about.

HOW TO GET A JOB

If you want to get a job at a newspaper or magazine, you should first make sure that you have the necessary skills. This includes being able to write clearly and concisely, and being able to meet deadlines. You should also have a portfolio of your writing samples.

HOW TO GET A JOB

There are many ways to get a job at a newspaper or magazine. You can apply directly to the newspaper or magazine, or you can go through a recruitment agency. You should also try to get a recommendation from someone who works in the industry.

HOW TO GET A JOB

Once you have found a job, it is important to make a good impression from the start. This means being punctual, professional, and easy to work with. You should also be prepared to work long hours and to take on a lot of responsibility.

HOW TO GET A JOB

Finally, it is important to keep practicing your writing skills, even if you are not currently working as a journalist. This will help you to stay up to date with the latest trends in journalism and to be ready for any opportunities that may arise.

DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD

Theodore H. Torbeck

In his opening prayer offered at a Board of Trustees meeting, Ted Torbeck referenced the “bonds of community,” the “pursuit of truth” and the “service of humanity” as reminders to board members of their responsibilities to Xavier. His words also reflect personal guideposts for his life and career. A lifelong Cincinnati, Torbeck has devoted his energies to improving his community—including Xavier—through his service, most recently as CEO of Cincinnati Bell Inc.

It was in that capacity that he lent the company’s name to the city’s new streetcar, the Cincinnati Bell Connector, and recently said, “We believe Cincinnati Bell has a responsibility to make the streetcar successful beyond our financial support, and we are in a unique position to help.”

It is just that kind of personal commitment to people and community that led to Torbeck’s distinguished career. He joined Cincinnati Bell in 2010 as President and General Manager of Cincinnati Bell Communications and has served as Chief Executive Officer since January 2013. He retired in March but remains a member of the Board of Directors. Before Cincinnati Bell, Torbeck was Chief Executive Officer of the Freedom Group. He also worked at General Electric for more than 25 years as Vice President of Operations for GE Industrial Business, President and CEO of GE’s Rail Services business and Vice President of Global Supply Chain for GE Aviation.

Torbeck has given back to his community in many ways, serving on the boards of the United Way of Greater Cincinnati, the Cincinnati USA Regional Chamber of Commerce, and The Health Collaborative. He is also a member of the Cincinnati Business Committee, the Board of Governors at the Queen City Club, the Business Leaders Alliance, the United States Telecom Association and the Commercial Club, and he has served on the Minority Business Accelerator Leadership Council, the Cincinnati Regional Business Committee, and as capital campaign co-chair for St. Aloysius Orphanage.

“Cincinnati is a tremendously giving community, and I am happy to play my part in it,” he says.

Torbeck earned his MBA from Xavier in 1987 and has given his time, talent and treasure to Xavier, joining the Board of Trustees in the fall of 2015. He and his wife, Peggy, have financially supported the University as members of the 1831 Society and the All For One Fund, and as men’s basketball season ticket holders.

His active participation in the Cincinnati community, including his service to Xavier, makes him an outstanding alumnus, and Xavier is proud to award Ted Torbeck the Distinguished Alumni Award.

GRADUATE COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Stephen K. Melink

Xavier President Michael J. Graham, S.J., said he is “an example of truly transcendent leadership . . . exactly the kind of leadership Pope Francis has recently called for.” But Steve Melink is more than a leader. He is a national clean energy expert, a corporate CEO and an author. And he has served on the Xavier University Sustainability Academic Advisory Board since it started in 2015.

A licensed professional engineer in Ohio, Melink is founder and CEO of Melink Corporation, a pioneer and leader in energy efficiency and renewable energy solutions for the commercial building industry since 1987. He is a national expert and speaker on sustainability, green buildings and clean energy.

Melink has met several times with staff of the White House and the U.S. Department of Energy and Environmental Protection Agency in Washington, D.C., and he has testified before the Ohio legislature on numerous occasions as well. With degrees from Duke and Vanderbilt universities, he has invented, among other things, a pre-engineered pumping station for geothermal HVAC systems, as well as the first variable-speed controls for commercial ventilation systems in 1990. He holds several related U.S. and foreign patents and helped change building codes to allow this technology to be required in many instances.

His 2015 book, CEO Power & Light-Transcendent Leadership for a Sustainable World, makes the compelling case that sustainability and clean energy are natural extensions of being respectful and honest toward others.

“Long-term investments in these areas can help companies in all sectors increase profits, as well as improve the U.S. and global economy, security and environment,” he says. “I believe those who (make these investments) will compete more successfully and make the world a better place.”

Based in Cincinnati, Melink Corporation comprises four growing businesses: Melink T&B, which provides heating, ventilation and air conditioning (HVAC) testing and balancing services; Intelli-Hood, which manufactures energy-saving controls for commercial kitchen ventilation systems; Melink Solar, which develops solar photovoltaic projects; and Melink Geo, which finances and commissions geothermal HVAC systems.

His client list includes: Apple, Google, Microsoft, Target, Walmart, Darden, McDonald’s, Starbucks, Marriott, Hilton, Publix, Whole Foods, P&G, the University of California, and the U.S. Army and Navy. He is a member of the U.S. Green Building Council, ASHRAE, USGBC, NEBB and IGSHPA, and he’s served on the boards of Green Energy Ohio, Advanced Energy Economy Ohio, USGBC Cincinnati Chapter and Green Umbrella.

Xavier is proud to present an honorary degree in recognition of Steve Melink’s public service, and for exemplifying the values and mission of Xavier University.

XAVIER'S HERITAGE

Xavier was founded in 1831 by Bishop Edward Dominic Fenwick, O.P., pioneer Catholic bishop of Ohio, as the first Catholic institution of higher learning in the Northwest Territory.

Known as the Athenaeum, the college's first building in downtown Cincinnati was largely financed by European Catholics and particularly by Catholic citizens of Vienna. The first class numbered 60 students. From its beginning, the school was dedicated to the patronage of St. Francis Xavier. The Athenaeum attracted students from as far away as New Orleans, Mexico and Central America, and its educational quality drew many local Protestant students.

At the invitation of Bishop John Purcell of Cincinnati, the Society of Jesus (Jesuits) assumed control of the institution in 1840, ensuring a steady source of faculty. Under John A. Elet, S.J., the first Jesuit president, the institution was renamed St. Xavier College.

Xavier offered its first evening classes in 1841, and summer courses were introduced in 1914, thus beginning a tradition of serving the unique needs and schedules of professionals and aspiring professionals in the Cincinnati community.

In 1920, the college moved to its present site in Avondale, and in 1930 was renamed Xavier University, reflecting its growth and complexity. While women had been attending Xavier's evening college since its early years, Xavier's undergraduate "day" college became coeducational in 1969. In 1980, Xavier acquired the Edgecliff College programs and integrated them with those at Xavier, and by 1987 Edgecliff faculty, staff and students were moved onto the Xavier campus.

Xavier's growth in over a century and a half since its founding reflects its origins as a teaching institution which soundly prepares students for careers or graduate study or both. A Xavier education, particularly at the undergraduate level, is marked by the emphasis on liberal arts learning contained in Xavier's core curriculum. Equally important in the Xavier tradition is the synthesis of human, cultural and ethical values; concern and respect for people; and an appreciation of the worth and dignity of the self and others.

The College of Arts and Sciences, Xavier's oldest college, enrolls approximately 1,791 undergraduate and 50 graduate students, and accepts the primary responsibility for the liberal arts education of all Xavier undergraduates. The Williams College of Business enrolls 1,234 undergraduates and 578 graduate students, and is dedicated to preparing business students for positions of responsibility and leadership. The College of Professional Sciences enrolls 1,478 undergraduate and 1,143 graduate students in specialized areas of human services and the helping professions.

Xavier has been an innovator in graduate education, establishing, for example, the first graduate program in Montessori education in the United States. Its graduate programs in Education have produced the second highest number of school administrators in the state of Ohio. Xavier's graduate program in Health Services Administration is a recognized innovator in the field. The Executive MBA Program, the Health Services Administration Program and the Executive Master of Human Resource Development educate upper-level managers, professionals and executives while they maintain their current positions in their respective organizations. The Department of Psychology offers a master's degree with specializations in General Experimental and Industrial/Organizational Psychology. While some of these graduates continue their education, many assume responsible positions in corporate America. The Doctor of Clinical Psychology (PsyD) Program holds the distinction of being the first doctoral program at Xavier. The University also recently added the Doctor of Nursing Practice and Doctor of Education in Leadership Studies.

THE MACE

The mace symbolizes the legal and chartered authority of Xavier University. It is brought into the gathering immediately before the President. Historically, the mace was a war club. In the Middle Ages it was carried by a bodyguard to defend a person of authority. Today, its purpose is strictly ceremonial and carried by the Grand Marshal. During the ceremony, the mace rests at the front of the stage in its holder.

A mace is a custom-made piece of art sometimes crafted from relics of the University. It can be decorated with gems and precious metals, sometimes in the official university colors. The Xavier University mace was designed and crafted by Bernard Schmidt, Professor Emeritus, of the Department of Art.

The names and honors of the graduates listed are the purposes of this program and do not represent a final certification of graduation.

Xavier University is an academic community committed to equal opportunity for all persons regardless of age, sex, race, religion, handicap or national origin. Produced by Xavier University's Office of Marketing and Communications.

Lyrics by
Tyrone Williams

Xavier Alma Mater

Music by Thomas Merrill

$\text{♩} = 88$

The musical score is written on a single treble clef staff with a key signature of three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and a common time signature (C). The tempo is marked as quarter note = 88. The lyrics are written below the staff, with line numbers 6, 11, and 14 indicating the start of new lines of music. The lyrics are: "Xavier is our family tree, rooted in one history. Nur-tured by our Fame that no one can im-peach, grow-ing to ex-tend our reach, Plan-ting fer-tile le-ga-cy, Xa-vier's hum-ble pe-di-gree Bran-ches out to touch the same God seeds in each soul and mind we serve and teach. One com-mun-i-ty we stand, build - we call by ma - ny names, And a - glow in - ding dreams and hopes with hands Stretch - ing out a - love a - flame, bear the fruit of Xa - vier's fame. cross the land for each wo - man, child and man."

The Seal of Xavier University

The seal of Xavier University combines three principal ideas: St. Francis Xavier, patron of the University; the Jesuit order of which he was a distinguished member; and the University. The five vertical stripes suggest the coat of arms of the Xavier family. A right arm wearing the Jesuit robe holds aloft the crucifix, signifying St. Francis Xavier preaching Christ crucified. The three sea shells signify the three journeys of Xavier into the Orient. Above the shield is the Jesuit seal, IHS, the first three letters of the name Jesus in Greek. Below is the Jesuit motto, AMDG [Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam], which translates "to the Greater Glory of God," and the words Vidit Mirabilia Magna, a phrase from the psalms applied to St. Francis Xavier, which translates "he has seen great wonders."

THE STUDENT COMMITMENT

We are Xavier Musketeers.

We are unique individuals who come together in the spirit of
St. Ignatius, to learn together, to serve together, and we will succeed in changing the world together.

We act with integrity, justice and generosity.

ALL FOR ONE AND ONE FOR ALL.
