TO STUDENTS

It is strongly urged that all who contemplate entering school, do so on or before the opening day of the term. With enlarged facilities and an increasing corps of teachers, the Morehead Normal School again presents its claims to your attention. The present year is the best in its history. The prospects are bright for thoroughly successful work.

TO FRIENDS

Friends of education can be of great assistance to us by sending to us the names of young men and young women who are planning to go to school. If you know of any such young people, send in their names and addresses and we will send them catalogues and other information about the school.

A LAST WORD

A cordial welcome awaits all students. Committees of the old students will meet trains and show newcomers to the school grounds. Everything possible will be done for the student's pleasure and profit. For further information address the Principal of the Morehead Normal School, Morehead, Kentucky.

ADVANTAGES

1. Expenses are remarkably low.
2. The location of the school is famed for its healthfulness and beauty.
3. Students have access to a large and well selected library.
4. The atmosphere of the school is pronouncedly religious and Christian.
5. A special Teachers' course of five months is provided for the training of public school teachers.
6. Courses in Bible instruction will be offered for all students.
7. A large chorus meets twice a week. Instruction in this class is free to all students.
8. Bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting are taught at moderate charge.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. W. F. Smith has been employed as teacher of the Bible.
2. A special teacher of Elocution and Oratory has been secured.
3. A new dormitory for young men, Withers Hall, will be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1, 1906.
4. There are no saloons in Morehead or in Rowan county. They were driven out five years ago.
5. A system of scholarships has been devised to aid capable boys and girls to secure an education. Applicants for these scholarships must be of good promise, whose parents are unable to pay their expenses in school.
6. The Y. M. C. A. has fitted up a room in the basement of Burgess Hall, where their social and religious meetings are held. At their own expense, the boys have painted, papered and furnished this room. It is a great help to the work of the Association.

COST OF LIVING

For $2.00 per week, we have furnished board and room, fuel and light and washing of bed and table linen. It is not possible to secure better rates than this elsewhere, when the quality of food and situation of rooms are considered. All our teachers and visitors share the student's daily fare. We have no better advertisement than the one our dining room provides. Washing and incidental expenses can be kept within a reasonable figure.

BIBLE TEACHING

W. F. Smith, the teacher in this department, was employed to make Bible Study more prominent than ever before.

Four courses are offered:

- I. Sacred History in both Testaments.
- II. Apostolic History and Doctrine.
- III. Expository and Homiletic work.
- IV. Sunday School pedagogy and organization.

The class in course IV will recite 30 minutes daily for one term; the other class work will occupy one hour daily for one year in each course. Course I is required of all graduates. The classical course as given elsewhere, plus the four courses here outlined will be the Classical-Ministerial course, while the regular English course and the above four courses will be the English-Ministerial Course.

NEWSPAPER

The Morehead Mountaineer, the only paper in Rowan county, is edited and published by one of the teachers. The Kentucky White Ribbon, the organ of the W. C. T. U. is also published from the same office. Students do the mechanical work in the printing office. Much job and catalogue work is also done by this force. The plant is the property of the C. W. B. M. worth about $1000, and is being paid for as rapidly as possible out of the proceeds of the business.

HISTORICAL

The Morehead Normal School was founded in 1887, with Mrs. Phoebe E. Button and F. C. Button as teachers, and with one pupil in attendance the first day. Each succeeding year has brought to the school a large measure of success. The liberality of Gen. Wm. T. Withers, of Lexington, Ky., made the school possible; the generosity of Hon. T. F. Hargis, of Louisville Ky., provided for the first school house and the grounds for all the buildings; a gift from Robert Hodson and wife of Oquawka, Ill., being the basis of a fund for the erection of a boarding hall. For thirteen years it has been supported by the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention. On July 31, 1900, it passed under the control of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. Under this new and competent management the buildings have been repaired and enlarged, the number of teachers has been increased, the courses of study have been strengthened, and a new epoch in its history has begun.

LOCATION

Morehead, a growing city of 1200 inhabitants in Eastern Kentucky, is situated on the Lexington division of the C. & O. railroad, midway between Lexington and Ashland. Its beautiful and healthful situation makes it a favorable location for the school. During recent years a marked change for the better has come over the community. Lawlessness is a thing of the past, and Morehead because of its order and quiet has become the chosen residence city of many prosperous and cultured people.

GROUNDS

There are seventy acres of land belonging to the school. The grounds have been enlarged recently by the purchase of an adjoining tract of three acres with a cottage of four rooms. An imposing hill, heavily wooded, rises immediately in the rear of the building to a height of 300 feet. This hill is included in the school property and is a favorite resort for the students and teachers who are given to pedestrianism and hill climbing. The grounds are within easy reach of the depot and post office and are at the same time removed from the noise of the main streets.

BUILDINGS

Hargis Hall contains five large recitation rooms and library. These rooms are well lighted and supplied with modern school desks. This building has been named in honor of the late Chief Justice, Thomas F. Hargis.

Withers Hall, the new dormitory for young men, is a beautiful frame building containing twenty rooms, with furnace heat, bathrooms, basement, etc. The rooms in this building have a most pleasing outlook and make admirable quarters for young men.

Hodson Hall, the young ladies' dormitory is a three story frame building, containing about twenty-six apartments. Every room is well furnished. The dining room and kitchen are carefully looked after by the matron in charge. Last year at one time 93 boarders took meals in this building.

Burgess Hall is a modern building of brick and stone. The basement is used for general purposes. On the first floor are rooms for the young men and the professor in charge.

The chapel room with a seating capacity of 500 occupies the second floor. A cottage in the rear of Hodson Hall furnishes room for ten or twelve boys. These buildings are connected by broad stone walks. They are well adapted for the purpose they serve.

exercises are held in the school chapel in the presence of the entire school.

The Student Young Men's Christian Association is gaining a strong foothold among the students. Under its auspices weekly religious services are held on Monday evening, and Bible classes at regular intervals during the week. A strong effort will be made to enlist all young men in this work.

The students' prayer meeting is held every Tuesday night at Hodson Hall. For several years the students have met regularly for this purpose and these meetings have been most memorable and uplifting.

In addition to these organizations, there are Endeavor societies and church prayer meetings ministering to the spiritual life of the young. A very important and valuable work is being done by the students who conduct Sunday Schools in communities near by.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

At the very beginning of each term the students are assembled and informed in plain terms about the rules of the college concerning the use of tobacco and intoxicating drinks, possession of concealed weapons, employment of profane or indecent language and similar misconduct. No student is left in the dark as to the requirements of the school authorities. We have no printed list of ironclad regulations, because we have found that these frank meetings with the students, in which all questions of conduct and discipline are discussed on a lofty plane, secure and maintain better order and stricter compliance with our rules.

STUDY HOURS

After supper, a study hour is maintained in all dormitories. During this period students are required to be in their own rooms and at work on their lessons for the next day. Nothing is allowed to interfere with this period of study. This rule prevents loitering about town in the evening and secures regular hours for retiring.

SUBSIDIARY MEANS OF INSTRUCTION

1. Frequently men and women of prominence are heard from the chapel platform. During the past year, Mrs. Helen E. Moses, Mrs. S. K. Yancey, Miss Mattie Pounds, R. M. Hopkins, W. J. Cocke, R. B. Neal, B. C. Deweese and others have addressed the school.

2. Literary Societies. Two literary and debating societies are conducted by the students, the Philolethian and the Crescent. These are invaluable agencies for the cultivation of literary gifts, for training in public speaking and for drill in parliamentary usage.

3. Missions. During the year, two classes for the study of missions are conducted. The Mission Study class last year had for its study "Sunrise in the Sunrise Kingdom." During the fall a new and interesting work on some of the mission fields will be taken up.

4. Dormitories. Much emphasis is to be placed upon the home influence of the school. Young ladies reside in Hodson Hall under the direct control of the lady teachers who have rooms in the building. Young men are in Withers Hall under the supervision of teachers there. Necessary rules are carefully enforced. The training in manners and morals acquired in this dormitory life is one of the best features of the school work.

5. Tutoring. Advanced students are often placed in charge of adjunct schools near by. During the past year a school at Stark has been conducted under the auspices of this school by Isaac and Chas. Mabry. Some students also are given classes in the Normal to teach under direction of the faculty.

RELIGIOUS DUTIES

All students are expected to attend public worship on Lord's day. There are four churches in town and pupils are free to attend the church of their choice. All boarders are required to attend the Bible class on every Sunday morning in Burgess Hall. Daily morning devotional

AIMS

The founders and sustainers of this school are men and women who have the supremest belief and confidence in God and in his Word. Their idea of education is more than intellectual development. Here in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky are scores of bright young men and women who have never yet discovered the talents they possess and who could be brought to become efficient servants in the world's work. The purpose of this school is to reach these young people with the influence of a thorough Christian education. In a positive Christian environment it seeks to train young men and women for distinctive Christian service at home and in foreign fields.

METHODS

Text books are used, but the student's attention is directed mainly to the study itself. All work is made fresh and interesting. Daily recitations are required of each student who thus comes in close contact with the teachers. Lectures are given by the teachers from time to time. Special instruction is given in Reading, Music, Parliamentary Law, Physiology, Physical Culture and Bible Study. The work of each student is discussed in the monthly Faculty meeting and methods of helping each one advance in the work are considered. Every legitimate means is employed to keep the interest of the student aroused.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

About thirty students have found work while in school by means of which their expenses either in full or in part have been paid. There is a printing office in connection with the school and some pupils can find work in it. There are other ways in which a student may defray his expenses in part. We will be glad to help worthy and deserving pupils to secure work, but of course we cannot promise help of this kind to all. Mention is made elsewhere of our system of scholarships. It is our purpose to help all deserving pupils just as much as lies in our power.

REMARKS ON COURSES OF STUDY

The classical course is arranged for those who wish to prepare for college. Our graduates are admitted without examination into Kentucky University.

The English course in the Academic department is intended to meet the wants of those who are unable to undertake a long course of study. It is practically the same as the Classical course exhibited on the opposite page with the exception of the four years of Latin.

The Teachers' course is arranged with special reference to the wants of common school teachers. Prof. D. M. Holbrook has this work in charge. It furnishes a thorough preparation for teaching the common branches.

The Business course is designed to furnish thorough preparation for mercantile and general business pursuits.

It is now generally conceded that the study of the Bible should be a part of the curriculum of every school. A more prominent place will be given to this most important part of a liberal education. Opportunities will be given to every student to become acquainted with the great facts of Bible history.
