WASHINGTON, D. C.

October 24, 1982

Dear Dr. Jessye:

I am happy to join in extending my appreciation and best wishes to you today as you are honored by the Forty-third Anniversary Awards Banquet Celebration of the Association for the Preservation and Presentation of the Arts, Incorporated.

As demonstrated by your appointment as Kansas Ambassador for the Arts, your lifetime contributions to artistic endeavors are well-recognized in the state and in the nation as a whole. The dancer-choreographer Mary Wigman once noted that "Art is communication spoken by man for humanity in a language raised above the everyday happening." Your work has certainly added an extra dimension to many lives.

I regret that I am not able to join you in Washington today, but do want to extend my congratulations on this occasion.

Warmest regards,

Nancy sh
