Mary Hayes North, a member of the class of 1927, made a bequest to the School of Music to express her deep appreciation to Ithaca College for the instruction and scholarship she received here. She provided an endowment in her will to establish the Mary Hayes North Award to be given to a senior piano major, who, after a recital competition, has been judged to be the worthiest recipient.

Mary Hayes North was born and raised in Newcomerstown, Ohio; her younger brother became the famous football coach, Woody Hayes, at Ohio State. She studied acting and classical piano at Ithaca and was cast almost immediately upon graduation as George Jessel's female lead on Broadway because she could act and play the piano at the same time. She later served as house mother, first at Ithaca College in its old location with dorms up and down Buffalo Street and later at Cornell.

Pianist Young Kim is Associate Professor and Coordinator of Piano program at The College of Saint Rose in Albany, NY. A Steinway Artist, Kim has performed internationally as a soloist in recitals and with orchestras, in addition to appearing numerous times as a chamber musician. Critics praise her as "a pianist who is truly passionate, sensitive, and musical... an extremely polished, expressive, and vibrant pianist." A native of South Korea, Kim performed in major concert venues in Korea including the Seoul Arts Center. In Russia, she appeared as soloist with the Saint Petersburg State Capella Symphony Orchestra. Since moving to the Capital District in 2000, she appeared as a soloist with Schenectady Symphony Orchestra and Glens Falls Symphony Orchestra several times and performed solos and chamber music actively in the area. Most recently, she was invited to give recitals, lectures, and Master Classes at several universities in different cities of South Korea and Thailand. She holds a Doctor of Musical Arts from the University of Minnesota, an Artist Diploma from Yale University, a Master of Music from The Juilliard School, and her Bachelor of Music from Seoul National University.
