Praise from Many States

"An Enthusiastic Audience"

The Ithaca Conservatory of Music Trio appeared in I. O. O. F. hall last evening under the auspices of the Juanita High School. They were greeted by an enthusiastic audience and gave an excellent program of music and readings, the different numbers being heartily applauded. The entertainment was given in the interest of the Library Fund of the High School.—Altoona (Pa.) Times, Nov. 11, 1914.

"Very Pleasing"

A large number was present at the Lansingburgh High School last evening, when a very pleasing musical and literary entertainment was given by the members of the Ithaca Conservatory Entertainment Trio, under the auspices of the Adelpian society of the Lansingburgh High School. The personnel of the company is as follows: Miss Evelyn Jones, soprano; Miss Edna Beeby, violinist; and Frederick L. Pratt, impersonator. The program was a long and varied one and was well appreciated.—Troy (N. Y.) Record, Jan. 28, 1915.

"Nothing Better"

The Ithaca Conservatory Entertainment Trio responded to encore after encore, and the universal verdict is that nothing better has ever been presented in Goldsboro.—Goldsboro (N. C.) Argus.

"Round After Round of Applause"

Packed to the doors was the lecture room of the Trinity Lutheran Church last night where the Ithaca Conservatory Entertainment Trio appeared for the first time in this City. They were greeted with round after round of applause, and forced to give encore on encore to almost every one of the ten selections.—Hagerstown (Md.) Morning Herald.

"Diversified"

The members of the University Club delightfully entertained their friends at their club rooms in the Campbell building when they had as a special attraction the Entertainment Trio of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music. This Trio gave a widely diversified selection of piano solos, vocal numbers, violin solos and readings and closed with the sketch "The Taming of the Shrew," by Shakespeare. This sketch was particularly well acted and the part of Petruchio was cleverly taken by Mr. Pratt. The violin selections of Miss Beebe were also a feature of the entertainment and the lady was encored several times after each number.—Buller (Pa.) Citizen, Dec. 1, 1914.

"Each Made a Favorable Impression"

The Ithaca Conservatory Trio was here Saturday and Sunday evenings and gave very good satisfaction indeed. I have heard nothing but the highest praises passed upon all the members. Each made a favorable impression. Mr. Pratt's readings were very much appreciated. Miss Jones' voice is clear and sweet. Miss Beebe is an artist of rare ability and I think has a bright future before her.—J. KIRKWOOD CRAIG, M. E. Parsonage, Littleton, N. H., Feb. 25, 1915.

"Glad We Had Them"

Personally and professionally, we were delighted with the Trio and are glad that we had them here.—LUECO GUNTER, Rock Hill, S. C.

"Splendid Entertainment"

Your trio appeared here last Saturday night and gave a splendid entertainment. They were all very good.—G. R. BRITTENHAM, Sec'y Y. M. C. A., Crewe, Va.
