The Conductors

Diana V. Saez is the founder and artistic director of Coral Cantigas, the only chamber choir in the Washington D.C. area dedicated to the performance of choral music from Spain, Latin America and the Caribbean. A native of Puerto Rico, Diana earned a Master of Education from Harvard University, and a Master of Choral Conducting from Temple University. This past October she was the recipient of the 2003 Tony Taylor Award, presented by the Cultural Alliance of Greater Washington, for her artistic excellence and noticeable assistance to artists in our region.

In December 2002 she was awarded the Arts in the Community Award for Excellence 2002, given by the Montgomery County (MD) Executive Douglas Duncan and Discovery Communications, Inc., for her major contribution to the quality of life in Montgomery County through the arts. In 1999, she received the Poder con Ganas Award presented by the Hispanic Democratic Club of Montgomery County in recognition of outstanding and sustained leadership in empowering the Latin American community. As director of Coral Cantigas, Diana has prepared and conducted choirs for Washington D.C. premiere of several works by well-known Latin American and European composers. As member of the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA) she has presented sessions for their regional and national conventions, and serves as the Maryland Repertoire and Standards chair for Ethnic and Multicultural music. Ms. Saez frequently serves as guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator and is also the music director of the Catholic University Women's Choir.

Dr. Elisa Macedo Dekaney is an assistant professor of music education at Syracuse University where she teaches choral rehearsal techniques, choral literature, choral conducting, and introduction to research. She also directs the Syracuse University Brazilian Music Ensemble and the Syracuse University Oratorio Society. Born in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Dr. Dekaney earned a bachelor's degree in piano performance at the Seminário Teológico Batista do Sul do Brasil and a bachelor's degree in communication from Universidade Federal Fluminense. She continued her studies in the United States, earning a master's degree in choral conducting from the University of Missouri-Kansas City under the guidance of Eph Ehly. Elisa Dekaney received her Ph.D. in choral music education from the Florida State University under the tutelage of André J. Thomas and Rodney Eichenberger. She has been an active researcher, clinician, and conductor in the United States and Brazil and has appeared as guest conductor in numerous occasions in both countries. In recognition of her dedication to her art Dr. Dekaney was awarded the Outstanding Service Award from the Conservatory

Organization Awards at the University of Missouri-Kansas City in 1998. She is also a member of Pi Kappa Lambda honor society.

Henry G. Neubert is professor of Music at the Ithaca College School of Music, where he teaches double bass and conducts the Symphonic Band. After early study with his father and grandfather in Allentown, Pennsylvania, Mr. Neubert attended Northwestern University where he earned the BME and MM degrees. His principal teachers were Warren Benfield, Wes Fisher and John Schaeffer. He studied conducting with John Paynter. Prior to joining the Ithaca College faculty in 1972, Neubert was an instrumental music teacher in the Northport-East Northport Schools on Long Island.

Rodney Dorsey is currently on faculty at DePaul University in Chicago, Illinois, where he conducts the Wind Symphony and assists in the Music Education department. Prior to his appointment at DePaul, Dorsey was on the faculty at Northwestern University. Dorsey received the Bachelor of Music Education degree from the Florida State University and the Masters degree in conducting from Northwestern University. He has studied conducting with Dr. James Croft, Mr. John P. Paynter, and Dr. Mallory Thompson. He was a clarinet student of Mr. Fred Ormand and Dr. Frank Kowalsky. Dorsey has gained extensive experience teaching in the public schools of Florida and Georgia. Ensembles under Mr. Dorsey's direction have performed at several state and national events including the Bands of America National Concert Band Festival. He is active as a guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator throughout the United States. Recent presentations include sessions at the Midwest Clinic and the 2002 MENC Biennial National Conference in Nashville, Tennessee. Dorsey holds a number of professional memberships that include the College Band Directors National Association, Music Educators National Conference, Illinois Music Educators Association, Kappa Kappa Psi, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Incorporated. Dorsey is also a member of the Midwest Clinic Board of directors.

Don Owens, Associate Professor of Conducting, Coordinator of the Jazz Studies and Pedagogy Program, Director, Contemporary Music Ensemble, and the National High School Music Institute at Northwestern University, began his tenure at Northwestern University in 1979. Owens received the Bachelor of Music Education degree from North Texas State University, where he also studied Composition and Jazz. His Master of Musical Arts degree is from the University of Illinois, where he studied composition. He studied composition with Morgan Powell, Merrill Ellis, Samuel Adler, and Salvatore Martirano. He has won several grants and awards, and is under commission for new works for the remaining year.

Mr. Owens currently serves as Coordinator of the Jazz Studies and Pedagogy Program and is also the Director and Conductor of the internationally acclaimed Contemporary Music Ensemble. During the summers, Owens serves as Director of the National High School Music Institute. Mr. Owens is an internationally recognized clinician/conductor. He has served as an adjudicator and has conducted Festival and All-State Concert and Jazz Bands in Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wisconsin, Canada, Greece, Germany, and Norway. As a conductor, he has shared in the art of music making with world famous figures from both the Jazz and Contemporary Classical idioms. His compositions have been performed across America, as well as in Canada, England, Greece, Germany, Japan, Norway, and South America.

Mr. Owens is the author of several articles dealing with contemporary music and composition and has had many of his compositions published. He is a member of M.E.N.C, Illinois Music Educators Association, International Association of Jazz Educators (Past President for the Illinois State Unit), College Band Directors National Association, Pi Kappa Lambda (Past President of Alpha Chapter), and Phi Mu Alpha.
