Handsome Church Building

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT OPENING OF NEW BAPTIST CHURCH EDIFICE

Sunday was a great day in Fulton for church goers and lovers of Christianity. It marked a new epoch in the upbuilding of the Master's workshop when the doors of the handsome Baptist church building were opened wide for the public to enter and enjoy the privilege of worshiping in the new edifice. The days' program opened with prayer service at 6 a. m., closing with the evening service when quite a number were buried in baptism.

The two sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. C. H. Warren, at the morning and evening services were inspirational, as well as the talk made by the Rev. J. V. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church, who dismissed his evening services on account of the opening of the Baptist church.

The special musical programs for the morning and evening services were greatly enjoyed.

It was a beautiful autumn day with a light shower in the late afternoon, but not sufficient to mar the pompous of the occasion.

The house of worship was filled practically all day. Many visitors from out of town and from other denominations were present, and expressions of congratulation were tendered the pastor and building committee, as well as the church membership upon the grandeur of their splendid church structure.

Special events have taken place at the church each day during the week and the cantata scheduled for Wednesday evening, postponed on account of delay in completing the building of the pipe organ, will be given Sunday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

DYERSBURG DEPENDS ON O. K. LAUNDRY

A few days ago the Dyersburg, Tenn., laundry suffered a loss of their plant by fire, and the proprietors were greatly disturbed, knowing how particular their customers were about their linens. They got busy and their minds were centered on Memphis and other large cities nearby where they thought laundries could take care of their large volume of business until they recovered from fire disaster. A great relief was given them and the burden of anxiety lifted from their minds when they learned that the O. K. Steam Laundry of Fulton, could handle their entire business with a guaranteed satisfaction no other laundry could afford to offer. In fact, with the modern equipment of the O. K. Steam Laundry, Mr. Owen is in position to take care of this new business with all ease, and with due respect to the managers of the unfortunate laundry, will say that the people of Dyersburg will be given the best laundry service they ever had. The capacity of the O. K. laundry has never been reached yet, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Owen tells us that his business last week was the largest in the history of his plant. Fulton people can justly be proud of its laundry service.

First Bale of Cotton This Season brought to Fulton Thursday

TOP NOTCH PRICES

Is An Incentive for Farmers to Market in Fulton

The first bale of cotton this season was brought to Fulton Thursday morning by Williams & Meredith, of the Crutchfield neighborhood. The Fulton Gin Company paid 6c per pound for it in the seed.

Fulton is fast becoming the cotton center of this section, and farmers last year brought the fleecy staple from far and near to this point for ginning. Since the Fulton Cotton Gin company was organized more cotton has been grown and marketed here than ever before. The season will soon open and preparations are being made at the local gin to do the largest business in its history. Joe Davis, the genial manager, has worked loyally to develop the growing of this staple in this vicinity and his efforts has had a telling effect. Last year the writer visited the gin and was surprised to learn that so many were engaged in growing cotton in the Fulton district and all indications for a larger production this year is anticipated.

The growers of the staple also find that the Fulton market maintains top notch prices and this is an extra incentive to come here, regardless of the splendid services rendered at the Fulton gin.

Election Will Be Held October First

Since the announcement calling for an election, October 1, for a vote on $40,000 bond issue for sewerage purposes in South Fulton, much favorable comment has been expressed in the progressive move of our sister city across the line, and it is understood that many who voted against issuing bonds for said purposes in the July, 1925, election, heartily endorse the movement now and will vote for the bonds this time. In fact, they are enthusiastic over the issue and are soliciting their friends and neighbors to vote for it.

The South Fulton vote is fairly evenly divided on most all questions. In fact, on more than one occasion a tie has resulted, neither side winning.

At the October election, however, it is believed that the bond issue will carry overwhelmingly and that South Fulton will keep pace with her big sister across the line.

Work on Sewerage Progressing Rapidly

Work on Fulton's sewerage system is being pushed rapidly and within the next few months our citizens will be enjoying a privilege of which they have been deprived all these past years—emptying into a real sewer with a disposal plant. Whether or not our death rate will be lowered, much of the stench arising from our famous Harris Fork creek will be eliminated.

The next step now to take is to beautify this streamlet and make it one of Fulton's attractive and useful assets instead of an eyesore. May be years before this can be done, nevertheless it is worth considering.

DeMyer's Sanitary Meat Market

U. G. De Myer's Sanitary meat market is a credit to Fulton. This market is admirably equipped with one of the best cold storage plants in Western Kentucky and was installed at a cost of more than ten thousand dollars. Sanitary regulations are rigidly enforced at this market. Cleanliness is positively demanded and adhered to. Mr. De Myer says, "There is as much difference in meats as in people. Our aim is to buy and serve the very finest grade of hams, breakfast bacon, pork, tenderloins, sausages, beef roasts, mutton—in short, all kinds of meats and poultry, the very best to be had anywhere, and that we succeed in our endeavors is proven by the patronage of those who know."

This market invites closest inspection and if you want the choicest cuts in fresh meats, it will pay you to visit De Myer's market on Fourth street, next door to Orpheum theater. Here you will find a choice line of groceries, butter and eggs also, as well as fruits.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting Tuesday Night, Sept. 14

The regular meetings of the Chamber of Commerce which have been suspended during the hot weather will be resumed next Tuesday night at 7:30, and it is hoped that every member will attend this meeting, as there will be a number of things to be taken up that have been needing attention.

The road work done by the regular road committee and the special committee in charge of the Dukedom Road will be reported on by these committees and these reports will be very interesting, as there has been considerable work done during the summer, that will be of interest to the members.

The Finance Committee will also probably make a report that will infuse more pep into the meetings of the coming fall and cause the attendance to not only be larger, but more worth while.

In New Location

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rucker have moved their florist shop and musical instruments to the store room on Main street, next door to Bennett's Drug Store.

This is a splendid location, and they have ample room to display their stock attractively. Mr. and Mrs. Rucker are making special effort to keep on hand the choicest cut flowers for all events, but to save disappointment, orders should be placed several hours in advance for special occasions. They are also prepared to artistically decorate with large floor baskets of flowers and evergreens.

In the musical line, they make a specialty of Brunswick phonographs and the latest in records. The new Brunswick is a beauty and a pleasure and ornament to any home.

Lesson for September 12

GIFTS FOR THE TABERNACLE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 25:1-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor the Lord with thy substance and of the first-fruits of thy increase.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Gifts for God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Winding Gifts to God.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Liberal Giving.
YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—Generous and Systematic Giving.

I. What the Tabernacle Was.

It was a rectangular structure 30 cubits long, 10 cubits wide and 10 cubits high. This was divided into two rooms, the holy place and the holy of holies. The two rooms were separated by the veil. The tabernacle was within a court 100 cubits long and 50 cubits wide. Within the court, before the door of the tabernacle was situated the brazen altar. Between the altar of sacrifice and the door of the tabernacle was placed the laver. Inside of the holy place was found the candlestick and also the table of shewbread. Directly in front of the veil was found the altar of incense. The altar of incense was closely connected with the brazen altar in the contact of fire and blood. In the holy of holies was found the ark of the covenant, the most sacred object of the entire tabernacle. This ark contained the table of stone, the pot of manna and Aaron's rod that budded.

II. The Meaning of the Tabernacle.

The tabernacle was the symbol of God's dwelling place. This tabernacle typified the incarnation of God in Christ. John says that the Word became flesh and tabernacled among us (John 1:14). The furniture of the tabernacle, beginning with the brazen altar symbolizes the spiritual history of the worshiper, making clear the sinner's method of approach unto God. The position of the brazen altar at the door of the tabernacle indicated that no one could draw nigh to God without going by the way of that altar. The question of sin must be settled before man draws nigh to God. The laver typifies the sanctification of the believer. The sacrifice at the brazen altar signified atonement. The ablutions of the laver prefigured sanctification. Atonement was made by the sacrificial death of Christ. Sanctification was effected by the washing at the laver, prefiguring the influence of God's Word, His ordinances and the operation of the Holy Spirit. The candlestick, with its central shaft and its tending branches indicated the unity and diversity of God's people. The candlestick also shows the purpose of the sanctification of the believer, namely, to shine for God. The table of shewbread was for a memorial unto God of his chosen people, one loaf for each tribe. What the bread was for Israel, Jesus Christ is to the church. The altar of incense symbolized communion with God in worship. The putting of the blood from the brazen altar on the altar of incense shows that acceptable prayer rests on the ground of the atoning work of Christ. The veil symbolized the flesh of Christ. The rending of the veil at the time of Christ's crucifixion shows that the death of Christ gives access to God. The mercy seat upon which the blood of the sin offering was sprinkled indicates that the claim of God's law had been satisfied.

III. The Offerings of the Tabernacle.

The motive of giving (v. 5).
"Whoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord." Giving which meets God's approval must spring from the heart. The offering must not only be made of a willing mind but it must be as unto the Lord, an expression of love and godly fear.

2. Who had part in giving (v. 22).
"They came, both men and women." It was God's purpose from the beginning that women should unite in the support and care of the worship of God.

3. What was to be given (vv. 23-28).
Under this heading two interesting things stand out—measure and variety.

(1) Measure. They brought what they had to bring.
No one is under obligation to give that which he does not possess. Capacity is the measure of responsibility.

(2) Variety.
Some brought jewelry (v. 22); some brought gold (v. 22); some brought fine linen (v. 23); some brought goat's hair and rough skin (v. 23); wise-hearted women did spin with their hands (v. 25); the rulers brought the expensive things that were needed (v. 27). This shows what a variety of things are needed in the Lord's house.

Senour's FLOOR PAINT

"It Penetrates"

IN the word "penetration" is a secret manufacturing process that has made Senour's Floor Paint a popular favorite for over 40 years.

If a floor paint does not penetrate or grip into the wood it will soon begin to crack, chip and peel.

Senour's Floor Paint dries over night with a high gloss enamel-like finish, but at the same time it sinks into the pores of the wood and forms a film that will withstand repeated washings without dimming the lustre.

Every can of Senour's Floor Paint is guaranteed to give satisfaction if directions printed on the can are followed or money back upon receipt of empty can.

RAILROAD FROLICKERS HAVE GALA DAY

The Labor Day picnic at Fillmore, September 6, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, was thoroughly enjoyed by an immense crowd. The special train, manned by a volunteer crew, grates, left Jackson on schedule and were joined at Fulton by three additional coaches filled with picnickers, together with the band and orchestra, the band donating their services to make the outing a memorable one in the annals of railroad picnics, furnishing snappy music en route on the train as well as on the grounds.

Contests were started immediately after the arrival at Fillmore and Mr. Dave Smith, of Wickliffe, carried off the prize for the largest family present, and received a premium ham, donated by Osce Moore & Son Grocery company, of Wickliffe. Mrs. C. A. Boyd and Miss Roberts tied in the ladies' running-for-shoes race and the prize of $5.00 in gold donated by the Citizens State Bank of Wickliffe, was divided equally between them. The pair of silk hose donated by Khourie Brothers, Fulton, for the oldest lady with bobbed hair was won by Mrs. E. L. Butler, of Milan, Tenn. The oldest couple in wedlock were J. H. Sullivan and wife, who had been married 46 years, and received one premium ham donated by W. J. Rogers Grocery Co., of Wickliffe. The youngest member of the Illinois Central family present was Thomas Edward Edwards of Wickliffe, and received the five dollar gold piece donated by the City National Bank, of Fulton. Clifton Akin of Wickliffe won the boys' potato race and received one shirt donated by Homra Brothers, of Fulton. The girls' potato race was won by Alma Bell Walker, who received one pair of Holeproof Hosiery donated by Roberts Clothing Co., of Fulton. The shirt donated by Roberts Brothers Clothing for the sack race was carried off by R. L. Wilcox of Jackson, Tenn. The best dancing couple was Mr. G. B. Butterworth and Mrs. R. C. Barber, and they received a Mallory hat, donated by P. H. Weeks' Sons, of Fulton, and one piece of Niagara suit of underwear donated by the Franklin Dry Goods Co., of Fulton. Miss Irene Boyd proved to be the most adept "Charleston" performer and received one bathing suit donated by the Ballard Mercantile Co., of Wickliffe.

After a wonderful lunch, composed of chicken and all the accessories, together with a plentiful supply of free barbecued sheep, we were entertained by a few short addresses by Judge Hester, Judge Morris, Mayor Kane and others. Engineer W. A. Chrisman being master of ceremonies. Then the orchestra began to operate on their jazz instruments and the feet of the "syncopators" began to shuffle to the beautiful strains.

The special train then backed over the Cairo bridge into East Cairo, giving a wonderful view of the two rivers. Besides the crowd on the special train, others came on train No. 2 and No. 26 as well as by auto, and every one had a very enjoyable day.

OPENING OF FALL AND WINTER SEASON

September marks the opening of the fall and winter season. Merchants stocks are complete, schools have begun, things generally have settled themselves in anticipation of the cold weather soon to come.

The show windows of Fulton merchants reflect the new fall and winter styles in coats, dresses and all other items of apparel so interesting to those who would be well dressed.

There are many new models in coats tailored from the finest of fabrics in the season's favored colors.

Dresses for every occasion present a host of pretty and economical variations in style—frocks for daytime and evening wear. Accessories in varieties to match the mode. Smartest class room frocks for girls are included in the showing.

Surely you will admire the new millinery with a further difference in style, accentuated by the original ways in which the trimmings have been utilized.

The popularity of the felt hat seems to be eternal. Like bobbed hair, it is always going out, but always bounds in again with renewed vigor. For general utility wear the small sport shapes are chic, while the beret and modified large chapeau are in use for more formal occasions.

The stocks displayed in Fulton would be a credit to any city and the service is unsurpassed.

WHAT HELPS THE FARMER HELPS THE TOWN MAN

In another column will be found a plea for better poultry, as well as for a county agent, written by Mr. J. T. Watkins, superintendent of the late poultry show at the county fair, and while he covers but one of the many subjects discussed by Mr. Kilpatrick at the farm meeting held at the auditorium recently, his article shows how greatly a farm agent can assist the farmers in making more money with scarcely any more effort than he is now making.

The farm expert, as now explified by the men provided by the state agricultural colleges are trained and experienced men in the line of extracting more crops and returns per acre and per head of livestock, than formerly and now is the time for the farmers and business men of Fulton county to combine and procure such a man to help the farmer to plan his next year's crops and stock raising in order that more money may be made and saved.

At the meeting mentioned above, Mr. A. M. Nugent was appointed chairman of a committee to secure the necessary means to meet the offer of the State to finance the idea, and he was empowered to appoint his fellow committeemen for that purpose.

This committee is perfecting its plans and within a short time the farmers and business men will receive calls from its members and the full plan of campaign will be outlined to them.

Experience in other counties has been that even when the fiscal court has stated that there were no funds available, means have been found to procure such aid from the court.

But, even if this should fail, the amount of money needed is not so very large, and enough public-spirited farmers and business men can undoubtedly be found, who will provide the needed amount.

It would be a calamity for Fulton county to let this opportunity slip, for there can be no question of the tremendous benefits that are obtained from the aid and advice given by these trained men to farmers. Experience in something like eighty counties of the State of Kentucky, and in every state in the Union.

The one item of culling poultry stocks, as mentioned in the article spoken of above, will pay several times over for the expense of the agent, to say nothing of the advice on any other item of farming that one might mention.

By all means, secure a county agent for Fulton, and in order to procure a satisfactory man, the work should be started immediately.

WHAT WILL BE THE AFTERMATH?

Before the Ferguson-Gregory election contest cases are finally decided, we wonder what the honest-to-goodness voters will think of Democratic primaries in the First District of Kentucky.

A nice gift. Send The Advertiser to a friend one year—only $1.00.

CONFIDENCE BUILDS

Confidence builds and improves a community; lack of it destroys communities. Distrust is a destructive element that eats into the very vitals of community life, whereas trust in one another is the only foundation on which towns and cities can build for the future.

Confidence is but one element of cooperation. Of course, no cooperation would be possible without the utmost confidence in one another. The people of this community could not be expected to patronize Fulton merchants if they did not trust them, if they did not believe that they were getting value received.

"Trust men and they will be true to you; treat them greatly and they will show themselves great."

Thus wrote Emerson, the great essayist, many years ago, and life hasn't changed much since then. No community can build for a greater and larger future if distrust is the ruling element in the community. We must have faith in one another—a faith, a confidence that is substantial enough to stand a hard jolt now and then and still be strong.

WANTED: WEED CUTTERS

This is the season when the weed cutters should be busy. Weeds are not alone unsightly, they are unhealthful. Even a much stronger case can be made against weeds. They will soon be seeding and if they are not cut down in middle age, the wind will spread their seed in every direction and next year their number will be multiplied.

We can get along without the weeds. Every incorporated town as well as city, from smallest to largest, has long since recognized the evil of weeds and has legislated against them. They are the enemy of health and beauty and the law has made them outcasts.

In other words, if you don't cut your weeds, municipal officials will and you will have to pay the bill.

Weeds are more in evidence just now than is customary at this particular time of the year because of the heavy rainfall during August. It has been a fruitful time for weeds and they have lost no time in taking advantage of it.

Weeds are more in evidence at the outskirts of Fulton, but even in the heart of the city now and then a vacant lot with a heavy growth of them may be found. It's time for the weed cutters to get busy, and if they continue to neglect so great a duty, local officials should prod them up.

$13,320,000 VOTED FOR ROAD BUILDING IN KENTUCKY

Some sections of Kentucky may be a little slow with road building but already fifty counties out of 120 in the state have voted $13,320,000 to be supplemented by state revenues.

Work on Kentucky's highways will be pushed as rapidly as possible, but we venture to say that it will require some time to finish the road projects if each county waits for the state to "ante up."

On September 27, bids for construction and surfacing of 74 miles in Anderson, Franklin, Fayette, Garrard, Graves, Henry, Hickman, Lincoln, Nelson, and Perry counties will be opened.

WILL IT PAY FULTON TO HAVE A COUNTY AGENT?

Some who don't know will say no. Some who don't care will say, "I don't know." I, for one, who does know and who cares, will say, "Yes."

Now, to prove my point, I will take just one product of the farm.

Mr. Kilpatrick, in his talk at Carr Park, at the meeting of farmers on August 31, produced some figures taken from the government statistics, (and you can't get around them) showed us that there were 50,294 fowls in Fulton county, who lay an average of 43 eggs per year, mighty low, you will say, but it is a fact. This totals 180,220 dozen, sold at 25 cents per dozen amounts to $45,055.

Now, with a good county agent, who will cull the flocks, this average can be raised to at least 72 eggs per average, and a higher figure than that is in the range of possibility, however, we will take 72 as an average; the increase is 129,926 dozen, sold at 25 cents per dozen, $32,481.50. Quite a difference in favor of the county agent.

Instead of realizing $45,055, the county will receive $77,536.50. Will it pay to have the agent? I'll say it will.

I will finish this article with a clipping out from the current issue of the Poultry Tribune, which tells a great big story that can be proven in any county or state:

Chickens Will Pay the Taxes

"The value of eggs produced in Wisconsin in 1925 was estimated at twenty-nine million dollars, and poultry sold or slaughtered, nine million dollars. This means a total of thirty-eight million dollars. The general rural property tax levied in Wisconsin for 1925 was $33,436,970. Why not have a poultry flock that will pay the taxes on each farm?" says the University of Wisconsin Poultry Department Hints to Demonstration Farms for August, by John P. Hayes.

When poultry income already pays the general rural property tax levied in a great state like Wisconsin, think what the possibilities will be if poultry raising is generally improved and conducted along modern lines. We repeat, "Why not have a poultry flock that will pay the taxes on each farm?"

Don't let the heat worry you when you can buy an electric fan at the Fulton Hardware Company's store for $5.00.

SHOWER HONORS
MRS. FIGUE

It was to honor Mrs. Hugh Figue, a bride of recent date, that Mrs. Bertis Figue gave a kitchen shower last Thursday morning at her home on Fourth street.

The spacious porch where the guests were entertained, was a veritable flower garden with ferns, vases, wall pockets and baskets filled with bright garden flowers, and hearts festooned here and there. Wishes for the bride were written in rhyme on little "pig" cards and were read later. Mrs. Wm. Franklin was awarded the prize for writing the best wish.

Master Joe Browder Williams drew in a little wagon, holding a huge basket, filled with many useful gifts and presented to the honoree. After the gifts were displayed, Mrs. R. S. Williams sang "Proposal" and "Always," accompanied by Miss Doris Huddleston. Mrs. Clyde Hill served delicious punch on the arrival of guests from a table draped in a profusion of Clematis vine.

Frozen hearts with individual cakes were served.

FROM A GOOD ROADS BOOSTER IN COUNTY (Mayfield Messenger)

Dukedom, Ky., Aug. 21, 1926. Mr. George Covington, Mayfield, Ky.

Dear Sir: I notice in your paper something about running a highway from Mayfield by way of Pilot Oak to Dukedom. The people of Dresden, Tenn., say they would meet this road at Dukedom, which would connect the Jackson, Tenn., road by the way of Greenfield to Jackson. That would meet this road at Dukedom from Paducah, Ky., to Jackson, Tenn., a distance of nearly 150 miles.

Wish you would have this put in your paper for me, that I will donate $1,000.00 and gravel enough to build the road from Pilot Oak to Dukedom free of charge; also furnish one team and hand to drive same, free, to build this three miles. JIM SI CAVENDER.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by Bennett's Drug Store, Fulton, Ky.
