Are You A Democrat or Republican

From now until the November election politics will occupy first page space and startling headlines will stare the readers in the face as never before known in this country.

No candidate in the history of the country has caused so much comment in so short a time, and seemed to have stirred the people so much as Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, Democratic nominee for President. Is it because he is absolutely honest in expressing himself? Is it because he has been elected four times Governor of the State of New York? Is it because he favors giving the farmer a chance? Is it because he is a friend to the laboring man? Is it because he is backed by billions of dollars in his campaign? Is it because he is loyal to his religion? Is it because he has a native born Southerner as his running mate? Is it because he is being persecuted? Is it because the people are ignorant of the true character of the man and could not find another to head him off before being nominated?

Evidently something has caused the most brilliant minds of the country to set up and take notice else the clash between Bishop Warran A. Candler of Atlanta, and Bishop Horace M. DuBose of Nashville, veteran leaders of Southern Methodism, would never have happened.

Again, Texas G. O. P. chiefs would have bolted to Smith or Texas Democrats bolted to Hoover, the Republican nominee.

At the rate things are going, half of us will not know whether we are Republicans or Democrats when voting time comes.

After reading some of the headlines this week it really looks as if Al will be elected before the polls open, the same as he was nominated before the convention opened.

The disgruntled Democrats and Republicans are to be pitied, especially the Southern Democrats who are sore on Robinson. Why not take a vacation in Africa until after the election.

Republican Bolters Will Replace Those Who Are Fighting Smith

Dallas, Texas—Texas Republican party bolters Tuesday were ready to fill some of the places in the state Democratic organization vacated by insurgents opposed to the election of Governor Smith of New York.

While the Democratic bolters were assembling here for a meeting Tuesday to consider plans for an anti-Smith alliance with regular Republicans, two leaders of the latter party sought entry to the camp of the New York governor. J. M. O'Hara, organization manager of the state Republican committee, which unsuccessfully fought for an uninstruted state delegation to the national party convention, and W. M. (Gooseneck Bill) McDonald, negro Republican leader, announced at Fort Worth that they would ask their followers to support Gov. Smith.

Control 250,000 Votes
O'Hara and McDonald claimed to control 250,000 votes. They based this claim on balloting in 1924, when 298,000 votes were cast for the Republican gubernatorial candidate who was beaten by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson. In that election President Coolidge received 180,023 votes.

BIDS ON STREET IMPROVEMENT PROJECT WILL BE OPENED MONDAY EVENING

From all indications bidding on the street improvement project will be lively and we understand that bids will be submitted by some of the largest contractors in the country.

Monday, July 23, at 2 o'clock is the time limited to receive bids. Bids will be submitted on various types of material and construction and after thoroughly considering each bid submitted, the council will decide on what is best for Fulton streets.

No member of the council that we have talked with has expressed himself as to what material will be selected, but we can safely say that the entire council is in favor of the best streets possible for the least money.

Mayor Shankle and Councilmen Paul DeMyer, Smith, Atkins and J. E. Hannephin, visited a number of towns and cities on an inspection tour the first of the week to secure first hand information regarding streets and street building material and are better prepared than ever to make a selection for the best interest of Fulton property owners.

The people can rest assured that no time is being lost in starting the work and construction will soon be in progress.

Where the work will begin is hard to say at this time, but we imagine that the successful contractor will have something to say about the matter, as there are fifteen streets in the project and it may be that work on several streets will be in progress at the same time.

GARTH K. FERGUSON

To the Democratic Voters of the First Congressional District:

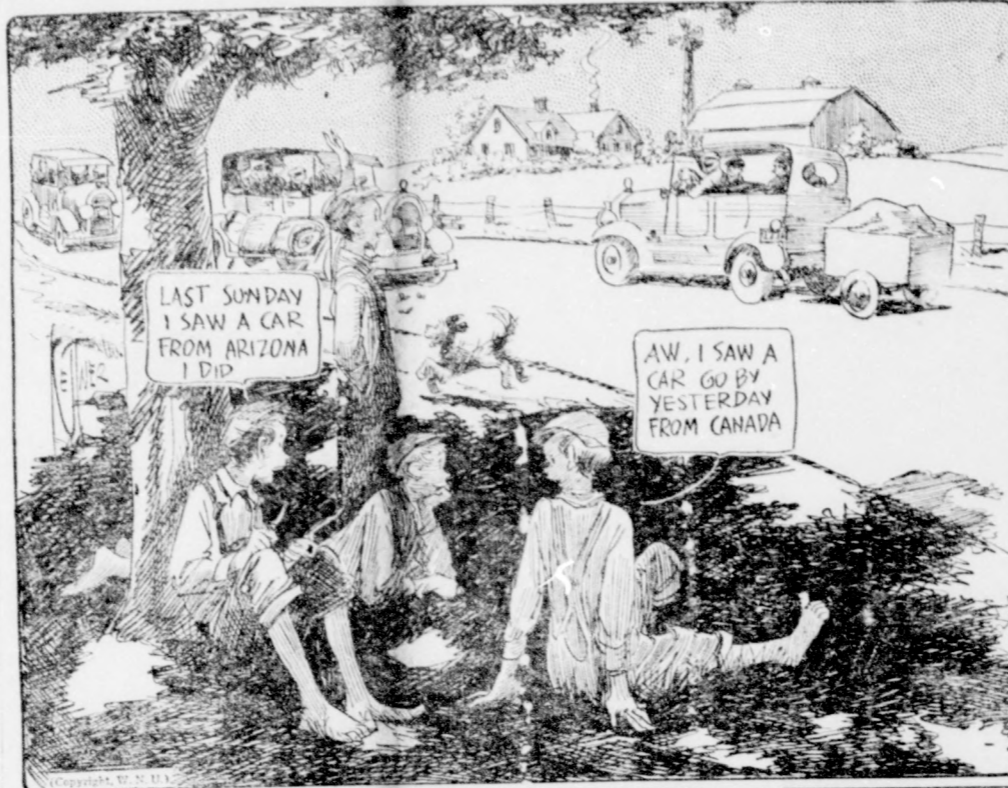

I have served my district and state in the Senate in two sessions of the General Assembly and am now a candidate for Congress from the First District.

I will appreciate your vote and influence in the Primary, August 4, and if elected will apply myself diligently to the responsible duties of the office. It will be impossible for me to see every voter in person, but I ask that you consider this a personal appeal for your support.

Interest In Our Community

There is no community apart from those who compose it.

There is no community interest apart from the sum total of the individual interests of those who make up the community.

All too often nowadays the idea prevails among a large class that community interest should take precedence over individual interest and that, therefore, the community should control the individual both for its own good and his as well.

This is false doctrine. It is for each individual to work out his or her own destiny, and in doing so, build a stronger character and thus develop a stronger community through the strength of the people living in it. There is no way to reverse the process.

Let the community by force deprive the individual of his initiative, his ambition, the fruit of his labor, or the power to shape his own opinion, his own conduct, his faith, and you deprive him thereby of the power to build his character and to make himself.

This is not to make excellence possible, but to produce mediocrity. This does not enrich the community, but impoverishes it.

The weak, who are in the majority, are always ready to control and restrict the activities of the strong, who are in the minority.

The power to work out our own destiny is what we commonly term liberty. But even liberty has its limitations, and the misuse of this power has given rise to the conception that man-made government should control human conduct.

Recognition of the rights of others by the individual in shaping his own life is the essence of liberty and license means the individual has failed to attain self-discipline because of ignorance, greed and selfishness.

Recognizing the interests of the community by all those who compose it is the only means of building up a strong and prosperous community, but the community should not go too far in attempting to deprive the individual of the freedom to work out his own salvation.

GRAND THEATRE

Patron:

You've been led to expect something weird, startlingly different, strikingly unusual in Lon Chaney's original characterizations. When you saw his last picture you probably wondered then what kind of an impersonation he would attempt next.

Come to the Grand Theatre 23-24, and you will see this entertaining master character impersonator in a role absolutely unlike anything he has ever attempted before. Sherlock Holmes and Arsene Lupin, two famous detectives of fiction, were mere amateurs compared to Lon Chaney in his role of a Scotland Yard crime detector. "London After Midnight" is the title of this mystery thriller picture. It includes every element of human emotion and unfathomable happenings that will keep you in suspense until the final fade-out.

Supporting Mr. Chaney is an unusually fine cast which comprises, among others, Marceline Day, Conrad Nagel and Henry B. Walthall.

Very truly yours,
Mr. Jones, Manager of Grand Theatre.

GORE-BRADLEY

Mr. Charles Gore and Miss Marie Bradley surprised their many friends by being quietly married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Esq. S. A. McDade. The groom is the son of W. E. Gore of Riceville, while the bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bradley of near Enoch church. Mr. Gore is employed by the I. C. Railroad company and has a wide circle of friends who will wish him a long, happy and prosperous life with the bride he has chosen.

Mrs. Gore, by her charming personality and cheerful, sweet disposition, has won a host of friends who wish her much happiness.

The bride wore a beautiful snow-white dress with a hat, hose and slippers to match, while the groom was dressed in a handsome suit of dark blue. The young couple will have rooms on Carr street.

W. H. FALWELL PASSES AWAY

After a lingering illness, W. H. Falwell, 58 years of age, died at his home on Park Avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Funeral services were held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. B. J. Cantrell, pastor of the First Christian church officiating, interment followed in Fairview in charge of the Fulton Undertaking Co.

Mr. Falwell was a native Tennessean, born at Knoxville in 1870. He devoted many years of life to the milling business. For a number of years he was head miller at the Thompson mill at Water Valley, Ky., but for the past fifteen years had been a valued employe at the Browder Milling Co., of Fulton.

Twelve years ago he was married to Miss Ivie French. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen Lodge and also a member of the First Christian church. He was a consecrated Christian and took an active part in church work. He loved his home and will be sadly missed by his devoted wife, who never tired in nursing him through his long illness. The deceased was highly esteemed by a large acquaintance who deeply sympathize with the bereaved.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one brother, who lives in New York City.

BARRYMORE AND COSTELLO COMING IN HUGE PRODUCTION

"When a Man Loves," Warner Bros. special extended run production, starring John Barrymore, supported by Dolores Costello and a large and notable cast, comes to the Orpheum Theatre next Monday for a run of two days.

This is the tremendous screen version of Abbe Prevost's immortal story of love and terror in the days when Louis XV ruled in France.

The costumes are replicas of originals loaned by the French Government on Warner Bros. $24,000 bond. Historically correct settings of ancient Paris, the King's court at Versailles, streets, pastoral scenes and sequences on the prison ship, and during the mutiny of the crew, and many others, are marvels of photography. Alan Crosland, who was responsible for "Don Juan," directed.

CONGRESSMAN GREGORY ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

Judge W. V. Gregory, who is actively engaged in his campaign for re-election, was in Fulton last week shaking hands with the voters and making new acquaintances.

In referring to his candidacy, Judge Gregory said: "Although my official duties detained me in Washington so long that it will be impossible for me to see many voters in person before the August primary election. I am gratified to learn that my record during my brief service in Congress in meeting with general approval. If my opposition has called attention to any failure upon my part to faithfully, honestly, and intelligently represent our people, I have not heard of it. From the many assurances of support I have received from those who voted against me in my first race, and from the expressions of loyalty upon the part of my old friends, I am confident that the Democrats of the First District will follow their long established custom and give me their hearty endorsement in the coming election by very substantial and increased majority."

VORIS W. GREGORY

Judge Gregory has issued the following formal card of announcement:

To The Democratic Voters of The First Congressional District:

Two years ago I was chosen by the Democrats of the First Congressional District as their nominee for Congress to succeed Hon. Alben W. Barkley, who voluntarily retired from Congress, after serving fourteen years in that capacity, to become U. S. Senator from Kentucky, and in the following November election I defeated my Republican opponent by a large majority. I began active service in my new position less than seven months ago, but during that brief period, I have devoted all of my time and energy in an earnest endeavor to make the people of this district a faithful, useful representative in Congress. On all matters that came up for consideration at the recently adjourned session of Congress, my vote and influence were governed by what I believed would be for the best interest of our people.

I was the author of a number of bills, and assisted in the passage of other bills, which directly affect the welfare of the people of this district. For me to boast of my services would ill-become me. Whether or not I have measured up to the high standard of service to which the people of the First District are entitled is a matter for them to determine. Fully realizing my own imperfections and the handicaps under which any new member of Congress labors, nevertheless I have sought to serve the people of the First District honestly, intelligently, and faithfully, and now I submit my record to the Democrats of this District for their endorsement at the Primary Election to be held August 4, 1928.

AL ASSURES FARMERS OF DEFINITE ACTION

Stands Squarely in Pledges Given at Houston; Will Lose No Time

New York, July 9.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith announced today that if he is elected president in November he will call a conference for the study of the farm problem at once, without waiting for his inauguration, so that he will be ready to transmit to Congress at his opening session a definite program of farm relief.

"As to agriculture," he telegraphed W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, who had wired for the governor's "personal position" on the agricultural plank in the Democratic party at Houston. I understand and sympathize with the objects which organized agriculture is struggling to attain and which our party has promised to help them secure.

Won't Waste Any Time
"If the election returns disclose that I have been chosen president, I will not wait until I am inaugurated before acting on this problem. I will, immediately after the election, call a conference of leaders to commence at once and continue work to assist me to develop a concrete plan embodying the principles of the Houston platform so that I may transmit to Congress at its opening session a definite program accompanied by suggestions for the necessary legislation to make it effective."

The telegram from Seattle which brought forth the governor's reply, follows: "The executive committee of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, of which I am president, will meet in Indianapolis next Tuesday (July 10). Will you wire me at once, your personal position on the agricultural plank in the Democratic platform and state the procedure you will follow if you are elected president. The farmers are looking for assurances of relief from the economic servitude in which they have been held for years."

THE WORLD'S TALLEST BUILDING

The world's tallest and largest building—seventy-five stories high and containing 4,650,000 square feet of floor space—has been designed as the first structure to utilize the air rights over the downtown tracks of the Illinois Central System on the Chicago lake-front, according to the July issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. This building, which is to be known as the Apparel Manufacturers' Mart, will be fifteen stories taller than the Woolworth Building in New York City and only about 110 feet shorter than the Eiffel Tower, a mere skeleton of steel, in Paris.

Contracts have been let, and work is to start within the next six months on this $45,000,000 structure. A 100-year lease has been negotiated with the Illinois Central System for the air rights above two full city blocks of space, and trains will run directly into the basement of the building.

The basement and first five floors will contain a garage, shops and two auditoriums; the next eighteen floors will provide display space for apparel manufacturers; the next twenty-three floors will be devoted to office space; the next twenty-four floors will serve as a 1,000 room hotel, while the remaining floors at the top will provide quarters for three business men's clubs. An open-air swimming pool on the roof is also included in the plans.

For a short time we will accept subscriptions for this paper and the Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal—both papers one year for only $1.25.

WEEDS ARE AN "EYE SORE"

This is the period of the year when weeds are the king of everything that grows.

A city or town cannot be beautiful and have patches of weeds growing on vacant lots, back yards, alleys and other places of prominence which detract from the appearance of a community.

Fulton has long been noted as a place of beauty. It is a disgrace to ride around and see the high weeds that are taking possession of many of the fine sites, and enough pride should be shown at all times so that the weeds would be overcome.

Weeds are not only injurious to the health of a community, but they permit the insects and other dangerous infestations to breed and spread into the finer plants and shrubbery of the community.

We should strive now to eliminate these "eye sores" in our locality, and keep this a place of beauty.

TWO LINES OF DEVELOPMENT

The development of prosperous communities seems to be proceeding on two lines—encouraging establishment of payroll industries, and introducing more industrial education in the public schools. A practical object lesson, emphasizing these two lines, has become the fixed policy of Oakland, California.

Public school equipment for industrial vocational education where large numbers of boys are learning actual trades, is increasing in progressive communities.

Oakland has invested in three high schools equipped with electrical and cabinet shops, sheet metal, forging and motor vehicle repair machinery, where 15,000 pupils are getting industrial education.

Turning the thoughts of the growing male school population into channels of efficient industrial education, will make all cities more prosperous, reduce crime and encourage home building and contented family life.

Statistics show that there are 70,000 blacksmiths in this country. The day of the one-horse town is still far away.

If an automobile war looms, there will be many of us making an effort to keep our flippers out of the trenches.

Man is a funny creature. In a hotel he seeks a home atmosphere, and at home he wants hotel service.

Some of the candidates have announced they are entering the campaign with several ends in view, probably do not include among the number their own end.

What has become of the old fashioned man who used to say that the business rooms would all be vacant when the saloons were driven out?

Once upon a time there was a motion picture film which did not announce everybody from the high mogul down to the office boy.

It is said that at least half of the world is engaged in farming, and the other half in living off of it.

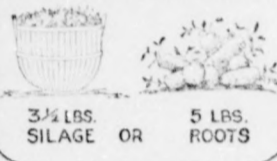

After all is said and done, though, nothing will push you ahead like a plain day's work.

SECRET OF FULL MILK PAIL IN FEED

Succulent Feeds Help Carry Cow Through Winter in Good Condition, Says Institute.

To get a full milk pail in winter, experienced dairymen maintain summer conditions for cows as much as possible during the months when cows are fed indoors, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. As fresh pasture is the best of all milk making feeds, its succulent nature as well as its high feed value, should be provided in winter. Succulent feeds improve the cow's digestion, give her a better appetite and help to keep her in the best of physical condition.

FEED SUCCULENTS ACCORDING TO COW'S WEIGHT

A day for each 100 lbs. of cow's weight

Fresh pasture grass is the natural food of cattle, but it cannot be had the year round. Corn silage supplies the succulent feed the cow requires in a cheap and convenient form. Next to corn as a silage crop comes kaffir and others of its class, with sorghum not far behind. Peas and oats make good silage, and alfalfa, sweet clover, soybeans, Sudan grass can be used for the purpose, but as a rule are best made into hay. Where corn does not thrive well, the sudanizer is meeting with some favor as a silage crop.

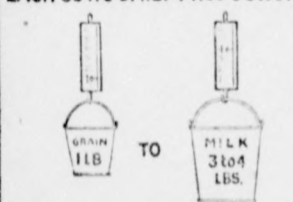

Root crops also make a fine succulent feed for cows in winter. The principal objection to growing roots is the additional labor they require as compared to raising corn. However, where silage crops are not grown, it pays to grow roots. Among the several good roots the mangel is usually the best to use because of its greater yield.

The cow in milk will eat about 3 1/2 pounds of silage daily for each 100 pounds of her live weight. When used for succulence a corn silage allowance is 5 pounds for each 100 pounds of animal's weight. In addition to silage or roots, successful dairy farmers feed their cows legume hay according to each cow's weight and grain in proportion to the milk each cow produces.

MILK VOLUME FROM ROUGHAGE, GRAIN

Cows receiving all the good roughage and succulent feeds they will eat will produce milk at lowest cost in winter when fed a well-balanced grain mixture according to the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. With a good

FEED GRAIN ACCORDING TO EACH COW'S DAILY PRODUCTION

Feed one pound of grain for each 3 to 4 lbs. milk produced daily depending on the breed roughage such as alfalfa, soybean or clover hay and silage or roots for succulence, grain feeding at the rate of one pound to each three pounds of milk produced daily by Jersey and Guernsey cows; one pound of grain to 3 1/2 pounds of milk produced each day by Brown Swiss and Shorthorn cows; and one pound of grain to each 4 pounds of milk produced daily by Ayrshire and Holstein cows has been found to be most economical.

When the roughage on hand consists of silage and legume hay, a good grain mixture for ordinary producing cows in winter is ground oats or wheat bran, 100 pounds, and ground corn or barley, 100 pounds. When the grass hays and corn fodder are fed, a suitable grain ration is oats, 300 pounds; corn or barley, 200 pounds; and linseed oil meal, 200 pounds. Another satisfactory grain mixture to feed with grass hays is equal parts by weight of ground corn, ground oats, wheat bran and cotton seed or gluten feed.

PORTLAND CEMENT CONCRETE
for permanence

No Excuse For Bumpy Streets

There is a pavement—portland cement concrete—that does not develop bumps or ruts even under the heaviest traffic, but is rigid, permanent, and has maintenance built into it.

Cities and towns throughout the country are paving with Concrete because of these qualities—and because it is skid-proof, clean, and comfortable to ride on.

The term of office of a congressman is only two years, but it has long been the unbroken custom of the people of this district, and of all other districts with which I am familiar, to endorse their congressmen by re-electing them. I covet the same generous treatment which our people have extended to my distinguished predecessors in this office, and I know of no reason why I should be denied this endorsement, unless I have been an unfaithful public servant. The record I have made as an official and as a citizen is properly subject to the closest scrutiny, and I invite my opposition to point out wherein I have failed to do my duty. If unable to do this, why should this district displace me with a new man? Believing that the experience I have already gained will fit me for better service in the future, I have an ambition to return to Congress. However, no man should be elected to Congress simply to gratify his ambition. All congressmen should be elected for the good of those whom they represent. Therefore, if the Democratic men and women of the First District believe that I have made a good record and am qualified for the position which I now hold, I shall be profoundly grateful for their support in my campaign for re-election.

There are thirteen counties in the First Congressional District and it must be apparent to all that I will not have an opportunity to visit all the towns and villages in the district before the election, and will be able to see only a small percentage of the voters. If I had adopted the suggestion made to me by many loyal friends, I would have returned home several weeks ago to engage in my campaign, but I did not feel that I had the moral right to desert my post of duty to advance my personal interests. Under these circumstances, I hope those whose votes I am unable to solicit in person will not conclude that I am indifferent to their support. I shall greatly appreciate the support of every Democrat in this District in this election, and shall try to see as many voters in person as the short time now remaining will permit, and shall endeavor in other ways to so acquaint the voters with my record and with my views upon national problems as to enable them to intelligently determine whether or not I should be returned to Congress.

I have received many letters and personal assurances from good people in various parts of the district, pledging me their support in this campaign. I am persuaded that there are thousands of others who have neither seen me nor written to me, who are interested in my success. To all of these loyal friends and supporters, I am deeply grateful. If the good people of this district shall again honor me with the high office which I now hold, I shall show my gratitude to them by giving them the best service of which I am capable; and at the conclusion of my official career, I shall hand the office back to them with a record untarnished and an honor unsullied.

Sincerely,
W. V. GREGORY,
(Political Advertisement)

JUDGE GREGORY HAS MADE A SPLENDID RECORD

During his brief service in Congress, Judge Gregory has made a splendid record for a new member. Early in the recent session of Congress, he introduced and secured the passage of bills authorizing the construction of bridges across the Tennessee River at Clark's River Ferry and at Egner's Ferry, and across the Cumberland River at Smithland, Iuka, and Canton. He also introduced and secured the passage of a bridge bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi River at Hickman, and gave his active support to the Cairo Wickliffe bridge bill. Under authority of these bills, it is anticipated that surveys for the construction of these bridges at the various points named will be made in the immediate future, and that within a reasonable time the bridges will have been constructed and opened for traffic. These bridges, with the completion of the bridge now under construction over the Ohio River at Paducah will be of vast benefit and convenience to the traveling public in general and particularly to the people of Western Kentucky.

A distinction, not usually accorded to a new member of Congress, was bestowed upon Judge Gregory when he was made a member of a major committee in Congress, the Flood Control committee. His fight for flood control in the Mississippi Valley was one of his outstanding achievements in Congress, and as a member of the powerful Flood Control Committee, he assisted in shaping the legislation relating to that subject which was subsequently adopted by Congress. His speech in Congress urging flood control in the Mississippi Valley as a national responsibility attracted much favorable attention. Under the provisions of the bill, appropriations were made for the construction of flood control works in Mississippi Valley from Cairo to the Gulf of Mexico, and provision was also made for surveys of the Ohio, Cumberland, and Tennessee Rivers with a view of preventing floods in those rivers. Not content with his efforts to afford relief to his constituents living near rivers bordering and running through his district, he introduced and secured the passage of a bill looking toward the relief of farmers whose land is overflowed in Carlisle and Ballard counties by Mayfield Creek. He secured favorable consideration of this bill on the basis that Mayfield Creek was once a navigable stream for quite a distance from the Mississippi River, and was, therefore, under Federal control. If it can be shown that sections of Clark's River now overflowed by that stream are under Federal control, it is his purpose to attempt to procure similar relief for landowners living along Clark's River and its tributaries.

Judge Gregory was chairman of the first meeting held to consider the matter of securing a Federal appropriation for the assistance of Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Livingston, Lyon, Marshall and Trigg counties in repairing roads and bridges damaged or destroyed by the floods of last year. He worked untiringly for the passage of this bill through Congress, and the eight counties named in the First District are the only counties or localities in the entire Mississippi Valley which received any government aid to pay for damages sustained from floods. The passage of this bill will afford to these counties more than $300,000 in Federal and State aid for their roads and bridges. Other bills introduced by him provide for postoffice buildings at Murray and Princeton, and he has a bill pending which would authorize the establishment of a dairy and livestock experiment station in this district. The last three mentioned bills will be reached for consideration at the short session of Congress which convenes next December.

Among some of the measures of national importance which Judge Gregory supported were the bills for farm relief; for a lowering of the tariff; for the repeal of the Federal tax on automobiles; for a reduction of Federal taxes; for extending Federal aid to counties in the building of roads; for increased aid and for additional hospital facilities for veterans of the great World War; for abolishing the so-called "lame duck" session of Congress; for the retirement of the disabled emergency officers of the World War upon the same basis as officers in the regular Army; and for the operation of Muscle Shoals so as to provide cheaper fertilizers for farmers. All of his votes affecting the rights of laboring men were favorable to labor.

FEED MIXING SERVICE

STANDS FOR

- 1. RECOGNITION OF THE TRUTH. All that is known about feeding is in the possession of the colleges of agriculture, experiment stations, and practical feeders. Amco Feed Mixing Service recognizes this and realizes that what feeders need is a service which makes it possible for them to follow this information.
- 2. UNRIVALED SERVICE. Alone of all big feed manufacturers, Amco Feed Mixing Service seeks to purchase and mix, according to the experience of the colleges of agriculture and practical feeders, the feeds which are the best buy for farmers.
- 3. INDEPENDENT ACTION. The American Milling Company has no secret formulas to sell. It has no by-products to work off. Its sole revenue comes from mixing feed ingredients on open formulas at so much a ton. It is, therefore, free to mix the combinations which science and practice say are the most profitable to use.
- 4. QUALITY. A mixed feed can be no better than the ingredients that go into it. Amco Feed Mixing Service checks, through its chemists, the quality of every ingredient which goes into the feeds it mixes and rejects those which are below the standards of good feeding practices.
- 5. ADAPTABILITY. The quality of roughage and the feeding conditions vary from farm to farm. Amco mixes feeds which fit into every farm condition.
- 6. CONVENIENCE. When you buy an Amco-mixed feed, you get in one bag everything that is needed for the animal for which it is intended—digestible nutrients, minerals, vitamins and variety, with correct bulk and palatability.
- 7. ECONOMIES. The way to save on the cost of feed is to take advantage of the ingredients which are cheapest, run mixing plants to capacity, and secure orders at the least possible expense. The American Milling Company is doing all these for farmers through Amco Feed Mixing Service.

By J. T. Watkins

Well, the premium list is out, what do you think of it? If you haven't received your copy yet, write for it and we will mail you one, pronto.

There will be over $500.00 paid out in the poultry department this year. The fair association in connection with the poultry association, has offered enough prize money that it is worth your time to enter your birds and get some of it.

We have employed a judge who is a member of the American Poultry Association staff of judges, and you certainly will get a square deal. If your birds do not come up to standard, you can find out where they are weak and remedy the defect.

It pays to advertise. By entering your birds in the show you advertise your stock. You also advertise your faith in your county, your fair and your faith in our efforts to give this community the best poultry show to be found anywhere in this section of the country.

The ribbons for the show will be here in a few days, and will be on exhibition in the windows of the Rucker Gift Shop. The two silver cups donated by Congressmen Gregory and Garrett will also be displayed with the ribbons. Drop by and look them over, and make up your mind to be one of the winners.

The American Poultry Association will also give a Gold Medal to the grand champion of the show. They will also give gold medals for the following best bantam provided there are 25 entered; best water fowl provided 25 are entered; best turkey provided 12 are entered. They will also give a ribbon to the champion in each variety, a certificate of merit to the champion of each breed, and a bronze medal to champion bird in each class.

Don't fail to attend one or more of the demonstrations on vaccination of poultry, these demonstrations will be held several times during the show. Mr. Farlow, of the Illinois Central farm bureau will be on the grounds and give you any information pertaining to bettering the conditions of your fowls. He is a fine fellow, knows poultry and it will do you good to meet him.

Don't forget we have a Standard of Perfection at the Chamber of Commerce rooms for your use. Any point you do not thoroughly understand, come by and look it up and get clear on the points required for your breed.

COMFORTABLE COW IS COW THAT PAYS

Needs Protection From Cold, Dampness, to Produce Winter Milk Profitably.

The dairy cow needs protection from cold and dampness if she is to produce milk profitably in winter, declares the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Although it is not necessary to keep the temperature of the barn as high as that of a human dwelling, it is essential to keep it at least above 40 or 50 degrees at all times. Such temperatures can be maintained read-

FOR GREATER WINTER COW PROFITS

Keep Cows in Warm and in Severe Weather in Comfortable Dry Well-Ventilated Quarters With Plenty Windows

By throughout the northernmost states without artificial heat in real cold weather if the barn is built wind proof and is well ventilated. To keep the herd healthy in winter confinement and the barn sanitary, at least four square feet of window space should be provided for each cow. As the dairy cow is a sensitive animal she should be kept comfortable, particularly by providing her with comfortable stalls or stanchions and plenty of dry, clean bedding.

VITALITY FIRST REQUISITE OF COW

Institute Finds Her Hardest Working of Farm Animals; Must Have a Strong Constitution

Of all farm animals, the good dairy cow, says the Institute, declares the Blue Valley Creamery Institute, is a study of the vitality of farm animals. The dairy cow labors night and day gathering, consuming, digesting and assimilating food and converting it into milk. To do this regularly year after year she must have a most rugged constitution and much vitality. Dairy men believe that strength of constitution depends primarily upon the amount of pure fresh air that enters the body and the manner in which it is utilized by the lungs in purifying the blood. If the nostrils, the wind pipe and other organs through which the air travels on its way to the lungs are large, open and well-stended, the volume of air entering the body will be large and the indications are that the cow is healthy. However, if the cow has small nostrils, dairy men explain, she does not take into her lungs the great amount of air that the cow with the large, open, dilated nostrils and wind pipe does. Such a cow possesses a weak constitution.

Another important indication of a vigorous constitution is roundness of the chamber in which the heart and lungs are located. Smallness in this part of the body prohibits greatness of heart and lung development, resulting in limited stamina, vigor and ruggedness. To insure ample room for the fullest growth of the heart and lungs, the cow should be extremely deep from the top of the shoulder to the floor of the chest, fairly broad in the chest, deep in the heart girth and well sprung in the fore ribs. Cows that are narrow and shallow in the chest cavity and pinched in the space occupied by the heart are always troublesome and never persistent feeders or producers according to experienced dairymen.

A strong constitution is one of five essential points that must be present in a cow if she is to be a profitable producer. The other essential factors are the capacity for food, nervous temperament, good blood circulation, and an inherent ability to make milk.

Sunday School Lesson

(By Rev. P. A. Fitzwater, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
Ed. 1928 Western Newspaper Union

Lesson for July 22
PAUL'S EARLY MINISTRY

LESSON TEXT—Acts 9:19-20; 11:25-26
GOLDEN TEXT—And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues that he is the Son of God.
PRIMARILY TOPIC—Paul's Early Work for Jesus
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Saul's Conversion and Unpopular Cause
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Years of Growing Experience

I. Saul Preached Christ in Damascus (vv. 19-22)

1. Saul's fellowship with the disciples (v. 19).
After Saul was baptized he remained certain days with the believers in Damascus (v. 19). How beautiful to think of the transformation which took place—the one who was so passionately bent on their destruction was now enjoying fellowship with the disciples.

2. Straightway preaching in the synagogues (v. 20).

Saul, like every one who is really converted, begins to tell of the newly found Savior. As soon as he is saved he goes to save others.

3. The people amazed (v. 21).
They knew that the very one that had been the ringleader in persecuting the Christians in Jerusalem, and had come to Damascus for the express purpose of bringing them both to the chief priests, was now passionately advocating that which he had so vehemently sought to destroy.

4. The Jews confounded (v. 22).
Saul retired into Arabia for three years. During this time he was taught the full truths of his ministry.

II. Saul Escapes From the Jews (vv. 23-25)

He used the Scriptures with such skill that the Jews could not answer him. Finding that the argument was against them, the Jews took counsel how they might destroy Saul. So in secret they were upon killing him that they watched the gates of the city day and night that they might take him. When this became known to the disciples, they let him down from the wall by night in a basket.

III. Saul Visits Jerusalem (vv. 26-29)

This journey to Jerusalem was in strange contrast with the one from Jerusalem to Damascus. The one was as a leader of an important expedition under the authority of the law, but officers with the prospect of a place of distinction in the council of the Jewish nation. Now he is an outcast, shunned by his countrymen, and fleeing for his life.

1. Suspected by the disciples (v. 26).
The believers at Jerusalem did not hear fully about Saul's conversion. They knew nothing of his sojourn in Arabia, and his preaching at Damascus after his return. Therefore they regarded him as a spy.

2. Barnabas' evidence in Saul (v. 27).
Barnabas was a man filled with the Holy Spirit (Acts 11:24), therefore able to discern the reality of Saul's conversion. He was in reality a "son of consolation" and in this instance showed his blind spirit.

3. Saul in fellowship with the disciples (v. 28).

They went in and out together. Peter received him in his home where he abode fifteen days (Gal. 1:18).

4. Saul disputes with the Grecians (v. 29).

He was not content merely to visit with the brethren. He spoke boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ.

IV. Saul Sent to Tarsus (v. 30)

A conspiracy similar to that one at Damascus was formed against Saul. When the brethren knew of it they sent him to Tarsus. Saul's life was in danger everywhere except among the Gentiles. He now is back at the place of his birth. The first and best place for one's testimony is in his home. Saul's conversion was typical of the conversion of the Jewish nation. Their eyes will be opened by a personal revelation of Jesus Christ to them, and when they accept Him as their Savior and Messiah, they will go forth as witnesses to the Gentiles.

V. Saul Teaching at Antioch (11:25-26)

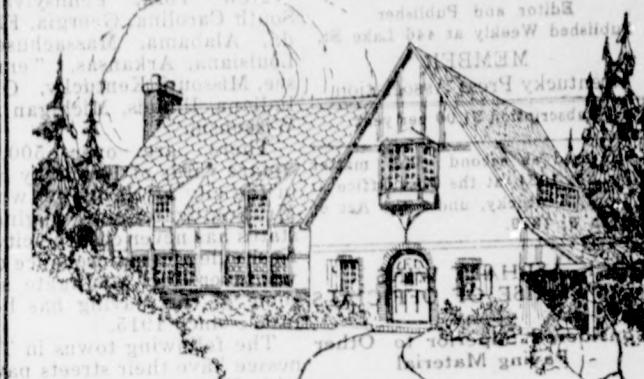

The work at Antioch so prospered in the hands of Barnabas that he went to Tarsus for Saul to help him in the work. Saul returned with Barnabas and ministered for a whole year. The disciples were first called Christians at Antioch. This name resulted from Paul's teaching, instead of being given in derision, as is frequently taught.

ACCOMMODATING

"I don't suppose you keep anything so civilized as dog biscuits in this out-of-horse, run-down Jay town, do you?" the tourist started.

"Oh, yes, stranger," the village merchant responded pleasantly. "Quite a few folks like you come through from the city, and we aim to have everything they call for. Have 'em in a bag or eat 'em here?"

C. H. Howett, salesman, writes: "I have delayed answering your letter as I have been waiting to see the results of taking your medicine. I did as you advised, took one bottle Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Tonic, without arsenic, and followed with the chill tonic with arsenic and have taken two bottles. People all over my territory are complimenting me on my looks as my skin is no longer yellow and the jaundiced look and chronic malaria and chills have left me. I thank you a thousand times and you may use my name any time you wish, as I feel that I am cured."
