Corner Stone Laying Sunday

Work on the building of the First Christian church is going forward rapidly. Next Sunday at three o'clock p. m. the congregation will lay the corner-stone. Bro. Patterson of Dyersburg, will be the speaker of the occasion. Perhaps a short history of the congregation might be interesting.

It was on the Second of May, 1874 that Bro. R. A. Cooke gathered forty members of the Christian church together and set in order the church in Fulton that is known as the First Christian Church. This number was composed of some members of the Mont Rose church and others who had moved to Fulton. In the spring of 1875 a house of worship was built. This building was remodeled in 1909. Mrs. W. T. Carr is the only charter member who is now living.

The early history of the church is similar to that of other organizations of like character. The spirit of its people was dauntless and obstacles were overcome. The spirit of the pioneer was in the blood of its people and through the influence liberality and zeal for good works this congregation was given to Fulton.

During its life of over half a century this church has shared in the labor of a number of preachers. The following is thought to be a complete list: F. M. Kibby, W. T. Shelton, W. L. Butler, J. W. Strawn, T. J. Jackson, R. A. Cooke, J. H. Roulhac, R. W. Dunlap, R. A. Cooke, W. H. Sweeney, Mr. Sanders, Brown Godwin, R. A. Cooke, E. M. Waits, W. G. Eldred, J. C. Reed, Mr. Tharp, T. L. Young, C. M. Stults, O. J. Sowell, H. L. Patterson, B. J. Cantrell is the present minister.

From time to time the church has employed noteworthy evangelists in revival meetings, among whom were J. C. Creel, J. W. Higbee, W. E. Hall, Wm. Cooke, Wm. Hamilton, O. A. Carr, H. L. Calhoun, M. F. Harman, W. H. Sheffer, W. E. Crabtree, Wallace Tharpe, E. E. Violet and E. L. Powell. It has had the privilege of entertaining such men with national reputation as J. W. McGarvey, J. B. Briney, G. E. Fowler and many others.

From the beginning the congregation has counted among its members families of prominence and influence in the community. Today the personnel of the membership is composed various walks of life who are making their lives count in Kingdom building.

On the 26th day of last February the building was so damaged by fire that it was necessary to wreck the older part of the building and the building that is now being erected is one in which the church and community can take a pardonable pride. Mr. G. Tandy Smith of Paducah is the architect, and the contractor is the local firm, Wm. Hill and sons. The building committee is Clarence Pickering, N. G. Cooke, A. Huddleston, Mrs. Leighman Browder and Mrs. Ruth Williams.

J. W. Mays Passes Away

J. W. Mays, retired Illinois Central Railroad employe, passed away Monday at the age of 73 in St. Joseph's hospital in Memphis. Mr. Mays formerly lived in Fulton and was well known in this community. He has many friends who sincerely sympathize with the widow and bereaved ones in the loss of husband and father.

John M. Hoar Passes Away

The death of John M. Hoar, who died suddenly Wednesday night in his apartment at The Kentuckian Hotel, about 7:30 o'clock, is generally regretted by his large circle of friends in this community and especially his associates in railroad circles.

For many years Mr. Hoar had been troubled with asthma and on Wednesday night had an unusual attack from which he did not recover. His wife was at his side when the end came and did everything possible to revive him. Dr. Major was summoned but before his arrival Mr. Hoar had expired.

John M. Hoar was born in Houghton, Mich., son of a distinguished family of that state. He and his family have made Fulton their home for the past 17 years.

Mr. Hoar entered the railway service Nov. 28, 1898, and since that time had often been promoted. In 1900 he was promoted to engineer in charge of construction (Jackson yards.) In 1904 he resigned but was re-employed in 1906 as assistant engineer B & B department. In 1907 he was assistant engineer maintenance Tennessee division.

In 1911 Division Engineer Construction Louisiana Division; 1912 Supervisor of Track, Sardinia Mississippi Division, Sept. 6, 1912 assistant engineer maintenance Tennessee division.

Mr. Hoar was a member of the Episcopal church.

Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul Cecil and one grandson, Paul Cecil, Jr.

The remains were prepared for shipment by Winstead & Jones Undertaking Co. and were shipped to Jackson, Miss., Thursday for interment, accompanied by Mrs. Hoar, and Messrs. S. J. Holt, W. Daniel, L. H. Bond, E. R. Campbell, G. G. McClatchy, E. S. Crockett.

JUNIOR CLUB FORMED AT CRUTCHFIELD SCHOOL

A Junior club was formed at the Crutchfield school last week by Miss Jackson, home agent, and Mr. McPherson, county agent. 42 girls enrolled in clothing, one girl enrolled in poultry and 24 boys enrolled in calf club and agricultural clubs.

The following officers were elected: Altie B. Roberts, president; Pauline Yates, vice president; Thelma Moore, secretary and treasurer; Aline Yates, program conductor.

BRING IN BIG GAME FROM HUNTING TRIP

The hunting party consisting of B. B. Jones, Cleve Kendall, O. W. Browder and S. B. Moody, returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' hunting party in Clearwater County and the Selway National Forest.

The gentlemen brought back with them, two elk, a deer and a goat. To Mr. O. W. Browder must be given the credit of getting the only goat this season. All members of the party report a most successful trip and an unusually good time while away.—The Enterprise, Malad, Idaho.

FIVE TOBACCO HOUSES SOLD

C. R. Clark, Hopkinsville, director of warehouses, was in charge of the sale at Mayfield Saturday of five warehouses and tobacco storage barns of the warehousing corporation of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association. The five sold for a total of $17,650.

The Lewis tobacco warehouse on Broadway at the railroad crossing, was bought by Ed Gardner, president of the First National Bank, for $8,500.

The Clifton Usher brick barn, corner of North Thirteenth and North streets was bid in at $2,800 by J. I. Palmer. The H. H. Adams barn on the corner of North Fourteenth and Ridgway streets, was bought by W. H. Housman for $1,750.

The two warehouses known as the Wilson & Usher warehouses Nos. 1 and 2, were purchased by J. E. Wilson for a total of $4,600, he paying $2,100 for one and $2,500 for the other.

The bidding was not too spirited, as the tobacco men in the main are in possession of the property they need, and these were bought for use in case of necessity, it was reported.

MEMPHIS CONFERENCE IN SESSION AT PADUCAH

Paducah is entertaining members of one of the largest religious organizations in the south this week. The eighty-ninth annual session of the Memphis Conference of Methodist churches opened at the Broadway Methodist church Tuesday to continue through Sunday and probably Monday. More than four hundred ministers and laymen are attending the conference, which is holding its annual session in Paducah for the first time in eighteen years.

An elaborate program has been arranged which includes formal business session each morning, meetings of the various boards in the afternoon and religious services each evening with some of the outstanding ministers of southern Methodist churches occupying the pulpit. Dr. O. W. Bradley, pastor of the St. John's church, Memphis, delivered the opening sermon at the Broadway Methodist church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Following these services holy communion services were held with Bishop H. M. DuBose and his cabinet of eight presiding elders in charge.

$87,000 Members Represented

The Memphis Conference is one of the largest organizations of its type in the south, there being only three similar organizations that are larger. There are 87,000 members of the conference, which has 226 active ministers and 20 relief ministers known as "supplies." There are 114 ministers living in the various districts who are available to relieve active ministers. There are eight districts with a presiding elder for each district.

Bishop DuBose is serving his fourth year at the head of the conference. Besides the Memphis conference, which includes West Tennessee and West Kentucky, Bishop DuBose is in charge of the Holston Conference, which includes a part of Tennessee and Virginia, and the Tennessee Conference, which includes East Tennessee and the Middle Tennessee territory.

Mrs. Gertrude Taylor Sherry Called by Death

The messenger of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Taylor Wednesday morning and carried away the spirit of their beloved daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Sherry. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon by the Rev. B. J. Cantrell, pastor of the First Christian Church of which the deceased was a faithful member for more than 20 years. Interment followed in Fairview cemetery with the Fulton Undertaking Co. in charge.

This leaves another Fulton home in sadness and the entire community is bowed in grief with the bereaved. Everything possible was done to prolong the life of this much loved woman, but death came to relieve her of all suffering and pain.

Mrs. Sherry was born in Fulton Feb. 28, 1881, and lived here the best part of her life. She was united in marriage Nov. 28, 1921 to Mr. John E. Sherry of St. Louis and removed to that city with her husband where she endeared herself to many friends who are also grieved at her passing.

Besides her husband she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Taylor, one brother, H. F. Taylor, Jr., one sister, Mrs. T. D. McWhorter, two nieces and one nephew.

WORLD FAMOUS BLONDE COMING TO TOWN

World-famous characters will be entertained in Fulton next week when "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" plays at the Grand theater.

Monday and Tuesday, Fulton will be host to Lorelei Lee, the champion gold digger of all time, to Dorothy, Lorelei's wisecracking friend, and to the dozen other characters which Anita Loos invented when she wrote her famous little satirical book. Paramount has made it into a screen comedy and it will be the feature attraction at the Grand next week.

Besides Lorelei and Dorothy, local movie patrons can meet Sir Francis Beekman, Lady Beekman, Gus Eisman, the Chicago Button King, Henry Spofford and even Lulu, Lorelei's maid. They have all come to life in the screen version of one of the best of "best-sellers." Lorelei is played by Ruth Taylor, an "unknown" when selected for the role but who is said to be headed straight for stardom. Dorothy is Alice White, petite screen flapper, and the cast includes as well, such famous comedy players as Chester Conklin, Holmes Herbert, Ford Sterling, Trixie Friganza, Emily Fitzroy and Mack Swain.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Although the Fulton High Football team has met defeat in every encounter except one this year, it has shown indomitable spirit and has gone out on the field each time with grim determination to do its best. Fulton still has two very hard games on its schedule for this season. Both of these games will be played away from home, the first to be played with Mayfield at Mayfield next Friday, and the last to be played at Union City on Thanksgiving. Fulton's team is still going strong although two of its most staunch members, Nelson and Smith will not play any more this season. Coach Hughes is preparing the team for the coming hard struggles by introducing new plays and thus strengthening the team in general. The Bulldogs have done hard work this season and deserve much credit for their wonderful fighting spirit.

For the past week Mr. Myers has been reading a most interesting book on Old Egypt. This book is written from translated manuscripts found in the coffin of an Egyptian mummy which was recently excavated. The story reveals the plot of the rightful king of Egypt and Charman, one of Cleopatra's ladies-in-waiting, to murder the false queen and restore the rightful Pharaoh to the throne, and so far the story has proved intensely interesting.

"RAMONA," SPECIAL PRODUCTION AT ORPHEUM MONDAY AND TUESDAY

"Ramona," the book written by Helen Hunt Jackson, is in its 94th printing. It is still one of the very live books in novel history. The movies have made it into a feature film play and it will come to the Orpheum, Monday and Tuesday.

Dolores Del Rio is the star of the film and plays the title role. Warner Baxter, Roland Drew, Vera Lewis, Michael Visaroff, Carlos Amor, John T. Prince, Mathilde Comant, and others appear in the star's support.

Inspiration Pictures and Edwin Sarewe produced "Ramona" for United Artists release. It is a gripping story of early California and is filled with romance, as if those witnessing it on the screen, were turning the pages of golden history in the days of the Missions and the Spanish Dons. It's too good to miss.

SCHOOL NOTES

Rev. A. N. Walker was the speaker at the chapel program last Wednesday and delivered a most interesting address on "Prayer."

On Thursday morning, Mr. Myers read the introduction of a recently published book on Old Egypt. This was very interesting and told of the recent excavations in some of the ancient tombs of the Egyptian kings and queens.

A pep meeting was held in Chapel on Friday morning, led by Marie Holloway, Luella Wood, Grace Hill, Mr. Swann then made a short talk, urging every one to be present at the game, despite the weather. The Murray team came down Friday and met the Bulldogs in a closely contested game, in which Murray was the victor with a score of 6-0.

Rev. Malphurs of the Church of Christ, spoke in chapel Monday morning on the courage of your convictions, giving as examples, Saul of Tarsus, Martin Luther, Francis E. Willard and other great figures of history, who stood so firmly for their convictions.

Tuesday, Mr. Myers gave a most interesting address on the political development of our country since the time of Washington. He also told of the evolution of the various parties and our system of electing a President.

In Miss Martin's history class a mock election was held Tuesday. Before a student's vote could be counted, he had to take an intellectual test and make 70 on it. The results of this mock election are to be compared with the returns of the national election.

FARM NOTES

Kentucky Juniors Win at National Dairy Show

Kentucky Junior agricultural club boys and girls won three first prizes at the National Dairy Show at Memphis, in competition with hundreds of farm boys and girls from other states. Their group of five Jersey calves won top honors in competition with similar groups from 30 states, won first place in another class for groups from any one county in the United States, and Perry Harrison, a Kentucky junior club boy, won highest honors as a showman.

The five calves which topped their classes were owned by Opal Rogers, Emma Brown, Perry Harrison and Yancey Bennett, of Calloway county. They won first in a similar class at the Kentucky State Fair and were then sent to Memphis to enter the national competition, where they led the nation. Their owners received a total of $450 in cash prizes at the national show.

In addition to owning prize winning stock, which will be the foundation for productive dairy herds, the Calloway county club members are obtaining valuable training in stock raising, dairying and showmanship. P. H. Wilson, the Calloway county agent, is not only training many future farmers, but is promoting dairy on scores of farms in his county.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The most spectacular motion picture in the history of the cinema will be offered patrons of the Orpheum when Universal's stupendous production of Victor Hugo's classic, "The Man Who Laughs," starts Monday for 2 days.

This beautiful romance of a maimed mountebank and a beautiful blind girl, enacted by Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin, was directed by Paul Leni, internationally celebrated master of direction.

Lavishly beautiful settings and romantic atmosphere feature this photoplay, the period of which is laid in England in 1705, during the reign of Queen Anne. The many famous figures of her court move prominently through the picture.

"The Man Who Laughs," is promised as even more magnificent and gripping than "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the Victor Hugo classic brought to the screen so impressively by Universal years ago.

CONGRESS SHIFTS ARE CERTAIN

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Democratic congressional seats apparently were caught in the Republican landslide that saw Herbert Hoover pile up an unprecedented lead over Governor Smith with more than three fourths of the state's votes tabulated at ten o'clock tonight.

While the three Republican members of the lower house, Mrs. Katherine Langley, John M. Robison and Maurice E. Thatcher, enjoyed comfortable leads over Democratic opponents, six Democratic incumbents found themselves hard pressed, four of them actually trailing the opposition, while J. Lincoln Newhall, Republican, was leading in the sixth district where Orie S. Ware, Democrat, did not re-appear.

W. Voris Gregory and David Kincheloe, Democrats, led by narrow margins in the first and second districts.

Hales - Baker

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hales announced the engagement of their daughter, Hilda to Mr. Donald H Baker of Washington, D. C. The wedding will take place December 1st in Calvary Baptist church, Washington. Miss Hales was reared in Fulton, but has been employed in Washington for quite awhile. She has many friends here who will wish her much happiness in her married life.

Smith Calls on Democracy to Keep Fighting

Governor Alfred E. Smith told the country over the radio Tuesday night that the principles of the Democratic party were as great in defeat as they would have been in victory, and that it was the party's duty "to carry on and vindicate" the principles for which he had fought.

Standing before a microphone in a national broadcasting studio the defeated Democratic presidential candidate delivered what many called his political valedictory.

His speech broadcast over a nationwide hookup of stations, urged united support of Herbert Hoover, although he did not mention by name—asserting that the man selected by the people Nov. 6 to lead the country was "not the president of the Republican party, but president of the United States."

It would not do, said Governor Smith, to let bitterness, rancor or indignation over the result "blind us to the fact that we are Americans."

Everyone is Tax Payer

Even the poorest person on earth pays taxes. One does not have to be possessed with a big amount of real estate, or even own a home, to become a tax payer.

All of us pay just as surely as if we owned town houses, country homes, broad acres of farm lands, stock, bonds, mills or factories. We all have to eat or starve to death. If the owner of the property in which the grocer has his store has to pay higher taxes, the grocer has to pay higher rent and we have to pay the grocer higher prices for our food.

We all have to sleep if we want to live. If the person who owns the house where we live has to pay higher taxes, we have to pay higher rent, of course.

If the railroads have to pay higher taxes, they have to charge higher rates to haul everything we consume, and naturally the increase is tacked on to the paying end—that's where the ultimate consumer hooks on.

Out of every eight dollars of our national income, one dollar goes for taxes—federal state and local.

This means that the boy whose expenses are eight dollars a week pays one dollar in taxes in the form of prices made higher by taxation.

The same ratio prevails, regardless of the cost of living, though you may not own a dollar's worth of taxable property.

When it comes to dealing with the question of taxes, we need to be more honest with ourselves.

We need to understand that we can not continue to load on overhead and not have our pocket-books feel it.

Governments are like individuals. The only way they can economize is to spend less money. As long as people clamor for legislation to cure this or that fancied evil, just so long will taxes continue to be higher and in some cases oppressive.

Here You Are!

Shopping Isn't the Trouble it used to be...

ONE doesn't have to be ancient to recall the days when shopping involved a personal visit to the marts of trade. For it was not so many years ago when the housewife, if she would shop, had no other choice than to jog about from one store to another.

But since the advent of the telephone, the shopper, instead of trudging about in person—has only to send her voice. From the moment she lifts the telephone receiver she is within communication of any shop in town.

Of course, the telephone serves its user in many other ways as well. Its presence in the home provides conveniences that cannot be obtained by any other medium.

If you have been trying to manage without a telephone—resolve today to have one. The cost of a few cents a day is returned to you many times in the form of comfort and protection. . . . Installations are made quickly these days. . . . Just ask the Business Office or any telephone employee.

PAUL'S EXPERIENCES IN JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 21:18-23:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—He scorned in the Lord and in the power of His might.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How a Boy Helped His Uncle.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul Proves His Courage.
YOUNG MEN, WOMEN AND ADULT TOPIC—Religious Prejudice and Fanaticism.

I. Paul's Vow (21:18-20).
Upon Paul's arrival at Jerusalem representatives of the church there gave him a most cordial reception. In order that the brethren in Jerusalem might graciously receive him, he was proposed to him by the elders that he take a Jewish vow to prove that he was in no way opposed to the law. The effort was to remove prejudices.

II. Paul's Arrest (21:27-30).
How far this act conciliated the Christian Jews we are not told, but it only enraged the unbelieving Jews, causing them to resort to mob law. These madmen Jews on the basis of a supposition seized Paul, dragged him from the temple and beat him mercilessly, intending to put him to death. Paul was rescued from the mob by the Roman guard. The chief captain, not being able to get any information from the howling mob, bound Paul and started for the castle. In order to protect him, the soldiers lifted him upon their shoulders and bore him up the stairs.

III. Paul's Defense (22:1-27).
Paul's chief concern was not his own safety. He used this last opportunity of witnessing for Christ.

1. His just claim for a hearing (vv. 1-3).
(1) His birth (v. 3). He was Jewish in Tarsus, a city of no mean reputation.

(2) His education (v. 3). He was educated in a school under the tutelage of Gamaliel and instructed "according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers."

(3) His zeal (v. 3). He was as zealous toward God as those Jews who were trying to destroy him.

2. His former attitude toward Jesus (vv. 4, 5).

"I persecuted this way unto the death," so that his attitude was one of hatred as was that of the Jews (vv. 6-10).

This change of attitude was brought about by the intervention of God. While on his way to Damascus with authority to bring the Christians to Jerusalem to be punished, Paul was smitten to the ground by a light from heaven, and the voice of the Lord said, "Why persecutest thou Me?" When Paul inquired as to what he was to do, he was told to go into Damascus where he would be told what to do. Ananias was sent by the Lord to make known His will.

4. The Lord commissioned him to go to the Gentiles (vv. 17-21).

It was not of his own will that he preached to the Gentiles, but by the Lord's direct commission.

IV. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (23:1-10).

The Roman officer, in order to learn why Paul was arrested, commanded the chief council to assemble, and brought Paul before them.

1. Paul's earnest look at the council (vv. 1, 2).

This was a solicitation of their honor to give him a fair hearing, and also a look of conscious integrity and unflinching courage.

2. Paul's stern rebuke of the head of the council (v. 3).

"God shall smite thee, thou white wall!" This was a just sentence, no doubt directed by the Lord. Paul showed that he had the highest respect for the office, but the man then occupying it was not worthy of it.

3. Paul's appeal to the Pharisees (vv. 6-10).

Seeing that he could not get a fair hearing, and perceiving that the body before him was made up of Pharisees and Sadducees, he appealed to the Pharisees for his preaching and something in common with their belief.

V. The Lord Stood by Paul (v. 11).

He was in great need of grace to sustain him. He may have begun to question the wisdom of his going to Jerusalem, but this assured him that his course was right, and thus courage was brought to him.

VI. The Conspiracy to Kill Paul (vv. 18-22).

More than forty men banded together for the purpose of getting Paul out of the way. This plot was known to Paul's sister's son (v. 10), who reported it, and thus doubtless saved the apostle's life.

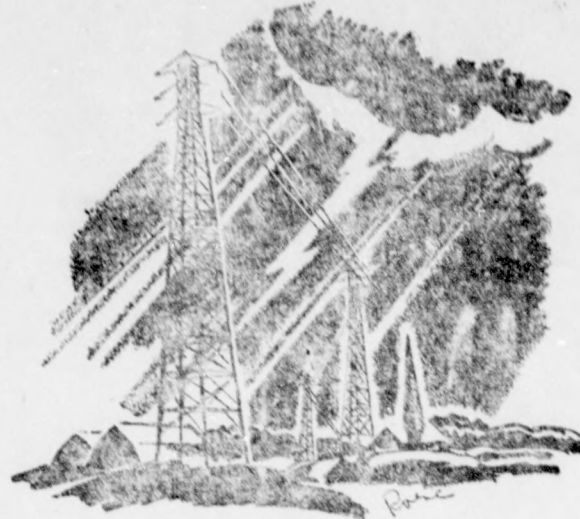

Highway of Holiness

The highway of holiness is along the commonest road of life—along your very way. In wind and rain, no matter how it beats—it is only going hand in hand with Him.—Mark Gay Pearse.

The World's Condition

The world is in a sick condition today because the Bible says: "In the beginning, God" and the world is saying: "At the last, God."—A. W. Tozer.

Lightning!

Gathering clouds . . . Darkening skies . . . Then . . . a loud clap of thunder and sheets of torrential rain, amid vivid flashes of lightning.

Miles of exposed electric wires are in the storm area. Lightning strikes them. Yet, marvelously, electric service is uninterrupted. The lights of the city burn while the storm rages.

The electric light and power companies expect such contingencies and are prepared to overcome them. High-voltage lightning discharges that would burn out transformers and cripple unprotected lines are passed off harmlessly to the ground through intricately constructed lightning arresters.

These silent sentinels of public service are but one of the endless array of safeguards with which the electric light and power companies protect the flow of power which soon will bring to every family and community freedom from toil and drudgery.

Are you getting your share of the inestimable benefits electricity provides?

BEELERTON NEWS

Homer Weatherspoon and Noel Kendall, members of the Beelerton faculty, accompanied by Rupert Phelps and Lowell Weatherspoon, High School boys, left Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for V. I. A. an air dome to No. 9 lake, 16 miles below Hickman, Kentucky, for the purpose of making Saturday a great day for shooting the fowls of nature's great wild. 10:30 Friday night found the lads comfortably and safely sleeping in an old deserted cabin on the bank of the lake, whose roof was being anointed by the large raindrops that were to make the following day a hunter's paradise. At four o'clock Saturday morning, all blankets were turned back and on came a scramble for boots and clothes, as bacon and steaming coffee made the menu for breakfast. The boys had little trouble in putting it away in record time. Back in the east came the rays of great Hannah breaking through the open clouds, accompanied by the constant quack, quack of the green heads as they were leisurely feeding, which gave the boys a thrill never to be forgotten. With the silent oars of two boats pushing quietly into the blinds, the fun was soon to begin. Then and there a sudden but expected explosion occurred, up came the surprised green heads, followed by shots from three pump and one automatic to fill the atmosphere with smoke, feathers and burnt powder, which is life for a hunter. After several repeated processes of this kind the day came to an end. It was found that twenty-one ducks had fallen before the aims of the mighty huntsmen. A great day was declared and a good time was had by all. Plans for another trip are underway.

On Wednesday night of November 28, there will be given in our auditorium a Negro Minstrel by the Junior High Department. It is being sponsored by their teacher, Mr. Noel Kendall. This will be a good program to chase your troubles away. Everyone come.

On next Saturday, November 17, all the school boys are going to improve the campus. Last week some walks were built but there is still room for improvement. A mound of dirt will be moved, Marten boxes will be repaired, basketball courts also will be improved.

Last Wednesday, November 7, the Water Valley High School boys and girls met Beelerton teams on our court where two well played games were witnessed by a very good crowd. Beelerton won both contests by a large score. The Water Valley 7th and 8th grades also came and played our Pee Wee's, the Pee Wee's winning 10-1. Friday afternoon the Pee Wee's played the same team on Water Valley's court. This game was won by the latter, the score being 9-8.

Welfare Workers met at the home of Mrs. P. P. Ridgway, Thursday afternoon with 12 members and one visitor present. Quite an interesting meeting was held. An all day meeting, November 28th at the home of Mrs. Ruth Finch. Flowers will be made and lunch served at the noon hour. The subject, "How Can We Provide Social Entertainment for Our Community," will be discussed. We agreed to meet at Mr. Moore's Friday afternoon, and finish picking their cotton, which we did. It being Mr. Moore's birthday, several remembered the occasion and brought presents. Mr. Moore has been very ill for some time, and is perhaps a little better. Mr. Will Brown, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is much better.

Quite an enthusiastic crowd was out to hear Mr. Bull discuss "More Money in Farming," Saturday evening. A class of 18 was organized to study soil improvement under Mr. Bar-rax, Smith-Hughes teacher, at Chestnut Glade, beginning Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. E. J. Brundage was elected president. Vasco Simpson, secretary of this class. We hope much good will be accomplished.

Mrs. Carl Kimberlin gave a quilting last Friday. 18 ladies were present and six quilts were finished. Quite a day's work accomplished and greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Roy Waits has bought the north part of Mr. A. J. Butts' farm, 40 acres of it. It is rumored that Mr. Butts will move to his part of the farm, and that Rby will likely go to Detroit.

Mrs. Elta Kinkley, who spent the last two weeks with her brother, W. H. Finch, is now visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Foy.

Mr. Frank Temple was run over by a calf Saturday evening and is still suffering from his injuries.

A PROCLAMATION

The American Red Cross, by its work of mercy and relief following disasters of every character which have come to the different sections of our country has endeared itself to the hearts of the people throughout the world. Within the last few months it has ministered to those who suffered in the Mississippi Valley, floods in New England, the St. Francis Dam Disaster in California, and the recent storm area in Florida, and many National catastrophes.

Such humanitarian service must not be overlooked. We who have been fortunate enough not to be immediately touched in any of these losses should show our gratitude by joining our local organization, and thereby contributing to the relief of those who have been less fortunate.

Your local chapter of the American Red Cross is your agent and mine in the work of relief to the extent we contribute to the support of the work.

Wherefore, I, W. O. Shankle, Mayor of the City of Fulton, Kentucky, am happy to call attention of the citizens to the Twelfth Annual Roll Call of the American National Red Cross, which is now in progress and ends Thanksgiving Day and urge your hearty cooperation when called upon to join your local organization.

W. O. SHANKLE,
Mayor of Fulton, Kentucky.

CHILD CHOKES TO DEATH

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 11.—Swallowing an open safety pin caused the death of Agnes Ruth Hagan, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hagan, Paducah. She died at Riverside hospital last night. The child playing around the house, picked up the pin and swallowed it. She was rushed to the hospital, but every effort of doctors to save her life was vain. Funeral services were held today, with burial in Mt. Carmel Cemetery.

HEALTH REPORT OF FULTON COUNTY

October 4, 1928.
Dr. P. E. Blackerby, Director,
Bureau County Health Work,
State Board of Health,
Louisville, Ky.

My dear Dr. Blackerby:

I submit the following summary of work of the Fulton County Health Department during the months of July, August, and September, 1928.

Early in July the Director went before the Fulton County Fiscal Court and Hickman City Council, urged a "Sanitary Campaign," and received splendid cooperation. Handbills, signed by the Mayor of Hickman, County Judge and County Health officer, calling attention to certain ordinances having for their purpose the prevention of malaria, typhoid fever and all insect borne diseases, were distributed to every home in Hickman and vicinity.

At the same time a "Typhoid Warning" was issued and all persons unprotected by inoculation against typhoid fever were urged to see their family physician at once. Certain days and hours were designated at the Health Department offices in both Fulton and Hickman when all indigent persons in Fulton County could receive typhoid inoculation free. The response was most gratifying as was evidenced by the Health Department administering 721 doses of typhoid vaccine during this quarter. The director and public health nurse visited many homes in the river "bottoms," including "Madrid Bend," instructing the occupants in malaria and typhoid control. Accompanied by Mrs. Chas. B. Travis, President of the local American Red Cross Chapter an efficient and enthusiastic civic worker, they visited, examined and instructed cases of tuberculosis, notably in the Madrid Bend section.

On August 11, a typical case of poliomyelitis about one mile east of Hickman, was reported. The director accompanied by Dr. J. T. Baker, local member of the County Board of Health, and Mrs. J. A. Fisher, Community Nurse, made a full investigation of the case and environments. The health officer had the house screened, premises cleaned, all toilets in the neighborhood made fly proof and all contacts quarantined for two weeks. Mr. A. Robbins, Chairman of the Hickman Section of the Advisory Committee to the Health Department, suggested to the Director that a joint meeting be arranged immediately between the Health Department, the Advisory Committee, the Hickman City Council and Lions Club. This was done and the Health Officer was very much encouraged in the "Clean Up" campaign. Two high school graduates, Richard Goadler and William Johnston, were employed by the Health Department to make a house to house survey of premises and toilets in Hickman and vicinity. Their splendid work was checked closely by the Health Officer and in some instances it was necessary to have nuisance warrants served by the police authorities.

I desire here to express the sincere appreciation of the Health Department to the officials of the County and City administrations for their full cooperation in this "Clean-Up" campaign. However, the splendid success of efforts to improve sanitary conditions was due more to the civic pride of our citizens, both owner and tenant, white and black, than to any other factor.

We are very grateful to you for granting our request for a State Sanitary Inspector by sending Mr. John Kirk. He and the Director, accompanied by Capt. H. T. Slade, local U. S. Government engineer and representatives of the N. C. & St. L. R. R. in making a survey of the West Hickman drainage district and urged adequate drainage as an important Public Health measure. Mr. Kirk and the Director inspected and corrected numerous insanitary conditions in Fulton, Hickman and Cayce.

While inspecting a restaurant the director observed an employe in the kitchen whom he suspected of having syphilis. He required the employe to come to the health office for examination. His blood showing a positive syphilitic infection, the proprietor of the restaurant was advised to dismiss this employe until he had been treated regularly for a definite period. This was done. The syphilitic employe comes regularly to the health department venereal clinic and in due time will be returned to his former work in the restaurant. I may say here, that during this quarter 326 nuisances have been abated and we have made 30 inspections of hotels and restaurants, 5 of dairies and 3 of canning factories.

The county health department issued a warning to all persons handling or selling food at the Fulton County Fair that every precaution must be observed to protect food from flies and that all garbage, rubbish and empty cans must be deposited in covered containers. A close watch was kept on food stands, garbage, stables and toilets at the Fulton County Fair and we were very much pleased in seeing so very few flies. A health booth was also most efficiently maintained by our nurses at the Fulton County Fair.

The director, accompanied by Mr. Otis French, inspected many premises and conditions in alleys in the City of Fulton and made an effort to have some people more careful of the disposition of garbage, etc. The director met with the Fulton City Council and made some suggestions which were well received. Mr. Ed Hanneppin and Mr. Smith Atkins were designated by the Mayor to work with the health officer in requiring all property owners to connect with a sewer if one was available. These gentlemen worked faithfully and with the health officer suggested to the council such additional sewers as in their judgment would enable every home in Fulton to be connected with a sewer. The director conferred with the Tennessee authorities concerning the Imhoff tank which belongs to the City of Fulton, and is located in South Fulton, Tenn.

During this quarter we have held 25 venereal clinics and treated 109 cases. One woman was quarantined in the county jail.

We desire to express our great appreciation of the valuable assistance of Mrs. J. A. Fisher, community nurse, of Hickman and Miss Orleans French, community nurse, of Fulton, in our venereal clinics, in our child health conferences and upon many other occasions. At the four child health conferences held during this quarter (no conference being held in August) 108 children of preschool age were examined and their parents advised. The Director would like to acknowledge his indebtedness to his son, Dr. Hugh L. Prather, for his valuable work at the July Child Health Conferences, and for his many practical suggestions concerning Public Health work in general.

The first of September the work of the health department was centered upon our schools. A check of all who had not been vaccinated against small pox was made in the schools of Fulton and Hickman and is being extended to all rural schools as rapidly as possible.

We are very much pleased at the relatively small number of children in our schools requiring vaccinations. These are in almost every instance limited to children who are entering school for the first time or who have come in from other counties. We have vaccinated against smallpox only 266 children during the quarter and yet we have not excused a single one for any cause whatever.

In our school work, we have during the quarter, made 69 school visits distributed in every section of the county from Fulton to Madrid Bend, have delivered 16 lectures in as many schools, administered 228 doses of diphtheria toxin-anti-toxin and a proportional number of the 721 doses of typhoid vaccine which was given during the quarter.

Among the communicable diseases reported, there have been diphtheria, 1; whooping cough, 11; infantile paralysis, 2; and scarlet fever, 10; all of which were rigidly quarantined during the periods of infectivity.

Many friends to the health work have given us valuable assistance and we are especially indebted to the three newspapers published in Fulton County for their able, courteous and gratuitous support.

Trusting that this narrative report will receive your approval, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
Hugh E. Prather, Director
Fulton County Health Department

Last Saturday, Mrs. B. A. Winston and son, Kindred, Mrs. Claude Nelson and her son, Hillon and Miss Mina Lee Corley drove to Martin and attended the school club fair.

Dukedom's second Sunday singing was more than a success last Sunday, as we could not seat near all the people and the class was the best we have ever had. The singers were from Mayfield, Fulton, Dresden, Sedalia, Sharon, Oregon Spring and a number we did not get where they were from. H. O. Cashon called on the following visiting leaders: Cecil Lee, Cleave Pettit, Dutch Carney, Albert Brundrige, Prof. Wilford Joe Leach, Em Cashon, Herschel Cashon, Lee Perry, Charley Sandefur, Genie Crockett. Small Town Industry.

It appears that the smaller cities and towns of the country are rapidly coming into their own in an industrial way. Many industrial plants are seeking locations not in the congested centers of population, but in smaller communities advantageously located with respect to raw materials, transportation, electric power and a dependable labor supply.

One of the most striking examples of this movement is seen in the installment of 100,000 new cotton spindles by a single manufacturing corporation in Alabama this year. Instead of placing all these spindles in one locality, they are being distributed among ten small towns, 10,000 spindles going to each.

This is only one of many similar movements of industrial establishments toward the smaller communities, but it is the largest single movement of its kind so far announced. It should give encouragement to any town, regardless of size, where favorable conditions exist for carrying on a manufacturing enterprise.

An industrial payroll is a valuable asset in supplementing the resources of agricultural sections by giving employment to surplus labor, creating a better market for products of the farm and otherwise stimulating growth and progress. Every community should make the most of its opportunities for securing such payrolls.

FEEDING SCHOOLS.

The department of Annual Husbandry cooperating with the County Agent will put on a two day feeding school. The date is Nov. 26th and 27th. On the morning of the 26th the school will open at 10 o'clock in the court house at Fulton and will last most of the day. The other two schools will be held on the 27th at Cayce in the morning and Sylvan Shade in the afternoon.

These schools are to be held for the benefit of those who are feeding dairy cows. Large crowds are expected at the schools. The speakers will show you how to feed to the best advantage the home grown feeds and the most economical feeds to buy.

Schools of this kind has been held through the large dairy sections of the country and the farmer look forward to their coming with much interest.

More publicity will be given this subject later.

Relieving Themselves.

Practically everybody would be glad to see some practical means of farm relief brought about by legislation, but the wise farmer is not depending too much on politicians for a betterment of his condition.

Some instances in which farmers have successfully sought relief through better methods are related in a recent magazine article which gives food for thought. Here are a few:

John D. Brader of Oswego, Kan., rented out 1/2 of his land 7 years ago and devoted the rest to dairy cattle and poultry. From 17 cows and 250 hens he cleared $2,600 last year. 15 years ago he was a re-ter; now he owns his farm and is president of a bank.

A. E. Nelson of Gonvick, Minn., found a few dairy cows profitable so he increased his herd, likewise increasing his monthly milk check to an average of $308.

Henry Hogeman of Emmet county, Iowa, got out of the beaten path by raising 30 acres of beets which brought him $3,600 last season. William Mollson, another Iowa farmer, raised a big flock of poultry in connection with his other farming operations and made money.

In many sections of the south the "cow, sow and hen" are bringing prosperity to farmers who formerly grew poorer and poorer through depending on cotton alone. In every state many progressive farmers are bettering their condition by similar means.

There is no denying that agriculture is in a bad way generally, but a better planned farm program would enable many farmers to overcome this condition to a great extent.

A Community Asset.

Speedy, economical and dependable railway freight service is a community asset of the first importance, declares President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central System in his November letter to the public, which discusses that branch of railroading under the title of "Every Shipment Helps".

"Its availability is a primary consideration in the location of industrial and commercial enterprises," he continues. "Its contribution to agricultural development is indicated, for example, by the strides made in fruit and vegetable growing in the territory through which my railroad runs."

Aside from speed, economy and dependability, railway freight service today is characterized by ample capacity and its ability to handle any kind of shipment, President Downs explains. The heaviest and the lightest, the largest and the smallest, those going a few mile and those going thousands are accommodated with equal facility.

Special types of cars provide refrigeration, heat or protection from moisture, as may be required. Shipments can be traced without difficulty. A high degree of safety for shipments is backed up by the assurance of financial responsibility in case of damage or loss.

"Large shipments, of course, do most to swell the volume of traffic, but every shipment, even the smallest, helps to keep the railroad busy and to make possible good service at low prices," President Downs concludes.

Pullets Need Care or the Owner Loses

Pullets are especially good property this season due to prospective high prices for poultry and eggs during the coming year. However, proper preparation of pullets for high winter production is essential to profitable production regardless of high prices, declares R. M. Smith, of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

More poultrymen lose out because of low production than because of low prices paid for what their flocks produce. The following suggestions may help toward increasing production:

1. Place the pullets in their permanent laying quarters before they start production and allow at least 3 1/2 square feet of floor space for each bird. Do not keep more pullets than can be comfortably housed.

2. Do not fail to cull out and sell all undersized, deformed and weak pullets.

3. Treat each pullet individually for lice and tape worms, using sodium flouride powder for lice, and one grain kamala tablets for tape worms.

4. Treat the flock for round worms with a two weeks supply of dry mash to which 2 per cent tobacco dust has been added and mixed.

5. Keep laying mash before the flock at all times.

6. Feed heavily of a good scratch grain mixture, which should contain at least 50 per cent corn. Pullets must be in good flesh at the beginning of their laying season, if they make good winter layers.

Picture above is from Bell County. The Cumberland River turns to meet the Rhododendron Highway. The beauty of this road would be greatly enhanced by plantings. Photograph on the right is from Jefferson County. Close scrutiny of this picture shows that some one has planted a Privet hedge at the top as an initial effort towards beautifying this highway.

The DAIRY

WIN AFFECTIONS OF MILKING COW

A calf should never be allowed to nurse its dam more than once or twice to get the colostrum, or first milk, and it is even better for the cow to not allow the calf to nurse at all for this first milk can be fed by hand from a pail as well as the after milk. But this is done for the benefit of the cow not the calf. The cow's affection for her calf increases the longer it is left with her.

The sooner the calf is taken away the easier it is for the dairymen to get her to transfer some of this affection for her calf to him, and the more he succeeds in doing this, the greater success will be had in training the cow to yield her milk to him instead of the calf. If he is unable to transfer any of this affection to himself then he will fail to produce the greatest milk production from the cow. The cow doesn't yield milk because she likes to, or has to, but because she wants to sustain the life of her calf. Now, the right kind of a person can succeed in getting himself substituted almost entirely in the affection of the cow for her calf and if he does he is on the road to develop the cow to her full capacity as a milk producer.

Hence the best dairymen separate the calf from the cow very soon after birth; by being kind to the cow encourage her to bestow some of her affection for her calf on him and feed the calf from a pail all he will eat until properly fattened. You will get just about as good veal, few butchers can tell the difference, and you have not spoiled your cow as a milk-producing machine.

Find That Dairy Herd Are 20 Per Cent Culls

A dairy cow that fails to return $2.50 for every dollar spent on her feed, is seldom worth keeping. That means that she must produce 10,000 pounds of milk each year at present prices, according to analysis of cow testing association figures in a north-eastern Ohio county.

Assuming that dairy herds in this county are typical of the dairy sections of the state, more than 20 per cent of the dairy cows of Ohio ought to be discarded, says S. M. S. Osbury, animal husbandry extension specialist at the Ohio State university.

"Of the 182 cows completing a full year's test, the lowest ten made an average production of 3,429 pounds of milk," he reports, "while six cows at the other end of the line averaged 12,740 pounds each for the same period."

"In the lowest group of ten are considered all the cows in the survey which produced less than 1,000 pounds of milk a year. This is the group that in the opinion of most men is not represented in their herds. It is not until the scales are regularly used that such cows are credited with their rightful production."

"An average of 9,500 pounds for the herd will set the lowest limit for an individual at 7,500 pounds. This should be our goal in dairy production work."

Babcock Tester Shows Yield of Butterfat

No one can tell for sure whether or not a cow is worth keeping unless he knows how much milk she yields, how much butterfat there is in her milk and how much feed she consumes. The man who can guess these things correctly isn't living! But it is easy to find out about a cow. If the milk is weighed at each milking, the record will tell exactly how many pounds of milk each cow gives during any lactation period. The Babcock tester, if used once each month, will disclose how the butterfat runs. And if some sort of record of the food eaten is kept, it becomes a simple matter to figure out whether or not a cow is a "lady boarder" or contributing to the farm income.

Dairy Squibs

The silo on the dairy farm is a "tower of prosperity."

Calves should have salt as soon as they begin to eat hay and grain.

If you want to make the old cow think all next winter is June plan to have some silage for her.

There are many who like the flavor and odor of vegetables, but there are not many who like them mixed with cream or butter.

Warm water is also essential for dairy cows. Milk consists of about 87 per cent water and anything which will cause the animals to consume less than the normal amount of water will cause a decrease in the milk flow.

Now is the season to look over the dairy stable and see what improvements or changes can be made that will lessen labor or increase the comfort of the cows. Less labor decreases costs and greater cow comfort increases yields and profits.
