Mr. John Allen Chalk
Broad Street Church
Cookeville, Tennessee

Dear John:

I presume that by this time you are about to get settled in your new location of activity. I do hope that all is well with you and the family. Also, I hope that you have gotten off to a good start at Broad Street.

I believe I saw an article in one of our papers where the church in Dayton, Ohio had just opened a new building for the Bible school work, or maybe it was a new auditorium. Was this the place where you were previously? You, seemingly, were very successful in Ohio and I honestly believe that you will do much to strengthen the cause in Cookeville, more specifically, Broad Street. There is some good potential leadership there, but possibly has been dormant for a number of years. I'm hoping that you are the one man that may be able to bring them out of their state of lethargy.

In reference to you and me: I believe you and I could have made a fine team. The greatest team, possibly, since Moody and Sankey. I think there is no doubt that Cookeville is a good town from many different viewpoints.

I have a meeting in Manchester, Tennessee beginning the 10th of April. A two-Sunday series. I hope to see you during those eight days.

The Salmons family is doing fine at this writing. I'm thankful for that. We're associated with a good church in Midland. The weekly budget calls for a contribution of $1800.00. The church meets that obligation.

Well, John, I wish you would drop a few lines and let me know how things are going and please tell young Haile and Pop the lawyer hello. I believe his name is Flatt.

May I hope to hear from you soon?

Sincerely & Fraternaly,

T. L. Salmons
