Dear John Allen:

I enjoyed very much the opportunity of visiting with you and your wife on the plane and in Dallas the other day. I certainly do appreciate the good work that you are doing.

Enclosed in this letter you will find the outlines that I mentioned, though these do not reflect the presentations by these men in a very complete way. Perhaps at least you can see the trend this movement is taking. I have not made copies of these (the secretary has been out with a sick baby), and so if it is ever convenient you can return them to me. Under questioning the men took a bolder and more clearly defined position.

I surely hope that you and your wife arrived home safely and that your little girl was feeling much better. I look forward to the time when you can be heard here regularly via a Philadelphia station. I am writing to Wally Bullington concerning this. Remember our labors in your prayers.

Yours in Christ,

Charles Moore

PS. After writing this I received your letter. I surely appreciate your efforts, and I will be happy to do anything I can.
