Dear Wayne:

Thanks so much for your kind letter of May 18. I know you must be feeling the burden of getting the Teenage Christian out on schedule. I hope that things continue to go well with you and with the entire foundation.

I do hope we will have a chance to be together sometime in the future. It was great of you to write.

Your brother,

John Allen Chalk

Dear John Allen:

Time has seemed to multiply itself since our last opportunity for a long visit. I really was on the inside track with some information when I read in the headlines that you were not going to law school but were taking control of Sweet Publications as his Executive Editor. Bless you brother. I will park on your doorstep sometime during the next few months for you to instruct me in a crash course in Journalism.

Without wax,

Wayne Baker

My heart has deep concerns for you and know your decision was agonizing
