Gentlemen:

I have no record of the balance that I allegedly owed Pax House. I would appreciate an itemized statement listing books by name that I supposedly owe the amount mentioned in your letter.

I will be happy to pay any honorable obligation, provided you can indicate what it is that I owe you.

Sincerely yours,

John Allen Chalk

Dear Mr. Chalk,

We have taken over the bookselling business of PAX BOOKS of Ipswich and with the goodwill we have also found several outstanding accounts among them is a balance you are owing of £3.11. 3. This has been outstanding since April of last year and we feel that it must have been forgotten by you owing to few reminders going out from Pax House.

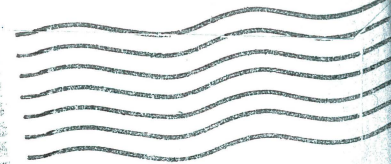

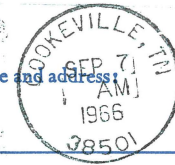

We are writing this air mail letter in the first place to ask you to give this matter your urgent consideration. It may be that this amount has slipped your memory and you will appreciate the reminder. We feel, in view of its long outstanding nature, that we must give it some consideration as regards what action we might have to take to press for its settlement.

We hope you will co-operate in this matter and give it urgent thought.

Yours faithfully,

Pax Books.
