FROM DEAN CHAPMAN

Fall Registration This Week

Registration forms are available in the Registrar's office; Registration Bulletins are available outside the cafeteria. It is important for you to submit your forms to the Registrar according to the schedule set forth in the Registration Bulletin.

Remember, the Bursar must stamp your form before it can be submitted to the Registrar. The university's head Bursar, Julie Collins, will be in law school Bursar's office, Room 290, on Monday and Tuesday, April 17 and 18 from 2:30 to 6:00 p.m. to discuss tuition problems with students.

Late Schedule Additions and Corrections

A salmon-colored sheet describing the following new course and containing additional course descriptions and faculty biographies is on the table outside the cafeteria.

New Course Added: Federal Criminal Law, course number 328-001-03, three credit hours, will be taught on MWTh, 12:50 - 1:45 p.m. by Prof. Pat Cotter. The final exam will be on Friday, December 15 at 8:30 a.m. The course is described on page 164 of the Law School Bulletin.

Prerequisite for Corporate Finance: Business Organizations is a prerequisite for Corporate Finance; this was inadvertently omitted from the schedule.

Gaming Law Description The description for the Gaming Law course appears on page 176 of the Bulletin under seminars. The description is essentially the same but it will be a course, not a seminar, and a seminar paper will not be required.

The Advanced Tax Transactions seminar may be changed from Wednesday at 4:00 p.m to Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. This decision will be made tonight and will be posted and broadcast on email tomorrow, Tuesday.

Exams on Computer

A list of professors who have authorized their students to take their final exams on computer is posted on the Registrar's bulletin board. Students in these courses who want to take their exam on computer should sign up in the Registrar's office by Wednesday April 26, 1995 at 6:00 p.m., not April 29, as incorrectly stated in the last Record. Students eligible to take exams on computer will be posted by Friday, April 28.

Class Days

Regular classes meet through Monday, May 1, 1995. On Tuesday, May 2, 1995, only Friday classes meet; this is the Good Friday make-up day.

Final Exams

Final exams begin Monday, May 8; a copy of the final exam schedule is attached to this Record.

Please review Section VII of the Handbook for the rules regarding exams, conflicts, make-up exams, missed exams and related issues. Section 7.2 provides that students do not have an exam conflict unless they have two exams scheduled at the exact same time or three consecutive exams. Students who want to reschedule a final exam must complete a Final Exam Reschedule Form available in the Registrar's office which must be signed by the instructor and Dean Fenton. The student must also sign an Affirmation of Nondisclosure affirming that he or she has not, or will not communicate with anyone about any aspect of the exam.

Section 7.3 of the Handbook states that students are expected to take exams when scheduled, although ill or inconvenienced. However, for serious illness or other extraordinary or compelling reason beyond the control of the student, an instructor may excuse a student from taking the exam at its scheduled time. Day students will not be excused from an examination for a job-related reason. Section 7.4 deals with make-up exams. Please call Dean Fenton if you have any questions regarding rescheduling final exams.

Student Evaluations

Beginning this week, faculty evaluations will be distributed in classes. The questionnaire is taken to elicit student opinion regarding the quality of teaching at the law school. Instructors will consider the results of the questionnaires in seeking to improve the quality of their instruction and courses. The results of the questionnaires are considered as one important factor in tenure, promotion and compensation decisions regarding full-time faculty and are used as a factor in determining the effectiveness of part-time instructors. The questionnaires are anonymous and will not be available to the professor until after the grades for the course are recorded.

1995 Summer and Fall Registration and Unpaid Tuition Balances

Registration for Summer, 1995 will begin on April 3, 1995 and registration for the Fall, 1995 semester will begin on April 17, 1995. Except as set forth below, students will not be permitted to register if there is any outstanding tuition balance, including the payment due on April 1, 1995.

Please note that the Registration Policy will not be waived in order to allow a student to meet a registration deadline. Therefore, we urge you to allow yourself sufficient time in which to complete the necessary paperwork (it usually takes 2-3 days to process Petition requests for approval).

Procedure for Registering with an Outstanding Tuition Balance

A student will be allowed to register with an outstanding tuition balance only if he/she has been approved to receive one or more of the following loans for the Spring 1995 semester to pay the balance:

1. Stafford Loan
2. Perkins Loan
3. Law Access Loan (LAL) or Law Student Loan (LSL), and/or
4. other institutional loan/s (bank, etc.)

Students will not be allowed permission to register for any reason other than those listed above.

Students should complete the Petition to Register with an Unpaid Balance form in order to be considered for registration with a past balance. Petition forms may be picked up at the REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, Suite 220, the BURSAR'S OFFICE, Room 290, or from the rack outside of the ADMINISTRATION, FINANCE and CLE OFFICE, Suite 265. Please submit application forms to the Office of the Assistant Dean of Administration, Finance and CLE, Suite 265.

The following information must be completed on the Petition form:

1. Bursar's confirmation of the current outstanding tuition balance amount (inserted and initialed by the Bursar, Gina Regis, on the petition form).
2. Financial Aid's verification of the loan amounts which are forthcoming (inserted and initialed by Kari Smith or Deb Hill on the petition form).

Legal Writing Teaching Assistants for 1995-96

Applications are now being accepted for Legal Writing Teaching Assistants for the year 1995-96. Only students who will be graduating in June, 1996 may apply. Teaching Assistants work closely with the Legal Writing Professors in teaching legal research, creating assignments and grading student papers. They also work closely with students in drafting and revising their work. Applicants should have received superior grades (B+ or above) in their Legal Writing courses and have a strong interest in helping other students to master the skills of legal research and writing. Membership on Law Review or Moot Court is desirable, but is not a requirement of the job. Teaching Assistants receive two hours of academic credit each semester and salary equal to the tuition for two credit hours each semester.

In order to serve as a Teaching Assistant you must be available to attend a training session which will take place the week of August 14, prior to the start of Fall semester classes.

Interested students should submit a current resume to Professor Ehrenberg in Room 753 by April 17, and sign up for an interview (which will take place the week of April 17). Please indicate on your resume the name of your first-year legal writing professor and the grades you received in the course. The interview will last approximately 20 minutes and then applicants will be asked to complete a short closed-book quiz on grammar, punctuation and citation form.

If you have any questions please contact Professor Ehrenberg.

Review Sessions for Professor Sherman's Fall Exams

Any students interested in reviewing their performance on last fall's final examinations in Employee Benefits Law or Federal Transfer Taxes should consult the sign-up sheet on Professor Sherman's office door (Room 741).

Prof. Steinman's Appellate Courts Course

In the fall, Prof. Joan Steinman will be teaching an Appellate Courts course she has not offered before (although a somewhat similar course occasionally has been taught by others). The course description follows. If you are interested in litigation, this course would be useful to you.

Course Description: Appellate Courts, Prof. Joan Steinman -- Appellate courts make important case law decisions and supervise courts below them in the judicial hierarchy. This course will examine the functions of appeals and appellate courts, and the process of appellate review: appellate jurisdiction, standing to appeal, timing of review, vehicles for obtaining review, the breadth and depth of review, and appellate lawmaking. The course also will consider the structure of our appellate courts, and how those courts and Congress have responded, and may in the future respond, to the threat to function posed by the increasing volume of appeals. The course will acquaint students with the contemporary role of appellate counsel and with the U.S. Supreme Court's certiorari policies and practices. Although federal courts will be the main focus, many of the matters discussed also will be pertinent to state appellate systems. Three credit hours.

Fall 1995 Clinical Course

"Interviewing and Counseling Teaches Real-World Law Skills

Students who have taken part in the Advice Desk clinic at the Daley Civic Center say it helped them polish their interviewing skills and learn to quickly evaluate a case under the pressure of a line of waiting clients.

The experience of drafting motions helps students find out how the court system really works outside of the classroom, said Brian Kalata, who has formed his own general practice since graduating from Chicago-Kent. Kalata, who said the first few weeks were "scary," now says the clinic was one of the best things he did during law school.

"All law students should experience the Advice Desk because it gives you more hands-on experience," said Kent graduate Audrey Wade, who added that the practice will serve her well for her plans to become a litigator. "It's a bridge from academia to the real world."

The clinic, an outgrowth of a Chicago Bar Association volunteer program, handles mostly contract and forcible entry and detainer cases. Working at the clinic, an elective course, is coupled with an interviewing and counseling class."

Excerpted from February 12, 1993
CHICAGO DAILY LAW BULLETIN article

Enrollment is limited to students, who as of the Fall 1995 semester, will have received credit for at least three-fifths of the total hourly credits required for graduation and who are in good academic standing. Two pass-fail credit hours. Law 404 Interviewing and Counseling Practice.

IIT Trustee Lecture: NASA's Technology Priorities for the 21st Century

On April 19, as part of the IIT Trustee Lecture Series, Daniel S. Goldin, Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), will share his vision for NASA as it heads into the next millennium. The lecture is at 10:30 a.m. at Hermann Hall Auditorium on IIT's Main Campus, 3241 S. Federal Street, Chicago.

Goldin has served as Administrator of NASA since April 1992. He has overseen the redesign of the proposed international space station and brought the Russians into the program as a full partner. In February, the space shuttle Discovery and the Russian space station Mir joined in a maneuver, the first American-Russian meeting in space since 1975.

Current efforts to develop a truly revolutionary reusable launch vehicle and shoebox-sized, highly autonomous science spacecraft are examples of low-cost, high-ambition programs at NASA. In revitalizing NASA's aeronautics program, Goldin has forged new partnerships with the American aviation industry.

Before coming to NASA, Goldin was vice president and general manager of the TRW Space & Technology Group in Redondo Beach, CA. During his 25 years at TRW, he successfully managed the development of more than a dozen spacecraft and associated advanced technologies and space science instruments.

In 1993, Goldin received the John F. Kennedy Astronautics Award from the Astronautical Society and the Space Pioneer Award from the National Space Society.

To install the tutorial at home download the file from Kentnet. Go to the directory on your home machine where you want to place the tutorials, and type A:\RUNME (or B:\RUNME depending on the drive letter). The program will place the files in that directory. You will need about 2.2 Megs of free space on your hard drive.

To run the tutorial, enter Windows and go to the FILE | RUN menu. Run the file called CIV_PRO.EXE located in the directory where you placed the files. Enjoy.

Virus Alert

Do you have a VIRUS on your disk? The Center for Law and Computers has installed a special computer in the front of Lab 700 that can remove most viruses from your disks. Put the infected disk in the drive and press any key; follow the instructions on the menu. After you have cleaned your disk, let the machine reboot and re-check your disk. If it still has a virus after you have done all this, email HELPDESK. Kentnet computers lock out disks that are infected with a virus. With your help, we can make computer viruses a distant memory here at Chicago-Kent.

CLASS and Computer Center Staff Work the Helpdesk

A schedule has been posted by the Helpdesk in Lab 700. CLASS members staff the helpdesk weekdays during the days and evenings. Additionally, staff from the Center will fill in gaps in the schedule. If you have an email problem, word processing problem, or just general questions about computers, make your first stop the Helpdesk in 700!
