Precinct Convention.

Last Monday night the Democrats of precinct No. 1 of this county, met for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention, which meets Sept. 8 and will elect delegates to attend the Territorial convention which meets Sept. 12, when a candidate for delegate to congress will be nominated.

R. W. Lackey presided and Morris Herzstein acted as secretary. In the precinct convention held last Monday night, the following delegates were elected to attend the county convention: Jack Potter, Juan Duran, Manuel Jager, R. D. Bell, R. Q. Palmer, G. L. Marsh, J. W. Eaton, Ed Edgar, Antonia Garcia, T. S. Snyder, Claudio Maze, Chas. Sanford.

Bryan's Home-Coming.

The Occasion for a Great Jubilee Among Friends And Admirers and Staunch Advocates of Democracy in America.

Mr. Bryan's journey from the coast to his home in Lincoln Nebraska has been one continual ovation, in every city and town through which he passed great crowds gathered to see him or hear the few remarks he might have time to make or perhaps grasp his hand.

His arrival in New York was the signal for such a demonstration as has seldom in the history of this country been accorded a private citizen. The ceremonies celebrating his return from a year of foreign travel were held at Madison Square Garden Aug. 31st.

So touched was Mr. Bryan by the welcome that as he stood waiting for the cheers to subside his eyes filled with tears, and for eight minutes he strode nervously from side to side of the narrow platform. He then delivered one of the most brilliant discourses ever listened to by a body of patriotic people anxious to hear the views of a learned statesman on subjects that concern the vitality of their nation. We regret that space forbids us giving the speech entire for every sentence is a gem. However, we will give a few of the most salient points.

Our Relations With the Philippines.

He said: "Our nation has lost prestige rather than gained it by our experiment in colonization. A tour through the Philippine Islands has deepened the conviction that we should lose no time in announcing our purpose to deal with the Filipinos as we dealt with the Cubans. * * * In so far as our efforts have been directed toward the education of the Filipinos we have rendered them a distinct service, but in educating them we must recognize that we are making colonialism impossible. If we intended to hold them as subjects we would not dare to educate them. Self government with ultimate independence must be assumed if we contemplate universal education in the Philippines."

Election of Senators by Popular Vote.

I return here more convinced than before of the importance of a change in the method of electing United States Senators. There is noticeable everywhere a distinct movement toward democracy in the broadest sense. In all the countries which I have visited there is a demand that the government be brought nearer the people.

"I am within the limits of the truth when I say that the senate has been for some years the bulwark of prelatory wealth, and that it even now contains so many members who owe their election to favor-seeking corporations and are so subservient to their masters as to prevent needed legislation.

The Trust is the Paramount Issue.

While men may differ as to the relative importance of issues, and while the next congress will largely shape the lines upon which the coming presidential campaign will be fought, I think it is safe to say that at present the paramount issue in the minds of a large majority of the people is the trust issue.

I congratulate President Roosevelt upon the steps which he has taken to enforce the anti-trust laws, and my gratification is not lessened by the fact that he has followed the Democratic rather than the Republican platform in every advance he has made. It has been a great embarrassment to him that the platform upon which he was elected was filled with praise of the Republican party's record rather than with promises of reform.

"Even the enthusiastic support given him by the Democrats has enabled the champions of the trusts to taunt him with following Democratic leadership. He has probably gone as far as he could without incurring the hostility of the leaders of his own party. The trouble is that the Republican party is not in a position to apply effective and thorough-going reforms because it has built up through special legislation the very abuses which need to be eradicated."

He spoke of many other vital subjects in his address here and at other places where he spoke.

The party arrived at home in Lincoln, September 5th and the "home folks" welcomed them with every evidence of approval and satisfaction. It was a neighborly welcome, planned as such and carried out in its entirety with that understanding. Lincoln has more Republicans than Democrats, and Mr. Bryan has in the past good humoredly expressed the belief that it would be a task to reform the city politically, but on this occasion there was no line of partisan division, and the welcome extended to both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan was sincere and open handed. Everybody showed good nature; nobody wanted to quarrel about politics, and nearly the whole population showed that it was genuinely glad that so well known a man as Mr. Bryan was their fellow citizen.

President Adopts New Spelling.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 24—President Roosevelt today announced that he has adopted the Carnegie reform spelling and that he has instructed the public printer that all official documents from the White House, including the president's message, shall be printed in accordance with the

This committee has published a list of three hundred words in which the spelling is reformed. This list contains such words as "thru" and "tho" as spelling for "through" and "though."

The president's sanction of this reform movement is regarded as the most effective and the speediest method of inaugurating the new system of spelling throughout the country. It is regarded as more than likely that the respective heads of departments will fall in line with the president's ideas and have their official documents printed

The Automobile of 76 Years Ago.

Inquiry into the earliest forms of the automobile has brought to light Church's steam coach, which ran between London and Birmingham, England, as early as 1830. It was something like a double stage coach and was constructed to carry twenty-eight inside passengers and twenty-two outside. The chauffeur wore a great coat with many capes, as was the style with old-time coachmen.

A committee of the House of Commons was appointed in 1831 to report on the growing automobile movement, and found its practicability fully established. Popular prejudice, however, it was pointed out, was strong and led to the imposition of heavy tolls, fees and licenses, so the motor fiend would seem to have had a rocky road even in those early days.

The railroads, then coming into general use, secured the passage of a law requiring each automobile to keep a man one hundred yards in advance with a red flag by day and a red lantern by night.

SPENT HALF HIS LIFE IN JAIL.

"BIG BILL" MASON, NOTED CRIMINAL, AGAIN BEHIND BARS.

Was Well Known in Chicago Gambling Circles—Arrested in Wisconsin, Sent to Waupun, But Made His Escape.

Laporte, Ind.—The doors of the Indiana state prison have opened again to one of the most noted criminals in the country. His real name is Richard Keegan, but he is best known as "Big Bill" Mason.

Mason as W. T. Wright was sent up under the old law to serve seven years. After about three years he escaped and was finally located at Cherry Hill, Pa. He was given no possible chance after and went out only at the expiration of his term.

"Big Bill" Mason is particularly well known in Chicago, where was the scene of many of his exploits. Around "Mike" McDonald's and George Hankins' gambling houses he was known as the high "roller of faro."

He has pursued all the branches of crime, and while he has been successful in them all he has spent nearly 25 years in prison. So that in the balance he strikes in his fifty-fifth year the account is heavily against him. In the Northfield bank raid, in which he participated with the Younger and James boys, he was "the kid." In all of Mason's arrests he was well provided with "ball money" and was able to get the best of criminal talent at the bar to fight his cases. It was his boast that he never pleaded guilty.

After a wild spectacular career Mason appeared in Chicago and made his headquarters at Dave Thornton's "House of David" in Clark street. He was always well provided with money and ostensibly his business was to make a show of it by buying drinks for anybody and everybody.

Meanwhile he was playing faro in McDonald's place, and occasionally in Hankins' place across the street. He was generally a winner and was accustomed to leave a sum of money in Thornton's to the credit of fellows who were down and out. Usually it was, he said, 10 per cent. of his winnings. If he lost he put a $10 bill there anyway for the same purpose, saying that the Lord and the gambler alike loved a cheerful giver and he wouldn't have luck if he were not ready to divide.

Mason at this time was about 25 or 26 years old. In appearance he was a striking figure, six feet tall, straight as a dart, broad shoulders and with the easy movement and grace of a panther. But his face was against him. It was hard and cruel of expression.

Before he left Chicago, however, he determined to make one big play, and he broke Hankins' bank. A short time before that the house of H. F. Whitton, president of the Wisconsin Central railroad, in Milwaukee, had been entered and robbed. The spoil was traced to a "fence" in Chicago about the time Mason made his big play at Hankins' faro bank.

The "fence" gave Mason away. While the Milwaukee police were arranging to arrest him at Thornton's place the hangers on at the gambling house planned to rob him. Four of them attacked him, but he beat them all and escaped to the street just as the police came up and took him. He was taken to Milwaukee and there induced two detectives to enter his cell on the pretense of giving up. He seized them both and threw them violently against the rear wall of the cell.

In a moment he was out in the corridor and running toward the main entrance. One of the detectives shot him, but he got away. A few nights afterward a badly wounded man dragged himself to the door of the house of J. I. Case, in Racine, owner of Jay-Eye-See, the trotting horse. He was delivered up to the police and sent to Waupun state prison for eight years.

Waupun is regarded as one of the safe prisons of the United States, but Mason sawed his cell door, sawed the bars from a window out of the cell-house, a task that under the circumstances must have taken some weeks, scaled a wall and was free. The prison authorities had previously learned that "Big Bill" had escaped from the Los Angeles prison and kept a close watch on him. Early one morning in 1898 there was a police fight in New York which ended in Mason, Thomas Reilly and James Coffey being captured. That battle is a tradition of real glory to the New York police force. Since then Mason has spent nearly all his time in prison.

Some Queer Family Names.

"CHUMPS," "OGS" AND "CUBBUMS" IN OLD KENTUCKY.

Odd Cognomens of the "Quarter" Heirs—Remarkable Collection Gathered Within a Radius of 20 Miles of Ford.

Ford, Ky.—It is doubtful if any other county in this state or in any other state can show such a remarkable collection of given names and surnames as are to be found within a radius of 20 miles from this town. We have Able Chump, Little Chump, Chumppy Chump and Skittles Chump. To this must be added the family of Chicken, with the eldest son christened Old Chicken and the youngest daughter Pullet Chicken. Then there is the Og family, with Barabbas Og at the head of it. One of his boys is named John L. Sullivan Og, and the youngest girl in the bunch is Snippy Og.

But that is not a circumstance to the way Phillas Quarter has named his children. He seemed to take a delight in the oddity of his own name and to perpetuate it in the christening of his four boys. The first one, born about 19 years ago, is well known throughout the county as First Quarter. The next heir is Second Quarter. The third is called "No" Quarter, the fourth Bad Quarter.

The mother never had any say in the selection of the names of her children. Old Phillas decided on what he intended to call them the day after they were born, and what he said had to be accepted in the Quarter household. Not one of these sons has ever been 20 miles away from home. No member of the family is able to read or write and they have no conception of the outside world.

About seven miles from the Phillas Quarter farm lives the Bennett family, whose hired man is named Angel Cubbum. He is proud of his name and boasts that his brothers and sisters, who live in the same county, are just as oddly named as he. One sister is Sizzley Cubbum, another Homino, a brother Calico and the youngest in the outfit Measles Cubbum.

Almost Swallowed $1,000.

Utica, N. Y.—Eugene Smaltz, employed at Ilion, went to a clam bake a few days ago and found a rare pearl in a clam which he was about to devour. The pearl is said to be worth about $1,000. It is different from most pearls, as it is very dark, and shows purple, blue and black. It weighs four and one-eighth carats, and is without a flaw.

Man Reforms at Age of 95.

He was 95 years of age the other day, and to celebrate the event called together his friends with the announcement that he intended to sign a pledge. The pledge proved to be his declaration that he will no longer use tobacco

NECK BROKEN NINETEEN YEARS.

Railway Engineer Mangled in Wreck Survives Injuries.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Barney Baldwin, known the world over as the "man with the broken neck," was here the other day renewing acquaintances made in 1880-83, when he was an engineer. Baldwin's neck was broken in a railway accident at Birmingham, Ala., in 1887. He wears his neck and head in harness continually. When he is down the vertebrae slips out of place, and his bones wobble and often come unjointed. If he raises his right hand, the left also bobs up. In the wreck he had his right arm, five ribs and both legs fractured, his watch crushed out of sight in his bowels, and an iron bolt driven into him with force enough to break his collar bone. Doctors here, as everywhere, pronounce him the most puzzling case ever dealt with, because a man could be so torn and broken and still live. Baldwin, who is married and lives at San Bernardino, Cal., claims the railroad on which he was hurt, pays him a handsome monthly

Unusual Vocations Taken Up by Two Young Ladies

One, Longing for Open-Air Life, Is Cultivating a Farm in the Wilds of Ozark Mountains—Teacher, Unable to Get School, Takes Up Blacksmithing.

Little Rock, Ark.—Out of St. Louis to the virgin wilds of the Ozarks has come Miss Amy Rosemary Miller, a city-bred stenographer, who has become a homesteader on her 80-acre square tract. Single-handed she entered into the project, and if determination, health, strength and grit count for anything she is going to transform the wilderness into a cultivated region.

Time was when business men in the Century building, St. Louis, sought her as the most reliable and accurate means of transcribing their letters. But the cramped and conventional life of the city palled upon her.

Unaccompanied by relatives or friends of the male sex, Miss Miller started for the Ozarks, erected a modest home of rough hewn logs, and is now living there alone and unmolested.

Before selecting the government land which was afterward allotted to her, Miss Miller took counsel from older heads and selected a well-watered tract, heavily timbered and near a public road in order to obtain the rural delivery service.

"Clearwater," as Miss Miller has named her farm, in is the shape of a square, 80 acres long by 80 acres in width. This is the most economical shape, requiring the least amount of fencing material. Steel's creek, a branch of the Big Buffalo, runs through "Clearwater" from south to north, making a huge fork near the center, cutting the farm into three parts.

The creek roars down over several waterfalls in its winding course, disappearing here and there in the densely wooded part of the farm and emerging to traverse an open space with its banks lined with maiden ferns and violets.

There is a five-acre tract as level as a table between the prongs of the fork in the stream. This level space has been cleared and planted with 50 choice apple trees and a large number of grapevines. On other cleared parts of the farm Miss Miller has planted strawberries, raspberries, Concord grapes, peach, plum and cherry trees.

The hillsides of the Ozark country are remarkably well adapted to the growth of the Arkansas black apple, and is the home of the famous Elberta peach. The conditions for a vineyard are ideal. With the extent of slope of mountain side facing the south and protected from the biting winds of the north by the huge hills, vines of every variety thrive and bear abundant fruit.

Out of her big tract, Miss Miller selected 160 acres on a hillside and contracted to have erected there a log house, 16x16 feet, having one window. When the house was completed in September, bidding farewell to St. Louis,

Miss Miller Handles a Plow with the Skill of a Farmer.

Miss Miller packed her two trunks with dishes, kettles, bedding and other household necessities and moved to the new home in the forest.

Miss Miller's mother was her guest for the first two or three weeks, during which they spent much time each evening barring and bolting the door and window against a possible intruder.

Lack of any call from unwelcome visitors has induced Miss Miller to leave the window unbarred and open in fair weather, and the door is closed only against prowling dogs. At one time she spent nine months alone in the little log cabin without a thought of fear.

Miss Miller says the easy familiarity of the mountaineers is bracing and encouraging when the bluntness wears off and one becomes accustomed to being addressed as "Howdy, Amy?" The first name is always used and "howdy" is always the salutation. In introductions are entirely unnecessary, and if one lives in the same county the privilege of acquaintance is demanded.

Miss Miller's bill of expense for the undertaking shows $14 for filing papers at the land office preparatory to taking possession of the 160 acres, $25 for the log cabin and $10.50 for the fence that surrounds it. Her living expenses for one year were $1.50 per week.

She says she has no rent to pay, no car fare and no gas bills. There are no office hours, and she is her own boss.

School Teacher Makes Living as Blacksmith.

Lincoln, Neb.—Unable to secure an appointment as teacher in the rural school districts of Kansas where she resided, Mrs. Philo P. Wilcox has turned to blacksmithing, which was her husband's trade. In the last 15 years she has reared a family of four children, and as her husband failed in health she has worked more and more into the business until now in the suburb of College View she does all the work offered, with the aid of three of her children.

Horseshoeing is the only part of the business at which Mrs. Wilcox balks. She is able to prepare a horse for its shoes, but owing to the handicap of skirts cannot affix the shoes to the animal's hoofs in the style long approved by blacksmithing.

Mrs. Wilcox is 40. She has a clear complexion and her hardened muscles are evidence of the long hours she has put in at the forge.

During her girlhood days she received a good education and was a teacher when Wilcox married her at Roselle, Kan. In Kansas married women are not wanted as school-ma'ams and, barred out of teaching, she turned to the forge.

"I like the work," she says. "At first the tenacity of people to stop and stare was disconcerting. But now I don't mind it. I know of no other woman blacksmith in the country."

"Most of my work is in using the sledge, making horseshoes, repairing wagons and farm implements, sharpening tools and the like. I am kept busy all the time. One of the girls take care of the house and the other three help in the shop."

"Two of my girls, aged 17 and 15 respectively, are expert bicycle repairers. One makes from five to eight dollars a week at this work. The oldest is a natural-born mechanic. She can take the most complicated machinery to pieces, tell what is wrong, repair it and put it together again."

"My husband is now in Mexico for his health. The work is hard upon him, but the rest of us like it and thrive upon it."

"My oldest girl went out last summer with a thrashing machine outfit and was with it all summer. She cut bands, fired the engine, fed the separator and did part of the cooking for the men. It is hardly girl's work, but it does not harm her. She is as lithe and strong as a young lion and in bicycle races has proved more than a match at long distances for the young men in the neighborhood."

"I still have a license to teach and shall turn to that this winter, when the blacksmithing is duller. I like this work better than the schoolroom."

SOME FISH SALADS.

APPETIZING DISHES EASILY AND INEXPENSIVELY MADE.

Herring, Sardine, Salmon and Lobster Salads, That You Can Prepare Quickly in Cases of Emergency That Will Arise.

HERRING SALAD.—Heat through by turning on the stove three well smoked herrings, then tear off the heads and pull the skin away, split, take out the backbones, and cut up into small bits, or to shred them is better. Put in a salad bowl, add one small chopped onion, two hard boiled, chopped eggs, and one boiled potato; cut fine with a teaspoonful of chopped parsley; season with a teaspoonful of salt, one of pepper, three tablespoonfuls of vinegar, and two of oil. Mix well, and if you have it, decorate with a boiled beet.

SARDINE SALAD.—Allow three sardines for each person; bone and fillet these, carefully removing all the skins, and set them aside until required. Boil two eggs for three minutes, shell them, and break them up in your salad bowl with a spoon; mix with them a teaspoonful each of French mustard and essence of anchovies, the strained oil from the tin of sardines with as much oil as will make three teaspoonfuls in all; add chili, shallot, and good malt vinegar to taste. Cut up some nice crisp lettuce and mix it well with the dressing, but only just before it is to be served. Put a little heap of mustard and cress in the center of the salad, with a whole red capsicum upon it. Arrange the sardines round, and outside these a border of mustard and cress dotted here and there with slices of red capsicum.

SALMON SALAD.—One quart of cooked salmon, two heads of lettuce, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one of vinegar, two of capers, one teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a teaspoonful of pepper, a cupful of mayonnaise dressing or the French dressing. Break up the salmon with two silver forks. Add to it the salt, pepper, vinegar, and lemon juice. Put in the ice chest or some other cold place for two or three hours. Prepare the lettuce as directed for lobster salad. At serving time pick out leaves enough to border the dish. Cut or tear the remainder in pieces and arrange these in the center of a flat dish. On them heap the salmon lightly and cover with the dressing. Now sprinkle on the capers. Arrange the whole leaves at the base, and, if you choose, lay one-fourth of a thin slice of lemon on each leaf.

LOBSTER SALAD.—Put a large lobster over the fire in boiling water slightly salted; boil rapidly for about 20 minutes; when done it will be of a bright red color and should be removed, as if boiled too long, it will be tough; when cold, crack the claws after first disjuncting, twist off the head, which is used in garnishing; split the body in two lengthwise; pick out the meat in bits not too fine, saving the coral separate; cut up a large head slightly and place on a dish, over which lay the lobster, putting the coral around the outside. For dressing take the yolks of three eggs, beat well, add four tablespoonfuls salad oil, dropping it in slowly, beating all the time; then add a little salt, cayenne pepper, half teaspoon mixed mustard, and two tablespoons vinegar. Pour this over the lobster just before sending to table.

Early New England Books Rare.

The recent discovery in England of a copy of the long lost Massachusetts laws of 1648, printed in Cambridge, and its sale to E. Dwight Church, of Brooklyn, for a price said to exceed $5,000, reminds the collectors of the interesting fact that the earliest works printed in New England are among the world's rarest books and are rapidly becoming as valuable as the earliest imprints of William Caxton, England's first printer.

Best Fruits for Jellies.

The most desirable fruits for jelly making after currants are crab apples, quinces, grapes, blackberries, raspberries and peaches. If the fruit is used before it is fully ripe it makes a clearer jelly and a gentle simmering with no stirring will make it of finer grain.

A Daily Thought.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.—Longfellow.

Remarkable Metaphor.

The English women suffragists have contributed besides other things to the gaiety of nations a remarkable mixed metaphor. One of these strenuous ladies, speaking of the lack of interest of women in their rights, said: "As yet it is but a flea bite on the ocean, but let us arise in all our strength and nip it in the bud. We have seen too much not to know where the boto pinches."

"There are hothouse thoughts—beautiful but tasteless.—Life.

FOR ENTERTAINING CHILDREN.

Some Games That Will Afford Amusement to the Little Folks.

It is not a difficult matter to give children a happy time, because of their responsiveness. To them "a splendid time" means merely a few folly games, some bright music, perhaps a little dance, a light supper and a tiny souvenir.

Their childish wishes are then more gratified and they go home happy as larks.

For children from five to 12 years of age, four to eight o'clock is the best time for the party, supper being at about half after six.

For tiny tots, from three to six o'clock is a more suitable time, with supper served at five o'clock.

When a boy or girl can write his or her own invitations they are much more appreciated by their little friends.

But, for the wee tots, mother must, of course, send out the invitations. At these parties the little host or hostess must welcome each guest as he or she arrives.

Mother, or some older person should stand in the background and cordially second the welcome first extended by the little host or hostess.

Half an hour may be allowed for assembling and then the games should begin.

A very amusing form of entertainment is to request each little girl to bring her best doll, and each little boy his finest toy dog.

Then have a "baby show" and a "dog show."

Let each little girl show her baby doll and let the judges decide which is the "cutest," which is the "fattest," which is the "prettiest," and which is the "best dressed." Award the prizes to each little mother.

After this have the "dog show." Let each little man show his dog in the ring, and have some grown men to decide the various points of the dogs shown, and then award the prizes.

A lawn hunt is very nice for children's parties.

Souvenirs of various kinds, wrapped in paper are hidden here and there over the lawn and the little one who finds the most of these packages receives a prize.

Peanuts or fruits may be substituted for the packages.

Centerpiece Holders.

Some one has invented a pretty treatment of the broomstick or the pasteboard mailing tube which so many women have found the most satisfactory thing to wind centerpieces and dollies around when they have just been done up.

A 25 inch square of flowered dimity is edged with narrow lace or bound with wash ribbon or with one of the many pretty wash braids and attached to the tube, which has been covered with cotton batting in which sachet powder has been freely sprinkled, and then with the material.

The dollies are laid flat upon the square as soon as they have thoroughly aired after ironing and are loosely rolled around the tube, both dollies and outer covering kept from unrolling by inch-wide ribbons attached, one in the middle of the roll and one on each side near the end.

To Clean Frames.

Don't attempt to clean picture frames covered with goldleaf, as the finest and most beautiful of all gold frames are. You can tell them by the way the gold, as you look at it closely, seems laid on, here and there curling ever so slightly away from the frame. Any sort of cleaning, except the most casual dusting, is bound to make the gold scale off in an unsightly fashion.

Select Brush Carefully.

The hair brush should have long, soft bristles that will go quite through the hair and remove every particle of dust, and must, above all things, be immaculately clean. A comb is rarely necessary, if the hair is well brushed, but, when used, should be a coarse one.

Far-Seeing Government.

Bluejackets from the ships of the Australian squadrons are permitted to travel free on the New Zealand railroads, as the government considers that their talk of the country when they return home will attract immigrants.

Use for Worn-Out Bucket.

A pan or bucket in which holes have been worn may be made available for carrying water for flowers if small pieces of cloth are pulled through the holes as far as they will go.

Weak Hearts in British Army.

Nearly 500 men fall out from the ranks of the British army every year, owing to weak hearts and other defects brought about by the illogical system of physical training in the army, said Sir Frederick Treves recently. This system is now under review.

"A boy assassin hanged," read Mrs. Bascom from the newspaper. "Well," she remarked, "a sass'n boy is a great trial, but I don't think he ought to be hanged for it."

North Dakota Solves the Adulteration Problem.

North Dakota seems to have found the key to the question, "How shall we protect the people from frauds in manufactured products?" A new law has recently gone into effect designed to make it impossible to deceive people into buying inferior and adulterated paint under the impression that they are getting real paint, viz.: pure white lead and linseed oil.

The North Dakota lawmakers did not attempt to absolutely prohibit the inferior pigments, or mixtures of pigments. They adopted the slogan, "Let the label tell," and then left to the people to buy whichever they wished.

Under this plan, if any one wishes to buy a mixture of rock-dust, ground quartz and other cheap elements which are found in many paints and so-called "white leads," no one can object; for they do it with their eyes open. But if they prefer genuine white lead and linseed oil, they can be sure of getting it, for none but the genuine article can bear a label which says "pure white lead."

In all other States mixtures are often sold as pure white lead which contain little—sometimes no—real white lead.

It would seem that were this same principle applied to food, beverages and all other prepared articles, where deception is practiced upon the buyer, the question would be solved. It would leave us free to buy what we pleased, but would protect us from unwittingly buying what we did not want.

Beyond a Doubt.

Two workmen, who both bore good characters as sober and industrious men, were recently charged at a police court with fighting.

The magistrate asked, in astonishment, the cause of the quarrel. It seemed that one man had accused the other of stealing his coat.

"And I can prove it, too," added the man.

"How?" said the magistrate.

"I always keep my card in the pocket."

The policemen were directed to search the garment. But they found absolutely nothing.

"Gimme my coat," said the workman. It was handed to him. He took two dried peas out of one of the pockets, and held them up triumphantly.

"P. P.—Peter Powell. That's me name. Them's my card."

He got his coat.

False Alarm.

From the valley there came a cloud of dust and a distant rumble. The man of the stone age rushed up the mountain and perched himself on the highest peak.

"Shucks!" exclaimed the fugitive, as he slipped down to the valley again, "it is only a poor dinosaur roaming about for his breakfast. From the noise I thought it must be an automobile."

And the man went back to his peaceful occupation of hewing an apartment house out of a solid cliff.

Deadly New Rifle.

Bullets from the new 30-caliber rifles of the United States army whirl with great rapidity. The rifling gives one revolution of the bullet about its axis in ten inches. At the muzzle the velocity of the bullet is 2,300 feet a second, which means 2,760 turns a second, assuming that the bullet does not strip in the rifling. The circumference of the bullet is .942 of an inch, which gives a peripheral velocity of 2,600 inches each second, or 13,000 feet a minute.

GOOD AND HARD.

Results of Excessive Coffee Drinking.

It is remarkable what suffering some persons put up with just to satisfy an appetite for something.

A Mich. woman says: "I had been using coffee since I was old enough to have a cup of my own at the table, and from it I have suffered agony hundreds of times in the years past."

"My trouble first began in the form of bilious colic, coming on every few weeks and almost ending my life. At every attack for 8 years I suffered in this way. I used to pray for death to relieve me from my suffering. I had also attacks of sick headache, and began to suffer from catarrh of the stomach, and of course awful dyspepsia."

"For about a year I lived on crackers and water. Believing that coffee was the cause of all this suffering, I finally quit it and began to use Postum Food Coffee. It agreed with my stomach, my troubles have left me and I am fast gaining my health under its use."

"No wonder I condemn coffee and tea. No one could be in a much more critical condition than I was from the use of coffee. Some doctors pronounced it cancer, others ulceration, but none gave me any relief. But since I stopped coffee and began Postum I am getting well so fast I can heartily recommend it for all who suffer as I did." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a reason."

Fear for Cologne Cathedral. Serious damage to the magnificent central portal of Cologne cathedral is feared. Several large pieces of carved stone have fallen and numerous other portions show signs of loosening. The cathedral, begun in 1248, was not completed until 1880. It is generally regarded as the finest piece of Gothic architecture in the world.

The largest and costliest building thus far undertaken in New York, the city of immense structures, is the magnificent $10,000,000 Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, now being erected on Morningside Heights. This will be the greatest edifice in America, and the fourth in importance in the world.

Vanishing Rural Industries.

The gradual cessation, one after another, of the countryside industries is one of the principal reasons why the peasant owner has vanished from the land. Thatching and woodcraft have been killed by rural councils, with their craze for slated roofs, and by the substitution of other materials for timber. The cottager can no longer even burn wood, but must buy coal, since his fireplaces are not fashioned for the consumption of fagots.—London Estates Gazette.

Irrigation Congress at Boise Idaho.

SEPTEMBER 3.—The fourteenth annual Irrigation Congress opened here today with a large attendance from all parts of the United States. Representatives of every state government, of the government of the United States, delegates appointed by mayors of cities from all parts of the country, representatives of commercial, industrial and financial organizations, of agricultural and horticultural societies, of the various societies, etc., and many other prominent persons, interested in the subject of irrigation are among those attending the congress which will be in session until September 8, inclusive.

An interesting program has been arranged for the congress. It will embrace a consideration and discussion of the following main features: Saving the forests, storing the floods, reclaiming the deserts, establishing of homes on the reclaimed land. The congress is held in the midst of irrigation projects showing every state of development. Two of the greatest enterprises of the Reclamation service of the United States government, the largest Carey Act project in the United States, and smaller propositions of private and co-operative enterprise, ranging from the first year of operation to fifty years of constant use, will be taken as object lessons, teaching practical irrigation from a practical standpoint. Ample arrangements have been made for the use of the division of the congress on engineering and mechanics, which will hold meetings of special interest throughout the congress. Stereoptican views of work under construction and completed will be used in illustrating addresses and reports. A comprehensive exhibit of the products of irrigation, including grains, grasses, fruit of all kinds, vegetables, and especially sugar beets has been arranged in quarters adjoining the convention hall where the congress is holding its sessions. The session today was opened by Vice President Fairbanks and there were about 1,500 delegates present.

President Roosevelt Sends Message.

The following is an extract from a message read to the convention from President Roosevelt:

To the Officers and members of the Irrigation Congress, Boise, Idaho.

Operations under the reclamation act, which I signed on June 17, 1902, have been carried on energetically during the four years since that date. The reclamation service, consisting of over 400 skilled engineers and experts in various lines, has been organized, and it is now handling the work with rapidity and effectiveness. Construction is already well advanced on twenty-three great enterprises in the arid states and territories. Over 1,000,000 acres of land have been laid out for irrigation and of this 2,000,000 acres are now under ditch; 800 miles of canals and ditches and 30,000 feet of tunnel have been completed; and 10,000,000 cubic yards of earth and 3,000,000 cubic yards of rock have been moved. Detailed topographic surveys have been extended over ten thousand square miles of country within which the reclamation work is located and twenty thousand miles of level lines have been run. Three hundred buildings, including offices and sleeping quarters for workmen, have been erected by the reclamation service and about an equal number by the contractors. Over ten thousand men and about five thousand horses are at present employed.

The period of general surveys and examinations for projects is past. Effort is now concentrated in getting the water upon a sufficient area of fertile land in each project to put it on a revenue-producing basis. To bring all the projects to this point will require upwards of forty million dollars which amount, it is estimated, will be available from the receipts

SENSATIONAL CHARGE MADE.

Former Superintendent of New Mexico Pen Accused Of Shortage in Accounts.

In a report by a firm of Colorado expert accountants to Governor Hagerman of New Mexico, on the condition of the finances of the New Mexico penitentiary at Santa Fe, charges of the most sensational nature are made against H. O. Bursum, chairman of the New Mexico Republican Territorial Committee and former superintendent of the penitentiary, and evidence and affidavits produced to sustain the charges.

Bursum has been a leader in New Mexico politics for ten years is wealthy and has been chairman of the Republican committee for four years. He is now mayor of the town of Socorro. The report has caused a profound sensation throughout New Mexico. Bursum is charged with direct shortages aggregating nearly $7,000 and with failing to account for about $23,000 more of penitentiary funds.

He is also alleged to have shipped thousands of brick out of the penitentiary for which no funds were received by the institution, with entering into personal contracts with the penitentiary for furnishing supplies, with misappropriation of funds during the entire period of his administration, with gross mismanagement and destruction of records.

Several of the ledgers, journals and other important books are missing from the prison and are said to have been destroyed.

It is understood the report will be used as evidence before the grand jury in Santa Fe county. Bursum was superintendent of the penitentiary from July, 1899 to April, 1900 or during the entire period of Governor Otero's administration. He was displaced when Governor Hagerman came into office. Bursum is now at his sheep ranch in Socorro county.—Abuquerque News.

Promising Copper Mining District.

Active development of copper district in Union county now in progress. Raton company has rich holdings.

For some years it has been the belief of mining men and others that a great copper ore district existed in the eastern portion of Union county extending into Beaver county, Oklahoma. The section abounds in rich float which assays from seventy-five per cent. to ninety-five cent copper. This float has been, from time to time, gathered up by the natives and prospectors and after being freighted by wagon for fifty to seventy miles sent by railroad to smelters and gave handsome returns.

Throughout this copper zone there are massive chimneys of sandstone which have been forced up through the earth by some subterranean action. These chimneys, it is believed, through the action of the elements, have furnished the great quantities of float throughout the district.

Prospecting on this theory in a desultory way has been in progress for several years past, many of the prospectors making expense money by shipping out a few tons of the float.

Gerod Sater, a prospector, finally induced some Pittsburg, Pa., and other eastern capitalists to furnish the means with which to do extensive development work. The company now has a good shaft down about two hundred feet and has developed a body of ore running from twenty to forty per cent. in copper and some mines in silver. The properties of this company, The Sater Copper Company, are located in Union county about 48 miles east by south of Folsom.

Several Raton business men including Fred Rohr, Robert Vogl, F. G. Gregory, Geo. R. Engledow, Chas. Rohr, together with J. E. Geddes and Jason Mackey, have secured a large group of claims in this district situated in Peacock canyon about forty miles southeast of Folsom. They have formed a company to be known as the Rohr-Geddes Mining and development company and will proceed without loss of time to develop the same.

J. E. Geddes is a mining engineer and has had many years experience in copper mining. He has made an exhaustive examination of the district with the result that he is fully convinced that it will make one of the largest copper producing districts in the world. Mr. Geddes has mined at Bisbee and prospected the entire district as well

Personal.

Bird S. McGuire was nominated by the republicans of the First Oklahoma district for congress without opposition.

William J. Bryan met with a remarkable welcome on his arrival at New York from a year's travel in foreign countries. The Nebraska "home folks," to the number of 130, were the first to greet the returning travelers.

The remains of the late Admiral C. J. Train, who died at Chefoo, China, on August 4, have been interred in the naval cemetery at Annapolis, Md.

Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York, former democratic candidate for president, addressed the annual session of the American Bar association at St. Paul on the "Congestion of the Law."

A monument has been unveiled at Camden, Maine, to the memory of William Conway, a native of that town, who refused to haul down the United States flag at the Pensacola, Fla., navy yard at the breaking out of the rebellion.

Such a welcome as is seldom accorded a private citizen of this country was given William J. Bryan at Madison Square Garden in New York on his arrival from a year's travel around the world. It was estimated that 20,000 people were in the structure and as many more were unable to gain admittance.

Pedro Montt has been proclaimed president of Chile by the unanimous vote of the congress.

Prof. Lucien I. Blake, of the Kansas university, has resigned his position to devote his time entirely to research work.

Vice President Fairbanks delivered the principal address at the recent Dodge City, Kan., reunion of old soldiers.

Premier Stolypin has taken up his residence at the winter palace in the quarters formerly occupied by Count Witte.

Edward Rosewater, founder and proprietor of the Omaha Bee, was found dead in that city recently. He had evidently died of heart failure while asleep. Mr. Rosewater had been prominent in Nebraska and national affairs for many years and was a candidate before the recent republican state convention for United States Senator. He was born in Bohemia in 1841, coming to this country in 1854.

Alton B. Parker, of New York, has been elected president of the American Bar association.

Following his great reception in New York, William J. Bryan made four speeches in New Haven, Conn., in one afternoon.

Miscellaneous.

Gov. Folk, of Missouri, has granted a respite to October 26 for Mrs. Agnes Myers and Frank Hottman, who were under sentence to be hanged September 3 for the murder of the husband of the former at Kansas City.

Dr. Alexander Graham Bell made a test before American and Canadian scientists assembled at Brantford, Ontario, of his wireless aeroplane operated by wireless electrical energy supplied from the earth, where he succeeded in rising to a height of 200 feet, turning a complete circle and alighting safely a few feet from the starting point.

Robbers entered the postoffice at Troy, Mo., blew open the safe, took $400 in cash and $700 worth of stamps, then left town on a railroad bicycle used by the station agent.

The commissioner of immigration has stopped the importation of Greek boys who for the last few years have been brought to this country by a syndicate for the purpose of employing them in bootblacking establishments in the larger cities.

A special agent of the government was in Jefferson City recently going over the evidence against the Standard Oil company secured by Attorney General Hadley in the Missouri ouster suits for use in the federal proceedings to be brought against the company.

Otto B. Schutz, a prominent baker of Racine, Wis., has been awarded $6,000 damages against union labor officials for placing a boycott against him. The judge declared a contract to enforce the closed shop illegal.

Nineteen Russian soldiers, found guilty of participating in the recent mutiny at Seaborg Fortress were recently shot.

According to F. D. Coburn, secretary of the state board of agriculture, Kansas has gained 66,492 in population during the past year.

The statement of Receiver Earle, of the broken Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia, that the late president Frank K. Hipple had practically stolen more than $5,000,000, created a profound sensation in that city.

It was reported in Philadelphia that the board of directors of the failed Real Estate Trust company had not met in three years prior to the failure, nor had the bank been examined in that time by the state authorities.

Justice Stafford, of the District of Columbia supreme court recently rendered a decision in which he declared that boycotts of labor unions were legal.

The will of Frank K. Hipple, late president of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company, of Philadelphia, has been filed for probate. His property amounting to $130,000 was left to his son, who is sole executor.

The federal grand jury at Chicago has returned ten indictments against the Standard Oil company. The indictments contain 6,428 counts and are all in connection with granting rebates.

Oswatimie, Kan., recently held a three days' celebration of the 50th anniversary of the battle at that place between a force under John Brown and the pro slavery men. Vice President Fairbanks was the principal orator of the occasion.

The Real Estate Trust company, of Philadelphia, has failed owing to the large amount of money loaned on insufficient security by its president, Frank K. Hipple, now dead. The liabilities are placed at $10,000,000 and the good assets at $3,500,000. There is doubtful collateral on hand of $8,000,000. More than $1,000,000 belonging to the Presbyterian general assembly is tied up.

The First Christian church of Lincoln, Neb., which was being remodeled by the Catholics as a cathedral, was burned recently. The priest in charge believes it was set on fire.

The suspicion that Frank K. Hipple, late president of the wrecked Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia, had committed suicide has been confirmed by the coroner. The officials kept the matter secret in order to avoid a financial panic.

The president's order regarding phonetic spelling is to be extended to all parts of the government. By his direction all public documents are to be printed with the new style of spelling.

The Russian consul at Tien Tsin was shot by a concession contractor recently and dangerously wounded.

Fifteen questionable hotels in the downtown district of Chicago were recently raided by the police and the proprietors and inmates arrested.

Estimates for canal appropriations for 1907 are now in course of preparation at the office of the Isthmian canal commission at Washington. It is thought that an appropriation of $25,000,000 for each year will be required.

President Roosevelt has issued a proclamation putting into effect the recent reciprocal treaty with Spain.

Acting under orders from the department of commerce and labor the 30 Jewish orphans recently ordered deported by the Ellis Island authorities have been admitted to the country.

The Kansas railway commissioners have held that the state demurrage law is valid and ruled that the railroads must pay one dollar a day for every day that empty cars are not forwarded after an order to do so has gone out.

King Alfonso has issued a decree restoring the civil marriage formalities in Spain and suppressing the obligation of the contracting parties to declare their religion. The action is in direct opposition to the claims of the church.

Cuban insurgents recently raided the Constanza estate near Cienfuegos. The American owners have appealed to the state department at Washington.

The United States army transport Sheridan recently ran on a coral reef off the southwestern coast of the island of Oahu, on which Honolulu is located. She had on board 125 passengers and 50 soldiers besides the crew. Great difficulty was experienced in taking them off.

The interstate commerce commission is receiving many complaints from shippers throughout the country who are taking advantage of the provisions of the new rate law to seek relief from the onerous conditions imposed on them by the railroad companies.

Many prominent Jewish anarchists have left Bialystok, Russia for the United States.

Twenty-five joints in Dickinson county, Kan., were recently raided by the county authorities.

The last day of August broke all heat records in England. Much suffering was reported in London.

The Iowa state fair, which recently closed, broke all past records in point of attendance, more than 250,000 people having visited the agricultural exposition.

EDITOR IS GONE

SUDDEN DEATH OF EDWARD ROSEWATER OF OMAHA.

OWNER OF THE OMAHA BEE

Prominent as a Newspaper Man, Business Man and Politician—Widely Known Ever Since the Civil War.

Omaha—Edward Rosewater, proprietor and editor of the Omaha Bee, and prominently identified with the political, financial and business affairs of Omaha and the state of Nebraska for 40 years, was found dead in a court room on the third floor of the Bee building early Saturday morning. Mr. Rosewater had evidently sat down on a bench in the court room, fallen asleep and died of heart failure.

Mr. Rosewater went to Waterloo, Neb., Thursday afternoon, where he spoke to a gathering of old soldiers. He reached Omaha on his return at 7 p. m. and went to his office in the Bee building immediately. He is known to have been in his office during the evening, but was not seen by members of his family after returning from Waterloo.

It was a habit of Mr. Rosewater to go to different parts of the building at pleasure, and it is presumed he stepped into the large court room, sat down for a minute's repose and fell asleep.

When Judge Troup arrived at the court room this morning he was surprised to find the lifeless body of Mr. Rosewater on a bench. He was sitting at the end of the bench, reclining easily against a radiator.

Mrs. Rosewater had notified the police of her husband's failure to return home.

Soon after the finding of the editor's body in the court room, it was removed to the Rosewater home.

Dr. Charles Rosewater, brother of the dead editor, said that his brother had often expressed a wish that when he should die it be without lingering illness, and that he would prefer to pass away in the manner in which he did.

Dr. Rosewater attributed the sudden death of his brother to the reaction which followed the excitement attending on a long campaign in which Mr. Rosewater was a prominent candidate for United States senator. The convention occurred August 22d and Mr. Rosewater, unanimously supported by the delegation from Douglas (Omaha) county, was a prominent figure at that gathering. There were several ballots taken, during the course of which Mr. Rosewater gained steadily against his chief opponent, Norris Brown. Following the ballot which nominated Brown Mr. Rosewater delivered an earnest speech to the convention, thanking his friends for their support, and pledging himself to the support of Mr. Brown and the state ticket.

Mr. Rosewater's life has been an active one, and the greater part of that activity has been spent in Omaha. For sometime after coming to Omaha he was manager for the Western Union Telegraph Company, having followed the telegraph profession before and during the war. He was a military telegrapher, and was a trusted telegrapher of General Grant.

After leaving the Western Union Company, Mr. Rosewater founded the Omaha Bee, a small afternoon paper. He developed it into one of the largest newspapers in the West. A few years ago he gave over the active management of the paper to his two sons, Victor and Charles Rosewater, he still retaining the title of editor. He gave considerable attention to politics and was a candidate three years ago for the office of United States senator being defeated by Senator Millard.

THREATENS COLORADO.

Free Philippine Sugar Would Ruin Sugar Beet Industry.

Denver—In discussing the Philippine sugar tariff, the Denver News, Senator Patterson's paper, says:

"The scheme to place Philippine products upon the free list is one of the cherished schemes of the most pronounced imperialists, for they know that American capital multiplied by tens of millions, when invested in the islands, will create insuperable barriers to a separation.

"But in addition to that, Senators Patterson and Teller are opposed to the free list scheme because they realize that within a few years the production of Philippine sugar would become so great, and it can be produced and landed so cheaply in American ports, that no American farmer could cultivate with profit a single acre of the sugar beets. The factories along the Platte and the Arkansas and in other sections of Colorado and of the United States would soon be ruins, and the lands of the farmers that have doubled in value since the introduction of the sugar beet would relapse to their former price. In short, the scheme of the Philippine free trader is to rob the American farmer of practically the only protection he gets from the Dingley tariff, making him pay tribute, without any returns, to the syndicates and trust combines in the purchase of everything that enters into the consumption of his home and his farm.

"If that is Democratic doctrine, Senator Patterson unhesitatingly declares that he is opposed to such a doctrine and would wipe it from the party confession of principles if it was within his power. But it is not Democratic doctrine. It is simply the vaporing of a theorist, and should it crystallize into Democratic doctrine, all hope of Democratic success in the future would, and in Senator Patterson's opinion should, vanish."

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY

Round Up of Rangers.

A "round up" of the rangers on the Pecos and Jemez Forest Reserves will take place in this city some time next month under the personal direction of Forest Supervisor Leon F. Kneipp, says the Santa Fe New Mexican of August 29th. In arranging for this general meeting of the entire forces on the two forest reserves which are under his supervision, Mr. Kneipp is following a suggestion of the forestry bureau to give the rangers the benefit of each other's experience, to keep them in touch with the work that is being done and to promote esprit de corps in the service.

The date for the gathering of the forest rangers here has not been decided upon, but the meeting will not be held until such time as the timber is deemed safe from forest fires. It is proposed to have the ranger force together for an entire week. Several government forestry experts will be present on this occasion and give the rangers technical instructions, particularly on the subjects of forest diseases and fungus growth, methods in checking forest fires, timber estimating and trail building. Inasmuch as the rangers will have considerable leisure time at their disposal during the week there is some talk of having a "broncho busting" and "roping" contests. Practically all of the forest guards are expert riders as well as being handy with the rope, and a feature like this would undoubtedly prove a great attraction.

"How do you find things on the Pecos?" Mr. Kneipp was asked yesterday by a reporter of the New Mexican. "I found things pretty wet," he replied with a smile. "There has been lots of rain lately on the Pecos. The grass is in fine shape and grazing is just as good there this year as it was last. The Pecos Forest Reserve has a great number of cattle and sheep on the grazing land this year.

"We have had over one hundred miles of trails cut this year. The trails are not all as good as they might be, but we will put on the finishing touches later. Hugh P. Baker, of the forestry division is out there taking up the work of establishing nurseries at the ranger headquarters and giving the rangers instructions in the collection of seed. The work of planting the nurseries will probably be commenced this fall.

"The Mora, Cebolla and Roelada valleys have the best crops this season and better than for years. They are splendid and the farmers are feeling prosperous. The work of harvesting the crops was beginning when I was there."

"The roses on the Capitol grounds are worth going a considerable distance to see. They have never been more luxuriant or of finer color or perfume. The air is fragrant with their aroma," says the New Mexican.

The Odd Fellows have bought a 10-acre tract of land a mile east of Roswell for a site for the territorial home for widows and orphans and indigent Odd Fellows. The home was secured by the efforts of local Odd Fellows and the Roswell Commercial Club. Building will begin immediately.

The Roswell cannery factory started operation August 31st. It will not only can tomatoes, but also peaches, apples and plums. This is the first cannery in southeastern New Mexico and started with 40 employees. A cannery will be erected for operation next year that will cost $150,000, and will employ over 300 people. The market at Roswell was glutted with peaches and they were sold at the cannery for one-half cent a pound.

To study stratigraphy of rocks of the hills along the erosion made by the waters of Rio Puerco in Valencia county, is the mission of Professor T. F. Stanton of the United States geological survey, who left Albuquerque August 31st. The work being done on the Rio Puerco is a detail of the general plan the government is working on to find out the formation of the Rocky Mountain range and the age of different strata of rocks that compose it. Prof. Stanton will uncover rocks, measure the different strata and collect fossils from them.

New Mexico Military Institute.

The New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell has just issued its annual catalogue. As an evidence of the popularity of the institute the cadets for whom there is available room have already been enrolled and it is stated on good authority that no less than one hundred applications for entrance had to be declined because of lack of accommodations. The institute at present has quarters for 150 cadets and that number was expected at the opening, September 6th.

The group of buildings, together with furniture and fixtures, have cost in the neighborhood of $70,000. The structures are all substantial and are models of their kind in architecture. The main barracks are virtually four stories in height. There are three regular stories of brick and a basement of gray stone. The building is lighted throughout with electricity, heated by a private steam heating plant, and has a complete system of water works and sewerage. The other buildings are also arranged with an idea of sanitation and convenience. The mess hall and its equipment cost $14,000. The building was erected two years ago and is exclusively for the purpose of subsistence. The dining room is 36 feet wide and 84 feet long.

Boy Clubbed to Death.

The Denver News prints the following dispatch from East Las Vegas August 28th: One of the most revolting murders committed in San Miguel county for years occurred near Tremontina to-day, when Claude Aragon, a shepherd, is alleged to have beaten Apollonio, the nine-year-old son of Santiago Padilla, to death with stones and clubs, and afterwards, as he lay on the ground, shot him several times through the breast.

The young lad is said to have been assisting Aragon with his flock when the brutal crime was committed, and no cause for it is known.

The mother of the boy came out to see him shortly after he was killed, and, not observing him, asked Aragon where he was, whereupon the latter pointed to the corpse lying in the brush. The grief-stricken woman rushed to the side of the bleeding body and frantically demanded the name of his murderer.

Aragon, the mother says, then got down on his knees before her and confessed that he had killed him and asked the mother's forgiveness. This she would not grant, but continued to caress the lifeless body, and the herder fled.

He was later found by a deputy sheriff at the home of his grandmother at Canoncito, eighteen miles from the scene of the crime, preparing to leave the country, and is now incarcerated in the county jail at Las Vegas. He is only nineteen years old, and as far as known had never before been guilty of any crime. The body of the murdered child was a gruesome sight, having been beaten until it was almost unrecognizable. The neck was broken and there was a gaping bullet wound in the right breast.

Hernando Gonzales Killed.

An East Las Vegas dispatch of August 28th says: Hernando Gonzales, twenty-three years old, was shot and killed in a house near the outskirts of Wagon Mound in a mysterious manner last night. Jose Gonzales and Pedro Romero, with whom he is supposed to have passed the night, have been arrested by Sheriff Medina of Mora county and placed in jail pending an investigation.

Romero himself informed the authorities of Gonzales' death and accused Jose Gonzales of the shooting. The latter declines to make any statement whatever, and the motive for the crime remains unknown.

Hernando Gonzales lived with his parents on a ranch twenty miles from Wagon Mound. He left home in the afternoon to procure provisions. The accused, it is said, invited him to pass the night as his guest, at which time Romero was also a visitor, and in that house he met his death. None of the parties was seen drinking that night, and there are no marks of violence on the body of the boy except a single bullet wound in the breast.

Jose Gonzales has a national reputation as a horseman and gave some creditable feats of rough riding at the time of the Rough Riders' reunion in this city.

In the territorial Supreme Court in session at Santa Fe, the following were admitted to practice: George F. Brewington of Aztec, George W. Oliver of Albuquerque, J. W. Eden of Roswell, A. L. Love of Roswell and Fred C. Dezeniorf of Santa.

Forest Supervisor Kneipp has called a convention of the forest rangers on the Jemez and Pecos forest reserves at Santa Fe for a week's school of instruction. Over 100 miles of trails have been cut on the Pecos reserve this year and Hugh Baker of the forest railway service has established three nurseries on both reserves.

Frank Owen, A. H. Broadhead and P. A. F. Walter have been appointed delegates to the good roads convention at Albuquerque, ex-Governor Prince, H. B. Cartwright and Fred Muller to the sheep growers' convention at Albuquerque and T. B. Catron, B. M. Read and J. G. Schumann to the National Irrigation Congress at Boise City, Idaho, by the Santa Fe board of trade.

At East Las Vegas a masked man entered the Arcade club rooms early in the morning and at the point of a revolver held up the roulette and crap players. Several men, including the barkeeper, were lined up with their faces to the wall while the bandit rifled the tables. He took about $300 in silver, which he scooped into a bag, but left about $100 in the desk. The police have a description of the man.

The territorial Supreme Court adjourned August 30th after handing down decisions reversing the court in the case of J. J. Hagerman et al. vs. Sarah Althea Mack of Chaves county and affirming the lower court in the Territory vs. Frank A. Hubbell of Albuquerque, and allowing appeals to the United States Supreme Court in United States vs. Rio Grande Dam & Irrigation Company, and J. D. Marquez et al. vs. Maxwell Land Grant Company.

An Albuquerque dispatch says: Maps and blue prints for an irrigation project next in magnitude to the Elephant butte dam project, in Rio Grande Valley, containing surveys for a low line ditch of the Rio Grande Land, Water Power and Improvement Company of St. Louis, has been received here by George Arnot, local representative of the company. The projected ditch taps the Rio Grande at Black Rock canon and, following the low line ditch surveyed and partially built by the Shutt Improvement Company, when completed will reclaim 20,000 acres. Options have been taken on much of the land coming under ditch.

TAKES RELIGION FROM SCHOOLS.

British Court Decides People Need Not Pay for This Instruction.

London.—A decision given by the court of appeals leaves the question of religious education in Great Britain in a peculiar position. The education act of 1902 was intended to compel local authorities to pay for religious instruction in the voluntary schools, and led to the notorious "passive resistance" movement under which numbers of nonconformists refused to pay the rates levied to cover this expenditure for church schools. In the meantime the county council of the west riding of Yorkshire refused to pay teachers for the time devoted by them to religious instruction. The board of education then sought the assistance of the courts in the matter; with the result that the court of appeals decided in favor of the Yorkshire council.

If this decision should be upheld by the house of lords, whether the case now will be carried, it will practically accomplish by a stroke what the bill now in parliament of Augustine Birrell, president of the board of education, aims at, and, furthermore, it possibly may enable a large number of "passive resisters" to bring action for false imprisonment. The entire trouble appears to be due to the careless drafting of the bill in 1902.

BUSINESS WOMAN AT 70.

Mrs. Warren, of California, Takes a Little Run Down to Maine.

Norway, Me.—The sprightliness of 70-year-old Mrs. Rebecca Warren, of California, who is here on a visit to the home of her childhood days, puts Norway's old ladies to shame. Mrs. Warren has amassed a fortune and is still in active business life.

Mrs. Warren married in Chicago and went with her husband to California when two years later she became a widow. She opened a lodging house in San Francisco and ran it for 11 months, when the house was destroyed by fire, leaving her penniless, for she had carried no insurance.

She borrowed money from friends, and opened another house for lodgers, and when it was running well, she sold out her interests in it for $2,500. This suggested a scheme to her, and she entered regularly into the business of renting houses and filling them with roomers and then selling out.

At the end of a few years she had $17,000 in bank. Her next successful venture was as a whole buyer and shipper of fruits. It was Mrs. Warren who sent to eastern markets the first consignment of navel oranges.

WORLD'S DEEPEST SHAFTS.

Three of Them in the Copper Country of Michigan.

Marquette, Mich.—The Michigan copper country possesses the world's three deepest vertical mining shafts. The deepest of these is No. 3 at the North Tamarack property, the measurements being 5,200 feet. To the south at a distance of 4,000 feet is the No. 5 shaft of the same company. This ranks as the second deepest vertical shaft on the globe, its measurements being 5,080 feet from the collar to the bottom level.

Second only to these great openings is the Red Jacket shaft of the Calumet & Hecla company, which is down 4,900 feet and in which the copper lode was not encountered until a depth of 3,300 feet had been attained. The deepest incline shaft in the world is the No. 4 of the Calumet & Hecla.

This shaft itself from the collar to the lowest level is sunk on the plane of the lode for a distance of 8,100 feet, while from a drift at the bottom a winze extends downward 190 feet to the boundary of the property, giving a measurement of 8,290 feet from surface. No. 4 shaft passes by the Red Jacket shaft at the fifty-sixth level.

Sheds Skin Annually.

Helena, Mont.—John H. Price, a mine superintendent, is shedding his skin, says a Phillipsburg special. It is a very peculiar piece of nature's work, the cause of which the medical profession has so far been unable to explain. The shedding of the skin of his entire body is complete, including the nails on his fingers and toes, and the process of shedding covers a period of from three to five days. This has occurred annually for 30 years. At the approach of the shedding period Mr. Price becomes quite ill, has high fever, and the skin over his entire body apparently dries up.

Had Only One Lung at Birth.

New York.—Physicians are making an examination of the body of a man who was born and lived 45 years with only one lung. This is the second similar case on record. The man, unknown, died in Bellevue hospital. His only lung was about one-half larger than the normal lobe. The lung had crowded the heart to such an extent that the latter organ had been moved three inches out of place. There was only a cavity where the left lung should have been.

My complexion got yellow, and I lost over 50 pounds. My thirst was terrible, and there was sugar in the kidney secretions. My doctor kept me on a strict diet, but as his medicine was not helping me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once, and soon all traces of sugar disappeared. I have regained my former weight and am perfectly well."

The Central American Soldier.

These barefooted soldiers are antagonists not to be despised. Nearly worthless in attack, they are nevertheless tenacious in holding a position, a trait that comes from their Spanish descent probably. In the Cuban campaign Gen. Garcia is said to have said in reply to the remark of an American officer: "The Spaniards never attack." This may have been true in the main, but the defense of the trenches at Caney showed that the Spaniards would hold a position with as much courage and tenacity as any other troops. The Central and the South Americans have not generally showed much steadiness in war, but there have been occasions when their conduct has been conspicuous for gallantry, and all the virtues which go to make up the stalwart soldier.—N. DONKEYS TURN UP TOES.

Don't Know Enough to Get in Out of the Rain.

The war department has learned through experience that the American donkey has not sense enough to live in the Philippines.

Some time ago, more in the nature of an experiment than for any other reason, the bureau of insular affairs sent a dozen American donkeys, commonly known as "burros," to Manila for use among the Spanish-speaking people. The natives did not take kindly to the new species, however, but rather looked at them from afar off.

Seven died. Such was the news received at the bureau recently. When the torrential rains set in the little animals were caught out in the open, and not knowing how to shelter themselves like the native beast of burden, seven docile, dumb beasts turned up their toes.

"They ought to die," said a war department official who has a deep interest in everything pertaining to the Philippines; "they ought to die if they don't know enough to get in out of the rain."

I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad. I sent to you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield L. enne, Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists, and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. # LUNATIC SLEEPS IN LOFTY TREES.

JOHN KING TERRIFIES RESIDENTS OF DETROIT.

HAUNTS LOCAL CEMETERY.

Imagines Burying Ground Contains Big Lake—Knows Officers Are After Him and Feels Return to Asylum.

Detroit, Mich.—Afraid of their lives, fearful of leaving their homes, the children in the vicinity of Mt. Elliott and Monroe avenues have not played in the streets for several nights. Older persons, too, remain on front porches and do not wander far from the open doorway, through which they may flee at a moment's notice.

John King, a man with a wrecked mind, is the cause of the commotion that exists in that vicinity, and although hunted by officers, he has eluded them and a complete reign of terror exists around that corner of Mt. Elliott cemetery.

King is a powerful young fellow of about 25 years. After his mind gave way he was taken to the Dearborn retreat, but about a month ago returned to his home in this city.

For several weeks there was no indication of anything wrong with the young man. But, suddenly, he began to develop a fondness for the solitude of the cemetery, especially at night, and forsaking his bed at home, he climbed the big trees among the headstones and slept on the limbs after the primitive fashion.

King had the idea that the cemetery contained a great lake and that on its shores was the ideal camping place. And at night, to avoid the heat, he would steal away to his tree bed.

Neighbors who knew of the occurrence notified the police at the Elmwood station. Several men were detailed to effect the capture of the young man, and nightly they have patrolled the vicinity, three or four of them frequently being seen in that portion where the demented man was supposed to be.

Often King would leave the seclusion of his haunts in the cemetery and walk with quick, jerky stride along the walks adjacent to the cemetery. One night, when an officer accosted him, King, it is said, wheeled and struck the officer a violent blow, felling him to the ground, and, turning, ran north.

The demented man is also alleged to have grabbed a young man by the throat and was trying to throttle him when others approached and frightened him so he desisted. Another small boy, who was of too inquisitive a disposition for King, was assaulted and knocked down.

King realizes that he is being sought by the officers and will be placed in confinement again if caught. He is shrewd enough to avoid anyone who looks like an officer or one of his friends. He shuns his former friends as though afraid they would do him violence, and if they approach him will take to his heels.

The officers are maintaining a still hunt for King.

In the meantime, while King nightly seeks his leafy couch and the chilcers patrol the vicinity and stand guard over the place where they suppose he is, the residents do not venture away from home, the children do not demand the freedom of the streets and at night the doors and windows are securely locked against a possible attack.

Mt. Elliott avenue is enjoying a real reign of terror and prayers at night include the wish that the officers will succeed in capturing the man who is making life unbearable in that vicinity.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

Some Hints That Will Be Found Well Worth Remembering.

Nothing baked will keep well unless it is thoroughly cooled before being put away.

Keep the milk bottles tightly closed even in the refrigerator. New milk should never be mixed with old.

When boiling a pudding, remember to place a stick in the bottom of the saucepan. This will prevent the pudding burning.

Melted butter used for basting is used in the proportion of one tablespoonful of butter, melted, to one cupful of hot water. Keep hot while using.

To polish cut glass wash it well with soapsuds, rinse and then, after drying it with a cloth, polish it with sawdust and a washleather. The glass will be brilliant after this treatment.

A peppermint plant in a pot is as good as a fly-paper to rid a room of those annoying pests—the flies. There are several varieties of plants which the flies do not love, but the peppermint is their especial aversion. They will hurry to leave the room where it is.

To keep sandwiches fresh, the tin boxes in which sweet wafers are purchased are handy receptacles in which to stow away sandwiches for evening lunches. Packed carefully, with lids nicely adjusted, and set on ice until needed, the sandwiches are temptingly moist.

Ink stains on white articles may be removed with oxalic acid. A teaspoonful of the acid to a cupful of hot water will be found sufficient. The stains should be rubbed with this as soon as possible after they have been made. When the stain is removed carefully wash out the acid with pure water.

WHEN WASHING ORNAMENTS.

Proper Care That Should Be Given to Valuable China.

The washing of valuable china needs to be carried out very cautiously and carefully. A big wooden bowl, filled with warm, not boiling, soapsuds, to which a few drops of household ammonia have been added, should be prepared, and each piece of china washed separately in this, using a square of old flannel for plain plates, etc., and a soft brush (a painter's brush is best) for elaborately ornamented articles. Rinse in another wooden bowl of clean warm water, and dry with linen cloths. Bronze ornaments may be washed in the same way, but should be finally polished with a chamois leather. Some people consider a rub with a rag on which there is the least suspicion of paraffin gives bronze a nice appearance, but we do not think it necessary. Glass has a little ammonia in it, but no soap, and then rinsed in quite cold water, says Woman's Life. But glass should be washed with a brush, or, if, elaborately cut and very dirty, it is rather a good plan not to wash it at all, but brush a paste of whiting and water well into it, allowing it to dry on thoroughly, then removing it with a clean brush, and finally polishing with an old silk handkerchief.

When Broom Does Damage.

Screens should never be brushed with the house broom, as it has a tendency to push the wire from the frame, and cause it to bulge in a most unsightly manner. A child's toy broom, or, better, a whisk broom, is most useful for their proper care. The dust should be brushed from the meshes at least every two weeks.

Badly rusted screens may be brushed over with kerosene, applied with a small varnish brush. If the frames need staining and varnishing, the wire may be varnished also, or painted with any good paint thinned with oil.

Thoughtless of Us.

"This is a sad and bitter world," remarked a gentleman of Irish extraction. "We never strew flowers on a man's grave until after he is dead."

Wear Big Diamonds by Right.

The three finest diamonds worn in London society are those belonging to the duchess of Westminster, the countess of Dudley, and the duchess of Portland. It is eminently right and fitting that these lucky women should be the wives of three of the richest noblemen in the peerage.

Worst Accident in History.

The most awesome accident in history was the fall of a Roman amphitheater in the time of Tiberius. Fifty thousand people were crushed.

Day of the Big Ranch Gone.

The day of the big ranch is passing in California and the example set is rapidly being followed by the remaining owners of large tracts, who see that they can sell their immense holding and invest the property to great advantage under present conditions. These tracts will furnish homes for more than 10,000,000 people if properly subdivided and this increase in California's population will mean increased opportunity for the investment of the money secured from the sale of the big ranches.

All Chemically Pure.

The mistaken idea of a few years ago, about Alum in Baking Powders being injurious, no longer prevails, or scarcely exists. It is a well established fact by chemical analysis that Cream of Tartar being less volatile than Alum, when exposed to heat, is not entirely vaporized as is the case with Alum, but leaves a residue in the bread, which is injurious. Alum, on the contrary, is entirely evaporated while performing its function during process of baking, leaving no atom of injurious residuous substance. The words "Chemically Pure" erroneously used to designate Cream of Tartar from Alum baking powder is a misnomer. Baking Powder made of pure Alum is as chemically pure as made from pure cream of tartar. These words mean nothing more nor less than pure chemicals, and in no way can they imply that one baking powder is Alum and another Cream of Tartar. Alum has been declared to be wholesome; an established fact. Every large water system in the cities along the Missouri river use Alum in large quantities to purify the water before pumping it into their water mains for consumption. Cream of Tartar baking powder is perhaps good enough for any one; Alum baking powder is better, and very much cheaper.

Sensible German Idea.

On continental railways and the Rhine steamers there is no miscellaneous scrambling for meals. Instead a steward goes through the train or boat and lists the people who want to eat. Each gets a number, and this insures a seat without crowding or delay.

"Pugs" Ordered from Seattle.

The chief of police of Seattle, believing that prize fighters bring criminals and other undesirables in their train, has ordered all pugilists, trainers and others connected with the ring to leave the city or take up some respectable employment.

That an article may be good as well as cheap, and give entire satisfaction, is proven by the extraordinary sale of Defiance Starch, each package containing one-third more Starch than can be had of any other brand for the same money.

European Neatness.

In a thousand miles of Europe an observer saw only one rubbish heap—some old metal cans at Carlsruhe. Everywhere else was a complete absence of all waste or carelessness, and above all, of defacement and roadside uncleanness.

When Bachelors Were Taxed.

There is nothing revolutionary in modern proposals to tax bachelors. Two centuries ago every celibate in England was paying tribute to the exchequer "for neglecting his duty to support another man's daughter."

Automobilists in Shanghai.

There is no speed limit for autos outside the city of Shanghai, China. Within the city 30 miles an hour is allowed.

GAINED 34 POUNDS

Persistent Anæmia Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills After Other Remedies Had Failed.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. Nathaniel Field, of St. Albans, Somerset county, Maine, "I was the palest, most bloodless person you could imagine. My tongue and gums were colorless and my fingers and ears were like wax. I had two doctors and they pronounced my trouble anæmia. I had spells of vomiting, could not eat, in fact, did not dare to, I had such distress after eating. My stomach was filled with gas which caused me awful agony. The backache I suffered was at times almost unbearable and the least exertion made my heart beat so fast that I could hardly breathe. But the worst of all was the splitting neuralgia headache which never left me for seven weeks. About this time I had had several numb spells. My limbs would be cold and without any feeling and the most deathly sensations would come over me.

"Nothing had helped me until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, in fact, I had grown worse every day. After I had taken the pills a short time I could see that they were benefiting me and one morning I awoke entirely free from pain. The distress after eating disappeared and in three weeks I could eat anything I wanted and suffer no inconvenience. I also slept soundly. I have taken several boxes of the pills and have gained in weight from 120 to 154 pounds and am perfectly well now."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure anæmia because they actually make new blood. For rheumatism, indigestion, nervous headaches and many forms of weakness they are recommended even if ordinary medicines have failed. They are sold by all druggists, or will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

RATS ON A JAG ATTACK WOMAN IN HER CELLAR

Drank Elderberry Wine from Vat and Nearly Caused Death of a Maine Woman.

Patten, Me.—Rats which got drunk on elderberry wine attacked Mrs. Jeremiah Sibley two weeks ago and so badly lacerated her that for several days her life was despaired of. Blood poison was feared, but as prompt measures were taken it is believed that all danger of this dread disease is now passed and that the woman will eventually regain her full health. The wine was in a vat in the Sibley cellar and one day when the housewife went to draw a bottle for a sick friend she saw half a dozen rats scurrying away. Closer inspection showed that they had gnawed through the cover and helped themselves. Setting the light on a barrel, she retired for a broom. When she returned she says that one of the rats was holding another by the tail head down in the vat and he was sucking himself full.

This so angered Mrs. Sibley that she started in with the broom and whacked at every rat she saw. One began to squeal and instantly the cellar seemed full of drunken rodents. They ran for the woman, fastened their teeth in her legs, tore her dress to shreds and ripped her shoes from her feet. When attacked she started to run, but fell over a shovel and a score of the animals bit her in the neck and shoulders before she could make her way up the stairs to the kitchen. There she fainted and was later found by the husband of the sick neighbor when he came for the elderberry wine.

Investigation showed that the rats had got into the vat only the night before, and that the whole colony was drunk when Mrs. Sibley went into the cellar.

SOCIETY GIRLS WORK ON FARM. Ex-Senator's Four Pretty Daughters Solve Labor Problem.

Walla Walla, Wash.—Insolent and worthless men who are out to kill time or get unreasonable wages have no more terrors for John L. Yeend, former state senator, who resides in Walla Walla and owns a large ranch on Dry Creek.

The labor problem was becoming vexing for Mr. Yeend, his grain being ripe and requiring immediate attention. Men being scarce and surly and unreasonable in their demands, it looked anything but encouraging for Mr. Yeend, when his wife and daughters surprised him by proposing to go to the fields and help harvest the crop.

Mr. Yeend has four pretty daughters who are among the popular society women of Walla Walla. Two of them were already assisting their father by cooking for the harvest crew. At first Mr. Yeend was inclined to refuse the offer, but as his daughters were so much in earnest he has decided to let them assist.

Miss Alma will drive a header box while Miss Bertha will operate the derrick. But the four sisters will probably change about with the work.

Beautiful in all its appointments was a tea given Friday afternoon by Mrs. F. C. Tierney in honor of Miss Elizabeth Tierney. Mrs. Tierney was assisted by Mesdames Ervein, McQueen and Eaton.

Walton Snyder was the host at a novel barn party Saturday night. The huge barn at the Snyder home was artistically lighted with Japanese lanterns and hung with Navajo blankets. Games were played and the young people tripped the light fantastic to the tune of Money Musk just as their grandfathers and grandmothers did in the "good old times" when the husking bee with its accompaniment of sweet cider and red ears of corn played such a prominent part in the barn dance.

Miss Cleo Toombs entertained a number of her little friends on the lawn at the beautiful home of her parents, Thursday afternoon, it being the occasion of her sixth birthday. Miss Cleo proved a most charming hostess.

The young ladies say that moonlight hayride was only anticipation.

New Cemetery Site.

Mr. J. C. Hill has informed us of a proposition which he wishes to submit to the people of Clayton concerning a new location for the City Cemetery.

Mr. Hill proposes to lay out ample grounds on the rise of ground southeast of the school house, enclose it with a substantial iron fence, pipe the water out, lay out walks and driveways and block out the lots in symmetrical order and sell these lots to defray expenses.

The Masonic order has already spoken for a section to be set aside for the special use of the order and the Catholic priest wishes another section.

We seem to have arrived at the point where some step must be taken and that without delay. The question is now before the people—What will you do? The columns of this paper are always open for the discussion of this subject and all other subjects which concern the welfare of Clayton.

Stephen Easley and wife, of Harwood, Mo., are visiting relatives near Kenton.

A Fatal Accident.

The sad news was received here yesterday of an accident which resulted in the death of Mrs. Will McElroy at Mountain View, Okla. on the 31 of August.

Mrs. McElroy with her husband and two little daughters, one aged four and the other not yet two, were riding to town on a load of wheat drawn by four horses when a certain sandy stretch of road was reached Mr. McElroy wishing to lighten the load, tied the lines to the seat and walked. The head team broke a stretcher and continued to pull pulling the seat off together with Mrs. McElroy and little Nora, over the front of the wagon, the wheel passing over the unfortunate woman's chest crushing her lungs. She lived two hours after the accident but never regained consciousness. The little girl was uninjured and the baby lay back on the wheat asleep.

The Rebelah degree of the Odd Fellows Lodge, of which Mrs. McElroy was a member, had charge of the funeral services which were conducted with quiet dignity and all the honors customary with that order.

The shock falls heaviest on the husband, who is almost frantic with grief, and the mother, who mourns her first born the little daughters can not yet realize their great loss. In our clouded vision it seems unwise and unkind that providence should make such dispensations. But perhaps "some day we'll understand."
