Our editor says that "off comes our head" if we do not get the school notes in this week. To save our head, we submit the following with the apology for the absence of the notes the last three weeks. We are so busy that the edition of the News finds us far behind the game.

GIVE US AN ANSWER.

How is it, that Judge Wilson and John M. Cheshire, always leave for Fort Sumner in separate cars, unaware of each others existence? But return home always together, singing, "We are Jolly Good Fellows!"

Gordon Nichols, our young friend of Chesterfieldian type, alighted from the Express, Tuesday morning; it is true we knew of his coming, but not the exact time of his arrival, otherwise the demonstration at the Depot might have been more impressive. Never-the-less, the homage done him was worthy of a Caesar. Our first impression of him was that of a tailor ing ad from the Saturday Evening Post. He was in the latest Nashville style and the ensemble, including the hood, was pleasing to our sand filled eyes. Taiban welcomes you, Gordon, an dmay your stay be profitable and beneficial.

Sam Mechem, of Canton, who left here about eighteen months ago, for Texas points, is back again, saying "New Mexico looks best to me!"

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. (Lum) Arnold have been at Snyder, Texas, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Arnold's sister.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

MRS. BARRETTE TELLS OF SPLENDID RESULTS

Prominent New Hampshire Woman Says Tanlac Brought About a Wonderful Change in Her Condition.

MRS. AURORE BARRETTE of Manchester, New Hampshire

"Tanlac is a grand medicine, and I think every suffering woman ought to know about it," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Aurore Barrette, at her residence, 133 Second Street, Manchester, New Hampshire. Mrs. Barrette is a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

"I have not felt at all well for the past year or more," she continued. "I haven't been sick enough to be in bed, but I was far from being a well woman. At times I thought I had kidney trouble, for I suffered almost constantly from severe pains across my back, just over the kidneys. Whenever I tried to do any housework at all that dull pain would be there, and if I attempted to stoop over it just felt as though my back would break. I would get so weak and worn out I would have to sit down and rest several times a day, and I felt tired all the time.

"This condition made me awfully nervous, so that I rarely ever slept well at night, and every now and then I would jump in my sleep, as if in a fright, and my condition was really becoming serious.

"Only two bottles of Tanlac have brought about a wonderful change in my condition. In fact, the results I have received from this medicine have really surprised me. Those terrible

BUT HE MADE FINE SPEECH

Fact That Candidate Didn't Say What He Was Talking About Was Really Small Matter.

"Well, Jack," asked Mrs. Monrough of her husband, "and what did you think of the speech of our new candidate for parliament at the next election?"

"Oh, Mary, he certainly is a great speaker!" assented her husband.

"That so?" commented his wife. "Did he speak for long?"

Jack Monrough whistled.

"Yes, my dear. He could beat even your sex at the game," he added humorously. "He spoke for three solid hours!"

Mrs. Monrough was accustomed to her husband's jibes and she let it pass unanswered.

"What did he talk about?" she queried.

Mr. Monrough scratched his head in perplexity.

"Come to think of it," he answered at last, "he didn't exactly say!"—London Answers.

pains in my back which used to trouble me every day have almost disappeared, and I am going to keep on taking Tanlac until they leave me entirely. I have lots of energy now, and am not only able to do my housework, but I get through the day without feeling the least bit tired. I am no longer nervous like I was, and I sleep well at night.

Material Called Lamb's Fleece in Syria Merely Went by Another Name in England.

A certain young globe-trotter, possessed of more money than brains, was prevailed upon by one of the sons of the prophet to purchase at a very large price a quantity of what was described as Syrian lamb's fleece.

This, when he returned to London, he sent to his tailor with orders to line an overcoat with it. A few days after he called to try on the coat.

"You didn't send us quite enough material, sir," remarked the tailor, "and I had to get some more to line the sleeves."

"But," remarked the traveler in surprise, "it's impossible to obtain that fleece in England. It's only to be obtained in Syria."

"Not at all, sir," was the reply. "In England we call it rabbit skin."—Montreal Herald.

OUTLINES POLICY BEFORE NATION

President's Inaugural Address Deals Chiefly With Reconstruction.

ACCEPTS MANDATE OF PEOPLE Electoral Vote Construed as Directing Continued Policy of Non-Interference in World Affairs—Tariff Readjustment.

Washington, March 4.—President Harding's inaugural address, delivered today, was substantially as follows:

My Countrymen—When one surveys the world about him after the great storm, noting the marks of destruction and yet rejoicing in the ruggedness of the things which withstood it, if he is an American he breathes the clarified atmosphere with a strange mingling of regret and new hope.

Standing in this presence, mindful of the solemnity of the occasion, feeling the emotions which no one may know until he senses the great weight of responsibility, I must utter my belief in the divine inspiration of the founding fathers. Surely there must have been God's intent in the making of this new world-republic.

Our fathers, in their organic law, which had but one ambition and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concept inspiring. We have seen the world river in its course on the great truths on which the founders wrought.

We have seen civil, human and religious liberty, an inspired, in the beginning, the world effort of experiment, today our foundations of political and social belief stand unshaken, a precious heritage, our guiding light.

Our fathers, in their organic law, which had but one ambition and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concept inspiring. We have seen the world river in its course on the great truths on which the founders wrought.

No Entanglement With Old World. The recorded progress of our republic, materially and spiritually, in itself proves the wisdom of the inherited policy of non-involvement in old world affairs.

Our fathers, in their organic law, which had but one ambition and we saw that effaced in a baptism of sacrifice and blood, with union maintained, the nation supreme and its concept inspiring. We have seen the world river in its course on the great truths on which the founders wrought.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nineteen days is all they have lived. Before my next one was born I took a dozen bottles of your Vegetable Compound, and I can say that it is the greatest medicine on earth for this baby is now four months old, and a healthier baby you would not want. I am sending you a picture of her. Everybody says 'That is a very healthy looking baby.' You have my consent to show these few lines to anybody."—Mrs. C. W. BENZ, 131 3rd Avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives. Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time after we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."—Mrs. H. H. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says: "I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Some committee members do not believe it wise in view of the difficulties which have attended the Fordney emergency tariff to attempt the enactment of a second temporary measure, which Mr. Fordney has proposed as a stop-gap tariff law. They fear that even though the program to which Mr. Harding's approval was given may be broader than the last emergency tariff, attempts might be made to change it in some particulars and the bill would suffer the same delay the Fordney bill encountered.

LECTURE ON AFRICA.

On Wednesday night the Rev. R. H. Evans gave a very interesting lecture on Africa and the lives of the different tribes. He had his subject well in hand. A repetition of this lecture would be highly appreciated. Mrs. L. K. Mau, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Furbee on the piano, rendered Sir Arthur Gilbert's "Lot Chord" and also the "Perect Day."

The Glory of the Oleanders.

This bright morning we looked from the roof of our veranda, and our neighbor's oleander-trees were glowing like a great crimson cloud; and we said, "There! the oleanders have come back!" No nothern ideas can give the glory of these trees as they raise their heads in this their native land, and seem to be covered with great crimson roses.—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Youthful Joys.

If dryads ever chose special dwellings it must have been within the boughs of walnut trees. If the tree was known to old Hellas, then the gods forgot something essential to the happiness of youth. If the ancestors of Pericles and all the heroes of the golden age did not betimes go adventuring for walnuts, acquiring burrs and stone-bruises, then they never knew the joy that comes to the Middle Western lads, who each fading year bear home their treasures to spread on the old kitchen roof to dry.—Exchange.

musical requirements.

Church—I suppose it takes a lot of wind to learn to play the cornet, doesn't it?

Gotham—Oh, yes, considerable. "How about the trombone?"
"Oh, well, it takes not only a lot of wind, but a lot of nerve, for anyone to learn to play that."

Decadence.

"When you and I were boys," remarked Mr. Twobble to his friend, Mr. Dubwaite, "we read 'dime novels' on the sty. Now, that was red-blooded fiction."
"Maybe it was," said Mr. Dubwaite, thoughtfully, "but it didn't seem to help us any. We've both landed in swivel chairs."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Making Baled Cotton Fire Proof.

A process has been devised for treating baled cotton with a chemical compound which renders it flame and spark proof and at the same time apparently provides an inch or two of cotton in condition to aid in rapid drying without deterioration in case a bale is exposed to weather. On an average 20,000 bales of cotton are destroyed by fire before the crop is marketed, and most of this loss can be traced to flash or spark fire. Cotton stored in suitable warehouses would be evidence of a progressive step, for there is probably no crop of so great value that is treated with so little thoughtful consideration.

Bells Worn by Priests.

Innumerable and interesting are the traditions surrounding bells. Bells, or substitutes therefor, have ever played an important part in religious ceremonies. In the books of Exodus and Ecclesiastes the ornaments of the high priest's ephod include bells, so that "their sound might be heard whenever he goeth in or cometh out of the sanctuary." Their use in the eastern church obtains even to this day, bells being found as they were of old on the fringe of priestly garments.

Valuable Thimbles.

All over the world the thimble is a symbol of industry. Fashion in thimbles is very luxurious in the East. Wealthy Chinese ladies have thimbles carved out of mother-of-pearl, and sometimes the top is a single precious stone. Thimbles with an agate or onyx mounted in gold are often seen, as well as thimbles encrusted with rubies. The queen of Siam possesses a thimble in the form of a lotus-bud, with her name exquisitely worked in tiny diamonds round the margin.

Story of the Thimble.

The modern thimble dates from 1684, when the goldsmith, Nicholas Benschoten of Amsterdam, sent one as a birthday present to a lady with the dedication, "To my frou van Rensselaer, this little object which I have invented and executed as a protective covering for her industrious fingers."

Warning Conveyed by Dream.

To dream you are held up by a footpad signifies that unless you use extreme caution your enemies will overthrow you. To dream you are one warns you to proceed cautiously in your business.

Retaliation.

"Agnes is fifty if she's a day, but she gives her age as only thirty." "Well, you can't blame her in a way. time has told on her and she's getting even by wiping off an old score."—Boston Transcript.

As She Saw It.

She (as pitcher for the home team strikes out a man)—I don't see anything to cheer about. Why, the man didn't even hit the ball!—Boston Transcript.

Bird's Power of Vision.

A bird's power of vision is, on the average, about 100 times greater than man's. Birds have been known to see a worm on freshly plowed ground at a distance of 300 feet.

Hints on Finger Nails.

The growth of nails on the fingers of the hand shows great variance, the thumb's growing most slowly, the middle finger's the most rapidly—Ohio State Journal.

Waits in Mid-Air.

Upon meeting one of its own species the tiger swallowtail butterflies will execute a kind of aerial waltz as they flit above, below and around each other in their play on the wing.

Blind, Reads With Tongue.

Braille characters are, of course, read with the fingers, but one armless blind man has been taught to read with his tongue.

Mood and Might.

The man who calmly expects to win has already begun to conquer; our mood has so much to do with our might.—Dr. J. H. Jowett.

What Faith Does.

Faith is what enables a person to enjoy eating a currant pie in summer when houseflies are numerous.—New Orleans States.

Patented Curves.

The curved edges of the violin are patented by a North Carolina inventor, the form being said to improve the tone of the instrument.

Effect of Habit on Some People.

A West Dallas widow says that the only reason why she would ever take another husband is because it is so hard to stop marrying when once begun.—Dallas News.

What Makes a Book.

If a book come from the heart, it will contrive to reach other hearts; all art and authorcraft are of small amount to that.—Carlyle.

Land of the Orris Root.

Orris root, which is used as a basis of many perfumes, is obtained only around Florence and in the neighborhood of Verona.

Origin of Pensioners.

The practice of pensioning or insuring sick and wounded soldiers is said to have been started in England by Oliver Cromwell.

Always Obliging.

Jud Tonkins says he's perfectly willing to be wrong sometimes, for the sake of not spoiling an interestin' argument.

A Cynicism.

The two keys to success are luck and pluck; luck in finding someone to pluck.—Life.

Talk.

Talk is cheap, but not when money does it.—Life.

Bell Follied Thieves.
Among records of stolen bells is that of one from Solissons in Burgundy, which Clothaire carried away. The bell objected to the act by gradually becoming dumb on the journey to Paris, where its voice was discovered gone. But its voice returned in such full force when the bell was sent home that its tone could be heard seven miles distant.

Little Law in Albania.
Except in a few communities in the South, the Albanians live in tribal organizations, in scattered communities in the mountains, where each man defends his home and his rights with his rifle, which he never lays down when out of doors. They are governed by a sort of common law, which is known as the Law of Lek. Lek was a more or less traditional law giver of the once powerful family of Dukadajini.

Policewomen Walk Like Men.
London policewomen work in couples and have adopted the regular policeman's stride—long, slow-measured. As their work is moral suasion, they carry no weapon, but as a means of self defense they have learned jitsu tricks.

Bats Not Classed as Birds.
The bureau of biological survey says that bats are not birds. They are mammals, though adapted to life in the air by the possession of wings formed by a membrane attached between the greatly prolonged bones of the arm and hand.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the System.
