The regular quarterly meeting of the Torrance County Development Association was called to order by Neal Jenson, president. Officers present Dr. B. E. Hedding, secretary and C. M. Milbourn, treasurer. Willard, Moriarty, Mountinair and Estancia were represented by good delegations.

Minutes of annual meeting were dispensed with.

Reports of Officers—Treasurer reported on hand $50.72 cents, the premium money from the State Fair not having been received.

Reports of Standing Committees—Advertising Committee thru the chairman, J. W. Corbett, reported that no meeting had been held. The report of the auditing committee was held over.

The following bills were presented and ordered paid—Estancia News-Herald $2.00 for printing tags used at State fair exhibit.

Owing to the fact that Dr. B. E. Hedding is now a resident of Santa Fe, Dr. Hedding presented his resignation to take effect immediately. On motion the resignation was accepted.

Election of Secretary—Harry J. Fincke of Moriarty was unanimously elected secretary and thereupon assumed the duties of the office.

Acting upon the suggestion of Marshal Orme of Moriarty, now lecturer at the San Diego exposition, in a letter written to H. J. Fincke, requesting some literature on Torrance County to be distributed at the New Mexico building, Dr. Hedding moved that a committee of three be appointed to get up some advertising matter for this purpose. The motion was amended that the committee use the last circular published, making such changes as would be necessary. Motion carried as amended. Committee appointed—Messrs. Corbett, Otosen and Fincke.

Mr. Orme having made a request for pictures of which he would have slides made and shown in the New Mexico building, a motion was made and carried that each community be requested to send to the secretary without delay six representative pictures, the same to be forwarded to Mr. Orme at San Diego.

Motion was made by Mr. Corbett and carried unanimously that the association give to Mr. Harwell, the newly appointed County Agent, our assurance of co-operation in all the work and the necessity of his working in each community with one man as a sort of experimental station in that community.

Motion was made and carried that Dr. Hedding be appointed a committee of one to see Mr. Ely, who was not present at the meeting having been called east last week, and secure his promise to take charge of Torrance County Day at the Mountain Chautauqua.

On behalf of the Mountain Chautauqua, J. W. Corbett extended a very cordial invitation to the association to select a day during the Chautauqua for the annual meeting, the day to be known as Torrance County Day.

Motion was passed that J. W. Davis, of McIntosh, be appointed a committee of one to have charge of the local matters of the association at the annual meeting on Torrance County Day.

The secretary was instructed by a unanimous vote to extend to Mr. Ely the assurance of co-operation in his publicity work and anything else in which he is boosting Torrance County and the Estancia valley.

Motion was passed that the Exhibit committee be instructed to endeavor to have this year's exhibit at the County Fair in Willard in time for a county exhibit and then re-forwarded to the State Fair at Albuquerque.

Motion was passed that we extend a vote of appreciation to the Estancia people for their hospitality of the day.

Motion was passed that a vote of thanks be extended to Dr. Hedding for the efficient manner in which he fulfilled the secretary's office during the past two years.

On motion Dr. Hedding was unanimously elected a life member.

Motion was passed that the president be appointed a committee of one to work in conjunction with the County Agent in any way that may present itself.

Mr. Harwell, county agent, having arrived in Estancia by auto, was introduced to the members present and after a few remarks by the president, Mr. Harwell spoke on the work for the coming year.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet at Moriarty during the Chautauqua on Torrance County Day.

Respectfully submitted,
Neal Jenson, President.
Harry J. Fincke, Secretary.

COUNTY AGENT IS BUSY

Our new county agriculturist, Roland Harwell, arrived with his wife Monday. He has rented the Tom Elgin house in the north part of town, and will soon be at home there. The government regulations require him to maintain headquarters at the county seat.

Mr. Harwell lost no time in getting busy. He made a short talk to the Development Association Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday visited the schools and made a talk on agriculture to the pupils. He has also been out consulting with a number of farmers who are having trouble with their cattle, and has also been in consultation with some men in the vicinity of Manzano who are having some difficulties with their fruit trees.

A. C. Casley, director of extension work, came in Wednesday and in conjunction with Mr. Harwell is arranging for a series of meetings in the principal towns of the county to be held next week, at which will be present Dr. Humbert, whose specialty is soil physics and crops, and Fabian Garcia, horticulturist. They are also making an effort to get a government veterinarian for the state, who will be at the disposal of the county agents.

Mr. Harwell wishes it understood that in these days it is impossible for a man to be a "universal specialist," but he will make every effort to get specialists where they are needed. That is part of his duties. He is at the service of the people in all parts of the county, and will divide his time equally between the different localities.

His arrival was too late for an extended announcement of his plans this week, but he will make use of the newspapers and the people of the county will be fully informed as to his movements and plans.

BAPTIST LADIES' AID

The Baptist Aid Society will meet Thursday before the second and fourth Sundays, having changed owing to some of the members belonging to the order of the Eastern Star, and both meeting the same afternoon. The next regular meeting will be at the church building the 6th Thursday at 2:30. We hope all the members will attend. We are sure if they would join and help with the finances of the Lord's work He would abundantly bless them.

ANOTHER THISTLE TESTIMONIAL

Wm. Winkel of Encino was in Estancia Monday on business and to visit his friend, A. R. Cecil.

Mr. Winkel is one of the men who started wrong in this country, but soon saw his mistake and got right.

He is not in a part of the country where irrigation can be practiced except on a small scale, and he saw that the live stock business was the thing.

When he came to the country he brought a steam plow and started farming on a large scale, but soon dropped it and went into the cattle business. As a result he now has a down-hill pull and everything is coming his way.

He raises a good garden and always has vegetables in great variety and abundance for his own use. Also he keeps a hundred or so chickens and raises each year about a dozen fine hogs. Thus he produces almost everything needed for his table, and sells enough eggs and cream to pay for all his necessities that he does not produce. He has heretofore milked a considerable number of cows and sold cream, but from this time forward will milk only a sufficient number of cows to produce what he wants for his table and skimmed milk and cheese for his pigs and chickens. He has so many cattle now—several hundred head—that he cannot give the time to milking.

He has made a splendid success with his cattle. He raises high grades, using none but registered bulls, and shelters and feeds his cattle during stormy weather. As a result he has practically no loss, and gets 96 per cent of strong, vigorous calves from his cows.

While he raises lots of other feed, he is an enthusiastic devotee of the heretofore despised Russian thistles, having tried them out thoroughly for the past three years.

Three years ago he found some of his forage crops were not going to produce much, so he just let the thistles grow, and cut and put up the thistles along with such other forage as was on the ground—principally cane. The next year he devoted considerable area to thistles alone, and was confirmed in his conviction that the thistle is one of the most valuable assets of the country. Last year he put up one hundred tons of thistles, and this made stormy weather feed—and ample feed at that—for three hundred head of cattle. They came through sleek and fat. This year he will devote a still larger acreage to thistles.

His method is to double dig the ground and then smooth it with a harrow. The thistles then do not come so thickly but they do grow rank and thrifty, and he cuts them before they get tough.

When he put up the thistles and cane mixed, he found that the stock cleaned up the thistles completely, while some of the cane was rejected.

He does not regard the thistles as a first class forage for horses, but they are fair for that purpose. But for cattle he cannot praise them too highly.

Mr. Winkel has had fine success with other forage crops except sweet clover and feterita. He sowed $75 worth of sweet clover seed, but did not get a good stand. Where the plants grew up scattering and went to seed, the following year there was a good stand about such plants, seeming to indicate that fall seeding might be preferable. He is going to try feterita again, considering it a more valuable grain than maize, though he has had good success with maize. He says kaffir cannot be matured here.

Mr. Winkel having been highly successful in his present line, is well content and wouldn't think of hunting for a better country.

He says some Texas men are coming into that part of the county with bunches of cattle, and that part of the county will soon have all the stock it can support.

It seems a little like home with the wind blowing once in a while. I didn't suppose the effect of the Roosevelt-Barnes trial would reach so far.

We are somewhat proud of our bunch of "tads." Our entire 8th grade passed the 8th grade promotion examination, and Dixie Lipe made the highest grades in the county, making 93. The other graduates are Floyd Stomp, Luther Vandeford, and Clara Torrance.

Willie, Mamie and Maggie Spencer of Frontier also passed. And now we are yelling for a county high school.

Mrs. John Vandeford has gone to Raton with her daughters to rest and regain her strength after her illness.

Mrs. Tutt was called to Kentucky Wednesday to the bedside of her father. The sad news reached here that her father had passed away before her arrival. The sympathy of the entire community is with Mrs. Tutt and her mother in their bereavement.

Clara Torrance went to Santa Fe Friday to visit her brother and the Laws children for a few days.

Mrs. M. B. Falconer went to Albuquerque to attend the funeral of Duncan McGillivray. She went from there with Mrs. McGillivray to Torreon, New Mex.

who are farming for Mrs. Kuykendall, have their corn planted.

Letters from Kentucky report a drouth ruining the grass and wheat. They say they think the rains have gone west. Well, we certainly are having our share.

We understand there are to be several new telephones put in as soon as Mr. Senter raises the line so as to give better service. A telephone is the thing to have in the rural district, as it saves many a long drive, as well as being a social benefit. If a listener should be on the Silverton line at times they'd think it was a social meeting, as we frequently "butt in" when we hear our neighbors ring, and join in the conversation, some three or four of us being on the line at the same time. Get a phone if you want to be in the swim.

Roy Whilloro of Carthage, N. M., was a visitor in this neighborhood several days last week. Mrs. Whilloro is visiting her mother, Mrs. Louis Poillard, in Albuquerque.

W. T. Wore of Albuquerque is spending a few months in Kentucky, where he was called to the bedside of his mother, who is quite ill.

Harvey Steele, who has been in Albuquerque attending the bedside and demise of his wife, returned to his home with his mother, Mrs. Amos Kuykendall, near Silverton, last Saturday.

CONN SHOT WRONG MAN

ADOLPH MOLSBERGER KILLED ON STREETS OF PORTALES.

Nineteen-Year-Old Boy Nearly Deceased Farmer While Seeking Death of Furniture Man.

Portales, N. M.—Firing a shotgun at R. E. Curd, a furniture dealer here, Sam Conn, nineteen years old, shot and instantly killed Adolph Molsberger, a farmer of the Rodgers district. Curd and Molsberger were walking together. The killing occurred in front of the First National bank here, about 8 o'clock at night. The shotgun charge tore off Molsberger's left ear and literally blew the back of his head to pieces.

Conn is an orphan who made his home for several years with Mrs. Josie German, near Upton. For several months he has been living in Portales, and Curd recently quarreled, and Curd warned Conn to keep away from his place of business. On the night of the killing Conn, armed with the shotgun, met Curd and Molsberger, and the quarrel was resumed. Only a few words had passed when the young man raised the gun and fired at Curd, the charge striking Molsberger instead.

As Molsberger fell to the sidewalk Curd jumped at Conn, and seized the gun. Sheriff George C. Deen, who was but a few feet away at the time of the shooting, arrested Conn and took him to the county jail. "I'm sorry I killed the wrong man," Molsberger was a bachelor, fifty years of age. He had been working in Texas, and had just returned to this section.

Cimarron Expects Railroad Shops. Cimarron.—This town is particularly interested in the increase in the capital of the Rocky Mountain & Santa Fé railway from $1,500,000 to $5,200,000, which is taken to mean that the line will be extended from Ute Park into Taos county. In such event it is regarded as certain that the company's shops here, which were closed after the line was acquired by the Santa Fé, will be reopened and operated steadily. None of the machinery in the local shops has been removed.

Cowboys to Attend Range Re-Union. Las Vegas.—J. O. Neufus, A. R. Bagley and J. E. Rusby, prominent stockmen of the Cuervo district, estimate that 300 cowboys of that section will come to Las Vegas if the plans for a reunion of cowboys here on July 1, 2 and 3 are perfected.

Wyoming. The Big Horn Oil and Gas Company is planning the construction of a refinery at Basin. Bert Orchard has brought in a good oil well on Grass Creek, one-half a mile further south than any drilled heretofore.

C. A. Parker has leased 500 acres of land near Basin, lying between the Greybull Oil Company tracts and the river, and will develop it. O. W. Nicholson, who is associated with the Valentine crowd now operating in the Grass Creek country, has located a well-defined oil dome at Shell Creek, east of Basin.

New Mexico. According to reports, the Phelps-Dodge pool last year paid $5,042,001 in dividends. At Dawson was produced last year 1,355,983 tons of coal and 239,996 tons of coke. General Manager E. M. Sawyer, of the Burro Mountain Copper Company, the Phelps-Dodge concern, states that the company expected to be producing copper by the end of the year.

A big silver and lead strike is reported to have been made recently by J. W. Weitzman in the Tres Hermanas Mountains. The ore runs $25 a ton with a preponderance of silver. A well-known Silver City mining man has returned from a trip to the scene of the new gold strike at Cactus Flat, fifty miles due north of Silver City. Ore running as high as $1,100 a ton was found. He reports the district as being covered with locations.

Arizona. Mining operations continue very active in the Tom-Reed-Gold Road district at Oatman. There is a boom due in the oil industry in the vicinity of Benson within a short time is evidenced by a large number of placer claim filings with County Recorder Owen E. Murphy.

Cross-cutting is proceeding rapidly at the Old Champlion mine, four miles west of McMillan, which has been taken under a three years lease and operated by Col. James A. Fleming and associates. High prices for copper prevailing at the present time resulted in good news for employees of the Old Dominion Copper Company at Globe, when General Manager P. G. Beckett posted a notice of a new increase in wages. Under the new scale a miner who at 15-cent copper receives $7.75 a day will, with copper at 16 cents, get $8.90; at 17 cents get $10.00; at 18 cents get $11.15; at 19 cents get $12.25, and all others in the same proportion.

COLORADO. The Argo mill at Idaho Springs is handling 3,000 tons of ore monthly. There is unusual interest in the flotation process in the Silverton district. Some 30,000 shares of the Isabella changed hands recently at the highest price in three years. A rich strike has been made in the old Waldorf mine, near Georgetown, a 42-ton shipment returning $3,500 net.

It is rumored in Cripple Creek that the new Jerry Johnson mill—100 tons daily—is to be fitted up for oil flotation. The Idaho Company, owned in Pueblo, has opened the vein on the Chief. There is a good grade of ore showing. Manager Smith, who has charge of the Golden Cycle plant at Colorado City, reports a steady advance in the grade of Cripple Creek ores.

C. W. Benkelman, of Denver, who is interested with Messrs. Anderson, Ely and Orison, Cripple Creek miners, in a lease on the Trail mine, reports an extensive and valuable ore strike four feet in width and sampling from $87 to $180 per ton across the entire vein.

The Cresson "vug" is yet productive. Four carloads of ore (120 tons), having a value of approximately $200,000, were shipped a few days ago. The ore was marketed in two lots, two carloads being sacked and two being loose rock. The high-grade product is said to have brought a settlement of nearly $150,000, while the second-class milled about $60,000.

The Athol Mining Company, which was organized about a year ago by a syndicate of Colorado Springs men, and which holds a lease on the property of the late Gen. Palmer at Glen Elyre, near Colorado Springs, is installing new machinery at its property and will soon begin shipments of one car of copper ore a day.

The McNeely lease on the second level of the Portland mine, Cripple Creek, is proving the source of considerable earning power, and shipments of ore far above the average in value are going out.

State Mine Commissioner Carroll, who takes office May 16, is an expert in the flotation process, now in use in the Leadville, Ouray and Silverton districts, and in connection with a wide variety of ores. As the result of experiments commenced in the fall of 1913, the Atlas mill, above Ouray, of which Carroll is the general manager, is now recovering 50 per cent of the values from its complex ores.

Lucero, member of the first State Legislature from Rio Arriba county, entered the state penitentiary to serve a term of one year to eighteen months. Lucero was convicted in the District Court of solicitation of bribery and was sentenced by District Judge Edmund C. Abbott on March 19, 1913. A big touring car came up. "How much for putting up the car?" asked the owner.

"Five dollars for the day." Was the reply, and the car went on. Other expensive cars were brought up, and the same sum demanded.

At last up came a small car of a make about which it is the fashion to make good-humored jokes.

"How much?" inquired the motorist. "Five dollars."

"It's yours," replied the car owner, dismounting.

The Only Alternative.

The young woman sat before her glass and gazed long and earnestly at the reflection there. She screwed up her face in many ways. She fluffed up her hair and then smoothed it down again; she raised her eyes and lowered them; she showed her teeth and she pressed her lips tightly together. At last she got up, with a weary sigh, and said:

The game had been called on account of darkness at the end of the sixteenth inning, and consequently hubby was very late for dinner.

His wife greeted him with a smile, but not the kind she turns on when she wants a new gown. There are smiles and smiles, as you may have noticed.

Heaven on Earth.

Heaven consists in nothing else than walking, abiding, resting in the Divine presence. There are souls who enter into this heaven before leaving the body. If thou believest that thy God, found, felt and rested in, is heaven, why not, under the gracious help which he vouchsafes to thee in his son, begin at once to discipline and qualify thy soul for this heaven?

If this be thy chief good, why turn away from it, as though it were a thing not to be desired? If it be the very end of thy being, the only right, good and blessed end, why postpone thy qualification for it, as though it were a bitter necessity? Suffer thy soul, so noble in its origin, to be withdrawn from dust, noise, multitudes, vain treasures and vain pleasure, to find its sweetness and fullness in God.—John Pustford.

IN A SHADOW

Tea Drinker Feared Paralysis.

Steady use of either tea or coffee often produces alarming symptoms, as the poison (caffeine) contained in these beverages acts with more potency in some persons than in others.

"I was never a coffee drinker," writes an ill woman, "but a tea drinker. I was very nervous, had frequent spells of sick headache and heart trouble, and was subject at times to severe attacks of bilious colic."

"No end of sleepless nights—would have spells at night when my right side would get numb and tingle like a thousand needles were pricking my flesh. At times I could hardly put my tongue out of my mouth and my right eye and ear were affected."

"The doctors told me to quit using tea, but I thought I could not live without it—that it was my only stay. I had been a tea drinker for twenty-five years; was under the doctor's care for fifteen."

"About six months ago, I finally quit tea and commenced to drink Postum. I have never had one spell of sick-headache since and only one light attack of bilious colic. Have quit having those numb spells at night, sleep well and my heart is getting stronger all the time."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms: Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup. "There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

HEARTS and MASKS

BY HAROLD MACGRATH. AUTHOR OF 'THE MAN ON THE BEACH' ETC. With Drawings by Harrison Fisher.

"What is it you think I have done?" I demanded.

"You have, or have had, several thousand dollars' worth of gems on your person tonight."

"I shrugged. The accusation was so impossible that my confidence returned.

"Mr. Haggerty, you are making a stupid mistake. You are losing time, besides. I am not the man for whom you are hunting. My name is Richard Constable."

"One name or another, it does not matter."

"Plenty of gall," murmured one of the minions of the law, whom I afterward learned was the chief of the village police.

"The card by which you gained admittance here," demanded the great Haggerty truculently.

"I surrendered it. A crowd had by this time collected curiously about us. I could see the musicians on the stage peering over the plants."

"The thief you are looking for has gone," said I. "He escaped by the coal window." By this statement my feet sank deeper still.

"What did I tell you?" cried Haggerty, turning to his men. "They had an accomplice hidden in the cellar."

"I beg to inform you that you are making a mistake that will presently cost you dear,—thinking of the political pull my uncle had in New York. I am the nephew of Daniel Witherpoon."

"Worse and worse!" said the chief of police.

"We shall discuss the mistake later and at length. Of course you can easily explain how you came to impose upon those people,—ironically, 'Bah! the game is up. When you dropped that card in Friard's and said you were going to a masquerade, I knew your game in a minute, and laid eyes upon you for the first time since I began the chase. I've been after you for weeks. Your society dodge has worked out, and I'll land you behind the bars for some time to come, my gay boy. Come,"—roughly.

"I request Mr. Hamilton to be called. He will prove to you that you are greatly mistaken. Everything looked pretty black, I can tell you."

"You will see whom you please, but only after you are safely landed in the lockup. Now, Madame,"—turning swiftly upon the Blue Domino, "what is your part in this fine business?"

"It certainly has no part in yours,"—leily.

Haggerty smiled. "My skin is very thick. Do you know this fellow?"

She shook her head. He stood undecided for a space.

"Let me see your card."

"I decline to produce it,"—haughtily. Haggerty seemed staggered for a moment. "I am sorry to annoy you, but you must be identified at once."

"And why?"—proudly. "Was it forbidden to go into the club cellars for such harmless things as apples?"

"Apples! I looked at her admiringly. "Apples!" repeated Haggerty. "Couldn't you have sent a servant for them?"

She did not reply.

"You were with this clever gentleman in the cellars. You may or may not be acquainted with him. I do not wish to do anything hasty in regard to yourself, but your position is rather equivocal. Produce your card and be identified—if you really can."

"I refuse!"

"Then I shall ask you to accompany us to the room up stairs (til the police patrol arrives)."

"I will go,"—quietly.

"Nonsense!" I objected. "On my word of honor, I do not know this lady. Our presence in the cellar was perfectly harmless. There is no valid reason for detaining her. It is an outrage!"

"I am not going to stand here arguing with you," said Haggerty. "Let the lady produce her card; let her disclose her identity. That is simple enough."

"I have already given you my determination on that subject," replied the girl. "I can very well explain my presence here, but I absolutely decline to explain it to the police."

"I didn't understand her at all. She had said that she possessed an alibi. Why didn't she produce it?"

"So the two of us left the gorgeous ball-room. Every one moved aside for us, and quickly, too, as if we had had the plague. I looked in vain for Hamilton. He was a friend in need. We were taken into the steward's office and the door was shut and locked. The hand in the ball-room went galloping through a two-step, and the party was in full swing again. The thief had been rounded up! How the denance was it going to end?"

"I can not tell you how sorry I am to have mixed you up in this," I said to the girl.

"You are in no manner to blame. Think of what might have happened had you blown up the post-office!"

She certainly was the least embarrassed of the two of us. I addressed my next remark to the great Haggerty.

"Did you find a suitable pistol in Friard's?"

"A man in my business," said Haggerty mildly, "is often found in such places. There are various things to be recovered in pawnshops. The gentleman of this club sent me the original ten of hearts, my presence being necessary at such big entertainments. And when I saw that card of yours, I was so happy that I nearly put you on your guard. Lord, how long I've been looking for you! I give you credit for being a clever rascal. You have fooled us all nicely. Not a soul among us knew your name, nor what you looked like. And but for that card, you might still be at large."

"Attil the lady submits to the simple process of identification, I shall be compelled to look upon her as a traitor to an accomplice. She has refused the offer I have made her, and she can not blame me if I am suspicious, when to be suspicious is a part of my business." He was reasonable enough in regard to the girl.

He turned to the chief of the village police, who was sitting at the desk ordinarily used by the club steward.

"No reporters, mind you."

"Yes, sir. We'll see that no reporter gets wind of the capture."

"The telephone bell rang. One of the police answered it.

"I shouldn't have come to your old ball, had I been invited. It was just the idea of the lark."

"We shall have to hold him, nevertheless," said the chief, "till everything is cleared up. The girl—"

Hamilton looked at the Blue Domino.

"Madame, will you do me the honor to raise your mask?"

She did so; and I saw Hamilton draw in his breath. Her beauty was certainly of an exquisite pattern. He frowned anxiously.

"I never saw this young woman before," he admitted slowly.

"Ha!" cried the chief, glad to find some one culpable.

"Did you receive your invitation through the proper channels?" asked Hamilton.

"I came here to-night,"—coldly, "on the invitation of Mrs. Hyphen-Bonds, who sailed for Europe Wednesday."

Here was an alibi that was an alibi! I was all at sea. Hamilton bowed; the chief coughed worriedly behind his hand. The girl had told me she was an impostor like myself, that her ten of hearts was as dark-stained as my own. I could not make head or tail to it. Mrs. Hyphen-Bonds! She was a law in the land, especially in Blankshire, the larger part of which she owned. What did it all mean? And what was her idea in posing as an impostor?

The door opened again.

"The patrol has come," said the officer who entered.

"Let it wait," growled the chief. "Haggerty has evidently got us all bottled up. I don't believe his fashionable thief has materialized at all; just

BETTER LAUGH THAN SCOLD

Wise Writer Gives Some Advice That All Women Would Do Well to Remember.

If he is suspicious don't take him too seriously.

And why? Because, if you do, there is always a great probability that he will imagine that there is a good foundation for his foolish want of trust.

A lover is inclined, perhaps naturally, to be a trifle jealous of the beloved one; but even this usually harmless characteristic should not be encouraged overmuch.

As for suspicion, it should never raise its ugly head in the paradise of love; if it does, it will spoil everything and cast a gloom over what should be undiluted happiness.

A wise girl will therefore always try gently to laugh her sweetheart out of such unpleasant fancies; of course, she will be careful not to give him reason to begin them, but if they do, unthinkingly crop up, then she will do her utmost to banish them.

Kindly laughter will often do more to make a man see that he has been foolish and wrong than any amount of the best-intentioned scolding or reproaches.

The latter are apt to leave a soreness and resentment behind them, whereas a good-natured laugh leaves no sting of any sort.

The very fact of smiling over a matter together makes a bond of union and harmony.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE K C BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

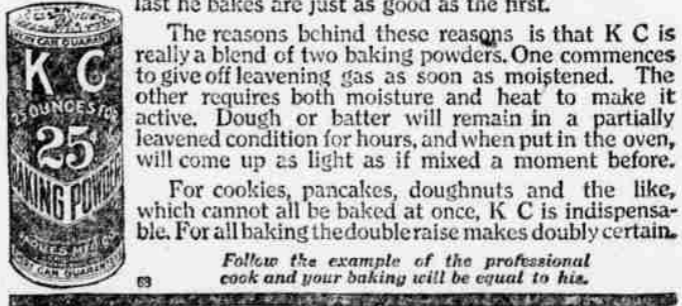

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength. It makes them sturdy and strong. No alcohol.

MEMORIAL AND DECORATION DAYS

Rev. Farley of the M. E. church will preach the Memorial sermon Sunday, May 23rd at 11 o'clock a. m. Everyone is invited to attend this service.

John T. Baney,
Colonel commanding Blue and Gray.

Soldiers of the Civil war, Spanish American war, and all patriotic citizens, are requested to meet at Estancia on Saturday, May 29th, at 10 o'clock, and march to the cemetery to decorate the graves. Every old soldier and citizen who can do so should attend and take part in honoring the dead. The afternoon will be devoted to singing by the quartet, good speaking and stories related by old soldiers.

John T. Baney,
Colonel commanding Blue and Gray.

A step that may prove of the greatest importance to the farmers of the Estancia valley and other sections of Torrance county is being taken by State Engineer James A. French. He is today advertising for bids for the drilling of three wells for underground water in the northeastern corner of that county, and the work contemplated is expected to develop the existence of an underground supply of water that can be tapped by Torrance county farmers and future settlers.

The well bids are to be opened here May 8. The state engineer's advertisement calls for the drilling of one well in Township 8, north, Range 13 east; one in Township 8, north, Range 14 east; and one in Township 10, north, Range 12, east. The wells will be on state lands, and if a strong flow of water is developed the value of these lands will be greatly enhanced. They are about 40 miles south of Santa Fe, and 25 miles from Estancia, the county seat of Torrance county. Mr. French is hopeful of developing an abundant supply of water.—New Mexican.
