LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Special Correspondence.

It is rumored that Democratic members of the legislature will doubtless call upon the State Council of Defense for an itemized statement of the expenditures of that body during the prosecution of war measures. This action, it is said, is to ascertain whether that body has used the funds for war work in the advancement of political purposes within the state.

In what manner this request for a financial statement from the Council of Defense will materialize is yet unknown. However, according to Democratic members of the legislature, it is felt that the people of New Mexico are entitled to a knowledge of the manner in which the funds of this body were and are being expended.

What was known as the Checkboard bill met with a swift finish in the legislature on Tuesday, when it was tabled without ever having been read, and when a motion to reconsider the bill was lost by a handsome majority. The bill was a flagrant attempt to oppress the small stockmen and the sheepmen by shutting them out from passage across the alternate sections that might be owned or leased by the bigger companies, and it was slain with a wholehearted enthusiasm that wrought the lobbyists who were working for its passage up to a state of speechless wrath.

The city of Santa Fe is to have the use of as many convicts from the State Penitentiary as it needs for work on the city streets and parks, if the bill introduced by R. L. Baca passes the senate. Baca managed to jam his bill through the house by a narrow margin after a fight. Under the terms of the bill the mayor of Santa Fe may call on the warden of the penitentiary for as many convicts as he desires, and by this means he can secure men sentenced from all over the state and put them in a chain gang to work on the streets of the capital city.

A bill introduced in the house on Tuesday by W. A. Hunter of San Juan county provides for the building and improvement of a road from Farmington to Albuquerque, with the counties through which the road passes bearing the expense of its construction and maintenance. This road would open up a vast territory and would link up the rich San Juan county to the rest of the state of New Mexico, instead of making it tributary to Colorado, as it has been in the past.

That the flag shall not be desecrated nor used for other than the purpose for which it has always stood before the world; that the standard of liberty and the champion of humanity shall not be dragged down to the level of becoming a medium for advertising purposes, found expression this week in House Bill No. 79, introduced by Mr. Pughman Carter, of Lea County, who would prohibit its use in any manner other than the high purpose of its national dedication. Its use is also prohibited as a portion or decoration of any merchandise.

No person shall carry, fly or display in any public place any red flag, black or any other flag, banner or emblem or thing, representing any organization or order antagonistic or opposed to the organized federal government of the United States, according to a bill offered in the lower house of the legislature this week by Mr. Carter, Democratic member from Lea county.

The measure, according to Mr. Carter, is a thrust at the inception of any organization having Bolshevistic tendencies in the State of New Mexico. All red flaggers, or carriers of such flags, face a grave charge under the measure which the Democratic legislator from Lea county has framed in his support of the national government.

Democratic members of the House of Representatives stated to a newspaper reporter today that the lower house has become a rich field for comedy. Mirth provoking situations, arguments and bills live the hours of the junior body. The latest comedy enacted in the lower house is a bill introduced by one of the Spanish-American members of the majority party, providing an eight hour day for sheep-herders, and setting forth their minimum wage at fifty dollars per month, board to be thrown in on the side.

Trusting that the senate will be the slaughter house in which all unconstitutional and objectionable bills will find their doom, the lower house with wild abandon is passing everything in sight which has the literary form of a bill.

"If the legislation being passed by the lower house has no obstruction

CROP FIGURES

Fully one-half the total value of all farm crops in 1918 at the farm, according to the Bureau of Crop Statistics of the United States Department of Agriculture, is found in the cereals, the crop total being $14,222,000,000 and the cereal total $7,079,000,000. The group next below in value is that of the fiber crops, cotton and hemp, but the latter is insignificant. Including cotton seed, those two crops have a value of $1,946,000,000, or 14 per cent of the aggregate of all crops.

The census items of hay and forage crops make a total value of $1,884,000,000 for 1918, or 13 per cent of all crops, but these items do not adequately cover the value of straw and corn stover and do not include pasturage, the value of which may now be roughly estimated at $1,000,000,000—more than one-half as much as that of the hay crop. If pasturage is included, the value of the hay and forage of 1918 must be nearly $3,000,000,000—one-fifth of the crop total.

Vegetables Gaining
Vegetables, subject to high variability in production and price from year to year, nevertheless appear to be gaining in relative importance. Their value in 1909, the latest census year, was 7.6 per cent of that of all crops, and in 1918 it was 9 per cent, or $1,246,000,000. The same is true of fruits, the value of which has become $638,000,000, or 4.5 per cent in place of the 3.1 per cent of 1909.

Tobacco has the highest value in history for the crop of 1918, and this reaches the estimate of $374,000,000 or 2.6 per cent of the crop total.

The high prices of lumber and other forest products have raised the farm value of the year's products of "the farmer's wood lot" to considerable proportions. A rough estimate for 1918 computes a value of $366,000,000, or 2.5 per cent of all crops.

Value of "Seed Crops"
The group called "seed crops" in the census arrangement includes beans and peanuts as well as various other seeds. For 1918 the value of this class of products is $348,000,000, as estimated, and this is 2.4 per cent of the crop total.

In the value of the sugar crops, no beet or cane sugar is included, but only the beets and the sugar cane. Other items are sorghum cane sold and sirup made and maple sugar and sirup. The total is $137,000,000, of which $94,000,000 represents sugar beets and sugar cane, and this compares with the value at the factory of the 1,007,050 short tons of beet and cane sugar of 1918, which may be $177,000,000, more or less.—Government Weekly News Letter.

on its way to the statute books" stated Senator Lacro, Democratic solon from Colfax county, "we would find our ship of state suddenly cast upon the rocks of financial destruction."

With better than 240 bills upon its official course the lower house has thrown the legislative machinery in high gear and merrily they roll along heaping scads of work on the senate. It is said, which the latter body will never reach ere the close of the session. It is predicted that the close of the session will find the senate committee deluged.

House Bill No. 73, better known as the Pyramid county Bill, passed the house on Friday afternoon, after a wrangle that lasted for close to half an hour. As soon as the bill was introduced Turner of Grant was on his feet with an amendment to place the new county in the 24th Senatorial District instead of the 13th, but this was lost. Padilla of Bernalillo offered another amendment to change the name of the new county to Hidalgo, and Armijo of Dona Ana wanted to name it Leahy, in honor of the chief booster for the division of Grant county. The latter amendment failed of passage, but Padilla succeeded in getting his across and the new county will be named Hidalgo.

Faircloth of Guadalupe opened a fight on the proposed division by pointing out that there were too many counties in the state now, and he moved to table the bill indefinitely, but was voted down. On the straight vote on the passage of the bill it passed the house 25 to 17, and the bill went to the senate for final action. Four Democrats voted in favor of the bill, which has been changed around several times to meet the demands of those who were most interested in the boundaries of the new county. The bill passed the senate on Saturday by a vote of 17 to 11.

RED CROSS WORK

To the Estancia Herald.—Some of the recent work of the American Red Cross of Torrance county, N. M.

A short time ago the Secretary of the Home Service Department of Torrance Co. Chapter of the Red Cross was asked to secure a nurse for Moriarty. Immediately, Mrs. Irene Cornell, a practical nurse from Albuquerque, was secured. Mrs. Cornell arrived in Moriarty just as soon as the train could bring her. The secretary knew Mrs. Cornell as being willing to do what her hands found to do, and do it with her might without asking any questions what it was or how much she was to get.

As Dr. Wiggins told me, Mrs. Cornell surely proved herself more than true to the spirit of a true Red Cross worker. I asked the doctor what he thought her services were worth. He told me that her services could not be valued in dollars and cents, but she should have at least $50 and her expenses. This was offered her, but she would not accept it, when it was decided by several of the members of the Executive Board to give her $25, her charges, when she made a charge, her expenses and a gift of $10. This was done. Receiving the check, Mrs. Cornell expressed her appreciation and many thanks to the Torrance County Chapter of the Red Cross and especially the Moriarty Branch, for their help and their treatment of her. The Moriarty Branch is one of Torrance county's most valuable Branches, and as Dr. Wiggins said, does not only deserve great credit as a Branch for their heroic work during the influenza epidemic, but several of its members are entitled to pay if they would accept it.

The Torrance county Chapter with its Branches are more than willing, not only to help the soldier boys and their dependents, but are just as willing to help anyone who needs help.—Sincerely your servant, Chairman of the Torrance County Chapter.

"SMALL AMERICANS"
San Francisco, Feb. 20.—Characterizing as "small Americans" members of the United States senate who are opposing the covenant for a league of nations, former President William H. Taft made an special appeal today to the women of the Pacific coast to bring their influence to bear on the senate in behalf of a ratification of the league.

Mr. Taft was the guest at a luncheon given him by the San Francisco Center, a women's organization. "Certain small Americans on the floor of the senate profess to see dire danger and eventual disaster to the country if we enter into a league of nations, agreed upon the Paris peace table," said Mr. Taft.

"I do not use the term 'small Americans' in an invidious sense, but to imply that these gentlemen have a small view of America; the provincial selfish view that the highest duty of America is to preserve a safe, comfortable, luxurious prosperity for our own people beyond which we have no other responsibility toward the rest of the world.

"While the statesmen and peoples of the entire world are unanimous in the certain belief that unless the machinery of such a league is set in motion, war, more terrible and far-reaching than the one which we have just endured will sweep the world in ten or twenty years, the only discord in the concert is heard in the voice of 'small Americans', from certain small-visioned men who have been elevated to the United States senate."—Albuquerque Journal.

All the vapors of small Americans with petty jealousy and self-interest in their hearts, cannot change this absolute fact: There must be a league of nations, or else the old order must continue, with crushing taxes for big armies and huge armaments in preparation for a bigger war to come. If America, after entering the war and becoming a decisive factor in making a league of nations possible, should then refuse to enter such a league, it would be the most amazing act in history—and there are many amazing acts in history, carried out by exactly the kind of men who are now spouting against a league of nations.

annual value of $14,665,000 during the five years from 1910 to 1914. Of last year's crop value 19 per cent was in corn, 17 per cent in wheat, 18 per cent in hay, 3 per cent in oats, 1 per cent in barley, 4 per cent in potatoes, 1 per cent in sweet potatoes and 37 per cent in other crops, including beans. Of wild hay 20,000 tons were cut on 29,000 acres. Tomatoes were raised on 534 acres, yielding 1,388 tons. New Mexico ranking twenty-first among the states of the union as a potato raiser. Of the corn raised $1,515,000 worth was white corn, $1,530,000 yellow and $1,105,000 mixed. As an agricultural state New Mexico in the value of its crops outranks Nevada, Delaware, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Arizona has slightly the lead with a total production of $42,207,000, while Vermont comes next and then Utah with $54,759,000 and Connecticut with $59,964,000, but then it must be remembered that Connecticut has less than one-half the area of Socorro county.—Albuquerque Morning Journal.

MEMBER OF THE FOREIGN LEGION OF FRANCE
CAPTAIN GUN TURRET, FRENCH BATTLESHIP CASSARD
WINNER OF THE CROIX DE GUERRE

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Albert N. Depew, author of the story, enlists in the United States navy, serving four years and attaining the rank of chief petty officer, first-class gunner.

CHAPTER II—The great war starts soon after he is honorably discharged from the navy and he sails for France with a determination to enlist.

CHAPTER III—He joins the Foreign Legion and is assigned to the dreadnaught Cassard, where his marksmanship wins him high honors.

CHAPTER IV—Depew is detached from his ship and sent with a regiment of the Legion to Flanders where he soon finds himself in the front line trenches.

CHAPTER V—He is detailed to the artillery and makes the acquaintance of the "75's," the wonderful French guns that have saved the day for the allies on many a battlefield. Before seeing any action, he is ordered back to his regiment in the front line trenches.

CHAPTER VI—Depew goes "over the top" and gets his first German in a bayonet fight.

CHAPTER VII—His company takes part in another raid on the German trenches and shortly afterward assists in stopping a fierce charge of the Hun, who are moved down as they cross No Man's Land.

CHAPTER VIII—Sent to Dismude with dispatches, Depew is caught in a Zeppelin raid, but escapes unhurt.

CHAPTER IX—He is shot through the thigh in a brush with the Germans and is sent to a hospital, where he quickly recovers.

CHAPTER X—Ordered back to sea duty, Depew rejoins the Cassard, which makes several trips to the Biscayas as a convoy. The Cassard is almost battered to pieces by the Turkish batteries.

CHAPTER XI—The Cassard takes part in many hot engagements in the memorable Gallipoli campaign.

CHAPTER XII—Depew is a member of a landing party which sees fierce fighting in the trenches at Gallipoli.

CHAPTER XIII—After an unsuccessful trench raid, Depew tries to rescue two wounded men in No Man's Land, but both die before he can reach the trenches.

CHAPTER XIV—Depew wins the Croix de Guerre for bravery in passing through a terrific artillery fire to summon aid to his comrades in an advanced post.

After a while this officer started on his way again, and as he cut across the road a French officer came up. The Limey wore a monocle, which caused the French officer to stare at him a minute before he saluted. After the Englishman had passed him the Frenchman took a large French penny out of his pocket, screwed it into his eye and turned toward us so that we could see it, but the Limey could not.

That was not the right thing to do, especially before enlisted men, so our officers did not laugh, but the men did, and so loud that Limey turned around and caught sight of the Frenchman. He started back toward him and I thought sure there would be a fight, or that, more likely, the Limey would report him. Our officers should have placed the Frenchman under arrest, at that.

The Frenchman expected trouble, too, for he pulled up very straight and stiff, but he left the penny in his eye. The Limey came up to him, halted a few paces off and, without saying a word, took the monocle out of his eye, twiddled it three or four feet in the air and caught it in his other eye when it came down.

"Do that you blighter," he said and faced about and was on his way down the road. They had it on the Frenchman after that.

This Philippe Pierre, of whom I have spoken, told me a story about two Limey officers that I hardly believed, yet Philippe swore it was the truth. He had been in America before the war, and he said he had seen one of the officers that the story is about many times in New York.

He said there were two Limey officers going along the road arguing about the German shells which the Turks were using. One of the officers said they were no good because they did not burst. Just about that time a shell came along and they picked themselves up quite a distance from where they had been standing. Another shell whizzed by and landed flat on the side of the road. The officer walked over, dug it out of the ground, and took away the detonator and fuse—to prove that they did not explode!

The only thing that would make me believe that story is that Philippe Pierre said they were Limey officers. No one but a Limey would remember such an argument after being buzzed galley west by a shell command. I do not doubt that a Limey would do it if it could be done, though.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Croix de Guerre.

When we had been on the shore for about three weeks we found ourselves one morning somewhere near St. Eloi under the heaviest fire I ever experienced. Our guns and the trucks were at it full blast, and the noise was worse than deafening.

A section of my company was lying out in a shell hole near the communication trench with nothing to do but wait for a shell to find them. We were stiff and thirsty and uncomfortable, and had not slept for two nights. In that time we had been under constant fire and had stood off several trench raids and small attacks from enemy trenches.

We had no sooner got used to the shell hole and were making ourselves ears feel better after a strong concussion. One after another of our boys was slipping to the ground and digging his fists into his ears, and the rest of them sat on the parapet fire step with their heads between their knees and their arms wrapped around their heads.

Our sergeant came to me after a while and began acting just like people do at a show, only he shouted instead of whispered in my ear. When people are looking at one show they always want to tell you how good some other show is, and that was the way with the sergeant.

"You should see what they did to us at St. Eloi," he said. "They just baptized us with the big fellows. They did not know when to stop. When you see shelling that is shelling, you will know it, my son."

"Well, if this is not shelling, what the devil is it? Are they trying to kill us or are you, mon vicux?" which is a French expression that means something like "old timer."

"My son, when you see dugouts caved in, roads pushed all over the map, guns wrecked, bodies twisted up in knots and forty men killed by one shell—then you will know you are seeing shelling."

Then one of our men sat up straight against the parapet and stared at us and began to shake all over, but we could not get him to say anything more. So we knew he had shell shock. And another man watched him for a while, and then he began to shake, too. The sergeant said that if we stayed there much longer we would not be fit to repel an attack, so he ordered us into the two dugouts we had made in the hole, and only himself and another man stayed outside on watch.

The men in the dugout kept asking each other when the bombardment would end, and why we were not reinforced, and what was happening, and whether the Turks would attack us. It was easy to see why we were not reinforced—no body of men could have got to us from the reserve trenches. The communication trenches were quite a distance from us and were battered up at that. Some of the men said we had been forgotten and that the rest of our troops had either retired or advanced and that we and the men in the trench who had tried to signal us were the only detachments left there.

Pretty soon another man and I relieved the two men who were outside on watch, and as he went down into the dugout the sergeant shouted to us that he thought the Turks were afraid to attack. He also ordered one of us to keep a live eye toward our rear in case any of our troops should try to signal us. When I looked through a little gully at the top of the hole, toward the other trench, all relieved the two men who were outside on watch, and as he went down into the dugout the sergeant shouted to us that he thought the Turks were afraid to attack. He also ordered one of us to keep a live eye toward our rear in case any of our troops should try to signal us. come out of there alive, and you can believe me or not, but I did not much care. Anything would be better than just staying there in that awful noise with nothing to do, and no water.

Our sergeant said he would not ask any man to attempt to carry the message, because he said it was not only certain death, but absolutely useless. And he began to show that he was near shell shock himself.

Then I began to shiver again, and I thought to myself that anything would be better than sitting in this hole waiting to go "canned," so I decided to volunteer. I did not think there was any chance to get through, but it seemed as if I just had to do something, no matter what. I had never felt that way before, and had never been anxious to "go west" with a shell for company, but I have felt that way since then several times, I can tell you.

The man was telling us that some time before he had seen the Turks bringing up ammunition from some storerooms, but they did not come anywhere near. He said their sergeant wanted our messenger to tell them that, too. He would say a few words very fast, then he would shiver again, and his jaws would clip together and he would try to raise his hand, but could not.

Then our sergeant asked the name of the other sergeant, and when the man told him he said the man was senior to himself and therefore in command and would have to be obeyed.

He seemed to cheer up a lot after he said this and did not shiver any more, so I said to him, "Well, mon vicux, do you think we are seeing real shelling now?" And then I was going to say I would go, but he looked at me in a funny way for a second and then said, "Well, my son, suppose you go and find out."

I thought he was kidding me at first, but then I saw he meant it. I thought two things about it—one was that anything was better than staying there, and the other was that the old dugout was a pretty fair place after all. But I did not say anything to the sergeant or the other men—just went out of the dugout. The sergeant and another man went with me and boosted me over the back wall of the hole. I lay flat on the ground for a minute to get my bearings, and then started off.

I set my course for where I thought the communication trenches were, to the right, and I just stood up and ran. I figured that as the shells were falling so thick and it was open ground I would not have any better chance if I crawled.

I tripped several times and went down, and each time thought I was hit, because when I got it in the thigh at Dismude it felt a good deal as though I had tripped over a rope. And one time when I fell a shell exploded near me and I began to shiver again, and I could not go on for a long time. All this time I did not think I would get through, but finally, when I reached what had been the communication trench I felt I had done the worst part of it, and I began to wish very hard that I would get through—I was not at all crazy about getting west.

Getting Rid of Colds.

The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.

Barney McHan has gone to Albuquerque where he will be taken under the wing of government to learn some trade or profession, which he may select, and he will draw pay while learning.

The county board of education had a short session last week. County Superintendent T. B. Rapkoch was appointed as delegate to the national educational meeting in Chicago, and left the first of this week to attend the meeting.

Ladies, before buying your new spring dresses see my sample line of the beautiful Schweizer Imported embroidered Robes. If wishing advice as to patterns, hemstitching, trimmings etc., am at your service. If interested, notify me and I will call.—Clara R. Roberson.

George Woodman and L. V. Holdridge of Moriarty were in Estancia last Saturday, having made the trip in a Ford. They said the roads were frightful, and they did not know whether they would be able to make it back or not, but as no SOS call was heard, it is presumed they reached home safely.

Eugenio Romero came down from Las Vegas Saturday, and on Sunday acted as godfather at the christening of his great-grand-son, John Joseph Rapkoch. He was accompanied by Mrs. Romero. Mr. Romero has another great-grand-child. Mr. Romero is eighty-one years of age, and is hale and hearty. Mr. and Mrs. Romero went from here to Mountainair Tuesday to visit his son, Raymond Romero and family, before returning to their home in Las Vegas.

Don't forget the Automobile Show at Albuquerque the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th of March. This promises to be the biggest event in several years in that city. Cream cans at Waggener's.

Mr. and Mrs. McClintock came up the first of the week from the home-stand below Scholle to visit their daughter, Mrs. Matt Freilinger. Mr. McClintock says they have fine prospects for a crop and have lost scarcely any stock in his neighborhood. All the bunch from here who located there are sticking. Some are away at work, but will be back to put in a crop.

If there is anything in the world you want to buy or sell or rent or trade, tell us. We have many good deals. For $2.00 we will advertise your place three months along with other things. Some real bargains in autos. When writing enclose postage. P. S. We have 80 acres of Arkansas land to trade for valley land or store.—Fair Play Co., 319 1/2 S. First St., Albuquerque, N. M.

Cook stoves at Waggener's.

J. W. Walker of Lucy was in Estancia yesterday. He reports the snow all gone in that country except in the shade. Mr. Walker says he has had to buy lots of high priced feed for his cattle, but he has the kind of cattle that bring returns. The producing cows have paid for the feed for themselves and the young stock, and the food for the family—and Mr. Walker says he can eat as much as two cows, himself. In other words, he has broken even and has the growth of his young stock as profit.

Chair seats at Waggener's.

Kemp Bros. have a car of stock salt coming. Leave your orders for salt with them.

J. W. Slack has quit his place as superintendent of bridges and buildings on the N. M. C., and the place is being filled by W. N. Walpole. Mr. Slack has been at the ranch north of Encino, and came over yesterday by auto. He says the road is fine between here and Encino except the first two or three miles east from Estancia. Mr. Slack thinks he will hunt some place where building is going on and do contracting.

Curtain rods at Waggener's.

THE WEATHER

During the past week the weather has been moderate and thawing has continued until the bare ground is showing farther toward the mountains in the open spaces. Except for drifts the snow is now practically gone east of the railroad and for a distance of several miles west of the railroad.

There has been some wind and snowfalls, but the actual snowfall was negligible and melted as fast as it fell.

The farmers are not all agreed as to the depth to which moisture from the snow has penetrated the ground, some saying only a foot or two, and others reporting four or five feet. Possibly this is because the depth of penetration is different in different situations. Most of them agree that there is a good season in the ground and consider the crop prospect good up to this time.

Following is the temperature record for the week past.

Dreadful Cough Cured.

A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olsen, Marysville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for two days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."

SILVERTON

Special Correspondence. Oh yes, we are still on the map, but have been snowed under so long that we couldn't yelp. But now the snow is going slowly—oh, so slowly—and people are beginning to get busy getting ready for spring work, but we may wake up tomorrow with another snow on the ground, who knows?

John Allard will go to Fort Sumner soon to prove up on his claim there. Mrs. Allard has been laid up with a crippled knee, the result of a fall on the ice.

Will Davis and family from Orogrande arrived at the home of Mrs. Ben Young, Mrs. Davis' mother, on Sunday morning last. They had quite an experience on the road, having been in sand banks one place and had to stay all night in the sand below Willard doing without water or food from dinner on Saturday till about 10 o'clock Sunday. Mr. Davis will farm in the valley this year.

Mr. Taack has rented Mrs. Amos Kuykendall Grassham's farm for this year. Mrs. Grassham will have a sale as soon as the roads get passable and will go east with her son Robert Steele to spend the year. Robert Steele will go back to the job he left when he was drafted, iron moulding for a firm in Evansville, Indiana. Mrs. Grassham will visit relatives and friends in Kentucky for several months, perhaps all summer.

Mrs. Shirley Milbourn and daughter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Barron this week. John Milbourn and sons killed four fine hogs this last week, and they were sure fine. Reminds one of old times to eat such backbone and snarrib. We know, because Mr. Milbourn never forgets his neighbors.

Mrs. Jackson Long and son Jr. spent the week visiting her mother Mrs. Grassham and brother Robert Steele last week. Mrs. Shaw visited Billy Shaw and wife on Sunday last.

The weather has been bad so long that we Silvertonites do not think it any harm to evelop over the phone and "butt in" now and then, and often there are four or five on the line visiting as nicely as if we were in Estancia sitting in Kemp's store. Mrs. Frank Miller of Cedar Grove is expecting her son Roy home from France any time now, as he sailed the 30th of December. Mrs. Chandler is also expecting her son Horace home soon.

We were sorry that Kenneth Mathews didn't get to visit his old friends and neighbors around Silverton while he was in Estancia. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ligon spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Barron and family. Carson Frahm's brother from Iowa is visiting him this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Buckner visited Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jackson on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. John Allard and children spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Grassham. John Grassham who went west to grow up with the country is back in the Estancia valley again.

Mrs. Sylvia Milbourn has been at the Milbourn home ranch for a few days. Everybody has been busy with pick and shovel and scoop, digging out the cow sheds, chicken houses, etc., since the blizzard. Mrs. Ben Young says their buggy is in a drift of snow twenty-five feet across.

We understand that Cedar Grove has started their Sunday school again. Guess it's about time Silverton was beginning to do likewise. Will Davis will start his two children Vera and William, to school at this place in a few days, as soon as they get rested up from their trip. Oscar Pollard is still hauling cactus from the foothills. Verily New Mexico is a wonderful place—the much hated tumble weed makes the finest of cow and horse feed if cut at the proper time, the terrible prickly cactus and the bear grass are the finest of milk producers. Now if some one will find some use for the nettle what else could we ask except that the snow wouldn't get so deep and stay on all winter. But then if we had all our wishes granted on earth we wouldn't care to leave this for a better world, eh?

ENCINO From the Enterprise. Santiago Montano and his family from Derromadere, N. M., was here Tuesday visiting his two sons who are in the school. Mr. Abeytia and his family went to his ranch this morning and they will be back Sunday. Rafael Garcia from Carrizozo was here this week.

That Terrible Headache. Do you have periodic attacks of headache accompanied by sickness of the stomach or vomiting, a sallow skin and dull eyes? If so, you can get quick relief by taking Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for biliousness, and you may be able to avoid these attacks if you observe the directions with each package. adv

LUCY

Special Correspondence. Jesse Meyer was a Lucy visitor last week. Miss Conn of Roswell has been visiting her sister Mrs. Howell the past week.

Dr. Otosen of Willard was in Lucy Monday. Mr. and Mrs. John McGillivray visited in Mountainair Sunday. Mrs. Elizabeth Foley left Friday for California where she will reside permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker entertained at their home Saturday night. Miss Elizabeth Watkins left for Los Angeles, California, Friday. She accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. Foley. Both Mrs. Foley and Miss Watkins will be greatly missed in the community.

Lucy Cash Store received a car of coal last week. John McGillivray has leased Mrs. Foley's farm. Alfred Cobb, who lived here several years ago, was here a few days last week. He was on his way to Missouri where he will farm this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook, who live on the Meyer ranch, are the parents of a little daughter, born Monday. Mrs. Gurnifory is staying at the Cook home for a few days.

MOUNTAINAIR From the Independent. On Monday at 12 o'clock, noon Miss Ida Bussy and D. H. Womack, both of Mountainair were married by the Rev. Mr. Bowman, pastor of the M. E. church, South, in Albuquerque, at the residence of the officiating clergyman. Mr. Womack is connected with White's store, and everybody knows Dave. The Willard Mercantile Company is short a clerk, the bride having been in the employ of this company for some time past.

Mr. and Mrs. Womack returned to Mountainair on Tuesday morning's train. Their friends planned and carried out a special celebration for their benefit Tuesday night. Securing one of the large transfer wagons, to which was hitched a big mule and a small burro, the bridal couple with Miss Webb as chaperon, was driven through the streets by Banker Bigelow, accompanied by all the small boys of the town, under 99 years of age, the said small (?) boys being armed with horns, bells and other musical (?) instruments.

Joe J. Brazil reports the loss of twenty-five head of sheep in one night, due to the raid of a mountain lion. Some of the cowboys working for J. J. White trailed the lion across the White pasture, after he had killed the sheep, but failed to come up with it. Very little of the carcasses was eaten, apparently only the liver being taken from each animal. The lion is reported as being one of extra large track, and easily trailed. Several hunters are camping in White's pasture, in hopes of collecting the reward offered by White and Brazil. It is possible that other stockmen of the vicinity will increase the reward for the animal.

Mrs. Chas. Noble has been quite ill for the past two weeks, but is now improving. John Bixler, manager of The Trinidad Bean and Elevator Co., visited in Belen Saturday and Sunday. J. J. White offers a reward of $50.00 and J. J. Brazil an additional $50.00, a total of $100.00 for the capture, dead or alive, of the mountain lion, that has been killing their stock during the past few days in their pastures in the Forest Reserve, south of Abo. Here is a chance for the hunters and trappers to pick up a little extra money.

Mrs. Anna Williams is here from Albuquerque, to establish residence on her homestead southwest of Mountainair. Mrs. V. B. Manning is entertaining her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Parker. Mrs. Parker was Miss Wallace of House, N. M. Joe Lawson is back at his job at White's store, after an absence of several months in Albuquerque, having returned Tuesday morning.

The Spencer Mining Company has been bringing in ore from their claims west of town for shipment to the smelter. They have a good grade of copper ore. Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Martin returned from Albuquerque Tuesday morning. Mrs. Martin having recovered sufficiently to be moved from the hospital. Their numerous friends hope that her recovery will be complete.

Dr. C. J. Amble returned last Saturday night from Comanche county, Texas, where he has been in the interest of the mineral rights of the Booth heirs. He says everybody is oil crazy in that country, and fortunes are being made and lost in the usual way.

FARM LOANS If you want a long time farm loan see me. I represent one of the oldest loan companies operating in the west.—Neal Jensen.

Rev. Crawford of Estancia delivered a very interesting sermon at the school house last Sunday, subject, "Objections to Holiness." He will fill his next regular appointment in two weeks. C. B. Smith came down from Estancia last Saturday night to visit over Sunday with home folks.

I. W. Donaldson has bought several head of cattle in the past two weeks from his neighbors. Lester Smith returned from Albuquerque last week, where he went for a few days visit with his uncle and family. R. H. Mitchell, formerly of Cedarvale bus, now living in Albuquerque.

R. F. Taylor and son Glenn made a business trip to Corona last Friday. W. W. Abney, formerly of Cedarvale but now living in Willard, was greeting old friends last Monday and says they are coming back in the spring to farm. He has a good farm five miles from Cedarvale.

Going It Too Hard? Overwork, worry, overeating and lack of exercise and sleep are responsible for much kidney trouble. If your back aches and the kidneys seem weak, rest up and use Doan's Kidney Pills. Bruno Benavides, cement-worker, 305 Washington St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "Heavy lifting put my kidneys out of order. I suffered for a long time with lameness in my back and sharp pains shot through my hips and up between my shoulders. My kidneys didn't act regularly and that annoyed me very much. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and started using them; they helped me and I was soon entirely cured of the lameness and sharp pains in my back and my kidneys were acting regularly again. I have had no return of kidney trouble since Doan's cured me."
