GERMANS DISCUSS OCCUPATION OF BERLIN BY THE ALLIES

By Associated Press.

London, Dec. 7.—An extraordinary meeting of the German cabinet was summoned at Berlin Thursday to discuss the possibility of the allies occupying Berlin owing to Germany's alleged inability to carry out the terms of the armistice, according to Amsterdam dispatches to the London Express.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Unanimously the house rules committee decided today to report a rule giving the right of way for action on a resolution calling for investigation of the national security league and its alleged activities in the last campaign including charging members of congress with disloyalty.

WILSON'S HEALTH IMPROVING

By Associated Press.

On Board the United States Steamship, George Washington, Dec. 7.—President Wilson's third day at sea found him much improved in health, his cold yielding to treatment and his voice rested. The president is much stronger having cleared the work which had accumulated at his desk. He enjoyed a day of recreation and for exercise in the afternoon he promenade the decks, later being joined by his party at the rail watching the Pennsylvania, flagship of Admiral Mayo's squadron rise and fall with the heavy swells.

President Wilson engaged in conversation on timely topics, swapping stories with those on board. He earnestly conferred with the French and Italian ambassadors and had a short talk with Secretary Lansing and Henry White. No formal conferences have been held so far.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Additional divisions have been definitely assigned to the American army of occupation now advancing into Germany, General March announced today. They are the second and seventh regulars, twenty-eighth and thirty-third national guard and seventy-ninth national army. These have been given the task of guarding and occupying Luxembourg.

To form the second line of the army of occupation of the American army and to be ready to reinforce the other army on the Rhine, if necessary, the composition of the American army of occupation as reported by Gen. Pershing follows: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 7th, Reg.; 28th, 32nd, Bn., composed of Michigan and Wisconsin troops; battery 33rd and 42nd Rainbow division; By. national guards 79th, 89th Bn. from South Dakota, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona national army.

It was announced that the men sent home during the past week was 200,000. The personnel assigned for early return home by General Pershing was composed of 5,325 officers and 125,515 men.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The shipwreck of German propaganda initiated in America by Dernburg is attributed by Von Bernstorff in an explanation to Berlin to the impossibility of keeping secret the fact that an American newspaper is subsidized and to the sinking of the Lusitania. Chief Bielaski, of the department of justice laid Von Bernstorff's explanation before the senate committee investigating German propaganda in the United States, along with other documents.

Amsterdam, Dec. 7.—The Turks massacred ten thousand Armenians while evacuating Baku, Olti and Ardahan, in the Caucasus, says the Berlin Vorwaerts.

DUTCH WANT TO INTERN KAISER FOR LIFE -- HOLLAND MAY HAVE TO SET- TLE WITH ALLIES FOR HER BREACH OF NEUTRALITY

By Associated Press.

London, Dec. 7.—If the allies insist on delivery of the former German emperor and crown prince to an international court, Holland will yield, but before doing so she will urge the allies to content themselves with the undertaking by Holland to intern them for life in one of the Dutch colonies, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the London Express.

Holland, it is understood, has suggested that Herr Hohenzollern and his son be placed on an island, either in the East or West Indies, where they will be guarded by a Dutch fleet. It is also anticipated that Holland will be asked for compensation for permitting the violation of her neutrality by allowing German troops to pass through the province of Limburg on their retreat from Belgium and receiving German ships from Antwerp. This compensation, says the correspondent, may possibly be the cession of certain territory along the Belgian frontier.

Lieut. Monroe Christian was able to be on the streets yesterday for the first time since his return home. Lieutenant Christian has improved wonderfully since joining the army but in many respects is still the same unspoiled boy whom all in Carlsbad are acquainted with and interested in. He will leave the middle of the week for Camp Jackson, South Carolina.

John Reed and Fred Montgomery came down from Queen Friday morning making the trip in three hours, despite the bad roads. They report Ross Middleton very low, he having taken a change for the worse. Dr. Culpepper and Pat Middleton accompanied them on the return trip.

Word has been received here of the death of Bailey Dillyhunny, one of the Dillyhunny boys, whose parents ranch about fifty miles southwest of town. From what we can learn, the young man was shipping cattle and expired on the road somewhere, but no particulars are available at this time. E. V. Albritton left in a car for the Dillyhunny ranch to bring Mrs. Dillyhunny and the children in and when he returns we may be able to give full particulars.

Wallace Smith, wife and young son were up yesterday from their ranch home on the Delaware. Judging from Mrs. Smith's purchases Santa Clause will be a visitor at the ranch this year.

ORIGIN OF THE HOE CAKE

Southern Negroes Credited With Having Started This Delicacy on Its Way to Popularity.

Did you ever hear of hoe cake? If you have ever been in the southern part of the United States of America you have surely heard of it, and perhaps you have eaten it, too, for this dish originated in that part of the world.

Long ago, in the days before the Civil war, when great plantations flourished in the South and many negroes were owned by the planters, the slaves were usually sent out to work all day in the fields and given a lunch to take along with them for their mid-day meal. Wishing something hot to eat, they acquired the habit of mixing a batter, generally of cornmeal and water, with a little salt stirred in, and baking it upon their hoes on the hot coals of a fire which they built. It was the same thing which the women in their homes cooked on the hearth before the cabin fire, only, in the houses, they usually added about a teaspoonful of butter, lard or bacon drippings. They used just enough water to moisten the meal, so that they could spread it out upon their tins or boards.

Later on, so a Southern woman says, the white people, the plantation owners, made a similar dish, with variations, and liked it very well. They added or, rather, substituted, milk for water, and added baking powder and more shortening, mixed the dough thoroughly, rolled it out, cut it into diamond-shaped pieces and baked it in the oven.—Christian Science Monitor.

HEAVY; "ECLAT" IN HIS RIBS

Yankee Cook "Over There" Tries Odd Food Experiments.

Private William L. Pettit of No. 282 East State street, Doylestown, Pa., has gained a bit in weight since he's been "over there."

In the first place he's a cook in one of the United States army ambulance sections which is serving with the French army.

In the second place, he has just left a hospital where he was sent after being injured by shrapnel and where he says he received better food than he himself cooked.

And in the third place he's enjoying around in his ribs a piece of "eclat" which the surgeons thought had better remain where it was.

He's back at the front on duty again and he says the chunk of steel in his ribs doesn't bother him a bit.

WAR STOPS BIG FREE FEAST

Beardstown, Ill., Gives Up Its Famous Annual Fish Fry Celebration.

The war has laid a heavy hand on gaiety at Beardstown, Ill. Following a conference of business men it was decided to dispense with the annual free fish fry which had been a custom for more than 30 years. It was claimed it would take 3,000 fish and 5,000 loaves of bread to feed the crowds and that the food was needed elsewhere.

Candy Money Aids Orphans

PRISON TERM FOR TRADING WITH HUN

Suzy Detsy, a French actress, who has been sentenced to ten months in prison for trading with the enemy. She is the wife of Emilio Guillier, a former druggist and prize-fight promoter, who was given 18 months in prison and a fine of 2,000 francs for trading with the enemy.

Ten Sons Called.

Ten sons in Uncle Sam's military service is the proud expectation of George Morgan of Laramie, Wyo. One son already is in France, nine more are registered under the new law, and an eleventh boy is too young to register. The father is a veteran of Indian wars and a pensioner under the Indian war bill.

WHEN JIM CLAIMED ANNIE

Maid Was Sorry to Leave, but, as She Put It, It Was a Matter of Duty.

Ellis Parker Butler, the well-known humorist, has a story in the American Magazine in which the main character says:

"Well, Jimmy had been with the Burtons six years and Annie, our hired girl, had been with us five years. I guess everybody thought she hadn't any other name at all until one evening when Jimmy came over and knocked at the back door and asked mother if Miss Dornbacher was home. She wasn't, because she had gone to the Evangelical Lutheran church, but after that Jimmy used to come over, and Annie would put two chairs out in the yard under the apple tree and they would sit and talk. Or Jimmy would talk. He would talk and talk and talk, and every once in a while Annie would say, "Yes," and, after she learned it, "No." So, after a couple of years, Jimmy began to hold Annie's hand when he talked to her, and in a couple of years more they got engaged. I guess they liked each other.

"I was in our dining room one day, looking to see if Annie had put any fresh cookies in the jar in the closet, when I heard my mother say, "Oh, Annie!" in the kitchen, as if she was sorry about something. So then Annie said:

"I bin sorry to go away, too, ma'am, but it is right everybody should get married once or twice."

"I know," my mother said; "but I don't know what I will ever do without you, Annie."

"So then Annie cried, and there were no cookies, so I went out."

Low Meat Prices vs. High Cattle Prices

If the farmer cannot get enough for his live stock, he raises less, and the packer gets less raw material.

If the consumer has to pay too much for his meat, he eats less of it, and the packer finds his market decreased.

The packer wants the producer to get enough to make live-stock raising profitable, and he wants the price of meat so low that everyone will eat it.

But all he can do, and what he would have to do in any case to stay in business, is to keep down the cost of processing the farmer's stock into meat so that the consumer pays for the meat and by-products only a little more than the farmer gets for his animals.

For example, last year Swift & Company paid for its cattle about 90 per cent of what it got for meat and by-products (such as hides, tallow, oils, etc.)

If cattle from the farm were turned miraculously into meat in the hands of retailers (without going through the expense of dressing, shipping and marketing), the farmer would get only about 1 1/8 cents per pound more for his cattle, or consumers would pay only about 2 1/4 cents per pound less for their beef!

Out of this cent or two per pound, Swift & Company pays for the operation of extensive plants, pays freight on meats, operates refrigerator cars, maintains branch houses, and in most cases, delivers to retailers all over the United States. The profit amounts to only a fraction of a cent, and a part of this profit goes to build more plants, to give better service, and to increase the company's usefulness to the country.

PEPPLES FAMILY HAS ENVIABLE WAR RECORD

Hermil, O.—The Pepples family of this city has an enviable war record, having been represented in every war fought by the United States. The Revolutionary war, the War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war and the Spanish-American struggle have all seen Peppleses bearing arms. In the present world war five of their sons are with the colors, bringing up the family's total for all American wars to 22 soldiers.

Yankee Airdrome Shipped to Irish Town in Sections.

An American aviation station is growing in a town in Ireland with the speed of the early morning tent city which springs up when the circus comes to town in the States.

Captain Herbster is in command, and under his supervision a miniature town is springing up, carefully planned, mostly wooden construction, but neat and methodical.

An example of Yankee efficiency, the one big airdrome already in place was designed in America, built there in sections, shipped across the Atlantic and erected in record time. It is a remarkably efficient product of American engineering ingenuity.

Aviators in training there will help run down the Hun who preys under the North sea.

LOCAL NEWS

Wright Kilgore was in from his ranch on Rocky Arroya, yesterday, and says the roads between here and his home are the worst ever.

Rev. George H. Givan and wife are again at home in the Methodist parsonage. Reverend Givan is able to be up a part of the time. This is good news to his many friends in Carlsbad who are hoping for his early recovery.

Sunday school at the Methodist church Sunday morning at 9:45; Jayman's service at 11 o'clock; W. P. Mudgett will lead the meeting at that time. His subject will be "The Mission of the Church at the Close of the War." Talks will be made on this subject from the social, financial and spiritual points of view and an interesting and helpful meeting is anticipated.

Major Dean Smith and Capt. J. A. Macready, of Brookfield, San Antonio, Texas, in their aeroplanes arrived in the city last night. They left Brookfield at 9 o'clock in the morning and arrived here at 4:45. Both gentlemen were very tired and no formal welcome was given them. A number of people were at the aviation landing last night to meet the flyers and the landing was put in good shape previous to their arrival. They left this morning for Roswell, but expect to return this evening and will start on the return trip to Brookfield tomorrow at or near noon. Major Smith says he left Mrs. Smith and baby, Camille, in good health, the baby creeping over the floor.

Miss Elizabeth Breeding, who has been teaching school in Grant county, near Silver City, is at home on a month's vacation, necessitated by the closing of the schools because of influenza.

Among others in town yesterday from Lovine were Mrs. Ora Ny-meyer, who came up to make her Christmas purchases.

The family of W. E. Shattuck of Artesia, came down from there this morning expecting to go on out to a Queen, where Mrs. Shattuck's base hospital in a few days and brother, Ross Middleton, is critical. I'll write you myself from there by ill. They have decided to wait and tell you my new address be a short time in town expecting cause I don't know it yet, but un-word from Queen almost any time, til you hear from me don't worry.

Beginning Tuesday, Dec. 10th, the picture show will open at 7:30 o'clock, instead of 8 o'clock as has been the custom for some time.

The Current is sorry to learn of the continued illness of Dr. L. H. Pate, who is confined to his bed at his home in North Carlsbad. The good doctor is thought to be some better this morning, but it will likely be several days before he is able to be about again.

BAPTIST SERVICES.

Sunday school at 9:45. The membership should be there at that hour to hear Supt. Gamel discuss his plans for the future of the school. It means progress.

The pastor will speak on a special subject at the eleven o'clock hour. Our congregations are growing larger at every service. Visitors and strangers cordially welcomed.

BUREN SPARKS, Pastor.

The following letter was recently received from Abner Kuykendall to his mother, at Skull Valley. This was followed by one from the chaplain of the base hospital to which the young man was enroute when he expired. The heart-broken family has the sympathy of a host of friends here, where most of the young man's life was spent. The letters follow:

American Red Cross, Oct. 25.—Dearest Mother: Just a line to let you know I am slightly wounded in the leg, but am getting along fine and there is nothing at all to worry about. I'll be sent to a base hospital in a few days and I'll write you myself from there by ill. ALL WILL GET JOBS

To Be No Slump in the Demand for Labor.

Devastated Europe Will Look to United States to Help Rebuild.

New York.—Jobs for all will be had for the asking in the period of the world's reconstruction. There's to be no slump in the demand for labor.

It has been estimated that no fewer than 10,000,000 men have been killed in Europe. The United States, which has not lost 15,000 men, must make good this huge labor loss.

Devastated Europe will look to the United States for help to rebuild. We must finance this big job and supply the materials and tools.

According to M. Tardieu, French high commissioner, it will take two years to get the French coal mines in working order and ten years to put them in prewar condition. To reconstruct private homes alone will require the work of 100,000 men for 20 years.

Prof. Van den Ven of Louvain, now in the United States, says the war losses of Belgium total approximately $4,000,000,000. Before the drive more than 45,000 buildings had been destroyed. Practically all the important factories have been robbed of their machinery, and, in many cases, not only the walls razed but the very foundations destroyed.

The machinery was shipped to Germany. Towns and villages have been wrecked. Farms have been robbed of all live stock. Miles of interurban railroads have been torn up and shipped to Germany.

The problem is first to keep alive the population released by Germany; second, to reconstruct the industrial machine so the people can make a living.

England also will want food, manufactured goods, raw material and machinery in great quantities. So will Italy and the Scandinavian countries.

George E. Roberts of the National City bank maintains that the United States will pass out of the war period with more wealth than she possessed before the conflict began. There has been much scientific development of industry, and agriculture has been stimulated as never before.

There is no obstacle, he thinks, to a continuance of business activity except the difficulty of readjusting business to a peace basis. This obstacle is great but surmountable.

Work Drag After Each Rain.
It pays to work the road drag on the road a little while after every rain. Compare right now state roads which have been dragged regularly and some of the country roads which have been allowed to cut into ruts.

Local interest will undoubtedly be aroused by the announcement that "America's Answer," the second war picture in the "Following the Flag to France" series, issued by the Division of Films, Committee on Public Information, will be presented at the Crawford Theater, December 11.

"America's Answer" was made by the United States Signal Corps photographers under the direction of General Pershing, by whom it was reviewed and approved. General Pershing has said that the films are an accurate accounting of the first of his stewardships and that the complete series will form a pictorial history of America's part in the great war.

"America's Answer" shows the achievements of America which have excited the amazement of the French and British, dealing particularly with the transportation of troops to France, the construction of over a million tons of shipping the marvelous feats of the American engineers in forestry and construction work in France, the way America has solved the problem of transportation and port facilities in France and many details of America's participation that will bring pride and hope to the heart of every citizen.

Of particular interest are the scenes of American soldiers enroute to France in fleets of convoyed transports, their landing in France and their movements to the various camps, and, most interesting of all, their active participation in the fighting at the front. They are shown in the front line trenches facing the Hun, and it is seen in detail how Americans are adding to the glorious history of the Flag.

The film above referred to is being sent out by the Government and in no case are managers allowed to advance their prices.

The family of Wm. Hannah is among the latest to get down with the prevailing epidemic but are all doing as well as could be expected at this time.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 8

JOSEPH MADE RULER OF EGYPT.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:33-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much.—Luke 16:10.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 48.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Genesis 39:21.

Thirteen long years have passed since his brethren sold him. They have been years of fiery testing for Joseph, but his faith is triumphant. There is a mighty contrast between Joseph in the pit at Dothan and Joseph as prime minister of Egypt.

I. Joseph Made Prime Minister of Egypt (vv. 33-44).

1. The Occasion (vv. 14:32).

It is the interpretation of Pharaoh's dreams. In his dreams Pharaoh saw seven fat kine coming out of the river, followed by seven lean ones, which devoured the fat ones. This dream was followed by another in which he saw seven ears of corn come up on one stalk, rank and good, only to be devoured by seven thin ones. These dreams produced uneasiness in Pharaoh's mind. Being thus troubled over them he sent for the magicians and wise men of Egypt to interpret them to him. Upon their failure to interpret them, the chief butler calls to mind the prisoner who had interpreted his dreams two years before. Pharaoh hastily brings Joseph from prison and places his dreams before him. Joseph disclaimed wisdom for himself, but confidently asserted his faith in the wisdom of God. God is pleased with those who will thus lean upon him in the crucial hour, and will never disappoint them (James 1:5). Little did Joseph's brethren, the Ishmaelites who carried him into Egypt, or Potiphar whose slave he became, realize what the future would bring to him. His years of suffering and waiting were part of God's plan for his discipline and education. It is God's law for those who would reign, that they suffer. "If we suffer, we shall also reign with him" (2 Timothy 2:12). Joseph's exaltation from the state of humility is a fine illustration of Christ's humility and exaltation (Philippians 2:9, 10).

II. Joseph's Naturalization (v. 45).

As soon as Pharaoh thus exalted him he changed his name to Zaphnath-paaneh, an Egyptian word having varying designations; as "Salvation of the world," "The prince of life of the world," "The revealer of secrets," "The food of life," etc. No doubt it was Pharaoh's purpose to designate him as the preserver of life, the revealer of secrets, the interpreter of dreams, and the author of the plan by which Egypt was saved from the awful famine. He thus was naturalized, and his civil status rendered compatible with his official rank. Then Asenath, the daughter of the priest, was given him to wife. Intermarriage with this caste completed his naturalization by elevating him to social position. Joseph's elevation was to save the world from famine. Christ's elevation was to save the world from spiritual death. All unknown to his brethren, the Jews, Christ is now at the right hand of the Father, the Savior of the world from its famine of death. As Joseph received a Gentile bride in the time of his rejection and exaltation, so Christ is now receiving a Gentile bride (Romans 11:25).

III. Joseph's Wise Administration (vv. 46-49).

He first made a careful survey of the land, then organized his forces and looked after the details of the work. He did not use his power and position for himself, but to save others. He did not idle his time away, for he knew that only seven short years remained in which to work.

The Loom of Life.

It is a solemn thought that every one of us carries about with him a mystical loom, and we are always weaving—weave, weave, weave—this robe which we wear, every thought a thread of the warp, every action a thread of the weft. We weave it, and we dye it, and we cut it, and we stitch it, and then we put it on and wear it; and it sticks to us. Like a snail that crawls about your garden patches and makes its shell by a process of secretion from out of its own substance, so you and I are making that mysterious solemn thing, we call character, moment by moment. It is our own self modified by our actions. Character is the precipitate from the stream of conduct which, like the Nile delta, gradually rises solid and firm above the parent river, and confines its flow.—Alexander MacLaren.

Righteousness and Truth.

How can God fill with his own that which is already filled by man? First it must be emptied before it may be filled with the true good of righteousness and truth of humility and love, of peace and joy.—Howard Pyle.

The Law of Life.

Pleasure, mere pleasure, is animal. God gives that to the butterfly. But progress is the law of life to the immortal. So God has arranged our life as progress, and its working principle is evolution.—Henry Drummond.

GENERAL GOURAUD IS WAR HERO OF FRENCH

Dashing One-Armed Soldier Has Won Immortal Fame by His Feats.

General Gouraud, whose greatest work so far in this war has been the holding of the Champagne front against the German assault of July 15 and the pinching-out move astride the Argonne in conjunction with the Americans, is one of France's war leaders whose fame undoubtedly will be immortal.

Gouraud first came into prominence as a captain by capture of the blood-thirsty Soudanese chieftain Samory. As a colonel Gouraud restored order in less than a year in Adrar and Mauritania, on the borders of the Sahara, where trouble had been rampant for years. A few years later he punished the African tribes that had dared to attack Fez.

Becoming brigadier, in co-operation with General Baumgarten, he laid siege to Tarza, the Berber fortress which since its erection no enemy had dared to attack. The success of this operation resulted in the establishment of eastern and western Morocco.

In 1914 Gouraud went to Gallipoli, from whence he soon returned minus an arm. He previously had been wounded many times. Ordinary generals would have retired. But not Gouraud. An arm more or less didn't interfere with his indomitability as a leader of men and as a military strategist. He was the first to utilize a two-mile-deep outpost zone, the loss of which would not interfere with the main battle position, which had been withdrawn from the advanced trenches.
