REFERENDUM ON FREEMEN'S UNION, IS PLAN

Question of Organization May Be Put Up to People

As a solution of the situation brought about by the organization of the firemen's union in the city's fire department and the subsequent discharge of the firemen upon their refusal to dissolve their organization, it was suggested to members of the city commission today that the whole question of the recognition of union organizations among city employes be submitted to the people for their decision at a referendum vote.

May Pass Ordinance

The suggestion for a referendum, made today by a number of citizens to the city commission, was that the commission should pass an ordinance providing for the holding of a referendum on the question of the city's responsibility of the safety of lives and property.

Open Forum Meeting

Following a flood of prize which was given for the firemen's stand in holding their places after discharge at the open forum meeting at Labor temple last night, a committee was introduced by W. E. Patterson that the meeting should be held at the hall of the firemen.

Leading Labor Leaders Who Appear

At the meeting headed by the action of the city commission, an attempt was made to break up the firemen's union as it was an attempt to start an open shop fight and the beginning of a campaign to break up other labor organizations.

MEET THE GREATEST SPENDER IN AMERICA!

NEW YORK, April 11.—America's greatest spender is Robert Weeks De Forest.

Monty Brewster of "Brewster's Millions" is a piker compared with him.

But De Forest has none of Brewster's characteristics—except that of finishing a task which he holds himself should be achieved much more cheaply in the end by this method than through the successive application of lesser penalties.

De Forest is president of the Russell Sage foundation.

He has done very well so far, spending something like $11,000,000 since 1918. That leaves him $17,000,000 more to get rid of—in addition to $3,000,000 he has made for the estate since he took charge of it.

George H. Craig called on Attorney General Duggerty.

De Forest's chief worries are the tax collectors scattered throughout the various states.

De Forest dreams about these gaily by night. And they cluster by his mail and pecker him by day.

Asked if he would be glad when the money was gone De Forest smiled, yawned a little, and said there were fine golf courses in the south, and he guessed he'd start down there one of these days.

Union Indorses Milk Price Investigation

The milk price question came up at a special meeting of the Machinists' union yesterday, and a resolution was adopted endorsing the plan of the Women's club to investigate why milk is 20 cents a quart in Albuquerque.

Receipts were light. After opening 1/2 cent higher, including July at 64 to 64 1/2 cents, the market eased a little, but then hardened again. In the last part of the session, corn displayed greater weakness in sympathy with wheat.

Weakness in hogs had a depressing effect on provisions. Wheat—May, $1.28 1/2; July, $1.10 1/2.

Chicago Board of Trade CHICAGO, April 11.—Only a slight transient upturn in wheat prices ruled today from freezing temperatures last night and the night before.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Trading in the stock market today was dull and very irregular. Discouraging foreign advices were counterbalanced by firmer domestic money tendencies.

HENRY W. TAFT WARNS AGAINST TRADE WITH REDS

Says Bolshevism Is Fast Losing Out in Russia

NEW YORK, April 11.—"America cannot and must not sanction a resumption of trade relations with the soviet government of Russia."

This is the passage which Henry W. Taft, a brother of the ex-president will carry through the country in a series of lectures during the next two months.

Taft is a lawyer, member of the firm of Wickersham and Taft, which is well known in Wall street. He looks much like the ex-president.

"Bolshevism has burned itself out by practical demonstration," says Taft. "Its bite and its sting are gone, as is the dread of Europe from its scourge."

"Viewed today communism, as preached in Russia, is left with but two fundamentals. One is the preaching advocating overthrow of all organized government; the other, the silent hostility against every nation."

"Russia in reality has declared war on all nations by the very reason of the bolshevist principles to which it adheres."

"Soon there will come a new order of things in Russia. It is presaged by the tenacity of the resentful masses of Russia."

Peasant Decides

"In the stolidity of the Russian peasant rests the country's liberation. He has taken his belongings out of the cities and has gone back to the farms. Bolshevism offers no appeal to him. He has food, land, crops and a bed to sleep on. With these wants satisfied he refuses to embrace himself in communism and bolshevism."

"Another reason for the downfall of bolshevism is that bolshevism had no sense of humor."

"The government that supplants it, following the great revolt to come, will be a representative form of government, patterned after a democracy."

"Probably we will be able to open trade with this supporting government, but it is sure that we cannot even think of resuming negotiations with a government, such as now controls Russia, and which preaches our overthrow as a fundamental."

Elks' Minstrels Give Their First Performance Tonight at High School

Fireman Off Duty Discovers Blaze and Turns in an Alarm

For the first time here a fireman turned in a fire alarm yesterday. Capt. Harry Fredericks of the local station was not on duty last night while taking a pleasure ride with his family south of town. He saw a huge blaze and immediately drove to the scene. A barn of E. G. Branderbush of Rancho de Arisco was affected and as several volunteers were fighting the blaze with buckets of water, Fredericks turned in the alarm. The local company responded and strung a hose from an aqueduct. The barn, however, was almost a total loss, the damage being estimated at $300. Livestock which had been in the barn was saved. The roof and kitchen of the home of J. L. Pino at 1011 North Second street burned yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The loss was estimated at $500. The fire is thought to have started from an overheated stove.

The curtain will open for the Elks' Minstrels tonight at 8:15. Every minute from that time on the public is assured of the best entertainment in a minstrel line ever put on in the city. The cast had its final rehearsal yesterday and every detail is ready to go. Maurice Klein, director, has reduced 15 pounds through his strenuous efforts, and says he is in trim to put the show through in rickshack style. Three burlesques of songs used in the show today telegraphed their best wishes for the success of the show to Mr. Klein and at the same time assured him that the songs were exceptionally good and ought to go fine. They were M. Witmark and Hank Harry Van Tiller and Fred Fisher. Under Witmark who produced the "Chaperone," and other musical comedies wrote the opening and closing chorus for the show. The cast for the three nights—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—has been good, but there are still good seats available. They can be purchased at the box office in the High School auditorium tonight and at Mattson's for Tuesday and Wednesday's performance.

Good Plaid Dress Gingham At 20 Cents a Yard Tell a Story Economical Housewives Everywhere Have Been Waiting to Hear

The fact that we are selling good quality gingham at 20 cents a yard tells you more about the new lower prices than reams of editorial comment by economists. Lest you forget, we'd like to remind you that this same quality sold for as high as 45 cents during the peak of war prices.

This gingham comes in a score of checks and plaids in all the standard gingham colors and combinations. It is suited for house dresses, children's wash clothes and aprons. The quality is very good, and the price only 20 cents a yard.

These Gingham Dresses at $5.95 Are Well Made and Well Designed

The heading of this item tells the whole story with epigrammatic brevity. One really must see a gingham dress to know whether or not she likes it. These dresses at $5.95 will bear your closest scrutiny. When we say they are well made we mean that they are double stitched where the greatest strain comes; we mean they are the kind of gingham dresses a woman turns out on her own machine if she has the time. You will be pleased with the designs, too. Big pockets, smart collars, little touches here and there only a real designer can get, mark these dresses.

OUR HANDBAGS AT $5.00 ARE ATTRACTING A GOOD BIT OF MERITED ATTENTION

They ought to, because it's been a long, long time since anyone has been able to show good all-leather, well fitted, nicely lined hand bags at $5.00 or anywhere near $5.00. The designers made these bags to compete on a buyer's market. That accounts for their striking designs, the good leathers and the fine workmanship. They are displayed on the main floor in the center aisle. Next time you are in the store stop and see them.

Our Big Toy Department Enjoys an All-Year Patronage

Most toy departments are run as pre-Christmas propositions only, but our toy department on the third floor balcony is open the year round. Children like to visit this toy department; they are welcome any time. We maintain an all-year toy department for several reasons. First, if we packed the toys away from year to year they would no doubt be damaged. That's the selfish reason. Second, people buy toys the year round for birthdays and other gift times, and they ought to have at least one place to go to where selections are fairly complete.

About Certain Small Lots of Curtains

Because we buy lace curtains in vast quantities we are sometimes left with one or two pairs of a kind. We can't offer these at the regular price because people have a right to expect to be able to buy as many pairs of a pattern as they wish to. So we take these odd pairs, and odd groups of pairs and mark them way down—often below cost. These occasions offer the stealer of a pair or two of curtains an unusual opportunity.

Large 75c Turkish Towels, Only 50c

Large, heavy Turkish Towels, only 50 cents apiece. They're the same heavy quality most stores are asking 75 cents for. They're the kind that will stand a surprisingly large number of laundings with surprisingly little wear. They're the great large kind everyone buys nowadays.

75c Ten-Quart Water Pails, 39c

Ten-quart water pails of a good quality galvanized iron. They have extra large handles and are guaranteed rust-proof. We have been selling them for 39 cents, each, and were surprised the other day when a good customer of ours told us that some hardware stores were getting 75 cents for the same pails.

SCHOOLS IN GRANT COUNTY TO REOPEN

Educational Auditor Finds Way Out of Financial Difficulty

SANTA FE, N. M., April 31.—As a result of the visit of John Joeres, state educational auditor, and his conference with county school officials, the Grant county schools, closed a week ago for lack of funds, will be reopened immediately.

This was the information telegraphed to State Superintendent of Schools John V. Conway, Sunday. Immediately on learning of the order to close the Grant county schools Superintendent Conway asked Mr. Joeres to go to Silver City and suggested a number of sources of school funds which he believed might have been overlooked by the county officials. Superintendent Conway today had not received details of the settlement of the Grant county difficulty that has been reached, but said he had never entertained any doubt of the ability of the county to find means to reopen its schools and keep them open.

'Good Name Is Everything'

So Says Sophia Lyons, Who Gives Wealth Away.

DETROIT, April 31.—"Once a thief, always a thief" is the motto in my mind," she says Sophia Lyons, 29 years an international crook, 40 years more a successful business woman.

"Good name is the thing to be guarded. Once lost, it never is regained beyond the pale—shut off from the condition in which lies the only desideratum—contentment."

Sophia Lyons' environment led her into the world of crookdom.

"Before I was a my grandmother used to say 'no drink, the stairs if I came home with less than three pocketbooks a day' she says. 'In that hard school I learned every trick of the 'dope' trade before I was 16, although I couldn't recite the alphabet until I was 25.'

Late in her 20's, following her determination to seek "big game" she traveled through Europe, acquiring the earnings that enabled her later to move in the luxuriant of the "best circles" of America and Europe. Armed with this "culture" she proved upon society to her heart's content.

But Sophia Lyons didn't escape the law. Arrested for the first time in the 29 years of her criminal life she has been in 20 jails.

"Goes Straight"

Forty years ago, after her release from the House of Correction here, she determined to "go straight."

At the Theaters Today

"Timmy Pulls the Strings," a Guildwyn production playing at the Lyric today, is a Scotch story—a love story. So carefully has the picture been staged for entire Scotch village that it has been constructed especially for it.

John Barrymore's studio in California that one can readily imagine himself glimpsing actual happenings in Scotland. It is the tale of a young Scotch girl whose ready wit and willingness to sacrifice her own happiness to get the family out of a financial tangle provide Miss Leslie Jay with an opportunity she makes the most of to display her beauty and her talents. There in the beautiful cast include scores of the best character actors of the screen—Russell Simpson, of "Godless Men" fame; Raymond Hatton, celebrated in many plays of the stage and film; Colleen Lane, rising young Hollywood actor; Edythe Chapman, Eddie Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Otto Hoffman and Carson Ferguson. It is a play well worth seeing, and fully justifies what the producers call it—an "all star film."

Frank Mayo, Universal's two-fisted star, seems to favor screen-fights, and and here he is again, fighting more and better than ever before. As a "bouncer" in a tough joint in the picture he has ample opportunity to indulge in plenty of fighting. The picture at the ideal theater last night was "Tiger Trap," by Max Brand.

Mayo plays the role of a man of wealth who falls in love with an unscrupulous barmaid and lives in her arms in order to be near her. After kicking a tough twice his size and pulling to feet a whole roomful of rages with a chair as his weapon—he is unmercifully punished. "The Tiger" and invited to occupy a cage upstairs over the Chuck-a-Luck soft drink emporium, soap-kitchen and merchant's lunch. The villain steps in and makes a lot of trouble, but how he all turns out.

Wanda Hawley is starting today in "Her First Elopement" at the "B" theater, a dramatization of the story by Alice Duer Miller, author of "The Charm School." Mrs. Miller has been one of the Golden Age "Famous Authors" group for some time and her film stories are in great demand.

Wanda Hawley, the little star, is a petite blonde who has a way of wrapping herself around your heart in her pictures.

William Innes is started at the Pastime theater today in "The Bare Knuckles" a story of a gang foreman who prevailed against the threats and cowardice of a gang who opposed his praiseworthy efforts in behalf of "the" girl. This part is taken by charming Mary Thurman.

Do as millions have done—make this ten-day test. See how film removed blemishes the teeth. Learn how it makes safer teeth. Brush your teeth in the modern way and watch all the good effects.

Film makes teeth dingy
 That viscous film you feel is the teeth's chief enemy. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Old brushing methods do not of actively combat it. So very few people have escaped discoloration and decay.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Two ways to fight it
 Dental science has now found two effective ways to fight film. They are combined in a new-day tooth paste—Pepsodent—made to meet modern requirements.

THE reception given The Sunday Herald was gratifying. We expected approval for it. We appreciate the cordial expressions of approval that have been pouring in today from Albuquerque people and from friends throughout the state. The expressions have come not only in words, but also in the very practical form of subscriptions to the paper.

Determined as the publishers have been to make The Sunday Herald set a new standard in newspaper production in New Mexico, such expressions of approval and such substantial evidence of support as have been given it, are bound to encourage us to greater effort.

WHEN GOVERNMENT FAILS

IN CUSSING or discussing the American form of government, it's easy for you to find the imperfections. They stand out like broken window-panes. Now comes Viscount James Bryce and shakes his cane at the broken glass. He's an Englishman, but a world authority on how we rule ourselves in the United States. Bryce finds a lot of things wrong with us. Boiled down, these are his observations: Americans are ruled by a mediocre class of men. We pay our judges, legislators and executives such low salaries that we don't get the best.

Coming Back

A Tragedy in Mora

(as reported for the Wagen Mound Paragraph.) MORA, N. M., April 7.—Wednesday at about 1:45 p. m., the sensational news of a suicide and attempt to murder was spread over the town of Mora. The occurrence has taken place about fifteen minutes before the time mentioned at Cordillera, situated at one and a half miles from Mora. Those that took part in the crime were Rodolinda Buena, 20, and Mrs. Rosita de Martinez, 24 years of age. When the authorities were informed of the tragedy, our efficient sheriff, Mr. Sabino Lopez, who was in town at that time, went to the scene of the tragedy, accompanied by his deputies, and the doctor of the locality. According to the story of the tragedy, Buena sent for Mrs. Martinez to go to his home, and when she arrived there, he shot twice at her, one of the bullets entering her forehead and lodging between her nose and right eye. After being wounded, Mrs. Martinez was apparently dead, and Buena, thinking that he had murdered her, shot himself in the forehead, the bullet penetrating his brain and killing him instantly. It is not hoped that Mrs. Martinez will recover.

A Circle to Be Smashed

(An Editorial from the Saint Louis Post-Dispatch.) The National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities "have decided," according to a statement of representatives, "to bring about a solution of the (railroad) situation." It is a splendid feat that anybody has "a solution of the situation." But the unqualified assurance of the security owners carries an uncomfortable suggestion: They declare that the roads are not meeting their fixed charges and that $350,000,000 worth of securities mature this year. If this means a receivership it cannot be called a solution. It would entail either higher rates, a junking of the properties or government control, none of which would bring anything but misfortune to the public.

Government ownership or control means but a relapse into the very disease from which the railroads have been regarded as recovering. It means political administration, irresponsibility, inefficiency and labor disturbance, for all of which the public must pay. It may be a solution by large and influential elements of the workers' organizations. But it is not a solution for the public. Whatever means inefficiency means higher rates. Higher rates mean disaster to business. Disaster to business means disaster to labor. It is as certain a sequence as "The house that Jack built."

FOR MEN WHO MAKE MISTAKES To railroad officials, engineering experts, and directors of great enterprises, Henry Herberman is known as the man who achieves the impossible. To the general public he is not known at all. Yet he is 10 times a millionaire and owns great manufacturing plants. "I never fire a man," he says, "who makes mistakes. I am always suspicious of a man who doesn't make mistakes, because it shows me he is afraid of taking chances, that he is playing safe instead of using his brain."

Seth Tanner

Some fellows is so careful that they don't believe what they know. Hard work is responsible for success all right—but lot o' fellows have succeeded to get out o' doin' hard work. and millions of builders and laborers are awaiting work. But freight rates are too high. They are a considerable element in keeping the vicious circle on the job. They are holding back business, and lack of business is holding back the railroads. It has been predicted on good authority that a good crop will throw the vicious circle partly out of gear and perhaps bring about its collapse. But this hope is blasted if irrevocable action is to be taken to communicate the railroads before the crops are ready for movement. Further economies on the railroads pending the prospective crop relief might save the situation. If the crisis can be weathered it may, in the end, prove more of a blessing than a ban. For, we are constantly studying and learning. We are finding by hard knocks and persistent scrutiny what is wasteful and what is rotten. Let's keep on finding and then, before it is too late, do whatever cutting is necessary to finish the operation. You will find it in our Classified Columns.

FROG MUSIC By Alfred Arnold

Talk about your rubins and your blackbirds, and your wrens; Just listen to the music of the gubbers and the hens. And the guinea, and the duck! There's a voice, too, from the boggs. That makes a right good tootle; It's the hollerin' of the frogs! They come along in early spring, about horse-radish time; They sing a song of bees and flowers, or plead for summer's elime; But, anyways, they've got the bulge on all the birds that sing; And there's so darnd many of them that they make the whole air ting! You walk along at evening, when the ground has thawed out warm; There's an early moon a-flirtin' with the stars in proper form; And you hear an orchestra tune up in some still roadside pool, With a treble bass and tenor to beat any music school! Some folks say it's creepy-like, and solemn, when frogs sing— We all hear what we're listenin' for, or not or sweet—By Jing! I hear a whoop-te-doodle of the good things yet to be; A kind of hoop-a-gettin' set; and that's enough for me! Talk about your thrushes and your robins, and your jays; That sing, or squawk their hearts out in a hundred different ways; I hear the sweetest music, and it helps my trials and clogs, When Nature whispers "Let 'er go" to a half a million frogs.

Sights I Saw in Capital By YE CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON, April 11.—John Drinkwater of England, who contemplates shows for the stage, had dinner with Herb Hoover and wife Friday evening. Did everybody drinkwater? Warren Harding and wife saw Dr. Wolf Hopper, the actor, the other night in a show called "Geminis." They were accompanied by Chief Justice of the Peace Daugherty, several detectives, Mr. and Mrs. Ned McLean, of here, and Jess W. Smith of Washington Court House, O. Some college fellows from Brown university were here and gave a dance at the Willard Saturday night. The foreign section of town up on 14th street is quite excited these days over the visit of a Mr. Viviani, a Frenchman. A number of citizens have been given for him. He says he thinks this is a fine country. Ye correspondent took a horseback ride last evening in Potomac park. It's great sport while it's going on, but we have to stand up to 12:30 write today. Walter Brown of Toledo, O., has declined a free trip to Japan at the expense of the government. He says the law business in Toledo is pretty tight, and besides he can't get out with chopsticks anyway. The coast line of the United States along the Gulf of Mexico is longer than that of a long the Pacific.

THE FOREIGN TRADE PROBLEM

SOME people talk so much about how the allies are going to make Germany pay, that they forget the little problem of how we are going to get back what the allies owe us. That debt grows steadily. Last year we shipped England $1,311,183,000 more in goods than she shipped us. In 1919 the surplus was $1,969,365,000—in our favor," as bankers love to put it. But was it in our favor? The only way England and other countries can ever pay what they owe us is by selling more than we sell them. There isn't enough gold in the world to wipe out the debt. And gold, of itself, would do us no good. Either we import more than we export, or else the debt owed us abroad must be carried over from year to year, indefinitely. That doesn't appeal to those who believe that an excess of imports over exports would slow down our own industry. Uncle Sam, storekeeper, in his foreign trade is between the devil and the deep blue sea.

JAZZ AND ITS CRITICS

WAY back there, in or about the year 322 B. C., the first complaint against jazz was heard. The complaint was Aristotle, the Greek philosopher. After denouncing certain bad actors of tragedy whose gestures were far too violent, he concluded with this reproach: "They are like bad flute-players who whirl themselves around as if they would imitate the motion of the discus." Though this was written more than 2200 years ago, it has a 1921 flavor. Hand Aristotle's whirling flute-player a saxophone and you have an up-to-date jazz-player whose contortions afford delight to some while giving many others pain. "There is no new thing under the sun," says Ecclesiastes in Holy Writ. "Is there anything whereof it may be said, See, this is new! It has been already of old time, which was before us." Aristotle's cry against the whirling flute-players of 323 B. C. is echoed in 1921 by Dr. Henry Van Dyke scoring jazz as "the torment of imbeciles."
