Capital Ship Agreement Hinges On a Solution

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—France today accepted the American proposal that she be accorded a capital ship tonnage of 175,000 under the naval limitation agreement.

W.M. ROCKEFELLER MUST GIVE UP PLACE ON RAILWAY BOARD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—William Rockefeller, Harvard graduate and George F. Baker will have to give up by December 31 certain places they now hold on boards of directors of railroad corporations under a ruling today by the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Rockefeller, the commission said, is posing upon his application to retain a number of the places, may be an officer of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, but must drop out of either the New York Central board or the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western board. Mr. Rockefeller may hold positions as an officer of two western railroads, the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, and the Chicago & North Western, but must retire either from the New York Central or the Indiana, Lake Erie & Western.

The orders are based under sections of the interstate commerce act, which require the commission to determine whether or not it is compatible with public interest for one official to be a director in several interstate railroad corporations.

PRESIDENT TO STICK CLOSELY ON JOB FOR NEXT THREE MONTHS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—President Harding is disposed to remain closely in Washington for the next three months and is cancelling all tentative engagements which he has had for speeches or trips to various parts of the country.

Any Golfer Can Beat Col. Bogey If He Follows Billy Evans' Recipe Based on Expert's Experience

By BILLY EVANS

Golf is admittedly the hardest of all games to master. From mere observation one might not get that impression, but truer words were never written.

The golfer whether he be the novice or the polished professional is constantly having his ups and downs. Often it seems as though the downs predominate.

In baseball the star player suffers from slumps just as much as the ordinary individual. The great hitters like Cobb, Hornsby, Sisler, Speaker and the rest have periods during the season when most any old kind of pitching seems to puzzle them. It is the same in golf. Walter Hagen, Jack Hutchinson, Jim Barnes, Jesse Guilford, Francis Ouimet and Chick Evans, all have their slumps.

Why is golf so hard for the beginner to master? In order to get the best possible answer to that question, I put the query to a score of the country's leading players. Here is the consensus, an even dozen reasons:

A desire to play before really learning how to swing the club. The same theory as trying to run before learning to walk.

Golfers Take to Drive. Seventy-five per cent of the "greenies" who take up golf, never really learn the proper swing, because of a preference for actual play rather than practice.

A desire to obtain distance rather than accuracy in driving from the tee. Most golfers like the long drive as much as the ball player loves his base hits.

Failure to continue their course of instruction under some competent professional, because they feel they have reached a stage where they have absorbed all the golf knowledge possible. It is at such a time the golfer needs instruction most.

A desire to employ a lot of unnecessary movements, as getting on the toes, swaying the body, wrenching the muscles and constantly shifting the feet. Every good "pro" player has a certain fixed set of movements and never varies them.

Allowing the desire to hit the ball to get the better of one's judgment, which causes the player to hurry the swing after reaching the top.

Pooling oneself up playing even with golfers who have an edge and thereby spoiling one's game to a certain extent by "padding" it in an effort to keep pace with your superior.

Player Must Concentrate. A tendency to relax the hold on the club. While it is not necessary to hold the shaft of the club in a death-like grip, it must be held firmly to get the best results.

A forced pivoting rather than a natural one, which tends to take the "punch" out of the swing.

A preference for the iron rather than the wooden club from the tee, causing the beginner to neglect the driver and woods for so long he never really conquers them.

Failure to improve one's scope is very often due to the preference for driving over all other departments of the game. Golf is not a one-stroke game. The desire to hit them hard often makes a player neglect his short game.

Lack of concentration is the

Lost Child Comes Home Wheeling a Baby Carriage

The two and a half year old son of Roddie Shields, 127 South Third street ran away from home this noon. Members of the family were soon worried. Now the father is trying to find out who lost the buggy.

SHOP EMPLOYEES VOTE ON RAISING A STRIKE FUND

Sentiment Here Is Said To be About Evenly Divided

Members of the various shop crafts at Albuquerque and at other places along the Santa Fe system are now taking a vote on the question of raising a strike benefit fund.

The sentiment among the shop employees here is said to be about evenly divided. If the vote should carry, the fund would be raised by each employer contributing one day's wages.

The strike fund is being considered as a means of combating the proposed wage cut of shop crafts by the railroads should a strike become necessary.

General chairman of shop crafts along the system, and master mechanics and other railroad officials are now holding a conference in Topoka regarding the proposed changes in wages and working rules for shop employees. W. R. Patterson, secretary of the machinists for the Santa Fe road, has just returned from Topoka, where he attended the conference.

HIGH TAXES PERILS LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY; GOVERNOR FAVORS A CUT IN EDUCATIONAL COSTS

R. F. Asplund Tells County Assessors How Taxes Have Increased 231 Per Cent; Property Valuation only 110 Per Cent and Population Only 10 Per Cent.

(Special to The Herald.) SANTA FE, Dec. 20.—The livestock interests are handicapped by New Mexico's high tax rates, Governor Asplund declared before the county assessors' conference late yesterday afternoon.

"The cattle men and the sheep men of this state have to compete with those of Arizona," he said, "and we're putting ours at a disadvantage by high tax rates."

"The tax rates, he said, should be limited to what 'the traffic will bear and not what we think we ought to spend.'"

"This idea that the tax commission should go about the state and produce what the legislature thinks it ought to spend is all wrong," he stated and went on to say:

"The governor then turned to educational costs and after remarking it wasn't popular to attack these, stated he saw no reason why they should not be subjected to the 'closest scrutiny.'"

"Necessity is," he added, "business men can't afford to pay from 5 to 6 per cent on the actual value of their holdings and expect to make money. They can't do it."

The New Mexico Cattle & Horse Growers' association and the New Mexico Wool Growers' association, who want the assessors to adopt standard schedules of livestock and grazing land values for all counties to eliminate discrimination, then began the presentation of their cases. This was done by calling witnesses who were put under oath. Laurence F. Lee, Albuquerque, attorney, examined them.

None Making Anything. Frank Bond, Espanola, the first called, stated he didn't know of any livestock man in the state who had earned expenses in the last three years. He valued common sheep over one year old, at $3 and under one year old at $2.

Twenty-two assessors were present in addition to other county officials, representatives of the two big livestock associations, the Tax Payers' association, the Santa Fe railway and state officials.

"Are we not on the point of killing the goose that lays our golden eggs?" asked Rupert F. Asplund, director of the Tax Payers' association, after calling attention to the rise made by governmental costs in the last 10 years. He presented the governor's estimate of the increase in the cost of government in the 10 years, he said, far outstripped ability to pay. He included state, city and county costs and showed the increased 231 per cent. taxes 231 per cent, property valuation 110 per cent, and population 10 per cent. The last two figures he held indicated ability to pay.

He charged school and highway expenditures were responsible for the greater part of the increase in the cost. He estimated educational expenditures made up 20 per cent of the total for 1920 and highway expenditures 25 per cent.

Explains New Law. Assistant Attorney General A. B. Edwards explained the revenue code passed by the fifth legislature and gave the following directions to the assessors to make it effective:

Personally interview every resident tax payer in your county.

Personally administer a formal oath of affirmation to a list of his property furnished by the tax payer.

Personally inspect every item of property in your county.

Diligently search for unlisted property.

Uniformly assess at its full value all taxable property in your county.

$98,553.37; expenditures by incorporated cities, towns and villages estimated at $500,000 in 1915 and $1,350,000 in 1920.

"A striking evidence of the growing burden of taxation may be found in a chart showing total taxes levied in each of the last ten years as follows: 1910 2,400,000.00 (Estimated); 1911 3,000,000.00 (Estimated); 1912 3,593,748.75; 1913 4,389,848.95; 1914 5,990,758.41; 1915 6,239,865.75; 1916 4,374,749.26; 1917 6,234,655.89; 1918 6,796,154.81; 1919 14,550,900.00 (Estimated); 1920 11,250,000.00 (Estimated)."

Increase by Counties. In ten years the burden of taxation has tripled in a decade as measured by total taxes levied. If we want still further evidence of this increase we can find it in the increase in tax rates as found in the different county seats, comparing the years 1915 and 1921 as follows:

Tax rates in the various county seats for 1915 and 1921 compared, (including all levies on general property):

Table with 3 columns: County, 1915, 1921 Inc. Percent. Rows include Albuquerque, Reserve, Roswell, Tularosa, Clayton, Los Lunas, Santa Rosa, Lordsburg, Lovington, Carrizozo, Deming, Gallup, Mora, Alamogordo, Tucuman, Tierra Amarilla, Peralta, Bernalillo, Farmington, Las Vegas, Santa Fe, Hileboro, Socorro, Ties, Estancia, Clayton, Los Lunas.

"It is at the invitation of the tax commission that I am here to present in the most concise manner possible the problem of our mounting costs of government."

"First, as to the relation between the increase and our ability to pay. Assuming that population and assessed wealth represents the latter, note that we have increased only 10 per cent in the census and only 110 per cent on the tax rolls. During the same period, however, our bonded indebtedness has increased 140 per cent. Taxes levied for all purposes 231 per cent and governmental expenditures 271 per cent."

"The total disbursements of the state government alone has grown from $90,794.10 to $1,167,069.85 in ten years. These disbursements include general government expenses necessary from $162,119.22 to $356,438.70 in the period; highways increasing from $70,819.22 to $3,247,844.49; education, increasing from $231,622.72 to $1,472,846.82; all other disbursements increasing from $436,221.86 to $1,074,628.10."

"The necessary data are not available for complete financial statistics for the years prior to 1915, but for the period beginning with that year we can show that the total cost of all government has increased from $8,144,832.57 in 1915 to $13,993,489.02 in 1920. We are including here expenditures by state departments which grew in the period from $1,457,261.17 to $4,591,397.86 in 1920; expenditures by counties from $1,167,069.85 to $688,854.65 in 1915 and $1,571,577.89 in 1920; expenditures by counties increasing from $3,702,716.45 to $5,812,626.62 in 1920."

Santa Rosa 14.62 35.80 20.91 147.34; Lordsburg 11.40 27.13 15.55 131.74; Lovington 16.85 38.97 14.73 90.41; Carrizozo 15.90 33.47 16.47 123.13; Deming 16.44 29.81 15.15 80.90; Gallup 15.32 32.27 16.45 102.90; Mora 11.79 35.24 22.54 201.29; Alamogordo 26.29 48.48 22.54 139.30; Tucuman 21.45 31.99 19.89 91.28; Tierra Amarilla 12.20 26.73 18.53 151.90; Peralta 21.90 31.10 20.90 141.04; Bernalillo 12.78 21.84 9.06 70.89; Farmington 16.85 45.28 18.47 88.23; Las Vegas 17.48 32.53 12.13 67.90; Santa Fe 22.13 31.62 15.49 70.90; Hileboro 11.88 31.79 19.32 168.64; Socorro 16.37 44.19 27.72 169.40; Ties 12.28 32.53 21.27 171.88; Estancia 13.19 29.14 40.79 248.97; Clayton 13.21 59.85 32.54 175.72; Los Lunas 10.62 31.53 10.91 102.72

"Analysis of governmental costs will of course, show that roads and schools are responsible for the greater part of the increase. In 1915, school expenditures constituted 30 per cent of the total cost of government, and road expenditures 15 per cent. In 1912 educational costs grew to 40 per cent and highway costs to 20 per cent of the total. These are by far the two largest items in public expenditures. In the year 1920 it is safe to estimate that educational costs constituted 50 per cent and highway expenditures 25 per cent of the total. In other words education and highway expenditures amounted together to approximately 75 per cent."

ROAD IS BEING GRAVELED FOR $1 A YARD BY COUNTY

Department Making Good on Promise it Could do Work

The county road department is making good its boast made in the county commissioners some time ago that they could lay the gravel on the Boulevard extension road for an approximate average cost of one dollar a yard.

The work of graveling this road project from the Alameda bridge to the end of the river boulevard north of Old Albuquerque is going along steadily, according to the county road superintendent, and so far the average cost of screening, hauling, and laying the gravel has been $1.05 per yard.

(Special to The Herald.) LAB VEGAS, Dec. 20.—The case of the state against Jose Ignacio Lujan, charged with the killing of Ramon Angel last July by kicking him in the stomach, has been postponed until the spring term of court because of the absence of a material witness for the defense. The Clevenger case, which was remanded by the supreme court, will not be heard at this term.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready to use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS HEAVY BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FOR YEAR

Game With El Paso on Feb. 10 Will be Big Attraction

The new year basketball schedule of the Albuquerque high school which will be a preliminary to the state basketball tournament to be held here on March 14 and 15 was announced this morning by A. J. Moore, athletic director of the high school.

In announcing the schedule Mr. Moore said that the two biggest treats will come when the team meets the El Paso high school here on February 10. Coon and Brown, forwards for El Paso are said to be the biggest sensations of the sport. They shoot baskets backwards and forwards from any angle.

If the games scheduled here are well attended the price of admission to the tournament games probably will be less than it was a few years ago. The high school however, will have to win a large percentage of the games in order to qualify for the state tournament.

The new year schedule follows:

- Jan. 7.—Bellevue high school at local high school gym.
- Jan. 14.—Santa Fe high school at local gym.
- Jan. 20.—Gallop high school at local gym.
- Jan. 21.—Menaul school in high school gym.
- Jan. 27.—Gallop high school at Gallop.
- Feb. 2.—Albuquerque College at the college.
- Feb. 4.—Indian school at the Indian school gym.
- Feb. 11.—El Paso high school at local gym.
- Feb. 11.—Albuquerque college at high school gym.
- Feb. 17.—Santa Fe high school at local gym.
- Feb. 18.—Bellevue high school at Bellevue.
- Feb. 22.—Port Sumner high school at Port Sumner.
- Feb. 24.—Clovis high school at Clovis.
- Feb. 25.—Borwell high school at Borwell.
- March 2.—Menaul school at Menaul gym.
- March 4.—Indian school at high school gym.

Las Vegas Teams Planning a Big Basketball Season

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Dec. 20.—For the first time in several years, the Normal University and the Vegas High school teams will meet twice during the basketball season, and perhaps three times, if the first two games should be divided. The season will begin January 6 and will close February 24.

The boys and girls teams of Dawson, Santa Fe, Raton and Springer will come here to play the Normals and the High. The Normals will go to Dawson, Raton, Springer and Maxwell for games, and the High will go to Santa Fe, Raton, and Dawson. The Highs have one open date, Jan. 21.

Las Vegas is a great basketball town, and the fans are looking forward to an interesting season. The Normal girls, who were undefeated last year, expect to try to duplicate their achievement in the coming season. Both the Normal and High school will have strong boys' teams and present indications are that they will be evenly matched.

Indian School Defeats Menaul

The Indian school basketball team won from the Menaul losers last night on the Indian school floor by a score of 21 to 16. The Indians showed class and team work, especially in passing. In the beginning of the game neither team could find the basket, but the Indians soon started a rush.

At the Theaters Today

"R." "Cappy Ricks" with Thomas Meighan and Agnes Ayres, starts today. This is a picture from one of Peter B. Kyne's broadest stories of the sea. This is the first picture in which Agnes Ayres has starred, and her characterization of Florrie Ricks is good.

LYRIC. "A Poor Relation" adapted from the stage play of the same name, with Will Rogers in the leading role, starts today. This picture is well adapted to Will Rogers' temperament and style of acting.

PASTIME. "Under the Hill" is a quiet picture which will make an audience. The plot is charming, and most of the characters are, but several mysterious situations arise, and you are not let in on them until the end of the picture.

CONFESIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER I.—I Find a Fortune Within My Grasp.

"I—I'm not used to the idea of being my mother's heir. I've been thinking most of what my luck might mean to May."

"And I thought maybe May and you—"

"High reconcile you to it?" suggested Motherdear. The she spoke seriously. "Cissy, it's not for me to influence the little girl. I'd help her pick out her frocks and her cars. I'll run her apartment for her. I'll attend to her correspondents, but whereas it comes to a husband she won't get herself."

Motherdear rose. Cissy opened the door for her.

"I hope you won't think me an awful egotist to keep offering myself to her," he said to Motherdear. "I wouldn't if I didn't honestly believe I could make good as a husband and I hope as a son-in-law," he added impulsively. "You won't say a word for me, Mrs. Scott?"

"May will have to decide, Cissy. I must be neutral, my dear boy?"

Cissy closed the door behind her, stood with his back to it and regarded me tenderly for a moment, then came rapidly toward me, saying:

"May—let's make it a close-up!"

"No! No! Please stay away!" I held up a repelling palm.

"Fearing you and I can make the matrimonial grade. What's the good of that money, unless you show me how to use it?"

"Perhaps I don't know my own mind, Cissy. All I can think of at the present moment is Love Passes, so why should I marry you—of anybody else?"

"Listen to me! If you believe that love is going to perish sooner or later if you're so sure—why can't you make my mind to marry me and let me be a protector? We'll be chums, pals—companions! It love passes, what difference does it make to you whom you marry?" Cissy stormed. "Believe me, it makes some difference to me!"

"There's something in the idea," I admitted. "Give me time to think it over, please!"

And so he agreed. Next morning Cissy departed for a distant city to attend to business connected with his inheritance. A year must elapse before the fortune would be transferred to him. Meanwhile he was going to study various branches of finance. But he would come back to the company to play opposite me in "Love Lorn."

Cissy's inheritance was the sole topic discussed by the studio crowd for weeks. The girls envied me because I was acting with him. Unfortunately, "I didn't have sense enough for my own good" in their opinion.

"Dick Barnes came and went as usual without wasting any words on me. He was the only one in the crowd who didn't play up to the newly-made millionaire."

I think that I was tempted by Cissy's latest appeal. It wasn't the fortune which influenced me, but was my chance to take my place among the most envied brides of the decade. I was moved by Cissy's suggestion.

"If you don't believe in ideal love, if you're so sure that no love lasts—then why not marry me anyway?"

MRS. A. G. SIMMS DIES AT HER HOME AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Wife of Bank President Had Resided Here Since 1914

With the words of the prayer "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep" on her lips, Mrs. Katherine Mather Simms, wife of Albert G. Simms, president of the Citizens National bank, went to sleep for the last time.

Thirty-six hours after she whispered the prayer, she rested in a state of coma and died at 1:30 o'clock this morning at her home, 211 North Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Simms had been in poor health this fall and in the last few days took a sudden turn for the worse and her condition gradually grew weaker until life ebbed away.

The deceased was born in Utica, New York, September 12, 1891. After receiving an education mostly in private schools in Utica, Niagara Falls and other eastern cities she came to New Mexico. She was wedded to Mr. Simms on March 12, 1914, at Silver City, and the two moved to Albuquerque that same year.

Besides her husband Mrs. Simms is survived by her mother, Mrs. F. L. Lovelace of Niagara Falls, N. Y., one brother and three sisters, none of whom live here.

Funeral arrangements have not been definitely arranged. C. T. French is in charge.

C OF C MEMBERS ASKED TO VOTE ON NEW DIRECTORS

30 Persons to be Nominated; Balloting Later For Board of 15

Official ballots for a primary election for directors of the Chamber of Commerce are being mailed out to 1,025 members of the organization with requests that the members mark crosses opposite the names of 30 persons they wish to nominate for directors. The ballots must be returned by Thursday to the reorganization committee when they will be counted and the thirty persons receiving the highest number of votes will be declared nominees. New ballots will then be prepared and sent to the members who will vote by mail on the thirty names and the fifteen persons receiving the highest number of votes will be declared the directors for the ensuing year.

Through an error which was made in preparing the ballots the names of George A. Kaseman and John Mills were omitted. It was announced by H. H. McKee, secretary of the chamber this morning. Those wishing to vote for either of these men may write their names in on the ballots. Along with the ballots a postal card questionnaire is being mailed on which the members are requested to state the five activities he desires the chamber to take up during 1932. These postal cards must also be in the mail not later than Thursday.

Robber Held in St. Louis Not Known By Police Here

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 29.—A man who says he is William O'Neill, arrested here today, confessed, according to the police, to eight holdups and robberies in this vicinity and a number of robberies in San Diego, Venice, Los Angeles, Calif., and Albuquerque, New Mexico.

O'Neill said, according to the police, that he robbed a room in a San Diego hotel of several articles of clothing and a revolver, that he took various articles in four hotels and rooming houses in Los Angeles, that he looted an apartment at Venice and that he robbed a man of $44 in Albuquerque, N. M.

Albuquerque police books show no record of a William O'Neill being arrested during the last few months. The police believe that if any robbery of $44 was committed here that it was never reported to the police.

Veteran Superintendent Of Burlington Road Dies at Age of 88

GALESBURG, Ill., Dec. 29.—John D. Resler, 88, affiliated with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, starting as a section hand and becoming general superintendent died at his apartment here last night. It was Mr. Resler who nearly 20 years ago conceived the idea of planting catalpa trees along the right of way which he believed some day would supply railroad ties for the railroad. Many of these trees have been used to make fence posts for the railroad. Mr. Resler was born in southern Germany April 16, 1832. He came to America in a sailing vessel in 1852.

PART TIME PUBLIC SERVICE

AN ITEM from Santa Fe in yesterday's Herald stated that State Treasurer Charles U. Strong had announced his resignation as cashier of the Mora Trust & Savings bank "to devote his entire time to the state treasurer's office."

This commendable, although belated decision on the part of the state treasurer suggests the thought that Mr. Strong, at this late date in his official career has picked the wrong job from which to resign.

The treasurer's decision, however, simply serves to again direct attention to the fact that the office of state treasurer has been a part time job, both under Mr. Strong and his predecessors in that office, and the office has invariably suffered as a result.

In fact we note in the Gallup Herald of last week that Judge Reed Holloman stated to the editor of that paper: "The next New Mexico legislature will pass a law making it obligatory upon the candidate elected to an office to fill that office personally, and to make it impossible for any one elected to an office to draw the salary of the office unless he does actually perform the duties of that office."

There had been a popular impression that some such law already existed. If it does not exist it certainly should. Judge Holloman's sentiment is to be commended, although his authority just at this time to state what the next New Mexico legislature will do may be open to question.

On the other hand it is likely that Judge Holloman sees the definite public demand for the permanent elimination of part time public service in this state at full time pay, which the next legislature will probably recognize and which no public official in future will dare to disregard.

We rise to commend and also applaud, together with three cheers, the action of the Albuquerque police in placing the official ban upon that enemy of childlike eyes and parental nerves, the cap pistol. If they will now require all alias Santa Clauses to wear asbestos instead of cotton, we will feel fairly safe until next Fourth of July.

A WISE PAVING PROGRAM

THE NUMBER of property owners who want paving is increasing in a way that is reassuring as to the early extension of the city's paved area. Street paving is working out here as it has worked out in every other city where any considerable area has been paved.

The growing demand for paving has been indicated during the past few days by the number of property owners who have asked why their streets were not included in the latest paving program finally approved by the commissioners last week.

The main reason for putting forward the program just approved is that it is advantageous not only to the property owners affected, but to the whole city to tie up the paving with certain improvements which the city must make in the immediate future.

In the south Highlands area the program ordered forms another loop which will "tie up" with the paving already laid. This will extend from Central avenue on South High street to Coal avenue, west on Coal avenue to and across the Coal avenue viaduct, and on to South Fourth street, where it will "tie up" with the paving at Fourth and Silver avenue.

If the commissioners will continue to "tie up" areas proposed for paving with improvements of this kind of general public benefit, it will find the demand for paving next spring and summer even larger than it now promises to be.

A Santa Fe man has been arrested for selling whisky twice. It was not, however, the same whisky.

A CHEERFUL MESSAGE

THE ADDRESS of A. P. Davis, director of the federal reclamation service, at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning, is one that should inspire not only hope but action throughout the central Rio Grande valley.

While careful not to commit himself to any definite program as to engineering policy or federal aid, which the reclamation service is without authority to extend until further legislation has been enacted, Mr. Davis still made it plain to his audience that his study of the local conditions had been thorough and had led him to the conclusion that drainage and irrigation of practically the whole valley could be made possible without encountering any conflict with the real or asserted rights of the lower valley.

At the same time Director Davis made it perfectly plain that the initiative in these vital developments must come from the land

SMATTER, POP?

The Diplomacy Of Common Sense

(New York Tribune.) "Never since the summer of 1918," says the Paris "Tribune" in its comment on the Pacific treaty, "when American soldiers landed on French soil, has the prestige of the United States been so great."

As there is nothing mysterious about the Harding-Hughes principles, as there is nothing reconcilable about the method, its peace making is on the commonest of models, exemplified in every household and every partnership. When there is dispute between two persons and both are averse to fighting what do they do? They try to reconcile differences, compromise when there is a deadlock, tell one another "It won't pay either of us to quarrel."

And when common interests are in good faith searched for the number discovered is astonishingly great. Why should a Japanese wish to fight an American or a Briton to fight a Frenchman? All are reasonably decent fellows. The so-called interests of nations are artificially placed, false perspectives. A penny is made to look like a dollar. In a homely Lincolnian spirit the discussions at Washington have been conducted.

This means a campaign of education in this valley such as has been needed for years and such as has never yet been undertaken. To say that the people of this valley will refuse drainage and reclamation and decline to cooperate in the formation of the necessary districts, when they have been shown the definite, certain cash value rewards that are certain to accrue to them, is an insult to their intelligence.

An amazing lot of misinformation has been spread throughout the valley as to drainage and modern irrigation constructions, some of it through lack of knowledge and some, apparently as deliberate propaganda to delay development. It is possible to demonstrate to every land owner in the valley that drainage and a modern irrigation system will make his land worth more than it is today.

The drainage and irrigation of the central valley presents no insurmountable engineering or water rights obstacles. The legislation pending before the present congress will make it possible to secure federal aid in financing the drainage and irrigation of the valley.

Nothing can be done for us until we take the initiative by providing the foundation in organized drainage districts. It is up to us to move.

A critic wails that "America has no real art." In the same magazine an historian laments that "real art comes only with decadent civilization." Americans should worry.

High Taxes Peril Livestock Industry

(Continued from page one) of the total expenditures for all purposes. "In analyzing the taxes made for 1921, it is found that the total proceeds of the state and county levies amount to $9,445,181 of which $1,735,321 or 18.42 per cent is levied for roads, $4,508,064 or 47.74 per cent is levied for schools and $3,201,796 or 33.84 per cent is levied for other purposes.

Cost of Education. "Let us consider as an illustration the cost of elementary and high school education in New Mexico that this state is doing more than any other state in the union considering its ability as indicated by two outstanding facts. In 1910, New Mexico had 1292 children of the ages of 5 to 14 years for each 1,000 adult males, whereas the western states as a whole averaged only 598 such children per 1,000 adult males.

Conditions have not appreciably changed in New Mexico as "ability to pay" is concerned. But the amount to be paid has increased 300 per cent. For the year ending June 30, 1910, the total expenditures for public schools were $2,942,447. For the present year, our budget for maintenance alone amounts to $4,525,442 to which for comparative purposes should be added estimated expenditures of more than $200,000 for buildings and equipment and for interest and sinking funds. In other words, in 1910 the school costs averaged $2.17 per capita of the whole population and in 1921 it averages over $14.00 per capita of the whole population.

The school expenditures have been used as an example. Similar comparisons of costs and "ability to pay" can be made as to highways and other owners in the valley to be reclaimed. We have known this all along, but it is likely that the information coming straight from headquarters will awaken us to the fact that federal aid cannot be expected to drop on us unsought, like manna from heaven; that we will have to seek it, organize for it and be ready to present a completed project as to plan and cooperation, before we can get any assistance.
