MEDIATION FAILURE; PRESIDENT MOVES TO AVERT A BREAK THAT MEANS STRIKE

Head of Nation Sends Word That He Would Like to Consult With Both Sides Before They Come to Parting of Ways.

NEW ARBITRATION PLAN IS LAID BEFORE UNIONS

Brotherhood Representatives Take It Under Consideration in Secret Session; Their Answer Expected Tomorrow Morning.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) New York, Aug. 12.—Whether a nationally railroad strike will be called or prevented still hangs in the balance today. After the United States board of mediation and conciliation announced that mediation had failed, it made an effort to induce the railroad brotherhoods to arbitrate their differences with the railroad managers.

The brotherhoods after discussing an arbitration proposal made to them by the board under the Newlands act, refused without reaching a decision. They announced that an answer would be given tomorrow morning at another meeting of the "birds and the bees" of the brotherhoods.

A. B. Garretson, head of the conductors' brotherhood, said after discussing the arbitration proposal with the members of the mediator board had not informed the men whether the railroad managers had any specific questions to arbitrate, and that they would prefer that the mediator obtain from the managers a more definite proposition. He indicated that the arbitration proposal was generally regarded as one which would be without effect.

"We arrived at no decision today," said Mr. Garretson. "The men will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with the mediators and unless we find that the mediators are in a position to state definitely what the railroad managers have proposed, we will not further discuss the matter."

Mr. Garretson described as preliminary a statement made by a delegate who left the meeting before it adjourned that the men and conductors' arbitration proposal and voted to take the situation before President Wilson. He said, however, that the sentiment of the men was still opposed to arbitration, a position which they have taken on the ground that previous arbitrations have been unfavorable when applied in actual practice.

The fact, however, that the men delayed their decision in the matter gave rise to hope that they might finally resolve from their attitude. The railroad managers reiterated today their determination to fight for the arbitration principle, which they said, if they gave up, would mean that they were favoring attention to the men's or their employees.

New York, Aug. 12.—No decision was reached today by the representatives of the brotherhoods of railroad employees on the question of accepting a proposal of arbitration. They were given their answer to the United States board of mediation and conciliation tomorrow morning.

The final effort of the United States board of mediation and conciliation to settle the differences between the railroads and their 400,000 employees through mediation failed. The mediator today had proposed to the brotherhoods a new form of arbitration which shortly after 11 o'clock a professed strike and delegates left to consider in executive session. The only hope of a peaceful settlement apparently rested now upon the possibility that the men might be induced to accept a new form of arbitration, although thus far they had steadfastly refused all such proposals. Their chief objection to arbitration was that it would mean to the men a loss of their right to strike.

The members of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, while declining to assume the situation, had made it clear that they were not hopeful that an expansion of the age of the board provided for under the Newlands act may meet the situation. Efforts to obtain from Washington approval of the plan was reported to have been responsible for an apparent suspension of the mediation activities today.

If that suggestion was not accepted, it was said last night, the mediation would have failed in its efforts and the only recourse would be an appeal to President Wilson to issue an order to avert a strike. It was pointed out, however, that the president's powers will be limited to suggestion and not intervention.

WILSON SOUNDS A GRAVE WARNING AGAINST STRIKE

Washington, Aug. 12.—President Wilson sent word today to the mediators attempting to settle the three-and railroad strike that he could not continue with representations of both sides before there is a break. The president was in communication with the federal mediators and asked that he be informed if a strike became imminent. Up to 1 o'clock he had not received word that the situation was hopeless.

The president informed the mediators that a strike must be averted and that if a deadlock were reached he would like an opportunity to talk to the representatives of the railroad managers and employees.

UNORGANIZED EMPLOYEES PETITION FOR PROTECTION Washington, Aug. 12.—A petition signed by 6,000 employees of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, not members of the great brotherhoods, was presented to the president today, asking congress to pass legislation protecting unorganized employees against a lockout which would result from a strike of the brotherhood members.

It was reported this afternoon that there was little prospect of the negotiators forming the mediators upon what terms they are ready to arbitrate, as demanded by the railroad brotherhoods and the belief prevailed that only the office of President Wilson could prevent a strike.

WAR DEPARTMENT ORDERS THOUSANDS OF GUARDSMEN TO JOIN BORDER FORCE

Officials Say Purpose of Movement Is to Relieve Trying Situation of Regiments at State Mobilization Camps.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TROOPS WILL GO SOUTH

All Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont Units Called for and Department Commanders Instructed to Send Men as Soon as Equipped.

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) Washington, Aug. 12.—Twenty-five thousand more state troops were today ordered to the border by the War Department. All Kentucky, Ohio, and Vermont troops were ordered to move and all departmental commanders were instructed to send troops as soon as equipped.

The following announcement was made: "Commanding general, Eastern Department, has been directed to send Kentucky troops to the border as soon as they have been equipped and transportation has been obtained and to see that special attention is given to getting Vermont troops to the border as soon as possible."

Commanding general, Central Department, has been directed to send Ohio troops to the border as soon as they are equipped and transportation can be obtained. "All departmental commanders have been directed to send all other national guard troops to their respective departments to the border as soon as they are equipped and transportation can be obtained."

It was stated at the war department today that under these orders national guard regiments now held at state mobilization points would be sent to the border without waiting until they were reequipped to the mobilized strength.

War department officials said the purpose of the movement was to relieve the trying situation of regiments held at state mobilization camps during the summer months. The men have been several weeks under canvas and a few weeks of training, but they are being sent to the border as soon as they are equipped and transportation can be obtained.

The best available information on the number of guardsmen in the border is the health statistics of last week when over 90,000 state troops all on border service not including several regiments. It is considered certain that more than 100,000 national guardsmen are in the camps along the international line.

Thoroughly equipped troops ready for service are being sent to the border. All details of water and food supplies have been worked out on a basis that the army is confident, under adequate provisions for any number of troops and the addition of 25,000 troops to the border commands are not expected to create any new difficulties.

CONCERN FOR RACERS IN STORM ON PIKE'S PEAK, WIRES GO DEAD

(By Evening Herald Special Wire) Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 12.—Reports from the toll gate on the Pike's Peak automobile highway, where the Pezrose car race is being held, said a severe storm struck the toll gate today. A heavy rain was falling and the top of the peak was blanketed with clouds of mist. ### Chance to Get Summer Home Lots on Pecos

The forest supervisor of the Santa Fe national forest has issued for general distribution a booklet on summer homesites on the Pecos river. It deals with cottage sites that the forestry bureau has reserved by Wagon Canyon, Little Espritito basin and elsewhere in the vicinity of the Saguaro de Christo range, and presents several views depicting the attractive mountain scenery of the region.

The forestry service is seeking to interest the public in these summer home sites, which can be obtained for a merely nominal rental for two years at a time. Families with small children, and people in need of rest and recreation during the hot summers are invited to investigate this "American Travel" which extends over an area equal to one-half of the state of Rhode Island. These sites are accessible from the station at Moriarty. The lots run from one to five acres and average 2 1/2 acres.

The district forester at Albuquerque can furnish information regarding similar places in other national forests. The forest supervisor at Moriarty has charge of the Pecos sites.

MR. HUGHES SHOULD START OVER.

MR. HUGHES should start over and start all over again. In a sense, the strength of the strongest man has been put in an exceedingly weak position. He speaks up yesterday like a man who has just stepped out of the straits of the polar seas. He is a man who has just stepped out of the straits of the polar seas. He is a man who has just stepped out of the straits of the polar seas.

Following the Hughes address in Chicago many newspapers carried the headline: "Mr. Hughes told Chicago what he would do if elected."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Hughes did absolutely nothing of the sort. It may be that the two-thirds of correspondents accompanying him have all been derelict in their duties and have reported only the rosy, glossy attacks and none of the statements of policy which the headlines would lead one to expect. However, it is not the custom of American political reporters to overlook anything that is strong—anything that is new—anything as important as a statement of constructive policy by a presidential candidate.

Therefore, after a careful reading of numerous reports of the Hughes speeches, headed "Mr. Hughes tells what he would do if elected," one is forced to the conclusion that Mr. Hughes did not say it and that all the correspondents have had to report are the repeated statements of unimpaired, unimpaired attack and demagoguery.

Indeed, from all his speeches the only definite statement with which Mr. Hughes has backed up his results under the Wilson administration has been that only change of the great disregard of the civil service regulations.

In the first week of his campaign the variety of the republican candidate for president has been brought to a flat, inevitable issue. Mr. Hughes made the gross error of quoting figures and giving personal applications to alleged facts, based wholly on his information. He applied the term "stock swapper and venal" to a gentleman who happens to be neither, although we may have an inkling of being a stock swapper as a disqualification for holding a government position.

Mr. Hughes said the civil service had been "looted" 104 times. It has not.

out that in the department to which he referred twelve disinterested, earning a wage of less than $3, were employed, as such labor always has been employed, without reference to civil service.

Mr. Hughes said in Chicago that two high government bureau chiefs had been fired out of office. He stated in his statement being quoted that they were elected with later discharge of their past services of the qualifications of their successors.

The head of the department where these men were employed, in a statement in the senate and in a contract of which is in striking contrast to those of Mr. Hughes, states that neither of these men was removed, and that both resigned voluntarily, and that neither had the slightest connection with the department.

Mr. Hughes should go back and start over again. He should have reviewed his information about Mexican events and policies from Senator Fall—some of his given us on Mexican matters up to now has been weak repetition of the fall-out-brooks. He appears to have had his information on other administrative acts of the Wilson government from sources equally unreliable.

Mr. Hughes should obtain new sources of information before proceeding on his way. Thus far his campaign has been a series of premature explosions of the second kind of demagoguery—the variety of political demagoguery long since discarded even by ward campaigns and which even demagogic candidates must have used personally before.

Whatever else the people of the United States may have learned from an excellent history of the United States, they had a right to demand dignity and accuracy. They have had neither, and quite regardless of political faith or affiliation they are disappointed. The people regarded Mr. Hughes as a leader, a man who has shown himself upon the great screen of the national campaign.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as candidate and president, often permits himself a personal opinion with the evidence. But in never did it when the evidence was on his side at the other end of a perfectly good telegraph wire.

George W. Perkins may have delivered the Progressive party to Mr. Hughes, but a lot of its votes were left scattered around loose on the sands of the Pacific coast.

Mr. Gompers hopes the railroad will be brought to see the beneficent influence of the eight-hour day on railroad employees. He thinks that would be easy if it were not for the time-and-a-half for overtime. That well-known industrialist, the public, can see nothing beneficial in overtime right now, however, says a line which threatens to strike him upon his defenses and not just a line.

A railroad strike will put El Paso on short rations in twenty-four hours. It will do the same for every other town in the southwest in a week.

THE PAPER CRISIS.

THE eight leading Philadelphia newspapers have entered an agreement to cut the size of their papers on September 1st to eight pages each week or less than eight pages daily. Reasons from publishers have been advanced and other strategic steps agreed upon to try to meet a price which they think is unreasonably high. Very little power is in the hands of any one man, there will be less such as of

SPY HAS CHANCE TO PUT UP A KICK ON A TAX PENALTY

From the Way They Are Working Law in Mora County, 8 Cents Delinquency May Serve to Create $5 Costs.

Sanita Fe, N. M., Aug. 12.—The workings of the law authorizing the publication of delinquent tax lists, which was passed by the last legislature, has been cited in the opinion of the attorney general's office by A. C. de Luna, Jr., an attorney of Watson Mountain, Mora county, in connection with the tax delinquency list published in the county office in Mora county, which was published in the Watson Mountain paper. It appears that in Mora county it is possible for a man who owes only eight cents in delinquency taxes to be called upon to pay publication costs of $5, which is a penalty against the right of delinquency. The penalty is one cent for each dollar of delinquency, and the penalty to pay for each dollar of delinquency is one cent for each dollar of delinquency.

Mr. de Luna said he had attention to the right of delinquency, but he did not intend to pay the cost of $5. He said that the law is not clear, and he is going to fight it. He said that the law is not clear, and he is going to fight it. He said that the law is not clear, and he is going to fight it.

Francis V. Kostina, chairman of the Republican state committee of California, has been charged with delinquency to Charles Evans Hughes. After a series of Hughes speeches, an Arizona Herald says:

A dispatch from Russell says that while no candidates have announced themselves the Republicans of California are preparing with great enthusiasm to place a ticket in the field. The candidates, when named, can vote for each other and themselves and have a regular whop of a time.

Congressman Hernandez says he does not want to do or anything that will go back to Washington and be a congressman. One can think of no attitude more reasonable, unless Mr. Hernandez should want to go back to the Arizona county and be a village school teacher.

STARS ARE SO FAR AWAY THEIR FLIGHT IN SKY HARDLY NOTED ON EARTH

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 12.—Stars are so far from the earth that although they are in motion, their flight is hardly noted on the earth. The stars are so far from the earth that although they are in motion, their flight is hardly noted on the earth.

Although all stars are in motion with speeds that may be reckoned in kilometers or miles per second, they are so distant from us that the resulting changes in position in the sky are generally very minute, and can only be detected by exceedingly accurate measures. A few exceptional stars are those which change in position—these are called "proper motion" stars. They are so called because they are moving in a direction which is not parallel to the line of sight. The proper motion of the star Alpha Centauri is the largest known proper motion of any star.

GUADALUPE COUNTY TO BE COUNTED AS DEMO STRONGHOLD

Republicans Do Not Concede It, But It Is a Fact Just the Same; New Votes Enough to Beat Them.

Sanita Fe, N. M., Aug. 12.—(Times-Democrat.) Two years ago considered one of the strongest Republican strongholds, Guadalupe county, now is conceded to be firmly in the Democratic column. The Republicans do not concede this. It is not necessary that they should. The facts speak for themselves and the Republicans do not attempt to dispute them.

Very conservative men, merchants who are not active in politics, estimate at more than 500 the number of new votes which will be cast in this county in November. Over 500 of these are Democrats of the party that never change with the weather. The weather is dry, the soil is hard, the crops are poor, and the people are in a state of mind that will vote for the party that has been in power for so long.

Even without the new voters Guadalupe county would go Democratic this year. The Republicans are still left with a dozen square miles of territory where the rights have been organized in local differences and disputes for county offices. Others have been caused in the better contest waged for county offices in the delegation to the national convention at Santa Fe. The friends and interests of Stratton, Hurlburt, Hurlburt and Emory are mixed up in this situation which will climax in the county convention here on the 10th.

Secondly, Romero will have the endorsement of Santa Fe for his Republican nomination. Romero is an active worker here last January he and his relatives, who are bankers and industrialists, have never met.

Frank A. Harbison has called the delegates to Santa Fe, although the county committee are trying to break it. This line-up has caused the most bitter county fight among Republicans that this county has ever known, and it has been some rather strenuous contentions.

Notice to the Public

The Morning Journal and The Evening Herald, respectively find it necessary to raise their subscription rates. This action is made imperative because of the following facts:

The price of print paper purchased in carload lots heretofore has been $1,000 a car at the factory.

Owing to difficulty in securing pulp, the factory price now is $2,500 per car, and the indications are that the price of print paper may go even higher.

Instead of playing even on their circulation, or taking only a small loss, at the recent prices of subscription, the advance in print paper becomes bankrupting. Hence both The Journal and The Herald announce the following subscription rates effective on and after September 1:

- The Albuquerque Morning Journal, by the year, in advance $7.50
- By the month 70c
- The Albuquerque Evening Herald, by the year, in advance $6.00
- By the month 60c

Whenever normal conditions are restored and circumstances will justify it, the prices above quoted will be reduced proportionately.

Pie Way of New York Giants

Way is a product of the academy, where he won his first playing berth in several spirited contests at New York. He entered Yale in 1913 and became a football and basketball star at the Eli campus, being graduated this June. The back already shows the Giants' leader what he can do in the spring of 1915 the Harvard team came down to the Polo grounds for an exhibition game with the Giants on the day before the season opened and Way did the honing for the collection. He succeeded in getting the big teachers to send an exhibit that only errors in his team notes prevented him from sending a volume over there. (Special Service Co.) N. Y. City.

COAST FANS WATCH THE OAKLAND CLUB UNDER DEL HOWARD

He is a Strict Disciplinarian Who Takes the Game Seriously and Players Are Expected to Feel a Bruce.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—(Special) enthusiasts of the Pacific coast are watching with interest the future of the Oakland baseball club under the leadership of its new proprietor-manager, Del Howard, who a few years ago managed the San Francisco team of the Pacific coast league. Not even the most optimistic supporters of the Oakland team are willing to accord it a chance of winning the pennant this season. It is no far behind that it will require something akin to a miracle to advance it even into the first division. Differing from his predecessor, Harold "Howdy" Elliott who was an easy going manager, Howard is reckoned a strict disciplinarian who takes the game seriously. Closer baseball players are aware of the fact and the general opinion seems to be that the Oakland players are likely to take a decided brace. Howard has shown that he plays no favorites and members of the club who show any inclination to slack things are likely to hold their jobs only a short time. The new Oakland boss had given no information what he intended to do and whether his club is also for a slacker or not. He has made no note and it is inferred he is assuming a "watchful" attitude, although he has been up the personnel. Howard seems to have in the past that he will do the best he can for the remainder of this season and that with the close he will start an active campaign for next season (with which to start 1917). Howard is generally known among the managers of western teams and it is believed he will find it difficult in getting good men with which to build up a satisfactory baseball machine. Spokane will be well represented at the Far Western track and field championships in San Diego on August 18 and 19. Among the athletes who are sure of places on the team are Carl Johnson the jumper and hurdler, Henry Williams the sprinter, and Kevin Pearson, the high school star in the short dashes. Members of the boxing team will include Leo Amberg, in the 135-pound class and Ross Holcombe in the 145-pound division. Present indications are that virtually every member of last year's football squad of the Washington state college will be found in their playing tops when the college trophies on September 18. The one possible exception is Langdon, center rush, and member of last season's team, who is the only member of the varsity at the Mexican border with his military organization. Should the guardsmen be retained on the frontier this fall, the absence of Langdon will be a serious one as Coach Dietz has worked the most effective of the Fullback plays about him. The remaining members of the squad are engaged in various occupations throughout the state, including lumbering, harvesting, forest reserve service and other outdoor work which will tend to keep them in good physical condition.

MOST INTERESTING MUSEUM IN LONDON BARRED TO PUBLIC

Contains Cenar's Collection of Most Curious Exhibits Which Represent Attempts to Evade Blockade Since War Began.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) London, Aug. 12.—The most interesting museum in London is not open to the general public. It is the museum of the censor and contains a collection of most curious exhibits which represent attempts that have been made to evade the British naval blockade since the outbreak of the war.

Most of these exhibits come from the United States where thousands of people of German extraction have dispatched all sorts of useful things to friends and relatives in the Fatherland. Many of the exhibits indicate the pains and ingenuity of the senders. In some instances they made a pound of lard look like a copy of the morning paper or a basket of pork rubber like a bundle of tin snips.

A side of bacon weighing forty pounds is made evidence of the attempt made by a St. Louis man to smuggle the hunger of some friends or relatives in what was undoubtedly his former home town. In his anxiety to get the bacon to Germany this man sent it by first class mail and attached stamps to the bacon itself to the value of nearly $5.

There are many other instances in which the stamps on the packages to be sent exceed the value of the contents. Many parcels have duplicate covers. They are addressed to someone in a neutral country, whose business it is to pull off the cover and repeat them to the German or Austrian address revealed below.

An enterprising Buffalo man sent a large number of letters each containing a sheet of pure rubber. Rubber has been a scarce commodity in Germany for more than a year and efforts have repeatedly been made to get through the blockade all sorts of these articles. Once in Germany the rubber would be sent to a central depot where it ultimately would have emerged as rubber tires.

This censor's museum contains huge bundles of newspapers or what appeared at first glance to be newspapers. Closer inspection reveals that the neatly rolled ends are not electrically made plugs of paper and wood. When one of these plugs is pulled out there is discovered a long sausage-shaped bag of cables containing anything from steel wire to Para rubber, from wire to tin.

Two iron crosses are not the least interesting of the exhibits. They are the original articles and were being sent from Germany to a child in the United States. The crosses were made of the crosses, the head of the cross that supplies them to the German government, and in an accompanying letter he suggests that the recipient wear them.

Shoes are the most numerous of the exhibits and most of these came from the United States.

In several cases they are wrapped carefully in a piece of lead so as to keep them from being detected.

All these things, neatly rolled and packed, are merely samples of other contraband cargoes that have found their way into the hands of the British authorities. They are not contraband but will come day after day to proper destinations, only at present the British government has "imported" them.

Press Comments Kick

London, Aug. 12. (By Associated Press)—Complaints of American shippers over the detention of consignments to the Netherlands overseas trade are being supported and pressed by the American government. American claims will be made to be heard by a clause in the British agreement with Great Britain reserves the right to detain any consignment until reasonable doubt of its destination has been satisfied.

BRYAN SAYS HE DID NOT PUT ANY DENTS IN CIVIL SERVICE

Wants to Know Whether Hughes, to Whose Criticism He Replies, Appointed Any 'Deserving Republicans' in New York.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) Kansas City, Aug. 12.—William J. Bryan, former secretary of state, retorted here to criticism of his attitude toward civil service made by Charles E. Hughes, the Republican presidential nominee, in a statement in which he said he had "enforced" the civil service law to the letter. Mr. Bryan challenged the Republican nominee to state whether he had given appointments to "deserving Republicans" while in office in New York. The statement was made in answer to recent speeches of Mr. Hughes which quoted a letter Mr. Bryan had written to Receiver of Customs Vock in Santa Domingo, suggesting as to what positions could be obtained to "deserving Democrats." Mr. Bryan admitted the letter as it had been quoted.

"I am not ashamed of it," the statement read. "The letter was written to an appointive officer whose office was not under the civil service and the inquiry was made in regard to officers which were not then subject to service. There was nothing in the letter to indicate a desire of intention to select men who were incompetent. On the contrary, inquiry is made as to what is requisite."

"The statement after declaring Mr. Hughes 'to have shown himself quite prompt in discharging obligations,' declared:

"As an official I enforced the civil law to the letter and upon my resignation, received from the employees in the state department, more than 50 per cent of whom were under the civil service, a watch which I prize as a precious treasure. But while I observed the civil law wherever it was in force, I let myself free to aid in regarding deserving Democrats wherever a could be done without detriment to the service. My regret is that I was able to reward so few of the multitude who are deserving, measured by their political views, by their capability and by their fitness for the work to be done."

"The deserving Democrat," he said, "is not to be despised. He is as much entitled to recognition as a 'deserving' Republican."

STANISLAU IS ONE OF MAIN STRATEGIC POINTS IN GALICIA

Like Brody, It is a Gateway to Coveted Lemberg; Railways Radiate from It in Five Directions; Tomb of Potockis.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire) Washington, D. C., Aug. 12.—Stanislaw, like Brody, is one of the main strategic points in Galicia, a province in Galicia which is being rapidly advanced toward Lemberg. The National Geographic Society's war correspondent today said as follows: "Railways radiate from Stanislaw in five directions, making it one of the most important strategic cities of southeastern Galicia. This fact has made it an important trading center and manufacturing town, one of the most important industries before the war being the construction of rolling stock for the railroads. "The great trunk line passing through Stanislaw is that which runs from Berlin to Bucharest. Before the war it was possible to leave Berlin at 1:30 one evening and passing through Dresden, Cologne, Posen, Lemberg, Stanislaw and Czernowit, reach the Romanian capital the following evening at 10:45. On this line Stanislaw is 81 miles southeast of Lemberg and 18 miles northwest of Czernowit. Stanislaw lies between Stanislaw and Czernowit 35 miles from the frontier. "An extremely important line to the Russians is the road from the Russo-Galician frontier town of Stanislaw, due east to Stanislaw. This line continues through Stanislaw to a northwesterly direction via Tarnobrzeg, a fortified town of 25,000 inhabitants situated on the 20th river, 42 miles south of Stanislaw. "The fifth spoke in the Stanislaw railroad wheel is a line to the south, passing through Lublin 22 miles distant. This road, leading westward, affords direct communication in many places between Stanislaw and the Danube."

As a matter of fact this wonderful little disk stove is ready to cook in much less than one minute from the instant you turn the switch. And you can cook on it practically anything you wish.

It is, perhaps, the most convenient and useful of the great variety of electrical cooking devices now within the reach of all, not excepting those receiving the more modest incomes.

It represents the genius of the "Light House Keeping Age" now opening to us—banishing as with a fairy wand all the nuisances of smoke, soot, disagreeable odors, and tiresome delays.

You cannot fully appreciate its many virtues until you actually use it. Come in and look on the fine little G-E stoves we carry in stock and learn a lesson in real convenience.
