JUAN REYES PINO KILLED BY POSSE NEAR BELEN TODAY

Escaped Federal Convict Attempts to Shoot His Way Out of Trap; Brother Desiderio Is Still at Large.

Juan Reyes Pino, a Federal prisoner convicted of freight car robbery, who escaped with his brother, Desiderio from the county jail at Santa Fe a week ago, was killed while resisting capture near Belen this morning. The killing of Pino was reported to Assistant United States District Attorney Henry G. Coors, Jr. here by a government agent who headed the posse that went after the fugitive convict.

Pino was cornered in a house near the home of an uncle. He tried to shoot his way out of the trap, and the return fire of the officers dropped him. He died shortly afterwards.

Pino, like his brother Desiderio, was known to be a gun man, and the officers were prepared for trouble. When he emerged from the house, shooting the sons of the posse made swift reply and ended Juan Reyes' lawless career right there.

Desiderio Pino was not seen. Search for him is still on. The posse that finished Juan Reyes Pino was headed by a secret service operative and Deputy United States Marshal Alfredo Delgado.

The Pinos escaped from the Santa Fe jail by overpowering a jailer and taking away his keys. They were under sentence of seven years in Leavenworth prison.

A third brother was killed at Belen several months ago when he resisted arrest by a Santa Fe railroad detective. He was implicated in the car robberies.

Soldier Booze Law Not Violated in Case Of Eugene Callahan

Investigation of the case of Eugene Callahan, the man found drunk on the streets Saturday night in the uniform of a soldier, by the United States district attorney's office brought out the fact that Callahan is not a soldier. He applied for enlistment recently but was rejected. The clothes he wore were old ones obtained during former service.

In announcing the result of the investigation into Callahan's case Assistant United States District Attorney H. G. Coors, Jr., said that the government attorneys in this state would give particular attention to every case of intoxication among soldiers reported, and that swift and full prosecution would follow every known violation of the law.

WAR WITH GERMANY IS ONLY HONORABLE COURSE FOR UNITED STATES TO PURSUE

talk of her foreign office for a year and more, not peace upon her own initiative, but upon the initiative of the nations over which she now deigns herself to hold the advantage. A title of the talk has been published but most of it has been private. Through all sorts of channels it has come to me and in all sorts of guises, but never with the terms disclosed which the German government would be willing to accept. That government has other valuable pawns in its hands besides those I have mentioned. It still holds a valuable part of France, though with slowly relaxing grasp, and practically the whole of Belgium. Its armies press close upon Russia and over run Poland at their will. It cannot go further. It dare not go back. It wishes to close its bargain before it is too late and it has little left to offer for the point of flesh a will demand.

The Military Masters.

"The military masters under whom Germany is bleeding, see their clearly to wind point fate has brought them, if they fall back or are forced back an inch, their power both abroad and at home will fall to pieces like a house of cards.

"It is their power at home they are thinking about now, more than their power abroad. It is that power which is trembling under their very feet; and deep fear has entered their hearts. They have but one chance to perpetuate their military power or even their controlling political influence. If they can secure peace now, with the immense advantages which in their hands which they have up to this point apparently gained, they will have justified themselves before the German people; they will have gained by force what they promised to gain by it; an immense expansion of the German empire, in the name and in the name of German industrial and commercial opportunities. Their prestige will be secure and with their prestige their political power. If they failed, the people themselves will be set up in Germany as it has been in England in the United States, in Russia and in all the great countries of the modern time except Germany. If they succeed, they are safe and Germany and the world are undone; if they fail, Germany is saved and the world will be at peace. If they succeed, America will fall within the manes of the German industrial and commercial opportunities. If they fail, the world will remain, and must make ready for the next step in their aggression; if they fail, the world may unite for peace and Germany may be of the union.

Intrigue for Peace.

"Do you wish to understand the new intrigue, the intrigue for peace and why the masters of Germany do not hesitate to use any agency that promises to effect their purposes, the deceit of the nations? Their present particular aim is to deceive all those who throughout the world stand for the rights of peoples and the self government of nations; for they see what immense strength the forces of justice and of liberalism are gathering out of this war. They are employing liberals in their enterprise. They are using men in Germany and without, a sterner spokesman whom they have hitherto despised and oppressed, using them for their own destruction—socialists, the leaders of labor, the thinkers, they have hitherto sought to silence.

"Let them once succeed and the men, now their tools, will be ground to powder beneath the weight of the great military empire they will have set up; the revolutionists in Russia will be cut off from all success or cooperation in western Europe and a counter revolution fostered and supported; Germany herself will lose her chance of freedom and all her sons will arm for the next, the final struggle.

"The sinister intrigue is being no less actively conducted in this country than in Russia and in every country in Europe to which the agents and dupes of the imperial German government can get access. That government has many spokesmen here, in places high and low. They have learned discretion. They keep within the law. It is opinion they utter now, not sedition. They proclaim the liberal purposes of their masters; declare, in a foreign land which respects American with no danger to either her lands or her institutions, set England at the center of the stage, and talk of her ambition to assert economic dominion throughout the world; appeal to our ancient tradition of isolation in the politics of the nations; and seek to undermine the government with false professions of loyalty to its principles.

Disguised Disloyalties.

"But they will make no headway. The false betray themselves also in every accent. It is only friends and partisans of the German government whom we have already identified who utter these thinly disguised disloyalties. The facts are patent to all the world and nowhere are they more plainly seen than in the United States where we are accustomed to deal with facts and not with sophistries and the great fact that stands out above all the rest is that his is a people's war, a war for freedom and justice and self government against all the nations of the world, a war to make the world safe for the peoples who live upon it and have made it their own, the German people themselves included and that with us rests the choice to break through all these hypocrisies and patent cheats and masks of brute force and help set the world free, or else stand aside and let it be dominated a long age through by sheer weight of arms and the arbitrary choices of self-constituted masters, by the nation which can maintain the biggest armies and the most formidable armaments—a power to which the world has afforded no parallel and in the face of which political freedom must wither and perish.

"For us there is but one choice. We have made it. We are in the man of group of men that seeks to stand in our way in this day of high resolution when every principle we hold dearest is to be vindicated and made secure for the salvation of the nation. We are ready to plead at the bar of history and our flag shall wear a new lustre. Once more we shall make good with our lives and fortunes the great faith to which we were born and a new glory shall shine in the face of our people."

A. D. Thompson, a Santa Fe railroad engineer, has given up the Gallup-Belen passenger run and bid in the local run to Albuquerque.

Suits for Divorce Filed by Two Women

Two suits for divorce were filed in the district court today. Elizabeth Turner alleges that her husband, James Turner, abandoned her in 1907. His last known address, she says, is Oakland, Cal.

Fay F. Schmidt alleges that her husband, Sidney S. Schmidt, has failed to support her. They were married in Rolla, Mo., in 1911. His last known address is 2219 West Twenty-second street, Chicago. She asks for alimony. The couple have one child, a son five years old, who is in the custody of the mother.

NICK HAS SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR; IS ALLOWED TO VOTE

By Associated Press.

Petrograd, June 12. (Via London, June 14.)—After a prolonged debate in the council, now sitting to draw up rules governing elections to the constituent assembly, and considering the eligibility of voters, it was decided to allow Nicholas Romanoff, the former emperor, and members of the former imperial family the privilege of voting. The council also adopted a resolution that all citizens in good standing, except deaf and dumb persons, should be allowed to participate in the elections.

The ladies of the German lodge will meet tomorrow afternoon, Friday at 2:30 in the Woodman hall. This will be a regular meeting.

There will be a special meeting of Knights of Columbus tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's hall. All members urged to attend.

Is the Latest Time to Lend Your Dollars for Liberty

"Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide—" Every American family should buy bonds of the

to the limit of its ability, for this is a war to defend the family. It is a war against an enemy who has fought the helpless—children, women, the aged and the wounded—an enemy who has deliberately torn family ties in order to break down a nation's will.

BUY LIBERTY LOAN BONDS—BUY AS MANY AS YOU CAN

$50 bonds paying 3 1/2 per cent interest may be bought on these terms: $1 on application; $9 June 28; $10 July 30; $15 August 15; $15 August 30. Other denominations may be had also—$100, $500, $1,000 and upwards. Any bank or postoffice will receive your subscription and give information regarding the bonds.

Stosenuck's TRUNKS AND BAGS

For the "Safety First" Traveler

Trunks that will reach their destination safely because of their splendid construction. Suit Cases and Bags of real leather and imitation in black and tan. Also Matting Cases and Hand Bags in all sizes. A comparison will convince you that our prices are the lowest.

The Trunk for Goers-away!

That the Wardrobe Trunks are well-nigh baggage-smasher-proof was demonstrated very clearly by a test recently made by the manufacturers. An ordinary stock trunk of the same construction as these we are offering was dropped from the top of a four-story building to the sidewalk below, and aside from a few external scratches it was unharmed. A trunk which successfully withstands the terrific impact of a four-story drop is certain to prove a riddle for the baggage man.

We are showing these trunks and many others on the First Floor today. All sizes and at all prices.

Corsets for "Hard-to-fit" Women

Some women are hard to fit in corsets; some just think they are.

There are certain types of figures, however, full bust and small hips, small bust and large hips, short stout figures—that require special designing in corsets.

In "La Camille" Front-laced Corsets there are several sizes and models for just such figures. We can give any woman, of whatever size and shape, the kind of style and fit she should have.

Our No. 1-100 Silk Hosiery

at $1.50 a pair

Yes, Madam; these are splendid hose. Discriminating in quality is not the only virtue that is extended to the buying of these hose. You will appreciate the care in measuring, the counting of threads, the testing of silk, the accuracy in sizing, when you wear them. Black, white and all the popular shades.

Our Anya Sale of White

It is the season of things white and chaste. It is time for dainty, esthetic undermuslins. Trousseau are growing, hope-chests bid for the charming feminine fineries—nighties and things, little chemise and envelopes. Here is the Land of White! Snowy, crisp muslins are laid alluringly before your eye. A sea of whiteness everywhere—silken and draped. It's a sight to delight the real woman—to win her ecstasies. Everywhere through the white store you'll hear little cries of joy. Enthusiasm will run riot. A feast for the senses—running all through this week.

NEWSPAPERS OF U.S. ARE FAILING TO OBEY PRESS CENSORSHIP

Military Information Which May Put American Soldiers and Sailors in Deadly Peril Is Being Divulged, Committee Says.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 14.—Military information which "only put American soldiers and sailors in deadly peril" is being divulged by one per cent of the American newspapers which are not regarding the volunteer censorship being respected by the other 99 per cent, the committee on public information announced today in a new appeal to all to suppress publication of matter of that nature.

The committee's appeal said: "Not only is an announcement made of the passage of troops but the names and equipment are given in detail, also exact information as to the destination and date of arrival, together with speculation as to probable sailing."

SUCCESSFUL YEAR AT INDIAN SCHOOL BROUGHT TO CLOSE

World Would Have Fewer Misfit Professional Men and Writers If More Children Had Young Redskins' Training, Says Milne.

The graduation exercises last night marked the close of one of the most successful years in the history of the Albuquerque Indian school. A class of twenty-eight received certificates of graduation from the vocational division of the school. Three received diplomas of graduation from the vocational division. When will submit them to the junior year of the high school. Mr. E. J. Schuler offered the invocation. This was followed by an address by the band after which came the address by Superintendent John Milne of the city schools. The diplomas were presented by Superintendent Schuler. He also gave a brief outline of the scope of the work required by the new course of study. Superintendent Milne said in part: Stimulus and Guidance. "An address upon an occasion of this kind, I realize should contain something of hope, something of inspiration and something of direction to the young people addressed. "To us, who are familiar with the lives of the boys and girls, while they have been trained, it will be evident that they have received that which will inspire hope, give inspiration, and that they have been so well directed by the opportunities lying before them, that any effort on the part of the speaker will seem idle in comparison. However, my only hope is that among the words I shall utter there may be some contrast to those

Mr. Perry and others have uttered in the days gone by. "This school has offered splendid opportunities to each boy and girl to know the work best fitted for the individual. With practical work in agriculture, stock raising and the allied industries—in blacksmithing, tailoring, harness-making, carpentry and other trades for boys—dressmaking, laundering, and other arts for girls, there is surely less reason for drifting than where pupils are trained in schools less fortunate in the matter of equipment and management. Here is taught that all labor is dignified—that to farm well as well as to be necessary as to practice medicine, or to teach school, that it is just as honorable and dignified to be able to excel in cooking and home-making as to be able to write a good book or to be a good artist. Scholarship Not Neglected. "With all these opportunities along industrial lines, I would not have you think that academic work is neglected. For the past five years the Albuquerque high school has been fortunate in having among its pupils girls from this school. Four have been graduated and four more will be graduated next year. Two of the graduates are now teachers in the public schools of New Mexico. The records of all these, both as to scholarship and conduct have always been above criticism. This is said not in flattery and as a compliment of which our institution may well be proud. "Our athletic teams have met similar teams from this institution many times. We have shared defeat and victory with them. A contest with the Indian boys is always a hard fight, and always a fair one. When I tell you that my period of observation and acquaintance covers a period of ten years, and that for eight of these I have been intimately associated with the students and those in charge, you will agree I think there has been sufficient time to judge with a considerable degree of accuracy the policy pursued by the institution. World Expects Service. "As a consequence of the privileges enjoyed by this institution, I would remind these young people that the world expects more in the way of service than if they had been less thoroughly trained. The world has sympathy for the ignorant blunderer, but contempt for the mistakes of those who have had the opportunity to know better. "Should every boy and every girl of our land be blessed with the opportunities that you have enjoyed, there would be fewer professional men trying to shake out a scanty living as men not even conscious of the fact that as blacksmiths, or other mechanics, they might have excelled. There would be fewer women writing mediocre novels, unaware that as milliners or as managers of homes or in other vocations, they might stand at the head of their class. "Think around you and note the people who have succeeded, and merely in money-making but in building up a reputation as an honest business man and one who does things. You will learn from them that you must not be afraid of putting forth effort for fear of mistakes you may make. I do not mean to advocate that you should plunge headlong into adventures without a thought of the consequences, but remember it is better to try and fail in the effort than never to try. I have seen many who have tried to walk only to tumble, but after countless attempts he at last is able to walk unassisted. Robert Bruce, the Scottish king, learned to overcome failure by watching repeated attempts and failures of a spider finally crowned with success. That you will succeed in all your endeavors at first attempts is more than we or you can reasonably expect. Your real work in this life will be recorded, not in the failures you make in spite of honest effort, but in the final success you attain. Be cheerful and optimistic. Both characteristics will make you more capable masters of your destiny. There is much to be accomplished in the world and you will find that wholeheartedness and optimism are excellent qualities for one to have in attacking these problems. Less Fortunate Children. "By way of contrast and to suggest how well worthy of your commendation and effort I would like to point out to you the condition of children less fortunate than yourselves. During the day just passed and the night that is upon us, there are within the confines of the United States two millions of children between the ages of 10 and 15 years engaged in manual occupations, to the neglect of their education and physical development. Contrast the life of such a child with that which you may reasonably be expected to enjoy and you will agree with me I think that you have advantage that is unfair from the other fellow's point of view. Since the declaration of war several states have made it possible for corporations and others anxious to profit by child labor to do so, and if there ever was a danger signal indicating disaster to a country it is when mounted interests will crush the childhood of a nation. Max none of you ever be a party to such a crime. "Contributing for a moment what education does in dollars and cents for the individual, I wish to bring your attention to the findings of our national bureau of education. A high school graduate earns on the average one thousand dollars per year. His average working period is forty years, that is, to 65, making his total income for life forty thousand dollars, or a yearly average of one thousand dollars per year. Women from the age of 14 to 18, or forty-four years in all, making their income for life twenty-two thousand dollars. The difference in the earning power of these two methods to four years schooling which is in reality 125 cents a day, is between thousand dollars or twenty-five dollars per school year. With this fact in mind it seems almost impossible that a parent could withdraw a child from our schools unless extreme necessity compelled it. Crime of Child Labor. "For the crime of child labor, the whole country must pay the penalty. It means that within the next decade there will be two million citizens in low pay. For needless withdrawals you should the penalty in the loss of approximately twenty-five dollars a day to the individual. You who are to receive diplomas this evening may have your influence to see that where you have the opportunities you have enjoyed. "You have heard that never before was there such need of intelligent men and women as we have today. You may question the statement when you read of the millions of men slaughtered upon European battle fields and continents that millions more may be sacrificed before the freedom of the world is assured, but we are unanimous in the belief that the brains of this country will probably be the greatest factor in winning the struggle. The Roman orator, Cicero, once declared that the world, through your efforts, better than you found it. "To summarize I commend to you young people, for your guidance the ten commandments that you may be true to your God—the world, 'My country when she is right,' but whether right or wrong, 'My country.' That you may be true to this glorious land of ours. The golden rule that you may be true to your neighbors, and then—'This above all to thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night the day. Thou canst not be false to any man.' For if one is true to his God, true to his country, true to his neighbor, and true to himself, his life must surely be that which God intended it to be. "It is easier for a married man to say that he is free from worry than it is for him to prove it to the satisfaction of other married men. "If sealskin socks could be plucked from trees the average husband would have to squander his coin on other things to match. "There are two periods in a man's life he doesn't understand a woman's one is before marriage and the other after. Classified Ads Bring Results.

prudent boast which any man could make was that of being a Roman citizen. The greatest privilege we have today is to claim citizenship in the United States of America. These boys will find that it is impossible for many of them to grace the president's chair, but each will find a place where he can serve his country. "Never was there a government conceived by the human mind that merited to such an extent the undivided support of its people as this of ours. In giving this undivided support to our government and in fact in doing our full duty under other circumstances there will be times when acts of self-sacrifice may be done, when there will be no thought of operators to applaud our efforts. Your inner consciousness of work well done will be the only pay that you will receive. Fighting For Principles. "Each generation has witnessed blood spilled upon battle fields, in order that great principles might be upheld. We have all enjoyed the blessings made possible by the shedding of human blood upon the battle fields of yesterday, and one needs but little imagination to see upon the pages of future history a splendid tribute to these young people, who if need be, will play their part in the retention of democratic principles, and the freedom of the seas. "In moments of meditation you have no doubt wished for riches or fame, perhaps both. You may have thought that until you possessed one or the other that you cannot enjoy to the fullest degree the life you live. With such a thought you are like the child who sought pots of gold at the end of the rainbow. The nearer he approached the spot where it seemed to be the farther appeared the object of his search. Your opportunity is with you today. Ever remember that your journey in this world is a one way journey. There will be no opportunity at any station to return for a second chance. It therefore behooves you to take and value things as you find them, believing that each day is the best day which opportunity has ever afforded, each friend the best friend that it is possible to have at that particular time. The future may and no doubt will bring happiness, but whether to a greater degree than that which you enjoy today is uncertain. Do not let your life be a life of lost opportunities. Be keen to see what the present offers and take it or reject it according to its merits. Whether you do this or not, your opportunity will pass, and you will be unable to return for what makes a person has longed—a second chance to make good. "I caution you to be generous in your judgment of the other fellow. No doubt his own point is as nearly correct as yours, and you must not think that because you differ in opinion that he is in error as to his own attainment as yours. Think not that because he opposes you that he is less sincere in his purpose. Confidence in Self. "Do not berate yourself. You must have confidence in your own ability if you would convince others. Optimism and enthusiasm are contagious diseases. Expose yourself to them and once they are yours they stay there to the extent that you are sincerely irremediable. Believe that the world is a good place in which to live and it becomes so. Believe that the world is getting better all the time, and it does. Dedicate yourself to the everlasting task of making the world better for those who follow. Remember that if your life is to be equated anything you must leave

MAY WAS COLDEST MONTH ON RECORD DURING 25 YEARS

Averaged Far Below the Normal in Temperature and Slightly Above in Precipitation; Snow-fall Biggest in History.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 14.—The weather report for the month of May, just issued by the United States weather bureau here, states that the month averaged far below the normal in temperature and slightly above in precipitation, considering the state as a whole. It was the coldest May of record during the period of 25 years that systematic records have been made within the state, and no previous May during this period has approached the month in the amount of snow that occurred. The fall averaged 5.8 inches, thus giving an average fall for the season of 21.2 inches, or 6.1 inches in excess of the normal. Snow in measurable amounts fell over practically one-half of the state, while a depth of 19 inches or more overpread large portions of Colfax, Mora, San Miguel, Taos, Rio Arriba and Sandoval counties. The crest of the range in eastern Taos county received the enormous depth of 78 inches. The season was so far advanced, however, that the snow remained but a day or two over all of the lower levels.

The precipitation was large for the month of May, from Lincoln and northern Chaves counties north and east to the Colorado and Texas borders, also in Rio Arriba and Sandoval counties. Amounts in excess of the normal, however, occurred over a still larger area, embracing, in fact, practically the entire state and affording an average excess of 0.29 in. The dryness of the previous 4 months caused the excess to be quickly absorbed and in southern counties the month was unfavorable for range and farming operations.

Cold weather was general. A de-ciency of temperature occurred in all parts of the state. It was greatest, however, over portions of Colfax, Mora and San Miguel counties, where it exceeded 9 degrees. Damaging frosts were frequent; that of the 6-7th overpread practically the entire state while less damaging frosts continued at intervals over the northern counties and the higher districts till the morning of the 27th. Frost damage to fruits, early vegetables, alfalfa, corn and beans was considerable.

Pressure.
The mean sea-level atmospheric pressure at Santa Fe was 29.79 inches; highest, 30.15 on the 15th; lowest, 29.42 on the 20th. At Roswell the mean was 29.82 inches; highest, 30.29 on the 14th; lowest, 29.41 on the 29th. At El Paso the mean was 29.78 inches; highest, 30.09 on the 14th; lowest, 29.52 on the 5th, while at Amarillo the mean was 29.57; highest, 30.41 on the 14th; lowest, 29.58 on the 21st.

Temperature.
The monthly mean for the state, as determined from the records of 191 stations having a mean altitude of about 5,000 ft. was 51.90 or 5.7 degrees below the normal as from 45 stations having records for ten years or more. The month averaged 7.4 colder than May, 1916. The highest monthly mean temperature was 57.0 degrees at Carlsbad and the highest recorded temperature 97 degrees at Artesia on the 16th. The lowest monthly mean was 38.2 degrees at Harvey's ranch, and the lowest recorded temperature 9 degrees at Elizabethtown on the 7th and at the Red River Canyon station on the 6th and 7th. The 7th was generally the coldest day of the month, and the 16 the warmest. The greatest local daily range of temperature was 61 degrees at the Tijeras Canyon station on the 1st.

Humidity.
The mean humidity at Santa Fe at 5 a. m. was 61 per cent; at 6 p. m., 52 per cent, and for the month 48 per cent. At Roswell the mean at 5 a. m. was 24 per cent, and for the month, 35 per cent. At the Agricultural College the 5 a. m. readings averaged 32 per cent, the 5 p. m. readings 19 per cent, and for the month, 25 per cent, while a series of readings at Fort Bayard averaged 22 per cent for the month.

Precipitation.
The average precipitation for the state, as determined from the records of 119 stations was 1.46 inches, or 0.29 inch above the normal as shown by the departures of 58 stations having records for ten years or more. The month averaged 0.97 inch greater than May, 1916. The greatest monthly amount was 5.38 inches at the Anchor mine station in eastern Taos county, and no precipitation occurred at Aragon, western Socorro county and at Newman, southern Otero county, while but a mere trace was noted at Crown Point, central McKinley county. The greatest amount within any 24 consecutive hours was 2.25 inches at Abbott, northeast Mora county, on the 5th-6th. The snowfall averaged 5.5 inches, and there was an average of 5 days with 0.01 inch or more precipitation.

Wind.
The total wind movement at Santa Fe was 7,452 miles, or 10.0 miles per hour; highest velocity, 40 miles from the northwest on the 26th. Roswell recorded a total movement of 7,384 miles, or 10.6 miles per hour; highest velocity, 46 miles from the southwest on the 29th. The Agricultural College registered 8,234 miles, or 11.2 miles per hour; highest velocity 34 miles from the west on the 29th. El Paso recorded a total movement of 11,942 miles, or 16.1 miles per hour; highest velocity, 50 miles from the southwest on the 29th. The prevailing direction for the state was from the southwest.

Sunshine and Cloudiness.
For the state, as a whole, there was an average of 15 clear days, 6 partly cloudy and 8 cloudy. Santa Fe recorded 60 per cent of the possible sunshine, or 239 hours and there were 21 days with 50 per cent or more of the possible amount. Roswell recorded 50 per cent of the possible sunshine and had 27 days with 50 per cent or more of the possible amount.

Idaho Bill Will Participate in the Cowboys' Reunion

Special Dispatch to The Herald.
Hastings, Neb., June 14.—Colonel Idaho Bill, famous western scout and former lion companion of the late Colonel W. P. Cody (Buffalo Bill) will leave here next week with five carloads of wild and vicious, untamable outlaw horses for the Las Vegas cowboys' reunion. These western bucking broncos will be used at the cowboys' reunion for the cowboys to demonstrate to the thousands of visitors there during the reunion July 3, 4, 5 and 6, their ability to master equine demons. The reunion, that is an annual affair at Las Vegas, is considered the most sensational performance staged in the state of New Mexico at which the cowboys and the outfit men, for which New Mexico is noted, take part.

First Issue of Prison Paper to Come Out Friday

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
Santa Fe, N. M., June 14.—"Forward," the monthly paper to be printed and published by the prisoners at the New Mexico state penitentiary, will make its first appearance Friday, according to a statement made by superintendent Tom Hennes. The periodical will consist of four or five 12 pages to start with, and will be entirely the product of the labor of convicts, a complete printing plant having been installed for the purpose. The appearance of the publication will be awaited with considerable interest, as this is the first time such a thing has been tried in the New Mexico penitentiary.

Las Vegas Normal Enrollment Is Up To the 700 Mark

Special Correspondence to The Herald.
Las Vegas, N. M., June 14.—The enrollment at the summer Normal reached 700 yesterday, as against 751 for the total summer school last summer. Students continue to enroll, two, three or a dozen every day. President Frank H. H. Roberts expects the enrollment to reach and pass 800 before the summer session is over. With the second week of summer school almost gone, the classes are getting settled, and are doing creditable work.

Miss Michael V. Smith, who was appointed superintendent of schools for the new county of De Baca, is a graduate of the Normal university. Miss Smith graduated in 1913 taking a degree of bachelor of pedagogy. In 1914 she received the degree of master of pedagogy. She has attended several sessions of the Normal.

The women of the city are showing much interest in the electric demonstration which is being held at the Gas and Electric company office this week. The large reception hall in the Electric building was filled to capacity today and all the visitors accorded them. They paid close attention to the instructive little talks on electricity given by the experts in charge.

University Heights is fast coming to the front.
