FIRST PHOTOS OF PUEBLO DISASTER

When the water receded on Main and Union streets at Pueblo, Colo., the extent of the damage could be determined as to business property. Water completely covered the auto in the foreground in the picture to the right at Second and Main streets. Here can be seen the wreck of Fryor's furniture store. Dispatches in Sunday's Herald told how Frank Fryor, the proprietor, saved himself by climbing to the roof and remaining on the wall that did not collapse. The picture at the left is looking south on Union avenue towards the union station which is the building in the distance with the tower.

Flood refugees of Pueblo, Colo., as they gathered in front of a building to answer to roll call. Confusion reigned to such an extent that families fled one from the other and then sent out messages to relatives, telling of death, only to meet each other hours later and explain where each had found refuge.

This massive Colorado and Southern railroad bridge, just outside Pueblo, Colo., was swept away by the second flood, which hit the city when Beaver Dam broke on Sunday, June 5. The concrete approaches were washed away like so much tissue paper. An auto can be seen on the railroad tracks.

CENSUS OF DEATHS AND PROPERTY LOSS IN COLORADO FLOOD

DENVER, June 10.—A census of deaths and property damage in the flooded area of Colorado, instituted by the Associated Press, has established the fact that it probably will be several days at least before anything like an accurate estimate of the lives lost or of the damage done can be made. The census, made by telegrams sent to mayors of towns in the flooded area, is only partially completed.

In northern Colorado it is established that four persons were drowned at Sterling, one man died of exposure at Union, when a Burlington train was wrecked last Tuesday night, one man was drowned and another reported missing in Denver. In the Pueblo area, embracing the territory from the city at Pueblo along both sides of the Arkansas river to the Kansas line, the reports thus far received are as follows:

In Pueblo 47 bodies reported recovered in the city itself and ten others recovered on the St. Charles cross. A list compiled by the Red Cross fixes the list of missing at 120. Property damages estimated at from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. Unofficial estimates of the dog place the figure around 500.

MAN HELD AFTER WIFE'S BODY IS FOUND IN FIELD

ABSENCE FROM HOME Causes Search by Neighbors

AMHERSTEN, R. D., June 10.—Dan Wampler, 31, farmer, was taken into custody following discovery of his wife's body, Mrs. Mary Wampler, 37, buried in a corn field near the Wampler home at Hecla, S. D.

For the past several weeks, neighbors of the Wampplers had noticed Mrs. Wampler's absence from her home and early this morning a searching party located the body buried about ten rods from the home. Wampler declared that when he returned to his home three weeks ago his wife was gone. He said he had an idea of what became of her.

Yesterday was the first time Mrs. Wampler's disappearance was reported to officials. Wampler was brought here for questioning, but denied knowledge of his wife's whereabouts.

State's Attorney Williamson, who was among the searchers who located the body at 3 a. m. today, said the body had been crudely buried without a casket.

FRANCE PLANS TO STOP BUILDING OF ALL BATTLESHIPS

PARIS, June 10.—In presenting France's program of naval construction for the next three years, Deputy Paul Doumer, reporter for the navy commission, advocated in the chamber of deputies yesterday the virtual abandonment of the building of battleships and the concentration of funds on construction of submarines, torpedo boats, destroyers and airplane carrying ships.

The program provides for the construction of six light cruisers, twelve destroyers and thirty-six submarines at an approximate cost of 1,415,000,000 francs.

LABOR ASKS ADMIRAL SIMS' RECALL; AMERICAN CLUB IN LONDON UPHOLDS OFFICER

DENVER, June 10.—The recall of Admiral Sims from England and his dishonorable discharge from the United States navy by President Harding, if his remarks in London on the Irish question are found to be correctly quoted, was demanded in a resolution presented today in the annual convention of the National Trades Union of the American Federation of Labor.

The resolution, presented by Timothy Healy, head of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, urges that the full force of the American Federation of Labor be asked to cooperate and assist in the retraction of the "slur cast upon the American people; upon their honor and their intelligence by Admiral Sims."

Secretary of the Navy Denby was commended for his "straightforward and emphatic Americanism" in demanding an explanation from Admiral Sims, "if he finds that the admiral has been correctly quoted that he is immediately recalled for his un-American slur and attack upon the intelligence and patriotism of the American people."

The resolution probably will be acted upon tomorrow. The convention today authorized the convening of a nation wide conference of international officials of the metal trades union in Washington within the next sixty days to consider plans for a new unionization drive upon American industry. Plans will also be discussed for the amalgamation of all metal trades unions into a cooperative body to combat anti-union interests.

RAMSEY HAS ENCOURAGING MESSAGE FOR CATTLEMEN

Gov. Harding Keenly Interested in Extension of Credits, He Tells Livestock Growers Who Hold Conference Here.

Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, is keenly interested in the early working out of a broad plan for the financing of long term credits by which to aid in re-establishing the livestock industry of the west, and it is to further investigate the bases upon which this plan may be carried out that the head of the reserve bank system is now visiting livestock centers throughout the west.

This was the message which W. F. Ramsey, chairman of the board of the eleventh district federal reserve bank, at Dallas, brought to an all-day meeting of New Mexico livestock growers, bankers and business men, which is under way in Albuquerque today.

With his assurance of the active interest and energetic effort of the federal reserve bank chief toward a solution of the livestock growers' financial problem, Judge Ramsey gave renewal of his own assurance heretofore given to bankers and livestock interests of the eleventh district to do everything within the power of the district banking officials to bring speedy and permanent relief to the situation, which the entire federal reserve organization recognizes as critical and in need of prompt and sweeping correction.

Managers of the active interest and energetic effort of the federal reserve bank chief toward a solution of the livestock growers' financial problem, Judge Ramsey gave renewal of his own assurance heretofore given to bankers and livestock interests of the eleventh district to do everything within the power of the district banking officials to bring speedy and permanent relief to the situation, which the entire federal reserve organization recognizes as critical and in need of prompt and sweeping correction.

With the chairman of the Dallas reserve bank came Martin Ramsey, a member of the board of directors of the eleventh district, and who acted as chairman of the special committee in charge of livestock loans during the period of aid to stockmen under the war finance board. Mr. Ramsey personally supervised the making of loans which totaled more than $1,500,000, to stockmen in the eleventh district. Of these approximately $1,000,000 has been repaid and Judge Ramsey said today that of the remainder the board expected the prompt payment of fully 15 per cent.

The morning was devoted to a series of personal conferences between bankers, stockmen and the visiting reserve officer, (Continued on page two.)

Sims Thinks Parts Of His Speech May Have Been Garbled

LONDON, June 10.—The reply of Rear Admiral Sims to the request of Secretary of the Navy Denby for an explanation of his speech here Tuesday, expressed the opinion of Admiral Sims that some parts of the speech, to which objection has been taken, had been garbled. This was learned unofficially but on good authority here today.

In his answer, which is not long, Admiral Sims declares he said nothing in his address which he has not said before in speeches in the United States and in his book.

Two persons were injured when an automobile ran into a buggy on the North Fourth street road about 5 o'clock last night.

The seventh reserve district, Judge Ramsey said, "is the great breeding ground of the nation. We have been in a position to know the serious conditions of the livestock industry, and I think the bankers present will agree that everything possible is to be done to relieve it.

Warns Against Speculation. "It is unfortunately, the tendency of some livestock growers to borrow too freely when credit is easy, and to complain bitterly when financial conditions are tight. There is a middle ground of conservatism based on hard work and close attention to de-

BUILDERS ADOPT OPEN SHOP PLAN IN SAN FRANCISCO

Unions Agree Too Late To Reduction in Wages

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The builders' exchange of San Francisco will resume work next Monday on the "open shop" plan as previously announced, despite the vote of the building trades council to accept a reduction of 2 1/2 per cent in wages, according to a statement today to W. H. George, vice president of the exchange and chairman of the strike committee.

The council had refused to do last night to accept the wage reduction of 2 1/2 per cent that had been made by a board of arbitration, claiming that the board had exceeded its authority.

In speaking of the council's vote, George said: "It is the late resolution adopted by the builders' exchange June 2 will be carried out in its entirety June 12."

Two thousand union men have registered for employment with the exchange for resumption of work under the "open shop" plan, according to Chas. W. Geopfert, president of the exchange.

DISABLED VETERANS TO HOLD CONVENTION JUNE 27 IN DETROIT

Organization of "Come-backs" Driving for 100,000 Members

CINCINNATI, June 11.—Mutual association with a view to impressing upon one another their ability to "come back" is the outstanding purpose of the Disabled Veterans of the World War National Association.

As a member of the Hospitalization committee of the American Legion, and president of the Disabled Veterans, Marx has urged centralization for months in speeches throughout the country and in conference with many government officials, beginning with President Harding.

ONE—Extension of vocational training to all disabled men, regardless of ratings.
TWO—Vocational training for widows and orphans of men who died in service.

THREE—Reinstatement of all disabled men who dropped insurance because they were unable to pay premiums while disability claims were pending.

FOUR—Carrying, without payment of premiums, of all disabled men, while they are receiving vocational training.
FIVE—Centralization of War Risk Bureau.

Marx's Program.
"The Disabled American Veterans," Marx explains, "believe that there are enough men of ability and courage among the half million disabled men of America to determine for themselves what they want, and when they do they will get it."

A few boards, a wheelbarrow, a coarse sieve, and a ladder were practically all the tools required except the tamper. These were shaped like a cone-based pyramid with the top cut off into which a broom handle was fitted; they were about nine inches each way if the base and were of fairly hard wood.

Here is system.
The turf was first removed from the surrounding field and the earth underneath was passed through a coarse sieve that took out everything larger than a walnut, all sticks, and pieces of roots were removed. It was a heavy loam, and it has been found by further experiment that the only such to avoid are those of practically pure clay and practically pure sand.

Made Walls Thick.
A strip of tar-roofing was laid on for a damp-course and then the form or the rammed earth wall was placed on this. The form was 10 feet long, three feet high and open, of course, at top and bottom. Its width of two feet may strike one as unusual, but only those who have lived in a thick-walled house can appreciate the coolness in summer and the small fuel cost of heating in winter.

Worker's Chronicle Looking for Editor

The regular weekly publication of the Worker's Chronicle failed to make its appearance today. The last issue of the Chronicle came off the press last Friday, and members of the board of the Central Labor union which has been publishing the paper, announced that the next issue would not be off the press before next week at the earliest.

The suspension of the paper is only temporary, as stated in last night's Evening Herald. The statement yesterday by William Hall, chairman of the board of control of the Chronicle that the paper is to continue publication, corroborates that in The Herald last night that efforts were being made to have the paper resume publication as soon as possible. Today however, the paper was still without an editor.

one can do for them by proxy. Their purpose is to co-operate with the government agencies, and with the Red Cross, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, to build up the morale of disabled men so they can "come back" and take their places in the nation as self-supporting and independent citizens.

"Show them that you are behind them, that you believe in their ability, help them over the rough places by lifting their spirits," Marx says, "and you have convinced them that they can come back."

The association is doing this by soliciting the aid of local community organizations wherever posts are established, providing employment opportunities and arranging recreation facilities such as club rooms and camps.

Marx lay for weeks in a hospital after the armistice, recovering from eight shrapnel wounds which punctured his body with deep scars, while he was officially reported dead.

Cheap, Durable Houses Possible Through Discovery of Pise

(Will give revolutionary construction method? What is "pise," you ask? The following article by Walter J. Millard, authority on pise, tells all about it and its possibilities.—The Editor.)

By WALTER J. MILLARD.
The world-wide shortage of houses has resulted, in Europe, in the re-discovery of a cheap and abundant building material that is almost miraculous in the number of problems it solves.

This is nothing more or less than rammed earth, or as the French call it, "pise," pronounced "peesay."
Just ordinary plain soil, such as is found in any vacant lot, is rammed between boards a few inches at a time until it rings like a piece of metal. The boards are moved up as the work proceeds, just as in concrete construction.

The result is a monolithic wall that in a few days becomes so strong that it will carry a load of more than 100 pounds a square inch.
The amazing thing is that the weather does not affect it. The rain does not soften it nor frost break it down.
Is Not Adobe.
An experimental wall built in England four years ago has withstood all the changes of weather without the least sign of deterioration, though it has been given no protection except that a row of tiles has been placed on top of it.
Fire work must not be confused

CROP OUTLOOK FOR NEW MEXICO

Wheat Forecast Is for 5,893,000 Bushels; Ranges Improved

Special to the Herald
LAS CRUCES, N. M., June 10.—The bureau of crop estimates, department of Agriculture, has issued the following forecast of crop conditions in the state on June 1:

WINTER WHEAT—A condition of 75 per cent for the winter wheat of the state means a decline of 12 points below the condition reported May 1. This sharp decline is due to the severe drought which prevailed prior to the later part of May, which resulted in marked desiccation, and the further abandonment in some sections. However, abundant rains have insured a good crop, and state conditions forecast 1,450,000 bushels.

SPRING WHEAT—A condition of 85 per cent for the spring wheat of the state is 9 points below a ten year average. This is in part due to a cold and unfavorable spring. In many places the stand is poor, and the heads shorter than usual. The acreage has increased in the dry farm counties, but for the whole state it will be about the same as last year (105,000 acres). The state condition now forecasts a production of 2,943,000 bushels.

OATS—Preliminary reports indicate that about 65,000 acres of oats were planted this year. A condition of 30 per cent for the state, forecasts a production of 3,142,000 bushels.

ALFALFA—Continued cold weather through the month of May has caused a very slow growth of hay. The first cutting of alfalfa will not be over 80 per cent of a normal crop in the state. However, the crop has grown rapidly during the past ten days, and a good yield is in prospect for the next cutting. The acreage for the state, has increased 164 per cent over last year. The largest increase being in Dona Ana county, where alfalfa has replaced cotton. Present conditions forecasts a production of 450,000 tons.

RANGES AND LIVESTOCK—The ranges have been in good condition generally over the state, with the exception of the entire southern tier of counties. In Grant, Hidalgo, Dona Ana and Chero counties there has been considerable loss from starvation. However, recent rains are causing the grass to grow, and the condition of the cattle to improve. The calf crop is 70 per cent of the cows, and the lamb crop at 75 per cent of the ewes, which is above an average condition for New Mexico ranges.

Salesman Back From Mexico Says Oregon Is Loyal

W. A. Hartman, representative of the Hamer Candy company of St. Paul, arrived in Albuquerque last night after an extensive business trip to Mexico. This is his first time in Albuquerque, and he stated that he was impressed by the contrast after coming out of Mexico.

Mr. Hartman had the honor of making the opening address at the bull fight in June two weeks ago. It was his first bull fight, but he enthralled the audience with a 25 minute address.

The extreme loyalty of President Obregon for his country greatly impressed Mr. Hartman. He tells a story of a consignment of candy which the Mexican government ordered. Hartman suggested that these be sent in various shipments at different dates as it was needed, so that it would not spoil. This made the Mexican president very indignant, and he stoutly declared that anything could spoil in his fair country.

Exclusive rights of the Hamer candy company to sell candy at the famous bull fights is one of the victories which Mr. Hartman brings home with him.

New York Politician Beaten by a Mob; Is Likely to Die

DAYTONA, Fla., June 10.—The death of Lorillard Reynolds, for more than 20 years intimate associate of "Big Tim" Sullivan, New York politician was momentarily expected today as a result of wounds received when a mob of snarling men severely beat and shot him last night at Sea Breeze, a fashionable beach resort in the suburbs of this city. Reynolds received a bullet in the left breast which missed his heart by less than an inch.

U. S. Party to Retrace Missionary Journeys of Paul the Apostle

BOSTON, Mass., June 10.—Missionary journeys of Paul the Apostle will be retraced by a group of twenty-five educators, clergymen and others who will make a tour of exploration and study of biblical lands this summer under the leadership of Professor Albert E. Bailey of the Boston University school of religious education.

The party, which will sail from New York tomorrow, will inspect the synagogue in Corinth which has recently been excavated by an American archaeological expedition headed by Dr. Ralph Cooley of Newton, and will visit also the site of Paul's famous speech to the Athenians on Mars Hill. Other stops will be at Thessalonica, Smyrna, Ephesus, Tarsus and Antioch.

Accompanying Professor Bailey will be Rev. Dr. F. Martin of Marshfield, Ia.; Bruce Baxter, professor of biblical literature at Union college, Alliance, O.; Rev. John Baxter, Ohio; Rev. F. A. Robinson of Toronto, Canada, evangelistic secretary of the Presbyterian church of Canada; Miss Helen W. Lennon, Miss Eva Hong and Miss C. B. Gernert, Canadian evangelistic workers; Mrs. Margaret W. Eggleston, assistant professor of religion at Boston university, and Miss Lois Bailey, daughter of the expedition's leader, an instructor at Boston university.

Returning the party will leave Naples for Havre, from which port they will sail for the United States on August 19. At Naples, Professor Bailey will leave the party and continue around the world studying and collecting specimens of religious art for the university. In Java he will explore the Borobudur Buddhist temple, said to contain the finest specimens of Buddhist art in existence.

THE MENACE OF MIS-INFORMATION

Statistician for the railroad labor unions recently issued a statement that the majority of families of railroad workers were undernourished...

As an instance, Senator Capper of Kansas, undoubtedly a sincere seeker for the national welfare...

Now comes Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and in a statement before the senate interstate commerce committee...

"It was said (by Senator Capper) that the rate on wheat from Kansas City to New York was 30 cents a bushel...

"People do not eat wheat, they eat flour. And wheat does not grow at tidewater, it grows inland, even in Argentina...

"Now the rate on 100 pounds of wheat from Kansas City to New York is 56 cents. Or, if you reduce it to a unit of 60 pounds...

"Now, it was somewhat difficult to find data concerning Argentina, because no wheat has been brought into this country from Argentina this year...

"It appears that the average inland haul by rail to Buenos Aires, where it is shipped from the fields where it actually grows...

"Then the ocean rate, when we investigated it—and this was the best we could find—was $0.136. The 10-cent rate had evidently been withdrawn...

"The insurance amounted to $0.004 a unit of 60 pounds, and that got the wheat to New York, but not flour, and it had cost at that time about 24 cents to get the wheat to New York...

"Now there are no mills in New York City; you can not have flour ground in large quantities there, and the average rate on grain to milling points such as Bridgeport, Springfield, Mass., Baltimore, Rochester, and Buffalo...

"So when you get around and get 60 pounds of flour in New York ready to eat it has cost you $0.536 for transportation if it came from Kansas City...

"The statement of Senator Capper was correct enough, except it did not take into account all of the necessary elements...

"That is the trouble with far too many of our current statements concerning industrial problems. They are true—as far as they go, but they do not take into consideration all the necessary elements to make them true in their application...

"In the operation of the law of supply and demand, sooner or later, all the necessary elements play their part...

"One of our greatest needs today, is for more of the leadership that has the capacity and the courage to think things out—and to investigate them out to their final application, taking into consideration all of the necessary elements to make them wholly true and in no sense misleading...

THE BURDEN OF ARMAMENT

THE Danish Research society has compiled figures on the social results of the world war which are as amazing as they are interesting...

According to these figures there are chargeable to the war, directly and indirectly, approximately 70,000,000 human lives...

The financial handicap which the world has taken on since 1914 is, roughly, $350,000,000,000...

Eaten out of 12 European nations—even with tremendous taxation—are spending far beyond their incomes. And three out of four countries in the world are unable to raise sufficient taxes to meet their running expenses...

For the first time in history, a nation, dismembered Austria, has gone into the hands of a receiver...

White Man's Burden

By DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

WHEN Captain John Smith effected his permanent settlement at Jamestown, the Pilgrim Fathers reached their precarious foothold on Plymouth Rock...

At that time, Africa, to quote the picturesque words of Artemus Ward, was famous for its roses—it had the red rose, the white rose and the negro...

Now the white people of the earth are about one third of the whole population, but they control about nine tenths of the habitable globe...

There is reason to believe that this may not be the permanent status of the earth's political condition...

Something of this Kaplan had in mind when he wrote "The White Man's Burden." That burden is to act as steward of the future good order of the globe...

Fill full the mouth of famine, and bid the sickness cease. And when your goal is nearest, the goal for others sought...

The foundation very properly points out that America—because of her dominant position in the world—is the nation that should take the initiative in bringing about such a conference...

The necessity for an agreement among the nations to stop their insane armament competition and devote their energies to restoring the shattered world, is so urgent that President Harding's duty seems perfectly clear...

There may be some question as to the method of making the approach to the other nations, but there can be no question that the sooner the first steps are taken, the better for every nation and individual in the world...

Income and excess profits taxes collected during the last fiscal year averaged $37 for every man, woman and child in the country. A dime a day for each one. And the total only paid a small installment of the war debt...

LET'S FIND OUT! WHY—and how—are the prices of foodstuffs tripled between the farmer and the city consumer?

Who gets the difference—and for what? What share of this increase is due to necessary costs of distribution, to fair profits by middlemen, and what part represents useless costs and excessive profits?

These questions, often raised but never settled to the satisfaction of either farmer, consumer or dealer, may find an authoritative answer if the special congressional commission for agricultural inquiry, proposed by a concurrent resolution now pending in congress, is approved...

The resolution has been favorably reported by the senate committee on agriculture and approved by the rules committee of the house...

Its passage, declares C. S. Barrett, chairman of the national board of farm organizations, will be assured if producers and consumers will unite in a demand on congress for its passage...

"The farmer ought to know why he only collects 35 cents for every dollar his products bring when sold to the ultimate consumer," says Barrett. "On the other hand, the consumer ought to know why he had to pay on the average nearly three times as much as the farmer receives..."

The creation of this commission would give some reason to believe the answer would be found. If the commission be in earnest and its investigation be thorough, it should be able to put its finger on the persons and institutions that have been collecting unjustly...

Why France Is Able to Make Rapid Strides

By LAWGRET W. MORROW

In making an estimate of the recovery of Europe from the devastation of the great war we are all inclined to lay too much stress upon physical destruction...

The great loss to Europe was the loss of lives. In some countries also there was a great loss of organizing skill, in the capacity of men to cooperate with each other...

It should be true in the future as it has been true in the past that character and capacity and skill in organization will be the qualities which will determine the worth of individuals and of nations...

In the recent war France suffered heavy losses of a physical nature, but she achieved great gains in power of organization...

Her external debt today in gold francs, including the debt to the governments of Great Britain and the United States—is something less than seven times the amount of indemnity she paid in less than three years after her Franco-Prussian war...

The difference between then and now are not easily appraised but it may be that France today is better able to carry an external debt of 25 billion of gold francs, than she was to pay an external debt of 5 billion gold francs then...

At all events, what France has accomplished in the payment of her external debt in the last six months is little less than amazing...

Her external debt reached its maximum point at the end of September, 1914, at that time it amounted to $2,242 million francs. At the end of March, 1921, her total external debt amounted to 25,722 million francs—a reduction of over 2,500,000,000 gold francs of something more than $500,000,000...

The truth is that France is again becoming a self-sustaining country. She is reducing her imports of food stuffs, she is developing a surplus of goods for export...

This is the fundamental explanation of the change in the French position. This is the explanation of the rise in the French exchange. During the last three months the people of France have been doing more for the rest of the world than the rest of the world has been doing for France...

It would be idle to suggest that France is out of her misfortune. She has very grave problems ahead of her. It is to be hoped that with the settlement of the German indemnity she will be able to reduce the size of her army...

It is to be hoped, also, that the counsel of her wiser leaders will prevail with reference to the handling of her domestic debt...

The solution of these problems will call for all of the patience, the courage and the capacity of the French people...

But no one who knows the French can doubt that they will be solved, and to those who have always believed in France, the remarkable improvement of her condition in the past six months has been an inspiring justification of their faith...

France has still a long road to travel, but she has distinctly turned the corner. And she has turned the corner more quickly than anyone would have believed possible three years ago...

Work being done by the county agent with the cooperation of O. C. Cunningham of the state college to organize a cow testing association in Bernalillo county is progressing well. Eighty-six more cows have been pledged in the last two days which makes a total of 314 cows pledged. There are 15 men who have signed up for the association. An organization meeting will be held tomorrow, to put plans for the association into effect.

Frank Miller, adjudged insane by the district court two weeks ago, and ordered sent to the insane asylum at Las Vegas, was released from the county jail this morning and allowed to go home. Doctors disagreed as to the condition of Miller's mind, and it was finally decided that his trouble was more in the nature of a nervous breakdown than actual insanity. He was given a sheep herder brought from Gallup on Tuesday, is still at the county jail. His condition was still too bad today to make his removal to Las Vegas practical.

Dry Cleaners Hold Indignation Meeting Over Cut Price Shop

Most Albuquerque cleaners and pressers starve?

Opinions within the craft differ widely on the subject. At an indignation meeting of the Albuquerque Tailors and Cleaners' association held at the I. O. O. F. hall last night, representatives of various establishments of the city protested against the presence in the city of cleaners who clean a suit for one dollar instead of the regulation price of $1.75.

It was said that Albuquerque cleaners' prices were far below those of eastern cities, where anywhere from $2.00 to $2.50 is charged for cleaning a suit, and hired pressers only get $20 or $25 a week. In Albuquerque, prices for cleaning men's suits has never been over $1.75 and pressers get from $25 to $40 per week, it was said.

Members of the association flatly denied that it was possible to clean and press a suit for a dollar.

On the other hand, the proprietor of the Silver Dollar shop claims that his work is as good as any done in the city, and that he is making a good profit.
