CRIME CLAIMS ATTENTION IN MANY COURTS

Woman and Paramour Must Hang for Mur- der of Husband.

COURT RESTRAINED VOLIVA

Moody and Cortleyou Do Not Appear in Court When Summoned.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 22.—The state supreme court today upheld the death sentences imposed by the lower court in the cases of Frank Hottman and Mrs. Arlie Myers, convicted of murdering the woman's husband at Kansas City, and set June 29 as the date of execution.

Fuller Particulars of Case.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—The murder of Clarence Myers, by his wife and Frank Hottman, her lover, was most cold-blooded. Myers was a pressman and lived with his wife in a small cottage in the outskirts of the city. Hottman was a frequent caller. Hottman and Mrs. Myers, it developed at the trial, deliberately planned to get Myers out of the way so they could marry. On the night of the murder the woman let Hottman into the house. Hottman struck Myers with a billiard cue, who called for his wife. In reply, she stabbed her husband repeatedly in the back, with a pair of scissors, and held him while Hottman finished the job. Mrs. Myers gave Hottman money, with which he fled west. He was arrested and confessed, implicating the woman.

CANT DISSIPATE THE PROPERTY OF ZION CITY.

Chicago, May 22.—Judge Landis today, in the United States district court, issued an order restraining Willisur G. Voliva and all of his attorneys, agents and employees from disposing of, or in any manner dissipating the assets of the estate of Zion City. An order declaring Dowle individually insolvent was entered by the court.

JUDGE REFUSES TO ATTACK DIGNITARIES.

Chicago, May 22.—Counsel for John H. Dalton, who was today placed on trial on an indictment charging him with using the mails to promote a scheme similar to the lottery asked Judge Landis of the United States circuit court, to issue attachments for Postmaster General Cortleyou and Attorney General Moody. It was declared that both had been served with subpoenas but had not appeared in court. Judge Landis refused to issue the attachments.

NO INCENTIVE FOR ARREST OF U. S. A. DESERTERS.

Topeka, Kan., May 22.—The military authorities at Fort Riley, Kan., are entirely satisfied with the decision of the controller of the treasury, so much in their behalf, as to require of them no payment to civil officer who arrested a man on the supposition that he was a deserter. The latter turned out to be an ex-soldier, and the civil officer claimed a reward of some compensation, or at least reimbursement of expenses, because the telegram of instructions to him from Fort Riley contained the words "usual reward." It appears that the man confessed desertion, but claimed that he had been discharged for service, which was a fact not communicated to the officer at Fort Riley by the official who made the arrest. The controller says that this lack of full information amounted to misleading the military authorities, who might have made an investigation had they known the assertion of discharge, and much expense and trouble would have been prevented. The case has attracted much attention in the army, where the question of paying rewards for the apprehension of deserters has assumed awkward legal aspects.

FIERCE FIGHT AT MILE-END SALOON

CHARLES F. SPADDER BADLY BEATEN UP—LIKEWISE WEBB, THE PROPRIETOR.

Reports received in this city this afternoon tell of a fierce brawl that took place last night at a saloon and resort out North Fourth street, known as "Mile End," about one mile north of the Mountain road, in which Charles F. Spadder of Bernalillo was severely beaten about the face and head, and the proprietor named Webb, was also seriously beaten up.

The details of the fight could not be gleaned this afternoon as no warrants were sworn out for the arrest of any of the parties, nor were the police called on. As it occurred outside of the city limits the city police did not investigate and the sheriff's office knew nothing of it up to a late hour this afternoon.

Reports of the fight state that knives, hatchets, base ball bats and other implements of a like nature played a prominent part in the brawl in which Spadder, the most seriously injured, had an eye knocked out and his head split.

A doctor was called to the scene of the fight but up to press time had not returned to the city.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Mass., May 22.—The wool market is quiet and steady. The stock is well cleaned up and is being removed by manufacturers from the warehouses. This is taken to indicate that there is no reduction in consumption of raw material. All these wools are comparatively dull.

AFTER THE GRAFTERS BOTH HOT AND HEAVY AND IN VARIOUS WAYS

Commissioner Garfield Is Preparing Another Re- port on Standard Oil—Officials of Burlington Must Stand Trial as Individuals.

REPUBLIC OIL COMPANY WITHDRAWS FROM OHIO

Senate Directed Committee on Privileges and Elections to Report What Senate Shall Do in Case of Senator Burton of Kansas.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Commissioner of Corporations James R. Garfield, stated today that he will submit to the president further information on the result of his investigation of the oil industry. The report recently submitted to congress covered only the question of transportation and freight rates, but Garfield is now engaged in preparing reports on the production and refining of oil, control of pipe lines, organization, foreign trade and conditions, and competitive methods.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS ARE NOT IMMUNE.

Kansas City, Mo., May 22.—Judge Smith McPherson, of Iowa, sitting in the place of Judge John F. Phillips, today overruled the demurrer of the Burlington to the indictment against officials of that company, and they must now go to trial.

The Government Now Ready.

The government today in the United States district court announced that it was ready for trial in the three rebate cases. The cases called are those of George L. Thomas, freight broker, New York, and his chief clerk, L. B. Tassar, under indictment for alleged conspiracy in securing rebate for shippers; and against George H. Crosby, former assistant freight manager of the Burlington railroad, charged with conspiracy in giving rebates.

VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR ARE ASSEMBLED

In Indiana and in Illinois, in Annual State Encampments—State Soldiers' Homes Have Sent Their Quota.

Lafayette, Ind., May 22.—The twenty-seventh annual encampment of the Department of Indiana, G. A. R., which opened here this morning, has attracted several thousand veterans and visitors from all parts of this state. The city is handsomely decorated and the hotels and streets are crowded with sightseers. The morning was devoted to the reception of the arriving delegates, their registration, the distribution of the badges and the preliminary work of the organization. In the afternoon there will be several committee meetings. This evening the Women's Relief Corps will give a reception in honor of Corporal Tanner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, and Governor Hanly, who will deliver an address.

The first business session of the encampment will be held tomorrow morning. At that session, George Durgan, mayor of Lafayette, will deliver an address of welcome, to which Department Commander M. S. Tackett will respond. Other prominent members of the G. A. R. will also deliver addresses. At noon the encampment will adjourn, and at 1:30 o'clock the parade will start. It is expected that this will be the largest parade ever held in this department of Indiana, owing to the fact that nearly all the 600 inmates of the State Soldiers' Home will take part in the parade, besides the large number of veterans who are here to attend the encampment. The parade will be reviewed by Corporal Tanner. After the parade, an address by the department of the encampment will be held.

ACTING SECRETARY SCORES TWO COURTS MARTIAL

Washington, D. C., May 22.—Naval officers are much impressed with the comments made by Assistant Secretary Newberry, as acting secretary of the navy, on two recent court martial cases, one that of Lieutenant Schuchfield, who was held accountable for an accident on a torpedo boat, and the other that of Paymaster Lukens, charged with misconduct on the Asiatic station. In both cases the courts failed, according to Mr. Newberry's notion, to impose sufficient punishment, and the reprimand administered to the officers under sentence included an equal rebuke. If not a greater one, for the naval officers composing the courts. It is not without precedent, of course, that courts are rebuked for their findings, but it is somewhat unusual in the navy department to have administered just the sort of criticism passed by Mr. Newberry on the naval courts. The officers of the service are speculating upon the direct effect of these departmental comments. Some of them seem to think that the rebuke will tend to influence the navy court martial action hereafter; others realize that a naval or military court is rarely impressed with departmental comments, no matter how adverse they may be. Courts martial seldom, if ever, reverse their findings, and it is the only opportunity which officers have to maintain something like obstinacy in the face of higher authority. At the same time, in at least one of the cases described, there is a general endorsement of Mr. Newberry's criticism of the court, and those familiar with the incident express surprise that the court failed to appreciate the gravity of the offense alleged.

NEWS IS SCANT FROM CAPITAL OF THE NATION

Statehood Seems As Far As Ever From Agree- ment by Conferees.

NEW TERRITORIAL JURY LAW

Falsely Stamped Articles of Gold or Silver Rejected From Commerce.

Special to The Evening Citizen. Washington, D. C., May 22.—The Andrews bill, amending the law for selecting juries for United States courts, passed the house.

It is expected that a statehood agreement will be reached tonight or tomorrow. If not, daily sessions will be held till an agreement shall be reached. The senate is said to be firmly determined that the second Foraker amendment shall be incorporated into the bill instead of the first, which the house was reported as willing to accept. The whole question is still very much mixed.

REPUBLIC OIL COMPANY WITHDRAWS FROM OHIO

Columbus, Ohio, May 22.—The Republic oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard, today announced to the secretary of state its withdrawal from Ohio.

SENATE ADOPTS RESOLU- TION IN CASE OF BURTON

Washington, D. C., May 22.—The senate today directed the committee on elections and privileges to investigate the effect of yesterday's decision by the supreme court, in the case of Senator Burton of Kansas. The resolution was offered by Senator Hale and is as follows:

Resolved, That the committee on privileges and elections be directed to examine into the legal effect of the late decision of the supreme court of the United States in the case of Joseph R. Burton, senator from Kansas, and as soon as may be, to report their recommendations as to what action, if any, shall be taken by the senate.

RESOLUTION WAS ADOPTED WITHOUT DEBATE.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—The following press bulletin of the Geological department, No. 432, was made public today:

Members of the United States Geological survey feel a lively interest in the fact that the trustees of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society have recently presented to congress a memorial in which they ask that a monument be erected at some place near the Grand Canyon of Colorado river to Major John Wesley Powell, the explorer, and his companions. Major Powell was the second director of the Federal survey.

The present organization, which he helped to found, and of which he was the head from 1882 to 1894, is in many respects the expression of his idea of what a geological survey should be.

Remembered as a patriot and a soldier, his fame rests chiefly on his achievements as a scientist. The single feat for which he was most renowned was his exploration of Colorado river of the west. He and his companions were the first human beings to traverse that canyon, the most remarkable in the known world, feared and shunned by even the natives born on its edges.

Prior to 1867, the portion of Colorado river between Green river valley in Wyoming and the mouth of Rio Virgin in Nevada was a mystery. It flowed through long, deep canyons, the largest of which was over a mile deep and from 10 to 15 miles wide from rim to rim. At other places the walls contracted, the course of the river became obscured, and among the many wild and fantastic tales told about it were stories of strange and abhorrent underground passages.

In 1869, Powell made his first voyage, an undertaking probably never surpassed in daring. His party consisted of ten men, including himself.

MONUMENT IS ASKED FOR MAJOR POWELL AND

His Companions, Explorers of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, in the Years 1869 and 1871.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—The following press bulletin of the Geological department, No. 432, was made public today:

Members of the United States Geological survey feel a lively interest in the fact that the trustees of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society have recently presented to congress a memorial in which they ask that a monument be erected at some place near the Grand Canyon of Colorado river to Major John Wesley Powell, the explorer, and his companions. FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF COMPOSER SCHUMANN

Celebrated in Bonn With Considerable Eclat, Among Participants Being Frau von Kraus-Osborne nee Eisben.

Bonn, May 22.—To commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of Schumann, the great German composer, the musical organizations of this city have arranged a memorial celebration, which will formally open this evening with a concert, at which a number of Schumann's compositions will be performed. There will be two special evening concerts, the first one tonight, the second one tomorrow night, in which there will be performances of the overtures to "Manfred" and "Genevieve," the symphonies in E flat and B flat, the piano concerto, the concert pieces for four horns, with orchestra accompaniment, the "Faust-szenen," the "Neujahrlied" and the "Requiem for Elgion."

On Thursday morning, a short memorial ceremony will take place at Schumann's grave, in the Altar Friedhof, on which occasion chorals will be sung by the Concordia Maennerchor, the same organization which officiated at the funeral of Schumann, fifty years ago. The regular concert, set for Ascension Day, will also be devoted to Schumann's memory, and its program will comprise the piano quartette, the "Dichterliebe," song cycle, piano solos, and the Spanish "Liederspiel."

The orchestral direction of the festival will be shared by Joachim and Prof. Grueter, assistant music director of Bonn. As assisting artists the following organizations and soloists have been engaged: The enlarged Philharmonic orchestra, the Town Choral Union, increased to the strength of 200 female and over 100 male voices; Ernest von Dohnanyi, piano; the Ensemble Wind Quartette of Paris; Frau von Kraus-Osborne, Fraulein Keppel, and Messrs. von Kraus, Moschardt and Felix Senius, vocal. Frau von Kraus-Osborne is an American, formerly Miss Elsieben of Buffalo.

SAN FRANCISCO AND YET OTHER DAMAGED TOWNS

Glucose Factory Explodes Endangers Many Lives and Much Property.

OGDEN SUFFERED BY FIRE

Some News of Interest From San Francisco's Afflict- ed Field.

New York, May 22.—Six men were killed and fifty others injured today by an explosion in the plant of the New York Glucose company at Shadyside, N. J., opposite the city.

It is believed that the explosion was caused by a defect in one of the steam boilers. The four-story building was completely wrecked and an outbuilding was also torn to pieces. There were 600 men in the building at the time of the explosion. After the explosion rescuers found twelve men imprisoned in the burning debris and made frantic efforts to rescue them. Two were taken out fatally injured, when flames drove the rescuers back and it is feared that ten other men were burned to death.

Not So Bad as Reported.

Later information proved that no one was killed in the explosion, and those who were endangered by fire were rescued. In the confusion which followed the explosion, many reports of serious loss of life were circulated, but investigation proved that all were untrue. A score of men employed in the dynamo and engine rooms were more or less injured. Some thirty men who were in the building had narrow escapes from death, but all were taken from the blazing ruins by fellow workmen. The disaster was caused by the explosion of a big steam pipe.

SERIOUS LOSS BY FIRE AFFECTS OGDEN, UTAH.

Ogden, Utah, May 22.—A fire, which started at 2 o'clock this morning, destroyed half a block of business houses on Washington avenue, including the building of the Burton implement company, the Lowe hardware store, the Burrup grocery and other stores. The loss is about $350,000.

NUMBER OF LUNATICS WERE KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE.

San Francisco, Cal., May 22.—Besides the scores of employes and patients injured by the collapsing of the Agnews insane asylum on the morning of the earthquake of last month, there were 68 killed. A list of the dead has just been completed, showing eleven employes and ninety-seven patients.

Banks Opened Yesterday.

Commercial banks opened yesterday, but the expected rush for money did not materialize. More money was deposited than was withdrawn.

Four More Bodies Found.

Four additional cases were added to the coroner's list of earthquake and fire victims yesterday. The bodies were found in ruins in different parts of the city. Only one, William Burrip, was identified. The coroner's list now numbers 395.

Confidence in Banking Circles.

That absolute confidence reigns in banking circles here was made evident today when several savings institutions announced that they would open doors for business tomorrow morning. This announcement came in the nature of a mild surprise, for it had been agreed that the savings institutions would open doors next Monday. Many of the savings institutions which resume business tomorrow instead of next Monday give as a reason for it is for public good as well as financial policy to thus demonstrate stability.

Tomorrow afternoon the first match play round of the championship will take place and half an hour later the second, third and fourth eight will drive off. A 9-hole putting contest will also be played tomorrow, possibly in the forenoon.

On Thursday, the semi-final round for the championship will be played at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and the semi-finals in the other sets will start half an hour later. The championship final will be played on Friday afternoon and the other final rounds will start half an hour later.

The course is in excellent condition and the number of entries unusually large. Many prominent society people have turned out to watch the games, and it is expected that there will be large galleries throughout the week.

PENNSYLVANIA

Of Knights Templar at Pittsburg, With Immense Attendance.

FINE ARTS BUILDING FOR
New York City at Cost of $3,000,000-Texas Elks in Session.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—For the first time in twelve years the Grand Commandery, Pennsylvania Knights Templar, are holding their annual convocation in this city. Several thousand Knights and their ladies are here, and thousands of visitors are still arriving from all parts of the state. The principal event this morning was the grand parade, with more than 10,000 Knights in line. Most of them were on foot, but there was quite an imposing contingent of mounted knights in the parade. The spectacle was extremely brilliant and created a good deal of enthusiasm among the spectators.

In the afternoon the first business session will be held, when Grand Commander Diehl and other grand officers will submit their annual reports. In the evening there will be a reception and ball at Duquesne garden. Tomorrow morning the officers for the ensuing year will be elected. Sir William M. Donaldson of Harrisburg will succeed Mr. Diehl to the office of Grand Commander, according to the customary elective process of the Commandery. The only contest will be in the election of Grand Junior Warden. Sir Harman Junker of Pittsburg Commandery is considered the most likely candidate.

Tomorrow afternoon the Wilmocausis club will give a reception to the ladies of the Commandery at the Colonial hotel. Besides that there will be a number of minor social affairs in honor of the visitors.

ERECTOR OF BUILDING
FOR UNITED FINE ARTS
New York, May 22.—The announcement has been officially made that $1,000,000 has been conditionally promised by a wealthy New Yorker toward the erection and endowment of a united fine arts building to house the dozen societies composing the Fine Arts Federation. This scheme, formulated several years ago, has been revived in the National Academy of Design and the Society of American Artists, as was expected.

John W. Alexander, a member of the National Academy of Design, has estimated the cost of financing the scheme at $3,000,000, at least, by so-called "padding" $1,000,000 each for site, building and endowment. Other artists, however, maintain that a site in the central part of the city will cost more than $1,000,000.

A member of the committee on ways and means appointed to raise at least $2,000,000 for the project, says that with the pledge of the $1,000,000 mentioned, there has been a revival of talk about getting the site of the Lenox library. When this site was discussed last year it was found to be held at too high a figure, and was, moreover, owned by some members of the confederation too far up town.

Other members are of the opinion that the city should create a park in which the united fine arts building could be erected, and should contribute to the support of a central art home as it does to the support of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and American Museum of Natural History.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF HOSIERY MANUFACTURERS.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—The second annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers opened here today. At the first convention, about 200 manufacturing establishments of the country were represented, while at the present convention nearly 500 are represented. There are now more than 1,500 hosiery manufactories in the United States, and it is expected that all of them will join the organization before long. Harold Lamb of Union Point, Ga., is president of the association, and will preside at the sessions of the convention.

UNCLE SAM WILL SELL
SHIP CULGOA.
Washington, D. C., May 22.—The supply ship, Culgoa, will be sold at auction at the navy yard at Brooklyn. It was proposed that the vessel be repaired and overhauled generally and refitted for service. This would mean additional work at the Brooklyn yard. It is believed, however, that the best disposition of the Culgoa will be to sell her as a useless vessel, as the survey which was made recommended too costly repairs.

STATE CONVENTION OF TEXAS ELKS.
Dallas, Tex., May 22.—The state convention of the Elks of Texas opened yesterday with every prospect of success. The number of delegates is unusually large and the city is crowded with visitors who have been attracted by the convention and the festivities which will make it memorable. An elaborate program for the entertainment of the visiting delegates has been prepared by the local lodges and the citizens will make every effort to make things as pleasant for the Elks as it is in their power to make them.

MANY OFFICERS DESIRE
BRIGADIER GENERALSHIP.
Washington, D. C., May 22.—Speculation is once more rife in the army concerning the appointment of a brigadier general on the retirement of General James A. Buchanan, now in the Philippines, on May 31. The vacancy has already attracted a long list of candidates, including captains of comparatively junior grade. It is pretty well known that Captain J. J. Pershing of the Fifth Cavalry, who is on duty as military attaché in Japan, has been looked for one of the brigadier generalships. He may be appointed on May 31, but, previous to his appointment, it is likely several officers will be appointed and retired.

In the rank of brigadier general. It is understood that the president is not disposed to encourage applications from junior officers, but in the case of Captain Pershing the promise of appointment was made some time ago. The president admires Pershing for his gallantry in the field, and he is the only junior officer to be mentioned in an annual message of the president as an example of individual intrepidity.

DRUG TRUST BUSTER A HEAVYWEIGHT PLUGGER

Special Correspondence:
Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—President Roosevelt, through Attorney General Moody, chose one of the biggest district attorneys in the United States to bring suit against the drug trust.

Joe B. Keating, United States attorney for the district of Indiana, who filed the suit against the drug trust in this city, is six feet two inches and weighs 250 pounds. There is not a spare ounce of flesh on his body. He is 40 years old and is now serving his second term as district attorney.

Keating is noted for his tenacity. He is a crafty politician, and is known throughout Indiana as "Big Chief" Keating. The "Big Chief" has his hand on the throttle of what is known as the Fairbank's machine in this state night and day. When anything political is done in Vice President Fairbank's name, Mr. Keating knows it a long time before the public. Mr. Keating has been eminently successful in all prosecutions in the federal courts. Five lawyers—convicted in the past two years—are now serving terms at Leavenworth prison. Mr. Keating prosecuted each of them. One of them, Walter Brown of Elkhart, was a member of the republican state committee, and a political friend of Mr. Keating.

THE FRATERNAL SANATORIUM AT LAS VEGAS.
Charles E. Michaels of St. Louis, a general contractor in that city, is a visitor in Las Vegas, having arrived there Sunday. He may decide to locate in that city as he has several propositions in view that would make it advantageous for him to reside there.

Mr. Michaels brings the cheering news that the Fraternal Sanatorium near Las Vegas will be opened on or about July 1. While en route he changed to meet one of the physicians who is a member of the directorate and was informed that matters regarding the institution were now shaping themselves satisfactorily.
Those who assumed charge in crystallizing the gigantic project met with considerable opposition and were delayed in the carrying out of their plans but they have surmounted all obstacles now and the sanatorium is an assured fact.
Mr. Michaels is of the opinion that Las Vegas will boom within the next few years. He is interested in the outcome of the dry farming experiments in this vicinity and if they prove successful together with the opening of the sanatorium he expects to see the community grow by leaps and bounds.

It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, it is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it. Sold by all druggists.

FOUL PLAY IS NOW SUSPECTED
News from El Paso is to the effect that a cowman who came in from the vicinity of Graham's ranch, not far from Las Cruces, New Mexico, last Saturday, reported to Police Captain W. D. Greet that the body of a dead man had been found in a sack waders of the Rio Grande near the ranch. The body was lying prone on the ground with the head hanging over in a pool. The cowman, whose name the police did not learn, stated to Captain Greet that there were evidences that the deceased had been dead for some time from the color of the hands, but he did not raise the man's face from the water and does not know whether he was an American or Mexican.
The body was very well dressed, wearing a dark suit of clothes and a light hat, and it is believed he is an American. Foul play is suspected, and Captain Greet believes from the meager reports that have reached him that the man was first probably badly injured or killed, perhaps by choking and then laid on the soft ground of the backwaters with his head in the pool to give the appearance of death by drowning.
As the matter was outside the jurisdiction of the local police, Captain Greet immediately wired the Las Cruces authorities and an investigation will be made at once.

Postmaster Robbed.
G. W. Fouts, postmaster at Riverton, la., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Elee-tric Bitters, which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful tonic. At all drug stores. 50 cents.

COAL OIL INDICATIONS
EAST OF ROSWELL.
The register and receiver of the United States land office at Roswell Friday last received the following telegraphic instructions from the commissioner of the general land office at Washington:
"Withdraw from agricultural entry pending investigation as to mineral character all public lands in township 9 south, range 25 east; township 10 south, ranges 25 and 26 east, sections 11 and 12; township 11, range 25, east; all of township 11, range 26; township 12, ranges 26 and 27; township 13, range 27."

This action was taken by the general land office on accounts of reports of the existence of strong indications of minerals and oils on the tracts named. Land containing coal oil or producing such can only be located under the mineral laws of the United States. Hence no homestead, desert lands or scrip entries will be allowed upon the tracts described until further notice, and until it is demonstrated that the lands are more valuable for agricultural purposes than for mineral.

BRICK PLANT FOR GALLUP

EASTERN CAPITAL INTERESTED IN MAKING BRICK FROM GAL-LUP FIRE CLAY.

The brick plant which was mentioned in last week's issue of the Gallup Republican, is to be built at the Casna mine, near Gallup, and operations are to begin within the next few days. The local parties interested in the plant are Edward Beyard and William Patching.
St. Louis capital has been interested in the venture, and enough stock has been subscribed and paid for to purchase all the necessary machinery, erect buildings and put the plant on a productive basis. The machinery has been ordered, and by this time is on the road to Gallup. The plant will be automatic as far as possible and very little hand work will be necessary in the manufacture of the brick. The plant will turn out building brick and ornamental brick. The capacity is estimated to be 20,000 a day, and arrangements are being made to increase the capacity to 50,000 per day.

Besides operating the brick plant, the company will mine coal from the Casna mine, not for sale, but for the use of the plant in the boilers and brick kilns. The necessary formalities have been gone through to take up the Casna coal lands.
Mr. Beyard, who is the original promoter of the brick making company, has been with the Santa Fe for four years, and will leave the employ of the company within the month to assume the management of the erection of the plant and its operation.
The people of the city of Gallup will certainly be pleased to know that the building and operation of a manufacturing plant so near the city is actually a fact. It is common knowledge here that the great deposits of fire clay in this vicinity were of value as a raw material for a high grade of brick, but up to the present time no organized effort had been made to produce the finished product.
As to a market for the Gallup brick, that has already been found in this territory, and in Arizona where there is an increasing demand for this class of building material. The plant will employ a large number of men and will be the means of bringing another pay roll to Gallup.

MAHARAJA OF INDIA IS A WISE FELLOW

The maharajah and maharani, photographed in New York. The spot on her forehead indicates that she is married and that her husband is living.

Special Correspondence:
New York, May 22.—If Sir Sayaji Rao III, the maharajah of Baroda, who is now paying a visit to this country, with her highness, the maharani, and will be seen in several of the larger cities, is a fair sample of the kind of political bosses they have in "heavenly" India, the local product might with profit study his habits and manners—the profit falling to the bosses.

His highness is first in rank of the Hindu princes and second of all the princes of India. He is the absolute ruler of 2,000,000 of his people. They very lives are in his hands. He might make them parade on their hands before his worshipful self, and tax the very hairs of their camels if he wanted to.

Sitting in the midst of a group of reporters at his hotel in this city, the prince looked very unassuming, considering that he is the second wealthiest man in all India, with a collection of jewels that is famous the world over, and that he was supposed to be a type of his "unenlightened" people. In stature he is undersized, and he is dark. He speaks excellent English. He has been a ruler since boyhood.
"I have come to look at you," he said. "I am especially interested in your public school system. Baroda is advancing in civilization, but not as rapidly as I wish for. We have established a school system, but it is far from complete. That is nearest to my heart, for I feel that no people can advance without education."

Boy charged with assault with intent to rape.
Hipolito Lucero, nineteen years of age, appeared before Judge Mills in the United States court at Las Vegas, and changed his plea of not guilty to guilty. He was charged with assault with intent to rape upon a woman who was so old that she did not know her exact age but who thought she was between seventy and eighty years of age. Judge Mills stated to the prison-

THE MAHARAJAH IN HIS NATIVE ROYAL DRESS.

Our industrial development is slow, and while I am here I want to see your great steel industry."
The prince said that our mission-aries in India had done great good and that he was ever thankful to them for their efforts.
"It is true that our people marry when too young," he said, when the great question of Indian child marriage was broached. "Our religious beliefs are very deeply rooted. I have made a law in my province that no one under the age of 12 shall marry. I believe that marriages should not be permitted before the principals have reached the age of 16. That is early enough."

er that on account of the circumstances and because of the disparity of the ages of the prisoner and prosecuting witness, he could not believe him guilty and suspended the sentence of five years in the penitentiary, which he imposed, during good behavior, and the boy was released from custody on his own recognizance.

Method of Making Multi-Millionaires

Los Angeles Examiner.

Did you ever know much about the origin and growth of the enormous American fortunes that bring up our hundred-time millionaires like mushrooms...

Here is a short story, easily understood: A short time ago in Salem, Ohio, a little wire nail company was started. The capital was one hundred thousand dollars.

The little wire nail company, which had only seventy-five thousand dollars in it was then sold, via watered stock, for one million two hundred thousand dollars.

That was only the beginning. The Hon. Mr. Gates came along with another splendid idea. He knew that one million two hundred thousand dollars called for too little interest from American users of nails.

There you see, an arrangement was made for the American people using nails to pay interest to the holders of watered stock which had been swollen from practically nothing to ninety millions.

That was the status of affairs when the present United States Steel Trust was formed in J. P. Morgan's office. This concern took over the American Steel and Wire company from Mr. Gates and his friends.

Mr. Morgan added some more millions and dumped the thing into his great steel trust. In the formation of that final gigantic trust, in the swelling up of a little seventy-five thousand dollar business into unlimited millions, all kinds of peeps made enormous fortunes.

There was one little man living in an Ohio village—the poor creature is insane now—who happened to hold a little stock, which was suddenly watered up until he had a million dollars. He had been working on about forty dollars per week.

There are a great many other kinds of "shaves" being paid for throughout this country. Either through low wages, high rents, or high prices for materials, somebody has got to pay the interest on all these hundreds of millions of inflated stocks.

Mr. Carnegie, as you know, offered his entire steel business on option for one hundred millions. The deal did not go through—and right after that he sold out to Morgan's Steel Trust for three hundred millions.

Morgan added two hundred millions of water to Carnegie's original price—and the people of this country have got to pay to Carnegie, yearly, fifteen millions—which is five per cent a year on three hundred millions of bonds—before they begin to pay what the steel costs.

We rather look down on the countries that pay a few hundreds of thousands yearly to a hereditary ruler. But how about this country, which is paying tens of millions each year already to hereditary owners of railroads, trusts, etc., and which will go on paying out tens and hundreds of millions annually to the heirs of those who, in this trust-birth time, "just add water and serve" the people so nicely?

Carnegie was cunning; Morgan did not care much, as long as he floated his "scheme"—and the people must pay to one man alone and to his heirs forever, fifteen millions yearly on part of one industry.

Morgan added to the Carnegie bonds, etc., one thousand millions of manufactured steel stock. But that was not even water—it was just air. Still the people must pay interest on it.

A Young Man Wise Beyond His Years

Grover Cleveland White, a Massachusetts boy of 18, has jilted his sweetheart, 17, and married her mother, a woman of 42, with two sons older than himself. Silly boy—eh? Maybe not. Marriage is not altogether a question of ages.

"Although 42 years old, my wife," he says, "doesn't look to be over 25." This is a point worth considering. A woman, we know, is no older than she looks—certainly she is no older than she looks to her husband.

"She knows how to cook," says the young husband, coming to more prosaic defense. "She knows how to wash, iron, mend clothes and keep house, and that's more than a majority of the young girls of the present day know."

Youth fades. Love very often cools in a little while and frequently even congeals in the divorce court. But ability to cook, wash and keep house abides always; and the young man who at 18 has secured to himself such a treasure as this need have no concern for his future.

Frick's "Red" Enemy Still Hates Capital

[The following article by Alexander Berkman, was prepared by the anarchist two days before he was released from the Allegheny county, Pennsylvania work house. He had served his term in the penitentiary for shooting Millionaire Frick, and was just completing a sentence for a minor offense committed in connection with the attempted assassination. He became a free man May 18.—Ed. Note.]

By Alexander Berkman.

On my last birthday I was 34 years old. I have spent fourteen of those thirty-four years in prison. But I have no complaint to make. I have all but paid the penalty for what I did, and no man can take away my freedom again for that. I owe no man anything now, and I ask no man for anything. While I have been in prison I have studied and have read a good many books. I am more mature in mind than I was when I was 20. The lesson of obedience was one I had learned when a child, and my guards in prison will not say that I ever will

HIS ATTEMPT TO KILL FRICK.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Alexander Berkman's attempt to assassinate Mr. Frick took place in 1892, during the Homestead steel strike. Berkman, a young Russian book-binder, had just come to this country, and inspired by the teachings of Herr Most, Emma Goldman and others, conceived the idea of killing Frick, to avenge the wrongs of the Homestead steel strikers. Saturday following the entrance of troops into Homestead, Berkman had set for the killing. He had made several fruitless visits to the office of Mr. Frick on Fifth avenue. Finally, he forced his way past the clerk, burst into Mr. Frick's room and fired at him with a revolver, while in the other hand he brandished a knife. John G. A. Leishman, now United States minister to Turkey, was with Mr. Frick. He, with Mr. Frick, who sprang from his chair, battled all over the office, Berkman striking with his knife, and trying again to use the revolver. Both Mr. Frick and Mr. Leishman were slightly injured before help arrived from the outer offices and Berkman was overpowered.

fully broke a rule of the institution. You want to know what I feel toward Mr. Frick? I never did hate Mr. Frick because he was Mr. Frick, but because he embodied, yes, practiced, that tyranny of the select few against the many. It was the principle I struck at in my rash determination to do something to free the thousands that were being crushed by it. I believed that if Mr. Frick were killed, others who were grasping the bread away from the poor people, would take warning and allow every one a fair chance and an equal share in the good things of existence. I thought that if he were out of the way the workingman's families would be spared the horrors of starvation and cold. There are times, I believe them, and do not know whether I totally disbelieve now, when wrongs become so grievous that vindication can come only by some one taking the cause in hand and annihilating the cause of it all. But I have learned much. I doubt if the most good for the oppressed can be accomplished by taking a revolver, a bomb or a knife, and going after the person responsible for it. It is better, I think, to teach all the oppressed who their enemies are and who are responsible for their condition, and let them unitedly cast off the yoke; let the blood flow if it will. I have taken good care of my body and am strong physically. My health could be no better, considering my limited privileges. Most of my friends are in Russia, but I have a great many in America. I shall be glad to see them. They have sent me lots of reading matter and plenty, I presume, which the prison authorities have never permitted me to read. I expect to go to Russia as soon as I visit some of my old friends in this country. But after that my plans are not laid. But I am as I was, an enemy of capital, as it represents injustice, and shall fight it as long as God gives me life—not with arms, necessarily, but with reason and intelligence.

mill, near Eagle station, last Saturday, given by Miss Frankie Berkshire and sister, Miss Mattie, about twenty of their young friends being present to participate in the pleasures of the occasion. The Misses Berkshire entertained the gathering in a pleasant and charming way, and all regretted when the evening shadows grew longer and the light of day began to fade, as the sun lowered behind the western horizon, proclaiming the parting hour.—Sanders correspondence in Carrollton, (Ky.) MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION GOVERNOR HAGERMAN CALLS ON ALL PATRIOTIC CITIZENS TO OBSERVE DEcoration DAY.

Executive Office Santa Fe, New Mexico, May 18, 1906. The truest patriotism is the patriotism which shows itself in action at those times when the nation calls for the sacrifice of personal interests in order to preserve the honor and integrity of the flag of our country. This best of good citizenship is not only the holding of high ideals of civic honor and righteousness, but the willingness of the individual to proclaim those ideals and, if necessary, devote his property and his life to upholding them. The men who in times of stress and danger to the republic have been called upon to make such sacrifice and have not flinched, but have given their lives that the nation might live, by whose faith, energy and devotion the integrity of our institutions has been preserved, are true patriots whose memories should be cherished in gratitude by all the people.

As the day approaches which has so fittingly and properly been set aside for the decoration of the graves of our dead soldiers and sailors and for the celebration of their deeds of heroism and self-sacrifice, we should add to their efforts as citizens done by the living survivors of the wars, which in the inscrutable wisdom of God have come to try the souls of the men and women of all parts of our country during the past generation.

In accordance, therefore, with established custom and usage, I, Herbert J. Hagerman, governor of the territory of New Mexico, do recommend that on Wednesday, the 30th day of May, 1906, the people in all parts of the territory refrain from all unnecessary labor and public amusements, and add to their efforts as patriotic associations to bring about a proper observance of the day and devote it to services in honor of the nation's dead, and to acts of respect for those soldiers and sailors who have survived the wars in which they were engaged.

Done at the executive office this, the 18th day of May, A. D. 1906. Witness my hand and the great seal of the territory of New Mexico. (Seal) H. J. HAGERMAN, By the Governor: J. W. RAYMONDS, Secretary of New Mexico.

SLAYS HOLY ROLLER TO AVENGE SISTERS

George Mitchell and Mrs. Creffield

THE SLAYER, THE "APOSTLES" WIFE AND SHOOTING SCENE.

Seattle, Wash., May 22.—Homicide has made a climax to the affairs of the "Holy Rollers," religious fanatics. George Mitchell shot and instantly killed Edmund Creffield, founder and leader of the sect, to avenge the honor of his two sisters. The slayer of "Apostle Joshua," as Creffield called himself, gave himself up to the officers, and does not seem to worry. "I've got my man. Am in jail," is the unique telegram he sent to O. V. Hurt of Corvallis, Ore., father of the dead man's wife.

"I came here from Portland for the purpose of killing Creffield," he explained afterwards. "I saw him and his wife on First avenue, and shot the man. That's all there is to it. He ruined my two sisters and I took his life."

Creffield recently was released from the penitentiary, after serving two years for illicit relations with women followers. Prior to Creffield's conviction, the peculiar ceremonies of the sect behind closed doors and by the light of candles, became so objectionable to the people of Corvallis, Ore., that the authorities were appealed to. Many of the "Holy Rollers" have been sent to the insane asylum. Among them was Creffield's present wife, then Ida M. Hurt. She recovered, and got a divorce while Creffield was in the penitentiary. On his return, however, she remarried him in Seattle, despite the protests of her family. She claims he is guiltless of Mitchell's charges.

"Of course, it costs a married man more to live," said one of them, "but then we have something to show for our money."

"That's right," admitted his bachelor friend, "but is that the reward or penalty?"

"Look here, there's a lot of agitation on that is bound to result in congress passing a bill that will play thumper with my business. Can't you do something to head it off?"

"Sure! I'll have Senator Tillman introduce a bill aimed directly at your company."

"What did her father say when you asked him for her?"

"Not a word."

"Well, actions speak louder than words, anyway."

"Yes, and they leave a much deeper impression."

"Jenkins came near being arrested in the park the other night. A policeman found him wandering around the drives about 11 o'clock."

"Just out to get the air?"

"No, he'd gone out to escape it. A fellow in the apartment next to him had been singing 'The Palms.'"

The chancellor of Syracuse University, who defended the Standard Oil company and called the president an anarchist, says W. R. Hearst is a dangerous citizen. If Mr. Hearst doesn't contribute liberally to the university he will be guilty of the basest ingratitude.

"What would they do to me if I pulled up and let Puschert win this race?" asked the jockey. "There's a quarter of a million bet on me, but I can make more by losing."

"If you pull your horse? That'd be race suicide for you."

The bankers of La Crosse, Wis., beat the preachers in a base ball game the other day. The preachers should have known there was no hope of beating bankers unless they were from Ohio. Nearly everybody beats the Ohio bankers.

"Say, old man, look here a minute. Want to make some money? I've got the greatest scheme in the world. Dead sure to make $25,000, and you needn't invest over $100."

Archimedes had just received a rejected manuscript from one of the ten-cent magazines.

"I'll bet I sell it this time," he said, and he hastily added the lines: "Give me a lever long enough and I can move the United States seat."

"Hello, Gusher, how're you? Haven't seen you for months. By the way, somebody told me the other day that you'd dropped poetry altogether."

"That's right. I am working on fiction now."

"No."

"Yes. I'm writing a prospectus for a gold mining company."

"Woman," said the enthusiastic and eloquent advocate of the gentler sex, "is the grandest and greatest—yes, the perfect work of the Creator. She is the fairest flower in the great continent. 'Is the first time I've ever heard a rubber plant called a flower.'"

"That," broke in the dyspeptic old bachelor, "is the first I ever heard a rubber plant called a flower."

GALLUP SCHOOL TEACHERS ELECTED
W. H. DECKER RE-ELECTED PRINCIPAL, AND OTHERS WILL AGAIN PRESIDE.

The newly elected school board of Gallup met the other evening and proceeded to the election of the teachers for the ensuing year. The old teachers, with three exceptions, were returned to their positions for the next year. The commercial course, which has been a feature of the work in school for some time, has been abolished, as it was a great expense to the town and did not justify the outlay of money, as there were too few pupils.

The following is the list of teachers for the ensuing school year, which begins next September:

W. H. Decker, principal; Miss Coo, Miss Richardson, Miss Barker, Miss Kinley, Miss Bennink and Mrs. E. C. Smith.

The Republican predicts a successful year for the school, as Prof. Decker is uniting in his efforts to build up the schools.

NOT MUCH CONCERNED OVER THEIR HANGING
DAVID ARGUELLO AND JOHN MEDLOCK TO HANG AT RATON ON FRIDAY, MAY 25.

In the same stoical manner that his old friend, Joe Johnson, awaited the end at the Canon City penitentiary some months ago, does David Arguello, in the county jail at Raton, view the passing of the days that are hastening him to his doom. Arguello and Johnson were personal acquaintances and they seemed to have constituted much alike.

Francisco Garcia, one of the jailors, preparations have been made by Sheriff Marion Little of Colfax county, for the execution, and everything is in readiness. The only thing that can save Arguello now is a reprieve from the governor, and it is not believed that this will be granted him. John Medlock, it negro, is to be hanged the same day as Arguello.

It is said that Arguello manifests little emotion over his fate. He takes the matter quite stoically and gives little expression to his thoughts.

Arguello is to be hanged for killing Francisco Garcia, one of Sheriff Davis' deputies. The sheriff had commissioner Garcia to arrest Arguello, wanting him for the cold-blooded murder of Mrs. Celia Dussart, at Bowen, about two years ago. Garcia located Arguello with a threshing outfit on Johnson's mesa, near Raton, and when he went over to arrest him, the murderer shot him down.

There is little chance that Arguello will escape the gallows. The fact that he killed an officer who was trying to arrest him for another brutal murder, will stand against him, and it is not believed that Governor Hagerman will intercede.

"I don't understand this rate bill provision for a court review," said the railroad's junior counsel.

"Good!" roared the senior counsel. "Then we needn't bother our heads about it."

Sciatica Cured After Twenty Years of Torture.
For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 3322 Clinton St., Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Palm Balm. One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. It troubled with sciatica or rheumatism why not try a 25-cent bottle of Palm Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by all druggists.

NO BIDDERS FOR RIO PUERCO END

Of the Belen Cut-Off, as Not Enough Time Allowed For the Work.

IMPORTANT QUESTION OF WATER

It is understood that the Santa Fe has not been successful in placing the subcontract for the Rio Puerco end of the cut-off, bids for which were called for some weeks ago. The reason for this, it is said, is that the railroad company is in too much of a hurry to get the work done, when the high class of construction demanded is taken into consideration, and that the subcontractors could not get used to the idea of doing it in the time required. The understanding is that the contractors' time is to be lengthened somewhat and that the bids will be called for again in the near future. The cut-off is being built on the plan of the old established railroads of the east. Every culvert is stone or concrete, the track is solid as if it had been subject to the treatment of years and it naturally takes more time to build such a railroad, than for the hasty construction of the average western line.

Construction of Rio Puerco end is estimated to require between seven and eight months after actual construction begins.

The telegraph line has been connected up with Mountainair and will probably be into Willard this week. This is the permanent line and like the rest of the cut-off it is being built to stay forever.

Track laying will commence from Sunnyside west as soon as the false work on the great Pecos bridge is completed so that steel can be brought in from the Texico end. The big rock cut east of Epris will not be completed for a long time, but the temporary track will go around it so that the line will be practically complete, and its completion will aid materially in hastening construction work.

The false work on the big bridge at Sunnyside is nearly complete. Three of the great piers have been completed and three more are above the water line. There are all in all twenty-two of these piers, each one of which is a small mountain of concrete. The false work alone on this bridge is an engineering feat of no small proportions.

The shallow well at Encino in which a good flow of water has been found has proved a disappointment, for although there is plenty of water it is so strong in alkali that it will not do for the engine boilers and so a deep well is to be put down at once. It is hoped that artesian water will be encountered in this well.

Some further prospecting for water will go on at Epris, but there is not much hope of finding it without great depth. Failing to find it, it is understood that the company proposes to put in a pipe line from Willard, where good water is plentiful. The pipe line will be a rather expensive proposition, but it merely goes to show the permanency of the work the Santa Fe is doing on the cut-off. As this work nears completion it is more and more plain that the cut-off line will be one of the finest examples of new railroad construction in the history of railroad building in America.

BONUS SYSTEM IS TO BE EXTENDED.
In the Car Department of Santa Fe Shops at San Bernardino.

It is expected that by next week the work of extending the bonus, or premium system to the car department of the Santa Fe shops will be undertaken by those officials in charge of installing the system at this point, says the San Bernardino Sun.

The system was first installed here about March 1, and since then efforts have been directed toward getting the plan working in all of the metal working departments of the shops, one department at a time being taken.

The system is now in force in all of the iron working departments, and is quite satisfactory, say the officials, and attention will next be directed to the car department, the "rip" track being the first to be placed under the plan. The plan is to have the pipe line of the car shops will probably follow, until the painting mill, coach building department, paint shop, etc., are all included.

It is understood that the Topeka shops are now entirely under the new system, the change being made there is locating at various places along the line. The new tank will be set along the side of the tank doing service there now; but instead of having one very inadequate spot like the old one, the new one will be equipped with two ten-inch cranes, to be located at opposite sides of the tanks. This will enable the watering of engines both going and coming, and the unusual size of the water cranes will decrease the time lost in watering engines to only a few minutes, where, with the four and six inch cranes, as much as fifteen minutes time is often consumed in filling an engine tank.

The work of constructing the new tank will be done under the supervision of General Foreman Rickman, and is expected to be commenced at once.

SANTA FE FOLDER FOR ELKS' CONVENTION.

The square Santa Fe trade mark, the dial of a clock with an elk's head protruding from it, and "Elks' Excursion to Denver," in royal purple, and a summer girl in green, half reclining on a steamer trunk, with golf sticks and suit cases piled around her, forms the artistically designed frontispiece of a folder the passenger department of the Santa Fe has given the public on the annual convention of the B. P. O. E., to be held at Denver, July 16-21. W. C. Cook, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe, had a bunch of them today, and that is the way The Citizen got one. It is a folder of eight pages, containing all the useful information about the way to Denver and what will be there at the convention that any one could possibly want to know and doubtless more, too. In fact, it is quite complete, even to the extent of telling the time and schedule of all the special trains that will be run from the various parts of the country to the convention city.

ASSESSMENTS RAISED ON OKLAHOMA RAILROADS.

The territorial board of railroad assessors of Oklahoma, has announced its assessments on railroads, telegraph companies, and electric lines for the current year. All of the larger roads, with the exception of the Rock Island, are raised on some of their lines. The "Katy" is hit the hardest, the assessment on its main line being raised from $3,000 to $3,700. The Santa Fe's eastern Oklahoma line is raised from $3,000 to $3,600.

Thomas Asherwood, of this city, who has been superintendent of this district for the Hewitt Manufacturing company, for over a year, has just been appointed inspector for the company, with jurisdiction over the entire Santa Fe system. The Hewitt company is the largest manufacturer of brass goods in the United States, and has a contract to furnish all brass supplies to the Santa Fe. Mr. Asherwood will continue to make Albuquerque his home and headquarters, although his territory will be from Chicago to California.

I. L. Hibbard, superintendent, went west last night in company with C. N. Cotton, a wholesale grocer, of Gallup, after a stay of two days in this city.
