INHERITANCE RATE IS NOT PANNING OUT

English Budget Had Estimated Income From This Source

AT $65,000,000 FOR YEAR

Last Year Death Dues Exceeded the Aggregate of $85,000,000.

London, March 31.—The publication of the office report on the results of the state from inheritance taxes during the year ending today, is awaited with considerable interest. The chancellor of the exchequer, in his annual budget, estimated the revenue from death duties during the year ending March 31, 1906, at $65,000,000. Up to the end of December the amount actually collected from that source was only $46,515,000, as compared with $44,270,000 during the corresponding period of the financial year 1904-5.

The fact, however, that they had to make up more than $18,000,000 during the last quarter of the fiscal year did not worry the treasury officials much, as they knew that the quarter ending March 31 is one of the most prosperous for the wringing of death duties from the pockets of the rich. Statistics show that year after year the average return for the quarter ending March 31 is considerably higher than any of the other three quarters and the official would not be at all surprised to see the final returns from these duties exceed the amount of last year, which was more than $85,000,000.

From January 1 to the end of March influenza and pneumonia, together with the depression caused by the weather are particularly fatal, and it has been found that elderly rich people succumb in greater numbers at this period than at any other during the year. The aggregate capital charged with death duties in 1901-2 was about $1,444,350,000, while in 1904-5 it was $1,325,515,000. Twenty-six persons died during the last year leaving wills bequeathing each more than $500,000. Twenty-three of these were for amounts above a million dollars, while five were above the five million dollar mark. The estate of Sir Robert Jardine paid death duties on nine millions of dollars, while Baron Glimthorpe's estate was second with nearly eight millions.

SIR HENRY IRVING'S SON PLAYS STAR PART.

London, March 31.—Nixon & Zimmerman, the American managers, who have just assumed control of the Lyric theater in this city, will open their house tonight with Andre Picard's "Jeunesse," with Lawrence Irving, son of the late Sir Henry Irving, as the star. Mr. Irving is a season player in the New Amsterdam theater, New York.

LARGEST AND FINEST OF ALL RIVER STEAMERS.

Newburgh, N. Y., March 31.—At 3 o'clock sharp this afternoon the new steamer Hendrick Hudson, just built for the Hudson River Day Line, will be launched at the Marvel Ship yards. Thousands of people from all parts of the state are here to attend the launching of the big boat, which will be the largest and finest river steamer ever built in this country.

JEALOUS MAN KILLS TWO BESIDES HIMSELF.

New York, March 31.—In a jealous fury, James Thearn, a cabman, shot and killed James Black, upholsterer, in his flat, and fatally wounded Mary Woods, Black's housekeeper, and then put a bullet into his own brain. The woman was formerly Thearn's mistress. She left him a short time ago and became housekeeper for Black.

NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT OF U. S. WAR VETERANS.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—The date of holding the national encampment of the United States war veterans in this city was definitely fixed today. It will begin October 5, and last through the week. The president will address the veterans and review the parade.

VACANCY ON TICKET FILLED BY CONLEY.

John A. Conley has been appointed by the central committee of the People's Non-Partisan party to fill the place on the ticket made vacant by the withdrawal of William Kieck. Mr. Conley will make the race on the People's Non-Partisan party ticket for member of the school board from the Second ward, for a term of four years.

Inquires for Relative.

A letter has just been received in this city from C. W. Viles, of Bolivar, Mo., who is very anxious to locate a missing relative, Walter P. Viles, whom he thinks is in this part of the country. Any information concerning the missing man, states Mr. Viles, will be gratefully received by himself.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR VOTERS ON BONDS

At the Approaching City Election, Tuesday, April 3--Read Article Carefully.

AN OPINION BY HON. NEILL B. FIELD

To The Evening Citizen.
In response to your request as to who are qualified to vote on the question of issuing bonds at the coming election, I beg to advise that no person except he be a qualified elector and owner of real estate or personal property, subject to taxation, within the municipality, is so entitled to vote.
It is my opinion that no person can claim the privilege accorded by this provision of law without having first assumed the burden that goes with it, and that it is the clear intention of congress to limit the right to vote to those persons who will bear the burdens of taxation if the bonds are issued.
It is provided by Section 4022, of the Compiled Laws of 1897, that "Every inhabitant of this territory of full age and sound mind, shall assist the assessor in listing all property of which he is the owner or has the control or management."
In my opinion, any person voting at this election upon the bond issue who is not qualified as herein prescribed, WOULD BE GUILTY OF ILLEGAL VOTING, AND SUBJECT TO THE PENALTY PRESCRIBED FOR THAT OFFENSE, AND JUDGES AND CLERKS OF ELECTION WHO RECEIVE SUCH VOTES WOULD BE LIKEWISE GUILTY OF PERMITTING ILLEGAL VOTING, AND SUBJECT TO THE PENALTY PRESCRIBED FOR THAT OFFENSE.
It is not the intention of the act of congress to permit men who refrain from returning their property for taxation, and who bear no share of the public burden, to vote upon a mere claim to be owners of taxable property upon which no taxes have ever been paid.
Very Respectfully,
Albuquerque, N. M., March 31.
NEILL B. FIELD.

CANADIAN GOVERNOR DINED IN NEW YORK

New York, March 31.—Earl and Lady Grey, accompanied by several members of the governor general's staff and a few cabinet ministers, arrived here this morning from Ottawa, Ont. No official display was made upon their arrival and the reception was rather quiet. Earl and Lady Grey were conveyed to the residence on Madison avenue of Mr. and Mrs. Morris K. Jesup, whose guests they will be during their brief visit to this city. This evening they will be the guests of honor at the dinner given in honor of the governor general of Canada at the Waldorf-Astoria by the Pilgrims. In the absence of Bishop Potter, Morris K. Jesup, one of the vice presidents of the Pilgrims, will preside at the dinner.
The dinner will be remarkable for more than one reason. It will be the first entertainment of that nature which Earl Grey has attended either in Canada or in the United States since he has been appointed governor general. Another fact which tends to make the dinner memorable is that on that occasion the final public announcement of the final settlement of all disputes between the Dominion and the United States will be made in an address by Secretary of State Elihu Root.

CONSIDERABLE EXTENT SPIRITUALISM SOUTH

Mexico City, Mex., March 31.—Under the name of National Spiritist congress a notable convention of spiritualists, occultists, theosophists and persons interested in psychic research met here today. This day had been selected for the opening of the conference, because it is the anniversary of the death of Allan Kardec, the famous European spiritualist. Nearly one thousand delegates, representing mostly groups already practicing or investigating spiritualism, are in attendance. Besides these delegates of spiritualistic and theosophic groups there are many individual believers and investigators from all parts of Mexico, Central and South America, with a few from the United States and several European countries.

DISPOSITION OF SOME OPERA CELEBRATES

New York, March 31.—The Metropolitan opera season is drawing to a close and director Conried is already laying his plans for the next season. The plans are gradually assuming more definite shape and Mr. Conried will have most of them mapped out when he sails for Europe on April 24. It is already settled that Miss Elyth Walker will return next year. Miss Schumann-Heink, the contralto, has signed a contract to appear at the Metropolitan in February, after her concert tour. Nordica and Baines have not yet signed, but it is probable both will come to an agreement with Mr. Conried. An offer has been made to Burgstaller to return next season, but he has not yet signed; neither has Mme. Fremstad, who wishes to sing soprano parts and will either go abroad than stay here and sing contralto parts.

DEATH OF H. F. ANDERSON AT BLAND, N. M.

Bland, N. M., March 30.—H. F. Anderson was taken sick about 8:20 o'clock last Sunday evening, March 25, and died at 1 o'clock Monday morning, March 26. His burial took place in Bland Tuesday afternoon, March 27. The deceased was one of the oldest citizens of Bland, having come to this town from Colorado in 1891. Being strictly straight and honorable in his dealings with everybody, he became universally liked by all. He was 71 years old, and left a widow to mourn his death.

ALGECIRAS CEASES AS DISTURBER

Peace of Europe Is Now Assured by Moroccan Agreement.

FRANCE GETS LARGER END

Of What She Contended For and Germany Takes Back Seat.

Algeciras, March 31.—The committee of conference on Moroccan reforms has reached an agreement on all points. This agreement will be sanctioned at a plenary session of the conference this afternoon.
Larger List of Particulars.
The complete accord resulted from a long conference held this morning between M. Ravot, head of the French mission, and Count Von Tattenbach, of the German mission. The division of the Moroccan empire into French and German spheres of influence was arranged as follows:
"Spain, Portugal, Tetuan and La Rache; a Franco-Spanish mixed police will be established at Casa Blanca and Tangier; and the French police force will have charge of Mogador, Safi, Mazagan and Rabat."
This gives France four Atlantic ports. The duration of this police agreement is fixed for five years.

FIRST TRAIN ON SANTA FE CUT-OFF

CROSSED ABO PASS AT NOON TODAY, INTO THE ESTANCIA VALLEY.

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Willard, N. M., March 31.—The spike that clinched the connecting rail on the Santa Fe cut-off between Belen and Espar was driven into place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by a gang of men working in the canyon. The first train to reach here from Belen, crossed Abo pass at Mountain air at noon today and came bowling into Willard at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Its arrival was the event of a great deal of excitement among the people of Willard, who turned out en masse to meet it.

SPOKE TO LARGE AUDIENCE ON STREET

John W. Slayton, the forceful socialist speaker, addressed a large crowd last night on the street corner at Second street and Railroad avenue. Mr. Slayton is one of the leading socialists of the Socialist organization, and his remarks last night, although somewhat radical, from the point of view of those not of the socialist faith, were listened to attentively by those present. He expounded the doctrine of socialism in a clear and forceful manner. Mr. Slayton will speak again tonight, and tomorrow night, at the protest that is being held by his strongest effort. His speeches, or lectures, are on the subject of "Graft, Its Cause and Cure."

CONGRESS SHOWS BUT SMALL LIFE SATURDAYS.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—Today having been a day of the consideration of war claims, there was but slim attendance of members when the house convened. Previous to taking up the calendar, a bill was passed granting to the Capital City Improvement company of Helena, Mont., the right to construct a dam across the Missouri river in Montana.

Senator Tillman announced today he would make his campaign in South Carolina on the issue that state liquor laws must be amended.

The president signed the bill directing the Secretary of the Interior to sell all the timber on the Jicarilla Apache Indian reservation. If allotted, the content of the allotment must be obtained. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Indians. The scheduled conference is dragging slowly.

BALTIMORE ALSO HAS HER AUTOMOBILE SHOW.

Baltimore, Md., March 31.—The automobile show arranged by the dealers of this city will be opened this evening at the Mount Royal garage. The building, although not very large, is admirably adapted for the purposes of such an exhibition and is handsomely decorated and well lighted. The exhibition is quite creditable and includes some of the best exhibits which have been previously shown at the auto shows in New York and Boston.

RAILROAD BUILDING SHIFTS TO NORTHWEST

Chicago, Ill., March 31.—According to statistics prepared by railroad experts here there are now under way in the United States 13,014 miles of new railroads and what are termed "live projects" pending for the building of 6,439 miles more.
At the opening of 1905 the record showed about 7,500 miles of road under construction, and about five thousand miles of "live" were completed during the year. It is said that two-thirds of the entire mileage now under way is being built by thirty-eight companies, an average of 231 miles a company.

SOURCE OF LABOR FOR OUR CANAL

Porto Rico Can Supply Fully 5,000 Able Bodied Men.

ATHLETICS ARE ABANDONED

For Ships of the Navy, in Which the President Was Interested.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—A valuable source of labor for use in the construction of the Panama canal has been discovered in Porto Rico, according to a report made to the war department by Captain B. K. Ashford, assistant surgeon of the army, who has been doing splendid work in the island in exterminating anaemia, and is to return to Washington shortly, and in the mean time is cleaning up his affairs at San Juan. He says that fully five thousand able-bodied men's addresses are with the anaemia commission at Porto Rico. They are natives who have been treated for the disease and are improving. They will have to be decently treated, however, says Captain Ashford, and not placed under harsh bosses. To this end he also suggests that ex-convicted officers of the Porto Rico regiment be employed as section bosses, as they know well how to handle the natives.

DETAILED YEARS AGO.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—The plan for establishing a system of athletics on board ships appears to have been abandoned. A board detailed more than a year ago, composed of three naval officers, including one of the medical corps, has been unable to come to an agreement upon a method of instruction. A tentative text book was provided, but nothing has been promulgated to the service, and, indeed, the board itself has been unable to present a report. It has submitted no report to the navy department. This has excited considerable comment in the service, for the reason that the president took a personal interest in athletic work in the service, and special provisions were made for the instruction of all cadets at West Point and midshipmen at Annapolis. The president found that, while the soldiers had some training in athletics, the sailors and marines on board ship had no regular instruction in that class of work. The naval board was called to prepare a system of training, and it was expected it would be in operation by this time. There is no sign, however, that the board intended to get down to business in the near future.

WILL TRY TO SLIP GENERAL WADE IN.

New York, March 31.—There is considerable talk in army circles of the probable appointment of Major General J. F. Wade, now on duty at Governors Island, as commanding general of the Atlantic division, to the position of a lieutenant general and his retirement as such when General Bates goes on the retired list next month and before General Corbin is appointed. General Wade is doing nothing to that end, his friends say, but will probably be recognized as a long service if he goes on the retired list as a major general. The service is interested in the event, since it gives the chance of promotion all along the line and enables the appointment of another major general and another brigadier general, in which case it is likely that General J. Franklin Bell will become a major general before he assumes the duties of chief of staff.

TRYING TO WITHSTAND THE GREAT COAL STRIKE.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 31.—All the men who can be obtained are being sent to work in the coal mines of the United States Coal corporation, and the company expects to keep all of its plants running full time, regardless of strikes. Last year the company contracted with the Pittsburg Coal company for 8,000,000 tons of coal a year for twenty-five years. This was to have worked out its own holdings. It owns 22,734 acres of coal land and in 1905 mined 2,299,000 tons of coal. The company's stock of fuel has been replenished at all its mines and by the Pittsburg Coal company.

ANOTHER AGED EDITOR FALLS PREY TO DEATH.

Battle, Mont., March 31.—A. B. Keith, Sr., recently editor of the Battle Courier, and one of the prominent newspaper men of the northwest, died here today of heart failure, aged 84 years.

THE GREAT STRIKE IN SPITE OF HOPE HAS COME AT LAST

Tonight More Than Half Million Men Will Quit Their Work When the Day's Task Shall be Concluded.

ONE LARGE STEEL PLANT HAS ALREADY QUIT

Washington Talk That Government, as Last Resort, May Take Charge of Mines and Run Them For Benefit of the People.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—The national executive board of the United Mine Workers of America held a session today to take up in detail the management of the strike, which will be inaugurated in the anthracite and bituminous coal mining districts of the country at the close of work today.
Men numbering 509,500 will leave the mines this evening, not to return until their employers have signed the wage scale demanded by the miners in national convention.
In the central competitive district, composed of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, Monday will be the eighth anniversary of the eight-hour day concession and will be observed, as usual, as a holiday.
Before the board went into executive session today, some of the members said that no strike order will be issued, but that at the close of work today the men will leave the mines with their tools, and will not return until the scale has been signed by the operators, and they have been notified by the district officials. The members of the board said that every step possible will be taken to prevent violence, and a formal declaration of the miners forbidding rioting or destruction of property and urging them to properly conduct themselves, will be issued.

SOME HAVE BEGUN THE GREAT STRIKE TODAY.

Shamokin, Pa., March 31.—Hundreds of miners in this field did not report at the collieries today. The men took all their tools from the workings last night, which indicates that the miners expect a long strike.

NUMBER AFFECTED IN KANSAS COAL MINES.

Pittsburg, Kan., March 31.—Unless the unexpected happens, the mines in the Kansas coal district will shut down tonight. It affects 10,000 miners in 200 shafts.

LARGE STEEL WORKS HAVE ALREADY CLOSED.

East St. Louis, March 31.—The republic Steel company suspended operations today, with the announcement that the suspension is due to the impending coal strike. The plant uses 500 cars loads of anthracite coal a month, and employs 1,500 men. Having no facilities to store a large amount of coal, the company decided not to attempt to continue operations.

OHIO HAS GOODLY NUMBER TO STRIKE.

Columbus, Ohio, March 31.—Estimates today place the number of miners who probably will strike in Ohio, at between 25,000 and 30,000.

GOVERNMENT MAY TAKE CHARGE OF THE MINES.

Chicago, March 31.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says: It is a serious thing to say, yet I believe I am justified in saying that if the strike of the coal miners is permitted to continue to the point where the piled up stocks are practically exhausted, the government of the United States, either through the president or congress, or both, will take action in the interest of the people, constitution or no constitution. This is the feeling among men ordinarily conservative.
They do not believe that congress or the president has the right to dictate terms on which men shall operate mines or miners shall work in mines. They do believe, however, and that opinion was expressed by a high official within the walls of the White House itself, yesterday, that if any such crisis arises, the government will take possession of the mines and operate them for the benefit of the people, turning over the money to the proper owners, but leaving the miners and operators to agree among themselves, if they can.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

CONTINUES UNEARTHING RAILWAY OFFENSES—COUNTY OFFICIALS NOT INDICTED FOR RECEIVING INTEREST ON THE COUNTY FUNDS.

Washington, D. C., March 31.—As a result of the investigation in New York by the Interstate Commerce Commission, of the alleged under-bidding and misdescription of goods by various shippers, it was stated at the office of the commission today, that the present intention is to certify the cases to the department of justice for criminal proceedings, with a view of bringing indictments.

This action, however, will be deferred until after the commission has conducted further hearings in other cities, where it is alleged similar unlawful acts have been committed. At present, it is contemplated by the commission, to examine certain witnesses in Buffalo and Philadelphia, where it is said many of the greater magnitude than those alleged to have been committed in New York and vicinity, have been perpetrated. These latter hearings will be conducted some time in April.

GUILT NOT DOUBTED, BUT NO INDICTMENTS.

Cincinnati, O., March 31.—The grand jury, which had been investigating payment of gratuities and interest to county treasurers by banks in which public funds were deposited, reported today. No indictments were returned. The jury stating that the banks were fully guilty with those supplying the money, but as the money was being recovered by the proper officials, it was not the opinion of the grand jury that it is expedient to bring any indictments connected with the matter.

PASSENGER TRAIN IN DITCH NEAR FULTON

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Las Vegas, N. M., March 31.—A Santa Fe train No. 10, went into the ditch two miles west of Fulton, N. M., this morning at 11:42 o'clock. Three coaches went over the embankment, the engine and the only passenger coach in which any injuries were sustained by the occupants, these being five Mexican laborers. The train was running at about thirty-five miles an hour when a rail turned, causing the wreck. The engine did not go over, but is off the track. The train was in charge of Conductor F. H. Shaffer and Engineer F. E. Donnellson was in the cab. The road will be closed for several hours.

TO THE VOTERS OF ALBUQUERQUE

We, the undersigned, candidates for mayor and aldermen on the Citizens' Non-Partisan ticket, hereby pledge ourselves to the people of Albuquerque, that in case we shall be elected to said offices, and if the proposition to purchase the plant of the Water Supply company is rejected, at the coming election, we will vote and work against the extension of the franchise of the Water Supply company, unless the same shall be first submitted to and approved by the electors of Albuquerque, at an election to be held for that purpose.

We further pledge ourselves to the people of Albuquerque, and promise that in case of our election to said offices, if the proposition to purchase said plant is accepted by the people at the coming election, we will by proper ordinances, place the management and administration of the water works in the hands of an absolutely non-partisan committee or commission, composed of representative business men and citizens, no more than three of whom shall belong to the same political party; that said committee or commission shall be entirely divorced from and placed beyond political influence; and we further agree that all employees of the water works, under city management, shall be under a proper system of civil service, to the end that said property shall have a careful and honest management for the best interests of the city and people.

As the people understand, the acceptance or rejection of the proposition to purchase the water works is to be decided by them at the poll next Tuesday, and the incoming council has nothing whatever to do with passing upon that question.

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by all druggists.

REALTY TRANSFER NOT SO ACTIVE

Record Shows That Only Forty Three Deeds Filed During Month.

Investment Companies Active

March has not been an extraordinary good month for the real estate agents. Although forty-three deeds were recorded, the deals have been small, and not deals that would yield large profits. In fact, no transfer of any note took place during the entire month. There has been one division of the business, though, that cannot complain for the lack of trade, and that is the investment companies' division. While the records show comparatively few warranty deeds coming from the new additions recently opened, it is known that many monthly-payment contracts have been made between the promoters and home builders and speculators of a small caliber.

The following transfers were recorded during the month:

March 2—William M. McClellan to Lucy M. McClellan, lots 13, 14, 15 and 16, block K, Atlantic & Pacific addition, $1.

March 2—Francis Hunsing and wife to Richard Springer, lots 9, 10, 11 and 12, block Q, Atlantic & Pacific addition, $1.

March 3—H. E. Fox and wife to E. H. Dunbar and N. E. Stevens, 1 of 7 and the east 18 feet of lot 6, block 38, Hunsing Highland addition, $1.

March 5—P. H. Lamon and wife to Malissa A. Douglas, lot 1, block 9, Highland addition south, $1.

March 6—William F. Bell and wife to A. H. Wans, the west 20 feet of lot 7, and all of lot 8, block 24, New Mexico Town company's addition, $1.

March 7—Thomas A. Gurule to Hericullano Garcia, lots 1 and 2, block 3, Severo Apodaca addition, $250.

March 7—Thomas A. Gurule and wife to E. A. Salazar, lot 9, block 2, Severo Apodaca addition, $75.

March 7—Henry Gleason and wife to J. L. Perea, east 48 feet of lots 11 and 12, block 9, Hunsing Highland addition, $1.

March 8—Richard Springer and wife to A. L. Martin, lots 2 and 3, block F, Highland addition south, $1.

March 8—Albert Elsemann, et al, to Loyd Hunsacker, lots 1 and 2, block 6, C. W. Lewis addition, $1.

March 8—W. W. Beckett and wife to Effie Williams, lot 7, block 7, Brownell and Lall addition, $10.

March 9—B. Toti and wife to Emil Mann, lots 10 and 11, Powell and Braeger addition, $100.

March 12—C. E. Rice to Harry Benjamin and wife, lots 110 and 111, block 9, P. Armijo & Bros. addition, $100.

March 13—Ben Goldman, et al, to C. M. Foraker, lots 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20, block 2, Romero addition, $1.

March 13—Surety Investment company to Fletcher C. Bullington, lots 5 and 6, block 5, Perea addition, $450.

March 15—B. O. Jaffa to Martha A. Whitcomb, lot 12, block 14, Hunsing Highland addition, $1.

March 15—Lloyd Hunsacker to Antonio Eusebio, lot 3, block C, C. W. Lewis Highland addition No. 1, lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, block J, Highland addition south, $1.

March 17—Ferdinando Valentini and wife to Sarah Jones Smith, lots 13, 14 and 15, block B, Mandell Business and Residence addition, $2,000.

March 19—E. B. Herndon to J. C. Baldrige, the north half of lot 1, block 10, N. T. Armijo addition No. 2, $1.

March 19—Andreas Romero and wife to Jose Sanchez, two pieces of land on west side of Broadway, $1.

March 19—Broadway Land and Investment company to Charles A. Reynolds, lots 7 and 8, block 33, Eastern addition, $1.

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, March 31.—Will shirt-waist suits be worn again this season? This was the question asked me the other day. Indeed they will be worn; and judging by the numbers shown in the shops, and the great variety of suitable materials on exhibition, every woman must be going to have several of them.

Planes are going to be worn both for the smart morning frock with a jacket and also for the shirt-waist suit proper. The majority of the new piques show many styles of cording and patterns and are so woven now that they have become well adapted to tailor cut and finish. Although white piques are so much favored, those in colors are hardly seen at all in the fashionable "make-ups." The trimming most to be used is the eyelet embroidery. Hedbo or Danish cut work, which promises to be as popular as the Hardier of last season.

A smart design on the blouse Eton style was developed in white pique and trimmed with bands of embroidery. The waist was made in blouse style with a double-breasted vest and backward turning fronts to form revers. Bands of embroidery decorate the cuffs of the short sleeves and revers and collar. The graceful skirt is of the popular circular shape with two seams the one at the center of the front being made in Dutchess style. This skirt should be about five yards and a half round with only enough fullness about the waist to form an inverted box-pleat at the back.

Hedbo embroidery in combination with a pretty white of pique was used for a second example of a shirt-waist suit. The skirt was of the nine gored order with an inverted box-pleat back and at each side which is made in Dutchess style to yoke depth an dthe front gore has an in-set of embroidery reaching from the belt to the foot. The waist by means of tucks simulates the Dutchess effect and a panel front of embroidery decorates the front, and the cuffs of the same trim the long close sleeve.

Linen as I have written you before is to be extremely fashionable, and if you have but one new dress have it

TIPS FOR THE HOME MILLINER

There are so many new and startling shapes shown this spring, as well as many older but still popular ones, that it is hard to tell which styles are most popular.

It is seldom, indeed, that one may wear hats with stiff, high crowns or no crowns at all, brims twisted into all sorts of fairs and frills, or no brims at all, and, no matter which style is chosen, feel that it is perfectly "a la mode."

It is safe to say, however, that the wide, flapping brim is somewhat in disrepute. The hats as a rule are smaller and there also seems to be a gradual tendency toward the larger crowns, although, as mentioned before, perfectly crowned models are still in vogue to quite an extent.

Figures 1, 2, 3 and 4 will give some idea of the variety shown in the popular styles.

In viewing the imported models one is very forcibly struck with the evident attention paid to the color "schemes," most of the creations being carried out in various tints of one color, or in beautiful combinations; although some of the flower hats are startling in their daring combination of all sorts of colors.

It is hard to decide what color, or colors, are most popular, but shades of lavender and greens are very much used. In materials, mulline and lace fancy braids easily hold first place, although lace and both plain and fancy straw are very good.

The mulline hats, made by covering a wire frame with several thicknesses of mulline, put on perfectly plain, with a bias binding of the same around edge of the brim, are very pretty and comfortable.

Mulline is also applied to wire frames in tiny ruffles or gathers, but the plain ones are more popular.

The Neapolitan braid is used on many models this year, often in combination with mulline or lace.

Straw retains its usual popularity, that of a smooth surface being preferred to the rougher varieties.

Blue linen was used for a very simple shirt-waist suit and lace motifs were used for its decoration. The skirt like many of the new designs showed pleats in its construction placed in groups and stitched to yoke depth. This skirt which was intended for street wear was quite short in length but had a measurement of six yards about the bottom. The waist was of the plainest cut imaginable but prettily decorated with the lace motifs. Elbow sleeves and a silk belt of a stock of white silk completed the costume.

Linen is also liked for the patching suit, in combination with braid ornaments and cord lacing. The shoulders are long giving plenty of freedom to the arms when used for sports and athletics. A removable shield fills in the open neck, and may be used with or without a high collar. A novel idea is the closing of the skirt on each side of the front gore of the skirt, while the fullness of the back is taken up by an inverted box-pleat. Over the skirt the blouse sags all around and sailor sleeves gather at the wrists under a plain cuff.

Although you see many vivid colors on the counters, do not be deceived by them, "this is to be a white season."

FOR DANCING SCHOOL GIRL

For the last dancing school days an exquisite frock is of sheer French mull finished with Val lace and fine French embroidery.

The skirt is short, barely escaping the knees, full in width and is finished with the dainty embroidery with a narrow row of the Val insertion above it.

The blouse has a narrow, closely shirred vest, which has two inserts of the Val, while the insertion is used on either side of it.

The wide cape collar is made entirely of the lace and embroidery, and the sleeves consist of double cuffs, confined with the embroidered bands.

The white of this delicate frock is unrelieved, a broad soft sash of pure white girldies the waist, while white embroidered silk stockings are worn with old slippers to match.

of which assertion there is ample proof; for the dressmaking parlors of our most fashionable costumers are full of white models and are turning out an unprecedented number of white gowns for all occasions.

Perhaps the favorite material for house-dresses is the Perseus. The ground is almost invariably white over which are strewn the most beautiful patterns in delicate flower shades, conventional designs, etc. Still one does see a few colored Perses, lawn, though they are by no means as beautiful in pattern or coloring as their white competitors. The lawns are particularly used for the fancy blouse.

For lawns and all the thin fabrics now so popular the shirred modes are particularly effective; and a very pretty gown was developed in a white lawn figured in violets with its shawl collar and cuffs of valenciennes lace. The foundation of the skirt was composed of five gores, the front gore formed a panel extending into a hip yoke to which was attached by means of three groups of shirrings, one over skirt made with a slight train.

The waist was shirred model having a lace V and shawl collar and the sleeves were put into the arm holes with groups of shirrings and finished with a shirred cuff and fall of lace.

Dimities made up in empire or princess styles are charming for the shirt-waist suit to be worn as house gowns or small informal affairs on summer afternoons. Flowers, gauges, ribbons are effective garnitures for these dresses.

For an afternoon frock a graceful model was shown in which tucks and plaits were used with good effect. In the waist the tucks at the back and those nearest the front are stitched to the lower edge and the rest end in a yoke depth, the closing being at the left side. The neck was cut in fancy outline disclosing a pretty plastron.

A standing collar finishes the neck, and the short sleeves are drawn in under a narrow band. A crush belt gives a pretty finish to the waist. The skirt was made with eleven gores and the seams to yoke depth are made in duchess style stitched to straps underneath. Slightly gores sections are inserted at the side and front seams and laid in plaits that flare in an effect.

As this was intended solely for housewear there was a considerable amount of a train, but the model would be just as effective without the train and more pleasing perhaps to most women.

While linens and piques are worn for mornings and dimities in the afternoon, flowered organdies and muslins are par excellence, the material for evening gowns, and the makers have been lavish in the grace and artistic beauty of their patterns and the lovely new collar effects. Frilled edged with valenciennes lace will be most popular form of decoration.

Organdy over pink silk was made for a debutante in the popular princess style. The skirt was made with many gores and the fullness about the waist was gathered in to form a corset belt from which the folds fall in graceful lines. The waist was developed from Irish lace with bolero fronts and back of the organdy edged with lace.

The neck was made low and the

WARM WEATHER LINGERIE GOWN

For the coming sultry days a lingerie gown of the most delicate India linen has been made. It has a flounce and pastion and yoke of embroidered linen.

At the foot of the skirt, which is long and full, is a narrow rill. This is finished simply with a hem. Set directly about it is a flounce eight inches in width. This is of the embroidery and at the head of it is two encircling rows of embroidered insertion.

A yoke of the embroidery is about the hips, being deep and pointed in front, and short on the hips. This is of the embroidered linen, and is separated from the full flounce by a band of the insertion. The same effect is carried out on the bodice.

The girldies is of the linen, and is high and carefully boned to give the necessary close fit.

The hat to be worn with this summer gown is a creation of chip, Val lace, a pink rose and a white algrette.

Flowers are used in great profusion this season—so great, in fact, that some of the popular hats really resemble animated gardens.

The most noticeable feature in the up-to-date use of flowers is the daring shown in the combination of many different varieties and colors on the same hat. One of the prettiest combinations along this line is the flower rosette. In this novelty, many different combinations are shown, and some of the color schemes are stunning. In one example seen, the center of the rosette was formed a pink moss rose bud, surrounding this were forget-me-nots, and the border was of violets.

For children's hats the huge daisies made of white ribbon gathered around a yellow center are pretty and effective.

Feathers are used extensively. The large shaded quills are perhaps the most popular trimming for street hats, although wings are still seen on many of the late models.

For dress or semi-dress hats the large algrette is very popular. Shaded plumes are also used effectively, either alone or in combination with flowers, lace or beakles.

The combination of plumes and flowers is especially good this season. The illustration given shows an imported model of pale yellow chip straw, trimmed with wreath of pink roses and a beautifully shaded plume.

sleeves were of elbow length from which falls of lace were the finish. Open neck and short sleeves are the characteristic traits of the new shirt-waist suits. All the skirts except those intended for more ceremonious wear, are made with short skirts graduated in that shortness according to the use to be made of the dress. Low shoes tan, grey, or the again popular white will be worn over beautifully worked stockings. Tuckers will be worn by those who dislike the open throat, and in any case it is well to have one with each dress so made for in this climate so changeable, the open neck dress is often impossible even in summer and especially the evenings.

The little fancy boleros of silk, chiffon or lace and a "happy thought" adjunct to these light-weight dresses to be worn on cooler days and evenings. Some are fastened to the waist, but many are detachable, making them thus far more serviceable and thus changing the whole effect of the dress, a pleasing feature if one has but one gown.

These "change effect" accessories of dress should receive a good deal of attention from every woman who economize for additional collars and cuffs, boleros, etc., are the poor woman's good-send in the matter of nice dressing.

For the shirt-waist suit during the between seasons, many are made of shower-proof foulards, which by the new process used in making them,

FOR THEATER

A theater toleros has the formation of a circular cape, and is created for the late spring days. The material from which it is fashioned is heavy pongee, in the natural tone, and is richly embroidered in a multiplicity of hues, with insets of Russian lace.

The demi-sleeves are scarce more than full flounces.

The modish flare skirt is a hat that harmonizes with this evening affair. The wide brim is arranged, shading through several shades of pink, wreath the crown, and are massed on the bandeau. From the left side of the crown an immense sweeping algrette in soft rose tone.

have become much more serviceable; and a gown made of this material would also do for next winter's wear as well. Another thing that will be widely used this summer is the chiffon taffeta.

A simple gown developed from this last material was yet made elaborate enough for all but the most formal affairs. A fitted lining supported the waist which was laid in fine tucks attached to a round yoke above which shows the shallow tucker and standing collar. The sleeves are laid in tucks from below, the gathered shoulder puff and finished with a cuff.

The modish flare skirt is of seven gores, fitting closely at the top with a measurement of about six yards at the bottom. The costume is further decorated by a fancy embroidered band around the yoke from which extend tails four inches deep, and about the skirt is another band, an dthe six inches above the foot.

For the binding of light colored skirts, a mercerized braid in a large line of colors are now shown. It is softer, lighter and more durable than the woolen or linen braids for summer dress and not so hard on the shoes.

Society News from Iowa.

A very pretty wedding occurred last Wednesday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. Rasmus when their daughter, Edna Viola, was united in marriage to Edward F. Wetherling of Miller.

The marriage ceremony occurred promptly at 12 m. Rev. Quinn performed the ceremony, which was solemn in the extreme. The order of the procession was: The minister, flower girls, bride, groom, bride's maid and best man.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. H. E. Babcock recited "I Love a Truly" Mrs. Wm. Gallagher presided at the organ.

While columns might be written on the many virtues of Mrs. Edna Wetherling, it may all be expressed when we say she is a noble woman and worth the very best of husbands.

Mrs. Wetherling is in the harness business at Miller and is, we understand, doing a good business and abundantly able to support a wife.

After the ceremony and congratulations were over a beautiful dinner, such as only Mrs. Rasmus can serve, was partaken of by over 100 guests.

The bride while blindfolded threw a rose and hit Lewis Melcher good and fair. Lewis may have been funny with the girls herebefore, but he is in dead earnest now, so young ladies look a little out or you will be married before you know it.—Garner's Democrat.

SURPRISE THEIR FRIENDS WITH SECRET WEDDING.
Miss Maude Wolverton and John Lewis, young people prominent in social circles, sprung a surprise on their friends when they announced that they had been married at Maton, Mo., last week. The bride's mother did not even know of the marriage until Thursday morning. The young people have been living at their respective homes where they were married. The bride has been read bookkeeper for the Ogden Mercantile company, at Maton, for two years.

IT IS REPORTED, IN CERTAIN SECTIONS OF THE CITY, THAT WATER SUPPLY COMPANY WILL RAISE THE WATER RATE IF THE BOND ISSUE IS DEFEATED AT THE POLLS. DON'T PAY ANY ATTENTION TO SUCH REPORTS. THE WATER COMPANY IS NOW CHARGING THE MAXIMUM RATES.

Things to Remember

Let the water organ squirm and wriggle and twist as it may, here are some things which the taxpayers of Albuquerque will remember when they go to the polls: The only possible reason why the city should desire to own its own water supply system is that the people of Albuquerque may have cheap and abundant water of the best kind, and that this fact may be used as a chief factor in bringing immigration to this city. Can this be secured by buying the present water plant for $300,000?

Dr. Jones—only hydraulic engineer who has spoken on this question, except Mr. Riffles, whose report on this part of the subject the water company dared not publish—says this: "Throughout the whole of the water discussion, no person has ever been able to definitely show that water could be furnished ANY CHEAPER by the city after purchasing the plant, than what the present company is now doing." Where, then, is there even the pretense for purchase? No wonder Dr. Jones says not only that this has not been shown but adds that "it cannot be shown." Here is expert testimony against fake figures.

Can the present plant and system be made adequate to present demands, at a small cost? Dr. Jones says that the efficiency of the present system has been reached by reason of the "smallness of the chief distributing mains," that this means "the inevitable reconstruction of the whole distributing system," and that the whole $500,000, proposed in the extra issue of bonds, "would not be sufficient to make these changes." It may be said in passing that none of the $500,000 can be used for this purpose, as the contract with the water company, on which the taxpayers are voting, while voting for the bonds, provides that the money resulting from the additional $500,000 of bonds, is to be used for extensions already agreed upon. What, then, can the city do, after buying the plant for $300,000, to make the plant adequate to the needs of extension, which making adequate can be done only by the "reconstruction of the whole distributing system?" This must be done by further votes for additional bonds. In the meantime, the system of distribution must remain as it now is—at the limit of efficiency for distribution. No wonder that Dr. Jones, in view of these facts, which he states on his authority as an able and experienced hydraulic engineer, says that "the city should not buy the present plant at any price, however small."

There is no reason, then, if the plant is inadequate and the price of water cannot be reduced to consumers, that the city should buy at this time, at all. The present franchise has about thirteen years to run, and the company must either comply with the conditions of the franchise or surrender it.

If they surrender, the taxpayers will doubtless remember that Col. Jastro, who spoke from personal experience, said that a plant adequate to the wants of Albuquerque, up-to-date and suitable for needed additions from time to time, can be installed here for not to exceed $100,000, or but one-third of what is asked for the present inadequate plant. It may also be stated that Mr. Blouin and other experienced citizens of Albuquerque have stated that they could supply water to the city, for not to exceed 5 or 6 cents per thousand gallons, and that Dr. Jones says that an abundant supply of excellent water can be cheaply brought from the mountains.

Under these circumstances and all the facts here mentioned, does not common sense say? Let matters stay as they are for the present, as they cannot be improved by buying the present plant, and then the city will be able to avail itself of any future developments.

Why Sell It?

That fine business report on the water works plant is fictitious like all else of Morning Journal origin in this controversy. Their claims arose from skimming the people and skinning the plant. This cannot be kept up. The plant must be maintained and new extensions must be made. The demand for these is imperative. Neither can the company continue to skin the people by the charges now made for water. This the company understands. It knows that its big business is a man of snow which the sunlight or investigation will melt. Hence, the want of the people to buy, provided the company can get $300,000 for the plant.

The second reason why they want to sell is given by Dr. Jones. The plant has reached the limit of its distributing capacity, and has passed that limit in the matter of fire protection. Albuquerque is growing. There must be extension. But in order to extend the present plant must be reconstructed. No man of sense would attempt to build a five story house on a foundation which had been constructed for a one story building. So a water plant which has reached or passed its power of efficient distribution, cannot be extended by simply adding on pipes. This, it is claimed, Mr. Riffles showed in his report. This Dr. Jones, as a hydraulic engineer of experience and ability, says is the condition of the present plant, making it an undesirable purchase at any price; because the reconstruction would be almost as costly as a new plant. This the water company doubtless knows, and this is not the only reason they are so anxious to sell, but also the reason why they so persistently refuse to give the essential facts about their plant.

Buying the Non-Existing

There is one point made by many which is a mistake, which is calculated to mislead. They speak of $250,000 for the plant and $50,000 for "extension." This seems to imply that the amount of $50,000 will be at the disposal of the city council, for such improvement in the present plant as the council may deem to be necessary. Section 8, in the contract of purchase from the water company, and by which the action of the council must be controlled, if the people vote for the purchase, says: "It is further agreed that the said party of the second part shall pay in addition to the sum above provided, the actual cost of the Twelfth street extension heretofore ordered by the city council, and thereafter to be made, and all other extensions and improvements ordered or agreed to by the city council, the valuation and price having been made upon the property as it now stands."

On this, The Citizen can but say, as it said before, that here the city binds itself not only to pay extra for the yet unbuilt extension to the American Lumber company's property, but also to pay for all other extensions and improvements heretofore ordered or agreed to by the city council. How many of the voters know how much these extensions and improvements, for which the city is to pay extra, will amount to?

Some may say: Oh, that is provided for in the $50,000 addition made by the bonds over and above the $250,000 price! But who knows what these extensions and improvements are to be, where they are to be, and what they are to cost? And if they consume the $50,000, how are other equally needed improvements and extensions to be made?

Demand For Figures

For some time The Citizen has been demanding that the water company supply the people with certain definite facts about the plant which they are trying to sell to the city. But these facts and figures have not been forthcoming.

It is true that the city paid half of the expenses of an expert to report on the property, but the most vital part of that report was never published. It is true that a lecture was delivered in favor of the purchase of the plant, but it contained neither the facts nor the figures demanded. It is true that under the continued prodding of The Citizen, three different sources have been found from which a little stream of figures have trickled, like the company's supply of water at a fire. But what of them?

One source was a man "understood" to be in the employ of the water company. Another was a citizen, whose figures were stated to be authoritative, and taken from the books; and the third was from the report of five accountants, whose figures were also taken from the books. But these figures differed very materially, one from another, no two of them agreeing in matters of the greatest importance. And all the while, the water company, though it has the facts, sits back and sprints-like, opens not its mouth.

This may be satisfactory to the enthusiasts, who are willing to buy the plant for $300,000 or for $400,000 or for $500,000, or for any old price, as some have expressed their willingness to do; but it seems to The Citizen very unlikely that the property holders of this town, whether that property be real or personal, will mortgage their possessions for $300,000 in order to buy a thing about which the owners themselves are afraid to give the facts.

The water organ, speaking of The Citizen's course with reference to the water question, calls it "narrow-gauge." The organ spoke wiser than it knew. The Bible calls truth the "narrow path," while deceit, perversion and wrong are the broad way which leads to destruction. The Citizen acknowledges that in all things its purpose is to keep to the narrow-gauge of truth, leaving the broad and wobbling way of duplicity and inaccuracy to the Morning Journal, which has so fully demonstrated its ability in that direction.

Mr. Clancy made a number of good points, but not one of them was more significant or better put than the following: "If the present owners of the water company really desire to sell to the city, they must take steps in some way to convince the average, honest voter of the truth and accuracy of the statements which have been made as above stated. Unless they do this the proposition will be beaten." This refers to the fake figures of the immense business done by the company during the past year.

King Who Sat on

Andersen's Knee

Even the children should find interest in the stern looking king of Denmark. There was a time when he had no cares nor troubles. He was a little lad, and with his sister, who is now Queen of England, was permitted to know and love and be loved by that friend of all children, Hans Andersen.

Andersen, you know, knew all about fairies. He had seen the little people. He was on terms of intimacy with goblins, and flowers that could talk, and the elves that drank dew from buttercups and danced on moonbeams.

The prince of story writers was also a prince of story tellers, and Frederick and Alex, whom he loved, would stand by his knee while he told the wonderful tales that have since delighted children around the world.

And before he died, Hans Andersen was able to take in his arms the first born of the Princess Alexandra, and the stories that he had told her as a child have since been repeated by her to her children, for the children of monarchs love fairy stories just as well as do the children of the lowly.

Canada Sends Back

American Silver

Special Correspondence to The Citizen: Washington, D. C., March 31.—The United States treasury is soon to be called upon to redeem a million dollars worth of silver money, mostly half-dollars, quarters and dimes, which have been circulating in Canada. The Canadians are going to send this money home. They have decided not to use American money any more.

Until recently, American silver money has been welcome in Canada. Our northern neighbor had no mint and the cost of sending silver bullion to London to be minted, made it cheaper to use Uncle Sam's coinage as it strayed across the line. But Canadian money does not circulate in the United States, as the Canadians learned when they visited the expositions at St. Louis and Portland; and the Canadians were annoyed to have to exchange to get American money. So they started an agitation for a Canadian mint. Their parliament responded promptly, and now there is a mint in Ottawa rapidly approaching completion.

Planting in Shady

Spots in Garden

What to plant in the shady part of the garden, or in the garden which is all in the shade, as it often the case in the city, is a question that perplexes many. There are few flowers which do not require sunshine during some part of the day. The most suitable material for planting in the shady places is found in the wild flowers, many of which are extremely handsome and easily cared for.

The Solomon seal, cantenbury bells, may-apple, spiderwort, bleeding heart, violets and columbines are among the best wild flowers. Then the ferns may be relied upon as the best shade-loving plants we have. Our native maidenhair does well in thoroughly drained situations. And there are many cultivated flowers which like best the places where they are protected from the sun's rays.

Forget-me-nots, with their delightful sky blue flowers, the little bell-shaped, compact bushes six inches high, and the improved variety of the cardinal flower, known as the Queen Victoria, are among them. The latter is an exceptionally fine flower for damp, shady places, and its extraordinary coloring makes it attractive. Arabis alpina is a very pretty annual flower for early spring, of dwarf habit and white flowers. Ordinarily the shady spots should be well drained and have plenty of light, rich soil, of which a leaf mold and sand are generous parts.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Nine-tenths of the peasants in Russia live in huts without floors and too low for a tall man to stand in. A hyacinth can be easily colored a delicate pink by putting the stem in a bottle of red ink, and leaving it there for an hour.

The population of Egypt, on July 1, 1904, was 122,447 foreigners and 10,256,425 natives, besides about 602,000 nomadic Bedouins.

The number of students in the twenty-two universities of Germany this winter is 42,300. Berlin has nearly a fifth of them, 8,081.

The THEATER

A well filled house, mostly women and children, greeted Charles B. Hanford, the popular delineator of Shakespearean roles, this afternoon, at the matinee performance of "The Merchant of Venice." Mr. Hanford's interpretation of the great character study, the miserly and revengeful Jew, "Shylock," was a masterpiece. Though swayed at times by the human emotions that find a place in every being of mankind, his cruel passions, in all their hideous development, were so well portrayed by Mr. Hanford this afternoon as to make the audience shiver, while the writer personally, thinks that Mr. Hanford's selection for the matinee was not as happy a choice as would have been the comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew," which is to be presented tonight, the magnificence of his acting in this great bit of character work is not to be gainsayed. Mr. Hanford was never better than he appeared this afternoon, and the audience was entirely responsive to every mood and passion depicted from the footlights. He makes of "Shylock" everything that Shakespeare intended the character to represent. And here a word for his leading lady, Miss Drofah, who, he knows to the uninitiated, is none other than the great actor's wife, Mrs. Hanford, her stage name merely being her own name spelled backwards. As Portia, Miss Drofah is equally deserving of recognition and praise, and the character she interprets, in marked contrast to that of "Shylock," calls forth from the audience the full sentiment of the part deserves to receive. Of striking personal charms, and a stage presence that is all her own, Miss Drofah, attired in the lavishness of the Venetian period, makes of Portia a regal presence. In her stately apartments she is of queenly appearance, but more appealing is her manner and voice, when, in the famous court scene, Portia, as a learned doctor, pleads with the heartless "Shylock" for mercy for "Antonio," and still more effective is she, when in the name of justice and the majesty of the law she interprets the legal sense to the undoing of the miserly Jew, even to the technicalities upon which he depended to win. The support of Mr. and Mrs. Hanford was also good. Alexander McKenzie and John M. Kline as "Antonio" and "Lorenzo" respectively, are happily cast, and their heroic bearing in their hour of adversity never fails to win the plaudits of the audience, while in their lighter scenes of love they are just as effective. Scenes of love they are just as effective. Scenes of love they are just as effective. Scenes of love they are just as effective.

Tonight Mr. Hanford and his excellent supporting company will be seen in that delightful little comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew," which is conceded to be the most pleasing of all the Shakespeare comedies. Petruchio, interpreted by Mr. Hanford, fully determined to subdue the vicious character of Katherine, which character Miss Drofah portrays in a manner thoroughly effective, storms around in a manner that keeps the audience in a constant succession of laughs. At first the stubborn and vicious shrew, Katherine, is as fully rebellious as is Petruchio determined, but in the end, as it must be in the same case in real life, Petruchio, after he has turned the house topsy-turvy, cracked his whip many times, and completely subdued the shrew, makes of Katherine a dainty and lovable as well as dutiful wife, and the audience, as the curtain descends upon the last act, feels assured that in the future, Petruchio will be the master of the household. The advance sale for tonight's performance has been unusually large and the house will not be packed. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:45 o'clock.

"WHAT WOMEN WILL DO."

"What Women Will Do," said to be the most wonderful sensational play on tour this season, is booked to appear at the Elks opera house on Tuesday, April 2. The piece comes well recommended from all the larger cities where it has been this season. The play is from the pen of the well known author, Harry Jackson, whose reputation as a playwright is well established. The play deals with a clever study of everyday life, in which love, sensation and adventure play an important part, also some marvelously wonderful stage craft is introduced, and the sensational storm at sea, in which a life-size boat is turned upside down in full view of the awestruck audience, and the leap for life from the high cliff, a desperate death struggle, the life saving station, and many hair-raising effects and scenes should give scope for the audience to remark and admit that it is without doubt the most interesting play looked at this popular playhouse this season. The attraction should draw large houses. It is under the management of Holden Bros., who used to introduce to the theater-going public.

Woman's Club Entertains in Royal Manner—The Program.

PLANS FOR NEW CLUB HOUSE

The first musical of the season given by the Woman's club of Albuquerque, took place yesterday afternoon at their rooms in the Commercial club building, with a large number of the members of the club and their guests present. The affair was an invitation event, but each member of the club was allowed the privilege of inviting two guests other than the members of the club, with the result that when the first number on the program, arranged by the music committee, of which committee, Mrs. Ira D. Cassidy is chairman and Mesdames Drury and Washburn members, a piano solo, executed by Miss Irene Bixler, was played, the club rooms were crowded to the doors.

Following the piano solo of Miss Bixler, who responded to an encore, came Mr. Cassidy, who rendered a solo in place of Mrs. Harrison, who was detained at home with illness. Miss Bowers gave a recital with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Cassidy, of "Non Ti Scordar di Me," followed by a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy, entitled, "I Have Lived and Loved Thee." Mr. Bowers then rendered a piano solo, followed by Miss Elodie Vignarri, with a piano selection, "The First Star," who was succeeded on the program by Mrs. Washburn with a vocal solo. Mrs. Cassidy then read a paper on "How Beethoven was Inspired to Write 'Moonlight Sonata,'" with piano accompaniment by Prof. Krebs. The next number on the program was a vocal solo, by Miss Ada Campbell, followed by a piano duet by Miss Bowers and Mrs. Drury, after which the program came to an end with the reading of Riley's "Romance," by Mr. Charles Horton.

The names of those participating in the program are evidence sufficient that the musicals are a treat from start to finish, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed by those present, goes without saying. At the close of the program dainty refreshments were served to the assembled guests.

One of the officers of the Woman's club announced yesterday that the officers were now receiving bids for the construction of a modern, up to date club house for their organization, the building to be erected upon the two fifty-foot lots the club has purchased on Gold Avenue, opposite the Casa de Oro, and to cost about $50,000. It is understood that the building will be constructed of pressed brick, with stone trimmings, and contractors are now examining the plans and specifications with a view to submitting their bids on the work. The building will be a one-story affair, with an architectural design handsome in the extreme. It will contain a large ball room, two spacious club rooms, a large reception hall and a spacious and well equipped kitchen, for the domestic sciences occupy a large place in the sphere of the Woman's club.

Just how soon work will be commenced upon the structure, the officer of the club who gave out the above information, was not prepared to state.

POLICE COURT

The gist of the police court was rather light this morning, only one case being up before Police Judge Crawford. Tom Kent, arrested at the Zeiger cafe last evening for intoxication and disturbing the peace of Jim Johnson, the prosecuting witness, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, amounting in all to $10. The complaining witness also swore to a complaint against Kent, charging that Kent had defrauded him out of a back bill amounting to $6.40, which, in the territory, is a misdemeanor. Kent, on promise to settle up, however, was not prosecuted on this charge.

In the case of Frank Steffen, proprietor of the Merchants' restaurant, who sued to recover rent in the amount of $16 from Mr. and Mrs. Shipley, claiming that the above amount was due him by Mrs. Shipley for rent for the month of March, the court withheld its decision, taking the case under advisement. According to Steffen, the woman owed rent, on a contract entered into some time ago, for the month of March, and he sued the above mentioned parties jointly. At the hearing this morning, he was represented by Attorney Wilkerson. It was shown that the contract was entered into with Steffen by Mrs. Shipley, nee Maestas, before her marriage with Shipley, which took place March 5, the attorney holding that the husband was not responsible for the wife's debts prior to that date. There seems to be much conflicting law on this question, and Police Judge Crawford took the matter under advisement.

EVEN GALLUP IS INTERESTED IN OUR FIGHT

In a private letter to The Evening Citizen, a subscriber at Gallup writes as follows:

"The Citizen has the right ring in its columns. Your long list of subscribers here in Gallup approve of your course as to the battle you are fighting in behalf of the people of Albuquerque, to prevent the taxpayers of your town from being saddled with oppressive taxation, which would undoubtedly be the result, if the water plant is purchased."

INSANE IN LOS ANGELES

Former Albuquerque Woman Mentally Deranged From Worry

OVER DEATH OF DR. CROSSEN

With a damp towel wrapped entirely around her head, her bare feet immersed in a foot-tub filled with water, and her body entirely divested of clothing, Mrs. Francis Crossen, widow of Dr. Francis Crossen, who, prior to his death in Los Angeles, a few months ago, was a practicing physician in this city for a number of years, was found at her home at No. 416 South Grand avenue, in Los Angeles, by neighbors, yesterday, sitting patiently awaiting, according to her explanation, for the appearance of the soul of her husband, which, she stated, had taken the form of a mummy. She was immediately removed to a hospital, where the doctors in attendance stated that her mind was seriously affected, through worrying over the death of her husband.

While the neighbors, who had been attracted to Mrs. Crossen's apartments by mysterious chattering and the sound of weird words, which Mrs. Crossen had been uttering since early daybreak, were waiting for the appearance of the mummy, Mrs. Crossen, who was endeavoring to compel Mrs. Crossen to assume street apparel, she broke away from the restraining hands of her neighbors, and snatching sheets from the bed, wrapped her body in them, and laying prone upon the floor, with her hands clasped, announced that she was ready to pass into the form of a mummy, that she might so join her dead husband.

Dr. and Mrs. Crossen were well known in Albuquerque, he having come here from Santa Fe, where he had been a practicing physician, and engaged in the practice of medicine, continuing therein for seven or eight years. He was a graduate of medicine from a New York college, and was considered an authority on tuberculosis, from which he had himself long been a sufferer. He was the author of a lengthy and scientific treatise on consumption. Both he and Mrs. Crossen were ardent spiritualists, having been converts to that belief for many years. After leaving here, Dr. Crossen removed to Los Angeles, Cal., and later to Los Angeles, where he finally succumbed to the "dread white plague" after a heroic fight, extending over a long period of years. Mrs. Crossen has one child, a son, Frank, about 14 years of age. She has many friends in Albuquerque, who will learn with regret of her unfortunate condition and will wish her a speedy recovery to her normal condition.

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM BERNALILLO

MUCH SICKNESS AMONG THE PEOPLE HERE DUE TO THE RESIGNATION OF FATHER COUDERT.

Special Correspondence: Bernalillo, N. M., March 30.—There is a great sickness in town. Rev. J. M. Coudert is very ill, while Mrs. J. M. Castillo, who was very ill, is feeling much better, although not yet considered entirely out of danger. Hon. Pedro Castillo, one of the commissioners of Sandoval county, is very sick. He has had several attacks of paralysis, and after the last one, which was on Wednesday, he could not speak for at least ten hours. His attending physician, Dr. Lund, fears that he cannot live but a few days.

Notwithstanding we are having heavy frosts, every night, the fruit raisers are yet hopeful of a big crop of all kinds of fruit, the coming summer; also vegetables and grains.

Many citizens are complaining of malaria. Malaria is just the prevailing disease here, due to the malarious water from the very severe attack of malaria and fever.

Father Anthony Jovens, who is to succeed Father Coudert, has not arrived, on account of sickness at Tierra Amarilla. All the people of Bernalillo and immediate vicinity regret the resignation of Father Coudert, but on account of continued sickness, he found it absolutely impossible to attend to his duties in the parish. He is universally loved by members of his church and it is hoped that he may be restored to good health again.

HANFORD ON FIRST VISIT TO ALBUQUERQUE

GREAT ACTOR RECEIVES NEWS OF FAILING HEALTH OF HIS FATHER IN WASHINGTON.

Charles B. Hanford and his company arrived from El Paso this morning. Mr. Hanford's leading lady came also, and all one has to do to get her name is to spell Hanford backwards, with Marie in front of it.

Twenty-four years ago at New London, Conn., Mr. Hanford began his theatrical career, as Salanio, in the same play he gave at the opera house this afternoon—"Merchant of Venice." Sixteen years ago he was supporting the celebrated Modjeska, with the Booth & Barrett company. He doesn't show his 47 years, though cold stages and midnight trains have been his battles for more than half the time.

"I am a little uneasy about my father," said the actor, at the Alvarado, this morning. "I received a special letter telling me that he was quite ill, and I fear the worst, as the old gentleman is now in his 84th year. He is living in Washington, D. C."

"I expect there are some oldtimers in this country who remember the old gentleman," said the actor. "He came west in the rush of '49, and was a member of the firm of Hanford & Downs, who carried on an extensive trade with the Indians of the southwest. Your curio stores here remind me of a story he told me once of buying several wagon loads of beads to sell to the reds. His partner laughed at the amount he had purchased, and prophesied that they would never sell them all. The beads, however, proved a good investment, and more were purchased, with the same profitable result."

Mr. Hanford has been to the coast many times previous to this trip, which he is just returning from, always going the northern or southern routes. This is his first trip to Albuquerque.

RESIGNATIONS AND APPOINTMENTS

FRED FORNOFF BECOMES CAPTAIN OF MOUNTED POLICE TOMORROW, VICE, JOHN F. FULLERTON, RESIGNED—C. E. NEWCOMER, A DEPUTY UNITED STATES MARSHAL.

Tomorrow, April 1, the present captain of the New Mexico mounted police, John F. Fullerton, will hand over the captaincy to Deputy United States Marshal Fred Fornoff, of this city. Mr. Fornoff is now in Santa Fe, ready to take charge of the position. It has been rumored that the headquarters of the mounted police, upon the retirement of Captain Fullerton, would be moved to Santa Fe, and as the headquarters of the force would be in the capital, the rumor will in all probability be substantiated, although it is understood that the incoming captain would like to have the headquarters of the force moved to this city, claiming that Albuquerque is more centrally located, and that this place would afford a more generally accessible point from which to conduct operations. As yet the matter has not been definitely settled.

With the resignation of Deputy United States Marshal Fred Fornoff, who retires from the United States marshal's office to accept the position of captain of the mounted police, comes the announcement that C. E. Newcomer, for the past three months superintendent of the Albuquerque Traction company, has handed in his resignation as superintendent, to take effect at once, he having been appointed to fill the place in Marshal C. M. Foraker's office, made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Fornoff. Mr. Newcomer, through his long connection with the office of undersheriff of Bernalillo county, is thoroughly qualified for his new position. As yet, no appointment has been made to fill the vacancy of superintendent of the Traction company, but President Greer is expected to arrive in the city next Monday, and the position will probably be filled immediately upon his return.

ENTERTAINMENT YESTERDAY AND LAST EVENING

MISS GAY FRANK ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF SEVENTEENTH BIRTHDAY—LADIES OF WOODMEN'S CIRCLE SURPRISE MRS. CARL HOPPING.

A number of the ladies of the Woodmen's Circle yesterday afternoon returned to the ranch home of Mrs. Carl Hopping, just this side of the stock yards, and agreeably surprised that lady, who although taken unawares, sufficiently recovered to serve her unexpected guests with a dainty luncheon during the course of the afternoon. The table was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and at 6 o'clock in the evening the ladies returned to the city, completely tired out, but happy, withal, for the inimitable manner in which they had been entertained by their charming hostess.

Miss Gay Frank was the hostess to a number of her friends yesterday evening at her home, No. 291 North Second street, the occasion being that lady's seventeenth birthday. About thirty-five guests were present to partake of the hospitalities of the young hostess, and the evening was delightfully spent in music and parlor games. The house was tastefully decorated for the event in pink and white, and during the evening dainty refreshments were served, the same color scheme being carried out in the table decorations.

Miss Frank was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, during the evening, and at a late hour the guests departed, wishing their hostess many happy returns of the day.

THE AMERICAN BATTLESHIPS ARE ALL BACK NUMBERS

ENTIRE FIGHTING FLEET MUST BE REBUILT WITHIN SIX YEARS
—MAMMOTH NEW TYPE OF WARSHIP HAS THE CALL.

WANTED, WARSHIPS.

The specific request of the secretary of the navy is for:
Ten new battleships.
Two new armored cruisers.
An indefinite number of torpedo boats, destroyers, scouts, river gunboats and colliers.
Each of the battleships is to be of the type costing $7,500,000 apiece.

ONE MAGNIFICENT VESSEL, NOW CONSIDERED OBSOLETE.
Battleship Kearsage, sister ship of the battleship Kentucky, built in 1896, 11,724 tons displacement, 17 knots, 11,788 horse-power, cost $2,250,000, carries four 13-inch, four 8-inch, fourteen 5-inch guns.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The United States must build an entirely new navy within the next six years. The present fighting fleet must be put out of commission and a new one substituted, composed of up to date warships.

This, it is learned on excellent authority, is the real opinion of President Roosevelt and of Secretary Chas. J. Bonaparte.
The fighting fleet consists today of seventeen vessels, nearly all of which are out of date, or rapidly becoming so. Unfortunately ten of these seventeen are of the monitor type. It is recognized by all experts that the limitations of the monitor, with its low freeboard, its limited steaming radius, and its few guns, cause it to be quite outclassed by the modern battleship. The other seven vessels of the fighting fleet are four first class and one second class battleships and two armored cruisers.

Amusingly as it may seem these battleships are now universally conceded to be small and slow.

No Security Felt.
From the cautiously worded recommendations of the last presidential message it was assumed by many people that the administration regarded the present naval strength as sufficient. How far this assumption is from the truth is seen from the urgent recommendations made to the house committee on naval affairs by Secretary Bonaparte in person. He confided his opinion that the time has come for congress to authorize the construction of twelve vessels of the largest and most perfect kind for the fighting fleet, with such vessels of a smaller and supplemental character as would naturally go with such a primary squadron.

This program contemplates the expenditure of no less than $150,000,000 for new warships alone. As much more will necessarily be needed for additional facilities for repair, docking and construction.

Dewey Wants Big Ones.
Admiral Dewey has just recommended that at least 20,000-ton battleships, with ten 12-inch guns each, should be authorized at once. He also favors extensive experiments with submarine boats for harbor defense.

All nations have about come to the conclusion that the battleship is to be the fighting instrument of the future. This type of warship is a combination of the monitor, the gunboat and the unprotected cruiser. It is a combination of the heaviest possible guns, heaviest possible armor and greatest possible speed and steaming radius. In eight years the modern battleship has developed almost as rapidly and radically as the automobile. Some of the foreign nations, and one of them is Japan, are said to be planning to construct battleships of over 18,000 tons displacement, and Great Britain has already launched one of that size.

Must Make Haste.
The estimate of $121,500,000 asked for the coming year includes only two new battleships. As it takes from three to five years to build a modern battleship, and as the new raft must be ready within six years, to replace the old, it is evident that what is not authorized at this session of congress will have to be by the next.
While on official admissions have been made, there is a feeling that under existing conditions, with the few vessels that can be spared from the Atlantic fleets, there is practically nothing left to make any real resistance if trouble should come with Japan or with any of the nations maintaining considerable fleets in oriental waters.

CALLS MOTHER IN AGONY OF DEATH

MRS. PEARL SLOAN IS SHOT BY COMPANION IN REDLIGHT DISTRICT OF TRINIDAD.

Lying on the floor in the agonies of death, Mrs. Pearl Sloan died in a house of ill repute, of which she was an inmate, Thursday morning, and the last words on her lips were "mother," says a dispatch from Trinidad, Colo.
Mrs. Sloan, while going under the name of Pearl Nash, was on inmate of Kittle Lindsay's resort, and Thursday morning, early, she, together with Bert Anderson, Mamie Ladd and Louis Sweeney, were in a room together, drinking. Sweeney had a 32 caliber revolver, which he had placed on a dresser.

Anderson picked up the revolver, and whirled it on his finger a few times, then pointing it at the Sloan woman, thinking the weapon was unloaded. There was one cartridge in it, however, which exploded, and the bullet passed through the Sloan woman's abdomen. She fell to the floor and expired within fifteen minutes.
All the inmates of the house were placed under arrest. A coroner's inquest was held, and a verdict was returned to the effect that the shooting was accidental. Anderson, who shot the woman, was released from jail.

The maiden name of the dead woman was Pearl Nash. She was born in Durango, and had a mother and three brothers residing in Pueblo. She also had a little son, who is living with her mother. Mrs. Sloan had been to Pueblo, on a visit, for several days, and had just returned from there.

Mrs. Sloan came here with her husband, a little over two years ago. Shortly after arrival here, her husband left her, and is now living in Raton. He refused to come here today, when notified of his wife's death. After her husband left her, she worked as a waitress for a few months, when she entered a house of ill repute. The remains will be shipped to Pueblo, where the funeral will be held.

GALLUP NOMINATES INDEPENDENT TICKET

And Adopted the "Star" as the Emblem For That Party This Election.

THE PLATFORM AND CANDIDATES

Special Correspondence.
Gallup, N. M., March 30.—The Independent party of the citizens of Gallup in convention assembled, hereby declare that the object of this organization is to secure an honest, efficient and economical administration of the affairs of our town, and we confidently appeal to the electors of Gallup, irrespective of party, to support us on the following platform of principles:

We are opposed to the election of city councils or town boards of trustees by the legislature.

We pledge our candidates for mayor and board of trustees, if elected, to petition the next legislature on behalf of the people of Gallup for the repeal of chapter 47 of the laws of 1905, which applies the election method of cities to towns and villages, and if the petition is denied, to pass an ordinance redistricting the town into two precincts or wards, instead of four, as at present.

We are opposed to the granting of public franchises for a long term of years.

We are opposed to the granting of public franchises for any purpose unless the question is submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the town and approved by a majority.

We are opposed to the granting of contracts for any purpose extending beyond the next succeeding election, unless the question is submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the town and approved by a majority.

We are in favor of the holding of two salaried offices by one person.

We are in favor of the municipal ownership of public utilities, and pledge our candidates if elected, to do everything in their power to provide an ample supply of water for the town at reasonable rates.

We are in favor of a square deal to every one and a special privilege to none, and pledge our candidates, if elected, to decide every question that comes before them in accordance with this principle and in the interest of the common welfare of the people of our town.

The following ticket was nominated:
For Mayor—E. M. Sanjule.
For City Clerk—W. F. Kuchenbecker.

For City Treasurer—John S. Bowie.
For Aldermen—John Wexelberger and Louis Meyers, for First ward; S. M. Brown and George Kraker, for Second ward; John Schauer and J. M. Jacobsen, for Third ward; Peter Kitchen and John Rains for Fourth ward.
For School Trustees—J. M. Carman and John Myrick for the First ward; W. L. McVicker and James Wells, for the Second ward; Simeon Frost and J. W. Swartz, for the Third ward; John Kennedy and Joseph Kuhn, for the Fourth ward.

The convention adopted the star as the emblem, and the ticket is known as the "Citizens' Independent Ticket."

CARD FROM J. H. O'RIELLY & CO.
Their Liberal Offer to Treat Worst Case of Catarrh in Albuquerque.

To the Editor.
For some time we have had an opportunity to watch the results following the use of Hyomel, a treatment for catarrh, that cures by breathing medicated air, absolutely without any stomach dosing. The results have been so remarkable that we feel justified in making a public offer to treat the worst case of catarrh in Albuquerque with the understanding that if Hyomel does not cure it will cost absolutely nothing.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs only $1, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomel. Should this not be enough for a cure, extra bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50 cents.

We hope this offer will be accepted by many of your readers. Very truly yours,
J. H. O'RIELLY & CO.

You May Buy or You May Wait

But Things MUST Come Our Way!

You'll Have to, Also!

YOU May Think We Are SPECULATING

WE Know We Have a "GOOD THING"

Remember: That WE can afford to wait, but YOU cannot; in growing cities, the best residences are seldom built on the low lands. That we are the sole owners of the only heights overlooking the center of the city and which, covering over fifty square blocks, are but eight blocks distant from the heart of the business district. That, having held this tract intact for years, we now are offering it for residence purposes only, and that our deeds will exclude, for all time, all factories, stores, saloons, boarding houses, etc. That we are expending in improvements over FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS and TWO YEARS WORK and, at our own expense, are grading the lots and streets, building cement walks and planting trees. That we own our own water plant and will furnish you from deep wells, an ample supply of soft water at a price lower than the present rates. That the entire tract will be graded to a gentle slope, permitting to every residence the Best of Drainage, Broad, Low Terraces, and a Magnificent View of the Mountains, Mesa, City and Valley. That here you are above the dust and the dirt—or mud—the smoke and the noise of less favored localities. REMEMBER THAT:

The Natural Advantages We Had—We Made the Artificial!

That SILVER AVENUE, and its adjacent blocks, the only street now ready, the CREAM OF THE ENTIRE ADDITION, will be the FINEST IN ALL NEW MEXICO OR ARIZONA. That, beginning at one park and ending at another, and also parked on both sides throughout its entire length, it is a boulevard eighty feet broad, lying on the crest of the highest ground in the tract.

That on this avenue a thirty-foot building line is imposed, that the lots are sold only in sites of 100x132 feet, that no dwelling may cost less than $4,000, and that the purchaser insures to himself and his heirs, his home amid beautiful residences and the quiet and refinement of such surroundings. That the sixty sites of this avenue are so advantageously situated that nothing similar can ever again be offered in the City of Albuquerque.

Also Remember That the Majority of the Directors of this Company Have Bought Here and Expect to Build at Once.

RAILROAD NOTES

Engineer B. P. Stanton of the second district, and Engineer Snell of the first district, have traded seniority and each taken their respective runs.

F. H. Mudge, field engineer for the Santa Fe on the Belen cut-off, arrived from Belen this morning. Mr. Mudge says that trains will be running through from Belen to Eppis tomorrow.

A notice has been posted in the local yardmaster's office, stating that employees who are furnished in the future will not be suspended, but any employee furnished to exceed three times, in twelve months, will be discharged. No exceptions will be made.

The Raton reporter says: Fireman Loring Colp, who sustained injuries to his head and other injuries, caused by jumping from a car on the Santa Fe, Raton & Eastern which was toppling over, while coming down Sugarite canyon, Tuesday, February 27, succumbed to his injuries Thursday night.

George F. Baer, president of the Reading railroad, had a strenuous few minutes when his private car, "Philadelphia," caught fire, while the coal king was aboard, at Philadelphia. Though the blaze was easily extinguished, with trifling damage, there was much excitement for a time. Mr. Baer took things coolly, and helped to fight the flames.

NEW SPECIAL AGENT ARRIVES AT ROSWELL

Frank Grygla of Santa Fe, a special agent in the service of the United States general land office, arrived at Roswell, to take up the work that has been under the direction of Grosvenor Clarkson on the alleged land frauds in the valley. He will assist Mr. Clarkson in the work, and expects to be in Roswell and vicinity for at least a month. Mr. Grygla was stationed in Roswell three years ago.

The other morning, a man named Walter Sims, who was heading his way east on a freight train, was badly injured at Crozier, Arizona. In attempting to get off the train he jumped off a bridge, falling about thirty feet. He landed on his feet, severely straining himself. The freight train took him on to Seligman, where the company's surgeon, Dr. W. C. King, examined him. He was taken back to Kingman, the county seat, on No. 1, and turned over to the county for treatment.

Railroad passengers now report that the spring tide of tourist travel is setting in towards the east. Thousands of people who have been spending the winter on the coast are now planning to return home for the summer, and are making inquiry as to routes. In fact, many people are already moving east, so that the east-bound trains are not running as empty as they did for a time last month. The western travel, under the colonist rates, continues, every train being well loaded with people who are heading toward the Golden Gate.

"Red neckties are always worn by foreign brakemen and conductors. Ever notice it?" said a railroadman. "No, why is it?" "As a safety device," was the reply. "These red neckties that flash upon your gaze on the railroads in Italy, France, Germany and England, are not a sign that the people have a gay taste, but that they are cautious and prudent. They are supplied free by the railroad companies for use as danger signals in emergency. Thus, no matter when or where an accident happens, there is no need to search or scramble for a red flag. The brakeman whips off his red necktie and waves it frantically aloft."

SUCCESSOR TO FRANK N. RISTEEN IS NAMED

W. P. Buck has been appointed to the position of mechanical superintendent of the eastern grand division of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, with headquarters in Topeka, to succeed the late Frank N. Risteon, who died at his home in Topeka, the other day.

Mr. Buck has been in the service of the Santa Fe for some years, and has been employed of late as the master mechanic of the Arizona division of the system, with headquarters at The Needles, Cal. His appointment to the mechanical superintendency of the eastern grand division, the duties of which position he will take up on April 1, was made by Alfred Lovell, superintendent of motive power of the company, with the approval of James E. Hurley, general manager of the system.

Although Mr. Buck has been in the service of the company for some time, he has never worked on the eastern end of the system. He has made an

ROOSEVELT GIVES ORDERS TO MAKE RENEWED EFFORTS TO PUT THE TRUST PACKERS IN SPIRITS—SECRET HISTORY OF THE LAST FAILURE LETS GARFIELD OUT—AN APPEAL ON IMMUNITY.

Washington, March 31.—The war on the beef trust is to continue. President Roosevelt has given orders that an entirely new start be made. New evidence is to be gathered, new indictments secured, a new judge selected to try the cases, and every effort will be made to put the criminal packers into stripes.

It is freely admitted that the end of the past three years' campaign is a complete fizzle. For the moment, at least, the packers are completely triumphant. The government has no heart inrest in pushing criminal cases against the packing corporations. A fine or two, more or less, will mean nothing to the beef trust. On the face of things it would appear that James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations, was chiefly responsible for the failure of the government cases against the Chicago packers. Such, however, is not the case. Some inside history, which may now be told, shows Garfield to be entirely guiltless.

It is now learned from unquestioned sources that Commissioner Garfield's famous report on the beef trust was all a "blind." It was made with the full knowledge and belief that its statements were misleading and mostly untrue.

It now appears that congress was the innocent cause both of Garfield's fake report and also of the "immunity" complication which resulted in the escape of the beef trust officials. Representative E. W. Martin of South Dakota, in his zeal to get after the packers, and his ignorance of the fact that President Roosevelt had already set the department of justice to secure indictments, introduced a resolution demanding that the bureau of corporations make an inquiry into the beef trust to see if they were violating the anti-trust law. The house passed it instantly.

Getting evidence for criminal prosecutions necessitates a still hunt. That was the kind Roosevelt and Moody wanted. They could not head off or refuse the Martin inquiry without flushing their game.

So, at a council of war, Garfield was instructed to make a perfunctory investigation of the trust. This was all he could do without invoking the compulsory powers of the law, and to invoke the compulsory powers would furnish the packers immunity from the criminal cases which were being prepared. The possibility that the packers might claim immunity was clearly foreseen, and every precaution was taken.

How then did the government lawyers come to fall into this legal pit? The answer of Attorney General Moody is that he did not. The brand of law which furnished freedom to the packers on the immunity plea, he claims, is not the law.

If the case could go to any higher court, it is the firm conviction of President Roosevelt and Attorney General Moody that the decision would be promptly overruled.

The plan therefore is to ask congress to pass a law to permit the government to appeal decisions in certain federal court criminal cases. Every president has recommended such a law in annual messages for fifteen years.

If the law is passed and the immunity plea knocked out then the fight will start over again, hot as ever.

Archbishop Glennon visits Albuquerque. Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis, was a visitor in Albuquerque yesterday, for thirty minutes, arriving from the west about 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon, and departing for the east a half hour later.

After a hurried lunch at the Alvarado, Bishop Glennon engaged in a short conversation with the hotel management, a representative of the press, and O. N. Marron, the lawyer. "I am hurrying to St. Louis to keep an appointment I will not be able to keep," said Bishop Glennon. "We have been having a fearful time with floods in California—washes in the mountains and floods in the lowlands."

"I went to California with a party of friends, whom I left to hurry home." When introduced to Attorney Marron, the bishop said: "I am delighted to meet you."

"I feel that I know you already," responded the attorney. "I heard you pray for us at the democratic convention, held in Kansas City, but it didn't seem to do any good."

Bishop Glennon held the archbishopship at Kansas City for twenty years, and has been at St. Louis, in the same capacity, for three years. The train upon which he rode was delayed No. 8, one that had been having trouble with washouts.

Torture by Savages. "Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. M. Sherman of Cushing, Me. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me."

Cures liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disorders and malaria, and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c.

ARRIVAL OF TRAINS.

Following is the 4 o'clock report of the arrival of the Santa Fe passenger trains:

Second section of No. 1—At least two hours late.
No. 9—On time.
No. 7—11:40 p. m.
No. 8—10:30 p. m.
No. 4—1:25 a. m.

Augustus Becker is in the city, from Belen.

Mrs. F. E. Sturges left for California on the flyer today.

Louis Trauer, the sheep buyer, was at Santa Fe, yesterday, on business.

Last call. Pay your poll tax tonight, at Ruppe's. Suits begin Monday.

Attorney Elefego Baca of Socorro, passed through the city this morning, en route to Santa Fe.

Hon. Solomon Luna arrived from Los Lunas this morning and is spending the day in the city.

Mrs. Frank Moore, wife of a young attorney of this city, will leave Monday for an extended visit in the east.

C. H. Gatchel, special agent for the Germania Life Insurance company, went to Santa Fe, this morning, on train No. 2.

Walter O'Brien, cattle inspector, with headquarters at Las Vegas, was in the metropolis, yesterday, for a short time, on business.

J. F. Hoaglin, formerly with the E. L. Washburn company, but now representing a Chicago wholesale house, is in the city for a few days, on business.

The base ball game at Traction Park, yesterday, between the University and the Indians from the local school resulted in a victory for the city chaps. The score was 9 to 5.

Frank Luchinger objects to his racing mare being called the Fairy Queen. Her name is Fairy Fern, and she is scheduled as the winner in the 1:20 pace tomorrow at Traction Park.

J. R. Farwell, chief engineer of the Albuquerque Eastern and the Santa Fe General, returned to this city, last night, after a business trip to Estancia and Santa Fe.

Dan Car, a leading wholesale liquor dealer of El Paso, was in the city last night, having come here to consult an attorney on a suit he has against the Southern Pacific road.

Governor Hagerman will visit the Mesilla valley sometime the coming month, he having received an invitation from the Mesilla Valley Chamber of Commerce of Las Cruces to make the visit.

T. C. McDermott, proprietor of the Paywood Hot Springs, is registered at the Alvarado. Mr. McDermott arrived from El Paso this morning, and expects to leave this evening for the springs.

Max B. Fitch, the Socorro mining man, is spending the day in Albuquerque. Mr. Fitch is manager for the Southwestern Lead and Coal company, owning and operating property in the Caballo mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent R. Munn, although the happy parents of a fine boy, which arrived last night, positively deny that it was both a ten-pound and a twelve-pound child, as stated in a morning paper.

Dr. Radcliffe, surgeon for the Santa Fe, on the Belen cut-off, was in the city, last night, and said that of the three hospitals on the cut-off two had not a single patient, and Belen had but four.

Col. W. H. Greer, who has been on an extended business trip north for some time past, is expected to arrive in the city Monday. Mrs. Greer, who has been visiting her father, on the Pacific coast, is also expected to return Monday.

H. Kirch, inspector of safety appliances on railroad trains for the interstate commerce commission, was a passenger for Santa Fe, this morning. Mrs. Kirch will remain in the city until Mr. Kirch decides where he will make his headquarters.

Mrs. M. E. Walter and Miss Sarah Dale, mother and cousin of W. Y. Walton, arrived this morning from Fort Smith, Ark., and will remain until the marriage of Ralph Hunt and Miss Jeanette Walton, which happy event will occur some time the coming month.

At the morning services at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Rollins will speak on "Elements of Good Citizenship." This is a most timely theme. At the evening hour, Mr. T. J. O'Kelly will give a Gospel Temperance address, using his stereopticon, and Mrs. Schwenker will sing.

J. P. Paulson, manager for the Brunswick-Baer company of Denver and El Paso, whose presence in the city was mentioned in The Citizen, last evening, stated while here, that business has increased in El Paso 100 per cent since gambling was abolished there. This increase is felt in all lines of business, saloons included.

The position of purchasing agent of the American Lumber company, made vacant, some time ago, by the resignation of F. L. Zander, has been filled by the appointment of T. J. Sawyer to that position, with headquarters in this city. As yet no one has been appointed to fill the position of sales agent, made vacant some time ago by the resignation of T. W. Decker.

N. Oakes Murphy, former governor of the territory of Arizona, accompanied by Mrs. Murphy, together with a party of friends, was in Albuquerque, last evening, for a short time, en route to Prescott, where the party will make a brief visit. Mr. Murphy and party were traveling in the private car of his brother, F. M. Murphy, president and general manager of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railroad.

Today is the last day upon which you can pay your poll tax without facing a suit in the justice court, on Monday. The last day upon which the $1 delinquent poll tax may be paid legally, is April 1st, and as that day comes on Sunday, you have but one chance today. Hand in your little "peso" at B. Ruppe's drug store today, and get your receipt, or else wait until next week, and pay from $3.50 upwards, according to what the costs of the suit amount to, but $3.50 is the very cheapest you can possibly get out of it, if you are sued.

It is currently reported in this city that Governor Hagerman has decided on Herbert Sims, formerly of Chicago, as territorial game and fish warden, vice Page B. Otero, who will be asked to resign, so says reports.

H. H. Hatter, now a member of the Jemez forest reserve force, is an active candidate for the position, and it is stated today that Fred Fisher and J. A. Beal of this city, are also in the race for the appointment. It seems, however, that Mr. Sims will secure the plum.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Caldwell, who visited California, enjoying several weeks pleasantly at the southern resorts, returned to the city this morning. They visited the Soldiers' Home, near Santa Monica, and report Geo. W. Fisher, Aaron Peffley and W. E. Sheppard, old soldiers from this city, in the home, in fine condition, and contented with their stay at the institution. They did not meet Dr. Aubright, another ex-Albuquerquean, at the home. While at Catalina islands, a giant shark, thirty-two feet long, and weighing about 5,000 pounds, was caught by Captain Peter Boreich, and brought to shore. It was the largest shark ever captured on the southern Pacific coast; is said to be a man-eater, and had a head six feet long and teeth of gigantic proportions.

Are you looking for an extra nobly shoe to wear with your new spring gown? We have just received a patent kid oxford, with kid top, Cuban heel, either light or heavy soles, which we are sure will please you. Price, $3.50. C. May's shoe store, 314 West Railroad avenue.
