RUSSIA STILL IN LIME LIGHT

Leaders of the Reds Are Arranging For a Big Political Strike.

RECENT STRIKE PREVENTED

Peasants, Sailors and Soldiers Are Involved in One Proposal.

RUSSIA WANTED A JAP CONVOY

Odesa, Nov. 20.—The situation in this city is again somewhat disquieting. A recurrence of disorders is threatened by the so-called loyalist element, and there are rumors of a mutinous spirit among the troops.

LEADERS OF REDS ARE ACTIVE IN PROPAGANDA.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20.—With the collapse of the strike, the leaders of the "reds" say that they will now devote their energies to propaganda for a universal political strike, which will be to sustain the revolutionary progress, when the national assembly meets.

These plans, which were suddenly upset by the precipitation of the railroad strike last month, are exceedingly ambitious, involving the co-operation not only of the workmen of the cities, but the peasants, and possibly the army and navy.

JAPAN-RUSSIA TREATIES EXCHANGED ON WEDNESDAY.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Exchange of the ratified treaty between Russia and Japan will occur in this city on the 22d, inst.

JAPAN REFUSED CONVOY FOR RUSSIAN CAPTIVES.

Tokio, Nov. 20.—It is reported that Russia, approving mutiny of prisoners on board transports conveying them from Japan, asked the Japanese government to convey them with warships to Vladivostok, but the Japanese declined to do so.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE OF OKLAHOMA FARMERS.

Enid, Okla., Nov. 20.—The annual Farmers' Institute of this district was opened here this morning with an address of welcome by W. S. Whittengill, to which W. E. Brown responded.

PHELPS' REMAINS IDENTIFIED BY TATTOO MARKS ON ARM

As was told in The Citizen several days ago, Lloyd Phelps, who with Richard Rogers was killed by the accidental collapsing of a bridge on the Zuni Mountain railway near Ketcher last Tuesday, was the son of a wealthy Michigan family.

The positive identification of Phelps was made yesterday, after the receipt of a telegram from L. M. Phelps of Pontiac, Mich., stating that on his son's left forearm tattooed into the flesh with indelible ink, was a dagger and on the right forearm in the same manner, was tattooed the figure of a woman.

Special to The Citizen. Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 20.—Frank C. Barker, for fifteen years past a business man of Las Cruces, died here Sunday evening at 6 o'clock of tuberculosis.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS GATHER IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 20.—The fall session of the Wisconsin consistory, Scottish Rite Masons, opened here today at the Masonic Temple, and will remain in session three days. The attendance is very large and many of the delegates are accompanied by their wives.

ENGLAND'S ENGULFING WAVE OF MISERY

London, Nov. 20.—There was another "poverty parade" in the streets of London this afternoon. Some 5,000 to 6,000 unemployed men and a sprinkling of women marched along the Thames embankment to Hyde Park, where they listened to speeches and adopted resolutions condemning charity as a cure for lack of employment and demanding the summoning of parliament to initiate works of national utility.

The monarchs of the earth envy King Edward VII of England. His realms are without disorder, and his throne is regarded as the most stable in the world. But is it?

In England there is a rising tide, very slow, very gradual, but always creeping onward and upward. That tide is poverty. Here an honest workingman temporarily loses his place and is submerged, there a small tradesman goes down; it swallows the rock- less and improvident; it rises steadily and awfully, and all the sops which charity and benevolence throw to it disappear and cause scarcely a ripple on the surface.

In the city of London there are 100,000 paupers and 1,500,000 people who, in the language of the sociologists, live on the "hunger line"; that is, the loss of one week's wages means to them lack of food; the loss of two weeks' wages leaves them homeless and starving.

Poverty claims a similar portion of the people of other great English cities—Liverpool, York, Leeds, Bradford, Sheffield and a dozen more. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, leader of the English liberal party, estimates that in the united kingdom there are nearly 8,000,000 people who live on this same "hunger line."

In France such a condition would mean revolution and another reign of terror, but in England such is the universal respect for law and all established institutions of the country that the people submit. The Church of England teaches contentment. In the catechism which nearly every English child is taught it is stated that a man's lot in life is according to God's will, and that discontent is impious.

So, while millions upon whom poverty has set its mark surge through the streets of English cities, there is heard never a word of rebellion and scarcely a word of complaint. There is nothing more sublime than their silent suffering, nor is there anything more pitiful.

The other day 6,000 women came together in the poverty-saturated streets of London and marched down the Strand, past the theaters, shops and great hotels, into Whitehall, where the government buildings are.

Premier Balfour received a delegation of eighteen of this number and heard their complaint. They pleaded that they were starving and asked for bread and work. Balfour was only able to hold out vague encouragement. Even the British government was appalled by the specter of 6,000 starving women.

King Edward, who is a kind-hearted man and who more than any other monarch is a student of social questions, is troubled as this rising tide of misery laps the steps of his throne. Generation after generation of class distinctions, special privileges and land monopoly have sent one-fifth of the people of England to the wall.

More than one generation and more than one monarch or leader will be required for its solution. England will be fortunate if the problem can be solved without surgery and the letting of blood.

QUEEN OF SHEBA OPENS TONIGHT

For This Grand Opera Every Ticket Has Been Bought.

ALL BOXES LONG SINCE SOLD

New York, Nov. 20.—The opening performance of the season at the Metropolitan Opera House this evening promises to be the most brilliant event of the season. Mr. Conreid, the director of the opera house, has selected Goldmark's grand opera, "Queen of Sheba," for the opening night, and has made the most extensive preparations to make the performance a memorable one.

The audience will be unusually brilliant at the opening performance. Every box in the house has been engaged by members of the exclusive society and every seat in the large house was sold out several weeks ago.

SPEAKER CANNON WILL FIGHT PRESIDENT ON TARIFF REVISION

Preparing to Load Up Ways and Means Committee With Stand Patters—There's Danger of Hot Time Ahead.

where all tariff legislation must originate.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—An open break between President Roosevelt and Speaker Joseph G. Cannon appears imminent. Tariff revision is the cause.

While President Roosevelt is contemplating a special message for the latter part of the Fifty-ninth congress, urging revision of the tariff, "Uncle Joe" Cannon is getting ready to load the committee on ways and means with "stand pat" members, so Representatives Babcock, of Wisconsin; Tawney, of Minnesota; McCall of Massachusetts, and Payne of New York, have showed recent signs of becoming converts to the revision idea.

These four, by combining with the six democratic members of the committee, would take the majority control away from the republicans. It is the present purpose of Mr. Cannon to replace them by such men as McCleary, of Minnesota, pronounced tariff "stand pat" men.

Such action at this time would settle the tariff matter for several years to come. President Roosevelt has tried to keep free of the tariff controversy at this time, so as to concentrate all on the battle for railroad rate legislation.

He was careful to refrain from committing himself to the large and influential delegation of the shoe manufacturers who called on him this week; also that he has indulged in no extended discussion of revision in his forthcoming message.

But the president has very decided views on tariff revision, and it has become known that he did figure on writing a special message on this subject as soon as rate legislation should be off the boards.

The open antagonism of Speaker Cannon to any revision of the tariff presents an unexpected and a grave complication. His threatened course in loading the committee against the administration's plans is a complication of even more grave character.

In it there is a menace of party disruption. There is nothing yet to indicate that the threatened clash might prevent the reelection of Mr. Cannon as speaker.

President Roosevelt is not inviting open war with congress, but it is a case of "you never can tell." Cannon and Roosevelt both have stiff necks.

FORMER EQUITABLE DIRECTORS DEMUR

New York, Nov. 20.—The hearing of the arguments of the thirty-two demurrers interposed by former directors of the Equitable Life Assurance company to the suits brought against them by State Attorney General Julius M. Meyer, was begun today. Among those who filed demurrers are General Louis Fitzgerald, James W. Alexander, Senator Chauncey M. Depew, Henry C. Deming, James Hazen Hyde, William H. McTear, John J. McCook, George J. Gould, James J. Hill, August Belmont, George C. Frick, Darfus O. Mills, Alexander J. Cassatt, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, John Jacob Astor, and Edward H. Harriman.

TWO INFANTS WILL GRACE CONFERENCE

When Next Pan-American Shall Assemble, Cuba and Panama

BRAZIL AND ARGENTINA ASK IT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Senator Calvo, the minister from Costa Rica, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the next Pan-American conference, had a conference with Secretary of State Root concerning the matter and came to a complete understanding.

President Roosevelt will probably refer to the advisability of holding such a conference in his message to congress, and it is expected that soon after the opening of congress the committee will hold a meeting to determine the program and to decide where the conference is to be held.

There is a strong sentiment in favor of holding the conference in Brazil, but the Argentine Republic has also made a strong bid. Most of the projects endorsed at the second conference, which was held in the City of Mexico, four years ago, have probably carried out.

The sanitary conference recommended has recently closed its labors. A coffee conference was held two years ago, and other matters have been handled through the Bureau of American Republics. The second conference was composed of delegates from nineteen republics. Since its adjournment, two more have been born, Cuba and Panama, both of which, it is expected, will be represented at the approaching meeting.

There is a strong sentiment in favor of holding the conference in Brazil, but the Argentine Republic has also made a strong bid. Most of the projects endorsed at the second conference, which was held in the City of Mexico, four years ago, have probably carried out.

PART OF ENGLISH DESERTERS RETURN BUT ARE TURNED AWAY

New York, Nov. 20.—Of the sailors from the British squadron commanded by Prince Louis of Battenberg, who were missing from their ships when the squadron made ready to sail today, several who had overstayed their leave, were turned away when they tried to board the ships this morning. The officers said they were willing to lose these men on principle. They were worthless and therefore were treated as deserters. Many of the left sailors have applied to the immigration authorities for their return to England. Commissioner Watchorn said a fine of $2 a feet for every sailor who appeared to be left stranded in New York, the same as on trans-Atlantic steamers for every immigrant smuggled into the United States.

NEGROES AT LITTLE ROCK HEAR BOOKER WASHINGTON.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 20.—Under the auspices of the Negro Business Men's League a meeting will be held at the Capital Theater this evening, before which Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee, Ala., the famous negro educator, will deliver an address. He is now on an extensive tour through the southern and southwestern states and will also deliver lectures and addresses in Pine Bluff, and in several cities of Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas.

EXPLODED BOILER WRECKED

Steamer Hilda—Cut in Two on Rocks It Went Down.

MOST OF BODIES WASHED ASHORE

Paris, Nov. 20.—Special reports received here of the wreck of the steamer Hilda, which left Southampton Friday night for San Malo, France, and was totally wrecked on Les Fories reef outside Jardin lighthouse yesterday morning, with the loss of over a hundred lives, give graphic descriptions of the disaster.

Owing to a rough sea together with a thick snowstorm, the captain of the Hilda probably took the buoy light on the rocks for the San Malo lighthouse. He gave signals which were not seen by the harbor employes and then the steamer proceeded slowly towards the lighthouse. The Hilda struck the rocks, her boiler exploded and she was cut in two, giving the passengers no time to save their lives.

Seven bodies wearing life belts were cast ashore, and the coast near St. Malo is covered with wreckage. Five bodies were found entangled in the rigging of the Hilda.

Official Figures on the Loss. London, Nov. 20.—There is practically no further news here of the disaster to the steamer Hilda, wrecked off the French coast Sunday morning, with a loss of over one hundred lives. A dispatch from St. Cast, near St. Malo, says fifty-one bodies had been washed upon the beach.

Later in the day it was announced that an official report had been received from St. Malo, stating that the total number of persons on board the Hilda was 129. Of these only six were saved.

JEWES MAKE LIBERAL DONATIONS TO ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

CONGREGATION OF TEMPLE ALBERT CONTRIBUTES ALMOST $300 FOR BENEFIT OF SICK AND POOR.

The congregation of Temple Albert of this city have set a most commendable example to those interested in the forming of an organization to be known as the Associated Charities, by starting off the fund to be used for the benefit of the worthy sick and poor with a donation of almost $300.

Rabbi Jacob H. Kaplan reports that there has actually been subscribed for this fund the sum of $270. Mrs. Alfred Gruasfeld and Mrs. Samuel Neustadt, who have charge of the soliciting, report that this sum does not represent the whole contribution, as there are yet several who are to be heard from, which will swell the fund to at least $300, and perhaps more than that.

The way in which Temple Albert has taken hold of this matter insures the success of the Associated Charities, and although the other churches of the city have as yet to be heard from, it is known that all will contribute liberally and that the work of the Associated Charities will start off on a solid financial basis.

Rabbi Kaplan, president of the Associated Charities, will call a general meeting in the near future, at which time detailed plans of the work of the organization will be presented and agreed upon.

ITALY'S QUEEN DOWAGER CELEBRATES HER BIRTHDAY.

Rome, Nov. 20.—The fifty-fourth birthday anniversary of the dowager Queen Margherita was celebrated all through Italy today by a display of flags and bunting and by popular festivities. The Italian and foreign ships in Italian harbors hoisted their pennants in honor of the occasion and their crews played national airs.

The dowager queen celebrated the day quietly in the circle of her family and held a reception, to which only the members of the royal household were admitted.

PROMINENT NEW MEXICO POLITICIAN TO WED

Special to The Citizen. Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 20.—Announcement has been made here of the engagement of Postmaster Louis O. Fuller, of this city, and editor of the Carlsbad Argus, to Mrs. Dorothy Bowman Mooers, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Bowman, of San Francisco, Cal. The wedding is to take place in San Francisco the latter part of this month, and is to be a brilliant event.

Mrs. Mooers' first husband was E. D. Mooers, son of the Mooers, who with several other Anglo-American men, made a fortune out of the famous "Yellow Aster" mine at Randsburg. Marital infidelities early disturbed the peace of the young couple and not long ago Mrs. Mooers figured in a sensational horse whipping episode as the avenging party. Since her divorce Mrs. Mooers has been spending a good deal of her time in New York and on her New Mexico ranch. She has also taken an occasional run over to Europe to relieve the ennui. Mr. Fuller, who is a lawyer, editor and politician, is prominent in republican politics in New Mexico, and it is said that he is in line for high political honor when the territory is admitted to the Union.

BRIEF BUT BRILLIANT ACCEPTANCE OF CROWN.

Copenhagen, Nov. 20.—The throne of Norway was formally tendered to Prince Charles of Denmark this morning by a deputation of members of the Norwegian parliament, and was accepted by King Christian in behalf of his grandson. The function only lasted twenty minutes, but the scene was brilliant.

ATHLETES HAVE ALL-STAR TEAM

Wallop Lumbermen Yesterday By a Score of 33 to 0.

UNIVERSITY DEFEATS INDIANS

Yesterday afternoon for the second time in a few weeks, the Albuquerque Athletic Association foot ball eleven administered a crushing defeat to the American Lumber company's team, the final score being 35 to 0.

In the first five minutes of the play, Stamm, for the Athletics, made a forty-yard run around the end for a touchdown. Anderson failed to kick goal.

The second half was a repetition of the first, and if anything the Athletics played even better than they did the first half.

University Beats Indians. In one of the fastest and cleanest games of foot ball seen at Traction park this year, the university defeated the Santa Fe Indians on Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 0.

INTERNATIONAL FAIR OPENED AT HOUSTON

Houston, Tex., Nov. 20.—The opening today of the great International Fair, which was to be opened October 21st, but was postponed owing to the prevalence of yellow fever and the strict quarantine regulations maintained all through the month.

The governor of this state and nearly all the members of his staff as well as many state officials and the members of the municipal government of this city took part in the opening ceremonies.

MITE

New York, Nov. 20.—Smaun Sing Hpo is the smallest man in the world. He is so little that General Tom Thumb, in his shortest days, was almost a giant beside him.

Little Smaun Sing Hpo is a grown up man. He is 23 years old, and is only 34 inches tall, while in weight he is a mere 29 pounds, with no ounces.

The family to which Smaun Sing Hpo thought it a great misfortune when the little tiny mite was born to them, for they were of normal size, while his three brothers were like any other children of Burma, his birthplace.

C. L. Davis, special yard watchman for the Santa Fe at this point, is confined to his bed by sickness.

John R. Abell, air man in the local yards, has returned home from a visit of two months in Kentucky, his old home.

A very large consignment of laborers bound for the Helen cutoff passed through the city on belated train No. 1 last night en route to Belem.

Depot Master Wells of the Santa Fe, left today for La Junta, where he was called by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his father, who is seventy-eight years of age.

The names of thirteen engineers and twenty-one firemen are marked up on the extra board at Las Vegas and two engineers and one fireman are registered as waiting for duty.

Superintendent James Kurn, of the Rio Grande division, returned to his headquarters at San Marcial last night after spending the greater part of last week in Albuquerque on business.

Harry Vaughan, time-keeper for the steel gang working west of Winslow, fell from a box car the other day and was bruised up considerably. He is now at his home at Winslow and is improving rapidly.

G. H. Gray, who formerly held the position of night watchman at the local depot, and has recently been employed at El Paso, passed through the city this morning en route to Las Vegas, where he will re-enter the special service of the Santa Fe.

T. E. Purdy, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who was recently appointed to succeed H. S. Lutz as agent for the Santa Fe at Albuquerque, has arrived in the city and is now getting acquainted with his new duties. He will take formal charge of the latter part of the week. Mr. Lutz has as yet not decided where he will go when he leaves Albuquerque.

A change has been made in the railway mail service on the coast lines, whereby Williams becomes the headquarters for one end of the run between this city and Los Angeles. This change was made after careful consideration and will to a great extent add to the importance of the Arizona town and give the town two mails each way a day.

James Carroll, for some time past, traveling engineer on the Albuquerque-Winslow division of the Santa Fe, has received notice that his territory has been enlarged, to include the New Mexico division as far as Las Vegas. This will include the territory of John A. Ross, who has been traveling engineer of that division, Mr. Ross returning to the duties of a passenger engineer.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific will do nothing toward rebuilding the depot at Lordsburg until after the first of the year. The depot building appropriation is about exhausted. By waiting until the next year's appropriation becomes available it is probable that much better and more expensive depot will be built than could be constructed this year. The people in Lordsburg, under these circumstances are willing to wait, for they would like to see a fine depot at that town.

S. F. Vorhes, who has had charge of the Santa Fe's pumping station at Isleta for several years, was brought to the city yesterday, badly injured, and is confined to the home of his son, James Vorhes, of 1214 North Fourth street. Mr. Vorhes was thrown from a railroad velocipede on last Thursday by a jar caused by the machine colliding with a dog. One rib was broken and he was otherwise bruised and scratched. His injuries are not considered serious.

W. C. Fellows, receiver for the Mohave & Milltown railroad, was in Kingman and sold under master's sale the Mohave & Milltown railroad and all appurtenances to satisfy the claims represented by W. C. Musher. It is expected that the shareholders of the railroad will pay off the claims and again operate the road. It is expected that this short line of road could be made to pay handsomely had it a direct route into Needles. At present the heavy cost of transferring across the river is one of the great obstacles to success.

RAILROAD RATES TO THE PHOENIX FAIR.

The railroad companies have agreed to make special freight rates on exhibits to the Phoenix fair as follows: On shipments to the fair full rates will be charged and exhibits will be returned free, provided they are not changed ownership; in fruit shipments full rates will be charged and if after the close of the fair the fruit is worth some of the roads will refund all and other one-half of the freight paid; on minerals full rates will be charged going and returned free; if allowed to remain as a permanent exhibit some concession will be made, to be announced later. Passenger rates on all the main line roads will be two cents per mile each way and on some of the branch roads one fare for the round trip has been named.

OVERLAND SANTA FE

NO. 8 WRECKED NEAR CROZIER. A dispatch from Needles, dated Nov. 18, says: Five Pullman cars and one day coach of eastbound Santa Fe train No. 8 are in the ditch at Crozier, Arizona as a result of a wreck which occurred at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

The wreck was caused by a broken rail and luckily no one was injured although the passenger in the wrecked cars were badly shaken up.

The wrecked train which left San Bernardino yesterday morning at 9:50, pulled out of Needles last night behind time. It was a heavy train and during the night did not succeed in making up much time.

The point where the wreck occurred is the famous Crozier canyon, the scene of so many big floods, and there are many dangerous places along the track in that vicinity for such a wreck as occurred.

The engine, baggage, mail, express and day coaches passed over the break in the rail safely. The chair car was the first to leave the track and the Pullmans followed.

Engineer Jackson felt the tell-tale jerk, indicating a broken rail, and quickly brought the engine to a stop. Conductor Cooney was in charge of the train.

A wrecking crew was summoned from Needles this morning and a side-track was built around the wreck so other trains can pass.

No. 8 is due at Crozier at 12:07 a. m., but did not reach the station until 4:30.

MACHINIST HELPER AT SAN BERNARDINO SCALDED.

A machinist helper named Frederick was Friday afternoon frightfully scalded while at work on an engine at the Santa Fe round house, says the San Bernardino Sun. In some manner he turned a valve, letting a jet of steam and scalding water onto himself, and before he could move or be gotten away by his companions he was fearfully scalded about the face, neck and chest.

He was attended by Dr. J. N. Baylis and Dr. Leary, and taken on the 3:27 train to Dr. Leary's Santa Fe hospital in Los Angeles.

While the man's injuries are of a very serious character, it is hardly believed they will be fatal. His chance for life will depend largely on how the burns are treated, and that could not be determined fully in the hasty dressing given the man before removal to the hospital yesterday.

HURLEY'S STAR STORY.

TELLS OF FIX A CONDUCTOR WAS LEFT IN BY A HYPNOTIST. James E. Hurley, general manager of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, says that this is the best story he ever heard on a railroad man.

A man in a country town went crazy on hypnotism. He insisted he was the greatest hypnotist on earth. He was a powerful fellow and the officers knew that he would put up a hard fight if he knew they were taking him to the asylum. So they evaded a scheme. They told him that there were some people in the asylum who would unravel a thrilling story if they were hypnotized, and wanted him to do the job. He consented. The officers boarded the train with him bound for the asylum. When the conductor came along the crazy man began telling of his own hypnotic powers. The conductor did not believe him.

"I'll just hypnotize you to prove it," said the man.

"Fire away," said the conductor.

"The man made several passes with his hands in front of the conductor's face and said: 'You are hypnotized.'"

"In order to pacify the man the conductor said he was."

"You are a railroad conductor," said the hypnotist.

"That's right," said the conductor.

"You are a good conductor," went on the hypnotist.

"Right again," said the conductor.

"You don't smoke, cheat, drink or swear at the passengers?"

"Nope."

"You are honest, turn in all tickets and money you collect from passengers. In fact, you do not steal a cent."

"That's right," said the conductor.

"What a fix you would be in if I left you at this condition," drawled the hypnotist.

OBJECT TO CHANGING WALLACE TO DOMINGO

A CORRESPONDENT AT WALLACE HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ON THE SUBJECT.

Special Correspondence. Wallace, N. M., Nov. 18.—The local officials of the Santa Fe railroad show or race prejudice, judging from the names they frequently give the stations between Raton and Deming. Take the names for the station at the head of the central Rio Grande valley:

In 1880 it was named Wallace, after General Lew Wallace, renowned on both hemispheres as a Union general, statesman, diplomat and author, and the station became nearly as widely known as its godfather.

In 1895 the local officers changed its name to Thornton, after General Thornton, a Confederate soldier, and a former federal prisoner of war. Both of these men are native born Americans. Officials have now changed this latter to Domingo, now the railroad name, after Domingo Antonio, the old-time station storekeeper.

After the division terminal was moved to this city he purchased the railroad Palace saloon and postoffice building and moved into the latter, where he remained until it was turned down. Then he built the house that still stands there, and which for several years was used as the offices of the Bland Transfer company, and later as a postoffice and the office of the government Indian farmer, and then as a hay house for the Bernallillo Mercantile company.

That the whirling of time brings strange reverses is exemplified in thus honoring Domingo's name.

ALGODONES ITEMS.

Special Correspondence. Algodones, N. M., Nov. 16.—There has been no school held this year in this district. What is the matter with the board of education? One of the members of the school directors who cannot read or write was re-elected again this year and to their shame be it said, the school superintendent does not fairly educated. It is the duty of the county school superintendent to see that no man who is not qualified shall serve on the board of education. The same man is also road supervisor.

The rains of the last few days have made plenty of water for range stock for the winter, and to their shame be it said, a new church here.

Rumor says that work on the brick plant near Tinguic will soon commence and about $25,000 will be expended on the plant which will be first class in all respects.

Farmers are hauling wood for this winter. Crops are all secured and stock is now running at large.

Ducks are very plentiful here and several have been killed by hunters in this vicinity. Some beaver have also been killed along the river here.

Now, therefore, we hereby give notice that the principal and interest of the said promissory notes amounting at the date of sale hereinafter mentioned, to the sum of $1,526.28, including an attorney's fee of 10 per cent on the amount found to be due on said date, as provided in said notes, and all costs and expenses, including costs of advertising, sale and conveyance, all provided to be paid by the said chattel mortgage, we will on the 12th day of December, A. D. 1905, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day at the front door of the London Club livery, situated on the southeast corner of North Second street and Marquette avenue, in the city of Albuquerque, county of Bernalillo and territory of New Mexico, offer for sale and sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, for the purpose of paying the said indebtedness and expenses, the said property above described, with the exception of one saddle, one bridle and one blanket, which have been sold by the said L. L. Ayers.

First a Cold THEN CATARRH

A cold in the head is a common ailment, but it rarely ever stops there. It often grows stubborn and protracted, the mucous membranes, or inner lining of the body, become inflamed and secrete a filthy, unhealthy matter which is absorbed by the blood and soon produces that disgusting disease, Catarrh. Then follow the unpleasant symptoms of "hawking and spitting."

I had Catarrh for twelve years and suffered agony with headaches, nose stopped up, appetite poor, felt tired and was unable to do any work. I read of S. S. RAILWAY CONTROL

Whether the United States senate shall be able to defeat the president's plan for national control of railroads, one thing is certain—that body cannot prevent state control, which is daily growing in almost every part of the country.

Governor Warner of Michigan, is trying to persuade the railroads in that state to return to the use of mileage books, which will be honored on trains by conductors. The state officials have been stirred to action by the traveling salesmen, who complain that they are delayed and annoyed by having to exchange mileage strips for tickets at all stations from which they depart.

The railroad commission of Georgia has summoned President Spencer of the Southern railway and President Hudson of the Central of Georgia, to appear before it and answer questions to show the ownership of the latter road. It is held by the minority stockholders of the Augusta Southern that the Southern railway owns the stock of the Georgia Central, which is a competitor of the Augusta line.

The Louisiana railroad commission has ordered that train schedules be so arranged as to enable passengers to travel without unnecessary delay between points on lines which cross each other. It is charged that it is the policy of the roads, in order to secure better results individually, to make schedules so that their passenger trains will not meet or make close connections at crossing or junction points.

With a view to regulating freight and passenger rates in Kentucky, the state commission has addressed to the auditors of each road operating in the state a series of forty-two questions regarding valuation, gross earnings and income, operating expenses and traffic and mileage statistics. And thus the list might be extended at great length.

FACTS IN THE CASE

The Albuquerque Aftermath, in its Sunday second cutting of the news which The Citizen gave the community fresh Saturday evening—the day of its occurrence—says that The Citizen "has at last found out about the Arizona joint statehood league and comes bravely up on Saturday night with a word for word special to the Journal of several days before—without credit."

Of course, The Citizen cannot say that the Journal did not receive a "special" about the Arizona joint statehood league, though we do not believe that it did; for with all its folly we do not believe the Journal would pay for a special which it could have gotten, word for word, from the Arizona papers, or even from a Denver paper, where it also appeared, word for word.

The fact is that the Journal, in all probability, got the "special" at the same time and from the same place where The Citizen got it; and the difference between the two papers was this: The Citizen laid the clipping aside for its Territorial column, where matters of such kind are sometimes credited but generally not; while the Journal took its clipping, also without credit, rushed it into print and fraudulently labeled it a special to the Journal.

The Citizen is the more inclined to believe this because it has several times caught the Journal in this flagrant usage, not a few of which instances it has exposed to the public. This much The Citizen will say, that its "specials," whether communications or telegrams, are just exactly what they claim to be, and are never like the Journal's—stolen stock, rebranded.

The Oklahoma board of agriculture estimates the corn yield this year at thirty-eight and one-quarter million bushels, an increase of sixteen million bushels over that of last season. The crop is valued at eleven and one-half million dollars, while the cotton yield is supposed to be worth only a million less. What with the wheat, oats, poultry, eggs and dairy products, in addition to this twenty-one millions, Oklahoma ought to be able to worry through the winter. Shawnee is one of the wonder children of the southwest. It was platted in 1890 and had a population in its overnight birth of 300. It grew to 3,462 in 1890 and in 1903 had reached the 15,000 mark.

A census taken two months ago records a population of 29,160. It is the center of trade both retail and shipping, for a population of 80,000 and has all the attributes of a modern city. Electric lights, electric cars, gas, paved streets, high grade business blocks, elegant residences, great railroad shops and numerous manufacturing industries have transformed a naked prairie in ten years to a city which aspires to 50,000 population in 1910. And yet Oklahoma cannot get statehood except by adopting Indian Territory at great sacrifice. What chance, then, has either New Mexico or Arizona for separate statehood?

What came near being a serious accident happened down the canyon early Monday morning. A certain young man of the town was taking his girl to Carrizozo, where the latter was intending to take the train. While in the sunken road where the rocks are piled high on either side the team became suddenly frightened and wheeling abruptly around started over the embankment. The young man did all he could with his disengaged arm to check the frightened animals, but the buggy wheels striking a large boulder the vehicle was turned over, throwing the occupants out, the young man taking the girl with him so carefully that there was but one impression if the moist ground where they struck. The team was readily caught by a man on horseback who happened to be passing and it was found that no serious damage had been sustained except by the buggy which looked something like a total wreck, though it has since been reported that the young man's arm has become detached.—White Oaks Outlook.

A refreshing contrast to the usual medical address was the simple explanation made before the New York Medical association by the surgeon general of the Japanese navy, Dr. Suzuki. He told how the wounds of the Japanese sailors were treated and healed so simply that a layman could perfectly understand. Every man on board the vessels was compelled to bathe and put on clean linen underclothes before a battle, for it is the soiled particles, shot into the flesh, that make wounds bad. "This is the order that I gave to the surgeons of the navy," said Dr. Suzuki, "that they should treat wounds with sterilized water, leaving the wound alone as much as possible, washing the skin and then binding the wound with sterilized cotton cloth. It was a great step to take. But now we are not sorry." That was the whole story, but the result was that of 682 wounded men sent to the navy hospital only thirty-two died.

What can be done on a three acre tract in New Mexico, says the New Mexican, is exemplified by the following experience of B. H. Bower, of Alamogordo, who has just sold a three acre tract for $1,500, which he took up as desert land and which was covered with mesquite two years ago. In that time he started an orchard of 150 trees all growing nicely. This year he sold at wholesale $126 worth of cantaloupes, two tons of alfalfa, three tons of sugar beets and a great deal of garden truck from this tract. Mr. Bower cultivated the three acres during his leisure time, being car accountant for the El Paso & Southwestern Railway company.

President Harper, of Chicago university, lies on his death bed. But his splendid nerve has never failed him. His body is kept numb, that the pain may not distract his unflinching, irrevocable brain. He is a fine type of the self-forgetting, preoccupied enthusiast—the sort of stuff that makes great Americans. It is good to see a man living so utterly outside of himself that even the impending scythe of the grim reaper has no power to disconcert him from the ruling passion, the betterment of humanity.

How land values increase with the growth of cities is shown in the fact that the duke of Bedford, who is the ground landlord of Covent garden market, London, derives over $75,000 a year from that space alone. It came into the possession of the Bedford family three centuries ago, at a time when its yearly value was estimated at about $32.

How Shall I Succeed? Is Asked by Young Men

From the Los Angeles Examiner.

There was never a day in America when so many young men—and young women, too—were asking the question, "What shall I do to be successful?" They are asking it by word of mouth, and seeking the reply in the lives and words of famous men, and searching books for the answer.

There was a day when Horace Greeley said to the seeker for a recipe for success, "Young man, go west." That was years ago. Since then people, becoming wiser, have learned that success is not a matter of geography. It seems to be the consensus of thought of all successful men that three things are necessary to real success. You must be honest. You must work hard. You must have stick-to-it-iveness.

At the head of one of the biggest individual enterprises in the world, and at the same time at the head of one of the best states in America, stands a man whose name is world-famous—William L. Douglas, governor of Massachusetts. He employs thousands of men and women, but that does not prevent him from being a strong friend of union labor. In fact it helps him to be the workingman's friend, because he is wise enough to realize that much of his business prosperity has come from his employees' co-operation. He possesses great wealth, and all his business relations are of that class commonly called "conservative," but that doesn't prevent him from proving himself the truest kind of a conservative by speaking against all unjust conditions which now exist in America, and for their alternatives, such as public ownership of public utilities and relief from trust domination.

Whatever each man's definition of "success" may be, Governor Douglas has probably achieved it—in growth of business, in elevation in politics, in happiness in domestic life, in respect from vast numbers of people. When such a man tells what he believes has been responsible for success his word is worthy of much attention. In an interview on the secrets of success, Governor Douglas said: "The true ideals of success are self-development and service, and one may well ask himself at the close of each day if his life is richer in these." And as recipes for success, in its broadest sense, the governor said that honesty was fundamental, hard work is an essential, and then, using the phraseology of the trade in which he has made his business success, he said: "If you would be successful you must stick to your last."

This advice isn't new, but it will never be old. A preacher, writing twenty-three hundred years ago, said it thus: "Whoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

Rapid Accumulation of Millionaires in the World

Cent Per Cent recently, discussing the rapid increase in multimillionaires gives a few statistics of interest. It says:

There are now 10,857 known millionaires (nearly one-half of whom—5,027—are in America) their fortunes totaling $9,000,000,000. Every state and territory is represented in the list, and one millionaire, an Indian, Melvin Dempsey, is in Alaska. Nearly all of the remaining 5,000 millionaires are in Europe, though Asia has 900 and South America and South Africa have their share.

In 1846 Moses Y. Beach printed a list of New York city's rich. He gave the names of 1,024 possessing $100,000 each, and of 23 men with $1,000,000 each. Now only millionaires are counted among the rich and there are 1,300 of them in New York city alone.

Among the millionaires of London, Sir Thomas Lipton's $25,000,000 is "small fry" when compared with estates such as that of the infant earl of Grosvenor, valued conservatively at $80,000,000, or that of the Duke of Norfolk, whose income is $7,500 a day.

Cent Per Cent says its purpose is not to draw any morals, yet one is forced at least to think, and profoundly, when he learns that there are many very wealthy men, including forty-nine millionaires, in Russia, and not one in Japan, save the mikado himself. "The entire nation, according to the 'Yiji Shimo,' Tokio's leading financial journal, holds but 441 fortunes of as much as $250,000 each, and these are Japan's richest. Our Senator Clark or Mr. Flagler could either buy out the entire 441. And yet Japan has no paupers. It is a land of people well drilled, of farms well tilled, of pockets well filled. On the other hand, Russia's rich are lavishly elegant in their manner of living beyond anything more money has made possible in other lands. Not a duke or a prince of the blood but indulges in magnificent extravagances which make the accidental gap with amazement. What has been said of millionaires generally is at least true of those of Russia, judging from the result of Russia's contest with the Japanese: it is that we sorrow, not that these Russians have no money, but that they seem to have nothing else.

The czar has always been called the richest man in the world, and his fortune is set at $1,200,000,000, but Mozaffar, the shah of Persia, wears a green sash in his turban worth $1,000,000 and whatever Persia herself is worth is his.

WOMAN ALMOST KILLED BY FALL DOWNSTAIRS

MRS. CAROLINE TEFLER SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL, BUT DOCTORS SAY SHE WILL RECOVER.

As a result of a fall down stairs at her home on West Copper avenue Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Caroline Tefler, a widow, sustained a severe fracture of the skull, which injuries were at first thought to be fatal, but which later were ascertained to be not so serious.

Mrs. Tefler was descending the stairs when she accidentally tripped on her skirt and was precipitated to the bottom of the flight, a distance of about twelve feet. Dr. R. L. Hust was immediately summoned, and after making an examination of the woman's injuries, ordered her removed to St. Joseph's hospital. An examination at the hospital revealed the fact that her skull was cracked, caused by her head striking the bottom step of the stairs.

Mrs. Tefler was given treatment yesterday and had so far recovered last night as to be able to return to her home. Dr. Hust reports that she will recover unless complications arise.

SCION OF ENGLAND'S BLUE BLOOD DIES IN ALBUQUERQUE

Carpenter J. L. Calvert Passes Away in West End Woodshed, Surrounded by Poverty, Leaving an Interesting History.

In a woodshed near the corner of Tijeras avenue and Eleventh street, surrounded by the bare necessities of life, James Landon Calvert, carpenter and cabinet maker, and a lineal descendant of Lord Baltimore Calvert, of England, who established the colony on the island of Kent, in the mouth of the Potomac river and at one time owned by decree of the king of England the state of Maryland, was found dead Sunday morning by a brother journeyman, a painter. The body was badly decomposed and it is stated that death must have relieved Calvert's impoverished condition some time Thursday night, forty-eight hours previous to the finding of the body.

The police were summoned and City Undertaker A. Borders was ordered to take charge of the remains. A son has been located in Missouri and telegraphed regarding his father's death. Carpenter Calvert, as he was known in Albuquerque, was a very remarkable man, as his effects can testify. He was a poet of no mean diction, and left a diary that is very interesting. The book contains over 300 closely written pages, many of them devoted to rhyme and some to pictures of members of the Calvert family and the crowned heads of England. He also wrote on domestic affairs and devoted much space to love and women. He speaks very plainly though, on the death of his wife, which took place either in Kansas or Oklahoma, the place and date not being given. Following are two extracts from his book:

When Cash is Scarce. O, woman, when we've lots of cash, We won't all try to cut a dash; But when our wallets shrink in size, We urge you to economize.

Mother's Words. Oh, mother, at the golden gate, Where youth impatient still doth wait, Your loving words are never dead; They ever say what they have said.

The deceased J. L. Calvert had made a study of aerial navigation, though his few closest friends knew very little of it. A model of an airship was found among his effects. It is over two feet in length, built very much like a boat, with aerial motors and silk sails, and a balloon, and looks very much like those of Dumont and other of the promising conquerors of aerial navigation.

Calvert was born at Louisville, Ky., in 1848, and spent the early part of his life in Missouri. The past forty years of his life were spent in the west. He made the rush for a claim into Oklahoma, in 1892. In 1895 Calvert was elected justice of the peace of Pond Creek, Oklahoma territory. During his residence here of six or eight years he did odd jobs of carpentering about the city, working as industriously as his failing health would permit. The cause of his death is attributed to old age or heart failure.

MURPHY'S BODY IS YET UNCLAIMED

Though Brother in Philadelphia Acknowledges Relation.

A PROFESSIONAL STRIKEBREAKER

After vigorous searching, the police of Philadelphia have found a brother of John F. Murphy, the Santa Fe boiler maker, whose dead body was found at the bottom of the front stairs of the Green hotel last Friday morning, where he had fallen, apparently, breaking his neck. Undertaker Borders, at whose parlors the body is held, has been in telegraphic communication with his brother, but as yet no disposition has been shown toward claiming the body, and the present indications are that the deceased boiler maker will be buried in the potter's field.

There are no new developments in the mystery surrounding Murphy's death. In fact no particularly searching investigation has been made, and the theory is generally accepted that Murphy really fell down stairs without aid and broke his neck, besides receiving enough scalp wounds to make a man groggy. "Although, no matter how suspicious the indications are that the man was foully dealt with," a Santa Fe secret service officer who has taken more or less interest in the case, is quoted as saying, "that as Murphy was known to have been drunk on the night previous to his death, no jury would find a conviction in the case."

It seems that Murphy was a professional strikebreaker. Papers found among his effects show that he had been employed at the following places within the past few years: Sparrow's Point, Md., Newport News, as a shipbuilder; Cramps' shipyard, Philadelphia, Pa.; Nafe & Levey, ship builders, Camden, N. J.; and League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa.

LETTERS TO THE PUBLIC

Fair Subscriptions. To The Evening Citizen. As one of the subscribers to the next territorial fair, and as these are extraordinary times, I would suggest that the subscription list be published, as subscribers' names are obtained, so that the readers of the city daily papers can see who is helping out these unfortunate deficit conditions. It has been the policy of fair managers, the past few years, to leave off the publication of fair subscribers until a final financial report is made, and I register a kick. People should know how this and that concern helps along a most deserving proposition, and I hope the present fair managers will publish a list of subscribers and keep adding thereto until the good work is finished. Secretary Rowenwald is requested to keep the newspapers informed on this subject. A SUBSCRIBER.

Here's Another Subject. To The Evening Citizen. Now that the "lid" as to Sunday drinking is on in Albuquerque, as a heavy taxpayer I have a protest to make. In all towns throughout the universe where the "lid" is on, public toilets are provided for, and it seems to me, in our anxiety to be exceptionally good, this most important matter has been overlooked to a degree extremely exasperating to both sexes. I am an advocate of both closing saloons on Sunday and abolishing gambling altogether, especially the latter, but I really do think the city council should provide public closets, etc. A TEETOTALER.

FORMER COMPTROLLER DID SOME TALKING

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 20. The Beef Trust trial was resumed here today in the United States district court. Among the witnesses summoned to appear before the court is Charles C. It seems that he was merely subpoenaed on account of his public utterances, denouncing the prosecution of the beef trust.

LUNA ACCEPTS FAIR PRESIDENCY

First heard of His Selection Today and Was Much Surprised.

HE APPRECIATES THE HONOR

Hon. Solomon Luna, who on Tuesday night last was elected as president of the New Mexico Territorial Fair association for 1906, arrived in Albuquerque this morning from his sheep ranges near Magdalena and heard for the first time that he had been chosen as fair president. Mr. Luna was both surprised and pleased and this afternoon when the fair committee called upon him and officially informed him that he had been chosen president of the fair association, he accepted the honor conferred upon him, with thanks and assured the committee that he would do all he could to make the next fair one of the best ever held.

In accepting the office, Mr. Luna stated that he did so because of his interest in Albuquerque and the territory. He has always taken great interest in the big annual events and thinks that there are few one of the best ways of advertising the resources of the territory at large. Mr. Luna will render all assistance he can to the committee having charge of the Twenty-sixth annual territorial fair, which is expected to be the greatest of all fairs.

ENGINEER BRISCOE FATALLY INJURED

IN A PECULIAR ACCIDENT TO HIS ENGINE LAST FRIDAY NIGHT.

Last Friday night the No. 2 passenger train, which should have arrived here at 8 a. m., was delayed in reaching the city until the afternoon, a short time before The Citizen went to press, but still the great news dispenser, the Morning Journal, in two issues following, failed to get the news causing the delay.

Friday night No. 2 left Winslow on time, with two big engines pulling the heavily laden train. Nearing Hardy station, the train, running at the rate of forty miles an hour, the engine next to the coaches stripped herself on the right side, and in consequence the cab was literally torn to pieces. Some missile, probably a piece of the flooring of the cab, struck Engineer Joseph J. Briscoe squarely across the breast, breaking the bone in twain, and the right collar bone was broken, besides the engineer received other painful injuries on face and head. The fireman, L. L. Warren, was not so seriously injured, but he received half a dozen bruises on the head and face which will lay him up for a few days.

A wire was sent back to Winslow; the yard switch engine was sent in answer, and the two injured men were taken to their homes in Winslow. It is learned today that Engineer Briscoe cannot live, but that Warren will survive his injuries.

JUDGE ABBOTT GOES TO GALLUP TO HOLD COURT

ACCOMPANIED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY CLANCY AND CLERK W. E. DAME AND SEVERAL ATTORNEYS.

Judge Ira A. Abbott, District Attorney Frank W. Clancy, Clerk W. E. Dame and several attorneys left last night for Gallup, where this morning Judge Abbott convened court for McKinley county. The McKinley county criminal docket is very light this term and it is not expected that the court will be gone over this week. The most important case to come up is that of the Territory vs. Claude Doane, charged with the murder of Walter Lyons, the Ramah school teacher, which crime was committed last spring. It is not thought that this case will be tried in McKinley county, but that Doane will be granted a change of venue to Hernalillo county.

CITIZENS SAY "DOWN WITH VICE"

City Fathers Will be Asked to Remove Houses of Prostitution.

MOVEMENT MEETS WITH APPROVAL

The sending out of those invitations to respectable gentlemen and married men at that, from the Driscoll place of prostitution on North Third street, last week, will result in the undoing of the women of the half world in Albuquerque, if the hand-writing on the wall is to be believed. This flagrant and bold means of soliciting trade in the straw that breaks the camel's back. This flaunting of silks and satins in fancy carriages before the unsophisticated of Albuquerque will be endured no longer. The good people of the city refuse to stand it.

Yesterday there was hardly a pulp in the city from which the subject was not discussed, and petitions were laid out on every altar for signers. Tonight these petitions will be presented to the city council, and the council will be requested to take immediate action toward abating the nuisance. It is the beginning of a crusade on the houses of ill fame that is sure to remove them eventually from the city limits.

The movement was begun on Saturday, when Attorney A. B. McMillen published a card in The Citizen calling the attention of the public to the brazen invitation sent out from the Driscoll place and spoken of above. A meeting was held in Attorney McMillen's office on Saturday evening, with the result that Mr. McMillen was elected president, and Prof. A. B. Stroup, county superintendent of public instruction, vice president, of an organization of citizens who propose to lead the fight against vice in Albuquerque.

The petitions which have been circulated and will be presented to the city council tonight read as follows:

Petition. To the City Council of the City of Albuquerque: Gentlemen:—We, the undersigned citizens of the city of Albuquerque respectfully request and demand of the city council that the laws and ordinances against prostitution in the city of Albuquerque be enforced.

The following card was sent out to the people of the city by the meeting held Saturday night, signed by the chairman:

To the people of Albuquerque: Over five hundred invitations were sent out from the Driscoll place on North Third street to the men and boys of Albuquerque. Are the fathers and mothers and wives interested? If so, what shall the answer be?

At a meeting of citizens held Saturday night a committee was appointed to address the city council orally and also to present a petition from the people of which a copy is given above.

Do you approve the answer? A number of such petitions are being circulated, but it will be impossible to reach more than a small portion of the people in that way.

If you approve the proposed petition and have not already signed one, you and your friends can sign the petition printed below and send to the undersigned. All petitions received will be presented to the city council by the committee. Respectfully,

A. B. McMILLEN, Chairman.

The law on the subject is very specific, and there is little doubt but that the city council will see fit to take prompt action toward suppressing, if not removing the evil altogether.

It is understood today that a committee of gentlemen are making comparisons of the writing on the envelopes, and it is asserted with considerable authority that the arrest of several young men, who are accused of sending invitations to respectable married gentlemen, will take place in a few days, and again, it is asserted that certain jokers sent out invitations to certain gentlemen "just to make trouble." These accusations will have to be investigated, but in any event the big blowout at the Driscoll red-light joint on North Third street, which was held last Saturday night, has caused a big stir and the crimson district is now under serious consideration by the decent people of the city.

An Open Letter

To Our Patrons and Friends

We have entered into a contract with Mr. George W. Hickox, agreeing to sell to him our Jewelry Business, including stock, fixtures, and good will, January 1, 1906. One strong feature of our agreement with Mr. Hickox is that we promise to reduce our very large and complete stock to the lowest possible point before that date and with this end in view, we will begin, Saturday, November 4, a SPECIAL CLOSING OUT SALE to continue until December 31, at which time we positively retire from the Jewelry Business, having arranged to go into the manufacturing lumber business in British Columbia.

Our business in Albuquerque has increased steadily year by year, and grateful for this, we propose for the next two months, to cut out the big end of our profits and to give you such a genuine bargain sale of really Fine, High Grade Goods, as has never been offered in our city.

We invite you to make your selections now and avoid the rush of the December trade. We have ample vault-room and will gladly lay aside the goods you select, until you are ready for them.

We have been in the Jewelry Business 26 years, and have never yet advertised a fake sale. In this sale we will offer you rare bargains in Diamonds and Fine Watches. Every sale will be backed by my personal guarantee. Mail orders solicited and satisfaction assured.

HOW LONG NEGRO BLOOD WILL ENDURE

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 20.—The trial of the mandamus suit, which Robert Gilliland had instituted to compel the Buncombe county Board of Education to admit his six children to the public schools of the county, was opened here today. The children had been dismissed from a county school on the allegation that they had negro blood in their veins. The case has attracted a great deal of attention in this and other southern states and promises to be highly sensational. Gilliland claims that his ancestry can be traced for a hundred years. Should the suit be decided in favor of Gilliland, the result will affect about five hundred persons living in Buncombe, Madison and Henderson counties.

RUSSIA, CAPTAINLESS SAILS OUT INTO AN UNKNOWN SEA

IN THE MARVELOUS REVOLUTIONARY STAGE THROUGH WHICH SHE IS PASSING THERE ARE NO LEADERS TO MARK A STRAIGHT COURSE TO CONSTITUTIONAL FREEDOM—WITTE A COMPROMISE, WHO IS DISLIKED BY THE OLD REGIME AND DISTRUSTED BY THE PEOPLE.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 20.—Russia, severed from her bureaucracy, is suffering from lack of leadership. There are none that can be counted on to guide her forward on a straight course to the field of freedom. In the marvelous revolutionary stage through which the country is passing, and will continue to pass for months to come, nothing stands out more prominently in the list of unprecedented insurrectionist forces than the absence of leadership.

No one man or company of men was responsible for the universal strike that has steadily undermined bureaucracy by abstention. Had there been any formal organization and direction of that vast movement, the man responsible for it would now be at the head of the Russian nation, a Washington and Napoleon in one, replacing the czar as the leader of the Slav empire. But there was no leader of the strike. The strike spread as a prairie fire spreads, because of a dropped match and a parched field.

In St. Petersburg there is an organization called "The Union of Unions," similar to the American Federation of Labor, but the strike had begun and spread from Finland to the Caucasus almost before the directors of "The Union of Unions" knew it was upon them.

The bureaucracy, too, has been as lacking in leadership as the strikers. Had the czar been able to summon to his help anyone of great executive force, the strike would have died out with the granting of a few reforms. But there was no one among the bureaucracy to whom the czar could turn.

As the reactionaries beseeched the czar not to give way, Nicholas turned to them, one after another, saying: "Will you undertake to restore peace if I give you a free hand?" All without exception made some excuse and walked out.

Vladimir could give advice as to the diamond settings most likely to please a czar's wife, but he had no policy for stopping the cries of the people; Pobledonotets could excommunicate

This is Correspondent Farmer's second article from St. Petersburg on the problems which the Russian people are confronted with as they start out on the road to constitutional liberty. Mr. Farmer here tells of the disheartening lack of leaders at this critical moment on the side of either democracy or the aristocracy.—Editor.

IF IVAN COULD ONLY TAKE A LOOK INTO THE PAST

"The Russians simply know in a general way what they want. They do not know how to get it, as the American people knew when they made their constitution 120 years ago."—Correspondent Farmer.

a whole nation, if necessary, but if the nation laughed at excommunication, he was at the end of his resources; Trepoff could order his soldiers to fire, but reconstruction, not destruction, was necessary.

So, both sides being without leaders, it became a question of which had the greater aggregate of moral courage, and the immoral bureaucracy collapsed before the moral force of the Russian nation.

Now, affairs are in the hands of Count Witte, who is disliked by the court party and distrusted by the people. But in all Russia he is the only available leader. He has come into power because there is absolutely no one else. Both sides regard him as a compromise. He is the Alexander Hamilton of Russia. If, with him were a coterie of men like Jefferson, Madison and John Adams, to counterbalance his suspicion of democracy on the one hand and his overfondness for opportunism on the other, Russia would travel more easily along the way to liberty.

It will be many months, perhaps several years, before Russia is severed finally from her bureaucracy. The task of forming a new nation as America was formed, is almost insupportable compared with the work of changing a country for centuries run by a bureaucracy, into a democracy. The Russians simply know in a general way what they want. They do not know how to get it, as the American people knew when they made their constitution 120 years ago.

Russia must experiment. There must be a long series of exploring steps taken in directions entirely new for the Slavs, and there are certain to be many initial mistakes, some of them perhaps approaching to disasters.

MOST ANYTHING

"Do you believe President Roosevelt is as brave a man as the people think?" "I certainly do. Didn't he make a trip on a war vessel in time of peace?"

"Mrs. Warren's Profession" must be pretty bad. The New York police couldn't stand for it.

The burglar stumbled as he was leaving the house, falling against the door and breaking the glass. "Curse the luck!" he muttered, as he fled, with all the members of the household following. "And my motto has always been, 'Come easy, go easy.'"

After all, it took almost a revolution to bring the czar around, didn't it?

Button in. Mr. Pace Button of Sandusky, is spending some time with his brother-in-law, Ward Diehl.—Garrettsville (O.) Journal.

Some Careful Figuring. The democratic candidates on the local ticket are all capable men; so are the republican candidates, and they have the majority of voters. If this diagnosis is correct, is it difficult to name the winners? We think not.—Wellington (O.) Enterprise.

He Was Badly Rattled.

"The man I marry must have a title." "I've got one—to the finest lot in town!"

Some Household Stunts.

"Shelling the Peas."

The Norwegian storthing announces that it is ready to treat with Prince Charles. As the governor of North Carolina said—

Sir Thomas Lipton would never find a welcome in the south. He's always stirring up the race question.

"Backache, 'The Blues'"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts." These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention.

Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some uterine derangement. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the steady of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the ablest specialists agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ill-known trouble.

The following letters from Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Cotrely are among the many thousands which Mrs. Pinkham has received this year from those whom she has relieved.

Surely such testimony is convincing. Mrs. J. G. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "I have suffered everything with backache and womb trouble—I let the trouble run on until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to do any work, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved, I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backaches and headaches are all gone and I suffer no pain at my menstrual periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

Mrs. Emma Cotrely, 199 East 12th Street, New York City, writes:

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

Corn Husking Reversed By Country-bred Youths

Farmers throughout the corn belt are very busy finishing the husking of their corn. In many localities, in spite of the big wages offered, there is a scarcity of corn huskers.

Ever "shuck" corn? You side to bed soon after the chickens go to roost and you get up before daylight and chop out at the barn until breakfast is ready. By that time your appetite is ready for business.

And the breakfast! Sugar cured ham, smoked in the farmer's smoke house with a slow chip fire, and fresh laid eggs, with no hint of storage, and biscuit like your grandmother used to make, and gravy galore and coffee strong enough to hold up an egg, with thick cow's cream to put in it.

By the time the sun shows its red disk over the prairie you are in the field. The frost shows itself on the fences and the fields, and the steam that rises makes a slight fog in the corn rows which a light breeze soon blows away.

If you are a small boy they will put you on the "down row," and you better believe it is as hard to keep that up as it is to shuck two rows on either side of the wagon. Thump! go the first ears into the wagon box. The race is on. The horses need but little urging to keep up with the procession, which, later in the day, as the load gets heavier, moves a little more slowly. It is, then, if ever, that profanity appeals.

At the first you go at the big ears with a hop, skip and jump and you hold the pace till the first load drives out of the field and goes groaning to the bins.

Shoveling the corn. Ah, there's the rub. Nowadays many farmers have patent elevators by which the wagon load is brought up at one end and the whole load slides out, in the old days it took muscle and an elastic backbone to "scoop" the corn. And there was many an ache thereby.

You are at it again. You talk politics or religion or gossip with the other fellows. You breathe the crisp, pure air; you whistle or sing and forget there is anything in the world but corn—and dinner.

About 10 o'clock you begin to listen for the dinner bell or horn. You never were so hungry.

But you drown your appetite in the pure joy of living and breathing. You josh the man on the other side of the wagon about his best girl. The sun gets warm and you shed garments. And all the time the air is raining corn.

It may be that the furrows show some ice in spots and the thick frost gets hold of your fingers, which are worn thin despite the "stalls" or husking pegs. It is a long time before the sun makes a showing. You blow on your fingers. You thresh your arms. And if your gloves are badly frayed at the ends you may leave a few spots of good rich blood on some of the husks. What matters it? Life is good. Life is gay. That fellow on the other side of the wagon shall not get ahead of the horses' tails.

The big dinner distends your stomach to the point of bursting. And the half hour's rest that follows is halcyon.

And again, with fingers a little stiff, you plod by the wagon side all afternoon, gathering the corn. 'Till supper. Again you eat as if there was never to be another chance at victuals. And then you roll into bed and in a snoreless, dreamless sleep.

Dyspepsia? Insomnia? Impoverished blood?

Who ever heard that corn huskers suffered of these things? Of course, they are tired. There are a few little aches, a sore finger or two. But as for health, corn huskers have a surplus.

And a great pity it is, that some of our white faced, weak lunged, smoke poisoned city men could not be compelled to shuck corn at least two weeks in October and two weeks in November.

PRODUCTION OF GOLD AND SILVER IN 1904

TAKEN FROM U. S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY BULLETIN 206, AND SHOWING WHENCE IT CAME.

Never before in the history of the United States Geological Survey has its annual report on the production of gold and silver been so complete and comprehensive as is the report of 1904, which has just been published. The number of mine owners who refuse to report their production is now extremely small, and there is, in fact, a very large and growing number of companies that no longer make a secret of their production of gold and silver. Waldemar Lindgren, geologist, who is well known in the most important gold and silver camps of the country, had charge of the work of collecting the gold and silver statistics. He was assisted by Charles G. Yale in Alaska, California, Nevada, Oregon and Washington; by Victor G. Heikes in Arizona, Idaho and Utah; by W. S. Ward in Colorado; by A. N. Winchell in Montana; and by E. P. Porter in South Dakota and Wyoming, and Prof. F. A. Jones in New Mexico.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

Strengthen the Stomach with Mi-o-na Tablets and Keep Well-Guaranteed by J. O. Rielly & Co.

If you have the least symptom of indigestion or stomach troubles, make haste to get rid of it now. The hearty food and indoor life of winter will put a burden upon that poor old stomach which may weaken it beyond help. Mi-o-na tablets are an unusual combination of valuable medicinal agents that soothe and heal the irritated mucous membrane of the stomach, stimulate the solar plexus, and strengthen the whole nervous system. If you have headaches, dizziness, indigestion, heart-burn, specks before the eyes, sleeplessness, backache, and debility or weakness, it shows that you need Mi-o-na. Ask J. H. O'Reilly Co. to show you the guarantee they give with each 50 cent box of this remedy. Mi-o-na costs nothing unless it cures.

FINNS HOPE THEY CAN NOW TRUST THE CZAR

AUGUST EDWARDS, LEADING FINN IN AMERICA, WRITES OF THE TROUBLES OF THE LAND OF THE MIDNIGHT SUN.

BY AUG. EDWARDS, Editor of the American Sanomat.

(Aug. Edwards was born in Finland, and came to this country in 1883. Since 1884 he has been in the newspaper business at Ashtabula, O. He published first the semi-weekly Yhtysvaikain Sanomat, a monthly temperance paper and a monthly illustrated magazine, all in the Finnish language. He is now publishing the American Sanomat, the leading Finnish weekly, with 10,000 subscribers. Mr. Edwards is one of the best informed Finns in America, and a leader of his countrymen here.—Editor of the American Sanomat.)

And if we moved in starry skies— Where no one weeps, where no one sighs— To this poor lonely country, though Our longing hearts would go.

The 2,500,000 Finlanders at home and the 250,000 in this country, with grief in their hearts, have seen Finland's constitutional liberty swept away. The important public offices given to men who have nothing in common with the natives, given to men born and brought up under Russian tyranny.

But during all the dark days there were some who could not refrain from protesting. This number increased, and individuals, exasperated, saw Russian officials for endeavoring to carry out the degrading policy of the destroyers of Finland's liberty. The patriots protested for a long time in vain. Today the conditions have changed and the emperor, in his hour of distress finally has seen fit to listen to the demand of the oppressed subjects. He has promised to restore to the people of Finland the hereditary rights and privileges of which he by his decree of February 15, 1899, deprived them.

But can we trust him? Is the czar, who with a single stroke of the pen, annihilated the Finnish constitution, and plunged into deep mourning a loyal people, a man who will keep his promises? On his accession to the throne in 1894 Nicholas II assured the people that he desired to confirm and ratify the fundamental laws, the rights and privileges of every class in Finland, which according to the constitution of their country they had enjoyed. In 1899 he broke his promise and committed a perfidious crime against the fundamental laws of Finland.

AUG. EDWARDS.

Oh, land, the thousand lakes, own land Of faith, and lay, and glee— Where life's main sea gave us a strand. Our foretime's land, our future's land. Shy of the future never be! Be calm, be glad, be free!

Until a few years ago little was known in America of the land of the midnight sun and its people. It was known that some so-called Russian Finns had immigrated and were working in the Minnesota and Michigan mines and on the docks at Ashtabula, Connant and Fairport, O.

But about five years ago a cry of distress was heard all over the civilized world, emanating from the Finns, who for 700 years had been free and who now made virtually Russian subjects. Interest in the down-trodden people was aroused, and today Finland and its people are better known, and as an especially liberty-loving people and a people who love their country, Finland's greatest poet, Johan Ludvig Runeberg, does not exaggerate when he sings in the national hymn thus:

Our land is poor, and so shall be To him who gold shall crave; The strangers proudly pass, but we Shall ever love this land. We see In moor and fell and lake and wave A golden land so brave. And if we once were made to rise To gold clouds from below.

We are glad to note that Mr. Samuel and his company are again to be with us for three nights, beginning November 23 and playing on the 24th and 25th. "The Great Conspiracy,"

"A Wise Woman," the second night's play, is even more interesting than "The Man From Mexico." It is played with a full cast of fifteen players; new scenery, costumes and effects for both pieces will be used.

EX-SPEAKER DAVID B. HENDERSON, NEARING END AT DUBUQUE—GEORGE HENDERSON IS ON DEATHBED AT SAN DIEGO.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 20.—At the same time, but in widely separated districts, two brothers are fighting the same fight, against the same grim adversary, and with the same apparent result—the slow but steady approach of death. In this city David B. Henderson, former speaker of the house of representatives, is being cared for by his brother, A. G. Henderson, who is striving by every means known to the nurse's art, of which he is a graduate, to restore normal circulation and relieve congestion of blood in the brain. Neither the sick man nor his painstaking attendant, knows that in San Diego, Cal., George Henderson, his brother, is also near to death, and that it is with great difficulty that he has been kept alive. It is reported here that his life has been despaired of, but knowledge of his condition would but hasten the end of the former speaker, while it might cause the collapse of his overworked and overwrought nurse. George Henderson has not been informed of the illness of his brother David.

"I Thank the Lord!" cried Hannah Plant, of Little Rock, Ark., "for the relief I got from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for five years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed by all druggists; 25c.

DEATH WATCH SUSPENDED.

AN ARIZONA MURDERER GIVEN LONGER LEASE OF LIFE.

The death watch at the Kingman, Ariz., jail has been raised off of C. C. Leigh, his appeal having given that murderous gentleman a longer lease of life, says the Miner. Attorney Anderson, who is employed by the relatives of Leigh to carry the case to the supreme court, has made the statement that owing to new evidence, a new trial will be asked for, and that the evidence is in substance that the rival of Leigh for the affections of Mrs. Baisters, the murdered woman, was a member of the grand jury that brought in the indictment and took part in the prosecution of the murderer before that body. The statement is all both. Leigh committed one of the most cold blooded murders in the criminal annals of the country, and should pay the penalty. He lived for years from the earnings of this woman, and when she refused longer to contribute to his support, he murdered her. That is the cold fact of the case.
