WOODROW WILSON BECOMES PRESIDENT AND SCENES OF RECORD-BREAKING ENTHUSIASM

DEMOCRAT TAKES OATH AS CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN THE PRESENCE OF COUNTLESS THOUSANDS

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 4.—Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, was inaugurated today as president of the United States and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, its vice president...

Mr. Marshall Takes Oath. When all had taken their places and the members of the new cabinet had been seated in the rear of the room, Mr. Marshall took the oath of office...

Then began the procession from the senate wing to the great amphitheater at the east front of the capitol. Chief Justice White, followed by Justices of the supreme court...

Mr. Taft Congratulates Wilson. "Mr. President," said Mr. Taft, his face beaming with a broadening smile. "I wish you a successful administration and the carrying out of your aims..."

Enthusiastic Princetonians. President Wilson stood for more than an hour under the glare of myriads of brilliant electric lights as he greeted thousands in the long line...

Oath of Office Administered. Promptly at 1:35 o'clock this afternoon, when Chief Justice White rose to administer the oath and Woodrow Wilson stood with right hand pointed to Heaven...

Ceremonies in the senate chamber, which marked the dying of the sixty-second and the vitalizing of the new sixty-third congress...

Let thy merces come also into me, O Lord even thy salvation, according to Thy word. "So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me..."

President Wilson's Inaugural Address Remarkable for Brevity

Washington, March 4.—The address of President Woodrow Wilson, delivered immediately after he had taken the oath of office today, was remarkable for its brevity...

"There has been a change of government. It began two years ago, when the house of representatives became democratic by a decisive majority...

"It means much more than the mere success of a party. The success of a party means little except when the nation is using that party for a large and definite purpose...

"We have come now to the sober second thought. The scales of heedlessness have fallen from our eyes. We have made up our minds to square every process of our national life with reality...

"We have studied and perfected the means by which government may be put at the service of humanity, in safeguarding the health of the nation, the health of its men and its women and its children...

"But the evil has come with the good, and much fine gold has been corroded. With riches has come an insatiable waste. We have squandered a great part of what we might have used...

"The great government we loved has too often been made use of for private and selfish purposes, and those who used it had forgotten the people..."

"And yet it will be no cool process of mere science. The nation has been deeply stirred, stirred by a solemn passion, stirred by the knowledge of wrong, of ideals lost, of government too often debauched and made an instrument of evil..."

"This is a day of dedication. Here must be the forces of party, but the forces of humanity. Men's hearts wait upon us; men's hopes hang in the balance...

"Who shall live up to the great trust? Who dare fail to try? I summon all honest men, all patriots, all forward-looking men, to my side..."

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Washington, March 4.—William Howard Taft, public servant since he was 21 years old, said farewell to public life today...

At the station most of the members of the Taft cabinet and their wives and several close friends of Mr. Taft were waiting...

It had been a busy day for Mr. Taft. Although he was up until 3 o'clock this morning...

Proposed Law to Prohibit Card Playing for Prizes of Any Sort Causes Surprising Mix-Up of Members.

(State Capital Bureau of Morning Journal.) Senate, Fr. March 4.—The senate this afternoon was surprised to see Senator Barth lined up in two minority reports with members of the majority...

The senate discussion centered over a motion by Mr. Holt to refer House Joint Resolution 29, the state-wide prohibition resolution, to the committee on constitutional amendments...

Senator Holt spoke for the bill, declaring that it was impossible to draft a measure which would actually prohibit gambling for money yet would not prohibit social games where prizes were given the winners...

Senator Barth opened the second act with a statement that he agreed with almost everything Senator Holt had said, but that he was opposed to the particular bill because it would cut out the games of cards usually played at home...

The senate adjourned in the midst of the discussion and without any action being taken on the adoption of either report.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Douglas, Ariz., March 4.—A general instructing that the troops of the other command launch the attack Sunday, which was reported this morning between Mexican federal troops from the Agua Prieta garrison and soldiers of the Ninth United States Cavalry...

There has been no further firing on the border here since this morning. The Ninth cavalry patrol has been increased to full force, including the machine guns, stratching from Douglas to Forest station...

"I have no unfriendly feeling toward the United States, and the shooting by my men across the border was without authority," declared General Ojeda today...

"I know they have not done it. I deplore the matter as much as any one could, but we will return the fire and shoot to kill as long as the patrol is interfered with. It is up to the other side to stop it..."

Up to the time we began to civilized a bald headed Indian was a thing unknown. HOUSE PASSES BILL FOR INVESTMENT OF GRANT LANDS are landing himself that within a specified time he would have located the community, turned it back to said Brown, and an explanation therefor has been given to this day, and instead another 50,000 acres, or thereabouts, was placed in his hands at a low price, to speculate with. He further alleged it was a notorious fact that all of these lands which Mr. Brown got for $1.25 per acre were actually sold by him for from $10 on.

He concluded by a statement that it was now up to the legislature to protect the people of the grant. At the request of Mr. Chavez, Heriberto W. Clark was given permission to address the house in favor of the bill as introduced. Mr. Clark said the lieutenant governor was mistaken in some of the statements and he felt it his duty to correct those. He declared that he was in a position to know the doings of the grant board for the last three years as he had been in the board in Las Vegas, before they paid back the $10,000 bond.

He repudiated the statement that Brown had fallen in his contract and said that he knew the grant board had actually seen sixty-eight heads of families who had been brought to the grant by Brown in their own homes and knew that there were eight more back the $10,000 bond.

WILSON'S ADDRESS HAS NO EFFECT ON EXCHANGE

Wall Street Passes Listless Day with Slight Activity in Trade; Depression from European Causes.

The senate met at 1:25, and after receiving a message from the governor, announcing the signature of House Bills 1 and 154, the indirect and supreme court seal acts. The following bills were introduced: Senate Bill 187, Mr. Navarro, creating a commission to attend the sessions of the national irrigation congress this year and next year; Senate Bill 188, by Mr. Aldridge, a comprehensive reorganization act; Senate Bill 189, by Mr. Thompson, relating to court reporters.

The senate adjourned without completing this order of business until 2:30 tomorrow. The following bills were introduced: House Bill 266, by Messrs. Moreno, Llewellyn and Molloy, prohibiting the sale of land within 100 feet of a road; House Bill 267, by Messrs. Llewellyn and Molloy, creating a commission to study the government bill for the sale of 5,000 or over. This is the main bill of the day.

The house adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock tomorrow. The house at the morning session recommitted, by a vote of 25 to 18, the bill requiring the governor to name the members of the sheep and cattle sanitary boards from lists to be furnished by the Wool Growers' association and the Cattlemen's association. The cattle board bill was struck through an amendment. This is House Bill 259.

The house received and adopted a number of committee reports, then recessed until 2 o'clock. The house calendar bill now receded fourteen pages, the longest in history.

VERMONT TOWNS SHOW PREFERENCE FOR "WET"

Montpelier, Vt., March 4.—A marked increase in the license vote was one of the features of the elections in the cities and towns in Vermont today. Seven towns changed from no license to license, while only two places, including the small city of Vergennes, went from "wet" to "dry." Early returns indicated that the constitutional amendment to change the date of state elections from September to November, had carried.

Table of market prices for various commodities including copper, silver, and gold.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, March 4.—Basis that abandoned acreage would be the smallest in years, had a bullish effect today on wheat. Closing prices, though firm, were 1/2 to 3/4c under last night. Corn showed a net loss to 1/2 to 3/4c, oats finished unchanged to 1/4c lower and provisions at a decline of 2 1/2c to 5c.

According to a leading authority so little winter damage had been done to wheat that it was not unlikely the harvest this season might run between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 acres larger than a year ago. South-west dispatches were especially bullish, Kansas points to particular reports every indication of a bumper crop because of the snowfall of the last five days. Cleveland sent word of not having a single serious crop complaint the entire winter. Expected heavy receipts at Minneapolis added to the weakness of wheat. One road alone was said to have orders for 4,000 cars to get shipments out of western Minnesota and North Dakota to escape taxes. Bullish feeling, however, exhausted itself when news came that export sales had been made for shipment by way of the gulf. A moderate rally, due largely to shorts realizing profits, took place as trading came to an end.

Total clearances of wheat and flour equalled 208,000 bushels, primary receipts of wheat were 815,000 bushels against 348,000 bushels a year ago. Corn suffered through sympathy with wheat. Millions of bushels on the track in the Chicago switching district had a further depressing influence and so also did bearish predictions regarding the government statement next Monday as to farm reserves. Despite some aggressive selling, oats were held steady by commission house support. Stop loss selling of provisions resulted from a break in the hog market. Later there was fair buying credited to interests at the stock yards.

Declining Vote Scale.

From Feb. 24th to March 15th the following votes will be issued:

Table showing declining vote scale by carrier and by mail, with columns for Price, New, and Old.

- List of candidates for the Declining Vote Scale, including names like Margarette Rowan, Bertha Thompson, and Suzanne Moore.

Before the close of the campaign a great many people who have not heretofore been voting for any particular candidate will come in of their own accord and cast their ballots for some favored young man of the contest. There are a great many of these backward voters and the thing for candidates to do is to seek them out and secure their votes before someone else does so. By showing them the benefit you derive from their help now you are certain of securing it.

Candidates are now rapidly reorganizing their forces. The difference of a few hundred votes is not a very trifling matter and that is why the work is all that is required to reduce this difference to nothing. A race is never ended until the goal is reached and there is a chance for any candidate in the lot to slip into the lead and eventually win. While there's a chance, there's hope, and not until the night of March 22nd, nor so rapidly as is supposed, will the race be ended and decided.

The friendly rivalry that has been inspired by the contest has taken hold of communities as well as individuals. The friends of each candidate are getting into the game for their candidates and are very likely to assist some of the larger communities by the size of the lot they will cast before the campaign draws to a close. And the size of the vote cast shows that many of the candidates are sitting tight during this most important part of the race. And this much is certain: the contestant who is away down in the race today is liable to show up tomorrow with a large number of votes that will change the result of the contest. Local pride is being stimulated in practically every town and the short contestants of today may be the favorite of tomorrow.

Do not let others carry away these valuable prizes without a struggle. Your chances are just as good as yours. Make up your mind that you will be a winner, and so after the race is over you will be proud of your success.

SIX MILLION DOLLAR SWINDLE IS ALLEGED

Philadelphia, March 4.—That investors in all parts of the country were defrauded of nearly $6,000,000 by false representations and misleading literature sent through the mails was charged by United States District Attorney Swartley in outlining the case of the government against the promoters and officers of the International Lumber & Development company today in the United States district court. He declared that he would show that 288,000 acres of land in Mexico, alleged to be owned by the company, is in reality owned by the San Pablo company, a New Jersey corporation, and that the $1,500,000 paid in dividends did not come out of the earnings, but was paid from money secured from investors for stock.

Sure! Use a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight, and in the morning all constipated waste, sour bile, gases and poisons will move on out of the system, gently but thoroughly—no griping—no nausea—no weakness. These are the days of the gentle and natural—days of Syrup of Figs. This way you are not dragging yourself. Syrup of Figs being composed entirely of luscious figs, figs, figs and aromatics can cause no injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, "California Fig Syrup Company on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other so-called Fig Syrup is an imitation often meant to deceive you. Refuse such with contempt.

BELEN BAR PORTER IS CONVICTED OF MURDER

Judge of District Court at Las Lunas Suspends Sentence Until Later, After Jury Finds Paul Hubbard Guilty.

Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.—Las Lunas, N. M., March 4.—Paul Hubbard, negro saloon porter at Belen, who shot and killed Gavino Villanueva January 26th at Belen, today was convicted of murder in the second degree in the district court here.

The state's three witnesses testified that they had been at a dance with Villanueva and on their return to town went into the saloon to buy a bottle of beer. Without words, Hubbard opened fire on them, killing Villanueva. They stuck to their story throughout the case and said that some of them was drunk.

The case of the defense, however, threw a somewhat different light on the event. A bartender testified that the night before the killing, Villanueva had been in the saloon and had some words with Hubbard, cursed him and told him that he did not like "niggers." Attorney Spicer, who was playing pool in a rear room, said he heard boisterous talking and what he believed to be a quarrel just before the shooting. He did not see the shooting, but he said he saw the state's witnesses and that they were intoxicated.

Hubbard said that Villanueva had attempted to carry out his threats of the night before, and hit him on the head with a beer bottle. At the third attempt of Villanueva to strike him he pulled a revolver from his belt and fired, he said.

The state showed the escape of the prisoner and later his arrest at Las Cruces. Hubbard said he left Belen because he feared violence from Villanueva's friends. Fred Becker also testified that at the inquest, an hour after the homicide, the three prosecuting witnesses were intoxicated. The court suspended sentence until later in the term.

Ben Wales, charged with assault with intent to kill, withdrew his plea of not guilty, entering one of guilty and the court gave him an indeterminate sentence of from three to five years in the state penitentiary. He changed his plea after the state had presented his case.

Wales shot Selome Montoya through one leg December 16, without any apparent cause, according to the state's evidence. Montoya lost the leg.

The case of the American Lumber company against Fred G. Murray, charged with operating a saloon near the town of Sawyer, was tried and the court granted a perpetual injunction against Murray, prohibiting him from maintaining his saloon at its present location, about two miles from the village, but denying the contention of the plaintiff that the saloon was unlawfully maintained within three miles of a grading or construction works. The effect of the decision will require Murray to move his saloon or quit business.

DEMOCRATS CONTROL CONGRESS ENTIRELY

Washington, March 4.—Control of congress in both branches passed today into the hands of democracy. Tomorrow the democratic members of the senate and house will assemble in separate caucuses to plan the organization of the two houses and to map out the policy of the extra session that is to assemble on President Wilson's call on April 1. Democrats faced the caucus with expectation of a struggle of some moment over the control of the senate. The progressive democratic members apparently are in control as to the selection, as far as senate leader was concerned, but the plan to change seniority rules in the filling of committees on which the newer senators demanded fuller representation, threatened to embroil the democrats in a hard fight.

The house leaders were prepared to take into tomorrow's caucus of representatives a comprehensive plan for the organization of that body for the work of tariff revision.

The chief work of the house caucus promises to be selection of the ways and means committee members, who will not begin at once the preparation of the tariff bill. No contest is expected in the house caucus over the selection of house officers.

WHY MEN BREAK DOWN

Europeans cannot understand why American men so often break down in health at forty years or younger. Just when the Englishman or German is in the very prime of his manhood, but the American throws himself so fully into his daily work that he speedily uses up his reserve strength. Hasty meals, long working hours and business worries will soon use up any man unless he is very careful. For the worn-out, overworked man nothing is so good to build him up and help him stand the terrific strain as Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic. DIPLOMATS NEXT TO HAVE ATTENTION OF PRESIDENT

William F. McCoombs Stated for Paris; Selection for Great Britain Has Not Been Decided Upon, It is Said.

(By Morning Journal Special Lined Wire.) Washington, March 4.—With the names of the new cabinet known beyond doubt, interest turned tonight toward President Wilson's next appointments. The diplomatic service will receive Mr. Wilson's first attention. The president has not yet decided upon an ambassador to Great Britain, but for other European posts it was stated tonight on reliable authority that Thomas Nelson Page, William F. McCoombs, Henry M. Morgenthau, of New York; Frederick C. Penfield, of New York, practically were certain to be chosen.

Definite information is lacking as to which posts they will occupy. Mr. McCoombs will be sent to France if he desires the post, though he said today he had not made up his mind whether his proposed trip abroad on account of his health should be hindered with official duties.

Augustus Thomas, Col. Thomas H. Birch, of New Jersey, and Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, it also is learned, are being considered for the foreign service. It was said tonight that Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, who was mentioned insistently as a cabinet possibility, would be offered and probably would accept the post of solicitor general. According to the story, Mr. Brandeis was to have been appointed secretary of commerce, but withdrew his name before the slate finally was completed.

THREE YEARS' MILITARY SERVICE IN FRANCE

BALKAN SITUATION IS PRACTICALLY UNCHANGED

Turks Declare Mind Not Fully Made Up to Yield Adrianople; Montenegrins Want Scutari as Part of Spoils.

(By Morning Journal Special Lined Wire.) London, March 4.—There practically is no change in the Balkan situation. The grand vicer, Mahmud Scheffer Pasha, in an interview at Constantinople, is quoted as saying the negotiations still were in progress, but that Turkey had not actually decided to cede Adrianople and would not necessarily be bound by the decision of the powers.

A Belgrade dispatch says that Montenegro has been given assurance that if Scutari capitulates by the date of the Roussoff treaty, March 5th, the powers will cede Scutari to Montenegro.

King Nicholas reiterated today to war correspondents at Cetinje that Montenegro never would abandon her claim to Scutari. In response to an appeal from Essad Pasha, commander of the town, the queen of Montenegro has sent a consignment of medical and surgical supplies into Scutari for the wounded.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

The inaugural address of President Woodrow Wilson is a model of felicitous phrasing, is probably above criticism. Whether it will live in history for other than literary excellence will depend upon the president's effort and ability to translate his purpose into action.

Aside from the two inaugural addresses of Abraham Lincoln—one, when he was stirred to the depths of his nature by impending war and the other when the dreadful scourge of four years was ending its clamor—no other president has so nearly expressed the aspirations of the American people or pointed out the imperfections of our social and political system so closely.

The address begins with notation of the assumption of power by the democratic party, but asserts that the clause "means much more than the mere success of a party." He finds that the "country is incomparably great in its material aspect, in its body of wealth, in the diversity and sweep of its energy. Also, that it is great in its moral force."

But "the evil has come with the good, and much fine gold has been corroded." The president then specifies the evils that must be corrected, each one of them presenting a problem too vast and complicated to have a remedy outlined. The first evil is waste—waste of everything. He cannot correct the evil during his term, but he may project forces, give momentum to thought, that will work reformations imperative for our increasing population and diminishing resources.

By and by living must be reduced to a scientific basis. In the march of our material achievements, the president says, we have not stopped to count the cost. He is thinking of the "human cost, the cost of lives snuffed out, of energies overtaxed and broken, of the fearful physical and spiritual cost to men and women and children upon whom it all has fallen pitilessly the years through."

The man who wrote those words is no mere rhetorician. While they lack something of the power of Lincoln's second inaugural address, when his utterances had the lofty expression of an ancient Hebrew prophet rather than the materialistic views of a modern statesman, Woodrow Wilson shows that he has vision and sympathy. He understands "the groans and agony of it all"; he has heard the "solenn, moving undertone of our life, coming up out of the mines and factories and out of every home where the struggle has its intimate and familiar seat."

When it comes to applying remedies, the president speaks of the tariff, on which he has already spoken in a Delphic sort of way, banking and currency, over which his party is divided and muddled, and of agriculture, mining, forestry, manufactures, and all the other industries of the country, in a general way.

There is clear suggestion that he has a "social justice" purpose, but of course, he announces no program. His purpose in that respect must be a matter of evolution rather than revolution. He cannot turn the world upside down at once, and does not mean to try to.

The speech of President Wilson differs greatly from those of his predecessors in the White House. They dwelt upon things material. While Mr. Wilson recognizes the material, he also recognizes necessity for moral and spiritual progress.

The thoughts of the address are not of the ordinary. Before him, Mr. Wilson has hard work, persistent effort, criticism, probably loss of political popularity, if he hopes to carry a place in history, as his address indicates.

WILSON'S CABINET.

There is a remarkable difference between the personnel of the cabinet selected by President Wilson and the composition of any one of the previous cabinets chosen since the civil war.

largely of millionaires, or men of the socially elect. The "common greaser" was not wanted around his cabinet table. Of course, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson continued on the job.

When Taft was inaugurated, he named a cabinet composed of lawyers of recognized ability, except that Mr. MacVeagh, a millionaire, was made secretary of the treasury. Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general, and Mr. Wilson held on to the portfolio of agriculture. It was a lawyer cabinet.

Mr. Wilson's cabinet has in it one prominent politician, Col. William Jennings Bryan, Burlington was well known in Texas, but not dominant there, so was Joseph Daniels in North Carolina, the publisher and editor of a newspaper only influential locally.

Mr. Redfield, the man of greatest ability in the cabinet, is a manufacturer and was a congressman from Brooklyn. He had been in the cabinet nationally. William G. McAdoo never mixed much in politics until Woodrow Wilson became a candidate for the presidency, but he was famous as the builder of the tube under the Hudson river. McVeigh was little known in Tennessee, from where he hails, having established his reputation largely in the prosecution of trusts under the direction of Attorney General Wickersham, and his assistant, James Fowler, a Tennesseean, who kept McVeigh on the job during a republican administration, though McVeigh was a democrat.

The other members of the president's official family had only meager local reputations. McAdoo and Redfield are the only ones that have figured even fairly large in a business way. No one is a lawyer of national fame, unless it be McVeigh.

It will be interesting to see how the combination works, how they perform as the executive heads of the great departments of the nation. When Mr. Wilson was nominated, he had his campaign placed in the hands of men who had little experience in politics. He said he would direct things largely himself. He was not looking for men of training for the work. Possibly he has selected a cabinet, except Mr. Bryan, with life span end in view. How it will work, time alone can tell. He is starting to do things in a different way from the ordinary.

CAUSE FOR SHAME.

No man who thinks decently will fail to condemn the outrageous treatment to which the five thousand women marchers were subjected in the streets of the national capital on Tuesday. The suffrage movement in the United States has proceeded along orderly and intelligent lines at all times. The women who have led the movement from the days of Elizabeth Cady Stanton to the present have been noted for ability, for womanliness of qualities, for obedience to all the laws of God and man.

When from every state in the union women gathered in the capital of the nation to further their cause by an orderly parade, instead of having the courtesies that American men are supposed to extend to the opposite sex on all occasions, the marchers were beset by thousands of brutes in the form of men. They were subjected to jostling and insult. Delicate ladies had their ears assailed with vile epithets and filthy jeers. In vain they appealed to the police for protection.

The parade was impeded by masses of men, who blocked the streets at various points and refused to give way, teams of horses and automobiles were driven through the procession purposely. Every sense of fair play was violated. In the face of it all, the women continued their struggle against the unfair odds and finally won triumphantly, holding aloft of the greatest mass meetings that ever assembled in one hall on the American continent. Also they were given a new weapon with which to fight for their cause.

It is easy for them to point to the fact that such men, as by thousands crowded the streets and shouted filthy jeers at them, are not fit for the ballot—certainly not fit to cast the ballots that must control the women of this nation.

Suffrage has won in nine of the sovereign states, not one of which has been damaged in any particular by the fact that the women were allowed to exercise the franchise. They are entitled to the same courtesies that good women are entitled to everywhere, whether we subscribe to the "votes for women" propaganda or not.

An investigation of the failure of the police to extend protection has been asked. The persons responsible for the disgraceful scenes should be punished.

There is some excuse for resentment on the part of Englishmen toward the violent methods of the militant suffragettes. But the women of America have given no example of lawlessness in their campaigns.

The friends of a man who has been an art editor for fifty years are to give a dinner for him in New York. Editors are always glad to get a square meal, even if it is a half-century coming.

CHICAGO PACKERS DARROW PICTURED AS MORAL IDIOT BY PROSECUTION

Suits Aggregating One Million Dollars Dismissed After an Agreement is Reached to Pay Fines of $102,000.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, March 4.—The government's $1,000,000 claim against Chicago packers and others for taxes allowed due on colored oleomargarine sold as uncolored, was compromised today by Secretary McVeigh for $102,000. A spirited controversy surrounded these cases, United States District Judge Landis started a grand jury investigation, which later was suspended pending the treasury department's action.

The home committee on expenditures in the treasury department also inquired into the subject. The compromise was made, it is explained here, because the government had no evidence to sustain the $1,000,000 claim. One hundred and two thousand dollars, it is added, was all the government could hope to get, even through litigation. The treasury held that a test case was impracticable because it could not be decided for two or three years and in any event the government could not expect to sustain anything approaching its maximum claim.

COMPROMISE DOES NOT AFFECT JELKE INDICTMENT.

Chicago, March 4.—The oleomargarine cases compromised in Washington today are distinct from the government's suit against J. F. Jelke, of Chicago, to obtain dismissal of which President Taft was recently asked, unsuccessfully, by former Mayor Husse, of Chicago, and Jelke. The latter is charged with conspiracy in defrauding the government and the case probably will come to trial within a month.

United States District Judge Landis who will empanel a regular grand jury here tomorrow, declined to affirm or deny a report that the grand jury would investigate the whole oleomargarine subject. It was rumored that an attempt might be made to determine whether the internal revenue department has legal power to compromise a case where the government is alleged to have been defrauded.

The exact amount of the compromise was $101,100. The total amount of the alleged frauds was $1,246,628.62. The Chicago concerns fined and the amounts they will pay, follow: Armour & Co., $10,000; William J. Moxley Co., $25,000; G. H. Hammond company, $20,000; United States Butterine company, $6,000; Friedman Manufacturing company, $7,500; Other concerns and the amounts they paid are the Capital City Dairy, $22,000; Blanton Manufacturing company, $500, and the Ohio Butterine company, $10,000.

ECKERT WILL CONTEST GOES TO JURY TODAY

New York, March 4.—The Eckert will contest reached the summit of stage in the supreme court today. James Chendornin Eckert is contesting the will on the ground that undue influence was exercised upon his father, General Thomas T. Eckert, former head of the Western Union Telegraph company, in behalf of Thomas T. Eckert, Jr., who received the bulk of the estate of $1,000,000.

The contestant's counsel claimed that the evidence showed a concerted effort by those in the Eckert household to control the making of the general's will, naming Thomas T. Eckert, Jr., his wife, who was the general's housekeeper and married young Eckert after his father's death, and Richard G. Pans, who for years was the aged man's secretary.

This is the second trial of the case, a contest before Surrogate Cobham, over the probating of the will a year ago, having resulted in the admission of the document.

Counsel for the defense summed up this afternoon and Justice Greenbaum will charge the jury tomorrow.

Minister Fletcher Willing to Resign.

Santiago, Chile, March 4.—Henry E. Fletcher, United States minister to Chile, emphatically denied today the report published in America that he had refused to resign as is the custom when the presidency changes hands. He declared that his resignation would be sent to Washington immediately if desired.

Bitter Excoriation of Accused Lawyer Marks Opening of Closing Arguments in Bribery Trial at Los Angeles.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Los Angeles, Cal., March 4.—A bitter excoriation of Clarence S. Darrow marked the opening of arguments today in the trial of the Chicago lawyer for alleged jury bribery on behalf of the McNamaras.

The taking of testimony closed shortly before noon and former Judge Whiston A. Gray, who has acted as special prosecutor, began the closing argument for the state. Each side will consume eight hours. Darrow closing for the defense and Assistant District Attorney Ford for the prosecution.

Judge Gray, in the course of his denunciation of the defendant, referred to him as "the greatest power for evil" in the United States today. Attacking those who associated with him, he called Darrow "the god of their idolatry and dime-novel hero of their worship." Other names applied to the defendant were "moral idiot" and "self-confessed witness briber."

The speaker referred constantly to what he called Darrow's "stammering smile," and of his oratorical ability he said: "The minute he gets his fox eyes on some people and snivels a few things through his nose, they fall prostrate at his feet."

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATS CELEBRATE AT LINCOLN

Lincoln, Neb., March 4.—Democratic members of the Nebraska legislature tonight held an "inaugural dinner," at which there were felicitations on the inauguration of a democratic president and vice president. The addresses were informal. The dinner was followed as preliminary to the annual banquet to be held here on the five-third birthday anniversary of William Jennings Bryan, March 9. Delightful entertainment was made tonight that Mr. Bryan will come from Washington to attend the banquet in his honor and that other party leaders of the nation would attend. It will be Mr. Bryan's first appearance at his home since a few days after the November election.

PANAMA COMMISSION BEGINS LAND HEARINGS

Panama, March 4.—The joint land commission appointed to adjudicate claims in the matter of land in the canal zone held in private ownership, has begun its work. It is estimated that it will be occupied for six or eight months, as the value of the property to be adjudicated is said to be between $5,000,000 and $8,000,000. The abandonment of the canal zone settlement at Gorzonia, twenty miles from Panama, on the Chagres river, was ordered by Colonel Guethard today.

GRAVES OF WILSON'S PARENTS DECORATED

Columbia, S. C., March 4.—As a tribute to President Woodrow Wilson, the graves of his father and mother in a cemetery here were covered with flowers today by the Ladies Church society. Dr. Joseph Wilson, president of the church, led the service. Wilson's father, taught in a theological seminary here from 1870 to 1874. He died at Princeton and his body was brought here for interment. Mrs. Wilson's death preceded that of her husband several years.

Why do Brewers of Germany and England use only Brown Bottles?

Sunlight grows the hops, but spoils the brew. Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives best protection against light. In England and Germany the brewers won't use light glass bottles. "Beer should not be exposed to the light, especially direct sunlight, as it will thereby be detrimentally affected, the light having an influence upon the albuminoids in the beer, causing the latter to become hazy."

no less a person than Philip Dreesbach, the eminent German expert and scientist in the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

We have adopted every idea, every invention that could make for the purity of Schlitz beer.

Our beer was first brewed in a hut. Now our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.

CHICAGO HAS GIRLS COURT ESTABLISHED

Chicago, March 4.—A girl's court for the examination of delinquent girls in private hearings, was opened here today in connection with the juvenile court. Miss Mary M. Bartelme, for sixteen years public guardian, was appointed by Judge Pinkney, of the juvenile court, as master to conduct the hearings. The purpose of the court is to shield girls brought before it from publicity and enable them to make their statements without embarrassment.

The object of the court, said Miss Bartelme, "is to get at the truth. Many girls lie when they are under the gaze of men in a court room. We will take only one case at a time. All the assistants are women. Hundreds of cases of delinquency or delinquency of immature girls come before the juvenile courts here every year. Owing to the large mixed population and the activity of evil forces, protection of girls is the most difficult problem of the juvenile court."

GETTING GRAY? USE SAGE TEA TO RESTORE NATURAL COLOR OF HAIR

Says Sage and Sulphur Darkens Hair Beautifully and Ends Dandruff.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair, says a well-known local pharmacist. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and even today this simple preparation has no equal. Millions of women and men too, who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive use only Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Nowadays we are not bothered with the task of gathering the sage leaves and the mussy mixing at home. Simply ask at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of the ready-to-use preparation, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." Customers like this best because it darkens so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it contains ingredients which take off dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. No, it isn't a dye or even like it. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears. After another application or two it is restored to its natural color.

What delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that besides beautifully darkening the hair they say it brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

SANTA FE STATION REOPENED NOW AFTER REPAIRS

New Arrangement an Improvement for Travelers and Railway Men Over Old; Roofers Begin Laying Tile.

The Santa Fe station, closed for several months on account of remodeling, was re-opened yesterday morning. The ticket agent, who has occupied a corner of the Wells Fargo & Company's building, moved into his new office and the two coaches, on a smaller level of the station, that have been used as waiting rooms, are to be taken away.

The new waiting room is over twice as large as the old. The general passenger room occupies all the space formerly divided into a men's room and the baggage room. The room formerly a women's waiting room, has been converted into a smoking compartment, and an addition to be used as an office by special officers has been completed west of the smoking room.

The roofing tile, delayed putting on the roof until yesterday. The last installment of the roofed yesterday and the roofers began work. Their scattered offices have been an inconvenience to the railroad men and passengers for several months. The arrangement, however, is more convenient than it was before with respect to the ticket agent, special officers, baggage master and travelers.

At a meeting between railroad officials and mail service men held some time ago it was decided to provide new quarters for the mail transfer clerk, whose building was burned. The new baggage room includes the ground where his office stood. It has not been decided as yet where his office will be placed.

WALTER BYRNE HAS FIRST NICKEL OF 1913 COINAGE HERE

Walter Byrne, of the Alvarado hotel, is the possessor of probably the first 1913 five-cent piece to find its way to Albuquerque. He received the coin from a tourist yesterday.

The new coin is artistic. It has an Indian head on the face and on the reverse side is a buffalo. It bears the customary "E Pluribus Unum" on one side and "Five Cents" on the other. The coin Mr. Byrne has coined at the Denver mint only a short time ago.

Telephone companies have objected to the new nickels. They say it clogs the mechanism of their toll station instruments.

MET STRANGER AT HOME, HE SAYS; ASKS DIVORCE

Complaint of William R. Fouts Filled with Sensational Allegations; Says Wife Caused Him to Leave House.

That he met a strange man in his home one night is an alleged ground for his suit for divorce, mentioned in the complaint of William R. Fouts, a Santa Fe bookman, filed yesterday in the district court against Mrs. Nellie Fouts.

February 14th when he returned to Albuquerque, about 5:30 o'clock, he saw a man enter his home and when he went into the house he found this man to be a perfect stranger, Fouts alleges. He ordered the stranger out, he says, when his wife became angry and told him she was through with him.

His wife met an unknown man about 8:30 p. m. February 28th, "between Fifth and Sixth streets" and they were away together, Fouts complains. He says his wife did not return home until about 11 o'clock.

Fouts charges that his wife ordered him out of the house March 3, following his arrest with a dish in her hand and awaiting at him and threatening to hit him. She said she would kill him if he did not get out, he alleges. Fouts boldly hints, he left quietly and has been kept from his home since then, he says.

Fouts also charges that his wife frequents public dances without his consent.

They were married July 2, 1907, at La Junta, Colo., and have a daughter, Lola Lee, 3 years old, now in the custody of his wife, Fouts alleges.

WILSON GREEN AND NELL ROSE DISPLAYED BY THE ECONOMIST

Colors like fashion, are born every night. At the inaugural reception in Washington last night, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson wore green—today this same shade, not unlike the familiar Nile green, is the rage.

An interesting incident in the origin of colors was attached yesterday by a well decorated window at the Economist. Wilson Green and Nell Rose were the colors displayed and a card conspicuously designated these the official inaugural colors.

Inquiry developed the fact that a big silk manufacturing concern in New York had brought out the shade purposely for Mrs. Wilson, and that following her acceptance of the color for her inaugural gown, this same firm wrote to leading stores throughout the United States, offering to send a window display for March 4th.

By this arrangement the colors were immediately displayed yesterday in every city of any importance in the entire country.

The Economist was the only store in New Mexico to show the new colors and the attractive window drew attention and comment a plenty.

The executive committee of the New Mexico Sunday School association at a meeting held at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon, decided upon July 1-3, as the dates for their convention at Santa Fe.

The Rev. W. C. Merritt, international field secretary, reported a plan for holding institutes in all of the counties before the convention. His plan was approved. The Rev. T. M. Parwood was appointed to organize Tazoo county. Mr. Merritt left for Newton last night to make a tour of that state. He will return to visit the counties of New Mexico.

FORMER U. S. JUDGE CHARITY PATIENT IN HOSPITAL

Lowell Loughary Seriously Ill, It is Reported; Unable to Walk Up Steps Without Assistance of Two Men.

Lowell Loughary, formerly a United States district judge, is a patient in the charity ward at St. Joseph's hospital. The aged man is in a serious condition. He was so weak that he was unable to climb the steps to the hospital except with the assistance of two men.

Loughary has been seriously ill at his home, 318 1/2 North Broadway, only a few days. An attorney who called to see whether he was in need of assistance Monday, found him so weak that he was unable to open the door.

The case was brought to the attention of Dr. Lucien G. Rice, city physician yesterday, and he sent a note, requesting admittance to the hospital for Loughary. He did not see the man and said last night he did not know what his condition.

SAY GIANNINI'S ALLOWED PLACE TO DETERIORATE

Emgenio Berta and A. Berta yesterday filed suit in the district court against Louis and Mariana Giannini for $1,000 for alleged damages to a building at 313 South First street.

The Bertas leased the place from the plaintiffs for a period from May 1, 1912, to April 30, 1913, it is alleged. They agreed to keep the place in good repair, but allowed it to deteriorate, according to the complaint. The Bertas ask for an injunction to restrain the Gianninis from further damaging the place.

CITY PHYSICIAN IS 'THROUGH' WITH THE JOURNAL

Dr. Lucien G. Rice Declares Single-Handed News Boycott on Paper as Defender of Quixotic Faithful.

If you see a blank column, or two, in The Journal any morning, ask Dr. Lucien G. Rice, city physician, for the "tale." Perhaps he'll tell you. He won't tell The Journal. He said so last night.

The city doctor's single-handed news boycott on The Journal is not due to any personal motive, he explained. He simply has elected himself defender of the quixotic faithful. For the profession's sake, the city doctor "won't tell" The Journal anything, of course, he admitted, "anyone has access to the public health records," but the law requires that.

The doctor regretted that "he had recently paid his subscription in advance." This probably will enable The Journal to keep "off the rocks" for a time.
