NEWS BROKEN TO WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Nebraskan for Third Time Notified of His Nomination for President of the United States.

COMMONER ACCEPTS IN ELABORATE SPEECH

Declares Country's Only Hope for Free Government Lies in Triumph of Democracy at Polls in November.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 12.—Under the burning rays of an almost tropical sun and in the presence of a vast assemblage which cheered him to the echo, William J. Bryan today received from Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, formal notification of his nomination for the presidency of the United States. Twice honored by the democratic party as its standard bearer, Mr. Bryan pliantly exhibited the pleasure it gave him to once again proclaim the principles for which he stood. His nomination for a third time, he declared in his speech of acceptance, could only be explained by a substantial and undisputed growth in the principles and policies for which he, with a multitude of others had contended. "As those principles and policies," he said, "have given whatever political strength I possess, the action of the convention not only renews my faith in them but strengthens my attachment to them."

The ovation accorded Mr. Bryan as he rode through the streets of Lincoln on his way to the state park, where the exercises were held, was partisan in character. It was the homage of the citizens of the western city of the plains toward a distinguished neighbor. Almost the entire republican administration was represented. Governor George L. Sheldon and many state officers lending their presence both in the parade and on the political platform. Before coming to Lincoln from Fairview, Mr. Bryan received over 1,500 visitors. To one and all he extended a cordial greeting. His arrival shortly after 12 o'clock at the Hotel Lincoln, where he and J. W. Kern, the vice presidential candidate, were the guests of honor at a luncheon to the committee on notification, was the signal for an outburst of applause. He immediately was surrounded by a great crowd and was kept busy for some time shaking hands.

Never before had Lincoln streets and buildings had such a gay appearance; never had the profusion of banners, streamers, bunting and photographs flashed forth to dazzle the eyes of the myriads of visitors. "O" street was a riot of color, and around the mutilated Taft banner a crowd of curious visitors was clustered. With the notoriety almost nation wide, the banner was almost the first point of interest visited. The route of the parade carried Mr. Bryan directly under the banner but no notice was taken of the fact by him or his party. The state house grounds were a mass of humanity and Mr. Bryan's appearance on the platform was greeted with vociferous cheers and hand clapping. The ceremony of notification was conducted on the north front of the capitol building. The balconies and every window were jammed to overflowing. Not a single incident occurred to mar the proceedings. The police arrangements were excellent. Realizing that the force was not sufficient to cope with the great crowd the adjutant general of the state at the request of Mayor Frank Brown, ordered out Captain Lem's company of the Second Nebraska regiment and with their assistance perfect order not only along the line of march but on the capitol grounds was maintained.

Before the notification and acceptance speeches were delivered, Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, who acted as presiding officer, called upon J. W. Kern, the vice presidential nominee, to make a few remarks. Mr. Kern responded with a few remarks in which he gave unstinted praise for the non-partisan character of the exercises. The speech of Mr. Bryan concluded the ceremonies and he and Mr. Kern retired to the capitol building, where they held a public reception.

Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Bryan entertained the members of the notification committee at a dinner at their home at Fairview, the party being served by Mrs. Ruth Leavitt and Miss Grace Bryan, daughters of the host and hostess; Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. T. F. Allen, since which sister-in-law respectively of the democratic candidate, and Mrs. Winger.

Clayton was liberally applauded in his seven minute notification speech and Bryan was constantly interrupted by cheers and applause as he brought out the principal points in his response. Kern delivered a short address and then he and Bryan retired to the capitol building, where they held a public reception, and the exercises were concluded.

Mr. Clayton said: "Mr. Bryan: The national democratic convention that assembled at Denver on July 7 was truly a representative body of the people of the United States. Harmony characterized its deliberations and all of its conclusions were reached with unanimity. It stood for the conservation of government under a written constitution and for the application of democratic principles in public affairs to meet the requirements of progressive American civilization."

"Without the intervention of a completed ballot you were nominated for the office of president of the United States. A committee, composed of the permanent chairman and one delegate from each state and territory, was appointed to inform you of your selection as the standard bearer of your party in the pending campaign. Therefore, in pursuance of the convention, this committee here present, now brings to you this message from a united and aggressive democracy. Our great party is confident of the righteousness of its cause, and relying upon the support of the people, is determined to rescue the government of the republic from the hands of the despoilers who have exploited it for the benefit of favorites and to the injury of the masses of plain people."

"We know that our party, platform and candidate stand for the best interest of all the people. We know that success is deserved. We believe that our party and candidate, animated by the wisest and most patriotic purposes, will achieve victory in November. On no political issue is the platform a standard or evasion, and its every declaration squares with the principles of old fashioned democracy. It is essentially a democratic instrument, preserving and applying the faith of the fathers to existing conditions. "It is hardly worth while to say, sir, that in the judgment of your party associates, and our countrymen generally, you, as our candidate, fit our platform. And it is equally gratifying that there is nothing in the platform calling for apology. There is nothing that you would avoid or run away from. There is nothing omitted that you need supply by giving your individual views. In those respects you have a tremendous advantage of your republican opponent. Standing on such a platform, possessed of an abiding conviction that our cause is just, you will draw the keen blade of righteousness in truth, driving away the scabbard, and fight for the principle of equal rights to all and special privileges to none. Your party has emphatically refused to form any alliance with special interests that enjoy special privileges under republican administration. You have always refused to compromise with those who prostitute the functions of government for the lust of greed. It was your lofty statesmanship, your unwavering fidelity, your Jefferson standard of democracy that induced the representatives of millions of American free men unanimously to choose you as their candidate for the highest office in the world."

"It would be inappropriate for me to detain this splendid audience that has met here today to listen to your patriotic and eloquent words. Therefore, I now hand you an authenticated copy of the platform adopted by the democratic convention at Denver, and request the secretary to read the formal letter of notification signed by the committee."

FULL TEXT OF MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE

Responding to Senator Clayton, Mr. Bryan said:

Mr. Clayton and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: I can not accept the nomination which you officially tender, without first acknowledging my deep indebtedness to the democratic party for the extraordinary honor which it has conferred upon me. Having twice before been a candidate for the presidency, in campaigns which ended in defeat, a third nomination, the result of the free and voluntary act of the voters of the party, can only be explained by a substantial and undisputed growth in the principles and policies for which I, with a multitude of others, have contended. As these principles and policies have given me whatever political strength I possess, the action of the convention not only renews my faith in them, but strengthens my attachment to them.

A Platform is Binding. I shall, in the near future, prepare a more formal reply to your notification, and, in that letter of acceptance, will deal with the platform in detail. It is sufficient, at this time, to assure you that I am in hearty accord with both the letter and the spirit of the platform. I endorse it in whole and in part, and shall, if elected, regard its declaration as a binding upon me. And I may add, a platform is binding as to what it omits as well as to what it contains. According to the democratic idea, the people think for themselves and select officials to carry out their wishes. The voters are the sovereigns; the officials are the servants, employed for a fixed time and at a stated salary to do what the sovereigns want done, and to do it in the way the sovereigns want it done. Platforms are entirely in harmony with this democratic idea.

A platform announces the party's position on questions which are at issue and an official is not at liberty to use the authority vested in him to urge personal views which have not been submitted to the voters for their approval. If one is nominated upon a platform which is not satisfactory to him, he must, if candid, either decline the nomination, or, if accepting it, propose an amended platform in lieu of the one adopted by the convention. No such situation, however, confronts your candidate, for the platform upon which I was nominated not only contains nothing from which I dissent, but it specifically outlines all the remedial legislation which we can hope to secure during the next four years.

Republican Challenge Accepted.

The distinguished statesman who received the republican nomination for president said, in his notification speech: "The strength of the republican cause in the campaign at hand is the fact that we represent the policies essential to the reform of known abuses, to the continuance of liberty and true prosperity, and that we are determined, as our platform unequivocally declares, to maintain them and carry them out."

In the name of the democratic party, I accept the challenge, and charge that the republican party is responsible for all the abuses which now exist in the federal government, and that it is imperative to accomplish the reforms which are imperatively needed. Further, I can not concur in the statement that the republican platform unequivocally declares for the reforms that are necessary; on the contrary, I affirm that it openly and notoriously disappoints the hopes and expectations of reformers, whether republican or democratic. So far did the republican convention fall short of its duty that the republican candidate felt it necessary to add to his platform in several important particulars, thus rebuking the leaders of the party, upon whose co-operation he must rely for the enactment of remedial legislation.

As I shall, in separate speeches, discuss the leading questions at issue, I shall at this time confine myself to the paramount question, and to the far-reaching purpose of our party, as that purpose is set forth in the platform.

Shall the People Rule?

Our platform declares that the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion, is "Shall the people rule?" No matter which way we turn; no matter to what subject we address ourselves, the same question confronts us: Shall the people control their own government, and use that government for the protection of their rights and for the promotion of their welfare—or shall the representatives of predatory wealth prey upon a defenseless public, while the offenders secure immunity by the subservient officials whom they raise to power by unscrupulous methods? This is the issue raised by the "known abuses" to which Mr. Taft refers.

President's Indictment Against the Party.

In a message sent to congress last January, President Roosevelt said: "The attacks by these great corporations on the administration's actions have been given a wide circulation throughout the country, in the newspapers and otherwise, by those writers and speakers who, consciously or unconsciously, act as the representatives of predatory wealth—the wealth accumulated on a giant scale by all forms of iniquity, ranging from the oppression of wage earners to unfair and unwholesome methods of crushing out competition, and to defrauding the public by stock-jobbing and the manipulation of securities. Certain wealthy men of this stamp, whose conduct should be abhorrent to every man of ordinary decent conscience, and who commit the hideous wrong of teaching our young men that phenomenal business success must ordinarily be based on dishonesty, have, during the last few months, made it appear that they have banded together to work for a reaction. Their endeavor is to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law, to prevent any additional legislation which would check and restrain them, and to secure, if possible, a freedom from all restraint which will permit every unscrupulous wrong-doer to do what he wishes unchecked, provided he has enough money."—What an arraignment of the predatory interests! And, if true, against whom was the indictment directed? Not against the democratic party.

Mr. Taft Endorses the Indictment.

Mr. Taft says that these evils have crept in during the last ten years. He declares that, during this time, some "prominent and influential members of the community, spurred by financial success and in their hurry for greater wealth, became unmindful of the common rules of business honesty and fidelity, and of the limitations imposed by law upon their actions;" and that "the revelations of the breaches of trusts, the disclosures as to rebates and discriminations by railroads, the accumulating evidence of the violations of the anti-trust laws, by a number of corporations, and the over-issuance of stocks and bonds of interstate railroads for the unlawful enriching of directors and for the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one management"—all these charges, "quickened the conscience of the people and brought on a moral awakening."

During all this time, I beg to remind you, republican officials presided in the executive department, filled the cabinet, dominated the senate, controlled the house of representatives and occupied most of the federal judgeships. Four years ago the republican platform boastfully declared that since 1866—with the exception of two years—the republican party had been in control of part or of all the branches of the federal government; that for "two years only was the democratic party in a position to either enact or repeal a law. Having drawn the salaries, having enjoyed the honors; having secured the prestige, let the republican party accept the responsibility!"

Republican Party Responsible.

Why were these "known abuses" permitted to develop? Why have they not been corrected? If existing laws (Continued on Page 2; Column 1.)

WEIRD DANCES ENTERTAIN SAILORS

STRANGE SIGHTS FOR AMERICANS IN ANTIPODES

New Zealand's Wonderland Furnishes Surprises for Admiral Sperry and Officers and Men of Fleet.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Auckland, N. Z., Aug. 12.—Wonderful sights were witnessed by Rear Admiral Sperry and the contingent of officers of the American fleet who spent today at Rotorua and adjacent places in the Thermal district—New Zealand's wonderland. It has been appropriately named—as the guests of Prime Minister Ward and a delegation of members of the parliament. Besides attending the ceremonies of the opening of the new government and receiving a hearty welcome by a great assemblage of Maori tribesmen, an opportunity was afforded the Americans of visiting many of the strange freaks of nature in the neighborhood—colored lakes of hot, cold and temperate water. The village of the Maoris was also an attraction to many of the officers, who keenly enjoyed the sights they saw there. Even the nearby cemetery where lie the bodies of many of the Europeans killed in battle with the savages was not forgotten and many of the Americans made many respectful visits there.

After the ceremonies of inauguration the new bath had been completed the Maoris in large numbers, dressed in their weird costumes greeted the men. The tribemen, according to ancient custom, challenged the visitors desiring to know whether they came in peace or in war. Having received assurance that the mission was a peaceful one, the air resounded with thrills of the tribesmen and there was a stamping of feet and war dances and haka dances. The Americans greatly enjoyed the strange scene and were charmed by the "singing and dancing" of the Maoris. In a graceful speech Admiral Sperry thanked the Maori chief for the welcome of the tribesmen and for the entertainment they had afforded him and his officers. The chief made a felicitous reply in the course of which he brought smiles to the faces of nearly every one who heard him by remarking: "We sent our warriors to meet you as you are all warriors—sea-faring men. Had you been ordinary people we would have sent the women first."

The Maoris presented Admiral Sperry and the American officers with many priceless tribal heirlooms. The American officers will return to Auckland tomorrow to attend a reception in their honor in the evening by W. A. Prickett, the American consul general.

The town is still crowded with visitors. Shore leave was granted again today to several thousand of the enlisted men who were taken on short excursions and entertained at the theaters. At the Savage club tonight many of the officers who did not accompany Rear Admiral Sperry will be entertained.

The American supply ship Cuiques will sail Saturday for Brisbane, arriving there the 19th. The Glacier and the collier Ajax have been sighted. The hospital ship Relief has arrived here with four boilers leaking. Repairs will be made by the fleet.

TAMMANY TO WORK FOR TICKET

FORMAL ENDORSEMENT OF BRYAN CANDIDACY

New York Machine Pleased With Denver Platform, Pledges Its Support to Bryan and Kern.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

New York, Aug. 12.—Tammany hall tonight, through its executive committee, took action looking to active prosecution of the political organization's formal endorsement of the democratic national ticket. The resolutions passed by the executive committee follow: "We congratulate the democrats of the nation upon the strong, clear and progressive platform adopted by the national convention at Denver, which should draw to its support all those who believe this is a government of law and not of men, and is broad enough for all citizens of democratic tendencies and belief to stand upon. We heartily endorse the work of the convention in choosing as our candidates W. J. Bryan and J. W. Kern, and we enthusiastically pledge to them our whole hearty and unwavering support throughout the campaign which is to be waged against organized greed and legal plunder. We believe that they fittingly represent the best type of American manhood—those who demand equality for all citizens before the law and who believe that special privileges given by the government to one citizen are necessarily taken from some other.

"We see with pleasure the many signs of democratic harmony and unity which are in evidence throughout the country and which mark the intention of the mass of the people to put an end to the instability, the uncertainty and the dread which the present republican administration has created, and to bring back again under Bryan and Kern the respect for law, the orderly process of public affairs and the equality of all men before the laws which have made this country the leader of all nations in peace and progress.

"Believing that the interests of the citizens at large can be best attained by the enforcement of democratic principles, we again pledge our united, untiring and loyal efforts to bring about the election of W. J. Bryan and J. W. Kern to the presidency and vice presidency of these United States."

FIRST NAVAL VESSEL TO VISIT SPAIN SINCE WAR

Couronna, Spain, Aug. 12.—The United States school ship Itasca arrived here today. This is the first vessel of the American government to call at Couronna since the Spanish-American war.

The crew of the Itasca was given a splendid welcome on landing. Fetes and a regatta were organized in their honor.

REPUBLICANS NAME FULL STATE TICKET IN TEXAS

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 12.—The republicans of Texas in state convention today named a full state ticket, promulgated a platform and announced that they would make a sweeping and active campaign of the state between now and September. Col. J. J. Simpson of Dallas, a Confederate veteran, was nominated for governor. Charles Ogden of San Antonio was nominated for lieutenant governor and W. H. Atwell, United States attorney for the northern district of Texas, was nominated for attorney general.

The platform endorses the national platform and nominees, opposes the guaranty of bank deposits and declares against state-wide prohibition and against the submission of a constitutional amendment providing for state prohibition to the voters at large.

The platform calls for an exhaustive investigation into the financial records of the comptroller's department of the state so long kept by the democrats.

GUMMINS DEFINES HIS ATTITUDE

Iowa Governor Will Decide Upon Allison's Successor According to His Own Best Judgment.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 12.—Governor Gummins this evening issued a statement upon the matter of the resignation of William B. Allison, making clear his attitude. He said:

"The time has come when I may with propriety put to rest some of the rumors which are current in the state. It has been stated that I wish a conference of progressive republicans to consider the subject and to determine a policy to be pursued. I do not expect to bring any such conference together. Senator Allison's death has created certain questions of great importance of which I must decide, not as a candidate for office but as governor of the state.

"I want to decide these questions justly and wisely and I want all the help I can get whether from friends or enemies. I have received many letters of advice and I hope to receive many more. I have talked with many persons, some who have been friendly and some who have been unfriendly and I expect to talk with many more."

"I cordially invite help in the solution of the problems before us whether the matters to be decided have be opponents; but when all is said that is to be said, when the time to act, the decision will be my own and I will take the whole responsibility for it. The matters to be decided have become a part of my duty as governor and in performing that duty my first concern will be to promote the cause of good government and the welfare of all the people and my second concern is to serve as best I may the party of which I am a member."

EXPLOSION CLAIMS SIX LIVES ON FRENCH WARSHIP

Toulon, Aug. 12.—Six persons were killed and eighteen injured in a gun explosion aboard the gunnery school ship Couronne today off Les Salines d'Hyeres.

The accident occurred while a number of recruits were receiving instructions in handling a 164 millimetre gun the breach of which blew out.

Three of the wounded are in a desperate condition. This is the third accident to occur on board the Couronne within the past sixteen months, all of which were due to the blowing out of the gun blocks. In the first, April 13, three men were killed and six injured; and on August 2 of the same year three men of the crew of a four-inch gun were killed and five wounded. All the accidents occurred off Les Salines d'Hyeres, where is situated the French artillery school.

The Couronne is an old vessel, having been laid down in 1861, but new boilers were installed in 1893. Her armaments consist of thirty-four guns of various sizes and her complement is 622 men.

According to experts in gunnery the accident was due to the decomposition of "B" powder to which the disaster to the battleship Iena in 1907 was attributed and in which more than 100 lives were lost. The men in the turret at the time of the accident declared, however, that the guns became overheated owing to the rapidity with which they were being fired.

The shell had hardly been pushed home when it exploded with tremendous force. Sheets of flame darted backward from the gun and those standing nearby were hurled to the deck. Several of the men were terribly mutilated. Two were permanently blinded and the limbs of others had to be amputated immediately when they arrived at the hospital. All the occupants of the turret were injured.

TWO REPUBLICANS FOR GOVERNOR IN TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 12.—George N. Tillman of Davidson county is the gubernatorial nominee of that part of the republican party in Tennessee known as the Evans faction. He was nominated by acclamation today at the close of the second republican state convention held in Tennessee this week. Great enthusiasm marked the nomination of Mr. Tillman and the adoption of a platform containing a plank providing for state-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic through the extension of what is known as the "four mile law."

The nomination of Mr. Tillman makes two republican candidates in the field for governor of Tennessee. Hon. T. M. Ashby Wright was nominated by the "home rule" faction at Chattanooga last Wednesday.

State-wide prohibition is the keynote of the platform.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS MEET SEPTEMBER 14

New York, Aug. 12.—The republican state convention to nominate a candidate for governor and a state ticket will be held at Saratoga, September 14. Elihu Root will be temporary chairman and Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, chairman of the convention.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the republican state committee held at the republican club today. In accepting the chairmanship Mr. Choate is said to have written Chairman Woodruff that he wanted it understood that he is an ardent supporter of Governor Hughes.

SUIT AGAINST UNION PACIFIC FRAUDULENT

Court Scores Plaintiffs in Action Against Harriman and Gould.

St. Louis, Aug. 12.—George Gould, E. H. Harriman and other officials of the Union Pacific Railway company were defendants in a suit in which the United States court of appeals for the district of St. Louis handed down a decision today and gave the plaintiffs a severe reprimand.

The action was the result of a controversy over the ownership of $27,299,000 worth of bonds of the Union Pacific railroad claimed by the administrators of the estate of Charles Durkee, who died in Wisconsin in 1876. The court characterized the suit as a fraud and stated in its opinion that the evidence showed that through the action that the plaintiffs succeeded in defrauding Durkee out of $50,000.

IDAHO TIMBER FIRE REPORTED CONTROLLED

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 12.—The timber fire which has been threatening Sand Point, Idaho, was under control this morning with practically no damage to the town. Considerable standing timber to the north and east of Sand Point has been burned.

A special train was run from Spokane last night carrying fire apparatus and a crew from the local department who by hard work succeeded in checking the flames.

OKLAHOMA REPUBLICANS DENOUNCE COL. BRYAN

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 12.—Endorsing the Chicago platform, the republican nominees on the national ticket and President Roosevelt's policies, Oklahoma republicans in convention here today adopted a plan for the state campaign. Of Mr. Bryan's stand in regard to the contributions resolutions passed say:

"We disapprove and condemn the position of the democratic candidate in his undignified and reputed personal requests of the public for campaign contributions. The democratic candidate having amassed an immense private fortune from the public while advocating the public interests, he now claims from that public that he shall contribute further and pay the freight of his candidacy. It may be truthfully said of him, he has strengthened nothing of a public nature he has touched."

The platform favors the sale of state school lands, establishment of separate schools for the races and the strict enforcement of the prohibition law. It denounces democratic extravagance in state affairs and condemns the primary election law.

TAFT CONFINES ACTIVITIES TO HOME TOWN

After Conference With Managers Candidate Decides to Make No Campaign Speeches Outside of Cincinnati.

EVERYTHING LOVELY IN REPUBLICAN CAMP

National Standard Bearer Declines to Interfere in West Virginia or New York State Squabbles.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]

Hot Springs, Va., Aug. 12.—"Everything was as harmonious as possible and no one was laid across my knee and spanked."

This was Judge Taft's genial remark today in concluding a detailed account of his all-day conference with Frank H. Hitchcock, republican national chairman, and Arthur I. Vorys, his chief of staff.

Chairman Hitchcock announced after the first conference, which continued for three hours, that it could be stated in a formal and official manner that Mr. Taft would make no speeches outside the city of Cincinnati during the campaign. On his way from Hot Springs to Cincinnati the last of the month Mr. Taft will make a side trip in Ohio, the arrangements for which have been completed, but the details are withheld for the present.

No political speeches will be made on this trip. It was also officially announced that Mr. Taft would continue the policy he had already adopted and followed of not making in local political contentions in any state or of taking part in behalf of any candidate for nomination for a state office. This announcement is intended as an answer first to the demand that Mr. Taft decide the merits of the contestants in the West Virginia split, and second, that he express a preference for or against Governor Hughes in the New York state gubernatorial situation. Taking up the narrative of the day's work, Mr. Taft said:

"We went over the situation in every state where it is recognized that a vigorous campaign must be made. Particular attention was given to Maine and Vermont, not because of any doubt as to the situation in these states, but because the election is held earlier than in other states. Governor Hughes, it was said, undoubtedly would be one of the speakers in these two states, in addition to his acceptance of an invitation to open the Ohio campaign at Youngstown, September 5. Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture has consented to speak in Vermont and Maine, likewise has Secretary Straus of the department of commerce and labor and Rev. Dr. John Wesley, pastor of the Metropolitan temple of New York."

"We went over and discussed," continued Mr. Taft, "the distribution and division of work of the various bureaus of the national campaign organization and arrangements were made for a conference here with Richard V. Oulahan, in charge of the literary work of the national committee on his return trip from Chicago, where he is to go for the opening of the headquarters in this city."

"We discussed and arranged the details of the campaign in Ohio. All matters pertaining to the supply of speakers by the national committee for Ohio as well as the distribution of literature and minor matters, will be arranged directly between the national committee and State Chairman Williams. Questions of policy will be discussed between the committee and Arthur I. Vorys."

"I shall take with me to Cincinnati my present office force and shall have with me Mr. Vorys and Gus J. Karger, who will have charge of publicity besides Mr. Carpenter, my secretary, and such additional assistants as may be required."

Between the two conferences which were held with Mr. Taft, Mr. Hitchcock, who arrived here this morning, was closeted with Senators Elkins and Scott and Mr. Swisher, nominees for governor, all of West Virginia. Mr. Hitchcock listened to the situation as presented, but he gave no indication of any action on his part except to promise that should the matter of the split ticket in that state be presented in a proper way to the national committee that body, following long and broad precedents, naturally would be required to determine which of the two factions was the regular republican ticket and state organization."

State Senator Elkins, after the conference, said that a letter would be addressed to the national committee.

NEWS BROKEN TO WILLIAM J. BRYAN

are sufficient, why have they not been enforced? All of the executive machinery of the federal government is in the hands of the republican party. Are new laws necessary? Why have they not been enacted? With a republican president to recommend, with a republican senate and house to carry out his recommendations, why does the republican candidate plead for further time in which to do what should have been done long ago? Can Mr. Taft promise to be more strenuous than the present executive? Can he ask for a larger majority in the senate than his party now has? Does he need more republicans in the house of representatives or a speaker with more unlimited authority?

Why No Tariff Reform?

The president's close friends have been promising for several years that he would attack the inequities of the tariff. We have had intimation that Mr. Taft was restive under the demands of the highly protected industries. And yet the influence of the manufacturers, who have for twenty-five years contributed to the republican campaign fund, and who in return have framed the tariff schedules has been sufficient to prevent tariff reform. As the present campaign approached, both the president and Mr. Taft declared in favor of tariff revision, but set the date of revision after the election. But the pressure brought to bear by the protected interests has been great enough to prevent any attempt at tariff reform before the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about with qualifying phrases, that no one can estimate with accuracy the sum total of tariff reform to be expected in case of republican success. If the past can be taken as a guide, the republican party will be so obligated by campaign contributions from the beneficiaries of protection, as to make that party powerless to bring to the country any material relief from the present tariff burdens.

Why No Anti-Trust Legislation?

A few years ago the republican leaders in the house of representatives were coerced by public opinion into the support of an anti-trust law which had the endorsement of the president, but the senate refused to consider the measure, and since that time no effort has been made by the dominant party to secure remedial legislation upon this subject.

Why No Railroad Legislation?

For ten years the interstate commerce commission has been asking for an enlargement of its powers, that it might prevent rebates and discriminations, but a republican senate and a republican house of representatives were unmoved by its entreaties. In 1900 the republican national convention was urged to endorse the demand for railway legislation, but its platform was silent on the subject. Even in 1904, the convention gave no pledge to remedy these abuses. When the president finally asked for legislation, he drew his inspiration from the democratic national platform and received more cordial support from the democrats than from the republicans. The republicans in the senate deliberately defeated several amendments offered by Senator LaFollette and amendments embodying legislation asked by the interstate commerce commission. One of these amendments authorized the ascertainment of the value of railroads. This amendment was not only defeated by the senate, but it was overwhelmingly rejected by the recent republican national convention, and the republican candidate has sought to rescue his party from the disastrous results of this act by expressing himself, in a qualified way, in favor of ascertaining the value of the railroads.

Over-issue of Stocks and Bonds.

Mr. Taft complains of the over-issue of stocks and bonds of railroads, "for the unlawful enriching of directors and for the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one management," and the complaint is well founded. But, with a president to point out the evil, and a republican congress to correct it, we find nothing done for the protection of the public. Why? My honorable opponent has, by his confession, relieved me of the necessity of furnishing proof; he admits the condition and he can not avoid the logical conclusion that must be drawn from the admission. There is no doubt whatever that a large majority of the voters of the republican party recognize the deplorable situation which Mr. Taft describes; they recognize that the masses have had but little influence upon legislation or upon the administration of the government, and they are beginning to understand the cause. For a generation, the republican party has drawn its campaign funds from the beneficiaries of special legislation. Privileges have been pledged and granted in return for money contributed to debauch elections. What can be expected when official authority is turned over to the representatives of those who first furnish the sinews of war and then reimburse themselves out of the pockets of the taxpayers?

Fasting in Wilderness Necessary.

So long as the republican party remains in power, it is powerless to regenerate itself. It cannot attack wrong-doing in high places without disgracing many of its prominent members, and it, therefore, uses opiates instead of the surgeon's knife. Its malefactors construe each republican victory as an endorsement of their conduct and threaten the party with defeat if they are interfered with. Not until that party passes through a period of fasting in the wilderness will the republican leaders learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses. Just as with individuals, "the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the truth," so in politics, when party leaders serve far away from home and are not in constant contact with the voters, continued party success blinds their eyes to the needs of the people and makes them deaf to the cry of distress.

Publicity as to Campaign Contributions.

An effort has been made to secure legislation requiring publicity as to campaign contributions and expenditures; but the republican leaders, even in the face of an indignant public, refused to consent to a law which would compel honesty in elections. When the matter was brought up in the recent republican national convention, the plank was formulated by a vote of 189 to 94. Here, too, Mr. Taft has been driven to apologize for his conduct and to declare himself in favor of a publicity law; and yet, if you will read what he says upon this subject, you will find that his promise is far short of the requirements of the situation. He says:

"If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring the filing, in a federal office, of a statement of the contributions received by all members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress. I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success, it is certainly not on any endeavor to see that a law be passed requiring the filing, in a federal office, of a statement of the contributions received by all members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress. He has read the democratic platform; not only his language, but his exact attitude, indicates that he has read it carefully. He even had before him the action of the democratic national committee in interpreting and applying that platform; and yet he fails to say that he favors the publication of the contributions before the election. Of course, it satisfies a natural curiosity to find out how an election has been purchased, even when the knowledge comes too late to be of service, but why should the people be kept in darkness until the election is past? Why should the locking of the door be delayed until the horse is gone?"

An Election a Public Affair.

An election is a public affair. The people, exercising the right to select their officials and to decide upon the policies to be pursued, proceed to their several polling places on election day and register their will. What excuse can be given for secrecy as to the influences at work? If a man, peculiarly interested in "concentrating the control of the railroads in one management," subscribes a large sum to aid in carrying the election, why should his part in the campaign be concealed until he has put the officials under obligation to him? If a trust magnate contributes $100,000 to elect political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions?

This is not a new question; it is a question which has been agitated—a question which the republican leaders fully understand—a question which the republican candidate has studied, and yet he refuses to declare himself in favor of the legislation absolutely necessary, namely, legislation requiring publication before the election.

Democratic Party Promises Publicity.

How can the people hope to rule, if they are not able to learn until after the election what the predatory interests are doing? The democratic party meets the issue honestly and courageously. It says: "We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law prohibiting any corporation from contributing to a campaign fund, and any individual from contributing an amount above a reasonable maximum, and providing for the publication, before election, of all such contributions above a reasonable minimum." The democratic national committee immediately proceeded to interpret and apply this plank, announcing that no contributions would be received from corporations, that no individual would be allowed to contribute more than $10,000, and that all contributions above $100 would be made public before the election—those received before October 15 to be made public on or before that day, those received afterward to be made public on the day when received, and no such contributions to be accepted within three days of the election. Here is a plan which is complete and effective.

Popular Election of Senators.

Next to the corrupt use of money, the present method of electing United States senators is most responsible for the obstruction of reforms. For one hundred years after the adoption of the constitution, the demand for the popular election of senators, while finding increased expression, did not become a dominant sentiment. A constitutional amendment had from time to time been suggested and the matter had been more or less discussed in a few of the states, but the movement had not reached a point where it manifested itself through congressional action. In the fifty-second congress, however, a resolution was reported from a house committee proposing the necessary constitutional amendment, and this resolution passed the house of representatives by a vote which was practically unanimous. In the fifty-third congress a similar resolution was reported and adopted by the house of representatives. Both the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses were democratic. The republicans gained control of the house as a result of the election of 1894 and in the fifty-fourth congress the proposition died in committee. As time went on, however, the sentiment grew among the people, until it forced a republican congress to follow the example set by the democrats, and then another republican congress acted favorably. State after state has endorsed this reform, until nearly two-thirds of the states have recorded themselves in its favor. The United States senate, however, impudently and arrogantly obstructs the passage of the resolution, notwithstanding the fact that the voters of the United States, by an overwhelming majority, demand it. And this refusal is the more significant when it is remembered that a number of senators owe their election to a general corporate interest. Three democratic national platforms—the platform of 1900, 1904 and 1908—specifically call for a change in the constitution which will put the election of senators in the hands of the voters, and the proposition has been endorsed by a number of the smaller parties, but no republican national convention has been willing to champion the cause of the people on this subject. The subject was ignored by the republican national convention in 1900; it was ignored in 1904, and the proposition was explicitly repudiated in 1908, for the republican national convention, by a vote of 185 to 134, rejected the plank endorsing the popular election of senators—and this was done in the convention which nominated Mr. Taft, few delegates from his own state voting for the plank.

Personal Inclination Not Sufficient.

In his notification speech, the republican candidate, speaking of the election of senators by the people, says: "Personally, I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question." What is necessary to make this a party question? When the democratic convention endorses a proposition, almost every republican in the republican convention rejects the proposition by a vote of seven to one, does it not become an issue between the parties? Mr. Taft cannot remove the question from the arena of politics by expressing a personal inclination toward the democratic proposition. For several years he has been connected with the administration. What has he ever said or done to bring this question before the public? What enthusiasm has he shown in the reformation of the senate? What influence could he exert in behalf of a reform which his party has openly and avowedly condemned in its convention, and to which he is attached only by a related expression of personal inclination?

The Gateway to Other Reforms.

"Shall the people rule?" Every remedial measure of a national character must run the gauntlet of the senate. The president may personally incline toward a reform; the house may consent to it; but as long as the senate obstructs the reform, the people must wait. The president may heed a popular demand; the house may yield to public opinion; but as long as the senate is defiant, the reform of the people is properly described by the popular election of senators as "the gateway to other national reforms." Shall we open the gateway, or shall we allow the exploiting interests to bar the way by the control of this branch of the federal legislature? Through a democratic victory, and through a democratic victory only, can the people secure the popular election of senators. The smaller parties are unable to secure this reform; the republican party, under its present leadership, is resolutely opposed to it; the democratic party stands for it and has boldly demanded it. If an elected to the presidency, those who are elected upon the ticket with me will be, like myself, pledged to this reform, and I shall convene congress in extraordinary session immediately after inauguration, and ask, among other things, for the fulfillment of this platform pledge.

House Rules Despotism.

The third instrumentality employed to defeat the will of the people is found in the rules of the house of representatives. Our platform points out that "the house of representatives was designed by the fathers of the constitution to be the popular branch of our government, responsive to the public will," and adds: "The house of representatives, as controlled in recent years by the republican party, has ceased to be a deliberative and legislative body, responsive to the will of a majority of the members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations, and powers of legislation. We have observed with amazement the popular branch of our federal government helpless to obtain either the consideration or enactment of measures desired by a majority of its members."

This arraignment is fully justified. The reform republicans in the house of representatives, when in the minority to obtain a hearing or to secure a vote upon a measure, are the democrats. In the recent session of the present congress, there was a considerable element in the republican party favorable to remedial legislation; but a few leaders in control of the organization, despotically suppressed these members and thus forced a real majority in the house to submit to a well organized minority. The republican national convention instead of rebuking this attack upon popular government, exalted congress and nominated as the republican candidate for vice president one of the men who shared in the responsibility for the coercion of the house. Our party demands that "the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives, and not by the speaker," and is pledged to adopt "such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation."

"Shall the people rule?" They can not do so unless they can control the house of representatives, and through their representatives in the house give expression to their purposes and their desires. The republican party is committed to the methods now in vogue in the house of representatives; the democratic party is pledged to such a reversion of the rules as will bring the popular branch of the federal government into harmony with the ideas of those who framed our constitution and founded our government.

Other Issues Will be Discussed Later.

"Shall the people rule?" I repeat; it is declared by our platform to be the overshadowing question, and as the campaign progresses, I take occasion to discuss this question as it manifests itself in other issues; for whether we consider the tariff question, the trust question, the railroad question, the banking question, the labor question, the question of imperialism, the development of our waterways, or any other of the numerous problems which press for solution, we shall find that the real question involved in each is, whether the government shall remain a mere business asset of favor seeking corporations or be an instrument in the hands of the people for the advancement of the common weal.

Democratic Party Has Earned Confidence.

If the voters are satisfied with the record of the republican party and with its management of public affairs cannot reasonably ask for a change in administration; if, however, the voters feel that the people as a whole, have too little influence in shaping the policies of the government; if they feel that great combinations of capital have encroached upon the rights of the masses, and employed the instrumentalities of government to secure an unfair share of the total wealth produced, then we have a right to expect a verdict against the republican party and in favor of the democratic party; for our party has risked defeat—aye, suffered defeat—in its effort to arouse the conscience of the public and to bring about that very awakening which Mr. Taft has deferred.

Our Party's Ideal.

The platform of our party closes with a brief statement of the party's ideal. It favors "such an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that each citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society."

Governments are good in proportion as they assure to each member of society, so far as governments can, a return commensurate with individual merit.

The Divine Law of Rewards.

There is a Divine law of rewards. When the Creator gave us the earth, with its fruitful soil, the sunshine with its warmth, and the rains with their moisture. He proclaimed, as clearly as if His voice had thundered from the clouds, "Go work, and according to your industry and your intelligence, so shall be your reward." Only where might has overthrown, cunning undermined or government suspended this law, has a different law prevailed. To conform the government to this law ought to be the ambition of the statesman; and no party can have a higher mission than to make it a reality wherever governments can legitimately operate.

I have such confidence in the intelligence as well as the patriotism of the people, that I can not doubt their readiness to accept the reasonable reforms which our party proposes, rather than permit the continued growth of existing abuses to hurry the country on to remedies more radical and more drastic.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of the Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of Syrup of Figs and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street. New York, Aug. 12.—The backers of the active operations in the stock market were too much occupied today with their various devices of leadership and manipulation to pay much attention to the news of the day. The news indeed offered no radical change in conditions. Information has been procurable for several days past accurately outlining the substance of Mr. Bryan's acceptance of the democratic nomination and its publication about 2 o'clock supplied no material for surprise. Two items of the day's news happened to conjoin to effect unfavorably two groups of security which have been most conspicuous in the speculation in the last few days and this served to emphasize the drop of the first hour in values. There was a reaction in the price of copper at the New York metal exchange after successive advances of a fraction at a time for many days past. Copper warrants in London also were lower. This added to the feverishness of shares of companies connected with the industry which have been in a high nervous state anyhow ever since the sensational stage developed in the Boston speculative campaign in which they are included. The decline in the price of silver to a level lower than has been touched in five years past is an incidental influence on the group of mining and metal stocks as a whole. American Smelting, Amalgamated Copper and National Lead were violently affected by the early break in prices today.

Some of the most conspicuous buying today from the same brokers that sold most largely yesterday. The reaction was regarded as affording a test of the market and when the upward movement was resumed speculative opinion was reassured. The dimensions of the market were smaller than of late. This was partly due to a large diversion of speculative interest to the cotton market. Closing stocks: Amalgamated Copper 80 1/2, American Cotton Oil 35 3/8, Amer. OFFICERS COMPLETE NINETY MILE RIDE

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—The first contingent of seven army officers from the presidio under Colorado John A. Lundeen, which left the presidio Monday morning, returned today having successfully completed President Roosevelt's ninety mile riding test. The second party of seven officers under Colonel Sims started on the ride this morning. The ride will be over the same route taken by the first party.

GOOD RAINS DURING FIRST WEEK IN AUGUST

Weather Bureau Reports Partly Cloudy Weather With Generally Light Showers and Moderate Temperature Throughout Territory.

The summary of the weather report for the week ending August 10, issued from the section director's office in Santa Fe under date of August 11, is as follows: Partly cloudy weather with generally light showers and moderate temperature prevailed throughout the week.

In the northwestern part of the territory the rains were more frequent than anywhere else; they will prove of considerable benefit for, comparatively, the northwest had very little rain during July. Except in sections of Eddy county, where a fairly heavy rain fell during the first of the week, the remainder of the territory had relatively light precipitation but practically every locality had one or more showers.

The warmest weather was during the middle of the week, but no temperatures that were especially high were recorded. The nights were moderately cool and the minimum temperatures were very uniform. The mean temperature for the week was below normal in every section of the territory.

COLLEGE MEN IN FOREST SERVICE

Thirty-Nine Young Graduates Receive Appointments in Various Branches of Work.

(Forest Service Bulletin.) Thirty-nine young graduates of nine American forest schools have lately received appointments as forest assistants in the forest service and have been assigned to positions for the present field season. The new appointees are drawn from the various forest schools as follows: Yale, 18; Battimore, 5; University of Minnesota, 4; University of Michigan, 4; Michigan Agricultural College, 2; Harvard, 2; Cornell, 1; University of Iowa, 1; and University of Nebraska, 1. They have secured their appointments as a result of passing the regular civil service examination, which is the only avenue to employment as a forester under the government. In addition to these graduates of forest schools, fifteen other candidates passed the examination. Twenty-two of the new appointees are already at work on various national forests, taking part in their administration, and seventeen have been assigned to different projects connected with the technical study of silviculture. Forest assistants are men who have completed their preliminary training for the profession of forestry, as the graduates of a law or medical school have completed theirs, and are ready to enter on practical work. Until they have gained experience in their work, however, their positions are necessarily subordinate. They are at the foot of the ladder, and must prove their fitness in order to mount higher. The government pays them $1,000 a year at the start.

MRS. GOULD ASKS NO ALIMONY WITH DIVORCE New York, Aug. 12.—On the application of counsel, Mrs. Helen Gould today procured in the supreme court an order directing her husband, Frank J. Gould, to file within twenty-four hours his answer to her suit for divorce.

The complaint, which was filed today, alleges misconduct on the part of Mr. Gould, July 25, 1905, while he was at North Sydney, B. C., cruising on the yacht Helmitia. Mrs. Gould does not ask for alimony in her petition, but requests the custody of the three children, Helen, Margaret and Dorothy, 6 and 5 and 4 years old.

As soon as the order calling for an answer to his wife's complaint was sent to the county clerk's office and filed, it contained a general denial of Mrs. Gould's allegations. The following statement was furnished at the office of Mrs. Gould's attorney: "It is not customary to file the pleadings in an action until the time for making up the judgment rule, but since Mrs. Gould's attorneys desired our answer filed we had not the slightest objection to doing so and have filed up this afternoon. We see nothing in the incident requiring further comment."

Sollier will deliver at the Crystal theater, 120 West Gold avenue, beginning Sunday, August 16, at 11 a. m. These lectures on the value of a man are the result of eighteen years study, and will be delivered without charges except a hat collection to pay the janitor. The continuation of these lectures after Sunday morning, will depend upon how much the people appreciate them. All who will may come.

A NEW MONEY SYSTEM.

Headed by Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, a sub-committee of the Monetary commission provided for by congress has sailed for England. Several weeks will be spent abroad by this committee. If it cannot secure all the information concerning the currency systems of Europe in London it will go elsewhere. While this committee is on the other side a second sub-committee will be considering in this country amendments to the administrative features of the national banking laws.

In time the full commission will make a report to congress. This is obligatory. It must formulate a complete financial system for the action of congress. Whether the commission shall prove of value to the country depends entirely upon the attitude of its membership. If it honestly desires a change of system it will find a solution to the problem. If it does not, the commission will merely serve as a stop-gap for legislation.

It is interesting to note, however, that Senator Aldrich talks very fairly on the outlook. Just before sailing he gave out a statement regarding the scope of the work ahead. Complete and accurate information concerning the monetary and banking systems of all of the leading commercial nations was what was sought, he said. He spoke of the Aldrich-Vreeland measure, which was put through during the last hours of congress as a temporary measure, and he predicted that "this act will be undoubtedly superseded in time by legislation establishing a comprehensive monetary system."

Under the title of "Merely a Suggestion," the New York Sun gives us this pungent little chapter of political history, which is especially interesting at this time when the man who acted as Mr. Quay's missionary in the case is particularly prominent in our territorial affairs, and when the "muck and sweat and stench of gutter politics," which was so indignantly rejected by the south, is about to be unloaded upon the people of New Mexico. This is a fair sample of what the people of the country at large think of certain modern methods in politics. The Sun says:

Many years ago some optimistic Pennsylvania republican, Senator Matt Quay perhaps, became convinced that there was a chance to do good party work in Alabama. It was the year 1850, an off year as they call it; but there were a governor and state officers, to say nothing of a lot of congressmen, to be chosen, and Quay had imbibed the idea that the time was ripe for a limited political revolution and the establishment of a basis for future operations.

There was no doubt that the mining and manufacturing interests of the state, then growing like Jack's beanstalk, were in sympathy with the economic policies of the republican party. Harrison was president. He was personally unobjectionable to the southern people. Nobody seriously thought of another democratic chief executive after Cleveland, who had notoriously been elected by the independent vote, so that year was chosen for the experiment. Quay did not think much of it, but those in consultation with him, notably the late Senator Louis E. McComan of Maryland, did. There was a surfeit of money in the party treasury; might as well devote some of it to a flyer in Alabama. Who could say that nothing would come of it?

of brutality as could have been conceived. In the first place, Birmingham was the seat of the republican ferment and therefore not the place in which to begin such a demonstration. In the next place, Alabama were still mindful of the carpetbag regime, and they feared the Greeks bearing gifts. But the Pittsburg emissary went straight to Birmingham with his barrel under his arm and at once opened negotiations with the Alabama republican strikers. His mission was known almost before he got there, so nobody with a reputation to lose would go near him. He was surrounded by the clamorous and voracious swarm of hacks who already belonged to the machine and were in no need of conversion, while the great contingent of decent and respectable men who might easily have been approached upon a different basis averted their heads and held their noses until the bad smell should have blown away.

And when the Pittsburg man went home at last his treasure was carried comfortably in a firkin, or at the most a small and handy little keg. It is hardly necessary to say, of course, that the only effect of the experiment, so far as concerned Alabama politics, was to draw the lines tighter and stiffen the democratic majority. It is not our purpose, in reviving the memory of this incident, to point the way to a more rational and successful invasion of the south this year. We are not convinced that any attempt of that kind, inaugurated now, could come to any substantial immediate end. But there are thousands of men at the south who want to see the solid phalanx disintegrated, who know that the interests of their sections are identified with republican policies and realize that the dignity and prosperity of all would be set upon an enduring basis by an established dispensation of freedom in respect of thought and action. These, however, are conspicuous and responsible men, engaged in serious and reputable callings, prominent in society, business and finance. They are not to be grafted upon the miserable skeleton of the republican organization in the southern states. They are not approachable by Pittsburg men with barrels. The muck and sweat and stench of gutter politics are not for them.

OUR EXPORT TRADE.

Reviving prosperity will start with a year of productiveness which invites a look ahead to the time when we shall need every part of our machinery of distribution. Each new period of active business presents a larger need of foreign markets. This year the west will produce great crops, the seaboard region is loaded with grain and fruit and the south reports a prospect for immense cotton and corn yields. Iron and steel manufacture is resuming normal proportions in the north and west. The south is jumping again toward its goal of equal rivalry in this department of industry. Foreign markets must take a great deal of our surplus or we shall lose a large part of the value created by our industry.

Among the distributive agencies we have been slow to perfect is our consular service. Political appointments and carelessness regarding the requirements of competent work for fifty years allowed our consular system to remain a poor, shiftless, ridiculous affair when contrasted with the result of the care taken by Germany and England to station trained men at all important trade centers of both hemispheres. During President Roosevelt's administration a movement led by Secretary Root and Senator Lodge has made valuable reforms, and the consular service is becoming what it should be—a body of busy trade agents for industrial America. The extension of foreign commerce is one of the great departments of enlightened statesmanship in the United States. For the next few months we shall be thinking of internal policies connected with the election, but men who understand the country's business will remember that the Hopkins-Lowden bill, designed to put the consular service on a merit basis, is before congress, not yet a law. Business organizations, particularly those representing houses engaged in export trade, will be preparing to push the bill before the short session of the national legislature.

MRS. SAGE'S PROPOSED GIFT.

Mrs. Russell Sage is proving her patriotism and generosity, says the Kansas City Journal, by proposing to establish a training school for West Point and presenting it to the United States government. She plans to buy what is known as Constitution Island near the great military school, a site which the government officials have already had under consideration. This site alone will cost about $200,000, and a suitable preparatory school would probably cost as much more, exclusive of any endowment. The proposed gift thus involves not much less than half a million dollars.

Possibly the feature which will strike the average person most forcibly is the fact that the government has not, long ago, established a "feeder" for its costly manufacture of warships but in justification of its failure to do so is the fact that until the past ten years or so there has been no dearth of army officers and the problem has been one of finding places to put the West Point graduates. But since the Spanish-American war, and especially since the passage of laws enlarging the United States army, there has been a scarcity of warships of the auxiliaries, and graduates have been advanced in order to fill up the gaps in the roster of army officers.

But the urgent need of a school which shall be a West Point "hopper" has been illustrated still more recently by the remarkable increase in the number of prospective cadets who are unable to pass the West Point entrance examinations, mental and physical. This delinquency has aroused the apprehension of the government officials. Many young men admirably adapted for army duties in most respects have been lost to the service by reason of their inability to stand these tests.

It is entirely to the credit of the public school system of the United States that it does not equip its graduates to become fighting men. The anti-militarists are often extreme in their views, but they are entirely correct in their contention that the whole trend of our national life, to which the public school system contributes so largely, shall be in the direction of peace instead of war. But soldiers and officers are necessary within safe and reasonable limits and there should certainly be an institution that will supply the training which is not furnished by the public schools. While there may be a difference of opinion as to whether Mrs. Sage might not accomplish more good than by making this gift to the government, which is rich and amply able to establish all the schools it may need, yet Mrs. Sage's money is her own and it is entirely to her credit if she devotes it to a purpose in carrying out which the necessary funds, wherever secured, will be well spent.

THE PEOPLE ARE POETS.

When Zepplin's airship was wrecked near Echterdingen $400,000 was subscribed for him within a few hours by sympathetic Germans. Yet, says the New York World, the history of invention is full of cases where men with ideas worth a hundred times as much to humanity as Zepplin's have worked unaided.

The difference is in the appeal to the imagination. The airship stirs idealism. It appeals to patriotism. In the conquest of the air Germans desire Germany to lead the van.

In spite of complaints about materialism, continues the World, most people are poets at heart. Not one American in five hundred knows who was the richest man in England fifty years ago, but all know Tennyson's name and most have read him. No one in England remembers our money kings of the past, but Longfellow's name is there a household word. Something is wrong with the brain of the man who would not rather have been Lincoln and have delivered the Gettysburg speech than to have owned the wealth of all the Rothschilds.

It may suit some Americans to think of the Germans of today as bent on material success, forgetting the love of song and misty philosophies. But a dream of the vanishing of the air reveals them as the sentimentalists they are. The Germans thought ill of us when we entered upon the Spanish war, but Prof. Muensterberg truly told them that it was a war of pure idealism, of pity and the impulse to rescue.

RECEIVER FOR CROP.

Receiver for a peach crop yet on the trees is the unique position in which the federal court, sitting in Muskogee, placed Tom Hall. The peach orchard is situated near Poteau and includes 450 acres. Its value is estimated at $10,000. This action resulted from a suit filed in the federal court by the general attorneys for the Choctaw nation against Ed McKenna, who claims to own the orchard.

Mr. Hall will see that the fruit is gathered and sold and the money derived from the sale will be held in trust until a final settlement of the suit is made.

It has been remarked that the inequality of rebates is much less apparent to those who receive them than to those who do not. The most strenuous opponents of "privilege" have been known to travel gratis in a private car, and even the official exponent of uniform railroad regulation would not be averse to special rates upon appropriate occasions. The trustee has a new grievance against the railroads of Nebraska. It is not that they granted a reduced rate on excursions to Lincoln, which might have been "discriminatory," but that they refused it. Mr. Mack regards this as fresh evidence of corporate depravity.

The president properly and justly takes upon himself all the responsibility or censure for the summary discharge of the negro troops who were dismissed from the army without evidence of their guilt from the station at Brownsville, Tex. George W. Perkins says business will go ahead, no matter who is elected president. It will be fortunate when everybody adopts this view. No man is big enough to wreck the United States in four years.—Record-Herald.

trary. An Irish tenant who had just bought under the purchase act boasted to the agent that his landlord was now "God Almighty" and that he need fear nothing. "Don't you be too sure, Pat," was the reply. "Remember God Almighty evicted his first two tenants."—The Spectator.

What the Editors of the Southwest Are Saying

Ward Is Immune. New Jersey has an official dog catcher who has been bitten 3,000 times by dogs of various breeds. Nobody seems to have taken the trouble to find out what the effects on the dogs may have been.—Tucson Citizen.

Depotation in Santa Fe. During the past few days there has been some talk about "ordering" certain persons to leave town. This is a rather serious matter. There is no law in New Mexico providing for the deporting of residents of this territory. It is to be presumed that no one will act without authority of law. Should any person or persons attempt to drive any one from town it is to be presumed that the officers of the law, territorial, county and city, who are paid to see that the laws are enforced and who are sworn to do so, will prevent any such action. We have laws for the government of New Mexico and courts to enforce the laws. If any one thing to do is to punish the individual locally and not violate the law by attempting to drive any one from the city without a hearing or trial.—Santa Fe Eagle.

Marsh Henry Making a Noise. Having got his bearings, Editor Waterson, chairman of the Bryan newspaper committee, springs into the campaign with great gusto. He begins with a fusillade of French, to wit: "Vive la France! Vive la République! Vive Thiers et Gambetta." Then, by easy stages, an appeal for money is reached. Contributions, ten dollars, five dollars, one dollar, fifty cents. Send it to the Courier-Journal, and sent it now. There is no time to "wait for the signing of the doxology before passing the plate." Names of contributors will be published or not, as they wish. And so on, all for the glory and success of the cause of Bryanism. The exhortation is eloquent, and it is to be hoped that the members of Colonel Waterson's congregation understand French. How much cash they will cough up, in an effort to get what they don't want and can't have, is a question yet to be answered.—Phoenix Republican.

To Advertise Colfax.

Cofax county will be remembered before the world in the near future as it never has been before. The Commercial club of Raton has undertaken the task of putting Raton on the map and when Raton business men begin anything it is usually finished in a creditable manner. The club has been placing signs along the various railroads reading "Raton, New Mexico, for Health and Wealth. Address Secretary, Commercial Club, of Raton." Numerous advertisements are being placed in eastern periodicals calling attention to the business advantages of Raton and Cofax county. Now the club is at work preparing elaborate data and history which will be printed into convenient booklets for distribution. These booklets will be distributed at the National Irrigation

A PESTIFEROUS GERM.

Burrows up the Scalp Into Dandruff and Saps the Hair's Vitality. People who complain of falling hair as a rule do not know that it is the result of dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite burrowing up the scalp as it digs down to the sheath in which the hair is fed in the scalp. Before long the hair root is shriveled up and the hair drops out. If the work of the germ is not destroyed hair keeps thinning till baldness comes. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ, and until now there has been no hair preparation that would do it; but today dandruff is easily eradicated by Newbro's Herpicide, which makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. B. H. Briggs and Co., special agents.

PROHIBITION AN ISSUE IN TEXAS CONVENTION

DEMOCRATIC GATHERING WILL BE LIVELY AFFAIR

Old Frontiersman Back to the Scenes of His Youth; Huge Bone of Extinct Beast Discovered; Fight on Rates.

[Special Correspondence Morning Journal.] San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 12.—Arrangements are completed for the holding of the Democratic State Nominating Convention in this city commencing today. As the fight to put Texas in the prohibition column will center in this convention, it promises to be the most exciting since the days when James Stephen Hogg split off from the so-called regular democrats. The question of submitting to the people an amendment to the state constitution prohibiting the sale of liquor in this state was voted on in the democratic primary held on July 25, and the result of that vote is still in doubt. It appears that those in favor of submission were slightly in the majority, but there is doubt whether this majority is a majority of all the votes cast. On that point the anti's are trying to keep a prohibition plank out of the democratic platform. Already delegates are flocking into this city, and both sides are organizing for the fight, and the outcome is watched with much interest. Both sides are claiming the victory, the pro's by a larger margin than the anti's.

Old Frontiersman Back.

Lamar Fontaine, one of the few survivors of frontier Texas, is back after years of wandering, to a visit to this state. He first came to Texas as a boy of 9 in the colony that Stephen Austin established at what is now Austin. He knew and grew up among those picturesque characters of early Texas, the brilliant but erratic Sam Houston, who resigned the governorship of Tennessee to become an Indian chief, and later the liberator of Texas; Davy Crockett, the frontier philosopher; Col. James Bowie, the inventor of the Bowie knife; the grim old "Deaf" Smith; and others. Fontaine himself is a picturesque survival of frontier days; at 78 he is still hale and hearty. His career reads like one of those wash-buckling modern novels. As a boy, he was captured by Indians and held a prisoner five years. As a youth of 16 or 17 he ran away to sea and visited the ports of Europe, Africa, Asia and South America. Next he became an explorer and joined expeditions in China, India, Egypt, Palestine and South America. He crossed the Desert of Sahara from Fez to the Nile on camelback. He traversed about 250 miles of the great Chinese wall, explored the Holy Land with Lieutenant Lynch, and the Amazon with Lieutenant Herndon. He was a member of the party that first explored the plateau of the Andes from Cuzco in Lake Titicaca. He served with the Russian Cossacks in the Crimean war, and was one of Prince Gortschakoff's bodyguard at the battle of Sevastopol. He served through the civil war with the Second Virginia cavalry under Lee and was wounded a number of times and imprisoned at Morris Island for many months. He has the look of a cavalier, a certain fire and dash and vivacity that suggests his French ancestry. The Fontaines were French Huguenots, whose exploits form an interesting chapter in French history. Since they came to Virginia 200 years ago, more or less, they have been soldiers and sailors and men of many adventures.

Mastodon Bone Found.

A mammoth bone believed to be the leg bone of a mastodon has just been unearthed a few miles out of this city, measuring 28 inches in length and 7 inches in diameter, and weighs about twenty pounds. There have been a number of similar finds made in this locality which would indicate that in prehistoric days the mastodon ranged the prairies of this part of Texas.

State Architects to Organize.

At a banquet of the San Antonio Society of Architects held in this city last night a movement was set on foot to organize a state association of architects. It is proposed to secure passage of certain laws by the next legislature licensing architects and otherwise governing that profession. It was brought out at the banquet that $2,000,000 worth of new buildings is now in the offices of the sixteen local architects. Announcement was also made of the letting of a contract for an eight-story office building by Col. C. C. Gibbs to cost $250,000. This building will be located in the center of the retail district, corner of Houston street and Alamo plaza.

Fight on Freight Rates.

Texas is lining up to make a big fight on the proposed horizontal increase in freight rates by the roads doing an interstate-commerce business in this state. Railroad Commissioner Mayfield, Senator Culberson and Assistant Attorney General Pollard are leading in the fight, and are assisted by the chambers of commerce of San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and El Paso. The matter has been taken up by the interstate commerce commission in Washington City. J. E. Love, chairman of the railroad commission of Oklahoma, is also cooperating with Texas in the contest. The Texans are raising money to carry on the fight into the high courts of the country, for they believe that the increased freight rate is an unjust discrimination against the business interests of this state.

State Industrial School.

That the state of Texas shall establish an industrial school for the education, reformation and training of the delinquent children is the recommendation that the county judges of Texas, now in convention in this city, will place before the next legislature. Since the establishment of juvenile courts by the last legislature Texas has made considerable progress in the handling of youthful offenders. The necessity of a training school for such neglected children has already resulted in the formation of an organization of public-spirited men and women, which has a charter, and a juvenile training school. Sufficient funds have not yet been raised by private subscription to accomplish this purpose, and a movement is to be started to add this school to the other state institutions. It is proposed to establish it near San Antonio, and make it an agricultural and trade school.

Compromise on Prohibition.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 12.—The committee on platform today reported to the democratic state convention. The prohibition plank calls for submission by the legislature of the prohibition question to the vote of the people but does not commit the democratic party to state wide prohibition. A determined fight over the prohibition plank is predicted.

BRITISH DECIDE NOT TO PROTECT CONCESSIONS

London, Aug. 12.—It has been definitely decided that Great Britain can not intervene in the dispute between the Venezuela salt and match monopolies, two English corporations owned by the Elthelberg syndicate limited of London and the Venezuelan government. The concessions owned by the match and salt companies were annulled by the Venezuelan government early this year. At the time of the cancellation of the concessions Mr. Williams, representative of the syndicate at Caracas, protested, declaring the government's action to be both ruinous and illegal. The matter was brought to the attention of the British foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, but he advised that the British government could not interfere until all means of securing redress through the Venezuelan courts had been exhausted.

FAMOUS ENGINEER MEET TRAGIC DEATH

Charles H. Higbee, Who Built Simplon Tunnel, Killed in Colorado by Falling Scaffold.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Denver, Aug. 12.—Charles H. Higbee, aged 52 of this city one of the world's most noted tunnel builders, was almost instantly killed last evening at Shoshone, a camp of the Central Colorado Power company, twelve miles east of Glenwood Springs, Colo. The fatal accident was caused by the breaking of a derrick. A guy wire struck Mr. Higbee upon the head, crushing his skull. He died within twenty minutes from cerebral hemorrhage.

According to reliable information Mr. Higbee had constructed forty-nine of the world's greatest tunnels. In the construction of the Simplon tunnel, in Italy, he is said to have broken the world's record for fast boring. He planned and executed the Tennessee Pass tunnel on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad.

TRINIDAD WOMAN CUT IN TWO BY SANTA FE TRAIN

Trinidad, Colo., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Maria Cataldi, 55 years old, a prominent Italian woman, was run over and killed by a Santa Fe train this evening. The body was cut in two and strewn along the track for 200 yards. Mrs. Cataldi stepped from one track to a train and stepped in front of a train on another track going in the opposite direction.

FIRST CLASH COMES IN CANADIAN STRIKE

Non-union Workman Draws Knife on Man Who Attempted to Induce Him to Quit Work.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 12.—The first collision between the strike-breakers and the pickets occurred this evening when a picket approached a strike-breaker, alleged to be from Chicago, and asked him to cease working. An altercation followed and the strike-breaker pulled out a knife. The picket at once summoned his comrades and after a struggle the man was disarmed, the knife taken from him and is now in possession of the authorities.

J. D. McVey, manager for the strikers, stated that he had been informed that more strike-breakers are expected to come in from the states. Frank Rouenemus of Kansas City, president of the strikers' union, is expected here tomorrow. The Japanese contingent at Calgary has been increased by fifteen more men. They are employed principally in doing the necessary boiler washing. A movement was put on foot in the east today to make Sir Thomas Shaughnessy arbitrator between the men and the company.

ADDITIONAL POLICE SWORN IN AT MONTREAL SHOPS.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—Additional police protection was afforded the Angus shops in response to a request of the Canadian Pacific railway in the shop strike here today. The company claims that the strikers are interfering with the strike-breakers. About a score of additional mechanics applied for work at the Angus shops today and were put to work. The strikers will receive their last pay envelopes from the company on Saturday. Local unions here are planning a dollar subscription for the benefit of the strikers.

REPORTED ARBITRATION PROPOSITION UNVERIFIED

BALDWIN AIRSHIP MEETS MISHAP

Accident to Motor Spoils First Official Speed Test of Dirigible Before Army Board.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Aug. 12.—Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin made the first official speed trial of his military dirigible before the army board at Fort Meyer today. When within a mile of the finishing line a secondary wire connecting the coil of the engine with the commutator broke and the motor stopped. The dirigible was brought down in a cornfield and after Mr. Curtis repaired the motor the flight was continued. The accident prevented any possibility of making the speed required by the contract, but Captain Baldwin has two more trials in view to demonstrate its speed.

The course was two and one-quarter miles to the westward of Fort Meyer in the direction of Falls Church, Va. It was at this point that the wire connecting the coil of the engine with the commutator broke. Running the engine with the three remaining cylinders, Mr. Curtis endeavored to repair the break. He received several shocks of electricity from the batteries and had to bite off a piece of cord with which to tie the wire. He was compelled to let go of the lever with which the planes are controlled and as a result the big airship pitched and tossed at a height of 200 feet, at times almost standing on its nose. Despite the danger he was in, Mr. Curtis continued the work on his motor while Captain Baldwin, in his position at the rear of the frame, was unable to assist him.

When the wind stopped a descent was made to the ground. At 3:11 p. m. the dirigible again went aloft and completed its trip, making the last mile in four minutes. Captain Baldwin and Mr. Curtis, in speaking of the accident, are still confident that they will make a success of the next speed trial. "We seemed to have everything against us," said Mr. Curtis. "We were not properly balanced and had a bad side wind to work against all the time. I would have been able to make much greater speed but for the breaking of the wire."

The board of signal officers in charge of the tests will meet at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning and decide whether today's flight shall be counted as one of three which Captain Baldwin is allowed. Major E. N. Mosely of the royal engineers, British army, arrived here today, being detailed by his government to attend the Fort Meyer tests.

FOREST FIRES INVADE CANADA'S NATIONAL PARK

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—The forest fires which raged around Fernie have spread to Canada's national park district near Banff in Pray valley. The fire burned fiercely on the heights of Goat mountain this week and great clouds of smoke arose. Superintendent Hunter, of the park, reports that though the fire was burning on the upper slopes of Goat mountain the government gang of men had the fire practically under control. Last night at several points on the mountains the fire was visible near the top. A fire started at Castle Mountain, eighteen miles west of Banff last night. Under a strong west wind in a half hour it had run over eight miles. Boats and supplies were forwarded from Banff. About 7 o'clock the wind shifted to the northeast and with this in their favor the fire fighters should be able to secure control. No anxiety is felt at Banff from this last fire as it would be comparatively easy to protect the town even if the fire came down the valley owing to the large area of open hay meadows to the west on which the grass is yet green and on which water is standing.

NEW TURKISH ENVOY IN WASHINGTON

Former Representative of Sultan Recalled Because of Alleged Reactionary Tendencies

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] Washington, Aug. 12.—Mundji Bey, Turkish consul general at New York, under the new order in Turkey, is now acting minister of Turkey to the United States, relieving Mohammed Ali Bey, who was appointed to the post under the old regime. The change in the office took place today at the legation residence and headquarters here, Mohammed Ali Bey turning over to his successor the seals and other official property of the legation. The acting minister will leave Washington to resume temporarily his duties in New York, returning to Washington early next week. He will divide his time between New York and Chicago. Mundji Bey reached the city this morning from New York and after meeting the attaches of the legation, the retiring minister being kept in 67 rooms by illness, went with them to the state department, where they met Acting Secretary Adee. Later the retiring minister communicated to Mr. Adee the announcement of his resignation.

The acting minister spent two hours at the home of his predecessor while the transaction was taking place. Their relations, Mundji Bey said tonight, were very friendly. The retiring minister, he said, felt bitter over his recall, declaring himself a liberal and was in sympathy with the new order of things in Turkey. Mundji Bey, however, stated that Mohammed Ali Bey's recall from his post at Washington was because he belonged to the old school in Turkey, was a reactionary in principle and was not in sympathy with the constitutional government. Mundji Bey reiterated his former expressed opinion that Ismet Pasha, the retiring minister's father, was somewhere in the United States.

Mundji Bey stated that Ismet Pasha had been warned that he would be killed if he remained in Constantinople, ten minutes after the new order became established. The new minister says his predecessor had five days ago received orders from his government to return to Constantinople, that he replied asking for money to proceed there and that word then came to him that this would be paid to him when he reached Turkey. Soon after followed another message dismissing him. Mundji Bey contemplates returning to Turkey later in the year for the purpose of publishing a Liberal newspaper. Newspaper publication in Turkey, he says, has taken on a new life since the constitution was proclaimed and probably forty papers have been started in the last ten or fifteen days. However, should he be appointed minister at Washington, Mundji Bey may decide to remain here.

It was said tonight that it may be several weeks before the retiring minister departs. His illness is not serious.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO CAR; SIX MEN INJURED

Detroit, Aug. 12.—Six men were injured, but probably not fatally, this afternoon when a fast incoming Grand Trunk passenger train from Port Huron struck and wrecked a Harper avenue plug line street car. A blinding rainstorm was prevailing and this is thought to be responsible for the conductor of the car not seeing the train. The car was directly across the tracks when it was hit and smashed to pieces, the passengers being hurled in every direction.

ENGLISH DOCTOR SLAIN BY MOORISH TRIBESMEN

Kasr-el-Kabr, Morocco, Aug. 12.—News has been received here of the murder of an English doctor by Ermequi tribesmen, who are followers of Mulai Hafiz while he was traveling from this city to Fez. The Ermequi tribesmen were recently defeated by Daoud tribesmen who are fighting on the side of Sultan Abdul Aziz. The doctor had been warned not to pass through the country to which the Ermequis had retreated but he persisted in so doing and was captured by the tribesmen who declared that he had commanded the Daouds in the attack against them. He was put to death after being subjected to horrible tortures. After the murder of the Englishman public orders went through the surrounding country proclaiming a holy war.

ACTRESS ARRESTED FOR DEFAUDING HOTEL MAN

New York, Aug. 12.—Louise Allen Collier, wife of William Collier, the actor, was arrested at the Pennsylvania terminal in Jersey City late today as she was alighting from an Atlantic City train accompanied by a maid and two small dogs. The charge against Mrs. Collier is that of attempting to defraud the Grand Atlantic hotel of Atlantic City out of $415.00. After vainly attempting to have her jewelry, worth $2,000, accepted as security for her appearance in court tomorrow, Mrs. Collier succeeded in finding a bondsman who furnished bail in $5,000. The actress refused to discuss her case.

RELIGIOUS FANATIC ATTACKS JUDGE

New York Magistrate Responds With Blow to Jaw and Holds Assailant in Heavy Bail.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] New York, Aug. 12.—There was an exciting scene in the corridor of the New Bedford police court in Brooklyn today when Howard Dunwidy, a disciple of the Holy Rollers, a religious sect, attacked Magistrate Higginbotham, before whom twenty-five men and seven women members of the order had been arraigned, charged with disorderly conduct. The blow was a light one and Magistrate Higginbotham retaliated by striking the holy roller on the jaw which knocked him down. The magistrate held the prisoner in $1,500 bail on a charge of assault.

When the holy rollers were arraigned Miss Elizabeth Robinson, high priestess of the order, was accused by the magistrate of having circulated a report in the court rooms that he attempted to kiss and kiss her, while she was holding a private audience with him in his chambers. Magistrate Higginbotham demanded that the prisoner explain her statement. On advice of her lawyer Miss Robinson refused to comply so the magistrate held her in $5,000 bail on a charge of contempt of court and $1,000 bail on a charge of conducting a disorderly house.

It was at the Robinson residence in Brooklyn that the holy rollers conducted their weird meetings. The police raided the house on complaint of the Rev. M. Gabriel, a former member of the sect, who said that mystic rites are practiced. The Rev. Gabriel was the chief witness against Miss Robinson and her friends in court today. He described strange dances and rites which he said he witnessed in the meeting house. Magistrate Higginbotham held bail of the prisoners in hall for trial.

FEATHERWEIGHTS MATCHED.

San Francisco, Aug. 12.—Abe Attell and Owen Moran tonight agreed to fight twenty-three rounds before Corfrot's club at the Mission street arena on September 7. Moran allowed Attell to name Jack Welsh as referee. The English featherweight held out for thirty-five rounds, but Attell wanted twenty. Finally a compromise was effected on twenty-three rounds.

KING EDWARD TO VISIT KAISERS

Much Expected From Recent Conferences of Heads of British, German and Austrian Empires.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.] London, Aug. 12.—The visits paid by King Edward to Emperor William at Kronberg and to Emperor Francis Joseph at Ischl while not likely to lead to any formal diplomatic transactions, the considered highly important as affecting the relations of Austria, Hungary, Germany and England. There has been many reports concerning the conversations of the monarchs and the representatives of the foreign offices of these countries, but officials in London today said that most of these statements could be dismissed as without particular value. It is quite enough for them that that relations have so improved of recent months that for the second year in succession King Edward has found it possible to visit the two emperors and discuss with them whatever in European politics was interesting at the moment, discussions which they believe must end in still better understandings. "There is no doubt," said a British official today, "that Turkey has been one of the subjects under discussion. This would naturally be the fact in a gathering of any persons interested in international politics but there is nothing to settle between the powers on this question as all are agreed that there is but one thing to do, namely, not to press any reform measures until the new regime has been given a fair trial. It may be that other subjects arose for consideration but if so we have not been informed."

It is understood that King Edward particularly wished to see Emperor William to arrange a visit for himself and Queen Alexandra to Berlin in return of the emperor's visit to London and the king also wanted to show the Germans his relations with his royal nephews that the ententes which had been brought about with his influence had not been aimed against Germany.

TODAY LAST DAY OF TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Interesting Talk on School Libraries by Mrs. Asplund Feature of Yesterday's Session; "School Hygiene" Today.

Today will see the last sessions of the most successful teachers' gathering ever held in this city, the joint institute for McKinley and Bernalillo counties, which has been in progress for two weeks. The attendance has been splendid and the work far ahead of any previously undertaken along this line.

The interesting feature of yesterday's program at the Fourth ward school, where the sessions are being held, was a talk by Mrs. Rupert F. Asplund, member of Lew Wallace chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, on school libraries. The D. A. R. has recently donated a circulating library for the county schools, which is rapidly growing larger and which has been generously appreciated throughout the county. Mrs. Asplund spoke in an interesting manner of the benefits to be derived from such a library and the proper method to get the most good out of the volumes. She was listened to with close attention.

The principal address today will be made by Dr. Delavergne at 10:30 this morning on the subject of "School Hygiene," one of the most important topics yet discussed by the teachers.

The plant has received only ordinary care, with no special attention, and has thrived since the time it was started. Cotton is grown successfully in large acreage in eastern New Mexico and encouraged by Mr. Furtelle's success a number of Rio Grande farmers have determined to make experiments with the staple.
