FIRST FILIPINO CONGRESS TO OPEN

Taft Expected to Influence Policy Many Contending Factions Already Lined Up in Bitter Struggle for Control of First Insular Parliament.

Manila, Oct. 13.—Great interest is shown in the first Philippine congress, which will take place this week and the arrival of Secretary Taft.

The action of the assembly on questions relating to the political future of the Philippines is expected to be determined largely by the views expressed by Secretary Taft in his address opening the session.

The nationalist, when united, exercise controlling influence, but internal divisions give the pro-independents the balance of power.

Guerra, one of the native leaders in Manila, backs Gomez in his promise to secure the repeal of the drastic "Taft edition" laws.

The governor general and the officials of the Philippine commission believe that the chief activities of the assembly will be devoted to the enactment of legislation for the general improvement of the islands.

The indications are that Manuel Queson will be the candidate for speaker. He is believed to be favorably regarded at Washington, and his election gives assurance that no resolution for the independence of the Philippines will be considered.

Queson is one of the two delegates from Tayabas. He is a lawyer, and in the last insurrection was a major in the Filipino army.

National Commission Declines to Allow Its Teams to Play With Coast Aggregation.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—There will be no winter games between the California State league and the major league clubs. This point was ruled upon by the national baseball commission at its meeting this afternoon on a contention raised by the Pacific league.

The practice of "farmking out" players was also given its death blow by a decision of the commission to revise the rules governing sales with options for recall of players so as to provide that all such options in either major or minor leagues should be made by August 20 of each year, and the players required to report at once to the club exercising the option, with the further provision that no club could enter into any such contract with options for recall more than once for the same player.

NOVELTIES OFFERED NEW YORK PLAYGOERS

New York, Oct. 13.—Those who follow the trend of affairs theatrical must turn their attention to New York this week if they would keep up with the new and novel in stage productions. During the past few days several new plays were tried in cities other than New York. But this week the metropolis will have rather the best chance for novelty.

Short, but was thoroughly revised by Mr. Helms and has already won favor in other cities. As the title would indicate, the chief character, taken by Mr. Warfield, is a civil war veteran, a type familiar to rural communities throughout the country.

"The Sister," a new play by Charles Klein, will have its first New York production at the Garrick Monday evening, and the same will be the "Silver Girl," a new comedy-drama by Edward Pophel, comes to the Wallack for its metropolitan production.

The former is in a sense a problem play, the theme a house divided against itself, and the latter a western play, without the usual accompaniment of cowboy and the "bad man."

Virginia Congressman Dead. Big Stone Gap, Va., Oct. 13.—Campbell Kemp, member of congress from the Sixth district of Virginia, died today of angina pectoris. He was the only republican member of the Virginia delegation in congress.

Mitchell to Submit to Operation. Springfield, Oct. 13.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, entered the hospital at La Salle, Ill., yesterday, and it is understood that he will submit to an operation for appendicitis when his condition becomes more favorable.

Constable Beats Up Consul. President Diaz' Representative in El Paso Assaulted and Thrown in Jail by Revengful Officer.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 13.—Francisco Mallen, consul of Mexico at this place, was attacked and badly beaten on an El Paso street car late this evening by Juan Franco, a deputy constable. This is the third time that Franco has attacked Mallen, whom he blames for having secured the release of a ruffian who had killed a kinsman of Franco. Mallen, whose hand was operated on yesterday, was unable to defend himself and was badly injured by his assailant, who, after beating him, placed him under arrest and lodged him in jail.

Strange Tragedy at Annapolis. Marine Lieutenant Blows Off His Brains With Revolver After Struggle With Comrades.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 13.—Second Lieutenant James H. Sutton, Jr., United States marine corps, is dead at the naval academy marine barracks, his death resulting from a 32-caliber bullet fired into the right side of the head. A board of inquiry detailed by Superintendent Badger, of the naval academy, has prepared a report which will be submitted to the navy department. From the best information to be obtained, Sutton, in company with Second Lieutenant R. U. Adams and E. P. Roelker, returned to the marine camp at 1:30 o'clock this morning, after having attended a dance given at the academy.

Shortly afterward Sutton is said to have been discovered on the road nearby, with a revolver in his right hand, and several fellow officers attempted to disarm him. This they succeeded in doing, but not before the weapon was discharged in some manner, and Lieutenant Adams and Lieutenant Roelker received slight wounds. Quick as a flash, it is said, Sutton took from his blouse another revolver, and with this fired the fatal shot into his brain. Lieutenant Sutton was twenty-two years old and the son of James N. Sutton, of Portland, Ore. He was formerly a midshipman of the present senior class, but resigned in his third year.

FATHER CLAIMS SON WAS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 13.—James N. Sutton, son of this city, father of Lieutenant James H. Sutton, who died at Annapolis today from a gunshot wound, states that he has unquestionable information from Annapolis to the effect that his son came to his death by accident. He says his information also disputes the statement that young Sutton was possessed of two guns and there was an effort made by the young man's companions to disarm him.

Further than this Mr. Sutton says he knows his son had no reason whatever for taking his own life.

SMALL LET OUT WIRE STRIKE CONTINUES

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE SUSPENDS PRESIDENT Local Unions All Over Country Vote Against Going Back to Work Before Demands Are Granted.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—At a meeting of the executive committee held here this afternoon, President Small was suspended. The following message was sent to President Small by the executive committee: "Under article 15, section 7, of the constitution of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, you are hereby suspended from the office of President to take effect immediately. (Signed) 'S. J. KONENKAMP, Acting Chairman. 'M. J. REIDY, 'J. M. SULLIVAN."

NEW YORK UNION SCORES PRESIDENT AS WEAKLING

New York, Oct. 13.—The New York local of the telegraphers' union today voted unanimously to continue the strike against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies. The vote was taken upon the suggestion of President Small, who in messages to subordinate officers yesterday pointed out the inability of the general assembly to further finance the strike, and requested that locals in the various cities vote upon the advisability of the men returning to work.

The meeting was characterized by bitter exchanges between President Small and the other speakers. The latter charged the national leader with inconsistency in first claiming that the strike would be successfully financed and yesterday admitting that the general assembly was without funds and with having conducted the fight in a half-hearted, dilatory way.

President Small answered, trying to explain his position, but was interrupted by hisses. When he suddenly left the hall in the midst of the speech making, cries of "resign" followed him. Tonight Small issued a statement in which he said he was willing to continue the strike if the men insisted.

When the meeting opened President Small was given the floor and said: "I am not here to make an argument for or against continuing the strike, but merely to explain why I called for a vote of the locals on the proposition. Saturday Commissioner Nell informed me that President Small had told him that further negotiations were futile. I believe what they say. Our funds are quite exhausted, as you know, when we were unable to make a payment to you yesterday. There are no more in sight. These are the facts. You can do as you will."

Perry Thomas, former national secretary, followed Small, saying that the latter had said when the strike began that he could raise $2,000,000 to support it. Small, he said, had asked him thirty days ago to send out the word, "no funds," but the speaker refused. He continued: "President Small has utterly neglected to properly approach the subject of raising money, and now he comes here and tells you that he has no more money. This strike cannot be lost if we have a leader, a national president with any ability."

There were cheers for Thomas, and as Small rose to reply shouts of "resign" greeted him. "I have no intention of resigning," he said, when he could be heard. "I resign is the last thing that I will do, and I want to tell you that personal attacks upon me won't get you bread and butter."

As for assessments of other labor organizations, I want to tell you what they amount to. The Order of Railroad Telegraphers, with a membership of 40,000, was assessed first two dollars, then one dollar, which has resulted in about $2,000. From the 25,000 locals of the American Federation of Labor we have received about $25,000. I have come here to state facts and to tell you of your position. Do what you will."

As Small sat down, Daniel Russell, chairman of the local board of strategists, sprang to his feet. "Up to last night," he said, "this was Small's strike, and up to last night he did everything he could to lose. Today it is your strike. Keep it up and we will win. He alone brought on the strike, and now he is trying to repudiate it."

Other speakers followed in a similar vein, after which the resolutions declaring that the strike be continued and calling upon the national executive committee to resign at once $2,000, the New York local's share in the general treasury, and requesting the appropriation of the insurance fund for strike purposes, was adopted. In his statement tonight President Small says that in his recent telegram he merely wished the locals to intelligently understand the situation. He added: "Should the locals throughout the country, or a bare majority of them, vote to continue the strike, it will be pushed with greater vigor than ever, and the membership, being in possession of the facts regarding the suggestion and finances, no doubt will work with greater determination."

CHICAGO OPERATORS REPUDIATE SMALL

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—National President Sylvester J. Small, of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, and his suggestion that a vote be taken on the question of calling off the strike were repudiated by members of the Chicago local union at a meeting this afternoon. A resolution that the strike be continued was unanimously adopted. The meeting was followed by a demonstration of strength by the striking operators before the offices of the telegraph companies. The men marched in double file in the streets, shouting, "Strike! Strike!" and otherwise voiced their opposition to the surrender suggestion.

ST. LOUIS HOPEFUL OF ULTIMATE TRIUMPH

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 13.—At a meeting tonight the members of the local commercial telegraphers' union, it was voted to remain out on strike.

SMALL INSISTS STRUGGLE SHOULD BE ABANDONED

New York, Oct. 13.—President S. J. Small appeared confident today that the strike was at an end and hopeful that his men will be reinstated. He said: "The strike will be called off tomorrow and the men will be back to work."

"Will you give a word of advice to the men as to whether they should vote to call it off and seek reinstatement?" he was asked. "I will cover that point at the meeting with the men in New York today," he replied. "The object in sending out my statement to the men yesterday was to put the question right up to them. Our resources are exhausted, and if they want to continue the fight they will have to furnish the funds. That is square, isn't it? If you were in one city and I in another supporting you in a fight, it would be proper for me to notify you if I could not deliver you any further help. That is what I have done, put the question right up to them."

"Perry Thomas says you have $15,000 in the treasury," he suggested. "In whose treasury?" he asked Mr. Small. "We have $15,000, but not for strike uses. That is a mutual benefit fund for insurance. If we have money, why couldn't we pay off here yesterday? But there is always talk of this kind at the end of every strike. I have been through about eight months of this ever since the strike began in San Francisco last June. It don't bother me any more. If Mr. Thomas wants to prevent calling off the strike let him do so. I am going to that meeting with brass knuckles. Generally labor leaders advise each other to disregard the sufferings of their men when a strike is on, but I will not do that to the very last ditch."

"Our men have been out for three months or more, and when a man stays out that long with small funds being furnished, it gets serious. 'We could hold out a couple of weeks longer on nothing but encouraging talk about the results, but the men of the weaker character would be slowly returning to work, while the stronger men would hold out and suffer the most, just because they were the most staunch. There would be no union left.'"

"What if the locals decline to call it off?" he was asked. "Well, there will be nothing to do but keep up the fight as long as they can, but it will be up to them to provide the funds. We have exhausted our resources. The strike was irregular from the beginning."

"They are in a hopeless, and it might as well be abandoned?" "That is it," replied Mr. Small.

ROOSEVELT ON TRAIL OF BEAR

FRESH TRACKS REVIVE HOPES OF HUNTERS Tensas Natives Chagrined at Noy-Success of Distinguished Visitor in His Search for Big Game.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 13.—The whole country-side turned out today in expectation of seeing the president take his departure from Stamboul for the south, but in view of the change of plans, was of course disappointed. There was general expression of satisfaction, however, over his reconsideration of his determination to move to Tensas parish, for now that the change is not to be made, Stamboul confesses candidly that she would have been much chagrined to have her distinguished visitor go away with an empty bag before the time originally fixed.

General confidence in his success in the new camp on Bear lake continues buoyant, and the reports from there are favorable. Indeed, it is said that a number of fresh tracks were discovered yesterday and that on one occasion the party came upon a good sized bear, but on account of the absence of dogs he made his escape. The hope is very strong that when the hunt is resumed tomorrow either this animal or a member of his family will soon be run to earth. Many of the dogs used in last week's strenuous search of the barren up-country are reported to be badly lame, and an effort is being made to replace them with fresh animals.

It is not believed by the president's associates that he will now make any changes, but he has made no plans. All will depend upon the developments early in the week. There is no doubt of the presence of the game now, but it is very shy and may disappear in the presence of hunters, as it did from the Monteville camp. The order for the special train which was to have made his appearance today, was cancelled last night, but it will be renewed if the president manifests a disposition to go south. The Tensas parish people are reported to be as much disappointed over the failure of the president to carry out his program for a visit to their section. Secretary Latta went out to the camp today.

GOTHAM CRIMINALS ON VACATION

For First Time in Years Day Passes Without a Murder or Suspicious Death.

Twenty-four hours has passed in Manhattan without a murder or suicide being reported. Nineteen hours went by while not a sudden or a suspicious death was recorded. This Saturday evening, the average run of cases reported to the coroner's office on Saturday night is twenty-five. There have been infrequent periods of three and four hours without deaths that attracted police attention but never a whole day in the memory of present officials.

MULAI HAFIG GAINS STRENGTH IN MOROCCO

Modern Rifles Seized and Sent to Desert to Arm Frencher's Wild Followers.

Tangier, Oct. 13.—A letter here from Marrakech, dated October 5, indicates an increase in the strength of Mulai Hafig in the south. On the night of October 8, this letter says, the governor of Marrakech took from the custom house 230 modern rifles, which were loaded upon waiting camels and rushed through to Mulai Hafig.

The ammunition was not touched owing to there being a plentiful supply at Morocco City. A further square of arms at the custom house is certain.

Fire which almost completely destroyed the town of Alpine several weeks ago started from the office of Dr. Rice, and it is said that evidence has been found to show the blaze was of incendiary origin.

HELPLESS STEAMER REACHES PORT

Oceanic Liner Mariposa Towed Into San Francisco With Engines Dead From Lack of Fuel.

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—The Oceanic Steamship company's steamer, Mariposa, which was adrift without fuel seventy miles off Monterey, was towed into port this afternoon by the tugs Dauntless and Relief. In addition to her crew the Mariposa had twenty-seven passengers, including several women and children, on board.

Last Thursday night the Mariposa exhausted her supply of fuel oil. On Friday first officer W. D. Watson volunteered to try to reach the coast in a small boat, for the purpose of securing aid and a tow enabling the Mariposa to come into port with her passengers and cargo.

Watson, accompanied by Seaman J. Webber, P. Brewer, E. Judd and Joseph Terfelt, embarked in the ship's working boat, rigged as a yawl, with light spars fore and aft, carrying a large spread of canvas. Provisions for last one week were placed in the boat, and every preparation made for the long and hazardous voyage to the coast. They headed for Monterey Bay and sailed straight for that haven, driven along by a fresh wind until they were about fifteen miles off shore.

At 5 o'clock the wind died out, but Officer Watson could make out the coast line in the distance, and taking down their useless sails, the sailors rowed to Monterey, from whence ward of the steamer's plight was sent to this city. Tugs were at once sent out. Yesterday afternoon the Dauntless picked up the Mariposa not far from her reported position. The Dauntless was later joined by the Relief, who assisted in towing the Mariposa into port.

COLONISTS CLASH IN AFRICA

Britishers in Dark Continent Complain of German Aggression; Churchill Goes to Investigate.

London, Oct. 13.—Winston Churchill, under secretary of state for the colonies, who has started on a tour which will take him into the interior of Africa, will, when he reaches Natal on Victoria Nyanza have presented to him a problem that has been causing very serious misgivings to those Britishers who have established themselves upon the shores of the lake and have in many cases built up large business trading with the natives of the adjacent territory. These shores of Africa fear that a scheme which the German government is carrying out to divert the trade of the country from British to German points on the east line which is now carried over the Uganda railway, a substituted line, will not only hurt the business, but will probably seriously hurt the navigation by lake by lowering its waters.

The Germans have already built a railway from Pangama, on the coast, to the base of Mount Kilimanjaro on the border of East Africa. Swamps on the one side and mountain ranges on the other prevent this line from being continued to Victoria Nyanza, but to overcome this difficulty the Germans are digging a canal through the swamps from the deep inlet of the lake to the railroad. The canal will be sixty miles long and the overflow will be carried to the sea by the river Kiava. Ordinarily such work might not be considered a menace, but in the case of Victoria Nyanza, experts believe it will do great damage to British interests.

The whole question will be placed before Mr. Churchill, and will doubtless become the subject of diplomatic negotiations between the foreign office of London and Berlin.

General Strike in France

Turin, France, Oct. 13.—A general strike was proclaimed tonight to begin tomorrow.

JOHN R. WALSH FACES LIFE IN PRISON

AGED EX-BANKER HELD ON 100 INDICTMENTS Charged With Misuse of Funds of Wrecked Chicago National to Extent of Over Three Million Dollars.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—John R. Walsh, former president of the wrecked Chicago National bank, must stand trial this week on 125 counts of the indictments against him, charging misappropriation of funds and credits of the institution and also that he made false entries in the reports to the controller of the currency. Between fifty and sixty transactions are covered in the indictments the aggregate sum involved being about $3,000,000. The minimum sentence for conviction on a single count is five years. Such a verdict, if given, would be virtually one of death for the aged and broken financier, who is now in his seventieth year.

The specific charges are that sums of money were credited to the personal account of President Walsh as the result of "memorandum" notes, receipts, and of the sale of certain bonds to the bank; and that payments of money were made by him from the sums credited to his account, following the transactions in "memorandum notes" and the sale of bonds. The Chicago Chronicle, the newspaper which represented the Walsh regime when the Irish financier was dreaming dreams of railway empire, and which collapsed when the Walsh bubble burst, is named in three counts as having received $60,000 of the billings secured through the alleged disavowal of fraudulent and insecure paper. It is alleged that other large sums went to bolster the Walsh railroad properties, the Illinois Southern, the Southern Indiana and the Wisconsin and Michigan.

According to the indictment, the misappropriation of the funds was made without the knowledge or direction of the other directors or officials. Walsh is said to have been animated in his wrongdoing by the desire to satisfy his ambition to become a railroad king.

The downfall of Walsh forms one of the most tragic chapters in American financial history. Even should he be acquitted, his last years have been embittered, his ambitions blazed and his fortune dissipated in the wreck and ruin that he has brought upon himself. Walsh was a self-made man, and he has also ruined himself. If it should be found that he has not violated any law, that his faults were due to his towering ambition and absurd of criminal greed, Walsh's punishment is none the less certain. A full sentence would be but a final taste of ignominy for the man whom the fates have already broken and cast down.

Walsh began his Chicago career sixty years ago as a newsboy on the streets. He was born in Ireland August 23, 1837, and landed in Chicago with his parents a decade before the early evident great business ability and at twenty-four became the proprietor of a flourishing news business which he soon consolidated with the American News company, of which he became a director. In 1882 he founded the Chicago National bank, which he is now accused of wrecking. Up to two years ago Walsh was one of the leaders in Chicago financial and railroad circles, and his ownership of the Chicago Chronicle afforded a medium for the widespread dissemination of his financial plans. He was a director of the World's Columbian exposition and prominent in all civic affairs. His Napoleonic ambition to become the head of a great railroad system brought his ruin, and in a few days he could appear before the bar of justice to answer for the sins he is alleged to have committed against the laws of the land.

John S. Miller, famous as attorney for the standard Oil company, is Walsh's chief counsel, and ever since the indictment of the Irish financier has carried on a legal battle to save Walsh from trial.

When Walsh was brought into court to answer to the federal grand jury, the excitement was so great that he was led in by way of the freight elevator, surrounded by a number of body guards. When formally arraigned, Walsh pleaded not guilty.

Fletcher Doherty and F. S. Hancock, assistant United States district attorneys, have been working on the case for many months, and have secured hundreds of pounds of documentary evidence to confound the brilliant attorney engaged by Walsh. Much of this evidence has been supplied by the government to investigate the failure of the Chicago National bank. The government attorneys have announced that they are ready for trial, and as there are no further preliminary motions that Walsh can make, it appears certain that the case will be called next Tuesday, the date set. Only the possible serious illness of Walsh, who is said to be broken in health and almost an invalid, is likely to prevent the proceedings. Walsh's defense, it is said, will be largely technical, and an unprecedented array of experts will appear for both sides.

THIRD TERM MENOPENDO REASON

ADMIT ROOSEVELT MAY STICK TO DECLINATION

Followers of Taft Have Heart to Hear Talk With President at Canton and Go Away Satisfied.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.) Washington, Oct. 14.—The Roosevelt third-term boomers, at least some of them, have taken a sober second thought. There may be found here today who, a month ago, would have admitted nothing but Roosevelt, who will admit now that the president will have to stand by his pronouncement of election night, 1904—that under no circumstances will he become a candidate for an second year's nomination for the presidency.

Mr. Roosevelt has recently given private assurances that he intends to stand by his election night statement and that nothing can sway him from that determination. Arthur I. Vorys, of Ohio, campaign manager for Secretary of War Taft, had become much worked up over the third term talk and at Canton he had a heart-to-heart talk with the chief executive. There has been made no public announcement as to what took place at the conference, but enough has been given out to indicate that the president made it plain that he intends to stand by Taft as his first choice for the succession. Vorys has gone back to the job of honoring Taft with a confidence that has been entirely lacking in his demeanor during the past few weeks. That Taft managers now are convinced that they need fear no "throw down" by Roosevelt, and they have a clearer idea as to how their campaign plans should be conducted. The person who is now most feared by the Taft adherents is Governor Charles R. Hughes, of New York. In the public talk he is indicated as the overwhelming second choice candidate of the supporters of Roosevelt and Taft. Scrutiny of the situation shows that the "interests" in New York, the men who control the speculative markets of the country, are for any man or any measure that will defeat or discredit Roosevelt.

They have been successively announced as being for Knox, Foraker and Taft. Early in the game they were said to be for Fairbanks. But now that it seems impossible to nominate any reactionary, they are said to be lining up for Hughes, even though it is known to all men the Roosevelt dictated his nomination as governor, and Hughes saved the state from disaster, as they are disposed to believe. It is said that Hughes has been infected with the presidential virus and is willing to part with Roosevelt in order to get the nomination. His bid for the support of the "conservative" element is said to have been in his veto of a two-cent railroad bill, and his refusal to give organized labor representation upon the public utilities commission, which he selected to control the great corporations of New York.

Secretary Taft has been openly honoring the boys in every state that he expects, if made president, to recognize the organized workers. He has been characteristically blunt about this matter, and those who go away after asking the question feel that they fully understand that the fellows who deliver the delegates will be near the side counter in the days of electing out that are to come.

Recollection of James G. Blaine's quest for the presidency has had much to do with convincing the third-term boomers that Roosevelt would have to "stand pat" in his declaration. In 1876 Blaine refused the nomination as a matter of good faith, though he could have had it had he not been adamant against the appeals of his supporters. The republican national convention of that year was adjourned from Thursday until Monday in order to get word from Blaine, who was abroad, whether he would be a candidate. He refused, and explained his attitude by saying that his previous refusal to be considered a candidate had discouraged other men to enter the race, and that he did not think it would be fair to them for him to become a contestant at that late day. Five months before the convention met, that is, in January, 1876, Mr. Blaine wrote a letter from France, then chairman of the republican national committee, in which he dealt at length with the political situation, followed by the paragraph:

"I wish through you to state to the members of the republican party that my name will not be presented to the national convention called to assemble at Chicago, in June next, for the nomination of candidates for president and vice president of the United States. I am convinced by this decision by consideration entirely personal to myself of which you were advised more than a year ago."

As in the case of Mr. Roosevelt, despite this declaration, Mr. Blaine was not forward as a candidate in opposition to the others who entered the presidential contest. Mr. Blaine wrote a second letter to Mr. Taft, stating that his original refusal to be a candidate was unconditional. This letter was addressed to William Field, and was made public on MAY 22. In part it was as follows:

"When we talked in Paris from another day on the 14th instant, I have learned that I did not let you believe that my name may be presented to the national convention as a candidate for the presidential nomination of the republican party. A

CAMPAIGN TO CLIP WINGS OF LORDS

British Liberals Busy Creating Popular Sentiment Against Upper House of Parliament.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 12.—The liberal campaign for restriction of the power of the house of lords to alter or reject bills proposed in the house of commons, which was inaugurated by the premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, is now in full swing throughout the country. Members of the cabinet are addressing meetings almost daily, their subjects being the government's complaint of the treatment of measures it considered of first importance by the upper house.

The campaign thus far has disclosed a heavy parliamentary program containing several questions of which the house of commons and the house of lords must come to grips. In the first place, there will be re-introduced some measures rejected by the house of lords this year, to be followed by the licensing and education bills, both of which undoubtedly will lead to strife.

Should all or any of these fail of approval, a bill will be introduced giving effect to the resolutions of the house of commons favoring the restriction of the powers of the house of lords. This would mean an immediate general election, which many persons believe must occur next fall.

DOCTORS FEEL GROWING WEAKNESS OF PATIENT

The Hague, Oct. 12.—The news concerning the condition of Emperor Francis Joseph's health is seriously preoccupying the diplomats gathered here, especially the Europeans, but more particularly those belonging to the triple alliance. A cipher telegram from Vienna received by a leading diplomat here today says that the optimistic reports of the condition of the emperor are issued purposely so as not to alarm the people, but that in reality the doctors are anxious, fearing the growing weakness of the patient.

RETIREMENT OF NAVAL OFFICER SEIZED AS LUNATIC

Paris, Oct. 12.—Commander John Bradford Hays, United States navy, retired, was picked up today by the police while wandering aimlessly in the streets and placed in a hospital for the insane. Subsequently he was turned over to Captain John C. Freeman, naval attaché to the American embassy, who placed him under medical treatment. A dispatch from Paris on Friday said that Commander Hays' actions were causing alarm to his friends there. He seems to be suffering from the hallucination of persecution. That morning he had created a scene at a restaurant hotel by declaring that six hundred persons were pursuing him.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Notable among the events scheduled for this week is the inauguration of a regular Trans-atlantic wireless service. William Marconi, it is understood, on Tuesday will open his station in Nova Scotia and receive for the transmission of press communications messages direct between America and Europe. Communications between these countries and Cuba also will be facilitated by the completion of the first cable directly connecting New York and Havana. Heretofore communication between the points has been by way of land lines, which, extending from New York to Key West, connects with the cable at the point.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-zealous doctors, a case for which he assumes them to be such, prescribes his pills and poisons. In reality, they are suffering from the same cause, the same disease. The trouble is not in the organs, but in the system. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause, would have cured them, but they were not given it. They were given a wrong treatment, but probably a better one. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully tested by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects to the most delicate of the female sex.

British Liberals Busy Creating Popular Sentiment Against Upper House of Parliament.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) London, Oct. 12.—The liberal campaign for restriction of the power of the house of lords to alter or reject bills proposed in the house of commons, which was inaugurated by the premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, is now in full swing throughout the country. Members of the cabinet are addressing meetings almost daily, their subjects being the government's complaint of the treatment of measures it considered of first importance by the upper house.

The campaign thus far has disclosed a heavy parliamentary program containing several questions of which the house of commons and the house of lords must come to grips. In the first place, there will be re-introduced some measures rejected by the house of lords this year, to be followed by the licensing and education bills, both of which undoubtedly will lead to strife.

Should all or any of these fail of approval, a bill will be introduced giving effect to the resolutions of the house of commons favoring the restriction of the powers of the house of lords. This would mean an immediate general election, which many persons believe must occur next fall.

DOCTORS FEEL GROWING WEAKNESS OF PATIENT

The Hague, Oct. 12.—The news concerning the condition of Emperor Francis Joseph's health is seriously preoccupying the diplomats gathered here, especially the Europeans, but more particularly those belonging to the triple alliance. A cipher telegram from Vienna received by a leading diplomat here today says that the optimistic reports of the condition of the emperor are issued purposely so as not to alarm the people, but that in reality the doctors are anxious, fearing the growing weakness of the patient.

RETIREMENT OF NAVAL OFFICER SEIZED AS LUNATIC

Paris, Oct. 12.—Commander John Bradford Hays, United States navy, retired, was picked up today by the police while wandering aimlessly in the streets and placed in a hospital for the insane. Subsequently he was turned over to Captain John C. Freeman, naval attaché to the American embassy, who placed him under medical treatment. A dispatch from Paris on Friday said that Commander Hays' actions were causing alarm to his friends there. He seems to be suffering from the hallucination of persecution. That morning he had created a scene at a restaurant hotel by declaring that six hundred persons were pursuing him.

No less important and interesting will be the efforts which will be made in New York to induce the courts to denude the judgments found against several officials and former officials of insurance companies. Of these insurance cases, those against John H. Bogerman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, who is charged with perjury and forgery, and Robert A. Granville, president of the Mutual Life, who is accused of forgery, will be argued Monday. Similar arguments will be made on Wednesday in the case against George W. Perkins and Charles S. BRYAN EXPECTED TO ANOUNCE CANDIDACY

POLITICIAN INTERESTED IN BRASKAN'S VISIT

Goes to Capital in November When something Bearing on Next Year's Campaign is Looked For.

[Special Correspondence Morning Journal.] Washington, Oct. 13.—Politicians are interested in the statement of William Jennings Bryan that "an important political announcement will be made when he speaks in Washington on November 25. It is expected that the date will be an important one in the political calendar in the George Washington University, and the news that he will make an announcement regarding the acceptance of the invitation to address the university students is assumed, of course, that Bryan's announcement will have to do with his acceptance of next year's nomination for the presidency at the hands of the democratic convention, and there will be anxious days and sleepless nights until the announcement is forthcoming.

It is one of the conceded things in the political situation that Mr. Bryan has been the democratic nominee in all the years since 1896. A very large percentage of democratic voters will be nominated and elected. Others hope some other man will be given the nomination. A third element in the democratic party hopes Mr. Bryan will be nominated and defeated, holding the belief that a third election would effectively eliminate him as a presidential possibility. But all these elements want to know what Mr. Bryan is going to do.

The third element—the one which would like to see Mr. Bryan nominated and defeated—offers the suggestion of a unique situation in American politics. Because there is just such a faction in the republican party, a faction which would like to see Mr. Roosevelt nominated and would like to see him go down to defeat, for the self-same reason that they believe it would eliminate him as the "boss" of the republican party.

Imagine a presidential campaign in which each political party had a candidate of every drop of sporting blood that courses through American veins, and why not Roosevelt and Bryan as the nominees? There does not seem to be any great vital issue between the parties next year, and it might just as well get a little fun out of it.

Joe Sharp Williams, senator-elect from Mississippi, doesn't propose to surrender the minority leadership of the house of representatives without a fight. He is willing that Judge De Armond, of Missouri, shall have the provided a majority of democratic party members want De Armond, but doesn't intend to take it for granted if they do. If De Armond is the voice of democratic congressmen, they have got to say it.

Mr. Williams was in Washington this week, and the announcement that he is a candidate for the leadership is forthcoming. Coincident with the visit of Mr. Williams, Judge Griggs, of Georgia, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, was in town and declared himself for the re-election of Williams.

During the last session of congress there was some talk on the part of a few of the democratic members of bringing out a candidate in opposition to Williams," said Mr. Griggs, "but it will be nothing more than talk. I make the prediction that John Sharp Williams will have considerably more than one hundred votes for the minority leadership, which, of course, will be greatly in excess of the number required to give him the nomination. Complimentary votes will be cast for other candidates, but Williams is better equipped than any other man in the house today for the position of minority leader. This is not said in disparagement of any one who may be a candidate, but it is a fact that can not be overlooked, and has proved his leadership, and I have no fear that the minority in the house has any intention of changing leaders at the present time."

The United States is not the only country that is blessed with prospects of adversity. Germany is very prosperous just now, but there are many citizens who declare it cannot last, that hard times are on the eve of arrival. On this subject T. J. Albert, American Consul at Brunswick, writes:

There are some persons in Germany apprehensive that the era of prosperity which has continued uninterrupted for several years past is at an end, and that business is on the verge of a decline. The general opinion is, however, that if commercial activity has suffered a check, it has not stopped to take breath in, but is

Geddes is a prominent mining engineer of Arizona and New Mexico and has served some time in prison to all who know him. He was one of the foremost promoters of the Clayton copper camps in Union county and had heavy holdings there. His friends here were loth to believe there was anything in the charges against him and several developments show conclusively that there is not. He left this afternoon for Phoenix, where he goes to complete a mining company for the further development of the Peachock mining district.

Notes of Pick and Drill.

September was an important month for New Mexico in a mining way and there were many happenings, which indicated increased prosperity for the industry. Among the items noted by the Mining Review are: The establishment of an important coal camp at Koeber, twenty miles north of Hobbs; increased turquoise shipments from the Jarilla district by the Turquoise Consolidated company; the revival of operations in the old Formosa silver camp, twenty-five miles north of Kingston; the possible development of mineral and copper deposits in the Carbonate Peak and Iron company's Union Hill mine at Ptero, which has been productive of iron ore for the past few years; at the rate of twenty-five carloads daily; increased production from the Kelly zinc camp, where several properties are shipping lead ore to the Denning smelter and zinc products to the Kansas-Missouri fields; the announcement that the Dawson Fuel company, controlled by the Phelps-Dodge interests, would erect 250 coke ovens at Dawson, the blowing in of the new 300-ton furnace of the Comanche Mining and Smelting company at Silver City; and the rumor that the Santa Fe railway might build a line to the Silver City camp.

In Sierra County, W. F. Traves, the well known mining man at the Placers, returned this week from a business trip east, says the Hillsboro Advocate. While east he purchased additional mining machinery which will be immediately put in place. Mr. Traves has let a contract in John Morris and Martin Lyons to sink a working shaft 800 feet deep. Actual work on the shaft will be commenced within a few days. Mr. Traves also has purchased the claims in Traffic creek, paying $5,000 cash for the same. Mr. Call has taken a contract to do considerable amount of development on the properties. As soon as developments will justify Mr. Traves will equip the mines with mining machinery.

Superintendent James of the Ready Pay mines says that the new mill is working to perfection. The plant is almost ready to start. The mill is supposed to be of 100-ton capacity. Mr. James says it will handle eighty tons of ore every twenty-four hours.

Leases Twink Group. Mr. T. T. Lee, of Lake Valley, this week secured a lease and bond on the Barka group of copper claims. The price named for the properties is $10,000 and the lease and bond covers a period of six months. This group of claims was discovered only a few weeks ago and is owned by the Barka brothers of Arrey, and several residents of Hillsboro. The claims are ten in number and are located at Camp Black on the east side of the Caballo mountains some fourteen miles almost due east on the opposite side of the Caballos from the Shangdon Gold camp.

Grant County. Judge L. P. Deming shipped a car of lead ore from Lordsburg last week from his group of lead mines in the Telegraph district down on the Gila. The ore was taken out and sent while doing assessment work and is exceedingly rich in lead, according to the Silver City Enterprise.

Santa Rita. Regular shipments of copper ore still being made from Santa Rita despite the decline in the price of copper. While several of the leases who were working low grade properties were put at business temporarily by the decline, there is still a large number left who are working their leases at a profit. At all times there is very little difference in the lease between 15 and 14 cent copper. On the former he pays 25 per cent royalty and on the latter 20 per cent, so that on a 20 cent ore there is not a difference of 40 cents a ton in favor of 16 cent copper. One that will ship at 14 cents will also stand shipment at 14 cents, and so long as copper remains at 14 cents there will be no material difference in the shipments from Santa Rita.

Ferro. There is a persistent rumor at Ferro that the Brockman interests are contemplating the acquisition of a large number of claims that contain great immense deposits of copper on Union Hill and other properties in this vicinity. Mr. Brockman is expected to arrive in Ferro soon and he will probably be accompanied by two or three of his associates in the property.

district is proving a bonanza to its owner, Mr. Smith. The latter while landing a drift just above the water level struck a vein of high-grade chert, which is estimated to be 100 feet in width from eight to twenty inches and specimens shown this week ran as high as 450 ounces silver. The mine is one of the group owned by Nat Brown and the latter is doing assessment work on the group at the present time.

A TRUE AND THRILLING STORY.

URGES NEED FOR BIG DELEGATION TO MUSKOGEE

TRANSMISSISSIPPI MEETING THIS YEAR IS IMPORTANT

Admission of Oklahoma to Statehood, New Mexico's Fight and the Irrigation Congress Make Large Representation Necessary.

The importance of having large representation from New Mexico at the coming session of the Transmississippi Commercial congress which meets in Muskogee, Okla., November 19-22, is being strongly urged just now by a number of prominent New Mexicans who are deeply interested not only in the success of the national irrigation congress in Albuquerque, but also in the cause of Hon. H. J. Hagerman, of Roswell who is vice president of the Transmississippi congress from New Mexico. It is especially active in arousing interest in this congress which he deems one of the most important gatherings of its kind to be held in the United States this year.

In a recent letter Mr. Hagerman says of the need for strong representation at the congress: "A most excellent way to boost the territory and incidentally the statehood matter would be for the territory and for the cities and towns and commercial clubs throughout the territory to send good strong representatives to the congress, as by that time Oklahoma will probably have been admitted as a state and a good deal of interest will be concentrated and centered in that region and the congress should be of greater interest than usual. It would be a good thing for Albuquerque and the territory in general to send some good boosters there in order to work up interest in view of the coming meeting of the national irrigation congress which is to be held in Albuquerque next year. Oklahoma, too, is furnishing a good many of our immigrants and it would be especially desirable to have a strong representation from here to push things for the territory in the way they were pushed at Sacramento."

Hon. J. B. Prince, of Santa Fe, first vice president of the national organization, is also pushing the interests of this congress urging the sending of strong delegates from every town in the territory, while Governor Curry has expressed a desire to secure the strongest men she can find to go as delegates at large from the territory.

DISTRICT COURT TO RESUME WORK TODAY

Grand Jury Will Resume Its Sessions and the Territorial Criminal Docket Will Be Called.

The Bernalillo county district court term which has been interrupted by the events of fair week, will be resumed this morning, when the grand jury will be called together at the business of the county criminal docket will be taken up. The grand jury has practically completed its work and was adjourned after making its final report, until the fourteenth of October in order that it might be ready to consider any additional business which might be presented. It is understood that very little of such business is to come up. The county criminal docket is quite a large one for this term and the post jurors have quite a session ahead. At least two cases in which murder is charged will be tried and perhaps a third, while there is a long list of indictments for less serious offenses.

Two Distinct Vaudeville Shows at Crystal.

Two separate and distinct changes of vaudeville program will take place at the Crystal theater this week, the first change of bill today and the second next Thursday. At each of these changes every feature but the novelty feature acts will be different. This is also for an indefinite period and not alone for the present week. As the prices are within the reach of all the patrons a second time, and Thursday night should be as large as Monday, etc.

The bill for this week embraces Messrs. Stanton and Sandberg, the rapid fire conversationalists, late of "The Runaway Girl" company; new moving pictures, new illustrated songs, etc., and inaugurates the newly installed Crystal Stock company, headed by Producer Billy Behan, in their laughable series of an act farce comedies. Their opening farce will be "The Troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Brown" which will be changed Thursday to another one.

If the ladies could catch a glimpse of the handsome imported Japanese handkerchief boxes that are to be given away as souvenirs tomorrow afternoon the management would feel assured of a capacity business at both afternoon performances.

CAVALRYMEN THANK ALBUQUERQUE FOR COURTESIES

ARE WELL PLEASED WITH THEIR VISIT TO THE FAIR

Captain Williard, in Behalf of the Officers and Men, Expresses Appreciation—Start This Morning for the Fort.

Troops I and K, Fifth cavalry, the most obliging and interesting detachment of the United States army that has ever visited a New Mexico fair, will leave this morning at 7 o'clock for the march back to Fort Wingate. The tents and camp equipment will be sent by rail and the men in light marching equipment will make the trip back in short time.

The cavalrymen have done a very great deal during the past week for the entertainment of Albuquerque people and Albuquerque's guests, and the feeling has been from fair headquarters down to the last admiring small boy, that nothing in town was too good for them.

The cavalrymen, officers and men alike have enjoyed their stay in Albuquerque as is evidenced by the following letter, addressed to the fair association and the people of Albuquerque last night by Captain Harry O. Williard, captain in command of the squadron, in behalf of the officers and men:

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 12, 1907. The Officers Territorial Fair Association, and the People of Albuquerque.

On behalf of the squadron of the Fifth United States cavalry, Troops J and K, officers and men, I desire to thank you for the royal good time you have given us while in the your delightful little city during the fair, and to assure you that the thousand and one kindnesses performed for us have been duly appreciated. We have been afforded the opportunity of meeting the most charming and hospitable people, and of partaking of their generosity, and if we in our humble way have been able to afford diversion to the thousands who have visited the fair, our mission will have been well done.

We regret that we cannot thank each one in person for the kindness shown.

Especially are we indebted to the officers of the association for the care and attention shown us, and we can assure them it has been a pleasure for each of us to serve such gentlemen, and to do what little we could to make their fair successful.

Wishing that each succeeding fair may be as successful in every sense as the one just past, and thanking you and all again for the entire squadron, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
HARRY O. WILLIARD,
Captain Fifth United States Cavalry,
Commanding Squadron.

LAST OF THE FAIR PEOPLE OFF FOR HOME

City Settles Down to Business Again Today—Decorations Should Come Down at Once.

In contrast with the crowded streets of the past six days, Albuquerque looked like a deserted village yesterday. The few visitors who remained for the Saturday night carnival, left for their homes yesterday, and last night and today the city will be able to return to the even tenor of its way and tend to business for awhile after having been very much scrambled with the events of fair week.

Some progress was made toward cleaning up the business district yesterday. Lots of the contents were scraped off the streets and swept off the sidewalks, and most of the carnival shows and booths were taken down, and today it is especially urged that all the fair decorations, which have served their worthy purpose come down at once.

It was another busy day at fair headquarters, where the closing accounts and checking out of shows kept the manager and secretary busy throughout the day. The fair officers, having given the show, still have a mass of work before them in closing the accounts and striking the balance. This will be done as quickly as possible.

Henry E. Jones, of Tampa, Florida, writes "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried everything else and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good until I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 52 years old and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure, I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it. Care and health is a kidney medicine." J. H. The Albuquerque Morning Journal

Published by the Journal Publishing Co.

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Albuquerque, N. M., under act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

THE MORNING JOURNAL IS THE LEADING REPUBLICAN PAPER OF NEW MEXICO, SUPPORTING THE PRINCIPLES OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY ALL THE TIME AND THE METHODS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY WHEN THEY ARE RIGHT.

Larger circulation than any other paper in New Mexico. The only paper in New Mexico issued every day in the year.

The Morning Journal has a higher circulation rating than is accorded to any other paper in Albuquerque or any other city in New Mexico.—The American Newspaper Directory.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily, by mail, one year, in advance, $5.00. Daily, by mail, one month, in advance, $1.00. Daily, by mail, one month, $1.00.

THE TIME TO STRIKE. The old adage about striking while the iron is hot applies most aptly to the situation in New Mexico just now.

It seems to me this is the psychological time for the statehood forces of New Mexico to make their great effort to add a new star to the national flag and with earnest, aggressive, organized and intelligent direction of the movement there can be but one result and that result victory.

The admission of Oklahoma puts two additional anti-administration democratic United States senators on the government payroll and there is little doubt but that the administration and republicans generally throughout the union would be glad of the opportunity to offset the influence in the senate of the members from Oklahoma with two republican senators from the state of New Mexico.

Compared to the organized opposition to the admission of Oklahoma that element antagonistic to statehood for New Mexico is a mere bagatelle, and in my judgment the only thing now necessary for the people to do is to be admitted into the union is to get busy at once and prevent their case to the sixtieth congress when it convenes in December and within less than twelve months they can pin a new star to the azure field of Old Glory.

The Morning Journal has already attempted more than once to impress upon the minds of the people of New Mexico the foregoing facts, and it takes pleasure in being able to substantiate its position upon this subject with the words of one who has learned in the school of experience what it means to carve out a new state and gain for it admission to the union.

Colonel Douglas has been for the last five or six years one of the most conspicuous characters in the struggle for statehood for Oklahoma, and his knowledge thus gained makes him an adviser of much value to the statehood forces of New Mexico.

The twenty-seventh annual fair has been a grand success, so far as concerns the amusement, the entertainment, and the general good time it furnished the many thousands who took it in, but financially it is much to be feared that the success has not been so great.

Only six states will have gubernatorial elections this fall, and of these only two—New Jersey and Massachusetts—hold out the promise of interesting and exciting campaigns. It is admitted that Maryland is "close," but the real issue in her campaign is the disfranchisement of the colored blacks, and it is not arousing any great amount of national interest.

THE SOUTH DISAPPOINTED. Once more the southern states are disappointed. Mr. Bonaparte's individualistic professor in the office of attorney general rendered an opinion under the old immigration act which put a stop to certain efforts of such states and private southern organizations in the way of diverting the silver streams in a measure to their section.

But as the present immigration act was then pending, the south consoling itself by the reflection that her freedom of action in that direction would be enlarged by the proposed legislation. Certain southern senators were doubtful and critical, but the leading supporters of the measure succeeded in reasserting their position. The new act, they were told, was "all right," and the south had nothing to fear so far as her plans to attract immigrants were concerned.

Now the attorney general, in a test case which is understood to have been purposely arranged by Louisiana, holds that it is illegal for any state to solicit immigration by promise of employment. Louisiana had not only promised employment to the Cuban

Every one of the pilots scheduled to enter the coming race is a veteran, and as it is to be a test of distance traveled, the keenest sort of interest will be taken in it, because it is expected that a new world's record will be made.

While this is nominally a sporting event, there is a great big element of business just under the surface. The nations of the world now recognize the fact that in the next great war the aerial warship, or balloon, that can be governed at will, is to play a prominent if not a controlling part, and for that reason they are watching all developments in the line of ballooning with much more than ordinary interest.

The newspapers of Great Britain are filled with rather sensational reports of the wonderful performances of a new style of millinery airship, over to that country about ten days ago. For three and a half hours, we are told, the Null Secundus was in the air executing the most interesting and graceful maneuvers above the region between Farnborough and the war office in London some thirty-two miles distant.

All times it traveled at less than a ten-mile-an-hour speed, and again at four times that, sometimes so low that the working of the mechanism could easily be observed from below, and again at one thousand three hundred feet height, and whether with or against the wind it sailed smoothly and rose and fell, it is said, with the grace and apparent ease of a huge bird. It was merely a test for stability, endurance and obedience to the steering mechanism. Otherwise, it is claimed, it could without doubt have remained up six hours longer without trouble.

With ballast aboard it was not found necessary to report to it in changing the airship's altitude. Altogether England is making progress in the dirigible balloon field of aeronautics, and this final achievement means much.

The National Magazine states upon the authority of the official records, that within the past year there has been a decided exodus from the government service at Washington. The old-time situation when bright minds turned toward "a government job," is now a thing of the past, and in some instances the government is forced to advertise to have positions filled which in former years were eagerly sought.

It is true that there is always a good list of eligibles on hand who have passed examinations, but many of these decline appointments because of openings in business life that assure them of better pay and more opportunity for advancement.

MUSIC FOR THE MILLION. M. Paul de Longpre, eminent as pianist and musician, is animated by a generous enthusiasm to plead the cause of a municipal band for Los Angeles. M. de Longpre writes as well as he paints. In a letter to the San Francisco Call he says:

"Don't you think it would be a good idea for the American press to take a hand in such an important matter and urge every big city in the United States to have a municipal band, and to have every year for two years, in some chosen city, a national musical festival, a national contest, with prizes given by the government, and at those festivals to have monster concerts given by 400 or 500 musicians under one leader?"

"What a revelation, what deep, artistic sensation it would give to the countless thousands who would travel hundreds of miles to hear such concerts! And how it would bring higher thoughts to the minds of the masses in America to have all the masterpieces of the greatest musical genius popularized, and become like good household friends to all! And what a happy hour of ideas it would bring to the minds of the American people, who today seem to be entirely out of the world's thought—the making of dollars!"

of the case in question, but had paid his passage money out of a state fund. Mr. Bonaparte declares that the payment of passage money "of itself" would not require the exclusion of the alien, but the superadded promise of employment was fatal.

Mr. Bonaparte doubtless felt constrained to follow the letter of the new act, says the Record-Herald, which provides for the exclusion of all persons who arrive here because of offers or promises of agreements, oral, written or printed, express or implied, to perform labor in this country, etc.

The act makes no distinction between promises of employment by states and promises by private corporations, bodies or individuals. Nor does it require that the promise shall have been definite even in the sense of mentioning a particular employer.

Mr. Bonaparte's construction of the act is not final, of course, and the case will probably be taken into the courts. Meantime, it would appear, the southern states must limit themselves to general advertisements of their resources and opportunities for employment. The fact that they are not required to desert from aid to aliens who, of their own motion, decided to go to the advertised section should, however, in a measure assuage their disappointment.

Speaking of the roar which some of the railroads have made about what they call "government interference," the New York Tribune says: "Laws are laws, and it is the duty of the president to enforce them, much as he may be importuned to ignore them on the ground that they hurt business. The country is prepared to discount such importunity and is satisfied that justice can be done without sacrificing the innocent. It approves the president's policy of punishment for wrongdoers and will not shrink from the predicted consequences— which it feels to be immensely exaggerated—of enforcing that policy. The fact that Wall Street itself showed no alarm at the declarations in the Roosevelt address suggests that it also has recovered from the obsession that the president's program spells ruin to any legitimate business."

A Goldfield correspondent of the Record-Herald says it "is one of the boasts of the leading citizens of Goldfield that more champagne is consumed here than in any other town of less than 100,000 inhabitants on God's green earth. A man who sits down to a meal in a Goldfield restaurant, and fails to order a bottle of imported wine is at once regarded with suspicion. The popping of corks never ceases and the rattling of bottles is everlastingly heard. In Goldfield the third that is quenched is only the predecessor of one which immediately follows. Nevertheless, drunkenness is by no means common!"

The proposal of one member of a board of education to consider the restoration of corporal punishment has excited a discussion all over the country and it is very plain that there is an overwhelming sentiment against the rod.

A dispatch from the renegade says "the guided shot two deer for the president's dinner" upon which the New York Herald remarks: "Seems to have taken his appetite with him."

The president would have to be other than himself, says the Bismarck Eagle, not to deduce from his measurement of William McKinley a moral and an inspiration for statesmen and for private citizens in the present condition of the United States. He did so with temperance, discrimination, self-reliance, and, on the whole, self-moderation. We think that the estimate of Mr. McKinley, apart from the prostration of the president following it, will go into the school text book of every English-speaking land and will take its place as a classic in the oratory of the world.

The professor was wrapped in peaceful slumber at the time, but was not long in waking up. He killed the horrible monster and anticipates no bad results from the bite.

KENTUCKIANS are well known connoisseurs of whiskey, but not all of them can describe bad booze in as picturesque and vigorous language as Representative Stanley of Kentucky.

When the Pure Food bill was up for discussion in the house, Representative Stanley took the floor with a glass in his hand and several bottles on a table nearby and proceeded to make for the instruction of the house some "blended" whiskey.

"Here is a quart of alcohol, 100 proof," said Mr. Stanley, holding up a little head out of a tin. "From it I get a little essence of bourbon whiskey, and there is no connoisseur in this house who can tell that hellish concoction from the genuine article; and that is what I denounce."

"I say that the coloring matter is not harmful," I say that the coloring is not harmful, but I say that the body, the stock, of the whiskey I made is pure alcohol, and when it gets into a man it is sure hell."

Which should be enough to make the ordinary house fighter go home humbly and sign the pledge in his wife's presence.

TIME COMMERCIAL CLUB SHOULD GET IN THE GAME

BUSINESS MAN WANTS MORE MEMBERS

Draws Parallel With Trinidad Chamber of Commerce, Now Waging a War for Three Hundred New Men.

"It seems to me it is time for the Commercial club of Albuquerque to begin a membership campaign," said a well known business man last night, who has just returned from a trip through northern New Mexico and Colorado. "I am informed that the membership of our club here, while large, is still much smaller than a few years ago. That there are many business men who have no connection with it and that especially the younger business men are not active members. Every town in New Mexico has an active commercial organization just now and they are all working and working hard. If Albuquerque expects to hold her own in securing new people and new enterprises she will have to get busy and keep busy and the Commercial club is the logical organization to take hold."

"Raton has a commercial club that is putting in some great legs for the town right along. All of the business men, young and old, are members and active members at that."

"Then there is the case of Trinidad, Col. Trinidad is not a larger town than Albuquerque. It is not more favorably located as a distributing center and in spite of its coal fields, it has not the advantages Albuquerque has for most commercial enterprises. Yet Trinidad is growing very rapidly, and we, who are active in the activity of her business organization, the Chamber of Commerce, just now this organization is engaged in a campaign which has for its object, three hundred new members. No less number will be considered and if Trinidad does this in her usual way she will get the three hundred in short order."

"I have no disposition to find fault with the Commercial club. It has done very great service to Albuquerque. In fact Albuquerque wouldn't have half the present importance but for this organization. Its officers have worked hard and it has always been supported with the legal-American spirit. That is all the more reason why it should become active now and bring into close connection with every business in Albuquerque. The get-together spirit cannot be too strong in this town. We need all we can get of it and the more we have the better we are going to go. If the Commercial club would just start out now on a still hunt for three hundred new members, I believe the three hundred could be had and I know of no other member of the club knows that it would be the greatest thing that could happen to Albuquerque."

ARIZONA WILL HAVE FOUR BASE BALL TOURNAMENTS

ALBUQUERQUE PLAYERS HEADED FOR THE CACTUS

Harmon Wynkoop, Formerly of Albuquerque, Has Blossomed Into a Baseball Magistrate; Here After Talent.

"Although the base ball season is ended in New Mexico it is just beginning in Arizona and we are going to have four big tournaments over there within the next sixty days, any one of which will rival your tournament in importance and extent of prizes offered," said Harmon Wynkoop of Tucson yesterday.

Wynkoop, who for some years lived in Albuquerque, has since he went to Arizona, developed into a base ball magistrate. He has managed the Tucson team and has umpired most of the games in the southern Arizona association during the past season. He came here to secure players for the Tucson team during the coming fall tournament there and left last night with a quartette of fast Albuquerque men, Tarr, Corhan, Francis, and Crable went back to Tucson with Wynkoop, where they will play not only in the Tucson meeting, but in meetings which are proposed for Douglas, Phoenix and Phoenix before the first of the year.

McHugh, Isbell and Diamond will probably go to Phoenix within a day or two to join the Phoenix team for this series of tournaments which will wind up with the tournament during the Arizona annual fair at Phoenix. In December, particularly southern Arizona, has taken hold of base ball in great form this year," said Wynkoop. "We have had some pretty good ball and we are going to have more of it. Tucson raised $2,500 for her base ball tournament, while large prizes have been raised by Douglas, Prescott and Phoenix. There will be at least four tournaments, and there may be more. I believe the time is coming very soon when a territorial league will be possible, and I can see no reason why Albuquerque should be excluded as a member. Arizona, however, and three or four of the larger Arizona towns could easily support first class base ball and I believe the next season will see something of the sort getting talked."

ALLEGED SLAYER OF MISTRESS AND HIS RIVAL

SALAZAR BOUND OVER FOR CRUEL MURDER

Prescott Stirred Up Over Alleged Double Killing at Copper Creek Camp During Week.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.) Prescott, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Mariano Salazar, a native of old Mexico, is in jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury and charged with a fatal double murder at Copper creek camp Tuesday night last. It is alleged that Salazar shot and killed his rival, A. M. Morino, and then shot and fatally wounded Catalina Chavez, Salazar's mistress.

The woman's left breast was penetrated by the bullet of Salazar and it passed clear through her body. She is expected to die momentarily. The following auto-mortem story of the shooting by the woman appears in the Journal-Miner:

Her version is that she, Morino and Salazar had been together all evening, drinking in front of a tent occupied by her and owned by Salazar. They had ten bottles of beer. Salazar drank five, and she drank three. Morino drank one bottle.

Morino, she stated, was sitting on a chair, near where she sat on some blankets, stretched on the ground. Salazar was also sitting near. About 10 o'clock Salazar arose and said, "Catalina, come in the tent and go to bed." She answered, "No, I am sick and will sleep out here tonight." Enraged at her refusal, he walked into the tent, and returned with his rifle. He raised the weapon and fired at Morino, who made only one step, and fell dead. She called to him not to shoot again, and without moving, he fired one shot at her, which took effect.

She fell over and feigned death, believing that he would fire again and end her life also. She then arose, and after then left the place for Copper creek mining camp, a mile distant. After he disappeared she arose and walked over a very precipitous mountain to the Black Mesa mining camp and reported the shooting.

Salazar walked to the Copper creek camp, where he informed the book-keeper that the Chavez woman had been shot. He said Morino had shot and killed her, and that he had taken the rifle from Morino, after a fierce struggle, and shot and killed him in self-defense. A posse of miners formed and went to the scene of the shooting on Alum creek, a tributary of Copper creek, about a mile distant. The miners found the dead body of Morino and could not find the woman. Soon afterwards several men arrived from the Black Mesa camp, where she had reported the shooting.

The stories of Catalina and Salazar did not agree and an investigation of the premises followed. Salazar's tracks were found near where he stood when he fired the shots, with two empty cartridges lying about eight or ten inches apart. No sign of a struggle could be found around the tent. Salazar was disarmed and arrested, pending the arrival of the officers.

The news of the crime spread rapidly to the surrounding camps, where Morino was very popular, and when Deputy Sheriff John Roberts arrived early Wednesday morning, threats of lynchings were being made.

YUMA MAGNATE IS UP AGAINST A RACY SUIT

Felix Mayhew Defendant in Action of Deserted Wife Who Wants a Big Slice of His Fortune as Consolation.

Yuma, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Felix Mayhew, mining magnate, owner of rich properties in Yuma and Pima counties, who recently a rich strike of $500 gold ore was reported, and who recently took unto himself a wife, is now facing a law suit, instituted by Mary Zebala, who claims her share of his property, estimated to be worth many thousands of dollars in actual and speculative value, and alimony while the suit is pending.

According to her complaint, which bristles with sensational allegations, she was intermarried to Mayhew at Casa Grande, about September 16, 1907, since which time she claims to have performed the duties of a wife toward the defendant, up until the time he deserted her for his present wife, No. 2, who was formerly Carmelita Romero, and whom he married August 24 of this year. Upon the outcome of the suit, No. 1 depends the validity of his marriage to wife No. 2, and as a result he is expected to bitterly contest the claims of the woman who asserts she is his common-law wife.

Mayhew recently disposed of a group of his claims to eastern parties for an immense price.

ADVERTISING FOR THE TERRITORY THAT PAYS

ARTICLES IN "THE EARTH" ATTRACTING ATTENTION

Scores of Letters Received By Bureau of Immigration as a Result of Story of Las Vegas Grant.

The Santa Fe railway, always on the alert to bring the resources of the great southwest before prospective settlers, has been conducting an advertising campaign in the interest of New Mexico and its limitless possibilities that is already showing far-reaching results. The industrial department of the railway company is co-operating with the New Mexico bureau of immigration in this advertising campaign, and as a result queries by the hundred are pouring in from all parts of the country, queries that show an eagerness for information regarding the territory, hitherto unsuspected.

In the current number of "The Earth," the splendid little magazine published by the Santa Fe, appears a profusely illustrated article on the Las Vegas land grant, by the secretary of the bureau of immigration, telling of the fertile soil, the irrigation development and the crops of this magnificent tract of land in northern New Mexico, a "small empire ready to support a population of fifty hundred thousand, and to which eager settlers and sturdy farmers are already beginning to flock by hundreds."

The two-page article is illustrated with a view of a big field of wheat, the result of dry farming on the grant, a view of the city of Las Vegas and a herd of fat cattle grazing on the rich pasturage of the tract. The article goes into the history of the grant, and tells of its development through many vicissitudes, until now it lies ready for the advent of the energetic eastern and middle western farmers who will make the best use of its vast possibilities and who are already coming as fast as they can come.

In summarizing the resources of the grant as set forth in including the wonderfully productive soil, an adequate rainfall, a superb climate, unlimited building material and a market ready as hand where the crops may be disposed of.

"The Earth" is circulated by the Santa Fe among tens of thousands of people, the class of people who want to know about the opportunities in the southwest, and who really are business men. Since the appearance of the article on the Las Vegas grant in the October issue, the bureau of immigration has already received sixty letters from homeseekers who want to know more about the land. This is the kind of advertising that means results, tangible results and quick results. It is the kind of advertising that pays.
