ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE ISSUES CONVENTION CALL

PRIMARIES TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY SEPT. 21, WITH CONVENTION MONDAY, 25th.

Largest Political Committee Meeting Ever Held in Bernalillo at Court House Yesterday; Representative Men From Every Precinct of County Present at Gathering Which Completes Preliminary Arrangements For Opening Regular Republican Campaign in Bernalillo County.

STINGING REBUKE TO THOSE WHO WOULD FOIST HUBBELLISM ON REPUBLICAN PARTY OF COUNTY

Chairman Gillenwater Makes Clear Convincing Statement of Attitude of Local Organization Toward the State Committee Which Recently Attempted to Force Sovereign Citizens to Recognize Pitiful Little Band of Bolters Who Read Themselves Out of Party at Behest of Fallen Boss and His Henchman the Judge; Attorney General Clancy Points Out Disaster Which Must Inevitably Result From Any Compromise With Hubbell-Mann Crowd; Ringing Republican Speech by B. Ruppe Feature of Gathering.

That the sentiment against Frank A. Hubbell or anything that smelt of Hubbellism is stronger than ever before in this county and that the republican voters of the county stand squarely behind the republican organization was shown in a most gratifying manner yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the county central and executive committees at the court house.

With practically every precinct in the county represented, and with an audience that taxed the capacity of the court house, the Republican Central Committee met yesterday afternoon and arranged for the primaries and convention to name delegates to the republican state convention at Las Vegas.

I was chairman; therefore all meetings that were held by me were regular and all proceedings had of such meetings were regular, and then they made the condition that four members of the committee should be arbitrarily fired.

Mr. Gillenwater's speech was frequently interrupted with vociferous applause and he was given an ovation at its conclusion. Following is the full text of the address: Speech of Chairman Gillenwater. Before proceeding to the discussion of the call for the primaries and county convention, I desire to make to this committee, and to the republicans gathered here, a statement regarding the efforts of a few men in this county to force a resolution to dictate to the republicans of Bernalillo county, and attempt to pass upon and decide questions that are purely for the republicans of the county to decide.

veray, Mr. Gillenwater was as anxious for harmony as any man could be and was willing to do anything within reason. He had signed the agreement in Santa Fe with the distinct understanding that his signature was subject to the ratification of the Bernalillo county central committee.

IF WARS ARE TO BE AVOIDED ARBITRATION IS ONLY WAY

President Taft Vigorously Defends His Treaties With Great Britain and France in Speech at Erie, Pa.

A HUNDRED THOUSAND LISTEN TO HIS ADDRESS

Nation's Chief - Delivers Most Important Utterance Thus Far of Present Journey; Purposely Ignores Reciprocity.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Erie, Pa., Sept. 16.—President Taft ended the first of his forty-six days of speech-making with an address in the auditorium here tonight.

The president said he had determined that his average during this trip would be four and a half speeches a day, so he did not start out at top speed.

Mr. Taft reserved his important utterance of the day for tonight's speech, when he outlined a plan by which he hopes to wipe out objections in the United States senate to the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France.

These treaties have been held up and threatened with defeat, largely because some senators have contended that the proposed joint high commission which would determine the validity of the treaties should be sent to arbitration here actually before the senate of its function of passing upon the question.

The president tonight suggested as a compromise that the American members of such joint commission should be confirmed by the senate. He said he has no reason why they should not be, if congress, or the senate thought it dangerous to trust the president only to make appointments.

Mr. Taft indicated that he would go further than this and be willing to wipe out the joint high commission entirely if need be, and leave the decision as to whether a question is arbitrable to a board of arbitration. He would also be willing to have that board pass not only upon the merits of the question, but upon the jurisdiction.

"Either we are in favor of arbitration of issues which are likely to lead to war, or we are not," he explained. "If we are in favor of war as the only means of settling questions of importance between countries then let us recognize it as a principle, and decline all arbitration; but if we are really in favor of arbitration as a means of avoiding war, then why should we not be willing to submit to impartial men, the decision upon a question rather than to have to leave it to the result of a bloody battle, in which, with a fair cause, we may be beaten; or with an unjust cause we may conquer."

The president did not plunge directly into a defense of his administration, as some of his hearers had expected. One of the most significant things he said was at the inception with the New York state fair commissioners at Syracuse, when he explained why he had not discussed reciprocity in his outdoor address to several thousand city folks and farmers.

"I am not going to speak about reciprocity," he said, "until after the matter is settled in Canada. We have done our part and we are waiting and it is just as well for us to keep quiet."

At the state fair grounds in Syracuse the president found himself in the midst of one of the greatest crowds ever gathered there and estimated by some as being in the neighborhood of a hundred thousand.

PAYS PARENTS VISIT IN AN AEROPLANE

Havre De Grace, Md., Sept. 16.—Lieutenant John Rodgers, U. S. N., instructor of aviator at Annapolis, Md., is the first man in this country to pay his parents a visit by aeroplane. He left College Park at 1:15 p. m., this afternoon after descending at the Pimlico race track near Baltimore to renew his supply of gasoline.

Still Under the Black Flag

Don Francisco, political pirate, is still sailing under the old ensign. He has renegated the hull and changed the rigging, but the shark and cross-bones are still flying from the mast-head.

"What the Hubbells did in the past is not my affair," says Francisco. "This effort to plead the statute of limitations is a rather pitiful one."

Don Francisco first got a grip on the voters in this county when he was elected to the legislature on a democratic-republican fusion ticket.

In 1904, with the deliberate purpose of throwing this county to the democratic candidate for delegate, Don Francisco organized a ramp rascally largely composed of democrats.

In 1904, with the deliberate purpose of throwing this county to the democratic candidate for delegate, Don Francisco organized a ramp rascally largely composed of democrats.

He is now howling through his vent organ that he is the "regular" republican party.

PREMIER STOLYPIN MAKING FIGHT FOR LIFE

Unless Unexpected Complications Set In, Russian Statesman Will Survive Wounds Inflicted By Cowardly Assassin.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Kiev, Sept. 16.—Premier Stolypin is progressing toward recovery. The attending physicians found his condition satisfactory today and tonight's bulletin announced that no particular change had occurred.

The court martial of Dmitry Bogroff, who shot the premier, will take place September 29. Colonel Kullibsko, chief of the secret police in Kiev, who is responsible for Bogroff's presence in the theater, is prostrated, as Bogroff enjoyed his confidence.

At the inquiry Bogroff manifested much independence and unconcern. He said that when he approached Stolypin the premier was completely unguarded. He drew a revolver from his pocket, covering it with his program.

When Count Hotocky, who was close to Stolypin, attempted to identify Bogroff, the latter blurted out: "Yes, I shot him."

The prisoner's wounds include a stab cut on the head. Two teeth were knocked out and his body is a mass of bruises.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 16.—There will be no court session of the July 22 statewide prohibition election in Texas, as which the anti-prohibitionists won. A recommendation to this effect by the statewide prohibition sub-committee was adopted today by the whole committee in session here today.

SPEEDING AUTO DASHES INTO THROG; 9 KILLED

Horrifying Accident Occurs at New York State Fair at Syracuse During a Fifty-Mile Race.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Nine persons were killed and fourteen injured, some of them seriously, as the result of an accident during the closing miles of a fifty-mile automobile race at the state fair this afternoon when a Knox racing car, driven by Leo Oldfield, leaped from the track, crashed through the fence surrounding it and plunged into the throngs that lined the side of the speedway.

Six of the nine people were killed and the three others were so badly injured that they died on the way to the hospital.

The most seriously injured: FRED J. ARNOLD, Syracuse, N. Y.; CHARLES BALLANTIN, Syracuse, N. Y.; JOHN CORN, Alexandria, N. Y.; FAY FUNK, of Louisville, Ky.

The list of dead may be increased, it is believed, as several are so severely hurt that they cannot live.

The "honored guest of the state fair today was President Taft. It was but a short time since he left the grounds that the tragedy occurred.

Just before he left, President Taft took a short ride in an automobile on the track which was sprinkling to keep down the dust for the president and his party.

This wetting was such as to cause the drivers who were to compete in the fifty-mile event to vigorously protest.

When the race was called Ralph D. Palma and Bob Burman, who had been driving in previous races, refused to go on because of the condition of the track, saying the water had made it too dangerous to take chances.

The race was called and De Palma and Burman were both entrants, with Oldfield and six others.

The accident happened in the forty-third mile. De Palma was leading by a lap, with Oldfield trailing him as they entered the first quarter of that mile.

NEW WESTMINSTER BANK ROBBERS VANISH

Detectives Admit Yeggmen Who Made $315,000 Haul, Have Succeeded in Making Their Escape for Present.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 16.—The men who stole $315,000 from the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal have vanished as completely as though the earth had swallowed them. Their ingenuity in cracking the bank vault has been equalled by their skill in disappearing.

A ten dollar bill deposited in one of the Vancouver banks today was supposed to be of those stolen. But the cashier who made the discovery was over-hasty and closer examination of the figure showed that the note was not from the loot.

The bank officers, though aided by a host of detectives, have admitted that they are unable to locate the robbers.

Edward Whimper Dead. Chairman, Wm. Fricker, Sept. 16.—Edward Whimper, artist, author and traveler, died here today, aged 73 years. Mr. Whimper was a noted mountain climber and was a medalist of the royal geographical society.

17,000 Miners May Strike. De Moines, Ia., Sept. 16.—Seventeen thousand union coal miners may go on a strike next week, following the refusal of the Iowa coal operators to arbitrate the differences between the miners and the operators at the Oskaloosa mine.

Railway Clerks Strike. Cairo, Ill., Sept. 16.—Fifty-four men and one woman employed by the Illinois Central railroad as clerks at Mounds, went on a strike this afternoon and business was moved with difficulty.

Forest Fires Rage in Dakota Timberland

Lead, S. D., Sept. 16.—Forest fires, which broke out in the timber country surrounding Lead, menaced this town this afternoon. A high wind fanned the flames beyond the control of the score of volunteers. The Homestake Mining company brought several hundred men from the mine and pressed them into service. Tonight the fire is still burning but Lead is believed to be safe.

Spices and Shocks of Newport Gossipy Facts of the Smart Spelldom--Scandal: Don't Read!

In one of his sprightliest works called "What the Public Wants," that little prince of modern writers, Arnold Bennett, makes Sir Charles Worgan, the successful but shoddy modern journalist, say that what the Sunday public wants is something else than "a moral lesson."

"That the ministers are considering," "These gentlemen--frankly protesting against trying to put on brakes--seem to take a rather hopeless view of their efforts..."

"Talking about talks in the spotlight, the minister that officiated at the late Mrs. Parnassus' is 'in bad' and to make it."

"Yes, John Jacob, and the young thing with a name that sounds like a millionaire, she is the full moon and a good for their pictures in all the leading American papers..."

"On top of these startling happenings came a sumptuous and crazy entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thomas with a music which made the ministers repudiate the cheerful innovations with unanimity..."

A BODY BLOW. Blasted again are the fond hopes of Francisco Hubbell, political huckster, and his few deluded and fatuous toadies.

The meeting of the central and executive committees of the party yesterday at the court house was a blow in the solar plexus for the assessment cinch here, his puppet, Judge Mann, and the raged fan-dog of the court.

This meeting showed convincingly that the voters in this county stand with regard to the ambitions of the ex-hon.

His latest effort to ruin republican prospects in this county and to disrupt the organization is deemed to be a more unimpressive failure than ever before.

The king of Bernadillo counts is disposed; his crown has been hammered to a pulp and his scepter smashed to smithereens.

THE MIND AND THE BODY. Three full-grown, able-bodied men have been kept in bed for periods ranging from six to ten years by their mother's repeated assurances that they all had heavy disease.

What is more, she still insists they are all about to die with heart disease, in the face of the unanimous opinion of physicians that they are as healthy as anybody and that all they need is to get out and take a little exercise.

The dispatch states that the physicians, as well as everybody else in the neighborhood are astonished that the mother could have convinced the three that they were suffering from the disease they overlook the extremely favorable conditions under which she was working.

What more natural than that the three sons, when this contemplated, for instance, the prospect of ten or twelve miles of fiddle to be pulled, should have been inclined to quit at once?

And when the time for the spring plowing and planting arrived, how very easy it must have been to their earlier years to persuade them that an awful malady kept them from rushing to the field and rendered it necessary for them to sit out on the front porch and smoke coronas pipes and read Bradlee's dime library.

For the first time in nearly half a century the fifteenth of September passed in Mexico with no crisis of Viva Diaz. To the venerable ex-president, trembling at the prospect of the inevitable revolution, this must add the final touch of melancholy.

LOSING NO TIME.

The presence of E. J. Vandegriff, editor of "The East" in this city and his action in New Mexico is significant of the fact that the Santa Fe Railroad company is losing no time in getting the new state before the public.

Mr. Vandegriff is gathering material from all over New Mexico for a brand new folder on the new state and particularly such parts of it as are generated by the Santa Fe. Incidentally Mr. Vandegriff is going to give us a series of special articles in "The East".

Local Merchant Has "Inning," He's Meeting Mail Order House

By James Keefe, in Chicago Tribune.

At last that bugaboo of the local merchant everywhere, the mail order house, is meeting head-on competition from the home tradesman—and with mail order methods of that.

Just as the Japanese loved the idea of Russia by using the white man's implements of warfare, so the small town storekeeper who has felt himself down-trodden by the postal magnates of the big centers, has adopted the tactics of his enemy and already is beginning to "cut in."

Catalogues, Paris fashion posters, "buy up" lists and price lists—all the pet weapons of the big mail order house in which they commenced rural trade, have been seized by merchants to keep the number of the countryside at bay.

Time Ripe for Action. It is high time that such action was taken in behalf of the country merchant, said a Chicago sales manager. "That the mail order houses have sapped the business of the local merchant right and left can be shown by figures."

Material Excavated Being Used For Coffor Dams; 200 Feet of Bed Rock in River Must Be Cleared Off.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Elephant Butte, N. M., Sept. 15.—During the past week the work here has progressed without any incidents of extraordinary importance, but yet good results have been obtained.

The track for the lower coffer dam has been built nearly half way across the river but not very much dumping has been done from it. At the upper coffer dam a great deal of work has been done and the work here is being made wide and solid.

The town of Elephant Butte has recently had its boundaries extended and water pipes laid in accordance with the plan. There were about 225 lots each 20 feet wide and these were not enough and a great many had to place their tents elsewhere and were not near the water supply.

Money has been raised and in the near future a Catholic chapel will be built here. In the tennis tournament the score is 6 to 6. The contest this month is closer than any other and considerable interest is manifest.

An easy path for pedestrians is being made from the end of the Spring Canyon bridge to the blacksmith shop. The space between the tracks is being filled with earth and gravel. This will be much better than ballast for the hundreds of people who traverse it each day.

A bill of lumber which is to be used in constructing the towers which will support the three cables, has recently been made out. This bill calls for nearly 180,000 feet of lumber and bids will soon be sent out for it.

Elephant Butte is to have a lecture course. It was through the kindly influence of the officials that this was secured for the entertainment of the people of camp. The first of the five numbers of the course will be a lecture by Leola Edger, Fairmount on the 5th of October.

THE BATTLECRY OF BOODLE. I call upon all republicans who wish to see republican policies in government prevail, to rally round the flag and join us in this organizing campaign to drive the "bushwhackers" out into the open.

Oh, we'll rally round the har! boy, we'll rally round the har! boy, we'll rally round the har! boy, we'll rally round the har! boy.

Oh, the boss gasoline cart is rounding up the votes. The Perfessor makes a very handy chauffeur. While Francisco is a herding all the sheep from out the goats.

The Assessment 'Cinch' forever! Hurrah, boys, hurrah! Tell with the party. And the foolish quorum law.

There's money being washed on the bridges and the roads. While the common government tries to run the country.

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever. D. R. T. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifier.

When the literature which challenges the right of the so-called candidates for honors in this first state campaign for longer obtain, the Morning Journal, the champion of the people's rights, and the representative of the sentiment of the good people of the new state in their constitutional rights will endeavor to be blessed by numerous generations yet to be.

This those of small stature had the advantage over those higher up in the world. The daughters of Rebekah met Tuesday night to make preliminary preparation for celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the order. The date of the proposed social event will be next Wednesday, September 20. The significance of the scripture language, "When evening came he was alone," will be applied to the several periods of life and some of the lessons brought home. Mr. Maharam has recently returned from an extended visit to the eastern markets, spending nearly six weeks in New York city. While there he visited the greatest fashion centers of the metropolis and bought lavishly of the newest and best that the great market had to offer. These goods are now arriving daily and are being put on display as soon as they can be unpacked. Everything bears the air of freshness and style, and is stamped with the approval of the fashion authorities of the east. The Maharam store gives credit, too, where credit is desired, and at an advance over regular prices. One dollar a week at this store will clothe the whole family. If you have not yet made your purchase of fall and winter wearing apparel, don't fail to call here. Mr. Maharam says: "What we sell here is worth seeing. Let us prove it." The new goods have not all arrived, but it is expected that everything will be on display by September 1st, when an opening will be held which will be a treat to all lovers of fashion.

The prominence of both of these executives lends especial distinction to this phase of the gathering. THEY SLEPT TEN DAYS AND NIGHTS

A curious incident which happened in a southern tier town of the state has just come to light. A family consisting of the mother and two children, were missed by the neighbors for several days. An investigation was started by the townfolks. The doors were found securely locked, and admission to the house was gained by a rear window. All three members of the little family were found sleeping soundly, but could not be awakened. The local physician was called, who succeeded in arousing them. He declared that he could give no explanation for the long sleep excepting the fact that they had brought a new bed and mattress from J. M. Soltie, which they had found so comfortable and restful that they continued to sleep.

MANY CARS WILL HIT SUNSET TRAIL OCTOBER 2

Raymond-Whitcomb Tour Piloted by Westgard First Personally Conducted Auto Expedition.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] New York, Sept. 15.—In supplying touring information, the surprise of the year in the Touring Information Board of the American Automobile Association has been the exceptional demand for transcontinental material. On a conservative estimate, there has been not less than one party a day crossing the continent since early in June. Possibly the most noted cross-country party was that of William M. Garland of the Automobile Club of southern California, who drove from his home in Los Angeles to Moosehead Lake, Maine, in 150 running days.

In order to meet the increasing demands in this direction, A. L. Westgard, the touring expert and only motorist who has crossed the continent twice within the year, has been engaged in making a strip map that contains all the details from Chicago to Los Angeles. These maps show the detail going through towns, and give all information essential for making the trip with most comfort and safety. The plan of small-scale maps is being readily developed under the supervision of Chairman Howard Longstreth of the Touring Information Board, and is being worked out by Robert Bruce, the touring bureau's manager. Seven of these maps have already been issued—New York state, New Jersey, New England, Lower New England, Maritime Provinces, New York-Chicago-Mississippi River line, and transcontinental routes with Long Island, routes between north and south, and Virginia now under way.

Amado Chavez, Mrs. Bernard Rodey, On October 2 the Raymond and Whitcomb "Trail to Sunset" tour will be the first "personally conducted" transcontinental automobile tour. Sufficient bookings have already been received to guarantee the start of a goodly number of cars, and the trip will undoubtedly be one of country-wide interest.

High-Handed Practice of Searching For Gun Without Evidence Gets Setback in Strenuous Roswell.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Roswell, N. M., Sept. 15.—Patton, N. M., Brown was tried before Justice E. D. Bell yesterday afternoon, found guilty and fined $25 and costs on a charge of assault for searching Morgan Bellah for a gun without cause. Bellah is an employee of the Block ranch. Before the trial Justice Bell overruled a motion for a change of venue in which Brown stated that Bell would not give him justice. Bell was given for an appeal to the district court.

Through Train Service. Through train service from Kansas City to Fort Worth through the Pecos valley of both New Mexico and Texas, is announced to begin early in November. The Santa Fe railroad officials giving out the information unofficially today. At present the train from Kansas City starts and stops at Carlsbad, where a whole night is wasted by people making the through trip. It is said the change is being urged by the Wells-Fargo Express company, which loses the same amount of time at Carlsbad in its daily shipments.

Clovis Man Withdraws. Great surprise was created here when it became known last night that Harry L. Patton of Clovis had withdrawn from the race for the democratic nomination for judge of the Pecos valley district. In the race now on only George R. Reese, of Pordales, and John T. McClure of Roswell. The time limit for filing candidates names in the democratic primary expired last night. The ticket contains thirty-three names.

CASABA MELONS ARE SUCCESSFULLY RAISED IN MIMBRES VALLEY

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Deming, N. M., Sept. 15.—Paul J. Case, who has a homestead at Luxor, four miles east of Deming, has opened an acre planted to casaba melons. He will not get more than three thousand of these melons this fall from this small space of ground. These melons will average about fifteen pounds each in weight. This melon is an importation from Turkey. About thirty years ago they began to raise them in southern California and they are grown successfully there, the Mimbres valley being the only other place in the southwest where this melon has successfully attained a marketable size. They are picked as soon as the fruit appears and can be kept in storage for market as late as Christmas. The most is of a yellowish color, being from two to four inches thick. At the present market price the melons raise from this half acre of ground would bring between $2.00 and $3.50.

E. J. Swartz from the upper Mimbres valley, about forty miles north of Deming, has brought in a wagon load of fine marketable apples.

LOOKS FOR RAPID PROGRESS ON THE WATERWAYS

Representative From Tennessee, Earnest Advocate of River and Harbor Improvements, Sanguine Over Future.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—I confidently expect that the next ten years will witness a degree of progress in waterway improvements in this country which will contribute enormously to its prosperity," said Representative Richard W. Austin, of Tennessee. Mr. Austin is a member from the second Tennessee district, which always elects republicans, but he stands high among his people of both parties as a public spirited, progressive citizen. Heard near the Muscle Shoals of the Tennessee river, in Alabama, and a long resident of Knoxville, on the upper Tennessee, he has always been an ardent advocate of river and harbor improvements and has been a constant attendant upon conventions devoted to the subject.

"I have my sanguine look ahead," added Mr. Austin, "upon the plainly apparent national awakening to the importance of this public work which has gone forward within the last few years. I recall that during the time when the railway rate question was at the height of its agitation in congress, Alabama's great American statesman, Senator John T. Morgan declared that to his mind the most important problem was in the adequate improvement and care for navigation of our unsurpassed system of waterways. With that idea I fully agree. The most poorly informed man who lives on the bank of a river that can float a freight-carrying boat, who is anywhere near a railroad, knows that it is the river that gives him a cheaper freight rate than his brother who happens to live in a western town on a railroad, but remote from a navigable river. He has come to know that railroad regulation has not yet solved the problem to the satisfaction of his brother, and if the latter be a man of discerning intelligence he will know that he will be somewhat at the mercy of the railroad if it operates without competition. Action for complete regulation of the railroads, begun effectively during the Roosevelt administration, will continue, and ought to continue, stopping only at a live-and-let-live policy and acceding everything that savors of competition. That will go on, and we might as well realize it. We have yet to learn what is fair between the carrier as a public servant and the public. It is my mind it would be best for the railroads, as well as for business, peace and stability, that the government should go ahead pursuing a liberal policy of improvements to the end of completing a nation-wide, harmonious water-way system, and that by annual improvements. We, in some facilities do not always agree with the army engineers in charge of projects, but they are not indispensable guides, and in the board of engineers for rivers and harbors we have a high-class court of last resort, to which we can appeal when our business people see a fault to find in the report and recommendation or lack of recommendation by the local engineer.

"Another, and a very important question incidental to water-way improvement which, the ill-considered debate of the extra session developed when the bill for the improvement of the Black Warrior river in Alabama, was pending is a satisfactory solution of the water-power problem. It would be a shameful discredit to our practical statesmanship if we should have to confess that we never could utilize our water-powers because the constitution inhibited the government from making sale of water-power. The government in its public works on the rivers has been persuaded to construct dams and for something else besides purposes of navigation, as witness what has been done in the irrigation of arid lands in the west, while in the reclamation service it has gone into business, just as would a private party of a corporation securing a fund from the proceeds of the sales of public lands. I am not of that class who think at any time lightly or irreverently of the constitution of the United States, but I am one of those who believe in the wise comment of its greatest interpreter, John Marshall when he said of it, in a noted opinion—'It is a creature that only its great outlines should be marked, and its important objects designated. It was intended to endure for ages to come, and to be adapted to the various crises in human affairs. If there

Curtains and Curtain Fabrics

In accordance with our custom in this section we will inaugurate Monday morning an advance display of Curtains, Curtain Fabrics and Draperies—our assortment in this department has been restocked and many exclusive things are being shown.

The ever increasing demand for yard materials induced us early in the season to secure unusually large stocks of such popular materials as Etamines, Scrims, Fancy Nets, Madras and Grenadines, all of which are now on our shelves and display tables for inspection and comparison.

Careful, attentive merchandising makes it possible for us to offer these goods at a substantial saving to the purchaser.

Our exhibits this week throughout our entire shop will be of unusual interest—you will find our merchandise correct in every detail.

REPUBLICAN CLUB RALLY DISTINCT SUCCESS

LOCAL SPEAKERS TAKE UP CAMPAIGN ISSUES

Col. Johnson, Gov. Stover, Julius Staab and Francis E. Wood Address Goodly Gathering at Armory Hall.

While the attendance was not fully up to the expectations the mass meeting of the Bernillo County Republican Club at the Armory last night was a success from every standpoint. Disappointed because of the non-arrival of Mr. Ralph C. Ellis, who at the last moment found himself unable to come. Being the committee in charge was forced to rely on local speakers to supply the oratory for the occasion. There was no lack of oratory, however, and Colonel Edward Johnson and Messrs. E. S. Stover, Julius Staab and Francis E. Wood all acquitted themselves creditably and altogether the evening was a profitable one for those who attended. President A. A. Sedillo presided and introduced each speaker with a happy remark which frequently brought applause from the audience. Colonel Johnson was the first speaker. Colonel Johnson has been a republican since the days of Lincoln and his narrative of the early struggles and the history of the party was heard with interest by every one in the audience. The next speaker was Governor Stover, who served with credit as a delegate in the convention which framed the constitution of New Mexico. Like Colonel Johnson, Mr. Stover has been a republican since the birth of the party, away back in the '50s and his recital of the stirring events of early days, and later days, for Mr. Stover has never ceased to be active in public affairs, many a deep impression on his hearers. Mr. Stover was followed by Attorney Julius Staab, a republican of the younger school. Mr. Staab has the real gift of oratory and had no difficulty in holding the audience. He opened his address with a tribute to President Taft as a real progressive, and cited the accomplishments of the present administration along progressive lines in support of his statement. No new remedies are needed for present day evils, declared Mr. Staab, all that is necessary being that the people should take into their own hands the means now available and elect men who will support the government when they walk up to flag that they have been betrayed into the hands of some selfish tyrant. He urged upon his hearers the necessity of using the greatest care in the selection of their state officers and pleaded for the most extreme caution in choosing the men who shall take their places as district judges and members of the supreme court of the new state. Francis E. Wood was the last speaker of the evening. Mr. Wood, who could not boast that he had been long in New Mexico nor long in the ranks of the republican party, was none the less enthusiastically in support of the party principles and in his advocacy of the best possible men to constitute the officials, legislators and judges of the new state. He was somewhat caustic in his criticism of certain newspapers and newspaper men and severely arraigned the Hearst papers and the man who owns them. That Mr. Hearst should have the presumption to aspire to the presidency of the United States, Mr. Wood regarded as little less than a mockery. The New Mexico democracy, and especially those of its leaders who at the Silver City convention, sent a delegation to St. Louis instructed for Hearst, came in for a sharp rebuke from the speaker. Taking up newspapers and newspaper men again, Mr. Wood cautioned his hearers against believing all they read in the papers. At this point Frank Hubbard, who has had some experience in and with newspapers, objected softly, but submitted indignantly at the sound of his own voice. Mr. Wood made a vigorous defense of the wool tariff which he held to be the backbone of the prosperity of the people of New Mexico. He attacked President Taft for his veto of the bill reducing the tariff on this commodity and painted a gloomy picture of the disaster that would follow democratic success and the consequent abolition of the protection now enjoyed by the sheep raisers here. He urged upon his hearers the importance of attending the primaries and seeing to it that only good men were allowed to represent the people in the state and county conventions. Like Mr. Staab, Mr. Wood dwelt on the importance of the judiciary. He had heard of some of the judges who had held office in this county during the Hearst regime and hoped and trusted that the election of such judges would never be possible under the state government. Judges, said Mr. Wood, should be men of unquestioned integrity, not men trained in the law, but men of business ability and capable of not only impartially but intelligently deciding every question that came before them. The new rule book furnished excellent music during the evening and altogether, despite the disappointment caused by the non-appearance of Mr. Ellis, the success of the meeting justified in the club in resolving to have another in the near future. It is believed that these meetings shall be a feature of the campaign and after the state convention they will be held at short intervals and possibly nightly as the day of election grows near.

Popular Learnard and Lindemann Music Company Doing Excellent Business, Although Season Has Hardly Begun.

Learnard and Lindemann, the well-known music dealers of Gold avenue, have just received a large new stock of music, comprising all the latest popular songs, and the hits of the comic operas during the summer in the big eastern centers. They have also largely increased their supply of talking machines as well as obtaining some of the newest pattern Victrolas. The piano business is also keeping up better than their most sanguine expectations had led them to hope for, the prospect for the coming fall and winter season being the best that the house has ever faced. Said Mr. George P. Learnard last night: "We are already doing a record-breaking business. It is often said that coming events cast their shadows before, and if the business we are now doing is a shadow of the business we will do this winter, I can say that it will be phenomenal. We have never in this history of the house done as much business at this time of the year as we are now doing. Our new stock will keep coming in so that there will be no danger of exhausting our supply, but if we hadn't ordered more than we have done heretofore, we would be left before the fall is gone, and the winter upon us, without articles to supply our usual demands. Take it all in all, our prospects were never brighter."
