PRESIDENT WILSON AND MRS. GALT PLIGHT THEIR TROTH IN PRESENCE OF FRIENDS AND RELATIVES

SIMPLICITY IS CHIEF FEATURE OF BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING AT RESIDENCE OF THE BRIDE

Ring Ceremony of Episcopal Church Is Used, Presbyterian Minister Assisting in Performance of Marriage Rites; Arrangement of Rooms Makes Scene One Long to Be Remembered by Those Present; Bride Given Away by Her Mother; New First Lady Cuts Wedding Cake Without Formality; Gift of Groom a Magnificent Diamond Brooch; Couple Leaves for Hot Springs, Va., for Short Honeymoon Lasting Over Holidays.

Washington, Dec. 18.—President Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt were married here at 1:30 o'clock tonight, with a simple ceremony spoken in the bride's home in the presence of less than thirty guests, virtually all of whom were relatives. They left soon afterward for a two weeks' honeymoon in Hot Springs, Va.

The president dined as usual at the White House at 7 o'clock with his daughters and afterward drove to the executive mansion. A cold drizzle which swept the city all day cleared off at sunset and the wedding was cool and pleasant. Because the wedding arrangements and the hour of the ceremony had been kept a close secret there were few on the streets about the White House, but near the bride's home the crowd was held back by police lines spread during the afternoon.

Everything was in readiness for the ceremony when the president arrived and it proceeded without music. Neither the president nor Mrs. Galt had any attendants and there were no ushers or flower girls. Neither the army, the navy, nor the diplomatic corps was represented and the occasion was essentially what both of the couple had wished it to be—a home wedding.

Decorations of Rooms. On the first floor of the bride's home, in two communicating rooms, a wedding banquet had been arranged with a background of ferns and orchids and the center of the canopy was flanked by the white chrysanthemum ferns which extended from the floor to the ceiling overhead there was a canopy of green in the form of a shell lined with pink feather. In the background and at the center was placed a large mirror framed with orchid and reflecting the scene. Above the mirror was a spray of orchids across a background of ferns and the center of the canopy were fringed with the white chrysanthemum ferns which extended from the floor to the ceiling overhead there was a canopy of green in the form of a shell lined with pink feather.

ALL DEFENDANTS IN CONSPIRACY CASE FREED BY JURY'S VERDICT

Charge Against State Officials and Prominent Citizens Falls to Ground When Submitted to Spanish-Americans.

ARGUMENTS TAKE UP MORNING SESSION Last Chapter Is Written in Sensational Incident of Escape of Noted Mexican General From Local Jail.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—A jury tonight returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of Manuel P. Villar, district attorney, Trinidad C. de Bana, state game warden, and two others, charged with conspiracy to liberate from prison General Jose Ybar Salazar, a Mexican federal soldier.

Six persons were defendants, who the trial was ordered about a week ago, in federal district court, Monday, and in a recent trial here acquitted of the charge against him. The jury in the present case, composed of Spanish-Americans, retired for deliberation about 1 o'clock and reached a verdict five hours later. The defense pleaded an alibi for all the defendants.

The Morning Session. The attention of attention in the case was completed at the night session held Friday night, and when court convened this morning the arguments of counsel were begun.

District Attorney Summers Barker opened for the government and argued forcibly that all the essential contents of the presentation had been borne out by the evidence introduced. He disposed of the alibi evidence of the defendants by stating that it was not necessary for them actually to have been on the scene at the time of the escape in order to be guilty of conspiracy.

Germany Repudiates All Lawless Activities of Agents in America

New York, Dec. 18.—The New York Times has received the following authorized statement by wireless from Berlin: "The German government naturally has never knowingly accepted the support of any person, group or persons, society or organization seeking to promote the cause of Germany in the United States by illegal acts, by means of violence, by contravention of law or by any means whatever that could offend the American people in the pride of their own authority."

"If it should be alleged that improper acts have been committed by representatives of the German government, they could be easily dealt with. To any complaints upon proof as may be submitted by the American government suitable response will be duly made. Communication Difficult. "As is well known, the means of communication between Germany and the United States are very unsatisfactory. It is practically impossible for the German government to keep itself in touch with American sentiment; it has often to depend upon the foreign press for information concerning American affairs. The message of President Wilson to congress in which the activities of German sympathizers in the United States were discussed will serve as an illustration. There was received in Germany a brief summary of those passages which referred to plots and conspiracies against peace and order in the United States and the effect produced thereby upon sentiment in Germany was probably more painful than the American government knew. A different impression thereby might have been produced by the full text of the message, but unfortunately that would not be available in Germany until the American newspapers arrived by mail, a fortnight or three

VILLA GIVES UP FIGHT AGAINST CARRANZA; FLEES TOWARD BORDER

Advice of Wife and Pressure by Generals at Chihuahua Cause Decision Which May End War in Mexico.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS BROUGHT TO EL PASO Spectacular Career of Almost Life-long Baudit Is Told First Time Authoritatively; Name Originally Arango.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 18.—A minor president of his general's, the weight of his defeat in Sonora, and the counsel of his wife, General Francisco Villa is on his way to the border, and the United States, his title of commander-in-chief removed and his firm determination to continue fighting the Carranza government of Carranza until death, broken once and for all.

Villa Remarques Wife. Previous to renouncing his command General Villa bethrothed to his wife, and was united to her in a civil marriage. This had been married by a church ceremony several years ago at San Andres, Chihuahua, but the civil marriage was required by Mexican law to make the tie legal.

Revolution Not Ended. While the retirement of Villa was upon pressure from his generals, assembled in council of war in the capital, it is not admitted that the revolution is ended. Indeed, it is asserted that the revolution will require a new impetus from the absence of Villa and the institution of a leader who is said to be Governor Acila of Chihuahua state.

Villas Move to El Paso. The relinquishment of command by Villa has been rumored at the border for several weeks, but the first indications came today in the removal of the household goods of General Villa to El Paso, following the sudden appearance of Mrs. Villa at the border, from Chihuahua, late last night. The goods of Colonel Hipolito Villa, financial agent of the Carranza government at Juarez, were next reported coming across the international bridge, later the wives of the brothers, reached El Paso and it was said Colonel Hipolito Villa was expected to arrive shortly, and that General Villa would reach the border tonight or tomorrow morning.

Confusion in Juarez. An exodus of Villa chieftains' families across the border during the afternoon, and were given in Juarez for officers take care of themselves," resulted in a scattering of officers in bewildered confusion. A number accompanied the train going south with supplies to the army and they were followed by some of their men. Shortly afterward rifles and cartridges were loaded into cars going to Chihuahua City.

Villa's Real Name Arango. General Francisco Villa was born Donato Arango, in Durango state, according to those who claimed to have known him as a boy. There he worked about the surreals of ranches, but on severely on order of the wife of a rancher, he took to the hills and became a bandit at the age of 14.

General, to the Poor. It was Provisional Governor Abraham Gonzalez, of Chihuahua, who elected Villa, a bandit in western Chihuahua, in the Madero revolution. When Francisco Madero took the field Villa sent a messenger to Gonzalez saying he wished to join the movement for the liberation of the Mexican people, the overthrow of the rich and the uplifting of the poor. Villa at that time, although a bandit, was known widely for his generosity to the poor. Gonzalez accompanied Villa's messenger to Las Alamos, western Chihuahua, and was taken on a trail through the mountains, blindfolded, to a hut in a canyon where by a fourth day, he met the aged chief. Villa asked only ransom for his release as a bandit, as pay for enlisting with his band of about fifty men. Gonzalez promised that if his soldier was good during the revolution, he would secure him a pardon. He told Gonzalez that he became a bandit when his sister was ill-used by a federal officer. He shot the officer and took to the hills. Villa took the field against Diaz.

WAR SITUATION AT STANDSTILL FOR MOMENT IN ALL THEATERS

Reported German Drive Against Dyvinsk Is Not Confirmed Either From Berlin or Capital of Russia.

2,000,000 MEN UNDER ARMS IN BALKANS Grand Duke Nicholas Is Approaching Bagdad With Strong Forces and May Join With the British Column.

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 18 (12:35 p. m.)—The weekend ends the war situation in the east and west bearing the outward appearance of comparative quietude and some observers are ready to predict that operations will virtually remain at a standstill until after the holidays.

Nevertheless there is no lack of food for speculation, particularly on the eastern front, which now virtually stretches across two continents from north Russia to south Persia. In the extreme north there have been insufficient reports that the promised new German thrust between Riga and Pskov has already begun, but neither Berlin nor Petrograd confirms this as the official communications.

2,000,000 Under Arms in Balkans. In the Balkan zone the first chapter is closed but with more than 2,000,000 men of a dozen different nations under arms, it is not likely that the campaign will long maintain a state of quiet. On the fringes of the Balkans there is promise of new announcements from the Bulgarians and Germans in the Italian operations through Albania and the Russian concentration in Bessarabia. Moreover in the so-called middle east, Grand Duke Nicholas' advance to Hamadan brings strong Russian forces to within about 200 miles of Bagdad and it is believed in the entente capitals that his operations will put new life and new importance into the British operations in south Persia after the recent setback.

Strongest Defense of Paris Was Ordered by Minister of War When Germans Were Approaching, Says General. Paris, Dec. 18 (10:15 p. m.)—The question of whether the French authorities had determined to defend Paris when it was being approached by the Germans in the early days of the war was disposed of by General Gallieni, the minister of war, in his speech before the chamber of deputies last evening. He said: "Here is the dialogue which took place between M. Millerand (then minister of war) and myself in the cabinet of the minister of war on the morning of September 1, 1914. 'M. Minister, I said, 'I come to ask you if we must defend Paris.' 'General,' replied the minister, 'You must defend Paris with all energy.' 'You know, Mr. Minister, I rejoined, 'what the words defend Paris mean, they mean that public works are to be blown up; that the localities levelled or burned; our monuments, at which we are so proud, destroyed.' 'You must defend Paris to the limit, general,' replied M. Millerand. 'Take all the initiatives; take all the responsibilities; I stand behind you.' General Gallieni, who was military governor of Paris at this critical period, before his appointment to his present post in the French cabinet, explained in the chamber that he had reported the foregoing conversation to show the urgency of provisioning Paris."

MASSES OF GERMAN TROOPS MOVE TO WEST FRONT Geneva, Dec. 18 (via Paris, 5:55 p. m.)—Masses of German troops have been passing through Rhine towns to reach the western front recently, according to news that has reached here since the resumption of the frontier at Cambes and the Swiss frontier. The frontier is still closed at Basel.

MUST DELAY SHIPMENT OF ARTIFICIAL LEGS ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—The manufacture of artificial legs for shipment to the European belligerents has been delayed by the scarcity of silver wood. Harry Dawson, a local manufacturer, said today he could not get any more seasoned silver for several weeks and had delayed accepting a contract for 150 artificial legs a month. ITALIAN EXPEDITION NOT FOR OFFENSIVE ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—The Italian expedition launched at Albania was not sent for an offensive purpose, but to help the Serbians extricate themselves and provision food. Montenegrins and Albanians, according to a dispatch to the Journal from Rome, "General Alghetto," the dispatch adds, "has arrived at Avlona to take command of a small Italian expeditionary force."

GALLIENI TELLS FACTS REGARDING MOTTED QUESTION

DIRECTORS ARE FOUND GUILTY OF NEGLIGENCE Boston, Dec. 18.—Five directors of the National City bank of Cambridge which was wrecked in 1909 by George M. Coleman, a bookkeeper, were found guilty of negligence in connection with the failure by Judge Brigham in the federal court today. Under this ruling directors will recover approximately $235,000.

PHILOSOPHY TO OWN RAILROAD. Manila, Dec. 18.—The government of the Philippine islands completed arrangements today for the purchase of the stock of the Manila railroad, the securities which are now held for the main part by a syndicate headed by James S. Speyer of New York. Governor General Harrison will submit the plan to the legislature after the holidays.

AMERICANS TO SEND PIPES TO MEN AT FRONT

Fund to Supply Soldiers With Smoking Materials Now Being Raised; Ten Cents is Amount Asked.

THE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
New York, Dec. 18.—Soldiers in the trenches of Europe this winter are to be supplied with pipes from the United States and any American who wants to send such a gift to a Belgian, a French or a Russian fighter can do so by contributing to cents to the soldiers' pipe fund.

The men at the front want and need a good and durable pipe. The demand for such an article has been very insistent, and Vincent H. Y. de Lendonek, of Waere Rue-Catherine, Belgium, has undertaken to supply it. He has had manufactured in America an excellent pipe for the purpose, strong, light, easy to clean and sanitary, and he has in hand the receipt of contributions and the prompt shipment of the pipes to whatever army of the allies the giver designates.

For a contribution of 25 cents the soldiers' pipe fund will deliver to soldiers in Europe 250 pipes and will have printed across the bowl of each a sentence or motto in the language designated by the contributor, and even put on the bowl the donor's picture, name and address. For instance, if it is desired to send pipes to British soldiers, the inscription will be in English, Belgians and Frenchmen will receive the gifts suitably inscribed in French; Russians in their own tongue, Italians in theirs, and Serbians in Serbian. For $1 ten pipes can be sent over the water with a label in the bowl of each giving the donor's name and address, and suitably inscribed on the bowl. Single contributions of 10 cents will send one pipe, inscribed on the bowl with the good wishes of the giver, in the ally's tongue of the recipient.

The fund will send an unvarnished certificate of receipt to anyone contributing $1 or more.

Vincent H. Lendonek, who is secretary general of the fund, has opened an office at 502 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Among the patronesses of the fund are Mrs. Charles Steele, Mrs. L. C. Weir, Mrs. William D. Guthrie, Mrs. Eugene Willard, Countess J. de la Grèce and Mrs. F. G. Briggs, all of this city.

30 AMERICANS ARE STILL HELD BY VILLA

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.
Washington, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Communication between Tampico and San Luis Potosi in Mexico has been re-established after a long interruption, according to today's advices to the state department.

Operation of trains is irregular, however, because of activities of bandits.

General Villa still is holding thirty Americans in the town of Matara, in Chihuahua, the advices said, despite efforts of state department agents to obtain their release.

overwhelmingly superior to that of General Obregon southward to overthrow the power of Carranza.

At Chihuahua, in summary, he met his first defeat last May, by Obregon, who with an inferior force drove the Villa force into a labyrinth of irrigation ditches, and switching on water, drowned thousands of them.

He retreated to Leon, in Guanajuato, where Obregon again defeated him with superior forces. Fleeing back upon Aguascalientes, his own ran in a panic from the town to the Yacata, a retreat to Cuernavaca City, the defeat in the Villa attempt to capture Monterrey, Coahuila, where his forces were scattered and the concentration at Chihuahua City this fall and migration to Sonora. In Sonora his army was completely shattered and it is said that upon his present return to Chihuahua City he had only his faithful bodyguard of 100 men with him.

Mrs. Villa Brings News.
The actual confirmation of the Chihuahua City reports of the retirement of General Francisco Villa was brought to federal officials here by Mrs. Francisco Villa in person, late today.

Mrs. Villa, it is said, declared that General Villa consented to retire from the revolution, but only temporarily, and that he would not come to the United States unless he was assured that he would not be arrested and subjected to extradition proceedings as had General Huerta. Should his party not succeed in eliminating General Carranza within a reasonable time, she said, he would seek to return to Mexico, and again assume the chiefdom.

Mrs. Villa was given assurance that she might bring in her household effects and that she would be shown every courtesy compatible with governmental requirements.

Belongs Over the Cash.
The wishes of the admission of Villa to United States territory, she was told, was a matter for the war and state departments to consider. All the money of the financial agency was removed from Juarez today to El Paso, including five million pesos of coin minted from "confiscated" bullion at the capital, and brought to Juarez recently. Only enough cash was left in Juarez tonight to meet the requirements of light gambling, the result of uncertainty of conditions in Juarez follow-

PRESIDENT WILSON AND MRS. GALT PLIGHT THEIR TROTH

H. Wilson of Baltimore, the former brother of the president, Miss Alice Wilson, the president's niece, Miss Anne Howe of Philadelphia, the president's sister, Mrs. Anne C. Galt, the president's niece, Josephine Galt, the president's grandniece, Secretary Tamm, Dr. Grayson and Miss Galt's friends Gordon, Mrs. Galt's close friend.

The president completed a review, breaking day for him in extending civility by starting papers, and before he left the executive offices for dinner, releasing two men from jail. He committed to expire at once the three months sentence of J. E. Turner, convicted in the northern Georgia federal court on a charge of distilling liquor illegally, and permitted the United One for which Black-Que, an Indian, convicted in Kansas of introducing liquor into the Dittawat, state Indian reservation.

The last official act of the president before leaving on his journey was the signing of an appeal for funds for Belgian relief work. The text of the appeal will be given tomorrow.

Will Live at Hotel.
At Hot Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will live at the Homestead hotel until after New Year's day unless some developments should necessitate the president's earlier return to the capital. Two of the White House automobiles have been sent on ahead and the couple expect to spend their honeymoon, honeymoon, golfing and walking over the mountain trails. The winter the best service should, the party was accompanied by an automobile.

The president will keep in touch with the White House over special wires.

Because the hour of the wedding was known to comparatively few persons there was not a large crowd in the vicinity of the bride's home, although a large police guard had been provided.

All arrangements for the wedding ceremony were carried out perfectly, the president arriving at the hotel home soon after a breakfast and the remainder of the wedding party, which numbered less than thirty, following soon after. The ceremony was held in the White House chapel and was followed by a buffet breakfast.

Mrs. Wilson was married in the morning at 10 o'clock in the train. At the station the president and Mrs. Wilson entered a waiting White House automobile and proceeded to Alexandria, Va., across the Potomac, to take their private car there and avoid a crowd at the railroad station in this city.

The time by which the wedding party, by not being to Alexandria was completed. When the White House suite, including police blocks, arrived in all the adjoining streets. At the Union station the presidential carriage was being lighted and three of the police were directed all about. Those who were attracted to the railroad station by the show of dignitaries were disappointed with the president and Mrs. Wilson, were speaking to the crowd across the river, but under way.

Trousseau Is Elaborate.
Mrs. Wilson's trousseau is said to be the most elaborate in the history of the White House. Most of it is American-made and the very things in the trousseau were ordered upon telephone orders the night before the wedding.

Heavy Gold Increase.

The Big Week

Make way for the big rush. Slow moving vehicles keep close to the curb. If you have any hurry in you, use it, for this is the biggest week of the whole year; the week when every store does its maximum amount of business.

The people of America will spend upward of $200,000,000 this week in Christmas presents. The stores will have to handle that volume of business.

Everything, even including your buying, must be in the smoothest running order to accomplish this tremendous task.

Most women utilize a small part of the day in their shopping. You must now utilize all of the day. Every store has three good hours in the morning in which they can give you the best service they have. Figure on using part of those three hours for yourself. Figure upon beginning your shopping with the opening of these stores.

And most important of all, DON'T SHOP AT RANDOM. Don't run here and there without knowing exactly where you are going and what you are going for. You will only bother others and will get nothing accomplished yourself.

Every good store is trying to help you to solve your Christmas problem, trying to help you to decide what to get and where to get it. If you will use the help they are offering you, you will make your shopping labors twice as short and four times as happy.

The advertising in THE ALBUQUERQUE MORNING JOURNAL every day is the place where you should BEGIN your shopping.

Go through it and check it off, just as you would check off a classified list if you were looking for a house to rent. Plan your day's shopping from these pages and you will find that your day has been profitably spent.

Christmas shopping can be made very pleasant unless you make it very unpleasant by starting without plans.

President Wilson Drafts Outline of New Representations Which Are Expected to Be Final From Washington.

VIENNA DENIES GUILT OF SUBMARINE CAPTAIN

Fails to Understand Reference by United States to Germany's Attitude: Whole Defense Is Mere Quibble.

Washington, Dec. 18.—President Wilson late today completed the first draft of the new note to Austria-Hungary following the American demands regarding the sinking of the Italian steamship Ancona.

MISS MADELINE LEE, Prima Dora of the James P. Lee Company, Now Playing at the Grand Theatre.

They had to explain it apparently to those who were not sufficiently familiar with the details of the incident. The note also gave the information that the names of the American citizens who were on board of the Ancona were not known at the time of the sinking.

However, in view of the fact that the Washington cabinet has now made a positive statement to the effect that the United States of America does not intend to give up the Ancona to Austria-Hungary, the question of the exchange of prisoners of war with the government of the United States.

It must, however, be pointed out that the government failed to give the names of the American citizens who were on board of the Ancona at the time of the sinking.

The imperial and royal government of Austria-Hungary has now made a positive statement to the effect that the United States of America does not intend to give up the Ancona to Austria-Hungary.

Club Approves Power Plans

East Las Vegas, N. M., Dec. 18.—Directors of the Las Vegas Commercial club, at a special meeting Friday, approved the plans of the Rio Grande Light and Power company in so far as they contemplate the furnishing of cheap electricity. The club, of course, was unable to go into a detailed investigation of the feasibility of the project, which requires the building of an immense dam in the White Rock canyon, eighteen miles from Santa Fe.

DEMING TO MAKE CARNIVAL AFFAIR OF YULE SEASON

Mounted Drill, Pony Races, Band Concerts, Games and Dances to Contribute to General Festival Occasion.

Deming, N. M., Dec. 18.—Commencing early on the morning of Tuesday, December 22, will start the biggest Christmas carnival and season of Yuletide festivities ever pulled off in the southwest, lasting three full days and nights and winding up with a carnival masquerade that will equal, if not exceed, the New Orleans Mardi Gras, though on a little smaller scale as to maskers. There will not be a dull or idle moment from start to finish, and Deming people and their guests will have to be up and doing all the time to keep up with the procession.

Heretofore the business interests and fan-clubbers have engineered festivities of this sort, but this time the schools and church organizations have been brought into it—willingly—and are working with all their might to make this celebration all that Christmas should be—a season where most be emphasized the teachings of Christ. "Good will to men."

Municipal Tree

On Christmas eve, the 24th, at 7:30, at the corner of Third avenue and Pine street, the immense municipal Christmas tree will be electrically lighted, and under the direction of the several churches of Deming, Santa Clara will distribute the Christmas offerings to all the children, rich and poor, and endeavor to make glad the hearts of all the youngsters, some of whom will, no doubt, have their own Christmas tree. Ample funds have been provided, and it is intended to make this the "feature" of the carnival week.

On the evening of the 25th, at 8 o'clock, the fine band of the Thirtieth cavalry will give an open air concert from the bandstand on Pine street, and thus will formally be started the festivities.

BONNEY MINING COMPANY GIVEN FINANCIAL AID

Important Mining Transaction Consummated by Grant County Capitalists; All Indebtedness Is Paid.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL, Lordsburg, N. M., Dec. 18.—One of the most important mining transactions ever consummated in the southwest was completed here this week when the Bonney Mining Company received financial assistance from a well-known group of Grant County mining men and capitalists.

Those who are financing the Bonney mine are W. B. Murray, president of the Silver City, N. M., National Bank; Frank R. Jones, an El Paso and Silver City, N. M., banker; Harry H. Moore, superintendent of the El Paso Copper Company at Santa Rita and Hurley, N. M.

Mr. A. Thorne, one of the best mining engineers in the southwest, will be general manager of the new Bonney Company. Mr. Thorne has been with the El Paso Copper Company for many years and has been one of their most valued employees.

The deal means work in Lordsburg as it will give hundreds of men employment as well as bring business to the local establishments.

May Buy Additional Claims. It is quite possible that the new operators will buy the property adjoining the Bonney and the Eighty-five mine on the north and west the Chico Negro group as owned by Earl V. Bush, editor of the Western Labor and United States Commissioner at Lordsburg. This group is one of the best in the Grants district and was a big producer until water was contaminated in the mine side of the property. Fairley and Killbrew own eight valuable claims which would add value to the Bonney ground. On the north the Myers' Chest property lies dormant. This property is owned by James G. Myers, a well-known mining man of San Francisco.

Extent of Property. There are three deep shafts on the property of the Bonney Mining Company. The No. 1 is 126 feet deep on a 78-degree incline. This was the first shaft to be sunk on the property. A prominent one-foot vein at the bottom of this shaft has been worked during the past few months by H. L. Smith. The values are about the same as found at all parts of the mine.

The No. 2 shaft is 264 feet deep with four levels and over a thousand feet of lateral work developing immense bodies of ore. The main vein at the bottom of the No. 2 shaft is nine-foot wide carrying excellent values and making it a most desirable stripping ore.

There is an 18-horsepower Jolly, a 40-horsepower horizontal boiler, a 5-horsepower engine and a 120-horsepower Columbia steam hoist at the No. 2 shaft.

On account of a lack of adequate dipping ground and for excellent surface indications the No. 3 shaft was commenced early this year west of the No. 2. The No. 3 is now 149 feet deep with four levels and a 25,000-gallon pump on the third level. The equipment at the No. 3 consists of two 100-horsepower boilers, two 100-horsepower hoists, one 28-horsepower steam hoist, a 80-horsepower two-stage compressor with three drills, reversible blower and a very complete machine shop.

High-grade Veins. During the development work on the No. 2 shaft several high-grade veins were encountered and at the 420-foot level the drills were three feet in a 24-foot vein when a flood of water rushed in, driving the men from their work. All preparations have been made, however, for the handling of this water.

They are seventeen veins on the Bonney property, practically all of them outcropping at the surface in widths up to thirty feet. The vein, whether it can be determined, are believed to be true fissures in solidified, cooling of places to diorite and mafic siphonophora.

The strike of the veins is forty-five degrees to the northeast and southwest and the dip is seventy-six degrees to the northwest. Practically all of the veins are parallel. The copper vein strikes as vertical, chlorite, auriferous and malachite. The veins are well defined at all points in the mine and on the surface.

It is necessary the Bonney are can be very successfully concentrated by water tables andammers, with a

YULETIDE SPIRIT PREVAIL AT SAN DIEGO

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL, San Diego, Calif., Dec. 18.—The Yuletide spirit will prevail at the "San Diego Exposition" Christmas day. The spirit of the city will be merry and a number of Christmas trees for the 100,000 folk in the stadium will be lighted before midnight.

The Christmas celebration will be in charge of Al Deke Temple, editor of the "Morning Star." Each year the San Diego Star has arranged a Christmas tree for the children of the city. For this Christmas arrangements have been made to hold the tree in the stadium. A gift list will be prepared in front of the audience and will include the names of all the 100,000 people who attend the exposition.

NOTED FIGURE IN POLITICS OF FRANCE IS DEAD

Leader of Commune After Franco-Prussian War Who Was Once Condemned to Death, Dies Highly Honored

Paris, Dec. 19 (1:29 a. m.)—Edouard Vaillant, a member of the chamber of deputies from the department of the Seine, is dead at the age of 74 years. He was first elected to the chamber of deputies in 1892.

Edouard Vaillant was a member of the Paris commune. He was born in 1840, was a doctor of science and studied medicine both in France and Germany. During his sojourn at Heidelberg university he affiliated himself with the international—the International Workmen's association.

At the time of the Franco-Prussian war he was captured by Paris, being attached to the national guard and during the siege of Paris devoted himself to spreading the doctrine of the internationalism.

When the inscription of the Paris commune was suppressed in 1871, M. Vaillant was obliged to flee to England and was condemned to death. When amnesty was declared he returned to France. He connected himself with a new political movement and was elected in 1881 a municipal councillor of Paris. Later he was elected several times a deputy and in 1912 was a candidate for the presidency of the republic. On that occasion M. Vaillant was elected on the second ballot, with 481 votes.

TYPHUS RAVAGES CAUSE MEXICO TO TAKE ACTION

Fight Is Being Made on Disease in Federal District; House to House Inspection Ordered.

Mexico City, Dec. 18 (1:10 a. m.)—The official Carranza organ, today published a plan which has been adopted to check the ravages of typhus fever, which has spread over the entire central portion of the republic. The effort is to be a strategic one and includes establishment of a special sanitary police corps, working under orders from the federal board of health. Not only will public and private structures be thoroughly cleaned, but measures are being taken to enter from every public square or locality will be "impregnated" with a view of deterring any whose appearance might lead inspectors to suspect them of hostility of transferring the disease. The sale of alcoholic beverages in restaurants and saloons is to be strictly prohibited, and all theaters and other places of amusement are recommended to close at 11 o'clock each night.

House to House Inspection. As it is generally admitted that the only propagating agent of the disease is human government officials will make a house to house canvass in the poorer sections of the city and in such other places as may be deemed necessary for the purpose of stamping out typhus.

In all this work the military is co-operating with civilian officials. General Gonzalez has detached 500 soldiers to disinfect and clean barracks and public offices. In all the latter are to be seen printed notices reading:

Stops Hand-shaking. For hygienic reasons, department heads and employees must refuse to shake hands with visitors. Hand-shaking is a universal custom throughout Mexico, but the dread of typhus has put a stop to its promiscuous practice.

Latest statistics showed the epidemic spreading more rapidly than ever. So far the foreign consuls have evaded serious duty, although British consuls have been recorded up to date in the American and English columns. The desire to check the disease of health crises as outlined is shared by Minister of the Interior Avila and is obligatory for residents of the federal district. It is hoped operative December 18 and is to be extended to other parts of the republic as occasion requires.

COMMISSIONER MAKES RULING FOR SHREVEPORT

Shreveport, La., Dec. 18.—The most important feature developed today in the Shreveport rate case, hearing before Interstate Commerce Commission Henry F. Hall and Special Examiner Thurlet, was a ruling of Commissioner Hall that evidence as to the low in-bound rates from the producing markets to Shreveport as compared with in-bound rates from the same producing markets to Texas points, particularly north and west Texas points, would be given no consideration or weight.

It is evident that the Interconers, Dallas, Fort Worth and Amarillo particularly, and possibly Houston and Galveston, expected to rely largely on their ability to show the alleged discrimination by reason of the favorable in-bound rates to Shreveport.

With this feature of the hearing eliminated, it developed upon Shreveport to show that the previous ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, sustained by the supreme court of the United States in favor of east Texas, is concerned, should not only stand but should be broadened out to embrace west Texas as well.

Evidence intended to prove this contention was introduced at length by the Shreveport interests.

Mrs. Elsie Morosini.

When Professor Ella Velpe Vold, wealthy and famous art connoisseur, who had expressed admiration for and otherwise dealt with J. Herman Morosini, and his secretary, Mrs. Elsie Morosini, arrived in the United States the other day, and were taken to Ellis island, later to be ordered back to Ellis island in the United States were advised. Professor Vold brought with him some $750,000 worth of Italian works of art for sale here, and these were held while he was in trouble. An Italian enemy had called to the immigration commissioner making charges against him and his beautiful secretary. Not until an appeal was taken to the Washington authorities, who the order of the New York immigration officers overruled.

in $45 per thousand, the report says, although actual operations were 7.25 per cent at the preceding year.

RUBBER FORWARDED IN MAIL BAGS SEIZED

London, Dec. 18 (1:14 p. m.)—The British consuls of mail bags on the steamship Helio off New York, the foreign office states that out of 200 bags of parcel mail on board the vessel for Sweden, 109 contained nothing except rubber, all of which were contained in a well known forwarding agent in Sweden. It is estimated that the weight of the bags containing rubber was 3,000 pounds.

Various other conditions, which were not other conditions, were found. Innocent persons of mail were not to be held liable will be forwarded to their destinations at speed.

Denver Society LEADER BECOMES USEFUL AS NURSE

Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps Answers Call Personally and Watches Over Patient Two Days.

Denver, Dec. 18.—How Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps, local social leader and well-known in the east, personally nursed Arthur Sittow, a workman, for two days and two nights, in his private mountain cabin, was told here today when Sittow was reported resting comfortably at a local sanatorium. Early this week, it was reported, Sittow, who was employed as night watchman at Tremont, in great summer resort in the mountains west of here, was seized with a hemorrhage. Tremont is presently deserted at this time of year.

Sittow finally succumbed to a crawl to the telephone and call for help. Mrs. Phipps, from her summer home at Estes Park, arrived in Denver and remained the night in person and remained at his bedside until he could be brought to Denver in a motor ambulance.

VILLA HAS ANOTHER WIFE IN LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 18.—The report from El Paso that General Villa had decided to abandon the fight against Carranza crossed a wire today in the household of Mrs. Julia Villa, the young woman who arrived here several months ago with a baby girl and declared herself to be the wife of the Mexican chief. Members of the household reported, however, to the effect of the report.

Andrea Perillo, of Torreon, who has acted as agent for Mrs. Villa, said that no word had been received from Villa for three weeks. At that time the chief said he was on his way to Chihuahua to renew his fight on the de facto government.

MANY DESERTERS FROM ARMY ARE RE-ENLISTED

Washington, Dec. 18.—Of the 410 enlisted men sentenced to dishonorable discharge from the army for desertion 125 have been re-enlisted and 107 now are serving with the colors, according to records made public tonight in the judge advocate general's annual report. The others took back either deserted again or were discharged for cause.

The report also shows that of 174 who deserted or were discharged for cause during 1915 but whose re-enlistment was authorized under acts to liberalize army laws, 141 were returned to the ranks and fourteen of these later deserted or were discharged. The 174 desertion record for the year

TENSE FEELING IN GERMANY IS CAUSED BY NOTE

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg Sends for American Ambassador to Discuss Relations of Two Nations.

Berlin, Dec. 18 (via London, Dec. 19, 1:42 a. m.)—Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, German imperial chancellor, today sent for James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, and the two held an extended conference concerning German-American relations. No statement regarding the subjects discussed was obtainable, but the American affair threatened reflex effect on German-American relations, which it has been learned here is a matter of concern to higher German authorities, and may possibly have furnished the occasion for the conference.

It was learned only today that the text of the American note published here on which Anglo-Hungarian newspapers based their comment is incomplete, the phrase regarding the stopping of the ship having been omitted in transmission and never reached Berlin. This error in transmission not only accounts largely for the tone of the general German press account but points at Berni Borian's uncertainty regarding the propriety of taking a diplomatic policy on newspaper publications.

HERR PROFESSOR THINKS LAUGH IS ON UNCLE SAM

Dr. Janzow, who has traveled extensively and has written a book of an economic nature on his observations there. He had maintained an active correspondence with Americans since the outbreak of the war and attracted attention some time ago by being one of the first Germans to recognize publicly the futility of the American position in the matter of the shipment of munitions.

The American note was clumsy," Dr. Janzow declared, "while the Austrian answer was not only clever but witty. There is the laughter on his side. It is incomprehensible that the American note was sent without due preliminary proof upon which the American position is based.

"An Austria has asked for documents and has indicated a willingness for a further discussion, Washington cannot break off diplomatic relations without a further exchange of notes. If America fails to comply with the Austrian request to submit documentary proof, this could only be interpreted that America has none.

There is abundant evidence that this is an exceptionally economical car.

Owners say that the gasoline consumption is unusually low.

When they speak of tires they almost invariably report mileage records which are remarkably high.

And there is a sound logical reason why the car should cost little to keep.

It is light—the actual scale weight is only 2235 pounds.

This light weight is partly due to the use of well-designed steel forgings; and pressed steel parts; and the absence of heavy castings.

The all-steel body is electrically welded into a unit. This gives it that stability and rigidity which must otherwise be sought in the use of heavy parts or bracings of steel or wood.

The motor is 30-35 horsepower

Music for Christmas

Baldwin Manualo

The Player-Piano that is all but human

Like Christmas, This Gift Appeals to Everybody

It is welcome to everyone in every home. The desire to express ourselves musically is born with us. We whistle, we sing, we dance, though we know not a note. Therefore, an instrument that enables us to give instant and instinctively complete expression to our musical feeling is a perpetual pleasure to everyone.

THE MANUALO does this. It does not merely produce music automatically but it enables each individual to put into the music the exact feeling that is seeking expression within him at any moment.

In other words, the Manualo responds to the musical instincts of whoever plays it. The animal spirits of children, the tenderness of women, the strength of men, all find complete, spontaneous, instantaneous realization in Manualo music.

THE MANUALO plays in this perfect accord with the feeling because it is controlled from the pedals where every variation of musical desire is instinctively expressed. The instinctive feeling that makes you pedal lightly, vigorously, sharply or dreamily, makes the Manualo play with identical feeling. The instinctive feeling that makes you accent certain strokes of the pedal makes the Manualo accent instantly the notes you desire. You play it as easily, directly, freely and satisfactorily as the pianist plays the piano.

If you are considering the purchase of a player piano, or a piano this Christmas, by all means permit us to demonstrate the BALDWIN GRAND and upright pianos, as well as our other standard makes. We are prepared to offer exceptionally attractive prices and terms to Holiday buyers.

Remember we are manufacturers and not consignment dealers
Our pianos are the best—our prices the lowest

AMERICANS SAID TO BE PRISONERS MAY BE RELEASED

Father of Albuquerque Youth, Believed to Be Held With Madera Employes, Receives Hopeful News.

Because of General Villa's decision to retire and his start for the American border the early release of the American employes of the Madera company, reported as having been held as prisoners, is expected.

J. D. Emmons, father of the young man, applied to the state department as soon as he heard, last week, that his son was in the number.

EDMUND F. COBB TO BE SEEN AT 'B' TODAY

Edmund F. Cobb, of this city, who is now working with one of the feature companies of the Essanay Motion picture company in Chicago, has probably risen more rapidly in his chosen vocation than any of the younger stars on the screen today.

Indigestion and Constipation. "When living in Syracuse, N. Y., about two years ago I took two bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured me of indigestion and constipation after I had suffered for months with these disorders," writes Mrs. Charles Glynn, Baldwinville, N. Y., obtainable everywhere.

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUBS EXPECTED TO DO BIGGER BUSINESS

The Christmas Savings club, inaugurated by the First Savings Bank & Trust company and the American Trust & Savings bank, is growing in popularity with all classes of the city, and it is predicted that there will be a rush to these two banks this week.

Cashier Landolf, of the First Savings bank, yesterday stated: "The principal benefit of the Christmas Savings club is that it teaches the value of a small beginning. Until a very few years ago one would have ridiculed the idea of a man's entering a bank to deposit 2 cents.

The plan is a simple one and "figures prove the power of pennies, nickels and dimes." Here are the several plans.

- Members starting with 5 cents and increasing five cents each week for fifty weeks, get $4.75.
Members starting with $2.50 and decreasing five cents each week for fifty weeks, get $4.75.
Members starting with two cents and increasing two cents each week for fifty weeks, get $2.50.

MOST EXPOSED CITY OF FRANCE PROVES SAFEST

Man Sold His House in Nancy and Moved to Belgium; Purchaser Has Never Been Disturbed by Germans.

Nancy, France, Dec. 18.—Nancy, the old capital of the Duchy of Lorraine, had for more than two score of years the hazardous privilege of occupying a front seat in the theater of a probable war.

The story has been told of the French officer who, anticipating war in June of last year, sold his little country property near Nancy, bought a villa in Belgium and congratulated himself that his family would be far outside the vortex.

While the stout fortress of Namur was crumbling under the blows of the heavy German guns, unfortified Nancy, defended by Castelnau, proved impregnable.

Members starting with fifty cents and decreasing one cent each week for fifty weeks, get $12.75.

BANK BANDITS GET SMALL SUM; ONE IS KILLED

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 18.—Four men, firing shots in all directions, appeared early tonight before the Duval State bank at Duval, King county, thirty miles east of Seattle, and entering the bank, which had just been opened for its Saturday night's business, seized a sack containing $400 in silver dollars.

The posse followed the alarm spread through the town, and a posse of armed men set out in pursuit of the robbers. About a mile above town the posse came upon one of the robbers, who was taking silver dollars from the sack and placing them in his pocket.

He fell or jumped over the bank of the river into the swift mountain stream and it is not killed by the bullet wounds he must have been drowned. The body has not been recovered.

The posse returned with the money but when $285 was left in it and then pressed on in pursuit of the other three robbers. It is believed that they have been surrounded in the woods bordering the stream.

LETTER MAILED IN 1860 REACHES DESTINATION

Los Angeles, Dec. 18.—A letter written by the Rev. Samuel Ward, of New York, dated November 6, 1860, the day he cast a ballot for "Good Abe Lincoln," was received through the mails here today by Prof. W. D. Ward, of Occidental college, a son of H. C. Ward, of Zanesville, Ohio, the man to whom it was addressed. Where the letter went after it was first addressed will remain a mystery.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

William A. Lucking, 26 years old, died yesterday at his home on South Arno street after a month's illness. Mr. Lucking came here ten years ago from St. Louis. Two sisters, one of whom lives in St. Louis and the other in Illinois, and a brother, Gus Lucking, who lives in Missouri, survive.

Meridian, Miss., Dec. 18.—The reports today from the section about Meridian, swept by a severe wind storm yesterday, indicated that more than fifty persons were injured, but that there were no deaths except at Oites, Miss., where four negroes were killed.

NO VIOLENCE OCCURS IN MACHINIST STRIKE

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 18.—No violence or excitement (much) arose out of today's strike of 100 machinists and tool makers at two of the four plants of the New England Westinghouse company in this city and Chicopee.

The strikers are demanding recognition of a union shop committee and minimum wages of 60 cents an hour for machine makers, 50 cents for tool makers and 45 cents for machinists.

Lower California to Yield to Oregon. California, Calif., Dec. 18.—Several officials of the government of Eastern Canada, who for months has been the supreme power in the Mexican territory of Lower California, have left their posts at Mexicali across the border from here and disappeared.

Reports are received by Mexican agents giving weight to widely circulated reports that Cantu is preparing to abdicate.

Cantu recently sent two emissaries to Hermosillo to treat with Governor Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza commander. Reports are current here that the Carranza government, through Obregon, soon will name a successor to Cantu as governor.

KENTUCKY RIVER HAS PASSED FLOOD STAGE

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 18.—The Kentucky river passed the flood stage of thirty-five feet here today. Backwater inundated a considerable part of a lowlying section, drove 100 families from their homes and flooded two warehouses.

Reports from widely separated points in Kentucky indicate flood stages in many small streams. Immediate improvement in conditions is expected, inasmuch as the rain has fallen or is falling in light showers.

MAD COYOTES RAVAGE CALIFORNIA COUNTIES

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 18.—Two California counties and three across the line in Nevada are being pillaged by mad coyotes, it was announced here today, and a campaign has been started against them.

MOHAMMEDANS KILL SERBIAN CHRISTIANS

London, Dec. 18 (12:44 a. m.)—The following Serbian statement has been received from Scutari: "During the retreat of the Serbian army the Albanians and Bulgarians armed Mussulmans in new Serbia and incited them against the peaceful population. Numerous massacres ensued and unprecedented cruelties and crimes were committed."

SLOOP CAPSIZES AND SEVEN MEN PERISH

Cambridge, Md., Dec. 18.—Seven men were drowned in Chesapeake bay today when the sloop Lady Harrington, of Oxford, capsized and sank in a gale of wind and rain.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINERS PURCHASED

London, Dec. 18 (7:20 p. m.)—According to a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen, the Swedish-American line has negotiated for the purchase of two 12,000-ton steamers of the Hamburg-American line, now at New York. The parties are awaiting a guarantee from Great Britain that she will release the vessels as Swedish, in order to close the transaction, the dispatch adds.

NOTED BERLIN PAPER STOPS PUBLICATION

London, Dec. 18 (11:50 p. m.)—An Amsterdam dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company says: "The Lokai Anzeiger (Berlin) which has hitherto been regarded as a semi-official organ, has published, instead of the regular morning edition, a single sheet announcing that the publication of the newspaper has been prohibited."

FRENCH AUXILIARY CRUISER IN DANGER

Havana, Dec. 18.—The French consul at Santiago has requested the Cuban authorities to give protection to the French auxiliary cruiser Quebec lying in that port. The consul made this request on the ground that the ship was in danger of being blown up by conspirators. The Cuban government has furnished a guard of patrol boats around the cruiser.

GARCIA PLACED UNDER PROHIBITIVE BOND

Alamosorbo, S. M., Dec. 18.—Luis Garcia has been held to $2000 the action of the grand jury, to answer to the charge of killing diplomatical at other M. Lopez's hotel, south of Alamosorbo, November 24. Justice of the Peace Kellong, who conducted the preliminary hearing fixed the amount of the defendant's bond at $2,000.

After the altercation in which he is said to have used a big knife, inflicting wounds in Sandoval's head, he made his escape and walked to El Paso. He returned over into Juarez, but soon returned to El Paso, where he was arrested and brought back to Alamosorbo, Sandoval having died in the meantime.

Teachers of Otero County Rank High. Alamosorbo, N. M., Dec. 18.—A statement of the educational qualifications and average of salary received, issued from the office of Prof. R. S. Tipton, county superintendent, shows the teachers of Otero county to rank very high in grade. COSTUMES FOR INDOOR SKATING NOW IN DEMAND

New Use Is Found for Afternoon Gown; Sleeves and Collars Distinctive Features of Latest Fashions.

Special Correspondence to Morning Journal. New York, Dec. 18.—With dancing still a popular pastime indoors and out-of-door skating becoming a more fashionable pastime each day, new clothes are constantly in demand. The indoor skating frock might conceivably serve as well for afternoon tea, bridge parties, and similar daytime affairs, or it may be as plain as the famous, chic, Dubois skating or afternoon frocks.

Sleeves and collars are the distinctive features of these costumes. Whether for afternoon or evening wear the collar is high, but not necessarily of the ruffled type, for many a collar high in look is open in front, affording the comfort of the open throat and the chic of the high neck. When the collar is used it is lined as of old, and usually finished around the top with a trim, such as a ruffled band of chiffon, lace, or a piping strip of fur. On one of the new Paris models of black satin and velvet the high collar is topped with a two-inch-wide circular band of chiffon. While trimmings are not elaborate on these gowns, with their many little details which offer the clever woman with individual ideas a chance to make good use of them. Cloth-covered buttons, side-covered buttons, in self-tone, or a color that harmonizes are being used to trim both dresses and suits of the more dressy as well as the simple types. Both long and three-quarter length sleeves are used in addition dresses; when the three-quarter length sleeve is used it is cut with full and flared-away from the top, and gracefully, with very much the effect of the old-fashioned flowing sleeves of aristocratic days.

Favored Colors and Fabrics. While silks and gabardines are still the fabrics favored for the more sophisticated and dressy, velvets, satins and broadcloths are the dressy materials. Broad buttons and fur are the trimmings that bring out the chic effect of both of these materials. Of course there is nothing finer than black velvet for street and afternoon wear, a charming outdoor skating frock of broad-shouldered black velvet, with a row of the more popular of the house frocks, comes many an eye to notice the successful winter with her bright hat and long bunch of fur-trimmed gloves. For skating, as well as for dancing, parasols are practical and comfortable; these are being put out in all shades to match suit or frock, the simplest of them have simply a dot or two around the top of the same color and material as the top of the hat.

Small Hats for Dancing and Skating. For real comfort both in dancing and skating, the small hat is necessary. This is usually in bright colors to slip on freely. For instance, there is a charming shade of red that is much favored with the blue serge and black velvet dresses and suits. A bright velvet hat is also favored, and bright red, too, is attractive for those who find the black-becoming, and for the more conservative there are wonderful blue, golden brown, and other dark, rich shades which will harmonize beautifully with broadcloth, satin, velvets, and the other dressy materials. Millinery in both wide-brimmed, bucket, boater, ruffles and falls is being used considerably for these small toques. Gold net or lace-trimmed with rills of dark brown or black net or millinery, wired into shape are especially effective for both afternoon and informal evening wear. Quaint neck-finishes often accompany these smart little hats, an upstanding fall or two of the material to match the hat, tucked through the center with a narrow fold of white or satin, corresponding with the frock, form becoming neck-ruffles and afford an effective finish to the costume.

The belt is still a feature of both suit and frock, wide belted effects in general have been seen to date for the past season or two, still an attractive belt is a convenient and becoming finish to dress or suit, especially with the growing favor of the round-necked frock. Many of the outstanding examples of frocks and suits of the Russian model also show this treatment—a fitted portion of the material giving the appearance of a belt or sash. It is not unusual to see a frock of dark blue serge with a shaped piece of chiffon inserted at the sides giving the effect of a belt; these are beaded or heavily beaded, and are of the same color as the frock or contrasting. A belt of this kind offers an attractive way of introducing an effective bit of color contrast; for instance, a dark blue, green or gray dress may be belted in gold or black or one of the dark, old reds, blues or greens.

GERMAN COTTON INDUSTRY QUIET, SAYS NEWSPAPER

Use of Material and Waste Regulated so That They Can Hardly Be Available for Any but Military Purposes.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 1.—The Frankfurt Zeitung publishes the following report of conditions in the German cotton industry, dated from Mauthausen, Austria, November 13:

"During the past three months business in the German cotton industry has been extremely quiet. Meanwhile the use of cotton and cotton waste has been regulated in such a way that these raw materials can hardly be used at all except for army purposes. Consequently, the existing stocks of yarn having been used up, and the production period having expired, the free activities of most of the mills is checked, and the closing of a number of spinning and weaving mills is to be expected in some cases, indeed, it has already taken place. During the past three months cotton has been imported from Germany. During the past three months cotton has been imported from Germany. During the past three months cotton has been imported from Germany.

"The situation in regard to cotton waste is similar to the situation in regard to cotton. Germany and Austria were always important buyers of English American and Indian waste. Since the disappearance of these two buyers it is said that enormous stocks of cotton waste have been accumulated in Lancashire and also in Bombay.

"Employment in the German spinning mills has fallen off very much in consequence of the official regulations. Yarns are no longer delivered except to purchasers who can prove that they will be used for the carry-

MANY KILLED IN GREAT TYPHOON IN THE ORIENT

Loss Much Heavier Than at First Reported; Money Damage Estimated at Approximately $2,500,000.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Manila, Nov. 18.—The typhoon which was reported by cable during the latter part of October and the first of November caused still heavier loss than was indicated by the first report before communication was re-established with southern Luzon, where the worst of the storm's effect was felt. The actual loss of life was about 170 killed by drowning, falling trees and the collapse of buildings, and the injured numbered several hundred, as reported, but the property loss is now conservatively estimated at not less than 5,000,000 pesos or approximately $2,500,000. The hemp and corn plantations were leveled to the ground for miles and immense rice fields were stripped of crops by the flood.

The town of Tabacoan was two-thirds destroyed by wind and water which washed or blew away also hundreds of little villages of bamboo buildings. Every large warehouse of sugar suffered from flood and some of the public buildings, including one of the old Spanish churches, were destroyed. The governor of the island of Mindanao reports that 134 houses, the church and public buildings were wrecked by the storm and the lives of a number of natives were lost.

The private residence of W. Cameron Forbes, former governor general of the Philippines, was partly unroofed and flooded, and the famous Baguio road 3,000 feet up the mountains of southern Luzon, where the summer capital existed during the republican administration, was put out of commission in a number of places.

The storm really included three typhoons within a fortnight, and the havoc which they wrought with telegraph, telephone and railway lines made communication with Manila impossible for some time. An expedition of three coast guard steamers laden with food, medicine and other supplies under command of General Hall of the constabulary set out from here for the stricken districts and required all aid possible.

The coasting steamer Montana and Panaluis are reported to have foundered, but the crews were saved. The army transport Shenandoah crossed the gulf of the typhoon but without damage.

Cost of Running Capital. Manila, Dec. 18.—It cost $10,279.99 to run the capital and executive mission last year; $5,248.83 for the expended for salaries of employees. The fuel, light and water cost $1,073.27; insurance $4,918.

Stomach Troubles. Mrs. A. Toussaint, Whitford, N. Y., writes: "Cathartic Tablets are excellent for stomach troubles and indigestion." Mrs. Toussaint writes from experience in the use of these tablets. Obtainable everywhere.

NEW FUND BEING RAISED TO HELP THE BELGIANS

Prominent American Women of Wealth Are Patronesses of Movement to Give Aid to Starving People.

New York, Dec. 18.—A new fund in the interests of the distressed people of Belgium, to be known as the "Cardinal Mercier" fund, is announced by a committee which includes a number of prominent American women, who have been stirred by the fact that the suffering in Belgium is spreading among hundreds of thousands of families throughout the world, and is spreading to educational and charitable organizations whose work is being interrupted or curtailed because many of their formerly wealthy Belgian patrons are unable to render their usual aid.

The committee of patronesses includes Mrs. Edward G. Loring, Mrs. C. H. K. Williams, Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan, Mrs. J. E. Morgan, and a number of other well-known women. Headquarters have been established at the Belgian bureau, 10 Bridge street, New York, where the work will be directed.

The announcement says the fund will be raised under auspices of the Belgian minister at Washington, Emmanuel Delys, the Belgian minister of state, Louis de Selys, who is in New York, and the Belgian consul general at New York, Pierre Mah.

The committee's statement reads in part as follows:

Millions in Poverty.
From many authoritative sources we learn constantly of the extremely miserable conditions of Belgium. Millions of men, women and children are in utter poverty. Hundreds of thousands of families, heretofore wealthy or at least in comfortable circumstances have lost everything. Included among these are owners of destroyed or idle factories and stores, business men, professors, teachers and artists. Many of them have generally contributed of their own money to their less fortunate countrymen, but owing to the long duration of the war, they are now, in their turn, compelled to ask assistance. And besides those individuals many most popular institutions, charitable organizations, orphan asylums, old nurseries and societies for the protection of young girls, which rendered immense services, are at present powerless to render their usual services, for lack of maintenance.

From such institutions, organizations and individuals without number, desperate appeals reach Cardinal Mercier every day, because he is the principal figure in authority now remaining in Belgium, to whom the suffering people can confidently appeal for aid.

COUNTERFEITERS GIVEN HOT ROAST AND TWO YEARS

San Francisco, Dec. 18.—Two convicted counterfeiters in whose possession were found illegal, derivative posters reading, "do not drive copper nails or tacks in fruit trees, or grapevines, it hurts them!" while Ford and Sahr are in jail, were told today by Judge Maurice T. Dowling in the United States district court that "some good fruit tree was more valuable to California than any man or set of men who attempted to destroy them."

Judge Dowling then sentenced the two, Mrs. Jean Bennett and Clarence Parlin of Portland, Ore., to two years each in San Quentin penitentiary. Both were said by federal authorities to have taken part in riots by Industrial Workers of the World at Portland.

Claude Lawless of Sacramento, tried with the two, was given a life sentence.

Governor Issues Proclamation.
Governor Hiram W. Johnson issued a proclamation some time ago describing what he said was an organized industrial workers' campaign for the destruction of property, and referred to the distribution of the posters as part of it.

Mrs. Bennett admitted the posters were found in her room but said she did not know how they got there.

Herman Ford and Richard Sahr are serving penitentiary terms for murder in the Wheatland hop riots of 1913 in which four men were killed. Governor Johnson refused to intervene in their behalf.

STATE MUSEUM NOTES

Santa Fe, Dec. 18.—The Yale Collection of "Small Bones" by Richard Swann Lull, Ph. D., is the title of an illustrated monograph received by the museum library today. It includes a description of the expedition to the stacked plains for the fossil remains of prehistoric horses in the southwest.

The Museum of New Mexico this year drew the modest sum of $8,454.55 from the state treasury of its $19,000 appropriation, and returned therefore to the state property worth three times as much, not to speak about permanent improvements paid for out of the above sum. Other state institutions drew much more generously, the state university $78,508.14, the penitentiary $72,425.42, the insane asylum $59,692.67, the Normal univer-ity $30,184.82 and other institutions in proportion.

The running race is half a million years old, so finds Henry Fairfield Osborn, curator emeritus of the American Museum of Natural History, which has been reproduced here the first time since by N. C. Nelson, Mr. Osborn's book, "Men of the Old Stone Age: Their Environment, Life and Art," is of interest here, because the cliff dwellers, generally assigned to the New Stone Age, may have had their origin in the old stone age, at least the bones discovered in the caves of the Bluffs de las Virgenes by the French Springers expedition and K. M. Chapman of the museum, are strikingly like those described by its author and attributed to the "Tri-Magnans of 25,000 years ago and found in the caves of the Pyrenees in southern France. Mr. Nelson and Dr. Paul Tassin returned last evening from a trip to the Bluffs de las Virgenes, Tarragona and Chaves to see these cave dwellings and to pick up remains of those remains for comparative study.

Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Nelson left today for New York and Washington, Mr. Nelson may return next year and if he does he will excavate completely a communal building, of each of the four periods into which he has divided the prehistory of the Pyrenees and cliff dwellers.

BIG RED APPLES IN FINE DISPLAY ON SOUTH SECOND

J. F. Cleveland, Sales Manager South Springs Orchard, Puts Together a Most Unique Exhibit.

One of the most artistic and surely the most unique Christmas windows in Albuquerque is that of the South Springs Orchard at 115 South Second street and looking from the sidewalk of the passers-by are not alone in the opinion. In the center of the window is a large wreath representing a holy wreath for instead of the holly berries, the big red apples from the Pecos valley adorn the wreath in a background of the choicest red berries ever seen in Albuquerque and from either side, a horse of plenty has scattered apples broadcast in token of the prosperity held out by "The New Land of the Big Red Apple." Another attractive feature is a picture representing Adam accepting the first apple from Eve. It is all worth while and hard to leave. Many have for some time been attracted by the beautiful window displays of this company and the marked individuality of their advertising, all of which were well displayed on both sides of their store in New Mexico and yet possibly the best when of the progressive and originality of J. F. Cleveland the sales manager.

A Simple Aid to Good Health

W. A. Brown, Dr. Queen, Attn. writes: "For the past year I have been suffering from indigestion, but I had Polley's Tablets and better than anything I have ever used and with action as perfect. No a glass of a bottle and I will never be without them."

Constipation is becoming one of the curses of our present day civilization and is especially hard on those who are not naturally active. With Polley's Tablets you can keep your stomach sweet, liver active and bowels regular. You can avoid the congested condition that causes such headache, dizziness, nausea, tired feet and biting gases. They cleanse thoroughly and are mild in action, with no nausea and no active after-effects that make so many cathartics unobtainable to take. They are a source of comfort to stout people who enter the light free feeling resulting from their use.

HONOR

More so than any other merchandise, Clothing is sold on honor. For the average man, clothing is mainly a necessity. He knows nothing of it, when appraisement of value is asked for. Most men will say so. Hence it is that a seller of clothes must not only KNOW his merchandise, but buy for himself and consumer at the same time. For more than a generation—thirty years to be exact—we have held to the principle of crowding into our Clothes every ounce of value possible. While others have been content to "talk" value, we have gone out in front and GUARANTEED it. No need of hesitation in our store. We get a bad one occasionally, yes. Sometimes several in a row. But we always make them good to the consumer no matter where we "get off." Our principle has been—and is—that YOU must be satisfied before the transaction is considered closed. We offer a safe and sane place to trade; a store with low "overhead expense"; a store with personal service to each customer; a store where you can bring it back if it is not right. That is worth something. No matter what your knowledge of clothing may be, we protect you two ways: First, by selling you Kuppenheimer or Stein-Bloch garments. Secondly, by making it good if it is not right.

standard of conduct, Pennsylvania is the only republicanism, except in the opinion that of 1912, for the republicans to go to that state for a candidate. It would be like the demagogues seeking a candidate in Texas.

At the meeting of the republican national committee in Washington, the name of Roosevelt was received with enthusiasm, particularly by the western members, and there is just a possibility that the eminent name "Clemens" will be the chosen one.

The fact of his personal popularity and the grip he has on the bull money organization would give some factors, but the strongest reason for Roosevelt is that the republicans know they have to go before the people next year with a candidate quite as prominent as the one chosen by Woodrow Wilson in himself or they are doomed to meet a campaign "made in Germany," in which it will be impossible for them to win.

The American vote, of whatever party, will stand by Woodrow Wilson against any other nominee, provided that other nominee has over the smell of being approved by his garments. The next election will show beyond the possibility of misunderstanding that the voters of this nation never will allow a foreigner to be elected president, or to be who their president shall or shall not be.

It is said that one of the purposes of the republican national committee in selecting a date for the convention before the time set by the democrats was to be able to nominate a candidate and adopt a platform before election in the American of both.

It is inevitable that the people of a country should be given the opportunity of all sorts of opinions about public men and public affairs, but it is hard to become reconciled to the readiness with which the American first echelon and then determine their popular heroes. Not that there has been any debasement of Woodrow Wilson.

Perhaps now there is a time so opportune as here, or possibly in the future, for a public opinion so articulate. But the people have approved of the present majority of their president. Why should they not?

Wilson is a man who lives an isolated life. Aside from his own family, he has no friends with people, except schoolmates. He has no son. All of his children but one are married and live in homes of their own. The only daughter remaining has many outside interests and spends little of her time at the White House. From the time the first Mrs. Wilson died until Mrs. Clark came into the president's life, he was beyond doubt one of the loneliest men in the world—a man who lived and thought and worked to himself.

No one will speak him the companionship and domestic felicity which come to him through his second marriage. Now he doesn't have to quit his work for any empty room, he has some one to talk to other than politicians with axes to grind. He has renewed his home life by the only means within his power, and he will be a better president and a far happier man.

Twitchell Tells More New Mexico History

Interesting Facts Regarding Invasion by Confederates of Newly Acquired Territory

Santa Fe, Dec. 15.—In his latest work, "The Confederate Invasion of New Mexico," Col. Ralph E. Twitchell throws a new light on the capture of Socorro, Albuquerque and Santa Fe by the confederate forces, and interestingly demonstrates that New Mexico was as partial to the confederates as it was to the union troops and that the territory which then included Arizona, had many southern sympathizers. The first installment of the book will appear in the January number of Old Santa Fe, now on press. Sketching of the march on Albuquerque and the delay of many New Mexicans at the present time.

Delegated Disloyal.
"The defeat, in essence, from New Mexico was openly disloyal. This was distinctly evidenced by his associations at the national capital and by letters written to prominent New Mexicans of the time," Twitchell says in the introduction.

It will be pointed out that there were three classes of troops under General Canby: regular volunteers and militia. Canby's opinion of the volunteers and the militia is reflected in his reports to Washington and in the commander of the post at Union, Colonel Paul, in which he says: "It is greatly to be regretted that the volunteer forces already organized will not away by desertion and the people of New Mexico will be considered more apathetic than they are now, even if the discipline of both classes are not stimulated into active opposition to the government. The Mexican people have an affection for the institutions of the United States; they have a strong, but illiterate, reverence for the American flag, and they are not wanting persons who, from the commencement of their troubles, have been endeavoring to keep alive all the elements of dissent and fan them into flames."

In a letter to Colonel Paul, Canby says: "Besides this, the prejudice of the Mexican population towards the American is so great that if the federal officers are taken altogether from the territory, it will be a disaster. This is not, perhaps, a good military reason, but it is a necessity from the character of the people we have to deal with."

Revolt by Volunteers.
"Owing to the failure to pay the volunteer forces, as indicated by General Canby, there was a revolt in one of the volunteer companies at Fort Lowell and in the vicinity of Camp Connelley. These were promptly suppressed, although about thirty men from the second regiment made their escape from the camp and fled to the mountains."

General Canby was not severely displeased toward the native volunteers. He was of opinion that they would not stand fire, but in this he was afterwards shown to have been mistaken. The experience at Valverde shows that both regulars and some of the volunteers—or militia—led after a short skirmish with the invading Mexicans.

General Canby's experience with some of the volunteer forces at the battle of Valverde prompted him in many instances and needs of the volunteers to furnish commanders of militia and others to place no reliance in them whatever except for certain purposes.

"Canby to Slight, March 18, 1862, says of the volunteers: 'Do not rely upon the New Mexican troops except for partisan operations.'"

"Canby to Donaldson, March 7, 1862. Do not trust the Mexican troops."

"Col. G. R. Paul, Fort Union, to Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C., March 14, 1862: 'All the militia and a large number of the volunteers (indicated) who were called into the service of the United States have deserted and taken to the mountains.'"

Correspondence Quoted.
"Governor Henry Connelly to Secretary Seward, March 11, 1862: 'The militia have all deserted and have gone to preparing their lands for the coming harvest and this is by far the best use that could be made of them.'"

"Canby to Colonel Paul, March 14, 1862: 'Place no reliance on the New Mexican troops except for partisan operations, and then only when the main operations will not be affected by the result.'"

"Canby to adjutant general of the army, March 21, 1862: 'The New Mexican volunteers cannot be relied upon for any purpose of this kind.'"

"Canby to adjutant general, Washington, 'About one-half (52) of the deserters from the New Mexican volunteers have availed themselves of the conditional pardon offered them in department orders No. 42, of May 7. The remainder are still at large, and are doing much trouble to the frontier settlements.'"

Jordan Canby, captain seventh infantry, Santa Fe, N. M., in General Halleck, St. Louis, Mo. The militia have all run away and the New Mexican volunteers are deserting in large numbers. No dependence whatever can be placed on the natives; they are worse than useless; they are ready to side with the enemy, who catch them, take their arms and tell them to go home."

Got Rid of Militia.
"Colonel Canby to the adjutant general, Washington: 'I have disembarrassed myself of the militia by sending them away and have arranged with the officers of that force to impede the operations of the enemy abstract his movements if he should attempt to advance, and cut off his supplies, by removing from his route the cattle, grain, and other supplies in private hands that would aid in sustaining his force.'"

"Major Donaldson to General Thomas: 'No reliance can be placed on the New Mexican volunteers or militia and I advise their being disbanded.' They have a treacherous fear of the Tex-

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

According to a composition of the opinions of republican editors, writers and representatives on the party's choice of candidates for the presidency in the coming campaign, 243 favor Edouard Bland and 102 express preference for Justice Charles K. Hilditch. The vote in favor of Senator Lawrence V. Sherman with 144, mostly from Illinois, who is regarded as the favorite son of the party, is not so strong as it once was.

Michael Canby, who at the age of twenty-one succeeded his father in the management of the great Chicago interests, expressed the following sentiment, gathered from his experience and observation: "A man can't tame all night, six nights in the week, and expect to compete with the brains of the fellow who hits the books from 10 p. m. to 6 a. m."

Champ Clark says he never had had anything out of the best of feeling for Woodrow Wilson, which is another way of saying it is known that his feud with Bryan is just about the same as it was when the Baltimore convention closed.

Italy and Russia have made up their minds to help Spain, but when they get around to it they will find nothing left to help.

We are going to prepare to defend ourselves against attack, but we are not going to attempt it unless it is necessary.

Col. Canby's opinion. In the opinion of Colonel Canby, the native people, with few exceptions, were loyal, but apathetic in disposition, and would adopt any measures which were necessary for the defense of the territory with great readiness, looking with greater concern to their private and often petty interests, and delaying or defeating the objects of the government by their personal or political interests. In Canby's judgment it was very questionable whether a sufficient force for the defense of the territory could be raised within its limits and he placed no reliance upon any volunteer force which could be raised except strongly supported by regular troops. The most to be hoped for from the native soldiers was the occupation of two or three important points which could be fortified and held by this class of raw troops and the policy of the government with regard to New Mexico had been settled and expressed. In this opinion General Canby was supported by expressions from prominent New Mexicans, and army officers of long residence in the country.

WE MUST PREPARE FOR DEFENSE.

Ample preparation is absolutely necessary for this nation, and the quicker we prepare the better. With unlimited wealth as a temptation to idleness, we are the most exposed nation in the world, the most unprotected and the most defenseless.

Na one can foresee with certainty what will be the outcome of this war. It may be that Germany and Austria will win and dictate peace to the allies. If so, they, with a combined fleet which would quickly wipe out from the seas would have millions of well trained, well equipped men in their armies ready to be landed upon our practically defenseless shores. We have the wealth they want and would take. We have given them the excess and are hated by them only second to the hatred they have for Great Britain.

On the west coast, we have Japan which is feverishly preparing for war. Year by year the Jap fleet is being increased upon the most modern lines, the fighting men of Japan are trained year by year after the German system, until today not less than 2,000,000 fully equipped soldiers could be mobilized within a week's time. It is a nation in arms—armed for a purpose.

The late emperor, who was one of the really great men of the world, gave his message to his people, which to them was a message from their national god.

With regard to matters of national defense, a single day's neglect may involve a century of regret.

Colonel Canby, who is president of the Japanese peace society, continues to fill the American mind with his sermons on the benefits of peace. He endorses all of the unprejudiced utterances of men like David Starr Jordan and William J. Bryan. An American who expresses exactly the sentiments he likes to have expressed in America. But here in the Pacific he wants for Japan, only last May he had the following over his own signature, in the leading newspaper of the empire:

WITH SCISSORS AND PASTE

Another tragedy of unemployment. (Continued from yesterday morning's Journal, the Journal of the American Medical Society has the following editorial):

In a football game at St. Louis several weeks ago, one of the players received an injury to the cervical spine and was taken to the city hospital. After careful examination it was determined that surgical interference was not indicated, in that fragments of the vertebra were not then pressing on the cord, that the character of the injury made the patient's condition practically hopeless, and that the treatment indicated was absolute quiet and immobilization. The parents of the boy were frankly told the seriousness of the injury. In the face of these conditions, according to the Journal of the Missouri State Medical Association, an osteopath, who had been engaged by the father, wanted to treat the patient immediately. The surgeon in charge, fearing injudicious handling which would deprive the patient of any existing chance for recovery, refused to permit the osteopath's treatment. This refusal, accompanied by the boy's father, then obtained an order from the mayor to the hospital commissioner, relieving the hospital physicians from further responsibility and permitting the osteopath to "try to save the patient, as the doctors had given him up." Says the Missouri Journal:

For five days the patient had been resting quietly with a gradual lessening of the effects of the frightful shock from the hemorrhage into the cord. Then the osteopath applied his treatment. This consisted of a strenuous and a plea from the patient to remove the apparatus. The patient became cyanotic. The extension was removed. Death followed about two hours later.

The autopsy report showed that death was due to "hemorrhage into the cord and fracture of the cerebral vertebrae." This supporting the diagnosis of the physicians and proving that their treatment had been correct. The Journal continues:

"Now it seems clear that the mayor and the director of public works, actually took charge of a poor unfortunate who was receiving the best possible care which could be provided in a metropolitan and noted medical center. They dismissed the skilled attendants who were honest and had interpreted the relatives of the actual state of affairs and turned the patient over to the distracted and deluded father and mother and an arrogant, ignorant osteopath."

Here, it seems, is another instance in which the delicate watch was given over for repairs not to a skilled watchmaker, but to a blacksmith. The change of the patient from a condition of quiet restlessness, with an impossible chance for recovery to one of sudden pain, shock and speedy death was due from the interference of methods entirely unwarranted by the conditions. The safety of the patient demands that whoever assumes the role of the physician must have had sufficient medical training to know when such treatment is best and when it is bound to do more harm than good.

POTATO QUARANTINE REMOVED.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The federal quarantine against shipments from foreign countries of fresh potatoes infected with powdery mildew was removed today by an order of the department of agriculture effective January 1. Canadian potatoes may be shipped into the United States without certification, under an arrangement with the Canadian minister of agriculture. Inspection at ports of entry of potatoes from other countries will continue.

SILVER CITY HAVING REAL WINTER WEATHER

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.
Silver City, N. M., Dec. 18.—The first real touch of winter in southwestern New Mexico was experienced the past few days when a heavy snow fell throughout this section. The snow was very heavy for this time of year in the mountains, the Burro and the Blue range, and was followed by a comfortable drop in the temperature. The cold spell in Silver City, however, was very heavy for this time of year in the mountains, the Burro and the Blue range, and was followed by a comfortable drop in the temperature. STOCK MARKET CONTINUES DULL AND LISTLESS

Repetition of Events of Last Few Days Is Experienced on 'Change; Steel Most Active Feature of Day.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Today's market was in the main a repetition of recent dull and listless sessions, with only a few scattered transactions, consisting largely of a closing of outstanding contracts.

United States Steel was the most active feature, though showing some heaviness. Other prominent issues included American Smelting, Republic Iron and Steel, Standard Oil and Baldwin Locomotive. Total sales amounted to 192,000 shares.

DANUBE TRAFFIC PROVES OF GREAT GOOD TO GERMANS

Enormous Military and Economic Advantage Accruing From Opening of River Is Now Clearly Demonstrated.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Budapest, Dec. 18.—What a difference the opening of the Danube has made in the shipping business between Germany and the Balkans.

The day when the Associated Press correspondent made the trip up the river as a guest on the Steier, they were being crowded down stream by Hungarian gunboats.

Merchandise Now Shipped. For the first time, weeks loading and unloading of military supplies were stopped down stream, principally wheat and construction materials for Bulgaria and Turkey.

One Kind of Christmas.

The poets all sing of the pleasures of Christmas when victrolas merry and bright...

They sing of the mistle-toe—signal for blessing—but I know no maiden to bless...

It may be a search of a season for people with friends and a home...

—ALBERTON BRADLEY, In Park.

Even So

If nothing happens between now and then, what Saturday will be Christmas...

However, we're going ahead to fix up for Santa Claus...

"And you," she said to the bachelor who had blundered into the charity bazaar...

There is an old saying that the only man who never changes his mind is the man who has no mind to change...

They decided that they would put laundry back on the job to fix up as per plans and specifications originally outlined...

AT THE LIBRARY

Call to mind, if you will, the Arthurian legends that you know in your childhood days...

"Believe the Smith" is a good story. The more enthusiastic in Mr. Farrow's lively English have declared that "Believe the Smith" is a story that should be read by all...

Bertha Runkle's new book is a masterpiece. It is a story of a woman who has been married to a man who has been married to a woman who has been married to a man...

It is the old time priceless East Indian jewel bathed in a rafter's blood and carrying a curse which you may find twenty times in as many novels yet in such a new and attractive setting...

Other new books. "The Man and the Woman," by Arthur T. Salmon. "Barney Lee," by John Bennett. "Adventures of Pirates and Sea Rovers," by Pyle.

Christmas comes. Silent hang the dew-drenched bells. On the Saviors' birthday evening brightly shine the jeweled stars. In the web the aëria weave.

Far beneath them sleeps the town In the quiet midnight hour. All its care and toil laid down. Guarded by the old church tower.

Oh, that every Yuletide eve, In our own and foreign lands, May resound with Christmas chimes, Ring by blessed angels hands!

ALL FOR SWEET CHARITY. The opportunity to give and it is an opportunity, is most evident around Christmas time...

When Richard Harding saw Poincaré

When Richard Harding saw Poincaré, even that new international air, a Christmas well-wisher's air, prevailed throughout the Kingdom...

Along the silver carpets of this "ornamented floor" the white on the white shimmered. Wags and tails wagged.

When Richard stated that, say he, in recent past and that the French looked all right to me, don't tell Poincaré that I've been here...

Then as he sat in his chair back, and wrote his famous interplay with rhyme, carpet, ribbon-lace, and the sunlight on the armchair...

the public on Tuesday evening at the Casino of the Governor, with but slight changes, would just as well appear in Albuquerque, as it had to do so in Kansas when she gets back to the Great Lakes...

Of Course You Desire to Dress Up for the Holidays --Here's Your Opportunity

Fashionable Suits, Coats and Dresses Reduced to $15.00

Holiday time is "Dress-Up" time all over the country. There'll be festivities a-plenty, family reunions galore—and everyone SHOULD do honor to the Yuletide season by being happy. Clothes go a long way towards happiness.

Now—

Come to The Economist this week with the assurance that you will find hundreds of garments of extraordinary style, beauty and worth greatly reduced for this occasion. Clothes that you will feel right in whatever the event for which you wish them—distinctive clothes.

THE DRESSES: Simply wonderful dresses, glowing silks, airy nets and laces, practical silks in dark shades, serviceable cloth dresses for every time of day and evening, for every use; dresses of unusual beauty and quality.

THE SUITS: Of such rich fabrics as velvet, broadcloth, gabardine, serge and poplin; handsomely trimmed, some with fur, others with velvet and braids; jackets lined with splendid satins; suits that are stylish and good—wonderful bargains.

THE COATS: Think of choosing coats of Silts esquinette plush with genuine beaver trimming, fine broadcloth trimmed with natural raccoon, etc., all full lined with quality satin.

Choice of Any Garment in This Sale $15.00

And we invite critical comparison with the value of the garments in this sale and those you will find elsewhere—because we feel that the style, quality and charm cannot be duplicated, or anyway near duplicated, at the price.

$5.00 Bathrobes $3.98

Only a small lot of these bath robes, so early choosing is advisable. They are made of soft, heavy Beavers Haver in Oxford, gray, lavender, pin hand light blue, bordered with satin bands to match and finished with large collar and cord girdle with tassels. All sizes up to 44. Values $5.50, tomorrow, each $3.98.

they have well located vacant lots and any number of gardens and school grounds of 1915 representatives brought themselves to have Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. structures on the plot that there is no place for the young folks to go to, when in reality every church, every society, every public building and every home is open to them and they have a place to go to every day in the year if they only wish to go there.

Mrs. Frank Parker pointed out, and assisting Mrs. Asplund were Misses Theodore Asplund, Paul A. E. Walter, and N. B. Laughlin. The guests were Mesdames Medland, Wetmore, Chapman, Hagle, Benge, Lloyd, Keefe, Alsbach, Bepko, Pabst, Parker, Walker, Toib, Hall, Sargent, Wilson, Van Ness, Ham, Wozniak, Warren, Carroll, Thomas, Hrodek, Laughlin, Theodore Asplund, and the Misses Alsbach and Conrad—all of the interest in the civic work as shown in the committee of some civic committee. Mrs. Clancy entertained a few friends at luncheon in honor of Miss Van Buren. At the public lecture on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Jacob Wetmore, president of the Santa Fe Woman's club, presided and made the introduction. Mrs. H. S. Kaune, president of the woman's board of trade, presiding with her. On Wednesday, Miss Van Buren had to cancel her engagement to speak to the public schools and beg for her Wisconsin home, promising to return in the near future.

IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Mrs. E. A. Fink entertained the dancing class of Monday evening. The guests were Mrs. Guy Taylor, Miss Williams, Mrs. A. R. Brooking, Mrs. Anna Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Brady, Messrs. Beckner, Ely, Moore, McElie, Connell and Lewis. A small crowd also enjoyed the dance at the assembly room of the woman's board of trade library on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Barker were hosts at a dinner given in honor of the thirty-second wedding anniversary of Mrs. Barker's parents, Judge and Mrs. N. B. Laughlin. Among the guests were Governor and Mrs. McDonald.

The various clubs met as follows: Saturday club with Mrs. James L. Sherman on Hillside avenue, the extra clubs being Mesdames Mary, Townsend, French, Brady, Jaffe and Keefe; the Monday club with Mrs. Keefe; the Wednesday evening club with Mrs. W. G. Sargent; the extra guests being Mesdames Keefe and Hall; the Wallace club with Mrs. Guy Taylor; the Vernon club with Mrs. Beishan; at the Willows on East Palace avenue.

COMING AND GOING

Mrs. Spencer and children will come up from Garrison for the Christmas holidays and will be guests at the Christmas dinner.

DeForest Long is home for the holidays from Culver academy. John K. E. Walker from the Junior college of the Methodist, Santa Fe, Santa Fe, and other religious from the Military academy at Roswell.

Mrs. A. B. Post and daughter, Miss Janet, did not accompany Senator Paul to Washington, D. C., but were expected to go from this week from their home.

Attorney Ross Holloman, president of the New Mexico Bar association has gone east to Indianapolis, where Mrs. Holloman and daughter are visiting relatives.

Mrs. Lewis Hedges and family are visiting relatives at Palo Alto, Calif., and will probably also go to Oxnard before returning.

Mrs. Hilda V. Mason, formerly Mrs. West for Idaho City, Idaho, will take her children with her and Mr. Mason will follow early next year. They will not return to Santa Fe having decided to make their home again in El Paso, where they resided before coming to Santa Fe.

Judge Lewis C. Collins has gone to San Francisco to visit Mrs. Collins at the State island navy yard, where they are visiting their daughter, Mrs. McCall.

A CHRISTMAS EXHIBIT

Santa Fe looks forward with some interest and much interest to the exhibit of its large collection, including some murals by Allen T. True, who with his bride, spent the summer months in Santa Fe and vicinity and transferred to canvas some of the charms of this region. Being essentially a seascaper, inspired with the spirit of the great out-of-doors, True's pictures breathe the spirit of what might now be called "The Santa Fe School," just as there is a "Santa Fe architecture." As a pupil of Brangwyn and one who has studied abroad, True brings to his work a fine technique. There are tremendous opportunities in the west for the painter, says Mr. True. "Take just this section of the country, think of the background of exultant prospectors, soldiers, traders and pioneers that passed back and forth over the Santa Fe trail to Chihuahua, the Mexicans with their heavy bearded faces and the old picturesque life of the frontier that has gone. These subjects treated decoratively in mural pictures would preserve the atmosphere of the old southwest and carry some message to every one who saw them. The old school idea that mural decorative work should consist solely of cupids, crowns and robed semi-angels or allegorical Greek types, is obsolete. We do not think in terms of cupids and abstract angels. We think in terms of what we are the most familiar. A figure of a sturdy, clear-eyed pioneer with his feet firmly planted in the ground and his implements of toil in his hands can convey more of the idea of wisdom to the average person than an abstract nude man with a flowing beard holding a book and floating through the air. The school of decorative work to which I am attached believes in treating the familiar, the commonplace and the every-day life types in a big decorative way, even though it include the framework of oil wells and telegraph poles, so that the decorative panel or frieze or whatever it may be, will have a vital message to those who behold it, as well as satisfy the eye with the decorative effect.

"I want to paint the west as I see it and love it and if I can make my pictures cause other people to love it, too, I will feel that I have in a measure succeeded. That is why I live in the west, for one has to seek up the atmosphere and become unconsciously saturated with the spirit of things. It is impossible to paint western life in New York City for any length of time and keep the spirit of it. For one can draw on one's imagination for only so long a time and then one repeats, so it is necessary continually to be seeking and living the life one paints.

The lack of interest most people have in paintings is due to the fact that people are not presented with the subjects that appeal to them. Here in the west the western cities do not realize the tourist value that would be given their towns by preserving their distinctive individuality. Santa Fe would have had a tourist value that would have been immeasurable in money value, if the old Spanish plaza had been preserved intact. Our western cities are striving too much to become imitations of New York and the other eastern cities. Why should tourists come from the east to the west to see city scrapers and the same style of buildings simply on a smaller scale in the west? The trouble with our cities is that they just happen and become a matter of streets and buildings without any relation of harmony.

The value of interior decorations for public buildings is being better appreciated and now the state capital buildings are rated by the mural paintings they contain. Take the case of the capital of Minnesota. From a purely commercial standpoint, the amount of advertising that state has received from the decorations within the capital has been a tremendous asset to the state.

Santa Fe is to be congratulated for retaining the superb painting "Face Mountains" by Victor Higgins, the Chicago artist. It has been purchased by Mrs. Florence L. Bartlett, author, composer and herself a painter of quality.

Helen has bought for its public library the splendid canvas by Bert Phillips, "The Historian," a thousand-dollar picture which has just been an exhibit in the National Academy of Design in New York City, and there again by the artist. Together with a picture by Stephen Parsons recently purchased it will form the nucleus for the art gallery, which is to be an annex to the public library in the Gate city. This ambition is partly the result of the work by the Museum of New Mexico to foster an art spirit in the state.

THE GOAL

When I'm tired of the road and the grade grows steep,
When the sun goes down and the grass shadows creep,
I'll wander, haunting ghosts, with their silent tread,
I think of you, or a little ahead,
And I get up and go!—And I whistle alone.

Repeating the notes of your own beloved song,
For I know on the trail, women have found the bend,
There waiting for me is a fire and a friend!

THE VIRGIN'S RETURN

As move the stars and the dawn break
All silently, awaiting rough
St. Mary goes, soft as a bird
On Pines Atto with tonight.

O! Mexico of bloody hue,
Like a red sword, a sword of light,
From Mary of the sword, a sword
Leaves that, into a sword of light.

Let laughing flames and flames bright,
From fires of justice and pain
Illumine the path of light,
And shine upon the way, and shine!

So promise to yourself here,
Who seek her with devotion true,
Pace by the gift that she bestows,
When Mary comes in her divine

SILVER BECOMES SCARCE ARTICLE AMONG BRITISH Five Million Dollar Stock Usually Held by Bank of England Is Down to $750,000 at This Time.
(Associated Press Correspondence.)
London, Dec. 18.—The substitution of silver for gold coins, following the withdrawal of gold and the issue of paper money in its place, has caused a serious shortage of silver here. Banks are still able to obtain silver in moderate amounts from the Bank of England, but it is growing scarce. A case was recounted in the Star this week of a man who asked for silver in exchange for a gold coin at the Bank of England and just with a refusal. This incident is show that the bank does not wish to encourage the public to draw on its silver.

Since the war silver has played an increasingly important part in the currency of European countries as it has made up the shortage in circulation caused by withdrawal of gold. The reduction in silver imports from the United States and China during the war has further complicated matters. China has been hoarding a vast amount.

The silver held by the Bank of England is normal times amounts to about five million dollars. The latest return shows only $750,000. Six months ago London's stock of silver bullion was estimated at over 100 million dollars. Today bullion holders put it at about $200,000. Within the past few months the quotation of bar silver has advanced from 240 an ounce to 27 1/2-30.

Meantime both the English and the continental mints are working hard and absorbing large quantities of silver.

Words of Praise for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
"Last winter I used two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes Mrs. John Miller, Easton, Ind. "It cured me of a severe cold on the lungs and an aggravating cough. I have recommended this remedy to a great many people who have used it and have nothing but words of praise for it. Obtainable everywhere."
